'Mother Nature' Washes Streets

Quite a few people were surprised when awakened this past Saturday morning. The sight that greeted them was a minor flood. During the night waters of the Little Kanawha River had risen to temporarily claim portions of the streets of Glenville. The small flood did very little damage, but created a scare until it reached its maximum depth of three feet at the intersection on Main Street.

On Saturday morning, both students and residents witnessed various reactions to the flood. Workers were feverishly removing merchandise from Rhoades Furniture Store and from the basement of Calhoun Super Service in anticipation of a higher water level. Several cars were stalled when they attempted to cross the intersection on Main Street. The Delta Zeta's found their basement submerged, but with the aid of members of all fraternities, managed to save much that was stored there and to remove furniture from the first to second floor in expectation of further flooding.

By midnight, the waters had completely receded. The town had survived the fear of a repeat of the 1967 flood. Traffic once again flowed freely and the town business suffered no damage. However, many people could not help but comment on the amount of trash left behind on Powell Street where much of the flooding had occurred. The amount of trash left behind by the waters was truly amazing. Perhaps "Mother Nature" is giving us a hint.

Mulhern Elected Pres. Of GSC Circle K Club

The Circle K Club of Glenville State College has elected as their presiding officers: Pat Mulhern, president; Dennis Pack, vice-president; Jackie Barrett, secretary; and Ken Wilson, treasurer.

Plans are being made to change the meeting date from Wednesday night to Tuesday night at 7:30. The meetings will be held in the West Virginia section of the library. Membership is open to any student of Glenville State College with no necessary requirements other than the person being enrolled at GSC.

The Circle K International project for this year is working with the disadvantaged youth. However, other projects are executed throughout the year through the Red Cross and the United Fund. We intend to help the community, the college and the students.

Noah did it - but I think if it goes on 37 more days, we're going to get a motor.

The Interscholastic Council dance held last Friday was a big success according to Carl Pennington, Dean of Men. The dance was held for the residents of the dorms with refreshments and snacks being served. Pennington stated that the band, Buck Run, from Parkersburg, was late getting to Glenville due to high water.

Canada, U.S. Unite For Mass Program

Key 73 is the title given to the mass movement, by 130 various denominations throughout Canada and the United States, to reach every person on the continent with the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

It is the first time this many religious denominations have worked together on any one program.

There are six phases of the program: Calling our Continent of Repentance and Prayer; Calling our Continent to the Word of Christ; Calling our Continent to the Resurrection; Calling our Continent to New Life; Calling our Continent to the Proclamation; Calling our Continent to Commitment.

The efforts of the individual churches along with the combined efforts of the churches and religious organizations on Glenville Campus and in the community kicked off Key 73 when the Luke and Acts portion of the Bible were passed out to approximately 750 families in this area, on the first Sunday of December.

Church bells will ring at 12 o'clock noon on the twelve days of Christmas commencing on December 25, and continuing until epiphany. The Trinity United Methodist and one minister in the community will be in attendance to lead the congregation.

Volunteer Program Begins; All Students Called To Aid

The following is a list of activities and projects intended to aid Glenville State College students in selection of means of helping others in the surrounding area less fortunate than the average person or family. Although the description of each program is brief it is not intended to establish limits of each program. Students are encouraged to be creative and resourceful in their execution of their selected activity.

1. Big Brother or Big Sister: This program is designed to exercise a stabilizing influence on children of this area who lack adequate necessary mother or father figures. The Big Brother or Big Sister would be required to provide friendship, love and understanding to a boy or girl and to develop their interests through mature counseling and visiting.

2. Friendly Visitor: A friendly visitor should be as the name suggests, someone that goes to the home of a lonely person or an elderly person to talk with them, to give them advice, to cultivate interests, to play games with them, to remember their birthdays, or just sit down to listen to them. There are many people who live alone in this area, who have been completely removed from friends or relatives and who have no meaningful personal relationship left in their lives. The friendly visitor program is designed to fill this need.

3. Family Visiting and Counseling: This project is designed for a person to more or less adopt a family that needs help in making decisions such as; budgeting their money, buying groceries, buying clothes, and providing proper care for members of the family.

