Classes Aid Youth Camp

The GSC camp counseling class, Physical Education 436, in cooperation with the Community Action Assoc., the Office of WVU Extension Services, and the Gilmer County Dept. of Welfare, and the Board of Education have again sponsored the Gilmer County Youth Opportunity Camp. The Camp was held at the Gilmer Co. Recreation Center this past week with GSC coach, Tim Carney, as its director.

Nearly 100 youngsters attended the camp that boasted a well trained staff. The ratio was one counselor for every ten campers. Each of the counselors had had previous experience through the class and will be given college credit for it. During the second summer term the new class will hold two, one week, similar sessions in Braxton County.

The theme for this year's camp was "Our Mountain Heritage". The participants were exposed to such things as ceramics, gun safety, hiking, arts & crafts, folk dancing, fishing, and canoeing. Each group was led by local resource people. Evening programs were also presented for entertainment. In addition to the above the campers were transported to the college pool for swimming each afternoon.

Mrs. Virginia Taylor will serve as camp nurse and each camper will be given a complete physical examination during the week.

The purpose of the camp was to provide an opportunity to learn about West Virginia and to share worthwhile experiences with friends.

Participating in the camp as counselors were: Tim Cunningham, Sharon Wiseman, Jay Chambers, William Dobbins, Thelma Ellis, David Foutty, Debra Leeson, Joyce Marshall, Gerald Matheny and Joe Johnson.

Turner Appointed To Army Field Band

GSC is again proud to boast that another of its music students, Reginald Turner, has been appointed to the Army Field Band.

After going through regular induction procedures at Fairmont, Turner and his trumpet were auditioned at Fort Mead, Va. for the band. "Reggie" said he has been a member of the inactive Army Reserve for the past five months and will go to basic training this fall with the rank of E-2.

Following basic he will go to the Little Creek Music School at Norfolk, Va., before he is assigned to the 1st Cavalry Division at Fort Hood, Texas. His participation there will include marching as well as concert performances.

Reggie is the 18-year-old son of Harless and Rose Turner of Glenville and a 1973 graduate of Gilmer County High School.

While in high school, Reggie was a member of the band and the Modern Music Masters organization for four years. In his junior year he was fortunate in being selected to go to the Music and Art Summer Camp held at the University of Kansas.

For the past year Reggie has served GSC in its marching and stage bands.

Jack Riddle, former GSC music major, was chosen a member of the Marine Band in 1972. Riddle played the French horn.

MR. JOE HICKMAN DIRECTS PLACEMENT

Mr. Joe Hickman, Associate Professor of Education, has been given some new duties and an office and title to match. He now resides in the Pioneer Center as the Director of Placement.

The Placement Office also will assume a new role in not only the placement of graduates but now they will handle 264 and 301 Education class activities as well.

Cheerleader Camp Slated for Campus

Glenville State College will be host this summer to a one-week, Sunday through Friday, Cheerleaders' Camp-Conference which will be sponsored by the American Cheerleaders Association. The camp will open on Monday morning, July 29, and end Friday, August 2, in the forenoon.

"A.C.A. Summer Camps are designed to prepare students in all phases of cheerleading in an atmosphere of healthy fun under proper supervision," is the remark of Mr. Horan. Demonstration and participation will be provided in new routines, formations, starts, jumps, and endings with both classroom work and actual drills in performing.

Those attending the 1974 Summer Camp-Conference will be housed in Glenville State College's residence halls, and will have their meals in the College Food Service, Pioneer Center. Summer Student Teaching

How would you like to spend your mornings swimming, forecasting the weather, carving soap, or doing copper art. Fifteen students from schools all over Gilmer county do just that. The students range from primary grades to the junior high level. There are three classes and one special group that are directed by four GSC student teachers.

The primary class furnishes decorated nametags for the students daily. The special class reports the weather, forecast to the school each day. Eskimoes are the subject for the Intermediate class and the setting up of a trading post is one of their goals. The junior high class can be found anywhere on campus measuring everything and anybody, for their unit on measurements.

