Society Sees 2 Ohio Cities

Students in the Glenville State College History Society toured historical sites in Columbus and Chillicothe, Ohio the weekend of October 26-28. In Columbus the group observed the extensive exhibits of the Ohio Historical Center. The Center contains the most extensive historical exhibits of early Americana in the midwest.

Other places visited included Adena, the restored home of Thomas Worthington, and the Mound City Indian grouping in Chillicothe. Worthington, one of Ohio's first senators and sixth governor of Ohio, built a beautiful home, overlooking Chillicothe, Ohio's first capital. This home, Adena, which has been restored by the Ohio Historical Society, is an outstanding example of early 19th century architecture.

Mound City, which is maintained by the United States Parks Service, is the largest, single Hopewell mound grouping in the nation. The Hopewells were the most advanced of the pre-historic Indian cultures in America.

Accompanying the students were Dr. Joe Darnall, Dr. Bruce Flack, Mr. Ronald Gunderson, and Mr. James Hilgenberg.

Sadie Hawkins Successful Day

Amidst snow flurries and flying eggs, the annual Sadie Hawkins Day was held. Approximately 150 people participated in what can be termed a cold, successful Sadie.

Marryin' Sam fired his flintlock and the chase was on. Only a few bachelors were caught and married off. But, Marryin' Sam looked like a scrambled egg after the marriage ceremonies were over. Marryin' Sam was not the only one covered with eggs: a few stray eggs hit a Parkersburg News reporter who was covering the events.

There was one all-time Sadie Hawkins record set when Kay "Cigar" Bunton retained her cigar smoking championship. This was Kay's fourth year reigning as cigar smoking champion.

Debbie Blankenship, a freshman from Richwood, showed her skill in the tobacco-spitting contest. She stuck a wad of Mail Pouch in her mouth that would amount to any good size chew for a man and then let it fly crowning her tobacco spitting champion.

Debbie teamed with Anna Marie Brugnoli, capturing the wheelbarrow race hands down.

In the strong man contest, the log toss, Jim Selbe stepped to the line and heaved the log that could not be matched. Hollie Miller from Fairmont showed her strength when she out-distanced all the women.

Marlena Smith and Joe Mills showed their skill in the apple bobbing contest, Marlena winning the girls' event and Joe winning the men's.

Chris Noble and Reggie Stewart

A temporary parking permit is issued on a weekly basis to those who have registered a vehicle and must bring an unregistered vehicle on campus because of needed repairs or other circumstances. Students anticipating the need for the temporary permit may pick one up on Friday from the Secretary in the Office of Student Affairs to use the following week. Permits, however, may be gotten on any class day.

What do they cost? Nothing! If you are registered, your registration number is transferred on a card and this is placed in the back window of your vehicle.

Remember not to let it expire because you will be violating.

The Mercury would like to correct a mistake in last week's issue. That was Clay Smith at the Blood Drive, not Clay Miller.

Mr. Hinder: Glenville's Only Certified Accountant

The only faculty member in the business department of Glenville State College who is a Certified Public Accountant is Mr. James Hinder. Mr. Hinder graduated from GSC with a Bachelors Degree in 1969. In 1970-71 Mr. Hinder was stationed in Camp Pendleton, California as a member of the Marine Corps. Upon his release from the Marines Mr. Hinder was a corporal.

After his release from the Marines, he attended Marshall University and obtained his Master's Degree in Business Administration in December of 1972.

At the beginning of last year Mr. Hinder was a part-time teacher at GSC, then beginning in December he became a full-time instructor at GSC.

Mr. James Hinder, Accounting instructor at GSC.

teamed up to win the piggy bank race. Ed Reed won easily, outspitting everybody in the men's spitting contest.

Then the pies began to fly as the Throw-A-Pie-at-Theta-Xi began. Only a few could be recognized by this time between the eggs and pies.

The final event was the greased pole. With grease flying and arms and legs going every which way, a Morris Harvey student identified only as "Flee" shimmied up the pole and captured the $5 bill.

