K. Wilson New Pioneer

The GSC student body has elected Kim Wilson Pioneer for 1973. Kim was elected in the all-campus election over a worthy opponent, Gary Cotton.

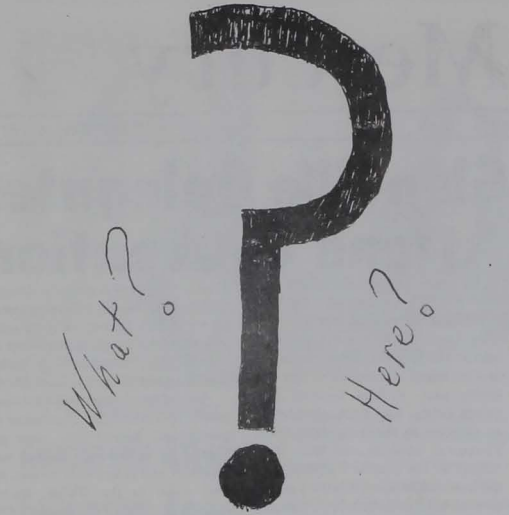

The qualifications for Pioneer are that he be a male senior in good academic standing. With these qualifications, Wilson won out. One of the greater qualifications for Pioneer is to grow a beard and Wilson has filled this bill by starting a full beard.

Is GSC Power Not Frightening??

Could it be true that when one comes to Glenville, one loses one's Bill of Rights, as is guaranteed to him in the United States Constitution? Could it be true that one loses one's freedom of speech, one's right to make an occasional mistake, and consequently, one's right to become educated at GSC?

Was not Henry David Thoreau jailed for breaking a law he did not believe in? Are not some GSC students, who break some of Glenville's most absurd, paradoxical, and arbitrary rules, also jailed, in a sense, by exclusion from participation in campus activities, and occasionally, by exclusion from school? Are not students, faculty, and some administrators, ostracized for stepping "to the music he hears, no matter how measured or far away"? Can not each of us think of at least one student, faculty member, or administrator who has said, "it's not worth the trouble" and removed himself, or been removed, for daring to be different, for being unable to be like everyone else, and for not keeping "pace with his companions"?

Who sets the pace for the community of scholars, if one has been set? Does it not take but one man to set pace for an army platoon, company, or battalion? Does it not take only one dictator to set pace for an entire country? Can we not then assume that there is but one person here who sets the pace? If one person does set pace, how did he get the power to do so? Has this person not usurped the power from others? And if this person has not usurped the power, has he not in fact usurped the minds and the wills of the people in positions of power, so that he alone may set pace? Is it not true that in a supposedly democratic institution, such as this one, in a democratic society, such as the United States, the only way that one could be ostracized for not keeping such a fearfully mediocre pace is by the rule of one person, a sort of dictator? Who is this dictator? What sort of power does he hold? How did he get it?

How many students have been, or will be, forced to leave, simply because the pace-setter decides they should? How many of these students will be leaving because they should have known something, but didn't? Since when have should have, could have, and almost become absolutes? Since when does "should have known" a rule was in effect equate "did know," and become grounds for expulsion, suspension, or probation? Does this not happen only when a pace-setter says it will?

Is it not frightening to think that one person could have so much power, that he alone could ostracize people who are different, whether intentionally or not? Is it not indeed frightening to try to think of why or how the person got that power? Is not frightening to think that nothing can be done about it, unless those from whom the power was usurped decide that they want it back? Is it not frightening to think that the victims, those who are most hurt by the usurper's actions, are powerless to do anything about the usurper? Is it not frightening to think that those from whom the power was taken may be afraid to take it back, that they don't want it, or that they may think - or know - that it is too late? Is it not frightening? Is it not true?

Basketball Recruits Visit; Coaches Consider Twelve

Head Coach Jesse Lilly and his basketball staff have been engaged, since his latest 20 game season, in a full scale recruiting program.

Only one starter will return to a Pioneer team that posted an impressive 22-5 record this season. Coach Lilly's staff won't be working from scratch on their rebuilding program for next season, with seven returning lettermen, a last season's transfer student, and some favorable players up from this year's J.V. team.

