GSC Makes Yearly Visits

The yearly GSC High School Visitation Program began Dec. 1, 1972 and ended Monday. This program was designed to recruit students for the GSC campus and to familiarize the high school students with school policies and activities. These visitations were made by administrative staff, faculty members and GSC students. A total of 27 faculty and administrative members and 31 students visited 102 West Virginia schools in 37 counties and three Ohio schools. In 40 schools, financial aid interviews were arranged; therefore, allowing students to discuss the possibility of receiving financial aid should they decide to attend GSC.

The faculty and administrative staff talked with the high school counselors concerning academic policies and new programs that are currently in effect or will become effective on the GSC campus. Some of the proposed academic programs discussed included: Food Service Management, Parks and Outdoor Recreation Management and Ornamental Horticulture. Another aspect discussed was the College Level Examinations Program (CLEP) whereby students may earn college credits through examinations without enrolling in courses in which they are already competent.

The GSC students visited the high schools to allow the high school students to ask questions about college life and any other topics they wished to discuss. This created a student-to-student relationship in which the high school student could feel free to ask any personal questions, rather than just academic questions, concerning life on GSC campus.

A wrap-up session was held with President Wilburn yesterday at 3:30 p.m. to discuss the achievements of the program and to make suggestions as to how future programs may be conducted.

GSC Offers New Classes During Spring Semester

Three new night courses are being offered at Glenville State College during the spring semester. Mr. Byrl Law, staff member, will teach a course in the various aspects of meat selection, the various cuts, and related materials dealing with meat for home consumption. The class will meet for two hours on Monday evenings beginning at 6:30 p.m. Tuition costs for the courses are $22., and students may either receive two hours of college credit for the course or simply for their own interest.

The College is offering a course in small engine repair and maintenance on Monday nights at 6:30 p.m. Emphasis in the course will be on lawnmower and chain saw repair. The class will meet for two hours each Monday night and a student may receive one semester hour of credit or simply audit the course at a cost of $11.

A short course in personal income tax report preparation will be offered from Feb. 15 to March 19. One semester hour of credit may be earned or the course may be audited for a cost of $11. Registration may be completed during regular evening school registration or during the first meeting of the class on Feb. 15.

A beginning folk guitar course will be offered. At a cost of only $11 one may enroll in the course

Regents' Leader Speaks During Faculty Meeting

The Faculty-Administrative Organization met 9:30 a.m. Tuesday in the ballroom. Mr. Joseph Hickman, president of the FAO introduced the speaker of the meeting, Chancellor Prince Woodard of the Board of Regents. Chancellor Woodard stated that the Board of Regents is composed of a very small staff, however, there has been no governing board change since the Board's founding.

The Chancellor further remarked that there was an "adequate progress of higher education." He spoke on measuring productivity role and mission of GSC, and premises on which the Board of Regents acts. He then introduced Dr. William Turner, former Dean of Fairmont State College and Board of Regents member.

Sen. Speaks At Jan. Meet

Senator Warren R. McGraw spoke at the Jan. 11 meeting of the Glenville Branch of the American Association of University Women. Senator McGraw of Pineville represents Raleigh and Wyoming Counties and is one of the youngest state senators. McGraw, a strong advocate of controls of surface mining, discussed the strip-mining issue in West Virginia.

The Senator expressed a concern for the people who work in the strip-mining industry and proposes a readjustment fund to aid those forced out of work. Senator McGraw thinks there will be some strip-mining legislation in the coming session of the Legislature, however, not abolition, since "the power of the strip-mining industry is overwhelming." He also said, "It might be that they will decide to enforce the law."

Senator McGraw was introduced by Mrs. Kay C. Chico, program chairman. Mrs. Dianne B. Trummier is president of the Glenville Chapter of AAUW. Glenville State College is a corporate member of AAUW.

AP0 Holds Dance For Area Students

Alpha Psi Omega will like to invite all GSC and other area students to support the Glenville Pioneers in their home basketball game tonight with Beckley and then attend a combination concert-dance from 10 p.m.-1 a.m. in the ballroom.