Reggie Stewart and Marjorie Skidmore were crowned Lil' Abner and Daisy Mae for 1973-74.

Bringing things to a conclusion was the Sadie Hawkins Dance held that night. Music was provided by Bare Existence and everybody seemed to have a good time.

Second Semester Pre-Advising Set

All students currently enrolled at Glenville State College should make arrangements to see their advisers sometime during the weeks of November 26-30 and December 3-7. During those two weeks, advisers will assist students in planning their schedules for spring semester. You will be provided with a blue trial schedule card which you should keep and bring with you to registration on January 7 and 8, 1974.

When you report back to Glenville State College in January, all you need to do is to go by the Office of Academic Affairs and pick up a yellow registration card. Using your blue card as a guide, complete it, and then proceed to Registration Hall.

At Registration Hall (Ball Room) you will be provided with a printout of your personal data which you provided on your profile sheet this fall. You will make any necessary corrections at this time, such as change of address, marital status, etc. Everyone should pay particular attention to his major code. Make sure you know exactly what your major is by code number before you go to the ball room. A list of majors by code can be obtained at the Office of Academic Affairs.

Seniors and Juniors will register on Monday, January 7; Freshmen and sophomores will register on Tuesday, January 8, in accordance with the following time schedule: 8:30-U, V, W; 9:00-M, N; 9:30-O, P; 10:00-Q, R; 10:30-S, T; 11:00-E, F; 11:30-G, H; 12:00-A, B; 12:30-C, D; 1:00-I, J; 1:30-K, L; 2:00-X, Y, Z; 2:30-Stragglers.

Selective Service System Reviewed; Draft Not Over

"But I thought the draft had ended!" This is the explanation many young men are giving their local draft boards throughout West Virginia when asked why they did not register with Selective Service within the time limit required by law. Harold E. Brown, State Director of Selective Service for West Virginia, said today, "I am becoming somewhat alarmed at the number of young men appearing late for registration." He added, "The draft is not over as many West Virginians believe! The only portion of the Military Selective Service Act which changed was the President's authority to induct, which did expire on June 30, 1973. This meant the end of inductions—not the end of the Selective Service System."

Brown is concerned that many of our young West Virginians might not realize they are in violation of the Military Selective Service Act if they do not carry out their responsibility to register within a 60-day period commencing 30 days prior to their 18th birthday.

Current Selective Service regulations require local boards to evaluate all late registrations to ascertain whether or not a registrant's late registration was a deliberate intent not to register in a timely manner, or was due to circumstances beyond his control. A registrant or non-registrant who fails to perform one or more of his duties under the Military Selective Service Act is referred to as a violator. Conviction of any such violation is punishable by imprisonment for not more than five years, or a fine of not more than $10,000, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

During the past six weeks, over 2,000 posters which are designed to remind the public of the registration requirement have been distributed throughout West Virginia. These posters are being displayed in post offices, recruiting offices, stores, restaurants, and many other places where young people gather and are likely to see them.

Brown advises, "that in addition to the compensated registrars located in the fifteen area selective service offices in West Virginia, approximately 200 uncompensated registrars have been appointed for the convenience of young men reaching their 18th birthday." Most of these registrars are located in high schools, colleges, county courthouses and in the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Offices.

The fifteen area offices are located in: Beckley, Buckhannon, Charleston, Clarksburg, Fairmont, Gassaway, Huntington, Keyser, Lewisburg, Logan, Martinsburg, Morgantown, Parkersburg, Welch, and Wheeling.

Brown advises that in the event any person has a question on the Military Selective Service Act or Selective Service Regulations to feel free to contact state headquarters in Charleston or any of the area offices.

Speech Tourney To Be Tomorrow

Seven GSC students will be competing in the Individual Events Tournament at Parkersburg Community College. Under the direction of Miss Leisner, the students will compete with other colleges, Nov. 17 and 18. The tournament is an all speech contest.