The coaches have stated that their major concern in this year's recruiting have been in, "finding a strong forward to help control the rebounding, and a good ball handling guard to serve as a floor leader." With this in mind, Coach Lilly has made his rounds through this state, and Assistant Coach Carney has traveled his route again to Maryland and Virginia, and both have come up with several pretty good recruiting prospects.

At this time, the coaches have about twelve serious prospects in mind. They both agree that 6'5" All-Stater Allan Dye, from Gauley Bridge High School is the top prospect. At 6'5" Dye is a good rebounder, but he also has great shooting accuracy from outside, and can handle the ball as well as most guards. Another prospect who the coaches are extremely high on is 6'4" William Hawkins, from Thomas Stone High in Waldorf, Md. At about 205 lbs. Hawkins is extremely strong under the basket and has good outside shooting range for his size. Carlton Crowder, 6'3", from Montgomery High; Roger Dingley, 6'5" from Wahama High; John Carson, 6'7", from Braxton County High; and William Hill, 6'4", from Francis Scott Key High, are some other forwards and pivotmen who are good prospects.

At the guard position, the three top prospects are Rodney Sewell, Bill Goode, and Darrell Mathews. Sewell is a 6'1" All-Stater, hailing from Calvert County High, out of Md. His small size is deceptive in that he played both the guard position, and inside under the basket. Goode is 6'1", a

Danger of Marijuana Lies In Hidden Threat

So many adolescents are experimenting with marijuana now because marijuana is "in." Peer group pressures have led many to try "pot." Some use it as an act of defiance. Some are curious. While most adolescents do not continue using the drug, 5 to 10 percent become heavy, daily users.

Heavy marijuana users may go on to move dangerous drugs as a result of group pressures or of their own volition. Occasionally, a "pusher" will persuade the buyer to try a more dangerous drug.

Although truckload lots are some good shot and ball handler, and is from Huntington. Mathews is yet another prospect hailing from Gwynn Park High, in Md. Standing at 6'2", from Glen Burnie High, in Md.; Jack Repass, 5'9", transfer from Beckley Junior College; and Robert Hawkins, 6'2", a nephew of present Pioneer standout, Earl Hawkins, and is also from Gwynn Park, Md.

Most of these recruits have visited and been impressed by the Glenville campus. On the weekend of April 5, six of these recruits participated in the Glenville Invitational Independent Basketball Tournament. Dye and Crowder played on a team from Gauley Bridge, which went to the semi-finals. William Hawkins, Robert Hawkins, Mathews, and Carson played on the Morrison's Well Service team from Glenville, which also went to the semi-finals. Big Will Hawkins was named to the All-Tournament team. Sewell was also scheduled to play on this team but was unable to visit the school on that date. Another date scheduled for the visitation of these young cagers is set for May 5.

times detected, most marijuana smuggling and sales are small-time; operations of a few pounds or less. Organized criminal syndicates have not been involved to date. About 80 percent of the marijuana comes in from Mexico. The rest is acquired locally. Hashish is made in the Near East and is smuggled into the U.S. Young people themselves account for most acquisition and sales, according to the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs.

Any drug that loosens self-control may contribute to criminal behavior. Persons under the influence of marijuana tend to be passive, although some crimes have been committed by persons while they were "high." The personality of the user is as important as the type of drug in determining whether chemical substances lead to criminal or violent behavior.

Some people familiar with the drug are able to control its effects to permit only a feeling of relaxation. However, the usual intent of the user is to become "stoned." As a rule, either no effect or an intoxicating effect is obtained from the use of marijuana.

The results of intoxication by both drugs can be harmful.

We know that alcohol is a dangerous drug physically, psychologically or socially for millions of people. There is no firm evidence that marijuana would be less harmful if used consistently. In countries where alcohol is forbidden by religious taboo, skid rows based on marijuana exist. The "rumhead" and the "pothead" are both unenviable creatures.

Officers elected for Louis Bennett Hall 1973-74 are as follows: Mike Kerns, president; Bob Spanuagle, vice-president; Dave Jaffre, secretary; Roger Hess, treasurer; and Roger Caudill, sergeant-at-arms.

HAVE YOU HEARD?

The weather has once again had a great effect on this year's baseball team. Like last season Coach Milliken's batsmen have been rained out several times and have had to force all of their games into a one week period. The golf and tennis teams have also had their problems with the weather.