Cosmic, one of the best new groups in the Mid-Ohio Valley, will provide the main entertainment. The group is composed of four outstanding musicians from Parkersburg, and features John Gallagher, lead guitarist who is booked as the world's tenth best guitarist. Both concert and dance material is featured in the group's repertoire, as well as original material. Cosmic tries to generate a lot of energy in its stage presentation and relies on audience participation as part of the show.

Also featured on the bill will be folksinger Andy Harper, who will present a collection of popular folksongs. Admission will be $1.50 per person, with all tickets being sold at the door.

Glenvillians—Guess Who?

Welcome, Glenvillians, back to the lighthouse on the hill. Since we've all been home and had greater access to newspapers and news broadcasts, it should make playing our favorite quiz game—Guess Who—a lot easier.

Guess Who was the president of a strong West Virginia union when that union supported a candidate in the 1968 gubernatorial primaries—the candidate who, along with his brother, is now headed for jail? Guess Who was charged with illegal use of union funds for contributions to politicians. Guess Who also had most of the evidence against him burned in a recent courthouse fire? Guess Who defeated a man for the presidency of that union in 1969 and then three weeks later, the defeated man, his wife and daughter, were found dead in their homes? And Guess Who the killers insisted was not their boss, that the boss's first name and the union president's first name just happened to be the same and they did not know the boss's last name? Guess Who was recently defeated for re-election to the presidency of the union? Guess Who since that time, has not let the man who defeated him get anything accomplished by having board members and district presidents fight him through courts and refuse to pass the legislation he initiates? If you Guess Who, you get—it appeals me to think of what you might get.

And now for the second half of our fun game. Guess Who was the president of the United States elected in 1968 that ran on the premise that he had a secret plan to end the war? Guess Whose predecessor was the victim of violent protests to oppose his bombing of a small Indochinese country? Guess Who not only did not end the war but started the bombing again one week before Christmas? Guess Who told the government of the indochinese country that they were responsible for the POWS of his country while his country bombed them? Guess Who promised to bring home "soon" the POWS one month and then the next month added 73 more to the missing list? Guess Who managed to lose 23 of his country's aircraft in the week from December 17 - 23 along with the 73 men missing, 29 wounded and 4 dead? Guess Who could not possibly look the parents, wives, and children of these men in the eye and say "Merry Christmas?" If you Guess Who, you get to go out and look for fourteen B52's and their crews. Score 106—the number of dead, missing or wounded for one week only—extra points with your conscience if you helped re-elect this president.

S. Congress Salaries Explained

Dear Editor

In regard to the matter of paying a salary to the president and secretary of the Student Congress, which was recently discussed in the Mercury by Toney Floyd, I feel it is necessary to make known a few facts in defense of this action.

The salary for the mentioned offices was initiated in the fall of 1971, as a means to help reimburse the members of the Student Congress who were called upon to perform more than just ordinary duties of other Congress members. The president and secretary, at that time, were required to see that the Student Congress office was open daily, making it possible for business to be carried on at times other than on meeting nights. Also, the president was required to make occasional trips to Charleston to attend meetings of the Board of Regents, and even though he was reimbursed for his food and lodging, the salary was a means of reimbursing him for his time spent on these trips. Finally, when this act was initiated, we discovered that a number of other schools in the state had long been compensating their student body president.

In all due respect for the feelings of Mr. Floyd, and other members of the Student Congress, I feel that the salary paid to the president and secretary of that governing body was justifiable. Not only did it help compensate for duty rendered, but I feel in the end it would help maintain quality leadership which has been long needed at GSC.

J. Del Col Designs Women's Lit Class

Mr. Jeffrey Del Col of the Language Division is proposing a course dealing with the roles of women in literature for the summer term. The course would concern itself with the roles of women as subjects, authors, and critics. It will examine the attitudes toward women held by both male and female authors. Some possible authors may include Harriet Arnow, Ellen Glasgow, Joan Didion, Gustave Flaubert, Sylvia Plath, and Susan Sontag.

It is vital that student interest in such a course be determined now. Interested students should contact Mr. Del Col at his office, Room 401 Administration Building or by phone at Extension 254 or 253.

The Glenville State College Housing Corporation has for rent a furnished mobile home in College Park. Interested married students may contact Mr. Robert Gainer, room 102 Pioneer Center, for additional information.