Gaye "Skip" Kincaid will be a Pentathlon entry. To be a Pentathlon entry, "Skip" has to be entered in five separate events. If she wins all five of the events in which she is entered, she will receive one trophy for all five, in addition to a separate trophy for each event.

Other events in which GSC students are entered are as follows: Persuasive Speaking: "Skip" Kincaid, Barbara Stemple and Dave Brown; Impromptu Speaking: Dave Brown and Art Wilt; Dramatic Duo Interpretation: "Skip" Kincaid and Kathy Fluharty; Humorous Speaking: "Skip" Kincaid and Brenda Mayley; Poetry Interpretation: "Skip" Kincaid; Original Poetry: Vicki McGraner; Prose Interpretation: "Skip" Kincaid and Bob Dye.

Reggie Stewart and Margie Skidmore were elected Daisy Mae and Lil' Abner at last week's Sadie Hawkins festivities.

It's Hard To Be Thankful In '73 Except For Thanksgiving Break

In times of Watergate, the Energy Crisis, the war in the Mid-East, Northern Ireland and the countless other crises ranging from national to local, to the personal that occur each day, it is hard to think of being thankful for anything. Each crisis has contributed to the atmosphere that seems to have engulfed us all.

With the freedom of the press, every American has had first hand knowledge of the exposition of a corrupt administration. Admittedly, scandals have happened and have been overlooked before and certainly this is no excuse for Watergate defendants. But, concise knowledge and the very closeness of the public with hearings have left Americans with tremendous insecurity and doubt concerning our leadership. Our beautiful age of technology has blown up in our faces. The prospect of fuel shortages even for heat is frightening, to say the least. The resulting price increases are defeating. The glow from welcoming home prisoners-of-war and Peace had not even dimmed when war began again in the Mid-East. We are in fact a generation that has grown up with war. Ireland blares at us with its increasing violence. As college students we are even more aware of these problems by confrontation with them in depth through classes everyday. Not to mention personal problems that add significantly. Their effects have manifested themselves in our lives through our thinking and attitudes.

Everywhere with everyone, it's the same. We're bored, we're sick of school, tired of even partying, depressed and just can't get it together. It seems, to this writer at least, that these attitudes are much more prevalent now than ever before. Fault is found with almost everything. Somehow the old advice, "The problems were always there, it's just that you're getting older and see them," is inadequate and tiring. All of this philosophical jabber leads to my first thought. What is there to be thankful for?

Somewhere I remember hearing not to let your mind limit you. Being the perennial optimist that I am I'll apply this here. No, I'm not going to make an idealistic little list of entitled 101 Things To Be Thankful For. And then go on with Mother, Father, brothers, sisters, home, flowers, the sun, food on the table, etc. Instead I'm leaving it up to you.

If for nothing else, be thankful for the break, you won't have to read my editorial next week.

Battle of Letters Continued As Smith Answers Hunter

Dear Editor,

I would like to direct the following letter specifically to Robert R. Hunter who seems to think I represent everything he is against.

First of all, Mr. Hunter, I would like to know exactly what made you feel my letter "reeks with overtones of the type of treatment that Black people are fighting against." Nowhere in my letter did I suggest any unfair treatment of Blacks, I merely said I did not see why you expected an answer to your letter when others failed to receive answers to theirs. I fail to see how this is the type of treatment Blacks are fighting against.

Also I am interested in knowing just what opinions I brought up that led you to believe I know nothing about the race situation at all. Let me assure you Mr. Hunter, I am very much aware of the race situation, but Blacks are most certainly not the only people discriminated against. I feel that after spending four years here at Glenville I know a heck of a lot more about our race situation than you do.

As for you being turned away at public places, that is most certainly unfair, but as you said, that happened in 1968 and 1970 and a good deal of changes have taken place since then.

I do not consider myself the White Knight of Glenville, Mr. Hunter, nor do I consider myself an expert with all the answers. However, I do feel that you should not have become so aroused upon not receiving an answer to your letter when others did not. This was the point I tried to make in my last letter.

