Cast Presents Williams' Play

The Southeastern Shakespeare Co. will present Tennessee Williams' challenging masterpiece, A Streetcar Named Desire, Monday, Nov. 10, at Glennville State College Auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

A raw, passionate human cry, STREETCAR has quickly become a twentieth century classic, sharing with Arthur Miller's DEATH OF A SALESMAN and Eugene O'Neill's LONG DAY'S JOURNEY INTO NIGHT, the epic title of an American Tragedy.

Bursting upon the Broadway Stage in 1947, Williams' masterpiece transformed drama into realism, acting into "the method," Marlon Brando into an instant star, and its author into a Pulitzer Prize winning dramatist.

Southeastern Shakespeare revives the towering conflicts of Blanche, Stanley, and Stella—their cruelty, compassion and desire laid bare amid the tangled jungle of human emotions.

The professional cast includes actors from seven states. The show is produced by Henderson born Charles M. Smith, founder and manager of the non-profit Southeastern Shakespeare Co., and is directed by Los Angeles based Michael Hankins.

Seniors now involved in their Professional Semester are reminded that the National Teachers Examination will be held Saturday, November 8th, (tomorrow) in the gymnasium, beginning promptly at 8:30.

The common exam measuring general achievement will take place between 8:30 and 12:30. Area examinations will be held at 1:30 and will last until 4:15.

Transfer student Chet Fleming stops by the bookstore to pick up supplies between classes on a busy day.

Editor of 'Hillbilly' Writes New Book

On September 30th Mr. Jim Comstock was a guest speaker in the Appalachian Culture class offered here on Tuesday evenings. Mr. Comstock is a well-known humorist, author of Best of Hillbilly, and editor of a weekly newspaper, West Virginia Hillbilly. The humorist's stories were not only entertaining but they also gave the class members an understanding of the nature of Appalachian humor.

For example, Mr. Comstock tells us that it has been the custom for the Army Corps of Engineers to name a newly built dam after the town closest to its location. An exception was made, however, for the Summersville Dam in Nicholas County—The town of Gad is actually closer to the dam but... "Gad Dam?"

Mr. Comstock also noted that occasionally satire can get a jouralist like himself into trouble. In an attempt to ridicule the current "Do-It-Yourself" trend, he wrote a satirical article for his newspaper called, "How to Take Out Your Own Appendix." Taking his article seriously, readers wrote from all over (one letter even came from England) inquiring about his technique! Stashed away in his desk is an article entitled, "How to Embalm Your Own Loved Ones," but he fears his readers are not quite ready for such satire.

Mr. Comstock's book, Best of Hillbilly, a collection of stories from his newspaper, is available in GSC's library.

"See No Evil" sponsored by the GSC Alumni Assoc., will be presented on Tuesday, November 11 at 8:00 p.m. in the auditorium. Admission is $1.00.

This terrifying and suspenseful story of a helpless blind girl terrorized by a psychopathic killer is both gripping and thrill-packed.

Pre-Registration Deadline Is Set

How many times do you run on the last day of registration trying to find your adviser to set up your next semester's curriculum, only to find that they are in Timbuktoo and won't be back for three days?

The best way to avoid this would be to find your adviser early and don't have these last minute problems to take care of.

The schedule for spring semester will be out no later than November 20, although it is hoped by the Dean's office that they will be finished early. These schedules will be made so that you will not have to worry about revisions.

Registration for next semester will be the week after Thanksgiving break. Why don't you pick up a schedule and get the help you need to graduate when you plan to? Remember, if you make up your schedule, putting it off until the last minute, and lack three hours to graduate, it is no one's fault but your own.

Vet Still Learning

by Becky Potasnik

Every college and university in the world displays a wide spectrum of individual personalities among its students, and unfortunately many go unnoticed. Glennville State College is no exception. One unique individual enrolled at GSC is Chet Fleming, a transfer student from West Virginia State College.

Fleming, a high school drop-out, is a veteran of the U.S. Army, but he is not the average Army vet, either. Shortly after his sixteenth birthday, he enlisted in the Army, beginning his 20 year and 9 month stint in the service. During this time he served in Japan, Korea, Vietnam and Alaska. While in Alaska and Vietnam "Chet" began to work with Explosive Ordinance Disposal, which is in layman's terms, bomb disposal.

He retired from the military in 1969 and, one thing leading to another, his experience with bomb disposal qualified him for the position he held from 1969 until May 1973—a Security Specialist with the Secret Service in Washington, D.C., a job which has taken him to over 20 foreign countries, not to mention the continental U.S. and Hawaii. During this interim, he worked in President Nixon's security detail, making sure places were free from bombs and other hazards which would endanger the life of the Chief Executive. While in service, Fleming received his GED diploma and after resigning from his position with the Secret Service, he moved his family to Harmony, a rural community in Roane County, and enrolled at West Virginia State College. Transferring to GSC as a senior with a 3.5 overall average, Fleming is a business administration and management major. On October 23, he and his wife, JoAnn, opened their own business, a Montgomery Ward catalog store, in Spencer.