4. Telephone Re-assurance Program: In this service, a student would make a telephone call to 3 or 4 people, who live alone, on a regular basis. There have been cases where a person who lives alone has fallen and was left helplessly awaiting someone to come to their aid, in some cases as long as 8 days. Under this program a telephone call would be made to these people daily to insure their well being. If the telephone call were not answered this would signal that something was wrong in their home. This program may well help save the lives of someone who lives isolated.

A new letterhead for GSC stationery is being designed. As last year, a theme will be selected and put on the letterhead. For example, the theme for last year was "A Century of Service and Progress."

If you have a theme in mind that best typifies GSC, please submit it to Mr. David Gillespie.

Cast Is Selected For Traveling Show

Try-outs for the traveling Readers Theatre production The Brick and the Rose were held in the Underground on Monday, December 11 and Tuesday, December 12. The cast includes Marqueta Stephens, Andy Harper, Jack Chiavone, Ruth Swatzyna, Judy Vandell, Bob Dye, Ed Williams, Woody Wilson, Barbara Stemple, and Don Worden. These people will each portray about ten different characters in the show. The production will be traveling to schools, churches, and civic groups throughout the area.

5. Tutoring: This program is designed to help children who are having trouble in school as well as helping others who are confined to the restrictions of their home through physical disability. This means working with children who are handicapped or children who have other habits and are currently receiving no education.

6. Meals on Wheels: This program is designed to provide proper diets to people who otherwise would be unable to provide proper diets for themselves. This program could also be instrumental in baking cakes for people isolated in nursing homes on their birthdays, or providing meals for other special occasions.

7. Volunteer Nurses Aide: A volunteer nurse's aide would work closely with clinics in this area and be trained and assigned duties through the various clinics.

8. Case Aides: A volunteer case aide would work closely with social workers in this area providing services to families under the direction of the social worker. This means investigating complaints, providing advice and supervising the family in general. This program would be valuable experience for students intending

President To Host Faculty-Staff Party

The annual faculty-staff Christmas party hosted by President and Mrs. D. Banks Wilburn will be held Sunday, Dec. 17 from 3-5 p.m. The families of the faculty and staff are also invited to attend.

The program will consist of a medley of Christmas music and a drama performance by a group of students from the speech and drama departments. Santa Claus will be making his grand appearance. Refreshments will be served.

Students Teach Classes For Sand Fork School

Students in Mr. Steven Nichols' 350 Art class are experiencing direct contacts with art in the elementary grades. These students have been participating in an activity at the Sand Fork Elementary School since mid-term.

When asked about the purpose and benefits of this activity, Mr. Nichols stated that it not only let the college students experience a direct contact with the children, but it also let these future teachers see that art can be introduced into an elementary class without having to use many mimeographed, pre-drawn pictures and other pre-fabricated projects. This activity not only benefits the college students but also has aided the children at Sand Fork Elementary School.

Book Exchange Jan. 8 Is Sponsored By ADE

The Alpha Delta Epsilon Business Fraternity will sponsor a Book Exchange the first week of the spring semester. This Exchange will begin January 8 and run until January 16, 1973.

Anyone wishing to have books sold can bring them in to the Student Congress Office Monday the 8th or any convenient time during the week.

The Book Exchange will open Tuesday the 9th at 9:00 a.m. The books will be sold on a first come first serve basis.

Anyone who would like to have their books sold through the Exchange should bring them in as early as possible. Money for the sold books or the unsold books must be picked up by the owner.

The Book Exchange will be open from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Monday thru Friday.

Seems 10 Years Since '69

When I think of what it means to be graduating the main thoughts are not of getting out, but ones of the fun times I have had at GSC.

The people I've met, the friends I have made, the wisdom I have acquired and the maturity I have molded are all a part of Glenville State College that will always be with me.

It seems more like ten years ago when I entered GSC as a freshman in 1969. Four years ago Glenville seemed like a completely different school, but only the students have changed. Four years ago, freshmen wore their caps and carried their handbooks and were branded the outcast on campus. Now, the freshmen are branded outcasts if they do wear their caps and dare to carry their handbooks.