Greek News

At least two Glenville State College organizations have taken an interest in underprivileged children of this area, proving that they are aware of and concerned with propagating a desirable relationship between the college and the community.

One such gratifying experience, both for the organization and the children involved, was Big Brother day sponsored by the Theta Xi Fraternity. To the delight of about 30 local youngsters, this fraternity invited a group of boys to attend the last home Pioneer football game. Following the game, the boys went to the fraternity house where they were treated to refreshments and games. This occasion marked the first live football game many of the youngsters had seen.

The Theta Xi fraternity also sponsored a Christmas party for children of this area on Dec. 15, 1972. The children involved received gifts and a visit from Santa. An organization so concerned with the happiness of needy children of this area is a credit, not only to the college, but to the city of Glenville as well.

Another concerned organization, the Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority, also recently sponsored a Christmas party for children of this area. The children, ranging in age from two to twelve, were treated to hearty singing of Christmas carols, games, skits, and a visit from Saint Nick. All of the children were given presents from Santa, and they all enjoyed refreshments made by the Tri Sigma Sorority. When the party was over, some of the youngsters were reluctant to go home.

The Theta Xi Fraternity and the Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority have given these children a Christmas they will long remember. It may well be the only Christmas some of the children may have. Without doubt, organizations such as these are a tribute to our often unconcerned society. They have helped give some children in this area an insight to the true meaning of brotherly love.

The Dept. of Welfare wishes to extend its deepest appreciation to the above-mentioned organizations, and to the remaining fraternities who helped in providing transportation for the Tri-Sigma Christmas party.

Panhellenic Council

Once again Panhellenic Council announces its joint rush party for the spring semester of 1973, which will be held Jan. 21 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the ballroom. Girls interested in pledging a sorority should attend.

Panhellenic Council will discuss the regulations for rush with sorority members and rushees. Panhellenic Council is composed of a yearly delegate, semester delegate, and an alternate from each sorority. The officers are: Mary Margaret White, president; Helen Pursley vice-president, and Marlene Gregory, secretary.

Alpha Sigma Alpha

Three Alpha Sigma Alpha pledges who went active last semester included: Norma Rexroad, Jackie Miller, and Pat Thomas. This became official on Dec. 14, 1972.

At the present the girls are actively involved in a Heart Fund Drive in the Gilmer County area. Assisting them will be the other fraternities and sororities here on campus.

The sorority had a hot dog sale Tuesday night, Jan. 9 and are planning to have a popcorn and coke sale Sunday, Jan. 28.

They are also planning to attend Virginia Day at Radford College in Virginia, the first or second weekend of April.

Journalism—Does It Exist?

Unknown to many students at Glenville State College, a Cold War has been fought for many months here between Journalists and the Administration. A proposal was made during the second semester of last year that Journalism be added as a major field of study. The Journalists have silently pushed for its acceptance, while the Administration has virtually pigeonholed it.

The professors involved drew up a course of study plan and compiled the necessary information. The proposal is still here waiting for the approval of a department chief as well as the Dean and President. It would then be sent to the Board of Regents for approval or disapproval.

A survey of the student body has been proposed by a professor as the way of deciding if the major would be warranted. At this writing I did not know if the survey would be included in this issue of the Mercury, but in any case I am hoping the student body will find the following information of value in responding to the survey.

Journalism, as a non-teaching minor, was first effected in the fall of 1969. The necessary courses were being taught but no one had bothered to organize it as a minor. The first student to take advantage of this was Newton Nichols, presently editor and co-owner of the Clay Messenger and Grantsville Printing Company which prints the Mercury. Ann Starcher, former editor of the Mercury, was the second student to take advantage of the minor. She graduated in 1972 and is working on her master's degree in Journalism at West Virginia University.

Most students probably say they have no interest in Journalism because they don't like it. Few students know if they like it or not. The only chance students have of finding out if they like Journalism or not is through work on high school newspapers. Few of them do. I suggest a student take the basic course in Journalism at GSC, 321, before passing judgment.