This is the second year for the school, but it is not an annual thing. All materials for the school are furnished by the student teachers. The college furnishes no funds whatsoever, and there is no tuition charged. This year's class is the largest class yet, and many children were turned away from the school simply because the class was full. This class is the only activity in all of Gilmer County for children grades one through eight.

Some of the activities the children have had include, a salute to America's birthday, a Mini Olympics, and are planning a picnic for July 19.

Each of the student teachers receive 3 hours credit in the field of Special Education. Most of the children in the school are elementary level, so the student teachers have the opportunity to work with both special children and regular elementary and secondary students.

The children swim daily from 11:00 to 12:00 and are provided individual instructors from the life-saving renewal class. The students are planning a Swimming Olympics at the end of the school.

The school started June 17 and will end July 18. Mrs. Starkey, director of the school, had this to say about it. "The kids in this school are very bright and I hope the extra attention they are receiving in the areas of math and reading will help them with next year's classes. This school is a good thing for both students and student teachers, and has a promising future here in Gilmer County."

Registration for the second term of summer school will be held on Wednesday, June 10 at the window of the Office of Academic Affairs. Students should see their advisors first. If one is not taking more than 11 hours for the entire summer, he may sign up at the window. If he wishes to take more than 11 hours, he should see Dean Maze.

After class cards are received, students will proceed to the computer center and business office.

Display Of Books Begins Next Week

Robert F. Kidd Library, Glenville State College, will sponsor the annual BOOKS ON EXHIBIT book display, from July 15 to August 9. The exhibit will feature books for children from preschool through sixth grade covering science, social studies, picture books, fiction, biography, and other areas. Selected professional titles accompanying the children's books will be available for viewing. Teachers, librarians, students, parents, and all other interested persons may view these newest offerings of 110 outstanding publishers at the library Monday through Friday, from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Accompanying the exhibit will be free catalogs and order checklists. Anyone wishing to order any of the books will complete the checklist. A carbon copy of the checklist order will be returned to BOOKS ON EXHIBIT to be used as a chance on a cash award.

Male Secretaries Hired

Male secretaries are being employed as clerk typists in both the Education Department and the Registrar's Office during the summer term. Sam Wilfong is working for Mr. Hickman and Dr. Bagford, and, David Perrine is working for Dean Maze. Their jobs range from answering the phone, to typing dittos and letters.

When asked which was the better secretary; male or female, one employer replied, "I don't think it's important whether it's a man or a woman. It's how well the person does the job that counts."

Fishing Anyone?

If you think the above photograph is intended to stimulate attention to the scenic beauty around our campus you're wrong, unless you consider potholes in pavement an enhancing sight. The picture is supposed to capture the sight of the deteriorating section of road located at the top of the hill in front of the P. E. building. In September of 1972, Dianna Moore, editor-in-chief at the time, wrote an editorial pleading for repair of this section of pavement.

But, if you've driven over that series of "mini-craters" recently, you can surely agree with me on this two part conclusion: either the personnel (responsible for campus road repair) did not get substantial motivation, or in the case that they did, they remedied the problem with some material which self-destructed in one day of average use. Today as I surveyed the scene with my handy-dandy Yashica camera, I decided that if the road is not repaired, big deal! It has definite possibilities as 1. a student-faculty fishing resort 2. an obstacle course for aspiring bicyclists or 3. on-campus study of the moon's surface. Jest you say? Why not? The big laugh comes when the mechanic places a $50.00 repair bill in your hand.

Driver's Ed. Class Initiated At GSC

GSC recently initiated a new field of study in the comprehension program of Physical Education, Health and Safety by completing 15 hours in the field of Health and Safety, students may be certified to teach Driver Education in West Virginia.

James Riffle, Assistant Professor of Safety Education, is the course instructor. Presently he is serving on the state committee for the revision of the curriculum guide for driver education in West Virginia and was appointed by President Wilburn to the Campus Safety Committee.

Mr. Riffle anticipates completing the second summer session with approximately 40 instructors trained. He estimates that the program should be turning out 50-60 new instructors each year.

