Glenville State College, Glenville, West Virginia

Registration Times Given

Freshmen who did not register in July will register on Wednesday, August 22, beginning at 8:00 a.m. Seniors may also begin registering at 8:00 a.m. on the 22nd except for those who will be registering for the professional semester. They will report to Dr. Nuzum in Clark Hall sometime after 10:00 a.m. to begin the registration process.

Juniors and sophomores will register on Thursday, August 23, in alphabetical order in accordance with the following time schedule:

8:30	X, Y, Z
9:00	I, J, K, L
10:00	A, B, C, D
11:00	E, F, G, H
12:00	Q, R, S, T
1:00	M, N, O, P
2:00	U, V, W

Students who have not previously had an I.D. photo made for the 1973-74 academic year will report to Room 105 in the Pioneer Center thirty (30) minutes prior to the time they are scheduled to register.

New Profile Sheets Introduced In Fall

One of the latest data-gathering instruments initiated by the College is the Student Profile Sheet. To be completed by each student during the registration process, the Student Profile Sheet is designed to secure essential information about the student to provide cumulative numerical data for the West Virginia Board of Regents, state and federal governments, and appropriate accrediting agencies.

To expedite the registration process, each student is encouraged to obtain a Student Profile Sheet (including an illustration and a coding sheet) from his advisor and then complete it prior to entering the Ballroom of Pioneer Center. Upon submitting his form, the student then proceeds to enroll in classes.

The Student Profile Sheets will then be processed by personnel in the Computer Center. More than three million keystrokes will be necessary to prepare the information for computer utilization and the eventual reports.

If the procedure progresses satisfactorily, there's a plus for the student! Instead of having to complete a new Profile Sheet each semester, the student will review a printout of his previous data to determine whether it is presently appropriate. The student will provide only new information or indicate changes since completing the last form.

Registration Aids To Help

For the first time at Glenville State College, registering students will find student advisers (peer advisers) available in the registration area to assist them in making schedule changes. If a student finds that the section which he has scheduled is closed out, he can go to the peer advising table for assistance in selecting a new time and professor.

It should be pointed out, however, that if a student needs to substitute one course for another (i.e., history for English), then he should ask for assistance from his faculty adviser.

The peer advisers have been selected on the basis of registration experience and have been thoroughly briefed on the new procedure.

Freshman Week Planned; Pinning Ceremony Added

Freshman Week Activities begin Sunday, August 19 with the Parent's Convocation and Address by President D. Banks Wilburn and other administrative offices in the Ballroom of the Pioneer Center at 1:30 p.m. This will provide an orientation and question-and-answer session to the parents about Glenville State College.

The President's Reception for the Freshmen will be held later in the day (7-8:30 p.m.) in the Ballroom of the Pioneer Center. Freshmen will meet administrative staff, faculty, and local ministers at the reception. Dress and suit and tie are appropriate.

Throughout Freshman Week, various activities will be open to the freshmen. Filmstrips on various subjects of interest to college students will be shown at different times. Mixes will be held in the Ballroom of the Pioneer Center. The first of these being Monday, August 20, from 9-12 p.m. Sponsored by Blacks United Together, the dance will have an admission charge of $1. The next mix will be held on Tuesday night in the Ballroom from 9-12 p.m. Sponsored by Student Congress, there will be no admission charge. Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic will sponsor the third and final mix Friday, August 24, in the Ballroom from 9-12 p.m. Admission will be $1.

Various informal meetings will be held during the week to orient freshmen to activities in and around Glenville State College. A picnic will be held on Wednesday, August 22, on Verona Maple Hall lawn at 5:00 followed by a "Carnival of Organizations on Campus" sponsored by Student Congress to introduce freshmen to the many organizations on campus.

Freshman testing will be on Monday, August 20, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Gymnasium for those students who did not take their tests at pre-registration in July. Freshmen will report to the Gym at the time indicated according to the alphabetical listing of your last name. 8:00-10:00 a.m.; A thru E; 10:00 a.m.-12:00 noon, F thru L; 1:00-3:00 p.m., M thru R; 3:00-5:00 p.m., S thru Z.

Those students having taken the test can use this time as a leisure period.

A new attraction for the incoming freshmen will be the Pinning Ceremony in place of the traditional Caping Ceremony. This year begins a new way of introducing Freshmen to upper classmen. The Freshmen will don a pin on their clothes making the way easier to acquaint themselves with their fellow students.

At the request of the Education Department, the Robert F. Kidd Library purchased multi-media kits for use by education instructors and student teachers. The multi-media kits were designed by Science Research Associates, Inc. as a teaching aid in all subjects for all grades.