After being Editor-in-Chief for this school year and a reporter for The Mercury the previous year, it's hard to believe that now instead of being taught, it is my turn to step to the front of the room and conduct my own classes.

College life per se at Glenville may be extinct in the minds of the students but what have the students promoted on a large scale to improve the after-class social hours? It's a shame, though, that the students are only interested in the fun times they could have instead of realizing that with their help, not only could the campus be improved but the entire community of Glenville could also be improved.

Even the reputation of Glenville State College as being a friendly campus seems to be fading away as yet another senior class moves into the working world.

Today as will be tomorrow the world is in the students' hands. What you do now in college will be reflected tremendously in society as to how you use your knowledge and ideas. As each year goes by the saying will continue that your class is the best educated one in the world. Live up to your responsibilities and carry them out to the best of your ability.

To the undergraduates I ask you to take a good look around and then when you graduate take the same look around and ask yourself what role you played in the changes that have taken place during your four years at Glenville State College.

I would like to take this time to thank a few people of the many who have made my four years at GSC truly wonderful ones. First, I would like to thank a wonderful friend and great Journalism instructor, Mrs. Yvonne King. Without her patience, guidance and understanding the Mercury would certainly be a flop.

Also I would like to thank President Wilburn who has most certainly been very understanding and helpful.

To Dr. Dollgener, Mrs. Chico, and Mrs. Piercy and the rest of the physical education instructors I would like to say that my four years as a physical education major have been most rewarding because of the effort and excellence of classroom instruction. I hope that when I'm in a classroom situation I will be able to instruct my students as well as I have been instructed.

The most difficult thing to face in our lifetime is the passing of a time that we can never live over. Such is college life. For here at Glenville a student is not merely a number or a name on a class roll. He or she is a vital part of this college because here everyone knows everyone and this brings about an intense feeling of belonging not normally experienced in a larger college or university.

And last but not least I would like to thank the entire staff of the Mercury for their tremendous help this year. Although at times the work seemed futile we managed to survive and put out a truly professional paper. I would also like to thank last year's editor, Ann Starcher for her help in my becoming the editor.

My congratulations go to Ruth Swatzyna who has been chosen as editor for the second semester. It's been a great four years.

Editor-in-Chief

On behalf of the Mercury Staff we would like to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. We hope you enjoy your holidays. Drive Carefully! See you next year.

Instructors' Evaluation Defended By Committee

As a member of the Ad Hoc Committee, where responsibility it has been to construct an instrument whereby the students evaluate the effectiveness of instruction, I would like to make a report to the student body of this college.

Appointed by Dr. D. Banks Wilburn on May 1, 1972 the committee has worked diligently since this time toward the preparation of an instrument which would best evaluate the effectiveness of instruction. After weeks of studying different programs, philosophy, and individual situations a form was selected by the committee and presented to the faculty on December 12.

As is the case with most new proposals the instrument has met with both enthusiastic support and attempts to completely abolish the entire concept of student evaluation of instruction effectiveness. Student objectively is most often sighted in opposition to this instrument.

The document will be used in a trial run before the end of the current semester. I ask that each student, when given the opportunity to participate in this new program, do so in the most serious, honest, and objective manner possible. I hope that you, as students, feel as I, that this is a progressive step taken by the Administration and faculty of Glenville State College.

Dale Cox
Ad Hoc Committee

Students To Choose For Audit or Credit

To encourage students to explore other disciplines without the fear of damaging their quality point averages, a plan is provided by which students may take courses out of their fields and be awarded a grade of "Credit" if they do satisfactory work or a grade of "Audit" if they do not do satisfactory work. Guidelines are as follows: (a) Students must have completed 58 semester hours or more of credit. (b) Courses must be outside of student's major or minor fields, or any general education or professional education requirements. (c) Student's grade point average must be 2.0 or above. (d) Students may take only one such course each semester and not more than twelve semester hours in the 128 hours required for graduation. (e) Courses passed with a grade of "Credit" carry the semester hours awarded, but these hours are not counted in the calculation of the grade point average. Courses completed with an "Audit" grade carry no semester hours credit and are not counted in the calculation of the grade point average. (f) Courses attempted under this option must be designated on the registration form and may not be changed after the close of the registration period.

