Forensics Team Awaits 4 Tourneys

The Glenville State College Forensics team, under the direction of Ms. Katherine Leisnering of the Speech Dept., is busily preparing for four speech tournaments this semester. The first tournament is scheduled for March 8-9 at a college in W. Va. to be named later. Skip Kincaid, in an effort to increase her entries in the National Finals, for which she's already qualified in Persuasion and Prose Interpretation, will be competing in Poetry Interpretation, Humorous Speaking and Dramatic Duo with Dave Brown.

Bob Dye will be competing in Prose Interpretation, Woody Wilson in Prose, Poetry and Humorous. In addition to these, Anne Isenhardt will be competing in her first tournament, having entered in humorous speaking and Brenda Steele will compete in her first tourney in Persuasion.

The second tournament will be the Marshall U. Qual/Prep Tourney to be held early in April in Huntington, W. Va. Last year Glenville started on its present winning streak by taking its first two trophies ever at this tourney.

The third tournament is a special tournament to be held at Ohio University in April called the "Spring Fling." Its primary purpose is to help in a final effort to qualify people for the National Finals to be held the last weekend in April at N.Y.U. branch in Plattsburgh, N.Y. Glenville is hoping to qualify a maximum of six people in twelve events at the Nationals.

NEW COLONY 6 PERFORMS SAT.

At 8:00, January 26, 1974, in the auditorium, student body and faculty members will be honored with a performance by the multi-versatile rock group, "New Colony Six". The show is being sponsored by the Lyceum Committee.

The group itself is composed of five multi-talented musicians, who have all had many years of professional playing experience and musicians, who have all had many years of professional playing experience and musical training.

Bob Morton plays Hammond B-3 organ and electric piano. He has an excellent lead voice and has played with a number of outstanding groups, among them Rotary Connection.

Jerry Kollenburg plays lead and rhythm guitar. He studied music theory and co position at the Chicago Conservatory of Music for three years, and has orchestrated many of "New Colony's" hit records.

Bill Herman plays double-bass drums and sings lead. He has played in many types of groups: country, jazz, hard rock, and Las Vegas show groups.

Skip Griparis sings lead and plays both lead and rhythm guitar.

Ron Anaman plays bass and sings strong tenor lead. He also plays drums, congas, guitar, and harmonica. Ron prefers country-rock and loves steel guitar.

All in all "New Colony" is a tight-knit group of five musicians dedicated to their profession: communicating with people through music.

"SECRET AGENT KIT"

Is Informing Moral?

This editorial is not to give the editor's or newspaper's point of view on the debate weary issue concerning the legality of marijuana or narcotics. However, there are certain matters concerning the approach taken to enforce current laws that, even though brought before, must be questioned again.

The recent week (?) of the busts will always be remembered by a few GSC students (and ex-students). For many, it was a time of fear and apprehension, of drinking beer downtown, and of going to bed a little earlier. Many will remember it as the first "hard-core" crackdown on drug abuse in Glenville.

Hopefully, the narcotics agent involved will remember, too. It was he who informed on certain people that eventually led to their arrest. What exactly is an informer?

German citizens told on each other before, during, and after World War II, to the Nazis and the later to the conquering Allies, in order to gain favors and to prove their belief in Nazism or surrender. Daughter told on Mother, and Brother on Sister. Informers were responsible for the downfall of Che Guevara and his movement in South America. Agents along the Iron Curtain in East European countries have been reporting on each other for years.

In the United States, the occupation of a narcotics agent is legally acceptable. Even though being a "narc" is within the law, informing on a fellow human being can be considered a moral sin. This person has built trust in another. In a world of differing values and wavering reason, trust is one of the few universally accepted positive virtues. Along with those rare attributes such as honesty and love, trust should not be tampered with by such a degrading activity as telling on your brother or sister.

One individual gives a supposed friend his trust, and WHAM!, a warrant is placed before his eyes and suddenly he is in jail. That person will find it difficult to trust another human being again, even extremely close friends and relatives.

An informer, once found out, cannot have true friendship with anyone in the area where he has been "active". He is an outcast whose resulting loneliness and exclusion is justified by the immoralities he has committed.

Undoubtedly, now among certain GSC students there is a great deal of speculation and suspicion. This will pass and eventually the cycle will repeat itself when, once again, a person is persuaded to betray the trust of another.

The question is: has an individual the moral right to betray the basic trust inherent in human relationships in order to obtain a legal goal? We welcome any points of view addressed as letters to the editor.

Four Seniors Are Selected Captains

Two juniors at Glenville have been chosen as captains for the 1974 edition of the Pioneer football team. These two young men are Bob Hardman and Bob Maynard. Also chosen as alternate captains are Bernie Buttrey and Steve Buffington.

Bob Hardman is a junior math major from Glenville. Hardman has started for the Pioneers since midway through his freshman year. Hardman played defensive end his first two years at GSC and last season he played strongside linebacker on GSC's NAIA runner-up team.

Bob Maynard is a junior physical education major from Marsh Fork. Maynard has lettered two years at GSC and last year he was the starting offensive guard. Maynard is being counted on to anchor the Pioneer line.

Bernie Buttrey is a junior physical education major from St. Mary's. Buttrey played for two years at Marshall before he transferred to Glenville. Last year Bernie played defensive end for the Pioneers, and in the regional playoffs, he was voted the outstanding lineman in GSC's victory over Carthage.