President Wilburn Greets Class; Hopes For Most Positive Effect

It is with much enthusiasm and high expectation of your future that I greet you as the class of 1977. You undoubtedly, are beginning what possibly will be the most rewarding period of your lives. I hope that all of what happens to you will have a most positive effect on what you will become and what you will believe in terms of values which will guide you in relating yourselves to others.

Glenville State College must quickly become, in every sense, truly your Alma Mater. If this is to be, it must necessarily include the arriving at a degree of maturity which is exhibited in a sincere personal loyalty to yourselves, to your fellow students, to those who cause you to want to be creative, imaginative, and objective in all areas of daily living. Only when you measure what you do in terms of values which make actions positive, and only when you measure loyalty to yourselves as being identical with your loyalty to others will Glenville State College have the meaning that it should have as your Alma Mater.

With best wishes.

D. Banks Wilburn
President

New, Successful Classes Reinstated This Fall Sem.

Two successful ventures last Fall have again been incorporated into this year's schedule. Mrs. Sandy Lessig, Director of the Wendy Ward program in Parkersburg, will provide instruction in modeling and personal development for young women at Glenville State College. Two classes have been scheduled - one begins at 2:00 p.m. on Thursday and the second one begins at 3:30 p.m. on the same day. Classes will meet from August 30 until October 4. No textbooks are required for this course and no special fees are collected.

Among the course topics for this course, which is offered as Business 399, are: modeling, personality development, poise, good nutrition habits, proper body posture, good grooming, clothing selection, and etiquette. The class is available to young women enrolled on campus on a first-come, first-enrolled basis. Each section will be limited to approximately twenty-five students.

A number of students have requested a course in business machines. The purpose of this course would be to provide instruction on electronic calculators, adding machines, printing calculators, offset and spirit duplicating machines, and the IBM Mag Card II automatic typewriter. Responding to student requests, the Division of Business is scheduling Business 399 - Section 03 - for spring 1974 at 7:30 on Wednesday nights from March 12 until May 7. The class is to be instructed by Mr. Smith.

RPG-II instruction will be provided this fall by Computer Center Director Mr. M. Gene Bailey. The class will meet on Monday evenings, beginning at 6:00. RPG-II, which represents Report Program Generator, is the primary language of new IBM systems. Programming in the College's Computer Center is heavily oriented toward RPG-II, although FORTRAN IV, a mathematics and science oriented language, is also available. Students with an excellent preparation in mathematics and/or business may enroll in this course. Actual problems will be studied by the class and programming solutions developed, tested, and printed out on the System/3 computer.

Advising Method Given By Division of Business

Faculty meetings are being held until 2:00 p.m. on August 20, but members of the Division of Business faculty will be available in their offices to advise students after that time. In some cases, advising will be held in the evening hours to accommodate all students. On Tuesday, August 21, advising will continue to be the prime function of the faculty members throughout the day. Students are encouraged to check the bulletin boards on the first floor of the Administration Building for appointments as they arrive on campus. Generally, advising responsibilities follow this pattern: Seniors are being advised by Mr. Ernest Smith; Juniors, by Mrs. Anna Slack; Sophomores, by Mr. James Hinder; Freshmen, by Mrs. Virginia Hays; transfer students, by Mr. Howard Warren; and all Business Education and two-year students (not previously assigned to one of the other faculty members), by Dr. McCreary.

Brown Is New WGSC Radio Station Director

Dean Billips, advisor to WGSC radio station, has announced that Mike Brown will be the station director for the coming school year. WGSC operates with carrier current transmissions with hopes of becoming a small FM station which will allow for better transmitting in the future.

During the fall term, all students interested in working at the station are asked to contact the station director for an application and interview. The work is on a volunteer basis. All student volunteers who work and meet the requirements will be eligible for a third class license with broadcast endorsement from the FCC. This will qualify the student for summer work in radio broadcasting or a summer position in a TV station.

Students who work for WGSC will gain a rewarding experience by providing a service to the student body through broadcasting news, music, and college sports events.

Miss Myers Dies, 70-Year Teacher

Miss Ivy Lee Myers, former education instructor here at Glenville, was buried in the Elmwood Cemetery July 24, 1973. She was born November 22, 1882 at Wayne, W. She is survived by her sisters Rachel of Parkersburg and Emma of Huntington and a brother Dr. Charles Everett Myers of Richmond, Virginia.

Miss Myers began her teaching career in the Wilson's Creek School at the age of seventeen and ended it as a Kindergarten teacher in the St. Paul's Methodist Church in Parkersburg at the age of eighty-seven - a seventy year record. Meantime, she taught the home school at "Spunky," taught in the Huntington Schools, in the Nicholas County and Pine Grove High Schools and was Director of the Training School in Glenville State College at the time of required retirement. She was then Supervisor of Instruction in Calhoun County before opening the Methodist Kindergarten with her younger sister Rachel, in Parkersburg.