If approved, the policy is to become effective with the beginning of the second semester of the 1972-73 college year, Monday, January 8, 1973.

President Voices Greeting

Dear Students:

As you are now about to leave the campus for the Christmas vacation, I wish you much happiness and joy at this Christmas season, and extend to your families and friends at home and abroad my best wishes.

It seems that the spirit of Christmas should cause us to reflect much upon the many aspects of life in our world today. There are the problems of peace in the world. There is the need to make certain that people everywhere have the privilege of governing themselves as they see fit, and of rearing their families in an environment which will be conducive to an ever-increasing grasp of recognizable standards of worthwhile living. Here at home there must be greater concern expressed in positive action for the poor, for those often afflicted by disease, for the plight of the elderly who too often must live in humiliating circumstances, and for those for whom it seems there are too few opportunities to participate fully in the cultural, educational, and social self-sustaining endeavors that are aspects of the personal aspirations of all persons.

You hear much in your studies and view all too frequently the results of disregarding the natural relations between living organisms including human beings and their environment. You ask and are asked, "Can we afford to have clean air and water, and re-establish the natural relations between living organisms and their environment?" Others declare that we cannot afford any imbalance between man and his environment to continue longer. Some tell us that the problems of man and his environment overshadow all other problems to the extent that life as we know it and like to view it may possibly be affected markedly if we do not now within the confines of the knowledge that we now have solved the problems.

All of these problems should challenge you to be a part of the great positive force of mankind which is required in order to solve these and many more unrecognized problems of the present and the future. Your best chance of being able to accept the challenge is to make certain that you secure now the best possible preparation during the years that you are at Glenville State College. This must be your first concern. It must be revealed through your eagerness to learn, to question your own ideas, those of your fellow students, and of the faculty. You must be willing to accept new ideas about your worth and that of those around you. You must learn to test that which seems new in order to gain security in recently acquired ideas. This must be if your educational endeavors are to cause you to become the kind of men and women who can accept the challenge of today and tomorrow in the spirit of Christmas.

You and I often say, "What can I do to make the spirit of Christmas become a reality?" All of us affect someone's life positively when we least expect it to do so. We find these opportunities more often if we look for them. As I suggested a year ago, why not find a child or youth who needs tutoring in order to succeed in school.

Scores of students here in the College are not succeeding with their studies. The Foundation Studies Program, with a limited staff, is not in a position to assist all who want or need assistance. Therefore, if these students do not receive assistance, they may lose the opportunity that you have. Why, then, not find a fellow student who may have a better chance to succeed because you took the time to help?

Just a personal remark in conclusion. May you, this Christmas season, give more than a casual thought to those friends, relatives, and thousands with whom you have had no acquaintance who are in your midst and in far distant places performing many kinds of tasks, the objectives of which are to bring a better way of life, including human dignity, to more and more people.

Best Wishes for the Christmas Season.

Cordially yours,
D. Banks Wilburn
President

All students that have advanced registered for the Second Semester may pay their fees any time between now and January 4, 1973 during the regular working hours.

Students that have medical problems that might excuse them from eating in the Cafeteria must be approved by the College Physician prior to the payment of fees. All students not having the approval must pay the fees in full on the day of Registration.

This Is A Season Of Giving; Why Ruin It With Stealing?

Dear Editor:

This year I decided that for the first time in the history of the government documents depository that the area should be decorated for the Christmas season. I proceeded to buy all of the decorations with my own money and erected them on my own time.

Several of my friends warned me that the decorations would not last long. I disagreed with them and expressed the opinion that students of Glenville State College could act like adults because they are old enough and are always demanding that they be treated like adults.

Evidently, I was entirely wrong. On December 11, someone stole part of the decorations which were on display in the government documents depository. I was sickened. The cost of the decorations which were stolen does not bother me as much as the stealing act itself. I feel that the student who would commit such an act must have extremely low moral standards and no conscience whatsoever.

