There enters a second man, the antithesis of the He is a young, unkempt, and undisiciplined vagrant, where the first is neat, ordered, well-to-do, and conventional. The vagrant is a soul in torture and rebellion. He longs to communicate so fiercely that, when he does make the attempt, he alternately frightens and repels his listener. He is a man drained of all hope who, in his passion for company seeks to drain his companion... With ironic humor and unrelenting suswe see the young savage pense, slowly but relentlessly bring his vic tim down to his own altruistic level and initiate a shocking and horrible ending.

Egad, What a Cad is a 35 minute melodrama written by Anita Bell. As the plot thickens, for a time it looks as though Constant Hope, our beautiful young heroine who is haunted by a tragic past, is about to fall into the clutches of that black-hearted cad, Bertram Oleander. However, by strange coincidence, Manly Rash, our noble hero with the manly bosom, arrives in the nick of time to save Constant from a fate worse than death. Gadzooks,

Never Put Off 'Til

American college students today are perhaps the greatest procrastinators of all time, especially those here at Glenville State. Very few educatees around this campus escape this addicting disease of putting things off until later

Procrastination has taken on many new disguises down through the years, and even GSC has had its moments of glory for those who are forever delaying the action.

For example, I know one person who, instead of making schedules of what his plans to do, makes schedules of what he plans not to do. Some-times he doesn't finish his schedule, so then he gets on his toes and schedules what he plans to decide not to do until later. After all, who would rather write a 10 page term paper than be downtown drinking a beer or playing cards at the union or whatever? Why should you do that project when your second main person is waiting for you downstairs? Admittedly, there are a few rambunctious, hardy individuals who insist on studying nightly. I know why they are referred to as book-worms. Because when you "step on them," they go "squish." Anyway, this heavy burden of procrastination has infiltrated nearly

Anyway, this heavy owners or provide the providence of a student's life. In many ways, this infliction has often worked for the victim in an indirect way. For example, one of my friends was going to put off getting up early one when he remembered that he had put off going to bed the night morning, before. Therefore, he was already up, and it was useless to stay in bed. He made it to class on time. One might say that the procrastination got procrastinated.

Even now, I feel the invincible urge to lay down my pen and finish this later on. But, I think I'll just lay down my pen and just quit! After all, with all the shortages around here, many people could find a better use for this paper. Wipe away those tears, literary lover, I would have had this thing written last week, but.

Forensics Team Competes

This Friday and Saturday, March 8-9, the forensics team will compete in its second tournament of the year: the W. Va. Intercollegiate Forensics Tournament to be held at Parkersburg Community College.

Under the direction of Ms. Leisering of the Speech department, ering of the Speech department, the team will have a total of 13 enteries. In prose: Woody Wilson, Bob Dye, and Skip Kincaid; in poetry: Skip Kincaid and Woody Wilson; in drama duo: Skip Kincaid and Nancy Meads; in after dinner speaking: Anne Isenhart, Woody Wilson and Skip Kincaid; in per-suasion: Skip Kincaid (repeating her Ist place speech from the Mid-East Individual Events Tourney last Nov. Should she win here, she will also to Boulder, Colorado for the National Oratorical Contest to be held in May.) In Expository Speaking.

Dave Brown; in impromptu: Dave Brown and Woody Wilson.

Hopefully, these people will qualify in their respective events for the National Forensics Finals to be held at Plattsburgh, N. Y. April 18-20. Skip Kincaid has already April qualified in prose and persuasion and is attempting to qualify in her other three categories: after dinner. poetry and duo.

The final contest before the National Finals will be held at Marshall University on April 5 and 6. The entrants there will be determined the outcome of this Friday's contest.

The forensics team has worked countless hours in an attempt to have Glenville recognized in speech activities in addition to the recognition Glenville has gained in other areas

Senate Bill 321 Tabbed. GSC Only United Effort

The office of Dr. D. Banks Wilburn disclosed this week that on Monday, March 4, 1974, Senate Bill 321, designed to increase tuition for in-state and out-of- state stu dents was tabled with little prospect of it coming to a vote at this time. This action virtually defeats the Bill for this session of the West Virginia Legislature.

