

Dr. Patrick Ward Gainer Is Alumnus of the Year

GSC Alumni Association is pleased to announce that Dr. Patrick Ward Gainer, a member of this year's Golden Anniversary Class of 1924, has been selected Alumnus of the Year for 1974.

This honor is accorded annually to the alumnus who because of his outstanding achievements in his field of endeavor, has brought recognition and distinction to himself and his Alma Mater.

Dr. Gainer is a widely reknown folklorist, musician, educator, perpetuator of Appalachian culture, and founder of the W. Va. State Folk Festival which is held every June in Glenville.

Although he was born in Parkersburg, W. Va., where his parents Lloyd M. and Kathryn Gaston Gainer were living at that time, Dr. Gainer lived most of his childhood years at Tanner, W. Va., in Gilmer Co. His father, Lloyd, was also a graduate of Glenville Normal School.

From 1920 to 1924 Dr. Gainer was a student at Glenville Normal School. He was vice-president of his freshman class, vice-president of his sophomore class, associate editor of the Tower and assistant editor of the 1924 Kanawhachen. Phi Delta Literary Society of which he was a member was a men's scholastic honorary group organized in 1922. Dr. Gainer was also active in the Cosmian Literary Society which was organized in 1885 and was the oldest organization at Glenville Normal School.

From Glenville, Dr. Gainer went to West Virginia University where he completed an A.B. Degree in 1927 and an M.A. Degree in 1928.

In 1932, he did graduate work at the University of Chicago, and in 1933 he received a Ph. D. from St. Louis University.

Dr. Gainer was first an instructor and then, an assistant professor at St. Louis University during the years 1928 through 1942.

From 1942 to 1945 Dr. Gainer served in the U.S.O. as director in the Caribbean and South Atlantic stationed primarily in Brazil.

In 1946 the Gainers returned to Morgantown where he was associated with the University as a professor until his retirement in 1972. He now holds the rank of Professor Emeritus of WVU. Among the courses Dr. Gainer taught at the University were Old World Folklore, Folklore of the Southern Appalachian Region, Milton, and Nineteenth Century Literature.

Dr. Patrick Ward Gainer

In 1950, Dr. Gainer returned to Glenville and founded the W.Va. State Folk Festival and directed its activities for ten years.

In 1958, Dr. Gainer received the Sphinx Outstanding Service Award at WVU. This award is for outstanding contributions to the tradition and folklore of the State of W.Va. In 1968, the faculty of WVU selected Dr. Gainer for the Outstanding Teacher Award.

Dr. Gainer was sponsored by WVU in 1961 on a summer tour of Ireland where he collected folklore.

In 1963, Dr. Gainer was presented the Order of the Thirty-Fifth Star by the State of West Virginia for recognition of noteworthy cultural, social, and economic contributions to the State of W.Va. During the W.Va. Centennial Year of 1963, he was state chairman of the Folklore Commission of West Virginia.

In 1972, Dr. Gainer received the service to WVU and dedicated effort to preserve mountain culture. Salem College presented Dr. Gainer with an honorary degree of Doctor of Letters in 1973.

Dr. Gainer is the author of several articles in scholarly journals. In 1963 he compiled the WEST VIRGINIA CENTENNIAL BOOK OF 100 SONGS. He has a record album called FOLK SONGS OF THE ALLEGHENIES on which he sings and plays some of his favorite melodies. Dr. Gainer is widely known as a lecturer on folklore and music and mountain culture. He has appeared as a guest on numerous television and radio programs.

Dr. Gainer is a member of the Modern Language Association of America, the American Association of University Professors, and the Council of the Alleghenies.

On Alumni Day, Dr. Gainer will be the guest of honor and the speaker at the 1974 Alumni Banquet.

The Piedmont Chamber Players from the North Carolina School of the Arts in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, will perform here on April 5 at 8:00 p.m.

Orchestra Is Featured In Lyceum Tonight

Friday night, April 5, 1974, at 8:00 in the GSC auditorium, the Piedmont Chamber Orchestra, under the direction of Nicholas Harsanyi will be performing for interested students faculty and administration members, (by ID) and for area citizens (L.O.O.).

Harsanyi, the Hungarian-born conductor and Dean of the School of Music of the North Carolina School of the Arts, has made distinguished contributions to American musical life. He was the founder, Music Director and Conductor of the celebrated Princeton Chamber Orchestra and recently served as Music Director of the Interlochen Arts Academy Orchestra. Maestro Harsanyi has toured the major centers of the United States, Canada, and Europe with high critical acclaim.