I truly hope that whoever stole the decorations get much use of them. There is only one thing that I ask of you—wherever you are. When you look at that decoration sitting on your table or wherever you place it, think of the true spirit of Christmas—the spirit of giving. Then think of the theft that you have committed and how you have broken a spirit and a trust of mankind that others the world over have held. Then I hope that you can have a happy holiday season with all of those thoughts in your mind. I know that I couldn't.

Pioneers Register Win Number Five Over Davis And Elkins Senators

The Glenville State Pioneers featuring a strong defense defeated the Senators of Davis and Elkins, 75-48, last Wednesday night. The victory was fifth in six contests for the Pioneers. Davis and Elkins dropped to 0-6.

Glenville jumped out to the lead at the start and never trailed in the contest. The Pioneers gradually added on to their margin, mainly on the strong performances of Steve Datcher, Ralph Cook, and Earl Hawkins, both scoring and rebounding.

The Blue Wave went into the dressing room, with a 42-27 lead at the half.

Glenville continued to add onto their lead during second half action. Using defense as their key weapon against the Senators, the Pioneers were able to build up a 20 point margin with ten minutes remaining.

From this point Coach Lilly cleared his bench, playing the reserves. The second line players did a good job and outscored Davis and Elkins 33-21, in the second half to give the Pioneers their fifth win of the season, 75-48.

Steve Datcher and Earl Hawkins shared the scoring honors with 18 points each. Ralph Cook was the other Pioneer in double figures with 14 points.

Glenville made 30 of 70 attempts for a 43% shooting average.

In the junior varsity game, Coach Carney's J.V.'s won 76-66. This was the third straight victory for the junior varsity after an opening defeat to the West Virginia State Yellow Jackets. Harvey Chester led the freshmen with 22 points.

The Blue Wave will be touring over Christmas break. Included in the Glenville schedule will be one conference game against Shepherd, one game in Maryland against St. Mary's College, and finally participating in the Martinsburg Tournament, January 5th and 6th.

Jr. Varsity Receives Second Win

Coach Carney's junior varsity squad won their second straight game of the season with a thrilling 74-73 overtime victory over the Fairmont junior varsity.

The victory made the junior Pioneers' record 2-1. The only loss coming to the West Virginia State J.V.'s and the other victory came at the expense of the Salem J.V.'s.

Glenville jumped out to the lead in the first half and led 21-16 at the 10:00 mark. The Pioneers managed to hang on to this five point margin and were up 41-35 at the half.

The Fairmont J.V.'s began coming back in the second half and quickly grabbed the lead. With ten minutes remaining the junior Falcons led 56-50. The Pioneers began to come back however and led 69-67 with five seconds remaining but the Falcons' try from the corner swished through the basket sending the game into overtime.

The lead changed hands several times during the overtime period, but in the end the Pioneers came out with the victory.

Both teams had 34 field goals, and the game was really won at the free throw line. Glenville made 6 of 18 attempts, while the Falcons converted on 5 of 13 tries.

Eric Makle was the leading scorer for the J.V.'s with 23 points. Randy Datcher was close behind with 22

Lilly Names Tri-Captains, Datcher, Garnett, & Jones

Coach Jesse Lilly has named tri-captains for the 1972-73 Pioneer basketball team. They are, returning captain of last year, Steve Datcher, along with Jim Garnett and Ron Jones. Each are three-year lettermen.

Steve Datcher is a senior from Indian Head, Md. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Datcher. He graduated from Lackey High School in 1969 where he made all-state in basketball and was among the top five hundred basketball players in the country. Also in high school, he participated in track. Datcher is presently a third team All-American and an All-Conference selection.

Jim Garnett is a senior from Fredericksburg, Va. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Preston Garnett. He attended and graduated from James Monroe High School in 1969. During his years at high school, Garnett was all-state in basketball and lettered in four sports. He also held the state high jump record with a jump of 6'4". Garnett also was one of the top five hundred players in the country.

Ron Jones is a senior from Waldorf, Md. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones. Jones participated in athletics at Gwynn Park High School where he lettered in football and basketball. He made All-League in football, All-State in basketball and was also one of the top five hundred players in the country.

The GSC Pioneer basketball team, under the leadership of these outstanding and efficient captains will again hold its own in the WVIAC conference.