Since you choose to attack me and my views on the subject, I have one critical opinion to express about your letter to me. I feel it showed extreme immaturity and lack of thought on your part. I am here referring to your putting Violet in lower case letters simply because I did the same to Blacks. My mistake was out of ignorance, yours was an act of childishness. How immature can one get?

As you said I have never been turned away from a place because of the color of my skin, but I have been turned down for two jobs because I am a woman. Might I say Mr. Hunter that one achieves success by experiencing hardships along the way, and if you think everything will be handed to you personally, then no wonder you encounter problems.

I am sorry if my letter seems harsh, but I think you were unfair in the letter to me. In closing I think it is only fair to tell you that my dear Mr. Hunter you do not know what you are talking about.

Sincerely,
Violet Smith

Michael Calhoun

Michael Calhoun Presents Recital

At 8:00 on Thursday, November 29, the Glenville State College Music Department will present in the auditorium a senior recital by Michael Calhoun. While most senior recitals involve the performer's interpretation of great works peculiar to the solo literature of his instrument, a most singular feature of this performance will be the premier of Mike's own compositions, as performed by Miss Jackie Stricker (piano), Miss Brenda Steele (soprano), and Mr. Steven Lee (clarinet). The program will include a presentation of the composer's methods and of his artistic concepts in a brief talk, as well as a program consisting of (1) Sonata No. 3 in D major; (2) Fantasia for Piano; (3) Romance for Piano and Clarinet and two art-songs: 1) "An Apostrophe to Peace" (text from Euripides) 2) "Lacrymosa" from the Requiem Mass.

(A reception will follow in the ballroom. The public is most cordially invited to both events.)

Michael is currently a senior with a music comprehensive major and Language Arts minor. A native of West Union, WV, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson H. Calhoun, Mike has been a member of MENC for two years, is currently a member of the GSC Historical Society, and is president of the Literary Society. His poetry has been published by the former GSC-RFK Library paper "Confrontation" and by the National Poetry Press, and he is a former member of the SEA. A member of the marching and concert bands of GSC for four years, Mike has studied with all of the current music faculty, as well as Miss Bertha E. Olsen (to whom his Sonata No. 2 in F minor is dedicated). He anticipates immediate post-graduate studies, with emphasis on music composition, theory, and music history.

L. Mathews, B. J. Groves Research Papers In D.C.

What would prompt two college students to travel to Washington, D.C. to do research papers for a class? A desire to see new sights, meet interesting people, have fun, and last but not least, to get a good grade, are motives for such a journey to the nation's capitol.

Linda Mathews and Barbara Jean Groves, both junior Social Studies majors, spent last week-end in D.C. doing research for papers for a political science seminar. Miss Mathews' topic is "Campaign Financing in the 1972 Election," and Miss Groves' is "Executive Branch Lobbying in Congress." Her research came from interviews, including an interview with Irving Sprigg, the House Lobbyist for former President Lyndon Johnson. Miss Mathews' research came from the office of Congressman Ken Hechler, the Senate Rules Committee and Common Cause, an independent lobbying group located in Georgetown, Va.

The students were escorted through the area by James Higgins, an administrative assistant to Senator Byrd. Mr. Higgins is a WVU graduate from Parkersburg, who showed them such sights as the Kennedy Center, the Watergate Complex, Embassy Row, and Georgetown University.

Two very helpful people were Senator Robert Byrd and Congressman Ken Hechler. Congressman Hechler helped the girls compile information for their papers, and directed them to other offices for additional information. Senator Byrd arranged to get them into the family galleries in the Senate, where they

BLOOD DRIVE AIDES THANKED BY COUNCIL

The Intrafraternity and Panhellenic Councils would like to express their appreciation to the people who worked and gave during the Blood Drive last week. We issue a special thank you to Mrs. Ann Lilly and Mrs. Mary Morrow who contributed their services to the Blood Drive. Also, we extend our thanks to Mr. Harkins, food service director, and the rest of the food service department for supplying the food for the Blood Drive.