An example of what I've tried to say in the previous paragraph might be found in Wade Coffindaffer, current editor of the Roane County newspaper. Wade graduated in 1972 with an AB in Social Studies but had to return in the summer to take several hours of credit to finish his requirements. Among those extra hours were six hours of Journalism. Wade was offered a job as social studies teacher beginning in the fall of 1972 but chose the job as co-editor (he has since moved up to be editor) after Mrs. Yvonne King, journalism instructor here, told him it was available. Now, Wade says he is very satisfied with the present position and job and would not trade it for any other. That is a slight exaggeration but makes the point that if you try it, you might like it.

Since the minor was added, 30 to 40 students have graduated with AB degrees in other fields who would have liked to have been able to add journalism as a teaching field, which they could do if Journalism were added as a major.

Only two courses need to be added to make Journalism a teaching and non-teaching major. One of these, a three hour course, would be at no cost to the school as the teacher is already here and qualified to teach it. The other course, a four-hour photography class, would cost the school very little as the darkroom is already available. One summer session at WVU would qualify Mrs. King to teach this course. For students who did not have a camera, one could be provided on a rental basis by a company with no cost to the school. Even if the journalism majors did not flock to this course, it would be valuable experience for art and science majors as well as a useful elective for any student at GSC.

At the present, only Fairmont State College offers a teaching major in Journalism. Of course Marshall and WVU offer this major but most of the courses offered at the smaller colleges are offered at WVU and Marshall. Most of us, however, are at GSC instead of one of the Universities because we like a smaller school, it is less expensive, or it is closer to home for those of us who commute.

It has been brought to my attention by a professor-in-the-know at GSC, that the Board of Regents has no interest in the fact that a major is offered at no cost to the school. Two majors were recently dropped at GSC by the Board just because not enough students were enrolled. These, however, I believe were non-teaching majors. For those who might have forgotten, GSC is a teacher's college. I, as well as some people, feel that if a major is offered at no extra expense to the college, that it should not be dropped even if only one student a year graduated with that degree. With this in mind, I ask you to let the administration know if you, or any senior you know in a high school, are interested in Journalism as a major, teaching and non-teaching, at GSC.

What's Up, Doc?

Those of you who did not catch the first of "What's Up Doc?" may be wondering how to get your questions to the doctor. Just put your questions in an envelope addressed to "What's Up Doc?" and drop it in the mailbox at the switchboard in the Ad Building. You can also drop your questions off at Dr. Manley's office or put them under the door if he is not in.

Q. I get an overwhelming tiredness which affects me when I have work to do. I go to bed early and get almost twelve hours of sleep a night. Is there a physical problem?

A. This sounds like a pure case of psychomatic disorder. If you receive adequate sleep and your diet is good, there should be no reason to have this "overwhelming tiredness" that you describe. Blood tests could be done by your doctor to determine the possibility of anemia or some other disease process. Could you just be bored by some of your classes?

Q. Is it harmful to study by the overhead lights that they have in the dorm?

A. The candlepower supplied by the usual ceiling lighting is probably not adequate for concentrated study, although casual reading should create no problems. Eye strain will occur from reading in dim lighting. This can result in the symptoms of headache, watering and burning of the eyes, and tiredness to the point of desiring to close the eyes.

Q. Is it true that a strict meat diet will cause bone disease and deterioration in later life? I've been on this diet (along with my fresh vegetables) and I want to know if my days are numbered.

A. Perhaps some of the vegetarians will take exception to this answer, but I believe everyone needs meat daily. Protein that meat supplies cannot be synthesized by the body and cannot be supplied in adequate quantities by any other means. No, I do not believe that your days are numbered if you follow a well-balanced diet that contains adequate amounts of protein, carbohydrates, and small amounts of fats.

Applying the pressure to Golden Eagle forward Tom Neal, are Glenville's Ralph Cook and Earl Hawkins.

Heart-Breaker Lost; MH Eagles Triumph

A goal tending call with 27 seconds left to play gave Morris Harvey a come from behind 56-54 win over Glenville State Tuesday night.