In addition to the nationally-known Clarion Wind Quintet, which is in residence at the School, first-chair artist-faculty players include Vartan Manogian, former concertmaster, Orchestre de la Suisse Romande; Andras von Tozeghi, violinist, formerly with the Lucerne Quartet and Festival Strings Lucerne; and Marion Davies, former principal cellist, Houston Symphony. Other members of the Orchestra have been associated with leading symphony orchestras and chamber music ensembles, many of whom are soloists in their own right.

The Piedmont Chamber Orchestra offers a choice of three internationally renowned soloists, all associated with the North Carolina School of the Arts: Erick Friedman, violinist; Janice Harsanyi, soprano, and Claude Frank, pianist.

The repertoire of the Piedmont Chamber Orchestra embraces the legacy of instrumental music of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries as well as an increasing number of twentieth century compositions devoted to the singular beauty and flexibility of the small orchestra.

Glenville's Spring Concert To Be Held On April 28

The annual GSC Concert Choir Spring Concert will take place on Sunday, April 28, 1974, at 8:00 p.m. in the college auditorium. The program will be presented in four different divisions: I. Mendelssohn, "The Lord Is A Mighty God" from "Psalm XCV"; Faure, Op. 11, Cantique de Racine; Noble, "Go to Dark Gethsemane," Wood, "Hail Gladdening Light" (for double choir). II. Franz P. Schubert, Mass in G Major; III. Group of "Pop" songs by the Minneingers; IV. Spirituals: "I'm Going to Sing," "My Lord, What a Morning," "My God Is a Rock," and Steal Away.

The Mendelssohn piece is a canon marvelously worked out between the female and male voices. Faure's music for chorus is often marked by its restraint and outward unique simplicity, but with harmonic subtlety. Such a piece is the Cantique. T. Tertius Noble, who for many years was organist-director at St. Bartholomew's in New York City, has produced much music for the church. This generally quiet setting for Lenten text is characterized by its harmonic approach. (Go To Dark Gethsemane) After an "alla marcia" section, a tremendous climax is achieved. Charles Wood is an Irishman who is known primarily for his compositions for chorus. This piece for double choir, derived from an ancient Greek text, displays his fastidious handling of the materials available.

For at least five centuries, the test of the Ordinary of the Mass, has been the one most often set by composers. Practically every major composer has set the Mass at least once and Schubert is no exception. The Mass in G major is the second of seven settings and was written when Schubert was eighteen. It is generally considered to be his most lyric. It is a moving work characterized by its lyricism and simplicity. The soloists for the performance are: Martha Harmon, Brenda Steele, and Mary Prather, sopranos; Dale Miller and David Bush, baritones; and Stephen Boilon, tenor. The orchestral accompaniment for strings will be played (cont. p. 4)

Drama Technical Crews Led By Bruce H. Brumage

The technical crews for THE GREAT CROSS COUNTRY RACE are headed by Bruce Brumage, who is both Technical Director and Set Designer. Mr. Brumage, a junior art major from Wellsburg, assumed these jobs as part of the requirements for three hours credit for independent study in set design. The set for this type of show is more difficult and involved than most sets in other types of productions. This becomes obvious as Mr. Brumage explains a few of the details and describes different aspects of the set. "The set entails a basic backdrop of trees setting the scenes for the Woodlands, (where most of the action takes place). Children's theatre has a cartoon-like quality; therefore, most of the set must be flat and out of proportion. For example, on the periaktos, (a triangular construction consisting of three flats each painted differently hinged together and placed on wheels enabling it to be turned around in order to change scenes), the sunflowers are three feet wide and the corn is 10 feet high. These periaktos comprise the focal point of the set. The proscenium will be a great sunburst framing the stage. This is where color is most emphasized. The costumes are realistic in color and therefore not that bright. The bright colors in the scenery emphasize and complement the set. There are many three-dimensional objects taken on and off stage for scenes, such as a grassy bank, rocks, and a squirrel tree.

Mr. Brumage appeared both enthusiastic and optimistic about the show. This might be because he has decided to go to graduate school in technical theatre. He pointed out that by assuming these positions he was able to get first hand experience in the field he plans to go into. He stressed that the show has been a significant learning experience and that he has learned, through this, much more than he could ever have learned from a textbook.

Is It Miss Or Mrs; Why Not Just Ms?