It is stated that the only organized and united effort of students to defeat this bill, as far as the office knows, came from Glenville State College

Dr. Wilburn thanks the students. faculty and staff for helping in this endeavor. Undoubtedly, the united efforts in opposition to the bill were effective in bringing about the above decision

Contest Decides Mercury's Name

The first GSC newspaper went by the name: "The Glenville Nor-mal Bulletin". On Oct. 12, 1922, it became known as 'The Tower.' This name was chosen by the senior class and it remained unchanged for the next seven years. It was chosen with two designated purposes in mind: First, Glenville was the only school in the state to have it's original clock tower still standing. Secondly, they chose it because they chose it because they hoped the paper would serve as a "real tower" for the students at the school.

In 1929, a contest was held to originate a new name for the paper Among the suggestions for names were: 'The Pioneer Post,' The Moun-tain Sun,' 'The General Remark,' 'The GlenvilleGalaxy, 'The Weekly Wash-out,'The Damburst, 'The Sympathet-ic Insight,'and 'The Mercury.' Of these listed, The Mercury was chosen. This suggestion was sub-mitted by Miss Carmen Rinehart, alumnus of Glenville Normal School. The prize given for the winning suggestion was one year's sub-scription to The Mercury.

Gonorrhea Is No. 2 Disease

No disease is so common and yet so misunderstood as is gonorrhea. This illness, one of five types of venereal diseases (meaning spread by sexual inter-course), occurs so often that its incidence is second only to the common cold. Confusion and rumors are well-established because of the embarrassment that many feel in discussing venereal disease. Yet it is only through breaking up the "hush-hush" nature of gonorrhea that the epidemic can be stopped. Gonorrhea is caused by a bacterium (organism like strep or staph). It survives best in warm moist membranes as in a man's or woman's sexual organs. Once spread through sexual intercourse, the symptoms are first localized to the area of contact but later symptoms of total body involvement can occur. Four to ten days after contact with a person who has gonorrhea, man may develop burning on urination or a discharge from the penis. The woman may also develop burning on urination and/or discharge from the vagina (birth canal) with an itch in the same area. Unfortunately either the male or the female may have no symptoms at all. The diagnosis can rarely be made by history alone. Rather your doctor will usually need to examine the discharge fluid under the microscope to identify the bacterium. In the near future a blood test will also be available. Upon finding the disease, treatment with penicillin or (alternate drugs for those allergic to penicillin)-can cure the disease. However not treating the infection can be disasterous. The local infection can go on to cause permanent damage. In the male infection of the testicles and the nearby prostate gland is common. The female can develop painful infections of the ovaries or fallopian tubes which carry the egg from the ovary to the womb. The result of these infections in both sexes may lead to the inability to have children. Either sex may also have complications of joints, skin or heart infections. At this stage treatment is difficult, at best.

The epidemic of gonorrhea has arisen for two reasons. 1) Individual cases have been inadequately treated (so that spread is still possible) and 2) those exposed to those with gonorrhea have not been treated (leaving them as a reservoir for the disease). Treatment of people in these two categories can do much to greatly reduce the number of cases of gonorrhea. All cases be treated with the proper drug. The State Dept. of Health through our Gilmer County Health Dept. provides local doctors with free medicine for the treatment of gonorrhea. In addition we must seek out all "contacts" of known and treat them adequately so there will be no risk of complications

This diagnosis need not carry any embarrassment or shame. It can occur in anyone. It should not carry any implications of "bad behavior." If you feel that you may have gonorrhea, please see your doctor and allow him to help you overcome this common disease.

Film Distribution Offered

A new educational film distribution service has been made possible to public schools through the combined efforts of Glenville State College and the Monongahela Power Company. These films should be of benefit to student teachers as well as county teachers.

The program covers the seven counties of: Braxton, Calhoun, Clay, Gilmer, Nicholas, Pocahontas, and Webster. Films covering as many subjects are now in the seven counties. Each film is in a county for two weeks and then is sent to the next unty on the list, it is a "Round Robin" type rotation.

The subjects are varied and upto-date. Some of the topics are: Self-sufficiency of the Navajo tribe, biography of Louis Armstrong, space flight up to Apollo 17, how a presi-dent is elected (based on the Mc-Govern-Nixon Campaign), the energy challenge, the return of American

'Spring Fling' Planned

The GSC Student Congress is sponsoring a "Spring Fling" week-end, March 22-23. The weekend will consist of two movies and a dance. On Saturday March 23, a short film "Rock, Rock, Rock" which POW's and an exclusive tour through the Smithsonian Institution. This year we are developing the distribution system. Next year more films and new subjects will be available to the county schools. This is a free service to the schools, their only expense being postage to mail the film to the next school. These 16mm sound films are in color and range from 14 to 28 minutes each. They are produced by Herst Metrotone News, sponsored by the Monongahela Power Company and distributed by Glen-ville State College.