Have You Heard?

By Mike Rust

Even though the Pioneers dropped their first game of the season last week to Fairmont, I still believe that Glenville is the best basketball team in the conference. Fairmont has a good team, but I feel the question of who has the best team will be decided January 25, when the Falcons enter the Pioneers home lair.

The Falcons had not been beaten at home in 67 straight games. Their last defeat came in 1966 at the hands of Morris Harvey, 88-84. Glenville has not lost at home in two years, their last defeat at home was also at the hands of the Golden Eagles of Morris Harvey.

Glenville will be touring eastern West Virginia and Maryland during Christmas break. Coach Lilly and Coach Carney hope to do some public relations work on the trip, talking to some potential basketball recruits.

I feel that this year's conference race will be one of the closest ever. I do not think that any team will go undefeated and that the conference winner will have at least three defeats.

If anyone is interested in going to the Peach Bowl an additional 1,000 tickets have been received. It has been reported that 12,000 tickets have already been purchased for the West Virginia - North Carolina State contest. The game is to be played December 29, at night.

I am glad to see that my Dallas Cowboys made it into the National Conference play-offs. In an early issue of the Mercury, I predicted that the Cowboys would repeat as Super Bowl champions.

Glenville and West Liberty were the only schools to place two players on the WVIAC team. Steve Buffington and Chris Anderson were the Glenville representatives.

With the latest basketball rule changes, look for the use of three officials to be used.

On Saturday, Dec. 9, six former GSC men bowlers returned to challenge the present GSC men's squad.

The first two games were death struggles being determined in the tenth frame. After that the old timers took the lead and kept it. All-American Al Malone finished with a 199 average and anchor man, Mike Wooten posted a 190 average. Glenville's first WVIAC Bowler of the Year, Jerry Jackson, had a 181 average and the second Bowler of the Year, Lynn Dawson, finished with a 178 average. Wally Kesling and Steve Poling posted 171 and 175 averages. These men proved previously shown skill at GSC by winning three conference championships and going to the NAIA nationals. Dave Grapes of this year's team posted a 196 average while Tom Newberry was second with a 187. The high game of the day was a 243 rolled by Tom Newberry.

With ten minutes left to go in the contest the Pioneers trailed 47-33. Glenville outscored Fairmont 11-2 in the next four minutes of play and trailed only 49-44 with 7:15 left.

The game was evenly played from this point on with both teams trading baskets.

The key blow to the Pioneers in the contest was when Earl Hawkins fouled out. Hawkins had been leading the Pioneers' comeback before being charged with his fifth foul. Steve Datcher provided most of the offense for the Blue Wave late in the game, scoring the Pioneers final seven points.

Earl Hawkins was the leading scorer

Jim Garnett passes off to Randy Datcher, between two Falcon defenders. Fairmont defeated the Pioneers 64-56, this was the first defeat suffered by the Pioneers this season.

Falcons Down GSC Pioneers, 64-56

Fairmont State led by Bill Lindsey pulled away in second half for a 64-56 victory over the Glenville State Pioneers.

The win was the third in a row for the unbeaten Falcons, while the Pioneers' record dropped to 4-1.

Glenville fell behind from the start and was forced to play catch-up ball throughout the night. The Falcons jumped out to an 8-0 lead and never trailed in the contest.

Ralph Cook scored the first two points for the Blue Wave as the Pioneers finally began to get untracked. Glenville fought back and trailed 14-12 at the 10:00 minute mark in the first half. Aside from the even mark at the start of the game, the only other time the contest was tied, was at 20-20 with 3:35 left in the half. Fairmont scored six straight points however, and the Pioneers were unable to catch up. Earl Hawkins put in the final two points for the Pioneers to make the score 26-22 at intermission.

Fairmont came out red hot in the second half, scoring eight straight points to go up 32-24. The Falcons continued to build up their lead and led 45-28 with eleven minutes remaining.

Glenville called time out at this point and began to come back. Several times the Pioneers came back to striking distance only to have a turnover or shot roll out on them.

The game was evenly played from this point on with both teams trading baskets.