As election time rolls around, the perennial complaint of feminist discrimination again causes most of us to pause with a sigh of disgust. The double standard governing married women and single girls at GSC is both archaic and embarrassing. Oblivious to the fact that marriage does not drastically change a girl in such a way as to make her beautiful or less talented, restrictions are placed on elections by those deemed to place them there. The result is that only single girls can be Homecoming Queen, cheerleaders, majorettes and twirlers.

This type of substandard, opinionated thinking cannot help but produce somewhat less than superior results. (Obviously, the quality decreases as the selection does.)

There is of course, a great probability that matters cannot be changed before this election. But, the '73-'74 Congress has been extremely progressive and demonstrative thus far and perhaps they can effect a change before this particular complaint recurs.

This is brief, not because of its validity, but because of its frequent appearance. Hopefully, just presenting it will cause someone to stop long enough to realize how simple and obviously rational the argument is. In 1974 such discrimination can only be termed defeating.

Sounds Like A Fish Story

Craig See, a junior biology major from Petersburg, W. Va., is currently conducting an experiment involving fish hatcheries in streams. The main purpose of this project is to see what effect, if any, that a hatchery has on the aquatic life of a stream that flows through.

Craig, an advisee of Assistant Professor of Biology, Frank Jenio, began this extensive year-long project on Oct. 13, 1973. The creek being used is Spring Run, located near Dorcas in Grant County.

The operation consists of taking a collection one time per month in random areas above and below the hatchery. Three samples are taken from six stations. Each sample is taken with a Surber Sampler, a type of bell-shaped collecting net. One square foot is used, from the surface, down into the substratum of the creek bed.

The animals are then counted and keyed out to the general classifications.

The water chemistry is then analyzed, and a total of 15 tests are run. These include tests for pH, temperature, iron and sulfate.

So far, Craig has detected little chemical difference in the water for above and below the fish hatchery.

However, distinct changes were noted where anthropods and other organisms were absent below the hatchery. It is yet to be determined what the cause(s) for this are, since no chemical differences were evident.

Craig plans to continue work in aquatic life after graduation next year.

Student Congress Elections Are Set

Student Congress elections will be held on April 17 and 18. Voting polls will be set up in front of the Old Cafeteria, in Pickets Hall, and Louis Bennett Hall. The positions to be filled are: President, Vice-president, Secretary, Parliamentarian, and seven Senators-at-Large. Any eligible student wishing to run for a general Student Congress office must submit his name to the Student Congress office or Information Center by April 10.

Before submitting a name the following qualifications must be met:

President: a. Shall be a member of the junior class at the time of election. b. Shall have been a full-time student of the College for a period of at least one year. c. Shall have an average of 2.5 or higher. d. Must be carrying at least 12 hours.

Vice-president: a. Shall be a member of the sophomore or junior class at time of the election. b. Shall have been a full-time student of the College for a period of at least one year. c. Shall have a scholastic average of 2.5 or higher. d. Must carry at least 12 hours.

Secretary, Treasurer, or Parliamentarian: a. Must be a full-time student at time of election. b. Scholastic average of the Secretary and Treasurer must be at least a 2.0 and Parliamentarian must be at least a 2.5. c. Each must be carrying at least 12 hours.

Other representatives must meet the qualifications prescribed for the offices of Secretary and Treasurer.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

The Delta Alpha chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma held their regular meeting on Monday, April 1. Vice-President, Susie Cottrill announced that all pledges had passed their national test and are eligible for initiation when all local requirements are met. Initiation has been set for April 20th. Founders Day will be celebrated on April 17th with the wearing of purple and white ribbons and a banquet in the evening.

The sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma finally got to take their "long awaited" trip to Walton House, their National Headquarters, this past week end. (March 29-31). The 29 collegiate members and their advisors, Mrs. Garnet Jones, Mrs. Norma Jean Barnett, Mrs. Luana Smith, and Miss Mary Ellen Kennedy, boarded their chartered Greyhound bus and left at 6:00, Friday, March 29; their destination being Woodstock, Virginia. This mansion, dating back to the ante-bellum period, is named after Mabel Lee Walton-Past National Sigma Sigma Sigma President, and the late "President Emerita." Ms. Walton, who resided in Walton House, devoted 37 years of her life to her beloved sorority. Ms. Walton, at 89, died one week before her birthday, March 22, 1974.

While visiting Walton House, those attending members met with the National Executive Secretary, Marie-Saintee Dunham, Marge Stafford, NCC for this region, and other national officers. The girls and their advisors also had an enjoyable time touring Woodstock and the nearby area. Before returning to Glenville on Sunday, the sorority members participated in an inspirational hour. The entire weekend was a very rewarding experience and, hopefully, will become an annual activity.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

The fraters of Tau Kappa Epsilon are traveling to the Red Carpet Inn tomorrow for their annual closed ball. Located in Point Pleasant, this formal engagement is complete with favors.