Chet Fleming is not the average college student. He is a husband, the father of 4 sons, a 20 year veteran of the U. S. Army, a former employee of the Secret Service and now he is in business for himself. And he's still learning.

The residence halls will be closed on Tuesday, November 25 at 5:00 p.m. and will reopen on Sunday, November 30 at 12:00 noon.

The noon meal on Tuesday, November 25 will be the last meal served until the brunch meal on Sunday, November 30, 1975.

Library Utilizes ERIC Project

ERIC is an acronym circulated a lot around educational circles these days. It stands for Educational Resources Information Center, and was originally organized by the Office of Education in the mid-sixties. It includes a network of sixteen clearing houses located at host institutions throughout the country. These clearinghouses are in such diverse areas of education as Higher Education (Washington, D.C.); Early Childhood Education (Urbana, Illinois); Handicapped and Gifted Children (Reston, Virginia); Reading and Communication Skills (Urbana, Illinois); and Test, Measurement and Evaluation (Princeton, New Jersey) to name five of the sixteen.

The purpose of this network is to collect, sort out, catalog, abstract, and index documents which come to it from individuals, educational institutions, schools and groups. This material is then made available to readers around the country on microfiche. In some instances, dissemination as microfiche and/or hardcopy is inhibited by copyright problems.

The ERIC system as contained in the Robert F. Kidd Library is made up of three parts: The Resources in Education periodical (prior to January, 1975, it was called Research in Education) abstracts and indexes; the microfiche; and the Thesaurus of Descriptors.

In Resources in Education are contained abstracts which are given an ERIC accession number, six digits preceded by the letters ED. While Lohr, chairman of the Committee on Education of the W.Va. House of Delegates, are co-chairmen of the committee.

The committee will also meet with students on student congress and the faculty at a time to be announced.

Walk-A-Thon Earns $300

The GSC Christian Fellowship earned over $300 by walking twenty miles last Saturday.

The money will go to the Interfaith Chapel Fund for the West Virginia Rehabilitation Center at Institute.

Twenty-three students participated in the walk from Sand Fork to Route 33 and back. They also made a two mile detour on a side road to make it a full twenty miles.

Two extra hardy souls, Bill Cochran and Bill Hutchinson, jogged to Grantsville and back for the cause.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Atkins had beans and cornbread ready for the walkers when they got back to Glennville.

PAY

VA.

Pay Increase Is Necessary

The West Virginia teachers are to be congratulated on their newly appropriated raise. It seems that Saturday's flourish of over seven thousand teachers at the capital and the fact that West Virginia teachers' salaries were ranked 49th among the 50 states stirred sympathy in the hearts of the legislators who allowed the passage of the bill.

Most legislators interviewed by newsmen from local TV stations favored the ratification of the bill, feeling the educators a well-deserving group. However, one particular legislator who caught the attention of this member of the news media had a rather different view. He considers the teacher to be just another state employee not to be granted a pay hike as a separate group. Obviously, this particular legislator never spent four years of college studying everything from general science to child psychology in pursuit of a certificate of teaching. He has, undoubtedly, never been harassed by an irate parent, or faced losing his job for disciplining a child in a manner he believed to be right. He has never had to deal on a daily one-to-one basis with impressionable youths who will eventually be the leaders of our country. If he had, perhaps his view would not so readily equate the teachers' profession with a school cook or an errand boy for a state office. If he considered that disrespectful and uninterested students are an everyday part of today's teachers' professions, perhaps he too, would have voted "yes" to the raise.

We can only be thankful that the sympathizers outnumbered the scrutinizers. (I say "we" because many of us will soon be involved in the teaching profession.) There is still evidence that good educators are appreciated, even in this day and time.

Vote 'Yes' December 3, 4

As a student at Glenville State College have you ever wondered why there is "never" any contemporary entertainment on campus? Why is it that other schools can book top-notch groups while Glenville can only get groups "on the way out"?

Then there is always the end of the spectrum where the athletic teams stay. The past few years seem to have been some of the most productive for our college athletic teams. Since 1972, the year the GSC basketball team finished third in the entire nation, GSC's athletic achievements include a national second place finish by the 1973 football team, national competition by the golf team, national recognition by the college bowling team and several individual All-Americans. Still Glenville continues to field teams with old, decrepit uniforms and equipment despite the constant success of the programs.

