Volume XLIV, Number 23

Glenville State College, Glenville, West Virginia

Miss Erma Edwards pauses at her work as assistant registrar here. Miss Edwards is retiring Sept. 30 after 31 years at GSC.

Miss Edwards, Assistant Registrar Will Retire on September 30, 1973

Miss Erma Edwards, Assistant Registrar, Glenville State College, will accept retirement on September 30, 1973, after 31 years of devoted service to the College. She is an Alumna of Glenville State College and accepted employment here in September, 1942, as the secretary to Dr. D. L. Haight, President of the College, after having taught one year in public schools.

In December, 1942, Miss Edwards became the Business Manager of the College, serving during Mr. Lloyd M. Jones' service in the United States Navy during World War II.

She has some interesting recollections concerning her duties as Business Manager at Glenville State College during the period of World War II when the enrollment was very small. She remembers that the work consisted of making up payrolls, developing budgets, operating the college bookstore, handling room reservations for residence hall students, collecting students' ration books. As the value of ration stamps fluctuated, there were times when the college's ration budget was not sufficient to cover the cost of gasoline for the college's motor vehicles which were necessary to keep the college operating. Meats and canned goods for the Food Service were difficult to secure even though they were in order for several weeks due to the changing value of the ration stamps.

When World War II ended and Mr. Lloyd M. Jones returned to assume his duties as Business Manager, Miss Edwards became Assistant Registrar

Thai Child Adopted Into GSC Family

by Patsy Reeves

A new member has been added to the Glenville State College family. The students have adopted Jun Kaow Gun Tisen, a nine year old girl from Thailand. John Peters and Jack Ansell initiated the drive to attain funds to adopt Jun. Funds were attained by personal contributions and by dances held at "The House of the Rising Sun." Jun Kaow Gun Tisen is a first grader at Rangsee Wittaya School. Her favorite play is with dolls. Her chore at the school is picking up waste-paper. Her family circumstances are ones of dire poverty and need. Her parents are living, but their living conditions are deplorable. Although the father has work, his earnings are no more than a pittance, far from enough to meet all his family's requirements. The mother is resourceful at trying to make the most of little, but cannot do much with her husband's low income. Jun was desperately in need of clothing, food and educational expenses when she was taken into Rangsee Wittaya School.

The funds attained at Glenville were sent to Rangsee Wittaya School to sponsor Jun. These funds will help cover the cost of her education, food and clothing.

Rockefeller Becomes Pres. At West Virginia Wesleyan

Jay Rockefeller, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for the West Virginia governorship last November, was installed as President of West Virginia Wesleyan College, Thursday, March 1.

In an address to the college community, Rockefeller countered speculation that he was "biding time" before running for public office again. "Let me say to you resoundingly and clearly, 'no'. That is not the case," He went on to explain that he came to Wesleyan "because the trustees asked me to, and because I want to serve you here." He added, "the speculation will continue, but we will ignore it."

Rockefeller also said that his wealth will not play prominently in his new role. "I will not bankroll the college," he continued, "but I will give because you do, too. And I believe in it."

Rockefeller outlined his objectives as college president in the course of the speech, stressing openness and

W.H. Not 'Bed of Roses'

Ah, such a bed of roses for women next year . . . co-ed dorms, no hours . . . we thought Glenville would never see the day. It need not be expounded upon, how miserable conditions were only four short years ago, without luxurious C-Wing, with hours of 10:00 and 1:00 and only 20 grace minutes, and without blanket permission slips. Daily, women should sit back and count their blessings, and look ahead joyfully to days to come.

Rot! Let's look at some mathematics. There are 194 women in Women's Hall now. Assuming that there will be the same 7.9 per cent enrollment increase next year, as there was this year, that means there will be 23 more women in the hall, bringing the total to 317 (we are not saying that there will be 317 women in Women's Hall next year. We are only using this last enrollment to estimate enrollment for next year.) Given that there are 177 rooms in B and C wings, this leaves each girl with .588 of a room. This means each girl will have a roommate, and some will have two.

Now let's look at the deal the guys are getting in A-wing. It has been promised that Louis Bennett will be filled before men are placed in Women's Hall. There are currently 324 men living in three dorms. By using the 7.9 per cent increase again, we add 26 more men to the scenery, which means there will be 350 men living on campus. Louis Bennett's capacity is 328, therefore, there should be 22 men living in A-wing of Women's Hall. There are 96 rooms in A-wing, so each male will receive 4.36 of a room (hypothetically).

What if it all comes down to this: one should not expect life to be full of joy next year. Guys will be always listening to tales of woe about terrible roommates, and girls will be living these tales. Guys will stare at three empty rooms around them and wish there were someone to talk to, and girls will be wishing for another drawer and that their roommates would get the ——— out.

If the enrollment only goes up three per cent, then it merely spreads the guys a little thinner. If it jumps to 10 per cent then it only makes things worse in B and C wings.