A voting session took place in last week's meeting. All of the pledges "made it through" this milestone.

An informal meeting is scheduled for Sunday night, April 7 at 10:00 p.m. in the Teke House. All members, active and inactive, are urged to attend.

GSC CHOIR TO SING FOR CHURCH GROUP

The Concert Choir will sing the music for the first of the Holy Week Services sponsored by the Gilmer County Ministerial Association. This service will be at the Trinity United Methodist Church in Glenville next Sunday, Palm Sunday, April 7, 1974 at 7:30 in the evening.

Besides the usual service music, the choir will present three anthems: "Ride On in Majesty," a contemporary setting by Canadian Graham George for an old hymn-text; "Cantique de Jean Racine" by Faure; and "Go to Dark Gethsemane," a Lenten hymn with a setting by T. Tertius Noble.

Credential files have been received in the Placement Office for Forestry and Land-Surveying students. If you desire to complete one of the files for future employers come by the Placement Office.

LOST: Three textbooks in 102 Clark Hall, on March 28, 1974. These books are texts on Accounting, Retailing, and Computer Science. A reward is offered for the recovery of these volumes: absolutely no questions will be asked. Turn them in at the Mercury Office, located in room 4, in the basement of Clark Hall.

"Mr. Krazy Legs"

Gillespie Declared "Mr. Krazy Legs"

Approximately $90 was raised for the Gilmer County Heart Fund last week when the 'Krazy Legs' program was presented Friday at 7:30. The appearances on stage were: first, Robert Spradling, sponsored by Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity; second Lou Covey, sponsored by the Mercury staff; third, Steve Deem sponsored by Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority; fourth, David Gillespie sponsored by Delta Zeta sorority; fifth, Bob Dye, sponsored by Oh-nimghows; sixth, Adrian 'Dink' Marini, sponsored by Theta Xi; and seventh, Dr. Frank Jenio; sponsored by Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

Entertainment for the evening consisted of 'Somewhere My Love' and 'Over the Rainbow' on the organ by Dr. Clarence Maze; a dance to 'Warsaw Concerto' by Stephanie and Randy Hunt; a comic dance routine by Kay Woody and folk songs were presented by Mr. Mack Samples. He also played the guitar and the fiddle. A skit by the DZ's was also performed during the evening.

Mrs. Donald Taylor, Gilmer County Heart Fund chairman was one of the speakers for the evening and also Miss Carol Reed of Glenville 1973 State Heart Fund Princess, participated in the evening. Mrs. Yvonne King was the events' publicity chairman.

Individual acts were presented by each of the contestants.

Mr. David Gillespie was declared 'Mr Krazy Legs' on the basis of the election held last Wednesday. He received a crown, a trophy and flowers.

Mr. Robert Dye was first runner-up; Mr. Robert Spradling, second runner-up; and Mr. Lou Covey, third runner-up. Mr. Dye received a garter; Mr. Spradling a flower; and Mr. Covey, a pair of socks.

Miss Kathy Fluharty served as Mistress of Ceremonies.

The Krazy Legs Contestants: Lou Covey, David Gillespie, Steve Deem, Bob Dye, Dink Marini and Frank Jenio.

Muckraking

It is springtime in full bloom at GSC, and all of the spring sports teams have been taking advantage of the beautiful weather.

The baseball team has played four games so far and currently holds a 3 and 1 overall record. It looks as though the Pioneer nine has a definite chance to go places should their untested hitting hold up. So far the G-men have rapped the ball rather well, especially Rick O'Reilly, Rob Lambert and Roger Bonnette.

The young golf team won its first match of the season last weekend. Terry Crislip, Bob Wilson, Jim Scott, and Nick Nicely all had scores in the 70's.

The tennis team thus far is 0-3, but the proteges of Dr. Bruce Flack look for improvement over the rest of the season.

On the local scene the TKE softball tournament is underway and the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity won the intramural basketball championship by going 11-0.

It looks as though Mike Bumgarner may claim coach of the year honors with his handling of Roy Mace's foul shots. Bummy's philosophy is stand one foot behind the line, fake left and fire-effective isn't it?