The key blow to the Pioneers in the contest was when Earl Hawkins fouled out. Hawkins had been leading the Pioneers' comeback before being charged with his fifth foul. Steve Datcher provided most of the offense for the Blue Wave late in the game, scoring the Pioneers final seven points.

Earl Hawkins was the leading scorer for the Pioneers with twenty points. Steve Datcher was the only other Pioneer in double figures with seventeen points. Ron Jones added eight points.

Carney's J.V.'s Out Score Salem 78-69

Coach Tim Carney's J.V. team has two games under its belt and looked better in its second game against Salem, which they won 78-69. W.Va. State handed them a sound beating in their first game this year. Coach Carney commented, "We play a twelve-game schedule and the success of the season depends on the improvements of Wes Denham, and the scoring of Harvey Chester and Eric Makle." Carney further stated, "We lack overall size and in order to counter, we must be quick and play strong defense." Carney continued by saying, "We dress eight J.V.'s for varsity games and they contribute to the varsity games."

The J.V. team consists of Harvey Chester, Rushon Colin, Wes Denham, Roger Caudill, Eric Makle, Randy Hess, Mark Elder, and Bob Hardman.

Chester is a 6'2" freshman from Dunbar, and Carney comments: "He has a lot of raw, natural talent." Chester has a 12 point average for the first two ballgames.

Rushon Colin is from Hinton. He is a 5'10" freshman about whom Carney says, "Quick, impressive, and could develop into a fine guard with his great defensive ability."

Denham hails from Fairmont and is a 6'6" freshman. Denham is one of the biggest guys to come to GSC in a while. Carney stated, "Wes needs to improve his quickness, jumping ability, and will eventually help our varsity, if he works at it."

Roger Caudill, also from Dunbar, is a 6'2" and is one of the hardest workers on the team. Carney said, "Roger is very coachable, a good jumper, and a decent shooter. His biggest problem is his lack of size to play inside."

Eric Makle, 6'3", from Aquao, Md., is "a quick, good jumper, but he needs to improve on shooting," says Carney. "We hope he will help the varsity in the future."

Randy Hess is a 6' Clendenin native. Carney states, "He is a good shooter, has fair speed and quickness, and needs to improve on his ball handling and defense."

Mark Elder, from Warren, Ohio, is 6'1". "He is a good shooter and jumper but he must learn to play guard and improve his ball control in order to play varsity ball."

Rounding out the J.V.'s is Bob Hardman of Glenville. "Hardman is 6'1" and his only problem is adjusting from football to basketball. Bob seems to come on strong at the latter part of the season. "He has a lot of shooting ability," stated Carney.

to become social workers.

9. Home Repair Volunteer: Under this program, a student would volunteer to help rebuild and construct some of the homes in dilapidated conditions in this area. Materials and supplies will be paid for by the Department of Welfare. Jobs may include: painting a roof, building steps, reflooring porches and floors, installing hand rails and correcting other problems found in the home.

10. Volunteer Recreation Director: This program should include establishing recreation program in various communities for children or adults. Many small communities have some facilities, therefore the recreation director would be limited only by his imagination in developing a program.

11. Personal Care Home Volunteer: A personal care home volunteer would work closely with the Personal Care Homes in this area. This could include developing recreation programs, or reading, or just talking to the patients in the Personal Care Homes.

12. Volunteer Advisory Committee: This committee would work closely with the Department of Welfare in evaluating current programs and developing new programs or giving aide to people having problems in other programs.

13. Other programs available could be transporting clients, making collection of folk lore, or other various arts, providing In-Home Care in the event of an emergency, sponsoring clothing and furniture drives, repairing clothes that have been donated, distributing clothing and other furniture to needy children, or providing any other worthwhile service of a

The 1972 Centennial Kanawhachen has arrived! Shown distributing them are Bruce Brumage, '73 editor; Advisor Steve Nichols; Patricia Canterbury, '73 art director; and an unidentified student.

The above-mentioned programs are not restricted to college students only. Any persons interested in donating their time to any program mentioned above please contact:

The GSC Baptist-Student Fellowship is sponsoring a Coffee-house this coming Saturday, December 16. It will be held in the basement of the First Baptist Church from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. There will be special singing as well as group singing. Refreshments will be served during the evening. Anyone who has talent in the area of Christmas or folk songs is welcome to come and participate in the program. Everyone is invited to join us in a break from studying for an evening full of Christmas spirit.