At the Nov. 13 meeting of the Ohningohow Players, the names of the pledges for the fall term were announced.

The pledges and their majors are: Linda Mathews, social studies; Joe Boyd, elementary education; Roberta Luikhart, English; Ann Isenhart, Mental Retardation; and David Brown, Speech.

heard Senator Hubert Humphrey speak. The Senate Majority Whip also gave them tickets for a VIP tour. These tourists see a few more rooms and are assured of being allowed to view the White House before the tour begins.

The students expressed difficulty in finding Senator Byrd's office in the Senate office building. Several security guards gave them different directions, all of which proved to be wrong. When Edward Kennedy was Majority Whip, he wanted the office moved to a more secret location. He traded offices with the Senate Secretary, whose office was up a small, inconspicuous hallway. By pure chance after what seemed like hours of searching, the girls found the tiny hallway and the senator's office.

One place Miss Groves and Miss Mathews found interesting was the Junkanoo Club, a Polynesian night club. Their huge Polynesian waiter spoke no English, and the Latin band played rumba music. The waiter brought cigarettes for them and Mr. Huggins on a plate—opened and propped up on the matches.

Both students were impressed and fascinated by the government, its people, and its workings. Of Congressman Hechler, who is known for being down to earth and who is a favorite with both GSC co-eds, Miss Mathews said, "His office is a mess!"

Pioneers Profiled

The two players profiled this week are Joe Mitchem and Paul Frederick. These two people have helped the Pioneers with their spirit and outstanding play.

Joe Mitchem is a junior physical education major from Vincent, OH. He plays quarterback and is the back-up man for Chris Anderson. Mitchem has played extremely well for the Pioneers and he has thrown three touchdown passes this year. He is also the holder on all place kicking attempts. Mitchem and his wife, Sally, live in Glenville.

Paul Frederick is a junior physical education major from Harrisville. Frederick plays middle linebacker on the Pioneer squad and has started all year. Frederick was injured against West Liberty when he tore some muscles in his rib cage. Frederick is expected to play against Fairmont tomorrow.

Paul Frederick

Records Set, Tied

The Glenville State College football team has finished the most successful season in the history of the school. The Pioneers powered their way through a perfect season with a 9-0 record.

The 9-0 record was the first perfect season for the school and bested the best previous record of 6-0-1 set in 1958. The perfect record was but one of many records set or tied by the Powerful Pioneers. Chris Anderson of Hannibal, Ohio, the All-Conference junior quarterback set a season touchdown passing mark when he surpassed the previous high of 10 in a season. Chris has thrown 13 touchdown passes. He has completed 64 passes in 111 attempts for an average of 57.6%, also a new record.

Steve Buffington, from Ravenswood, WV, the All-Conference split end has tied the season touchdown pass receiving record for Glenville. The record was 5 and Steve caught his 5th touchdown pass on a 52 yard pass-run play against Concord. He has caught 23 passes for 371 yards in addition to the 5 touchdown passes.

Another record has been broken by kicking specialist Jay Chambers from Ripley, WV. Jay has kicked 37 extra points out of 38 attempts. The previous high in a season was 30. Jay

Muckraking

Well it's THE WEEK!! Saturday night Glenville's unbeaten Pioneers journey to Parkersburg to take on the Fairmont Falcons for the WVIAC championship. The Glenville coaching staff is readying their team and getting last minute preparations out of the way. Coach Hanlin has worked long and hard and his staff of Bob Summers, Earl Adolphson, Jerry Miliken and Jim Riffle seem to have the G-Men playing at the peak of their game. Everyone is healthy, John Pratt and Marcus Rice have both recovered from their ankle injuries suffered in the Concord game. The game starts at 7:00 p.m. sharp so be sure you leave early and watch out for traffic jams. Should the Pioneers win Saturday they are almost assured of an NAIA Division II playoff spot. In final Conference statistics Glenville ranked first in team offense, team defense and rushing defense. Jim Carter led kickoff returns and was second in scoring. Rick Lemley led in punt returns. Lemley would have been ranked first in the nation in punt returns if conference Commissioner George Springer had sent in the WVIAC statistics. The top ranked man in the nation averaged 16.5 yds. per carry while Lemley averaged 22.4.

