The president of the Student Congress must be a junior at the time of his election and must have a 2.5 overall average. The vice-president must also have a 2.5 average, and one of his main duties is to arrange the Freshmen Week activities. All of these representatives have one vote in the Congress, and all have equal rights.

"Desire" Will Be Presented In Auditorium Starting Wed.

By Mona Floyd

Desire Under the Elms by Eugene O'Neil will be presented in the Glenville State College Auditorium Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday at 8:15 p.m. The production, under the direction of Mr. Jay Fields, is a large and serious undertaking for the cast and crew of Desire Under the Elms as well as those in the audience.

The cost of the set will run $500 for a shell frame of a complete house. The off-stage area has been utilized for a two bedroom area to add to the decor of the set. All props used in Desire are antiques. Many antiques have been lent to the production by Mrs. Fern Rollyson of Glenville. Although many costumes have been found in attics, some costumes are being rented from Wickham's.

Due to the cost of the set and costumes, Desire Under the Elms has been given permission by the Student Congress to charge a $5.00 admission charge to students with an ID card. Faculty will be admitted by ID card, also. The balcony will be closed for admission.

The cast of Desire includes: Woody Wilson as Eben Cabot, David Grapes as Ephraim Cabot, Celia McCoy as Abbie Putnam Cabot, Andy Harper as Peter Cabot, and Greg Plants will portray Simeon. The assistant director of the production is Marquette Stevens with Kathy Fluharty as script chief. The cast has also doubled in their roles by working on the set.

Desire Under the Elms has a complete sound score with 18 sound cues and 67 light cues.

The play centers around Ephraim

Cabot's new bride, Abbie, coming to the Cabot farm which she wants to make her own. She soon finds out, however, that Ephraim's son, Eben, has the same desire. An intense hatred evolves which later turns to love and a child is conceived. Events and emo-

Dean Reaffirms Policy For Repeating Classes

Repeat policy for students who have received a 'D' or 'F' grade within their first 60 hours' has been reaffirmed by Dean Clarence Maze.

In determining the semester in which a student attempts his 60th hour, disregard the hours within the first 60 hours that have already been repeated. For example, if a student made a 'D' in Biology his first semester here and repeated it for his third semester here, he would have attempted only four semester hours in biology. The repeated four hours, since they are not new hours attempted would not be included in the calculation when determining the semester in which he had attempted his 60th hour.

Students may repeat courses in which he or she has made a 'D' or 'F' any time before he completes his baccalaureate degree. If this is done, the first grade will be disregarded. In other words, although he may disregard the first grade in courses in which he made a 'D' or 'F' during the first 60 hours of his work only, he may actually repeat them at any time.

Mack Kennedy Samples Is Appointed Associate Dean Of Academic Affairs

Mr. Mack Kennedy Samples, currently Assistant Director of the University of South Carolina Regional Campus at Lancaster, has been appointed Associate Dean of Academic Affairs effective July 1, 1973. He will be replacing Mr. Beryl Langford who will be retiring June 30, 1973.

Under some reorganization of the structure of the College, Mr. Samples will be in charge of admissions, registration, teacher certification, student academic evaluations, and the complete academic record-keeping system of the College. He will also perform an important role in academic advising of students. This arrangement will permit Dean Maze to devote more time to faculty development, improvement of instruction, and program development.

Originally from Clendenin and a 1964 graduate of Glenville State College, Mr. Samples holds the M.A. degree in Political Science from Ohio University. He has also done additional graduate study at the University of South Carolina. He taught in the Wood County school system one semester, one year at Wheeling High School, one year at Mountain State College, and he has been with the University of South Carolina's Lancaster campus since 1968. In his position as Assistant Director of the regional campus he has performed the functions of Registrar, Admissions, and many of the duties of a dean of academic affairs in a small college.

Mr. Samples also taught at least one course each semester at Lancaster, and was voted the "Outstanding Teacher of the Year" in 1968-69, and again in 1970-71 by the students there. In the absence of a Director, he served as Acting Director of the campus for two different 5-month periods during his tenure at Lancaster.

Also a graduate of Glenville State College, Mrs. Samples is the former Thelma Wilson from Webster County. They have one daughter, Tracy, who is three years old. The Samples have made at least one annual pilgrimage to Glenville since 1964 where Mr. Samples has been very active in the West Virginia Folk Festival.

Mrs. Mary Barbee is shown at Wednesday's chili dinner with Brenda Rose and Judy Bias. The sorority had just presented Mrs. Barbee with flowers and candy for Valentines Day.

"Meals" Indescribably Delicious?