Former Bowlers Return, Challenge Present Team

On Saturday, December 9, six former GSC men bowlers returned to challenge the present GSC men's squad. The first two games were death struggles being determined in the tenth frame. After that the old timers took the lead and kept it. All-American Al Malone finished with a 199 average and anchor man, Mike Wooten posted a 190 average. Glenville's first WVIAC Bowler of the Year, Lynn Dawson, finished with a 178 average. Wally Kesling and Steve Poling posted 171 and 175 averages. These men had previously shown skill at GSC by winning three conference championships and going to the NAIA nationals. Dave Grapes of this year's team posted a 196 average while Tom Newberry was second with a 187. The high game of the day was a 243 rolled by Tom Newberry.

The Student Congress and the Lyceum Committee will jointly sponsor a "back to school" record hop entertainment program on Saturday, January 13 at 8:00 p.m. in the ballroom. Admission to the program by I.D.

Business Dept. Banquet Features Dr. M. E. Oliverio

To recognize their employers, the students of the Office Systems and Practicum class presented a banquet in the ballroom of the Pioneer Center last week. In addition to the students and their employers, the banquet was attended by student teachers and methods students in the Division of Business, by supervising teachers in surrounding area high schools, and by guests from two colleges.

Featured speaker of the evening was Dr. Mary Ellen Oliverio, a native West Virginian and now Professor of Education at Teachers College, Columbia Univ. Dr. Oliverio identified the meaning of a "professional" in any occupation by quoting from Abraham Flexner's work: "A professional person is liberally educated, curious about man's relationship to the environment, reads literature to understand man, and appreciates the arts and beauty of the humanities."

Dr. Oliverio pointed out that the professional person possesses a body of specialized knowledge and skills. "A professional isn't an ordinary layman," she said. She continued, "A professional person makes rational decisions, accepts responsibility, and brings high-quality problem-solving skills to the tasks he is assigned. He assumes the responsibility for the conduct of his judgments and actions and believes his service is for society."

Commenting further on the subject, Dr. Oliverio observed that the professional person does not ask, "What's in it for me?" Instead, she advised, the professional sees that in doing his job he is making a contribution to society.

In concluding her remarks, she noted that professionals are self-motivating, take the lead to establish standards for their behavior, and seek new knowledge and skills in order to improve their work environment. "Professionalizing is the apex in a person's development. He must be a good human being, care about others, and know his tools and responsibilities."

Prior to Dr. Oliverio's speech, Dr. Clarence Maze, Dean of Academic Affairs, introduced the students of the Office Systems and Practicum class who then identified their employers for the cooperative education work experience. Miss Ann Parsons introduced her employer, Mr. Jack Stalnaker of Kanawha Union Bank, and his wife. Mrs. Mary Davidson of the Gilmer County Clerk's Office and her husband were introduced by Mrs. Pandora Davis. Miss Joyce Brenwald recognized her employer, Mr. Robert Arnold, Publisher of the Glenville Democrat, and his wife. Mr. Eugene Collins of Collins Insurance Agency and his wife were introduced by Miss Becky Perkins. Miss Patsy Bennett identified her employer, Mr. Richard Burke, Manager of 4-D Manufacturing Company, who was unable to attend the banquet.

Dean Maze also recognized Miss Mariann DeRico and Miss Maxine Bowyer as two additional students in the class. These two students were responsible for planning, decorating, and coordinating the seminar and banquet.

President Dr. D. Banks Wilburn introduced Dr. Oliverio. While Dr. Wilburn was Dean of the College of Education at Marshall University, Dr. Oliverio was a member of the same faculty, teaching in the College of Arts and Humanities.

The Glenville Mercury Staff will be holding a Christmas party this Sunday at 7:00 in the Mercury Office. Members of the staff who will be attending the party, will be dressed in different kinds of costumes. Gifts will also be presented to members of the staff and reporters. Music, food, and refreshments will be provided at the party.