We hope this service will be used by the student teachers as well as the teachers in the county schools. If you have questions or interest, contact the superintendent of your county school or Don Phillips, Director of Learning Materials, at Glenville State College.

Glenville Crushes

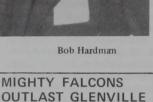

The Glenville State Pioneers romped to an impressive opening round victory over the W.Va. Tech Golden Bears in the WVIAC tournament by the score of 95-68. The 95 points is the highest total the Pioneers have scored all season as the G-Men shot an outstanding 59% from the field.

Action in the first half was hot and heavy as the Pioneers jumped out to a quick 5-0 lead and quickly increased the margin from 7 to 11 point leads. With 4:47 to go in the first half Tech battled back to within four points of the Pioneer lead. However, the G-Men completely ended any hopes of the Golden Bears by rattling off 9 straight points with Randy Datcher hitting five points while Will Stewart and Dave Merchant both added buckets. Both teams traded buckets until intermission and the Pioneers took a 52-38 lead into the locker room.

For most of the second half, Glenville held leads of 18 to 24 points. The Pioneers were hitting from all angles and nothing Tech did could stop them. The largest lead the G-Men had was 89-58 with 4:50 to go when Eric Makle hit three straight buckets. After this Coach Lilly brought in the reserves and the final score was 95-68.

Four Pioneers were in double figures as Earl Hawkins had 20 points, Dave Merchant 19, Will Stewart 18, and Randy Datcher, 15. Also providing scoring punch were Eric Makle with 8, Arnie David 8, Rushon Colin 4 and Roger Caudill, 2.

This weekend the Joes You Go Inn Independent basketball team will play in a tournament at Sutton. Performing will be Pioneer star Earl Hawkins, also former GSC players Jim Garnett, Roger Hess, Doug Lee, Jim Cook and Dave Bunton.

OUTLAST GLENVILLE

Defense was the name of the game Friday night in Glenville's much awaited tussle with the Fairmont Falcons, and unluckily the G-Men were the colder shooting of the two teams as they dropped a 72-63 decision.

The game was probably the best played of the tournament since it had all the ingredients of an outstanding confrontation. There was brilliant shot-blocking, shooting, defense and hustle.

After trading buckets for most of the early going, Glenville jumped out to an eight point lead on break away lay ups by Earl Hawkins. However the Falcons came charging back to secure a one point lead at halftime on a basket at the buzzer.

In the second half, a Glenville cold spell enabled the Falcons to take a 48-43 lead which they never lost. Glenville made several runs at the Falcons, but inconsistent shooting and rebounding led to the Glenville decline

Salem Tigers Win

The GSC basketball team dropped their final game of the year when they lost an uninspired decision to the Salem Tigers. Neither team exhibited their true form since both had lost the night before in close decisions. The Pioneers had a seven point advantage for most of the first half. Several calls in favor of Salem's Archie Talley brought Salem back to take a three point lead at halftime. Salem increased their margin to 15 points midway through the second half before the G-Men attempted a late come back. Glenville came to within 7 points with five minutes to play but the rally fell short. High scorer for the Pioneers was Earl Hawkins with 34 points.

Shown here is Glenville's basketball coach Jesse Lilly receiving the game ball for the Pioneer's fourth place finish in the tournaments.

Muckraking

I could sit here and write about the shabby officiating I thought occured throughout the WVIAC but I won't because I don't think it hurt the Pioneers that much. However I will tell you about the injustice done to the G-men and other teams by the so-called outstanding Charleston papers. Everytime you opened a paper in Charleston there was one person in there who didn't even play on the championship or runner up team. This young man was supposed to be unsurpassable with his long range jumpshots and quick driving lay-ups. But in the consolation game he was stopped by a man with only one good leg, Dave Merchant. I'm sure most of you who had enough guts and school spirit to stay Saturday night know who I'm talking about, those who didn't can just ask somebody. Enough of the above, well almost anyway. Another slight towards GSC was the exclusion of Dave Merchant on the All-tournament. Merchant's defense and playmaking were instrumental in the Pioneer's two tourney victories and near-upset of Fairmont. Instead the selection committee chose several players simply because of one thing --publicity in the Charleston papers.