The answer to these two problems is relatively simple, money. The reason why Glenville doesn't get the Doobie Brothers or the Allman Brothers in concert is because we can't afford them. For the current year (75-76) GSC had $5,575 to expend for campus entertainment. In today's market, $5,575 fails to "go very far." For the money we have to spend, we actually make the most of our funds. With more money we could have groups like the Allman Brothers, but not till then.

In 1972 the entire athletic purchasing capital (which includes buying equipment, reconditioning equipment, and the lodging and meals for every team, etc.) was $31,000 with actual expenditures of $35,000. Today in 1975 the actual purchasing capital is $30,000 with actual expenditures expected to be approximately $37,000. As each of us know the dollar of 1975 is super-inflated when compared to the buying power of the 1972 dollar. When coupled with the factor of having less operating capital than in 1972 the inflation literally destroys the chance for new equipment.

Until more money is allocated to the various departments of GSC, relatively few improvements can be expected since, to use a cliché, "one cannot make a silk purse from a sow's ear."

Recently Student Congress has submitted a proposal to increase student fees by eleven dollars per semester. As of now Glenville State College is the least expensive school in West Virginia. With the tentative increase of eleven dollars, GSC would still remain as the least expensive of West Virginia's colleges or universities.

The following is a designation of where the tentative fee increase will be used:

|  |         |
|--|---------|
| Programming (Student Entertainment)..... | $5.00  |
| Athletic Fee.....                        | 1.50    |
| Cultural Affairs.....                    | 1.50    |
| Yearbook.....                            | 1.00    |
| Student Congress.....                    | .50     |
| Radio Station.....                       | .50     |
| Speech and Debate.....                   | .30     |
| Music and Band.....                      | .30     |
| Mercury.....                             | .20     |
| Health Fee.....                          | .20     |
|  | $11.00 |

Another factor in the tentative increase will be the discontinuation of the Student User fee concerning athletics. With the discontinuation of the User fee, students would no longer pay admission to any home athletic event.

The election concerning the fee increase has been set for December 3rd and 4th. This action was initiated to keep Glenville a progressive school. Your support of this increase is a support of your college and is ultimately action to benefit yourself.

On The Bench

How time flies! Just think tomorrow's game between the Concord Mt. Lions and the GSC Pioneers is the last regular game of the season for both teams this year.

Although it is the last regular season game for the two teams, the winner of tomorrow's game, either the Pioneers or the Mt. Lions, will be playing in the Shrine Bowl as the Southern Division Champions.

Odds makers around the state, plus a few other football experts, pick the Mt. Lions as a solid favorite over the Pioneers.

Everything looks in Concord's favor; they have the size, the speed, the quickness. But the Pioneers on the other hand, have the home field advantage, the thought of revenging last year's defeat, and pride.

With these ingredients tomorrow's game should be a rip-roarin' affair.

FRUIT ADDS ANOTHER

Jerome Fruit, the senior safety for the Pioneers added another interception to his school record for most interceptions in a career when he picked off a pass in the WV State game. Fruit has 24 interceptions in his four years at Glenville.

OTHER SCHOOLS' RECORDS

A couple of other school records could be broken tomorrow if split end Bob Shaffer and quarterback Chris Andersen have good days in the field.

Shaffer needs four receptions in the game to break the most passes caught in one season record. Gary Blake and Steve Buffington hold the record with 31 catches.

Andersen can break his own school record of pass completion percentage a season if he has a good throwing day. So far this season he has completed 60% of his passes; the record is 53.2%.

IS THE BUS OVER THE HILL??

If you thought the Pioneers had trouble on the field last Saturday against WV State, you ought to hear their troubles just getting to the game.

To make a long story short the college bus which was carrying the football team to Institute broke down on Sand Ridge Hill in Calhoun County and they had to get a GSC Forestry Bus to take them the rest of the way.

The game started an hour late because of the break down. It wasn't the first time the bus has broken down going to a ballgame, last year it happened to the basketball team when they were going to WV Tech. That game started an hour late, also. The women's team seems to have had trouble with the lighting—they can travel only in daylight!

State Jackets Crush G-Men

The Glenville Pioneers took another one on the head last Saturday when the West Virginia State Yellow Jackets upended the Pioneers 24-3. The G-Men had all sorts of trouble even getting to the game as the college bus had one of its frequent breakdowns on the way down to to Institute.

The Yellow Jackets never trailed in the game. Their first points came on a 33 yard field goal by Dennis Struble with 4:10 left in the first quarter. That 3-0 lead carried them into the second half.

In the second half, the Yellow Jackets got on the scoreboard for the second time when quarterback Jim Charley threw a 53 yard touchdown pass to Jeff Good with 4:11 left in the third stanza. Struble kicked the extra point.