The topic of this editorial is one that has been around about as long as food has. But a song composed by two GSC students has inspired this bit of opinionated mish-mash. The lyrics were composed by Barbara Stemple and Chris Caplinger and are to be sung to the tune of "By and By, Lord." It goes:

May your saucers be unbroken
By the chefs of Glenville State,
Chew your pudding,
Bounce your jello,
Break your knife cutting the meat.
Thaw your vegetables,
Scoop your ice cream bar
With a spoon from your wet tray.
Indigestion, Nauseation,
Constipation, by and by.

Obviously, meals at our cafeteria have been bad so long that people have stopped being outraged, they now sit around and laugh. With the stack of credentials our head chef packs behind him, and with so many GSC students turning vegetarian because they cannot chew the meat, something, someone, somewhere, needs to be laughed at, to preserve us all from insanity.

A trip to the cafeteria is indeed a trip into the Unreal. Where else in the world can a whole serving of mashed potatoes be picked up on a fork? Where else do we find forks doubling as compasses—with the prongs pointing in four different directions? Where else does the roast beef roll over and play dead? Where else does spaghetti stand up and sing "The Star Spangled Banner"? Only in the Unreal world of the GSC cafeteria.

Whereas the roast beef plays dead, the pork chops and steaks stand up on your plate, grab the spoon for a shield, and defy you to eat them. And the vegetables' constant source of amazement. The cafeteria people serve frozen vegetables, the kind that you thaw out and cook. Only they seem to be under the impression that their job is only to cook them—we must thaw them.

And why is it that on Hamburger day (known as Wednesday to the rest of the world) I can put lettuce and mayonnaise on my hamburger, but never, never sliced tomato? Those are only served with Thursday's dinner.

Those of you who have never eaten breakfast at the cafeteria are missing an awesome experience. The waffles are perfectly golden brown, with all of the holes in the right places—the picture of perfection. But they taste like beeswax. You've also missed the "disappearing syrup act," which is performed with a stack of pancakes and a whole scoopful of syrup. By the time you get your milk, the syrup has disappeared, and those pancakes have the same sneaky look that the cat did after he swallowed the canary. Another Glenville miracle is the toaster that produces cold toast. Somebody really ought to erect a shrine on top of that toaster—maybe it heals the sick, too.

Then there is the milk dispenser. It works some what on the same principle of the pea under the cup game. In that game, someone mixes up the cups and the other person has to guess which one the pea is under. I'm thoroughly convinced that there is a man in the milk dispenser who mixes up the cartons after each student, so that the next one has to guess which handle dispenses the most milk in the least amount of time.

I suppose now I ought to put in a lot of patriotic bull about how this school and the cafeteria operates as well as it can on the least amount of money. Well, my heart pumps synthetic peanut butter for those poor people in the Pioneer Center building who may feel abused by this. But I never heard anybody feeling sorry for me the times I walked up that blasted hill only to have a stare-down with the succotash. So, I won't tell the student body about how poor this "pit of Appalachian poverty" is, about how "we can't afford no good food" and all that rot. I've heard "we can't afford" around here until I think I'll just make tapes for people to play. That way I'll save a lot of their jaw energy for chewing the liver.

Players Present As You Like It

By Joe Hinkle

In presenting Shakespeare's As You Like It, the National Players have proven that a truly great work of art knows no age. As is their tradition, the performances were excellent. The leading ladies were beautiful and graceful and the part of Rosalind, the girl who masquerades as a boy with feminine emotions, was played with the sensitivity the part demanded. Orlando was charming as the love-struck, idealistic young man who hangs poetry on trees. The only defective performance was on the part of Sirius, the lustful young shepherd who pursues the country girl, Phoebe. His comic role was just a bit overdone. However, this minor flaw was hardly enough to mar the total excellence of the performance. The old familiar "All the world's a stage" speech was given a fresh, spontaneous interpretation and retained its humorous appeal.

Costuming was important in defining the social status of the characters. For example, buxom, poverty-stricken Audrey's low-cut burlap sack was in sharp contrast to the strikingly beautiful gowns worn by the two royal cousins.

The scenery was simple, but effective. The leafy flats suggesting a forest were enough to stir the imagination. The blue lighting on a white background added a sense of realism to evening scenes.

Traditionally, the epilogue in Shakespeare's plays is delivered by the highest ranking male character. Here, the epilogue is delivered by Rosalind, who made it sound as if it had been added just for this performance in the women's lib age. This was the final tribute to the immortality of Shakespeare's work.