In one of the hardest fought contests of the year the action was nip and tuck for the first six minutes. However, the Pioneers grabbed their first lead of the night at 10-8 with 13:25 to go in the first half. The G-men held at 16-13 advantage at the ten minute mark of the first half and enjoyed their largest lead of the night at 25-15 with 7:17 to go in the half. At this point the Pioneers hit a cold spell and saw Morris Harvey cut the lead to 31-27 at intermission.

In the second half the Pioneers jumped out to a 40-31 lead with 15:30 to go in the contest. However, the Golden Eagles did not fold and cut the lead to 48-46 with 7:05 to go in the contest. With some clutch outside shooting from Shan Phillips and Steve Lickliter Morris Harvey held the lead at 54-52 with 4:16 remaining in the game.

Jim Garnett's two foul shots tied the game for the Pioneers at 54-54. Morris Harvey then worked the ball around a tight man-to-man defense as John Smothers shot with 27 seconds to go was ruled good on a goal-tending call.

The Pioneers made one last ditch effort as Jim Garnett's jump shot came off the back of the rim and Henry Dickerson grabbed the rebound to preserve the victory for the Golden Eagles.

Tom Neal led Morris Harvey in scoring with 15 points while Henry Dickerson and Steve Lickliter came in with 13 and 10 points respectively. Earl Hawkins took game scoring honors with 20 points and Steve Datcher chipped in with 12 points.

GSC Bowlers Compete

The Glenville State Bowling team will be in action this Saturday afternoon, competing in a regional match at Glendale.

The Pioneers are the defending champions our hopes are high that Dr. Dollgener's strike and spare men will bring the trophy home again. All the teams in the conference are expected to be there, including Glenville's arch-rivals West Virginia State and Fairmont.

Currently senior Dave Grapes has the highest average for the bowlers with freshman Tom Newberry close behind.

GSC Wrestlers Grip Concord, 36-9 In First Dual Meet Win of '73 Season

By Brian Taylor

Last Friday, January 12, Coach "Whitney" Adolph's grapplers brought home their first dual meet win of the season by smashing the Concord Mountain Lions 36-9.

Pins were registered by veterans, Luther Hanson, 126 lb class, and Mike Snider in the 142 lb class.

Forfeits were awarded to 118 pounder Jimmy Neal and Pioneer captain Brian Taylor in the 158 lb. class. In exhibition matches, Neal lost to one of Concord's ineligible 142 pounders by a score of 6-4. Taylor defeated his exhibition opponent by a score of 11-0.

Jerry Harris brought home a win by defeating his opponent 5-2 in the 134 lb. class. At 150 lbs. Pioneer matman Steve Lewis registered a 6-3 win.

In his first match of the season, 167 lb. Joe Mills started the season off right with a 13-5 victory. Tom Brum suffered the first of two Pioneer defeats in the 177 lb. class by a score of 7-0. George Welch followed quickly with a 6-4 victory in the 190 lb. class. Heavyweight Terry Terry had a real tough time trying to handle Concord's 260 lb. heavyweight and finally succumbed to the weight advantage late in the third period when he was turned over for the fall.

The Pioneers now face a tough schedule with the next 5 matches at home. Tomorrow the Pioneers face a tough Morris Harvey team at 2:00 in the gym.

1973 GLENVILLE STATE WRESTLING SCHEDULE

January 20	Morris Harvey (2:00)	Home
January 24	Marietta (7:00)	Home
January 27	West Liberty (2:00)	Home
January 31	Alderson Broadbudds (7:00)	Home
February 3	Concord (2:00)	Home
February 7	Morris Harvey	Away
February 16	Marshall U.-Wittenburg (Triangular)	Away
February 24	Fairmont-Frostburg (2:00) (Triangular)	Home
March 2-3	Conference Tournament at Charleston

GSC Pounds Tech 83-45

Ralph Cook poured in 26 points and grabbed 14 rebounds to lead Glenville State College to a 83-45 rout over W.Va. Tech. The Pioneers also placed three other starters in double figures with Jim Garnett and Ron Jones scoring 14 each while Steve Datcher added 10 markers for the Blue Wave of Coach Jesse Lilly.

The game promised to be a good one as Tech brought an undefeated conference record of 4-0 into the contest. However, the Pioneers had other ideas and jumped out to a 10-2 lead at the 14:00 mark of the first half. For all general purposes, the game was over as the Pioneers, playing tenacious defense, allowed the Golden Bears only 18 points in the first twenty minutes of action while rolling out to a 34-18 lead.