A most skilled teacher, Miss Myers was a dedicated Christian. During her long career, several thousand students passed through her classes better equipped and inspired to live a fuller, richer life.

Dean Maze Announces Fall Schedule Changes

Dr. Clarence Maze, Academic Dean of Glenville State College, announced changes in class schedule for the fall semester today.

Schedule changes in English include Mr. DeCol's English 101-11 class, previously set at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, now scheduled for 10:00 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. All of Mrs. Trimmer's English classes will be taught by another instructor, for she has resigned and as of yet, has not been replaced.

In the field of Social Studies, all of Ed Smith's classes have been cancelled. Mr. Smith has resigned and, according to Dr. Maze, will not be replaced for the fall semester. Cancelled classes include Soc. 205-03, Soc. 205-06, Social Stratification 325-01, and Social Psychology 330-01.

Dr. Maze emphasized the addition of psychology classes to this fall's schedule. Psychology, which has not been offered at GSC for several years, may now be taken as a Social Science elective in the new General Studies Program which became effective June 11, 1973.

This new program includes 18 hours in the humanities, 11 hours in Natural Science and Mathematics, 12 hours in the Social Sciences, and 3 hours in Health and Physical Education for a total of 44 hours.

Dr. Maze added that, "any student may switch to this General Studies Program if they switch completely." This is to say, for example, that a student may not select his humanities studies from the new program and his science studies from the old one.

The only other change in schedule brought out by Dr. Maze was in the Professional Education Semester. Mrs. Campbell's Curr. & Meth. for Tch. the Mentally Retarded (Ed. 440-01), previously set for 1:00-2:30 has been re-scheduled to meet at 3:30-5:00 on the same days.

Mr. Smith Attends Workshop At Tenn.

Mr. Ernest H. Smith, instructor of business at Glenville State College, was recently selected as the only West Virginian among 26 participants in a workshop at the University of Tennessee. The Experimental session in Business Education was conducted from June 16-30.

A new concept in office education dealing in methods of training office personnel was introduced during the workshop. This new concept, "simulation" brings the job into the classroom by setting up distinct offices as students might find them on the job.

The method was developed by a Glenville State College graduate, Bill Radcliff, a native of Calhoun Co., in conjunction with Mrs. Robert Warren, a high school teacher in Cleveland, Tenn. Mr. Radcliff is now a member of the University of Tennessee staff.

"Simulation" affords students the opportunity of rotation from position to position until they are qualified to hold the six office positions of: receptionist, sales manager, accounting clerk, office manager, shipping clerk, and simulation clerk (banker). With Serendipity Cosmetic Company as the simulated business concern, orders may be received, processed, and shipped entailing the flow of paper work involved in the actual procedure.

Mr. Smith anticipates the adoption of this new concept at Glenville State within the near future.

Head Coach Hanlin Starts 8th Season

Head Coach Bill Hanlin is back once again this year to start his eighth season as head coach of the mighty Pioneers. Coach Hanlin is very optimistic about the coming season. Many veterans return and much is expected of them. A Glenville graduate, Hanlin was a Montrose Award winner at GSC. Hanlin received his master's at West Virginia University and coached at St. Marys high school before coming to Glenville.

Defensive co-ordinator Earl (Whitey) Adolfsen is also in his eighth year at Glenville State. Adolfsen is a graduate of West Virginia Tech where he was an All-Conference performer. Coach Adolfsen was coach at Lewis County High School before coming to Glenville.

Robert Summers is entering into his sixth season with the Pioneers. Coach Summers is the offensive line coach. Summers was head basketball coach at Parkersburg High School before coming to Glenville. He is a graduate of Glenville State, and like Coach Hanlin is a Montrose Award winner.

Jerry Milliken is the secondary coach. Coach Milliken is in charge of the defensive backs and safeties. This will be the third year he has served on the Pioneer staff. Milliken is also head baseball coach. Coach Milliken was an all-sports star at Hunderd High School. Later he attended West Virginia University where he played baseball. After graduation, Milliken came to Glenville.

Have You Heard?

It's that time of the year, football season has once again arrived at Glenville State. Coach Hanlin and his staff have been working hard over the past months getting ready for the fall campaign. The coaching staff will welcome back fifty-one returnees along with forty-six freshman to give Coach Hanlin and crew one of his biggest groups ever. Hopes are high that the Pioneers can improve on last year's 5-4 season and come home with the conference championship.

This season will offer something different with the two division winners meeting at the end of the season to determine the conference king.