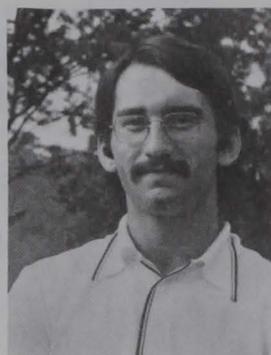

Mr. Jack Chapman, owner of Glenville Texaco and Motor Sales, furnished the driver ed. vehicle. The car, a blue Plymouth Fury III with a white vinyl roof, was ordered especially to match Glenville State College's school colors. It is equipped with radial tires, air conditioning, a radio, and a special adjustable power seat for the driver.

Plans have already been drawn up and approved by the State Supervisor of Driver Education for the construction of a multiple vehicle driving range which will be located behind the Forestry Building. The range, which is an off-street area which includes various types of driving skills that a student might find in regular traffic conditions, should be completed by next spring.

Upon completion of the driving range Mr. Riffle anticipates several new programs such as motorcycle instruction, the training of truck and bus drivers, a bicycle safety course, which would appeal to elementary students, and eventually a course that might train tractor-trailer operators.

In the future, Mr. Riffle hopes to have driving simulators in order to teach his students in their operation. He also envisions the use of multi-media, which is similar in operation of the simulators, but uses films, filmstrips, and transparencies in the training of driver ed. instructors.

Grades will not be mailed until the end of summer school, according to Mack K. Samples, Associate Dean of Academic Affairs. Faculty members are asked to cooperate by letting students know final grades by posting them. Complete grade reports will be mailed after Aug. 9.

Jeff Wynne, Graduate, Is Professional Boxer

Jeff Wynne, a 1973 GSC graduate, has dropped his amateur status to pick up the gloves of a professional boxer.

Jeff won the Golden Gloves competition in Charleston his senior year and was runner up in the finals in Huntington. He fought in the "middle-weight" classification.

While in college Jeff was a physical education major, an art minor and a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wynne of Summersville and currently lives with his wife, Nancy, in Sutton.

Ripley Golfer Recruited

Golf Coach, Tim Carney has announced the confirmation of a new recruit. Rick Simmons, a 5'11", 185 lbs. 1974 graduate of Ripley High School has acquired many course victories during his high school career.

During Simmons's senior year as Captain of the Ripley team, he was the Little Kanawha Conference individual champion and finished fifth in the state tournament. The past two summers have brought to him nine victories, being in the top ten players, in some 29 amateur men's tournaments he has entered.

Rick is the eighteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Simmons of Ripley.

An all-campus picnic will be held on the Verona Maple lawn next Thursday, July 18 from 4 - 5:30 p.m., according to Mr. Wayne Harkins, Director of Food Services.

The menu will include chicken, hot dogs, baked beans, potato salad, slaw, watermelon and cantaloupe plus a choice of beverages.

Mike McLaughlin Is WVIAC Leader

Former WVIAC referee Mike McLaughlin has been appointed as the second commissioner of the West Virginia Conference.

President Wilburn, past president of the conference, along with Dr. John W. Saunders, president of Beckley College and Dr. Wendell G. Hardy, president of Fairmont College, made up the screening committee.

Twelve applications were made, four of which were eliminated in the first screening. Finally, two applications were submitted to the Conference Board of Directors for interviews.

The final decision was close but the committee felt McLaughlin was better prepared by his education and enthusiasm for the conference activities.

McLaughlin is a graduate of WVU where he obtained a degree as an industrial engineer. Presently, he resides in Parkersburg where he plans to establish his office.

The new commissioner began work the first day following his appointment, July 2.

Coaches Help Lead 2nd Football Camp

The second session of Coach Bill Hanlin's football camps, June 23-28, was an even bigger success than the first with 85 young men participating.

Many area high school coaches helped Coach Hanlin in his directing of the camps.

Dan Arthur of East Bank High School, coached his alma mater to the West Virginia AAA championship both in 1971 and in 1973.

Parkersburg South High School's head coach Mike Hayden started coaching in 1965 at Massillon and has been at Parkersburg South since 1970.

Coach Daniel "Buddy" James of Parkersburg High is also coaching his alma mater. In 1973 the Big Reds also went to the state playoffs but lost to East Bank.

GSC Alumni, Mike Reed, presently is head football coach and athletic director at Ripley High School. Coach Reed graduated from Glenville in 1964.