Although not scoring at his usual rate, Earl Hawkins grabbed 16 rebounds to help the Pioneers hold a commanding 54-34 lead in rebounds. Limiting Tech to just one shot many times in the second-half, the Blue Wave roared out to its biggest lead of the night at 81-40 with 2:02 remaining in the contest.

Butch Downs led the Golden Bears in scoring with 12 points while John Gourley and Terry Martin chipped in with 11 and 10 markers, respectively.

Pioneers Tounce A-B In 99-79 Win

Glenville State College placed all five starters in double figures enroute to a 99-79 victory over Alderson-Broadbudds College. Earl Hawkins led the Pioneers in scoring with 30 points while Steve Datcher and Ron Jones each chipped in with 16. Jim Garnett and Ralph Cook also scored 13 and 11 points, respectively.

The game was tied six times in the early going but Steve Datcher's driving lay-up with 12:48 remaining in the first half gave the Blue Wave the lead for good at 14-12. With Glenville leading only 26-22 with 8:09 to go in the first half, the Pioneers went on a scoring spree, outscoring A-B 22 to 8 for a 48-30 lead at intermission. Steve Datcher and Earl Hawkins combined for 16 points during this period of play.

In the second half the Pioneers came out and built up a 29 point lead at 64-36 and 67-38 with 12:52 remaining in the game. However, A-B fought back in the last ten minutes of the contest with some fine outside shooting and cut the Pioneer lead to 86-75 with 3:19 remaining. However, the Battlers could get no closer as the Pioneers rolled on to a 20 point victory.

A-B was led in scoring by Gordon McClanahan with 22 points while Terry Johnson was next with 14. Bruce Gore and Ron Gilmore rounded out the double figure scoring for the Battlers with 10 each.

Fighting for the rebound is Pioneer center Ralph Cook. Glenville dropped a 56-54 decision to Morris Harvey last Tuesday night.

G-Men Win Tournament Conference Game Is Lost

During the Christmas break, the Glenville State College Pioneers traveled their way to a very successful trip through the Eastern Panhandle of West Virginia and the southern part of Maryland. The Pioneers already had won three games, but the most important game they needed to win was a conference game against the Shepherd Rams at Shepherdstown. The Pioneers defeated the Rams on Saturday night, January 6, to win the Martinsburg Invitational Tournament at Martinsburg by the score of 63-59. The Rams wanted to get the Pioneers back but the Pioneers wanted to win their most important game of this trip.

The Pioneers went into the game with an 8-1 record, and the way they started out it looked like their ninth victory of the season was at hand. The Pioneers jumped out to an 18-4 lead as Earl Hawkins and Ralph Cook combined to make seven of the first nine shots by the Pioneers. At the 10 minute mark of the first half, the Pioneers still led 23-10 and then extended it to 27-12 as Hawkins kept ripping the cords at a fantastic pace. The luck the Pioneers had in the first half didn't stay with them as Hawkins went to the bench with his fourth personal foul. Shepherd was on the comeback but the Pioneers still maintained a 42-41 lead at halftime as Cook made two free throws.

In the first 10 minutes of the second half, the Rams acted like they did in the first half committing numerous turnovers and the Pioneers capitalized on them. The Pioneers led 65-59 despite having a foul problem and with 6:01 left in the game, the lead was 75-68, but things got worse for the Pioneers. Hawkins fouled out with eight minutes left in the contest and Charles Russell, Jim Carnes, and Derrick Raikes led a Shepherd comeback. With 1:51 to go, the Pioneers lost Steve Datcher on fouls but still led 77-73 with a minute remaining on a layup by Eric Makle. Shepherd came right back on a Dave Rodgers jumper with 36 seconds left to make it 77-75 but with 22 seconds left it looked like the Pioneers would wrap the game up for a win as Jim Garnett was fouled, but he missed the foul shots. Shepherd got the rebound and waited for the last shot. With four seconds left, Vince Gilliam tried a jumper which missed, but freshman, Larry Boomer, grabbed the rebound with one second left and laid it back up to tie the game and send it into overtime.