I would like to see the baseball season to be moved up about a month in order to have time to make up all games postponed by the weather. Even if there is bad weather and four or five games are rained out there would still be plenty of time to make the games up. The tennis and golf teams could make plans to move their programs up to the fall. The weather really does not start to get bad until mid-October giving the squads about two months to play.

The United States basketball squad should sweep the Russians in all six games during the Soviet tour to this country. After seeing the first game on television I do not see how the Americans can lose. The Americans have their top performers playing now and finally have a decent coach, who does not believe in playing that old slow down basketball of the 1930's. This year's Olympic squad was one of the worst job's of coaching I have ever seen.

Jerry West was behind the microphone in Monday night's contest between the two cage teams.

I look for the Los Angeles Lakers to make it two world championships in a row, defeating the New York Knicks. The key to the series will be the play of the Laker's forwards. McMillian and Erickson are both nursing injuries and will have to be in tip-top shape to beat the Knicks. Of course, New York will be tired from the series with the biggest "chokers" in basketball the Boston Celtics. Right John T.

The Glenville State College baseball team, with a little luck, will be in action tomorrow. This will probably be the last home appearance so come out and really support the squad. Four seniors will be making their final appearance.

GSC Golfers Finish Sixth In WVIAC

Fairmont State College came from behind to capture this season's WVIAC golf championship. The Falcons trailed by four shots the first day of the event, but came back strong to defeat the West Liberty Hilltoppers who had led.

Fairmont had a team 36 hole total of 670. West Liberty was runner-up with 676, followed by: West Virginia State, 689; West Virginia Wesleyan, 699; West Virginia Tech, 706; Glenville, 710; Salem, 713; Alderson-Broadus, 714; Concord, 732; Davis and Elkins, 757; and Morris Harvey, 765.

Bob Wilson of Glenville was named to the All-Conference team. Larry Spotloe led Fairmont with a 149 total for two days and paced the All-Conference squad. Others named included: Bob Glass, West Liberty 163; Bob Wilson, Glenville, 164; Dave Sheridan of Wesleyan, 165; Don Erickson of Salem, 167.

The Pioneer's had a team total of 356 the first day and 354 the second day. Individual totals for Glenville the first day were: Bob Wilson, 80; Dennis Fitzpatrick, 91; Rich Sansbury, 92; Guy Perry, 93; and John Taylor, 94. Wilson had an 80 on the final day followed by Rich Sansbury 92, John Taylor 94, Guy Perry 92, and Dennis Fitzpatrick, 96.

The tournament took place in Wheeling at Oglebay Park's new Spidel course. Fairmont will now go to Spartansburg, South Carolina where they will compete in the NAIA national tournament.

Getting ready for next season, Pioneer halfbacks work on drills such as maneuvering moves.

GSC Spring Football Begins Saturday Players and Lettermen Are Revealed

Spring football began here at Glenville with a real bang Saturday. The Pioneer backs had a short practice in pads and tennis shoes at the field and the linemen looked at films and charts in the gymnasium. The practice field was all but washed out by the rain, but the gymnasium filled in capably.

The Pioneers have made a few changes this year both offensively and defensively. However, they will feature much the same look as last year. Several three year lettermen will be back to lead the Pioneers.

Leading the returnees will be tri-captains, John Pratt, Brian Taylor, and Mark Reger. Pratt, a leader of the offense last season at his fullback position, hopes to even have a big year next season at his fullback spot. Taylor will begin his second season as the Pioneer's middle linebacker. Brian will be calling the defensive signals from that spot. Mark was the mainstay of the Pioneer linemen leading the defensive charge throughout the season. Other three year star lettermen include: Kenny Morrison, Mike Brown, Larry Chapman, Jim Selbe, Bob Maynard, Bill Garrison, Tom Harvey, Irvin Brandiff, Rich Richmond, Paul Fredrick and Billy Pierce.

Also coming back to add a lot of help will be All-Conference defensive back of two years ago Scotty Hamilton and defensive lineman Marcus Rice.

Quarterback is the spot that has the light at the moment as the Pioneers have five capable performers. All-Conference quarterback Chris Anderson will be back along with his top notch wide receiver Steve Buffington. Randy Jeffries is back again for the fourth go around. Jeffries sat out last season but has the experience as well as a much improved throwing arm. Scrambling Eddie Williams will be back in addition to Joe Mitchem and Bob Werry.