Once again I would like to say that the crowd support for the Pioneers has been unbelievably good this year. It was really great to be able to go to Bluefield, Fairmont, W.Va. Tech, and W.Va. State, knowing that we had a larger and better cheering section than these teams with a supposed home advantage.

Two of Glenville's best supporters have been Dr. Wilburn and his wife. Who says college presidents don't care about athletics?

Be Cool Rookie!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

We at the Sports department thought it would be appropriate to show this picture of our fine student cheering section.

Keglers Open Tourney At Marshall U.

The Glenville State College bowling team opened their 1973-74 season last Saturday at Marshall with the W.Va. ACUI tournament. The Pioneer bowlers sent two teams who finished in fifth and sixth places respectively. Winning was WVU with 2721 total pins. Team 2 had 2443, and Team 3 had 2418.

Jim Mattox was high bowler for Glenville. He averaged 186.5 for six games and finished fourth in overall competition. One note that might be added is that the Glenville team was split with experienced bowlers on both teams.

Among the returning lettermen are Jim Mattox, and Gary Humphreys, both two year lettermen, Tom Newberry and Sam Ferrell, both one year lettermen. The Pioneers are coached has kicked 29 extra points in a row and needs 7 more consecutive successful attempts to tie a record for consecutive extra point attempts. Jimmy Carter of Oak Hill, owns the school record for kick-off return yards in a season. He has already broken his own record of 140 yards in kick-off returns in a game which he set in 1970. Against Hillsdale College, Jimmy ran for 166 yards in kick-off returns. His longest was 99 yards and that was the longest in Glenville's history.

Rick Lemley of St. Marys, WV, has set a new Glenville College record for punt returns in a season. Rick has returned 10 punts for 224 yards and is the second leading punt return specialist in the NAIA.

Intramural skating will begin Nov. 29 for those who may be interested. The bus will leave from the physical education building at 6 p.m. and return at 9 p.m. Lessons in roller skating will be taught. The director is Mrs. Piercy, the skating will take place at Kirk's Roller Rink.

GSC Opens Season

The 1973 edition of the Glenville State College basketball team will open up their season against Alderson-Broadus in the Weston Shrine Tournament November 19 at 7:00 p.m. at Lewis County High School. With only one starter returning, Coaches Lilly and Carney are looking to several new faces to supply the scoring punch for the Pioneers.

Earl Hawkins a 6'3" senior from Brandywine, Md. leads the list of returning lettermen. Hawkins has started for three years at Glenville. Last year he averaged 17 points per game. Dave Merchant, a 6'2" senior from Clarksburg, is expected to start for the G-Men. Merchant transferred from Morris Harvey where he also lettered for three years. The other senior players are Jeff Jackson and Tom Lilly. Both are expected to see action at the guard position in the reserve role.

Other possible starters include Randy Datcher, a 6'6 1/2" sophomore who played well in last year's conference tournaments; John Hudson, a 6'4" junior who played well last year before a foot injury; Eric Makle, a 6'2" junior who also played well in the tournaments; Darrel Bartley, a 6'1" transfer from Beckley Junior College; and 6'5" Alan Dye and 6'3" Will Stewart, both freshmen. Dye is from Gauley Bridge and Stewart is from Waldorf, Md.

Right now it looks as though Hawkins and Stewart will start at forwards with Datcher at center and Merchant and Dye at guards. Other players who could contribute to the Pioneer attack are 6'7" John Carson, 6'3" Roger Caudill, 5'11" Rushon Colin, 6'2" Arnold David, 6'1" Mark Elder, 6'0" Robert Hawkins, and 6'1" Randy Hess. Hess, Colin, Elder and Caudill have all looked extremely good in practice.