The momentum shifted to Shepherd, and during the overtime, Boomer scored on a foul shot, and Gilliam also scored a lay up. But being down three the Pioneers came right back with a Ron Jones lay-up and a Ralph Cook tip in. This put the Pioneers up by the score of 81-80. But Carnes put Shepherd ahead with two foul shots. Then the Pioneers missed two close shots for the winning points. Gilliam missed a foul shot with 10 seconds on the clock and the Pioneers got the ball, but their chances were ruined when a bad pass was made. Gilliam then picked up the ball and was fouled. He sank one of the free throws to give Shepherd an 83-81 victory.

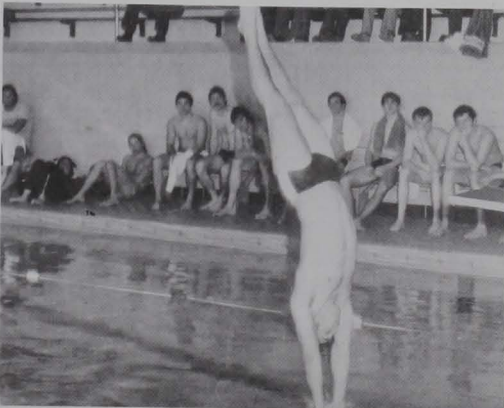

Russell led the Rams in scoring with 24 points. They also had three other guys in double figures with Rogers adding 16 points, followed by Raikes with 14 points and Gilliam with 10 points.

All five starters for Glenville hit double figures. Cook led with 18, Hawkins with 16, Garnett with 14, Datcher with 13, and Jones added 12.

This victory left Shepherd's record at 5-6 for the season and the defeat gave Glenville a record of 8-2. Preceding this loss were wins over St. Mary's College, Md.; Frostburg, Md.; and a win over Shepherd.

Swimmers Are Defeated By Morris Harvey Team

On January 12, Coach Smith and the GSC swim team again traveled away from home, and this time to meet one of the conference's leading contenders, in Morris Harvey. The G-men fell behind early in the meet and could never recover, so they were defeated by the score of 70 to 40. Despite the loss, several of the G-men did grab top honors in their race. The 400 yd. relay team, consisting of Curt Harper, Gary Fields, Terry McCartney, and Bill Smith, who is having a very good year, finished in first place. Another of the G-men who is having a remarkable year off the diving board, Gary Moore, again walked away with first place honors in the overall diving competition. The diving in this meet was dominated by the G-men, with Paul Latos coming up with second place honors.

Action in the diving contest was tough last week in the Pioneer's match against Morris Harvey.

There will be an organizational meeting for an official's board Sunday, January 21, at 2 p.m. in the Health Building. This is the first meeting of its kind in Central West Virginia and all men interested in officiating are invited, according to Coach Robert Summers.

Blue Moon's Show Date Rescheduled

The Blue Moons record hop and stage show originally scheduled for Saturday, Jan. 13 has been rescheduled, at the request of the Blue Moons, for tomorrow, Jan. 20. The program will be held in the Pioneer Center ballroom between the hours of 8-12 p.m.

Co-sponsored by the Student Congress and Lyceum Committee, the Blue Moons offer a program of rock and roll revival featuring a 90 minute floor show during the four hour record hop. The music is mainly that of the 50's and is presented in the form of the famed Dick Clark Show. The Blue Moons dress and perform in the style and manner associated with the stars and fashions of the 50's.

The West Virginia University group came to the attention of Lyceum Committee members while performing in the Talent Showcase recently sponsored by the WV Association of Colleges and Universities at the Charleston Civic Center. As a result of their performance, an invitation was extended to them to perform on our campus.

You are now invited to see and hear the Blue Moons in person on tomorrow, Jan. 20 at 8:00 p.m. in the ballroom.

STUDENT CONGRESS REPLACES MEMBERS

Student Congress recently elected a new member and officer due to the vacancies left by Sharon Catalano and Dennis Lively.

Mariann DeRico has been appointed Parliamentarian of the Student Congress. Miss DeRico is a junior business administration major from Buckhannon.