Students shouldn't be fooled by the token offers of more liberal hours and whatever else there may be in store. Such favors wouldn't be granted if not for the belief that GSC students would take their good money and go elsewhere. They have to give the students something, don't they, to hold them here, since they're filling Louis Bennett and B and C wings of Women's Hall to capacity (to sardineship) and letting a few others room empty, spooky halls. Tokenism? Ah, yes. They give students all night to stay out, and members of the opposite sex to admire at fairly close range, and then they make them hate themselves for either never having a minute's peace and quiet in the place where they live, or for never having a neighbor to wave to.

Gratitude Expressed

Dear Editor:

We would like to express our sincerest gratitude for the contributions and support in our effort to adopt an orphan. Special thanks go to those on campus and in surrounding areas, especially Grantsville, who donated, though unable to attend the dances held to raise money. It is hoped that efforts will be made in future to continue the adoption on a yearly basis. In these times of good fortune, it is gratifying to discover that people still care for those less fortunate than themselves. Once again, our sincerest thanks.

Projections Concerning Am. Life Revealed By 'Think Tank' Center

Today much attention is focused upon matters that should be important to Americans. A good example of this is the concern with multinational corporations.

Unlike the general American public, many "intellectuals," "academics," specialists, experts, or what have you, have been applying themselves to such matters for some time. As they gather periodically and regularly to discuss and exchange ideas, frequently the group becomes labeled as a "think tank."

One such "think tank" is known as the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions. Located in Santa Barbara, California, and operating on money, obtained from philanthropic contributions and membership fees. The Center has a Board of Directors, a Director, regular members called Fellows, a staff, and research assistants. In addition to these, various recognized experts, called Visiting Fellows and Consultants, serve at The Center for as long as a year. A Center Magazine and a Center Report, putting the ideas in print, are published in alternating months. (Incidentally, these publications are in our library.)

Referring to the issue of multinational corporations, it should be pointed out that at The Center the matter has been under consideration for several years. In short, the matter is not new at The Center; in fact a leading economist, Neil Jacoby, prepared an article entitled "The Multinational Corporation" for the Center Magazine back in May, 1970, almost three years ago.

If this example shows that The Center is somewhat aware of what is happening in American life, then perhaps some credence can be given to the following brief projections about the future in America which are taken from a Center Report:

POLITICS AND GOVERNMENT

In the future persons may become eligible for military draft as late as age forty.

Domestic policies, such as health care, will become identified with individual presidents rather than with the nation as a whole.

A general invasion of public policy arenas will accompany the growth of neocorporatism as business firms provide more and more of the services once reserved to government.

The operating units of computerized organizations will tend to become debureaucratized. At the same time that they shrink in size through a reduction of their formalistic superstructures, authority will become more centralized and over-all size of operations will increase.

The government may increasingly take concern for the information flow that strikes the citizen.

In the next twenty years a new adjudication system will be required in order to accommodate a society much more intensively planned than in the past.

Adjudication systems will need to incorporate preventive measures allowing society to anticipate problems and develop responses.

The increasing sophistication of computers will enhance the manipulative powers of the establishment. CULTURE AND ETHICS

Because mathematicians believe nothing is in the offing that will enable us to learn how to manage large systems, the problems will be solved by creating smaller social units.

Eroticized behavior will find its political counterpart in the social action of anarchic communities.

American society will probably reveal rigidities and discriminations characteristic of the power-elite socialist-collectivist democracies as it attempts to move from an industrial to a service economy.

Water Safety Instructors Part II will be offered starting Tuesday, March 20 at 6:00 p.m. in the college pool. To qualify for admission to the class, a person must have completed Sr. Life-saving and Part I WSI or have taken PE 306-Advanced Swimming and Life-saving. College credit will be given for this course.

Commune Residents!

Dear Editor:

I am asking your cooperation in printing this letter so that I may reach the general student population.

I am attempting to accumulate some meaningful data for a serious study on American communes. To that end, I wish to reach as many communes as possible.

I will be grateful if students, graduate and undergraduate, who are living in communal situations, will write me indicating willingness to receive a questionnaire and/or to be interviewed. Size of commune is unimportant; 3 or 4 people, up to any number.

Sincerely,

Pioneers Go Into Overtime To Defeat Hilltoppers 86-84 In Chas. Tourney

The Pioneers of Glenville received a major scare in the opening round of the WVIAC tournament as they had to go into overtime to defeat the West Liberty Hilltoppers, 86-84. The Hilltoppers, who were not supposed to give the G-Men much of a game wiped out a 49-32 halftime lead and made the contest one of the most exciting games of the night.

Coach Lilly's cagers started out red hot jumping out to a 16-8 at the fourteen minute mark. The Pioneers continued adding on to their margin being up 25-16 at the halfway mark in the first half. Going down the final 10 minutes of play before halftime the Blue Wave outscored the Hilltoppers 24-18 for a seventeen point margin in the dressing room.