Congratulations are in order for the fine showing of the bowling team this year. The teams dominated by sophomores, juniors and one freshman won the conference regular season championship last Saturday. Hats off to Dr. Robert Dollgener and his young team on a regular season championship. On to the tournaments, right bowlers?

A lot of questions have been raised on continuing the consolation game of the basketball tournament. I for one feel that the game is a waste simply because the players can't get motivated. You can't tell me that Salem is eight points better than us. Why not have the wrestling finals before Saturday night's champship and give wrestling more recognition? WVIAC CHAMPS The Glenville State College Bowling Team won the WVIAC Bowling Championship with a record of 24 wins and 8 losses.

Dr. Robert J. Dollgener, the bowling team coach was particularly pleased with the progress of the team this year. All members of the team are underclassmen and rolled consistently well this year.

Tom Newberry, a sophomore from Parkersburg, had the highest average in the 4th regional. Tom recorded 1520 pinfall and averaged 190 pins per game in the regional held in Nitro. Newberry raised his season average to 178 pins per game.

Robert Spradling, a freshman from Pt. Pleasant, had the highest game in the 4th regional when he totaled 227 pins in his third game.

Glenville will compete in the WVIAC tournament on March 23rd adn 24th at the Ren-Dor Lanes in Parkersburg. If Glenville wins the conference tournament, they will advance to the NAIA Area 7 Tournament, on April 6th at a site to be determined. If another team wins the WVIAC tournament, Glenville and the team that wins will have a roll-off to determine the WVIAC representative in the NAIA Area 7 competition.

EARL HAWKINS GETS FIRST-TEAM AWARD

The WVIAC All-Tournament selection committee selected Pioneer captain Earl Hawkins to the conference All-Tournament team for the third time last weekend. Earl also was the second highest scorer in the tournament with 107 points.

Earl Levi Hawkins is the 20-yearold son of Mr. and Mrs. George W Hawkins of Brandywine, Maryland. The 6'3" senior is a 1970 graduate of Gwynn Park High School and his team won two state championships. He also lettered two years in track and placed 3rd in the state high jump competition.

At Glenville State, Earl was the second leading scorer during the 1971-72 basketball season when he scored 341 points. He scored 566 points during his sophomore year. He again was the leading scorer as a junior on the 1973-74 team with 470 points. This year he scored 612 points for a total of 1988 points. He has lettered four years at Glenville. He has been on the All-WVIAC team twice and the all-tournament team 3 times. He has been on the all-tournament teams in the Shrine Tournament in Weston for 3 years, the all-tournament team in the Golden valley tournament in wheeling (the all-tournament team in the Martinsburg tournament. He has also received honorable mention All-American.

Earl is known by Glenville State College fans and opponents alike as a high leaper. He gets great height and grabs rebounds like a player who would be a foot taller. He is also known for his pleasant manner and concern for others. His ambition is to teach in high school and to coach. He also wants to get a Masters degree and eventually coach in college.

and heroine. Charles Emery's The Red Key is a drama of "mounting terror and suspense." Karen, Nicholas' girl-friend, has come to stay with him and his mental case sister, Hester. Karen's father and Nicholas had been partners on the town news-paper until Karen's father suddenly vanished. Hester tells Karen that the room behind the curtain has not been opened for seven years, and that Nicholas carries a key on a red ribbon that will unlock the door. The play increases in fear and distrust as Karen's suspicion increases. One male and two females.

The Death of the Hired Man, men and 2 women) by Jay (2 Reid Gould, (Robert Frost's drama tic poem made into a play.) Mary the farmer's wife has just been told that the old "hired man" is hanging about again, hoping to be taken back. She knows that he's ill and just came home to die. Her hushand is a practical man, and since the hired man is unable to do a day's work, the farmer will not have him hanging about. The frantic wife tries everything and as the old hired man pleads-telling of all the work he'll do-her anxiety mounts. Megan Terry's Comings and Go-ings is an experiment in theatre for the players and their director, shattering the accepted audience links between an actor and his character. and the "logical progression" of plot by a fast-paced changing of scenes (often connected with nothing but theme.) The cast is small: only 3 men and 3 women. Dave Brown: director.

Neil Simon's comedy, Plaza Suite, contains three acts which are, each actually a play in themselves. the third act, "Visitor From Forest Hills," shows us a mother and father, Norma and Roy Hubley, fighting among themselves over the best way to get their daughter, Mimsey, out of the bathroom and down to the ball-room where guests await her to view her wording. The Cast include the her wedding. The Cast includes two women and two men.