Leading the list of returners on the offense is All-Conference quarterback Chris Anderson. Also coming back in the backfield are: Jay Chambers, Randy DeBastiani, Les Face-meyer, Stanley Harris, Ralph Robinson, and John Pratt. On the offensive line, players coming back who saw a lot of action are: Jim Selbe, Ken Morrison, Bob Maynard, Larry Chapman, Irvin Braniff, and All-Conference end Steve Buffington.

On defense leading candidates returning are: Roger Bonnette, Jim Carter, Paul Fredrick, Jerome Fruit, Scott Hamilton, Bob Hardman, Gerald Matheny, Mark Reger, Marcus Rice, and Brian Taylor.

Larry Wolfe will once again be handling the kicking duties for the Pioneers.

A new opponent, Hillsdale College of Michigan, will help the Glenville State College Pioneers open the 1973 football season. The game is scheduled up there starting at 2 p.m. Hillsdale is rated as one of the top small college teams in the country and has been ranked number one or two in several polls. Hillsdale replaces Northwood Institute on the card.

Following the opener, the Pioneers travel to Montgomery to take on the Golden Bears of West Virginia Tech. The game is scheduled under the lights starting at 7:30 p.m.

The Pioneers will make their home debut against the tough Salem Tigers on September 22. These two teams always give the fans their money's worth. Last year's game was a real defensive battle with the Tigers coming out on top 6-3.

Following the home lid-lifter, Coach Hanlin's team will travel to Fairmont for an afternoon contest at East-West Stadium in the Marion County city.

West Virginia Wesleyan will offer the opposition for Homecoming on October 6. The Bobcats are under a new coach and reportedly have one of their best teams ever.

The Pioneers will head south October 13, to do battle against the Big Blues of Bluefield State. The Big Blues are always big, rough, and tough.

West Liberty, ranked by the NAIA last year, will furnish the opposition October 20. The Hilltoppers are touted to be as tough as they were last year.

West Virginia State will be met at Institute in the season's final road game. The Yellow Jackets are still young but look strong enough to make a bid for the conference title.

The Concord Mountain Lions and Merchant's Day will close the season at Rohrbough Stadium in a 1:30 p.m. contest on November 3.

See you at the ballgames; it ought to be a great season for the Pioneers.

Glamour Magazine Reveals 1973 College Girl Apparel

This spring Glamour Magazine took a cross-country poll of five hundred girls in random colleges large and small, rural and urban, to find out just how many items they had of everything from jeans to long evening dresses. What we learned is likely to come as a surprise to anyone who thinks blue jeans have some kind of monopoly on campus.

IN CLASSES: One student tallies it up precisely when she says, "Anything goes - - from jeans to long skirts." Jeans, by far, lead as being the most popular, with all types of tops - - tailored shirts, knit tops, sweaters, sweaters layered over shirts, shrink tops, work shirts. Other top-pings are blazers, battle and various shaped jackets. Next to jeans are skirts, dresses ("sporty"), pant suits, "nice" pants (wool and knit), "baggies" and cords.

On feet: clogs, loafers and boots head the list followed by platform soles, heeled shoes of all kinds (high, chunky), tennis shoes, sandals, saddle shoes, crepe soles - - all of them chiefly in leather and suede. Brand names dropped: "Loafers," "Waffle Stompers," "Charlie Browns," "Weejuns," "Buster Browns," and "Fred Brauns."

Apparently jewelry is sometimes as much in evidence in class as on dates - - watches, rings, bracelets earrings, necklaces (also scarves, handbags, totes.)

ON INFORMAL DATES: Most girls say that what they wear to classes they wear on informal dates, too, with jeans and the same tops mentioned before leading again, followed by all the other in-class items. The only additions are an occasional short dressy dress, a long but not dressy dress, velveteen pants with a blazer. The informal dating situation has become a more relaxed extension of co-ed integration where men and women live side-by-side, easily, without a lot of role interference between them.

ON FORMAL DATES: For proms and big or very special parties the long dress or "formal" is most popular; halter-necked and backless are the shapes singled out, while fabrics are crepe, velvet or chiffon. Second in line are long skirts with dressed shirts or blouses. Many girls mention that they occasionally wear short "dressy" or "Sunday" dresses, midi dresses, midi palazzo pant outfits or velveteen pants with blazers or matching jackets.

Shoes again have enormous range: sandals with heels and platforms: "matching shoes," matched to the color of the formals, in satin or peau de soie; silver evening shoes; clogs; patent and suede heeled shoes.

IN BED: Long nightgowns are way ahead of anything else, and in second place, pajamas. What follows is a mixed bag, including men's old shirts (father's or boyfriend's), baby doll p.j.'s, T-shirts (long and short), short nightgowns, pajama tops, under pants, and "au naturel."