Steve Buffington is a junior physical education major from Ravenswood. Buffington has lettered three years at GSC and last year he set a record for most TD receptions in a season. Steve plays split end and is considered one of the top receiving threats in the conference.

Just five more weeks until tournaments. Tourney time for the WVIAC will begin in Charleston on Wednesday, Feb. 27. The Pioneer basketball team is facing the hard part of their schedule with only four home games out of the remaining twelve contests. Monday night the Pioneers dropped their fifth game in conference play to the W. Va. Wesleyan Bobcats. The G-Men were in there all the way but Earl Hawkins fouled out and there was just not enough fire power left to spark the Pioneers. John Hudson will be returning to the Pioneer line-up this Saturday for a big contest against Morris Harvey. Game time is 2 p.m. at the Charleston Civic Center. A Pioneer victory could easily set the G-Men on the road for a stretch run into the play-offs. The Pioneer squad should have a strong nucleus with Merchant, Hawkins, Hudson, Datcher, Stewart, Makle, Colin, and David. Should the Pioneers win in the tournaments it would follow a pattern the Pioneers established in 1970-1972 when they won the conference tourney crown. The 1972 squad also defeated Fairmont two out of three times in a playoff series to go to Kansas City. As a matter of fact, we beat the Falcons four out of six times that year.

GSC BOWLERS FINISH SECOND IN REGIONAL

Last Saturday the GSC bowling team traveled to Glendale, WV to compete in the first regional tournament of the season. The Pioneers finished second behind West Liberty. West Liberty had an 8-0 record in the tournament while the Pioneers tied defending champion A-B. Both teams had 5-3 records. High man for the Pioneers was Tom Newberry with a 182 average. A surprise in the lineup was the bowling of junior Mike Simmons. Simmons showed he was capable by averaging 171 in his first regional. This Saturday the West Virginia University bowlers come to town for a match at 5:00 in the gameroom. Everyone is invited to come and watch. The next regional is Feb. 2 at Oak Hill.

Intramural basketball is going a long great. The teams this year are much stronger and some fierce competition has already been going on for the top three spots in each flight. The Lambda Chi Lards are leading the leagues in fewest points scored and most weight on the floor at one time.

The wrestling team dropped their third straight but the Pioneers could have won the match had Dan Clevenger's opponent run from him the whole match to avoid a pin and give Concord a 21-19 victory over the G-Men. Given two more wrestlers Coach Adolfson's grapplers could easily win the conference. It's hard to win when you have to forfeit one or two matches each week.

WRESTLING TEAM LOSES TO MARIETTA

The Glenville State College wrestling team dropped its second straight match of the season, losing 37-6 by dropping 8 of 10 bouts. The only winners for Coach Whitey Adolfson's grapplers were Rick Pierson in the 142 lb. class and Joe Mills in the 158 lb. class.

Marietta started off strong by winning the first three matches on a forfeit and two decisions. Pierson and Mills then won two of the next three bouts, but Marietta clinched the next four bouts.

Scoring went as follows: 118-Steve Schmidt (M) won forfeit; 126-Rick Ruiz (M) major decision over Jim Neal, 11-1; 134-Jim Shipman (M) dec. Luther Hanson, 5-2; 142-Rick Pierson (G) dec. Scott Smith, 2-1; 150-Ken Weaver (M) won forfeit; 158- Joe Mills (G) dec. Gordon Zell, 5-1; 167-Kurt Troeger (M) pinned Curt Travis, 1:34 1st; 177-Bruce Gankura (M) dec. George Welch, 6-2; 190-Paul Neff (M) pinned Tom Brum, 1:34 3rd; and Un-Rick Corby (M) dec. Dan Clevenger, 5-1.

Tech Defeats G-Men

Glenville State College basketball suffered a crushing blow to their hopes for a conference tournament seed in Charleston in February. Glenville suffered their fifth setback in ten conference outings, placing the Pioneers in approximately eighth place in the WVIAC standings.

However, the Pioneers didn't die easily against the Bobcats of W.Va. Wesleyan. The G-men fought the Bobcats all the way, never trailing by more than four points. The Pioneers only trailed by one point at intermission but could never get past their scoring deficit.

With four minutes to play Earl Hawkins, Glenville's leading scorer, fouled-out on a questionable call.

LILLY AND MERCHANT PROFILED THIS WEEK

Featured in this week's column on members of the varsity basketball team are Dave Merchant and Tom Lilly. As seniors, both of these young men provide the leadership for the underclassmen on the Pioneer team.

Dave Merchant is a physical education major with history and English minors. Merchant played his high school ball at Washington-Irving High School in Clarksburg where he made All-State as a senior. Merchant played three years at Morris Harvey where he scored over 1,000 points. Merchant is also drum-major for the Pioneer marching band.

Chisler And Jenio Will Publish Guide

Dr. John Chisler, Professor of Biology and Dr. Frank Jenio, Assistant Prof. of Biology are currently writing a supplementary guide titled "Study Guide" or Contemporary Biology' that will be published by William B. Sanders. This guide may be used nationwide by freshmen students in introductory biology courses (biology 101-102 at GSC).

The illustrated book will have approximately 250 pages. The guide will follow chapter by chapter Biology, written by Dr. Mary E. Clark.

Each chapter in the guide will contain 3 sections: objectives; study questions, where answers are found in the text; and self-evaluation questions.

Working on the project since August, 1973, they hope to have the study guide completed and published by June, 1974.