The Glenville coaching staff is led by head coach Bill Hanlin. Coach Hanlin has gone into spring ball very eagerly after spending all winter plotting, planning, and scheming his new strategy. Coach Earl (Whitey) Adolfsen is back once again as the defensive coordinator. Coach Robert Summers will again serve as the offensive line coach, while Jerry Milliken will coach the defensive secondary.

Tomorrow the Pioneer squad will be involved in a full scale scrimmage and the public is invited to attend.

Salem Tigers Defeat Glenville Batsmen

The Salem Tigers jumped on Pioneer starting pitcher Joe Mitchem for eight runs in the first inning and coasted to an 8-3 West Virginia Conference victory over the Glenville State Pioneers.

Mitchem gave up two hits, walked five, hit two batsmen, and had a wild pitch in one - third innings of work. Coach Milliken brought in his ace Rich O'Reilly, who gave up one run two hits the remainder of the game to stop the Tigers cold.

Danny Vendarlic got the victory for Salem. Vendarlic went all the way striking out seven and walking five.

Joe Mitchem took the loss making his record 1-3. Rick O'Reilly did a good job in relief striking out six and walking six.

Tom Lilly was the top hitter for the Pioneers with a double. Glenville had a total of eight hits in the contest compared to four for the Tigers.

Glenville scored runs in the fourth, seventh, and ninth inning, one run in each inning. Both teams committed two errors apiece. The Pioneer's record now stands at 3-6.

Last Thursday the Pioneers once again dropped another decision to Salem 9-7. Glenville had the lead until the last inning but could not hold their 7-5 lead as the Tigers rallied for four runs in the last inning.

Pioneer pitcher David Atkins throws a strike to Salem Batsmen. The Pioneers dropped a 9-7 decision.

Wendell G. Hardway Is Named Fairmont Pres.

A former Glenville faculty member Dr. Wendell G. Hardway, has been named the new president of Fairmont State College. Dr. Hardway, presently president of Bluefield State College, succeeds Dr. Eston K. Feaster, who is retiring.

Hardway served as chairman of the Division of Education as Glenville State College for five years, 1954-59.

New degree programs in social service technology and safety education were approved for Glenville State College by the Board of Regents Tuesday, according to The Charleston Gazette.

Jenio Heads Organization

The Faculty Administrators Organization recently held an election to decide on its new officers for next year. The results of that election are as follows: Frank Jenio, Science department, president; Gary Gillespie, Language Arts Department, vice-president; Virginia Hays, Business Department, secretary; and Bernard McKown, Math Department, treasurer.

Those selected to serve on the Executive Committee are: Timothy Carney, Physical Education; Nicholas Murin, Social Studies; William Simmons, English; and Peter Welker, Science.

Graduating Seniors Honored By Dinner

Graduating senior Biology majors were honored with a yearly dinner on Sunday, April 29, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. John Chisler, who also hosted the social event.

The dinner proved to be a success with eleven of the thirteen graduating seniors attending. These included: Roscoe Gainer, Tim Butler, Gary Fields, Mac Bailes, Virgil Ray, Barbara Davisson, Germane Umstead, Randy Umstead, Steve Nicholson, Janie Cochran, and John Templeton.

Other guests also included members of the Biology faculty. Besides the hosts, these were Dr. and Mrs. Robert Deal, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Jenio, and Mr. and Mrs. Byrl Law.

Essentially, a social hour followed the dinner, during which each of the seniors was presented with a graduation card containing a year's subscription to a biological magazine. The purpose of this was to give the graduate something up-to-date in which to begin their professional careers.

Science Presents Ideas

Using videotape equipment, psychiatrists have developed a revolutionary new therapeutic technique to sharpen their own analysis and the self-awareness of their patients. By replaying videotaped therapy sessions, the May Science Digest reports, psychiatrists have been able to pick up some of the more subtle signals of "body language" which they would ordinarily miss. Moreover, patients viewing themselves on instant replay often come away with a healthier, more accurate view of themselves.

The May Science Digest reports that nine of the villagers are over 100 years old, with the oldest member verified at 142. They eat mostly low-calorie vegetables, fruit and a small amount of meat.