Fourteenth Straight For Junior G-Men

Coach Carney's junior varsity won their fourteenth straight conference game last Tuesday night as the J.V.'s defeated the West Virginia Wesleyan Junior Bobcats, 73 - 68. This was the final home appearance for the Junior Varsity.

The Pioneer's jumped out to an early lead and led 20 - 13 with ten minutes remaining in the first half. The junior G-Men continued on to their margin and went into the locker room with a 40 - 31 lead.

Wesleyan came out strong in the second half, cutting the lead to 53 - 50 with eleven minutes remaining. With ten minutes left in the contest the Pioneer's were up 55 - 51.

The Bobcats made one more great surge for victory moving to within two points, 57 - 55, with 7:35 to go. At that point the J.V.'s began to once again gain control, going up 63 - 57 with 6:09 remaining. The Pioneer's received a minor scare at this point when star center Randy Datcher fouled out. But the junior G-Men calmly held on for a five point victory.

Randy Datcher was high man for The Pioneer's with 26 points. Mark Elder had his best point total of the season putting in 21 big points. Roger Caudill and Bobby Hardman were the other two Pioneer's in double figures with ten points apiece.

M. Harvey Downed, Grapplers' 7th Win

Coach "Whitey" Adolfsen's mighty Pioneer grapplers brought their record to 7 wins and 1 loss by defeating Morris Harvey last Wednesday, Feb. 7, by a score of 57 - 0.

Undefeated freshman 118 pounder Jimmy Neal received a forfeit and went on to win a 16 - 0 exhibition decision. Luther Hanson, 126 lb. class, remained undefeated by pinning his opponent early in the second period. Jerry Harris, 134 lb. class, brought home the only win by decision when he won by a 3 - 2 score. Mike "The Mauler" Snider was winning by an 8 - 2 score when he turned his opponent and won with a late second period pin. Steve Lewis, 150 lb. class, was winning by a 16 - 0 score before he turned his opponent for the pin early in the second period.

Action in the 158 lb. class saw Joe Mills win by an early second period pin. Corby Stalnakier 167 pounder had the only first period pin of the night when he nailed his opponent in 1:25. At 177, George Welch pinned his highly rated opponent with 45 seconds remaining in the second period. Tom Brum 190 lb. mentor, won by forfeit and then pinned his exhibition opponent. Heavyweight Terry Tyree won by forfeit.

The Pioneer's travel to Huntington today to do battle with Marshall and Wittenburg in a triangular match.

Playing their last home contest at the Glenville State gymnasium are these five seniors, they are Jim Garnett, Ralph Cook, Gene King, Steve Datcher, and Ron Jones.

Have You Heard?

By Michael I. Rust

Leading off...

Coach "Whitey" Adolfsen's matmen will be facing a tough test today as they compete in a triangular match at Huntington against Marshall and Wittenburg. Both schools have excellent teams and the Pioneer wrestlers will have a rugged time if they hope to bring home first place honors.

The matmen posted their first shut-out ever in GSC wrestling history, shutting out Morris Harvey 57-0. Four Pioneer wrestlers remain undefeated, they are: Captain Brian Taylor, Jerry Harris, Luther Hanson, and Mike Snider.

Glenville's big test will be coming up February 24, when they take on the always tough Fairmont Falcons.

The WVAC wrestling championship will be held March 2-3, at the Charleston Civic Center. The matches are scheduled in the afternoon so that people attending the basketball tournament can see the wrestlers in competition.

The year of the upset continues to ride high in the WVAC basketball track. West Virginia Tech did the trick last week defeating Morris Harvey 70-64. If the Pioneer's continue to win they will end up in third place and go into the tournament in good shape. Glenville will probably play either Alderson Broaddus or Davis and Elkins in the first round. To show the importance of finishing third or fourth in the conference, if the G-men would finish fifth they will have to play Bluefield in the second round.

Earl Hawkins is the leading scorer and rebounder on the varsity squad with Steve Datcher, Ron Jones, Jim Garnett, and Ralph Cook adding lots of support.

Golden Gloves...

Glenville boxer Jeff Wynne will be competing in the Charleston Golden Gloves Tournament starting this week. Wynne has registered to box in the open middle weight class.

After seeing Jeff box up here, I look for him to do quite well in Charleston. The tournament will open Wednesday night.

Bowling

Dr. Dollinger's bowlers will have a couple of weeks off before they go into competition. Their next match is the Central Regional to be held in Clarksburg.

National Rankings...

UCLA continues to roll along with 63 straight games under their belts. The Bruins continue to hold their number ranking but North Carolina State continues to move closer. The Wolfpack received one first place ballot in last week's poll. N.C. State will never get the chance to play the top ranked Bruins however, because they were put on probation by the NCAA for recruiting violations.