Look for Fairmont, W.Va. State, Salem and Glenville to be vying for conference laurels. Morris Harvey may be in for a long year with the loss of several key players, but Coach Rich Macfessel has the knack of building a winner.

Roller Skating Offered

The Women's Intramural Sports program will sponsor recreational roller skating Nov. 29 from 6-9 p.m. at Kirk's Roller Skating Rink. Transportation will be provided. All women interested should sign rosters that will be posted throughout Pickens Hall until Nov. 15. Those not having their own skates should wear flat soled shoes because of the type of skates provided. For further information call Mrs. Piercy in the Physical Education Department. If interest is shown, roller skating may be provided on following Thursday evenings.

Group Presents Drama, Speech

Currently indoctrinated into the curriculum of Glenville State College is a special projects road show company whose primary goal is to acquaint area schools and organizations with GSC and the department of Speech and Drama. PEOPLE INC., under the direction of Jeanne Kobuszewski, will present a collage of literature from the past and present entitled MEMOS AND ENCOUNTERS. PEOPLE INC. have compiled a 45-60 minute production of Oral Interpretation, Duet Acting, Choral Reading, and Reader's Theatre combined by musical instruments, sound and multi-media. Performances for area bookings will begin on November 30 at Liberty High School. PEOPLE INC., include GSC students: Sherri Catalano, Dean Stout, Celia "Moose" McCoy, Dave Brown, Barb Stemple and Burt Luikart with Kim Johnson as lighting technician. Head of Publicity is Sherri Catalano with special designs by Bruce Brumage. Dates and times for the performances of MEMOS AND ENCOUNTERS will be announced at a later date.

Women's Talk Termed As "Searching For Self"

The Glenville Branch of the American Association of University Women will have a panel discussion on the topic "Woman: Searching for Self" at their monthly meeting Thursday, November 29 at 8 p.m. in the Wesley Foundation Building. The public is invited.

Panelist will be B. Blake Breitenhirt, Jr., Minister of the Presbyterian Church of Glenville; Frank Jenio, Biologist, Glenville State College; Robert Jenkins, Psychiatrist, Spencer State Hospital; Ann Page, Sociologist, Glenville State College; Pat Silverstein, Registered Nurse, Early Childhood Clinic; Kristen Sjostrom, Psychologist, Glenville State College. The moderator, Ms. Pat Jenio, selected specific questions given to the panelist and members in advance. Each panelist will be asked to respond to each question with an open discussion to follow.

The regular business meeting will begin at 7:15 and all members are urged to attend.

All classes will be cancelled from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon on Monday, November 19, to honor the 1973 Pioneer football team. The Student Congress is in charge of the celebration.

Rally Held Nov. 15 In The Amphitheatre

Thursday, Nov. 15 a pep rally, sponsored by Student Congress was held in the amphitheatre. Gene "Gorilla Man" Chancey was the master of ceremonies. In front of the football players, coaches and enthusiastic fans Marlena Smith, acting as a gypsy, looked into the future for Coach Hanlin. Naturally, many more victories were foreseen for the Pioneers.

The cheerleaders led the crowd in chants and cheers. The recipe for a Pioneer victory was then concocted. Dr. Somerville, repeating his famous act of a former year's basketball pep assembly, pulled a plucked Falcon from the cauldron. After Dr. Somerville's pep talk the much excited and enthusiastic fans departed certain of a Pioneer victory Saturday night.

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR MAJORS CLUB

Elections were held for this year's officers of Major's Club. Leah Ball, acting president of last semester, presided over the meeting. Elected were: Jane Archer, president; Stephanie Hunt, vice-president; Zandra Lyle, secretary; Debbie Brown, treasurer; and Karen Goodall, intramural chairman.

Meetings will be held on the first and third Wednesdays of each month at 3:00 p.m. Initiation procedures are now being planned.