SERIOUSLY, since this is my last column, I would like to thank everyone at GSC who has made "work?" so enjoyable. Special thanks goes out to the athletic department and its director Robert Dollgener, to Mrs. King, if only she could find me, to all my brothers and friends who wrote when I didn't, and finally to the IBM typists who never griped when I put my stories first or brought them in late. I'll sure miss everyone and thanks for letting me become a part of you and you of me. Yeah, you too-Rookie.

Baseball Team Wins

The Glenville State College baseball squad flexed their muscles in the first game of their April 3 double-header with the Davis and Elkins Senators, only to see their bats go sour in the nightcap. The G-Men rode a nine-run fifth inning to victory in the opener, adding nine more in other innings as the Pioneers capped their third victory by an 18-1 count. Joe Mitchem completed his first mound appearance of the season, turning back the Senators on two hits and striking out five. A crowd of D&E hurlers gave up twelve walks to Pioneer batters, supplying plenty of baserunners to the GSC attack. The G-Men were led by outfielder Rick O'Reilly, who slammed two doubles and two singles in five trips to the plate. O'Reilly started the Glenville batsmen on their nine-run spurge in the fifth as he slammed a double. Five walks, a single and a fielder's choice later, O'Reilly crashed another double to plate two more runs. After Roger Bonnette walked and Buddy Jarrell was struck by a pitch, Tim Shepard singled in Bonnette. Tuffy Rumer fanned to end the long inning.

In the second game, the Glenville attack faltered somewhat as the Pioneers garnered only six singles against Mattice, the D&E hurler. Larry Wolfe, fighting for control, lasted only 1 2/3 innings before giving way to Rick Vass with the bases loaded in the second inning. Vass was greeted by a single by pitcher Mattice which drove in two more Senator runs, making the score 4-1. Vass later yielded a bases-empty homer to the Senator lead-off man, but stiffened thereafter. However, the damage had been done and Mattice pitched an excellent ball down the stretch, yielding a run in the sixth, but finished strong, quelling a Pioneer rally as he fanned freshman Robbie Lambert with two on in the last inning. Wolfe was the loser in his first varsity outing.

GLENVILLE BOWLERS LOSE AREA ROLL-OFFS

The keggers of Glenville State College lost the Area 7 Rolloff to Clarion State of Pennsylvania at the Steel Valley Lanes, in Weirton, W. Va. This March 31 playoff saw the Pioneers lose by a fairly close margin of 90 pins over the 6 game series.

Clarion State brought a 10 man team to Weirton, even though the top 5 total scores from five of the bowlers counted for the six games. Glenville had six players.

Clarion State averaged 186 per game with a total pinfall of 5580. The team average of GSC was a 183 with the sum of all six games being 5490.

Tom Newberry, Glenville's leading bowler throughout the season, bowled an average of 195 with a pinfall of 1170. Other scores went like this: Sam Ferrell, 195 (average) and 1116 (total points); Bob Spradling, 186 and 1074; Gary Humphreys, 173 and 1043; Mike Simmons, 173 and 1041; and Rick McFee, 171 and 1021.

The Pioneer team travels to Marshall this weekend for the Dr. Pepper Tournament held at Marshall Student Union Building.

Lambda Chi Alpha Wins Intramurals

The intramural basketball championship was captured by the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity by the score of 72-61 over the Winners.

The Lambda Chi's jumped out to an early 18-6 lead behind the shooting of D.A. Wilson and Joe Mitchem, and after relying on a fast break, they took a 39-22 lead to the locker room at halftime.

In the second half, the Winners gamely battled the Chi's, and with 4:14 to play in the game, the fraternity team held only a 68-59 margin. However three quick buckets by Roger Hess quickly put the game away. Sparking the Winners' belated comeback attempt were Doug Miller, Jim Cook, Terry Crislip, Nick Nicely and Tim Shepard.

The Lambda Chi Alpha's were paced by Roger Hess with 21 points and 13 rebounds. Helping in the scoring were Dave Bunton 16 points, D.A. Wilson 14 points, and Mitchem with 9. Other team members included Rick Vass, Roger Allen, Rod Hudson, Gary Dobson, Ken Swisher, and Bob Werry.

Lambda Chi's completed the season with an 11-0 record.

The TKE Softball tournament will continue next week at Cedar Creek. Times will be posted.