Glenville shot a torrid 59.5 percent during the first twenty minutes of play, with the defense also doing a going job especially Earl Hawkins who thrilled the crowd with his rebounding and shot blocking ability.

West Liberty came out a different club the second half blitzing the basket for a 66.7 percent average. The Hilltoppers gradually cut down the Pioneer lead, outscoring the G-Men 26 - 9 during the first ten minutes of the second half to tie the score at 58 - 58.

They outscored Glenville 30 - 11 to take a 62-60, on a 10 foot jumper by Ty Cramer with 7:24 left on the clock. Glenville fell back on its trade mark, defense with guard Ron Jones setting the pace. Jones scored four straight points to put the G-Men back in front at 64 - 62. West Liberty fought back quickly going up 67 - 66 with 3:33 remaining. Both teams traded baskets with Earl Hawkins supplying the Pioneers firepower. The Blue Wave surged ahead 70 - 69 lead on a driving up by Hawkins with 23 seconds left on the clock.

Ron Jones forced the Hilltoppers into a costly turnover with fourteen seconds left. West Liberty quickly fouled Gene King and his two free throws made it 72 - 69.

West Liberty brought the ball down quickly and Ty Cramer was fouled as he attempted to shoot. He missed his first shot but made the biggest steal of his career, stealing the in bounds pass and laying it in to tie the score at 72 - 72.

Glenville's tournament experience quickly showed in the overtime period. With last year's MVP Steve Datcher scoring six points early in the extra period the Pioneers were able to take a 79 - 74 lead.

Ron Jones foul shooting and Earl Hawkins' bucket secured the Pioneers' victory at 86 - 84.

The Pioneers once again had a balanced scoring attack with all five starters in double figures. Ron Jones was the leader with 23 points, including 13 of 16 from the charity stripe. Earl Hawkins was close behind with 21, Steve Datcher added 19 and Gene King and Ralph Cook had 12 and 11 respectively.

Blues Defeat W. Va. State

The Glenville State Pioneers up by as many as sixteen points in the second half defeated the West Virginia State Yellow Jackets 66 - 63 to nail down third place in the WVIAC tournament.

The Pioneers jumped out right at the start of the contest going ahead 21 - 8 with ten minutes remaining in the half. The Yellow Jackets quickly came back and tied the score at 24 - 24 with 5:30 remaining. Coach Lilly's G-Men took over at this point outscoring State 17 - 9 to take a 41 - 33 into the locker room at the half. The Pioneers shot a blistering 54 percent during the first twenty minutes of action.

Glenville quickly added on to their eight point margin, increasing their lead to 58 - 42 with 12:30 remaining in the game. At this point the Yellow Jackets caught fire, led by Al Vance and Dwight Street, W.Va. State was able to cut the margin to 64 - 63 with 58 seconds remaining. The Pioneers were forced into a turnover with 26 seconds remaining giving the Yellow Jackets the ball but Eric Makle made the big play stealing the ball. State quickly fouled Ron Jones, who calmly sank two free throws to make the score final at 66 - 63.

Earl Hawkins was the leading scorer for the Pioneers with 18 points. Steve Datcher added 15 and Ron Jones had 12 points.

Al Vance led State with 18 points. Rance Berry had 15 and Rocky Gilmer added 11 points.

MH Golden Eagles Lose Tourney Game

The Glenville Pioneers scored one of their most impressive victories of the season in the second round of the WVIAC tournament, defeating the Golden Eagles of Morris Harvey 62 - 51. Led by Ron Jones and Earl Hawkins the Pioneers were able to gain control of the game at the start and set the tempo for things to come.

Morris Harvey scored first on a goal by Tom Neal but a basket by Steve Datcher quickly tied the score. The play was close throughout the first half with neither being ahead by more than seven points. Glenville and Morris Harvey both played great defense the first half with the score at the midway point of the first twenty minutes of action was 12 - 8 in the Pioneers' favor.

Coach Lilly's G-Men biggest margin came with 1:59 remaining when the Pioneers led 29 - 22. The Golden Eagles moved back in contention, however, on two goals by Henry Dickerson. The score of the contest was 30 - 26 in Glenville's favor.

Glenville scored first in the second half but the Golden Eagles reeled off six straight points to tie the score. The Pioneers managed to cling on to their two point margin until Henry Dickerson's basket put the Golden Eagles up 40 - 38 with 12:30 left to go in the contest.

Glenville quickly regained the momentum, scoring eight straight points to go ahead 46 - 40. The Pioneers went into their four corner offense at this point and the Eagles were unable to catch up.

Ralph Cook put the icing on the cake with his basket at the 3:18 point mark to move the Pioneers ahead 58 - 51. Steve Datcher added two insurance free throws with 1:21 left to make the score final at 62 - 51.