If Marshall can pull through the rest of the season without any defeats they could receive an invitation to the National Invitational Tournament.

Merger...

Look for a merger to take place soon between the NBA and the ABA. A bill has been introduced in Congress and it looks like it will pass easily. Bet that will make the club owners a lot happier. The average salary in the NBA is now $92,000 a year.

While on the subject of pro basketball, I hope that the Philadelphia 76'ers get something in the draft. The 76'ers stand 4-58 and no help is in sight unless they can come up with a good college crew.

Two men continue to dominate the NBA statistics they are: Nate Archibald of Kansas City-Omaha and Lew Ackerly of the Los Angeles Lakers.

Archibald holds the lead in scoring with a 34.3 average, and is the NBA's assist leader with an 11.7 average. Chamberlain leads in field goal percentage at a fantastic .729 rate and is tops in rebounds with a 18.3 average.

Down the Fairway...

Arnold Palmer got back on the victory train with a two shot victory in the Bob Hope Desert Classic. Palmer ended a one year victory drought with his two stroke victory over Jack Nicklaus.

New A.D.

Former college and pro star Gale Sayers is being sought after an assistant athletic director at the University of Kansas. A spokesman for the school said that they hoped they could persuade Sayers to take the job. Sayers was forced to retire from pro football because of injuries.

Final Score...

The Pioneer basketball team will be in action this Sunday against Beckley and take on West Virginia State Monday. The game against the Yellow Jackets is a must win for the Pioneer's if they hope to end up in third place in the WVAC. Have a good week and watch out for Crazy Carl Stalnakier.

Pioneers Win Over Bobcats

Earl Hawkins fired in 23 points and proved he is the only "Chairman of the Boards" by pulling down 17 rebounds and blocking six shots to lead Glenville to a 57 - 49 win over W.Va. Wesleyan in overtime.

The Pioneer's definitely had a tiger by the tail as the Bobcats, playing a deliberate slow down weave on offense, jumped out to a 4 - 0 lead on buckets by Dave Cores and Bruce Campbell, with 18:02 to go in the first half.

GSC grabbed its first lead at 5 - 4 on a jump shot by "The Hawk" and lead by a 7 - 4 count on a lay-up by Ralph Cook at the 15 minute mark of the first half.

Wesleyan came right back on a lay-up by Dave Cores and a jump shot by Dean Wolfe to lead 8 - 7 with 12:50 left in the half.

At this point the Blue Wave scored 8 straight points, four by Steve Datcher, to lead 15 - 8 with 8:17 left in the first 20 minutes of action.

Wesleyan then went on a scoring spree to outscore the Pioneer's 21 - 8 the last eight minutes of the first half, and took a 29 - 23 lead at intermission. Glenville held a 4 point lead at 35 - 31 only to see Wesleyan come back and tie the contest at 37-all with 11:24 left on the clock.

The game was then tied at 37, 39, and 41 before Wesleyan took the lead at 45 - 44 on a jump shot by Skip Davis.

Steve Datcher fouled out with 5:18 left in regulation time and Dave Clapp converted the one-and-one situation with 2:57 left, to give the Bobcats a 49 - 44 lead.

Hawkins booked a jump shot with 2:33 left and was fouled on the play. The "Hawk" conversion cut the Wesleyan lead to 49 - 47.

With the Pioneer crowd shouting "Defense, Defense," Wesleyan threw the ball away. Hawkins came right back down the floor, and resembling "Big David Cowens," netted a sweeping hook shot to tie the score at 49 - 49.

GSC got the ball back on another Wesleyan turnover and held the ball until nine seconds remained in the contest, and then called time out.

Jim Garnett's jump shot with three seconds left in regulation play came in and out and the contest was in overtime.

In the overtime period Pioneer's dominated by outscoring the Bobcats 8 - 0. Ralph Cook hit a jump shot with 2:57 left in the overtime to give GSC a 51 - 49 lead. Jim Garnett then sunk a crucial one and one situation to give the Blue Wave a 53 - 49 lead with 1:33 left. Ron Jones put the game out of reach with a lay-up and Garnett hit a long jump shot with one second remaining, to make the final count 57 - 49.

Five Seniors Conclude Fine Careers At GSC

On Tuesday, Feb. 13, five GSC basketball players played their last regular season game against W.Va. Wesleyan.

Jim Garnett, Ron Jones, Steve Datcher, Ralph Cook and Gene King will close out their fabulous career's at GSC.