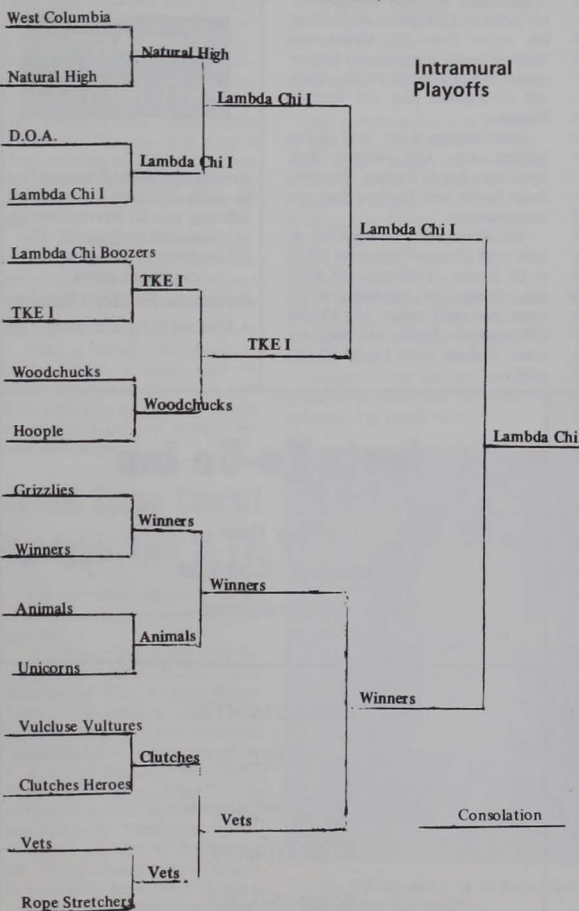

Joe Mitchem goes high for a layup in intramural action.

Golf Team Victorious

The Glenville State College golf team opened its 1974 campaign with a victory in a three-team match March 30 at Phillipi. Glenville's winning score was 302 followed by A-B with 314 and Salem with 329. Scorers for Glenville were Terry Crislip with a 73, Jim Scott and Bob Wilson with 75's and Nick Nicely with a 79. Coach Carney said that he considered these scores quite good considering the temperature was 49 degrees and that it was raining.

The golfers continue their season with the Northern Regional April 4th and 5th. That match is being concluded today at Oglebay Park in Wheeling.

Pioneer Election Is Held

An all-campus election is currently being held (April 4 and 5) for Glenville State College Pioneer for the 1974-75 year. The three students running for this position are: Curtis Kimble, Rick Pierson and Phil Tharp.

Curtis Kimble is an associate member of Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity. A physical education major from Milton, W. Va., he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kimble of Milton.

Richard Pierson is also from Milton, and is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Pierson. He is an active member of Tau Kappa Epsilon and is a business administration major.

Philip Tharp, a biology and general science major from Paden City, is the son of Mrs. Betty Lee McCombs of the same town. He is a member of the Theta Xi social fraternity and was L'il Abner during last semester's Sadie Hawkins activities.

The qualifications for this coveted position of being spirit leader of the GSC fans included the following: he must be a male senior who has a good academic record and who has never lettered in any sport at Glenville. The most well-known qualification that a Pioneer can have is a beard. Like this year's Pioneer, Kim Wilson, the winner will wear the frontiersman uniform and will tote the replica of the 58 caliber on two pianos by Kimberly Smith and Jackie Stricker.

The four spirituals which comprise the last group, while being of the same genre, are however each different in their style. The Steal Away is a recent arrangement by Norman Luboff and has an accompanying group: piano, guitar, string bass, and percussion. David Bush is soloist in the "My God Is a Rock."

A group of pieces in the "pop" vein will be presented by the recently formed small vocal group called the Minnesingers. Ms. Strosnider is the founder and leader of this group.

The students and faculty of GSC are invited to this concert and their support of the choir is of paramount interest to the group.

entary education major from Harrisville. For this particular type of production, Ms. Ditlow explained a few of her jobs as costume mistress.

"We are costuming a cast of ten animals and eleven humans. The humans were no trouble in costuming but when we started construction of the animal costumes we found that we needed imagination and creativity. We didn't have patterns to follow, just very complex directions; therefore, each person that constructed a costume had to rely on her own ingenuity. As costume mistress, I made quite a few of the costumes myself and delegated individual costumes to specific crew members and supervised. I have found from assuming this position that working on costumes, especially in a children's show can be one of the hardest, and most complicated technical aspects of theatre."

The rest of the technical crews are as follows: Make-up: Speech 398 Head, Joanna Icenhower, Freshman Early Childhood major from Ravenswood. Melodie Jones, a freshman elementary education major from Troy and Dave Brown, a junior speech major from Parkersburg. Heading the Set Crew is Bruce Brumage.