These five young men have given us many thrills the last four years. First, they have helped GSC win two WVAC basketball tournaments in the last three years and last year they helped get the Pioneer's all the way to Kansas City.

These five seniors went out in style with a 57 - 49 win over Wesleyan in overtime.

Hopefully, these five young men will return to the GSC hardwood in early March to help lead the Pioneer's in a District 28 play-off war with the regular season conference champion.

Fieldtrip Is Announced By Biology Department

An ecology field trip to Florida during the Spring Break by 12 students of a two-hour class highlights news from the Biology Department this week.

Dr. Robert Deal, head of botanical science, and Dr. Frank Jenio, head of zoological sciences, will be in charge of the students. The class will visit state parks and collect essays on a number of ecological riches, with campouts and cookouts.

John Templeton, biology major from Clarksburg, has been accepted for the Fall Semester at the West Virginia University Medical School. John, who is a top academic student in the Biology Department, recently spent a year in Washington, D.C.

Steve Nicholson and Christine Yates, biology majors, completed two independent research problems for course credit for the Fall Semester '72.

Miss Yates, a junior, compared types of protozoans found in different soils. Her concentration was in open field soil versus strip mine soil. Mr. Nicholson, senior, examined three species of mushrooms common in West Virginia and found a number of different insects inside the mushrooms.

We wonder if Coach Smith of W.Va. Wesleyan is cleaning his teeth, lost in thought, or making a social comment.

Glenville Campus Visited By New Football Recruits

Head Coach Bill Hanlin and his staff have been in the process of full scale recruiting during the months of January and February.

Three dates, Jan. 27, Feb. 3 and Feb. 24 were set aside by Coach Hanlin as High School Visitation Week-ends for recruits. On these weekends, senior ball players from many high schools in this state, Ohio and Virginia were, and will be, here to view the campus and take part in the scheduled activities. Three fraternities, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Lambda Chi Alpha, and Theta Xi, along with the Pioneer football players served as host to these athletes while on campus. The main job of these groups was to show the young players around campus, while keeping them informed of the activities of the weekend.

On Jan. 27 and Feb. 3, approximately 50 youngsters participated in the visitation weekend-schedules. The TKE hosted the affair on Jan. 27 while Lambda Chi Alpha did the honors on Feb. 3. Some of the major activities of the Jan. 27 weekend were a wrestling match between GSC and Morris Harvey, and a swim meet between GSC and Berea College. These activities were topped off by a social hour sponsored by TKE fraternity. The major activities of the Feb. 3 weekend involved a wrestling match and a basketball game, both featuring Glenville against Concord.

The athletes that were here during those two dates were: Steve McDiffitt, Marty Patreck, Randy Smith, Glenn Kouns, Jr., Howard Cornette, and Rick Sharp, South Point, Oh; Pat Joyce, and Frank DeMarco; Shinston; Charles Miller, South Charleston; Dave Mossor, Highland; Thomas White, Fayetteville; Ralph Nabry, Quinton Fields, and Tim Fields, Lebanon, Va.; Roger Full and Dale Wigal, Elizabeth; Steve Hooper, Pennsboro; Steve Burkett, Roger Southern, and Barry Myers, Bridgeport; John Burdette, Paul Jackson, Mike Kibbee, Robert Miracle, Terry Watson, and Steve Gilchrist, Parkersburg; Jeff Casten, and Gerald Cook, Marietta, Oh.; Wayne Sanders and Greg Johnson, Pt. Pleasant; Randall Buchanan, Lovell, Oh.; Robbie Helton, Huntington; Danny Hammond, Clarksburg; Larry Sales, Belle; Chuck Barker, Smithville; Robbie Lambert, Mason; Steve McCord, and Lyun Lantz, Buckhannon; Pete Lokant, Oak Hill; Steve Kils, New Martinsville; and Terry Baker, Sardis, Oh.

The third of the three visitation dates will be on Feb. 24, and is expected to bring in-around 25 recruits. This weekend will be hosted by the Theta Xi fraternity.

Income Tax Class for Individuals began last evening at 6:30 p.m. The one-hour class will be conducted each Thursday night by Dr. John McCreary in 102 Administration Building.

Missing in the story about the revised second semester calendar was that classes meeting 11 and 12:30 Tuesdays and Thursdays should hold final examinations Tuesday, May 8. Spring Vacation and Easter recess dates are correct.

The old labels of Greek Senator and Independent Senator implied that there was some sort of conflict within the Congress. This conflict did not exist, and should not be interpreted as such. One other rule states that on the days of the election March 5 and 6, there will be no signs within 500 feet of the polls. Candidates, please take notice of these rules—it is your responsibility to see they are followed.