Trailing 10-0, the G-Men took the ensuing kickoff and drove the ball to the State eight yard line before quarterback Chris Andersen was thrown for an eight yard loss. The Pioneers then had to settle for a 34 yard field goal by kicker Bob Casto.

WV State came right back on the next series of plays to score their second touchdown. Nate Jones raced over from 25 yards out. The key play in that drive was a 38 yard pass completion to Good. Struble again kicked the PAT.

The Yellow Jackets' last touchdown came on a 12 yard run by Good. It was Good's second touchdown of the game. Struble kicked the PAT to make the final score 24-3.

State led in almost all of the statistics. They had 17 first downs to the G-Men's 7. State also had 181 yards rushing compared to Glenville's 46. The Yellow Jackets had 156 yards passing compared to the Pioneers' 56. The only statistic Glenville was better in was punting as Casto punted 6 times for a 44.2 average.

The Pioneers play the Concord Mt. Lions tomorrow at Rohrbough Field starting at 1:30. This game will determine the WVIAC Southern Division Championship.

Southern Crown At Stake!

Tomorrow's game against the Concord Mt. Lions marks the last regular season contest for nine seniors on the Pioneer squad. These seniors were a part of the 1973 NAIA National Runners-Up and this year they could help the Pioneers to a WVIAC Southern Division Crown if they beat the Mt. Lions tomorrow.

Chris Andersen is from Hannibal, Ohio. He is a three year letterman and in 1973 he was the All-WVIAC quarterback.

Art Ausberry is from Strasburg, Virginia. Ausberry, who is a two year letterman, plays the middle linebacker position.

Dan Clevenger is from Parkersburg. Clevenger is a two year letterman and in 1974 he was selected All-WVIAC at the defensive tackle position.

Don Evans is from Sistersville, WV. He is two year letterman at the offensive guard position.

Jerome Fruit is from Oak Hill, WV. Fruit is a three year letterman and he was 1974 All-WVIAC selection. He is also a co-captain on this year's squad.

Rick Lemley is from St. Marys, WV. He is a two year letterman at the running back position.

Joe McIntyre is from Clarksburg, WV. He is an offensive guard and has lettered one year.

Willie Marshall is from Oak Hill, WV. Marshall has lettered two years. In 1973 he was selected All-WVIAC at defensive end.

Ted Williams is from Webster Springs, WV. Williams has lettered two years at the linebacker position.

Alumni Game Scheduled

The Glenville State College basketball team will hold a scrimmage game against the GSC alumni tomorrow night in the college gymnasium, starting at 8:00 p.m.

The annual event will bring back such former Pioneer standouts as Earl Hawkins, Steve Datcher and Jackie Joe Robinson, just to name a few.

This year's Pioneer squad is taking shape and coach Jesse Lilly feels this squad, by the start of the second semester, could be the best team he has coached in his ten years as head coach of the Pioneers.

This alumni game could very well back up Lilly's thinking on the strength of the Pioneers. If you don't have anything scheduled for tomorrow night, come up and watch them and see if you agree.

CHRIS ANDERSEN
Can break own record.

BOB SHAFFER
Needs four catches to set record.

Pioneerettes Emerge 3rd

The Glenville State College women's volleyball team came in last place in a triangular meet held at Salem College last Wednesday night.

Host team Salem won the meet while the West Liberty Hilltoppers and the Glenville Pioneerettes came in second and third, respectively.

The Hilltoppers beat the Pioneerettes in the first match by the scores of 15-9 and 15-12.

In the Pioneerettes' second match, the Salem Tigers beat them two out of three games to win the match. The Tigers won the first game 15-5 then the G-Women came back to take the second game 15-13, but the Tigers won the deciding game 15-4.

The Pioneerettes' next meet is on November 10 at Salem.

Rosters for volleyball are due Nov. 19 (Wednesday) by 3 p.m. Rosters may be picked up in Coach Milliken's office.

There will be a $2 entry fee and a $2 forfeiture fee and they must be submitted with the roster.

Car Pools Evaluated

by Joyce Aldridge

Undoubtedly, at one time or another during the college year, many students who own cars will want to drive home for a weekend. However, the all important question will arise, "Do I have enough money for gas?" If the student is anything like this empty-pocketed writer, the answer is a big, fat NO. But there is a way out of the predicament, which doesn't involve a lot of physical or mental labor, either. It is called carpooling.

Now, carpooling does not mean running your car in the nearest swimming pool to collect insurance money, then hopping the nearest Greyhound home. It simply means offering a fellow student a lift to his hometown, if it is on your way, in exchange for a few dollars worth of gas. This gets both of you home, along with cutting down pollution and easing traffic snarls.

There are very simple ways to form your own carpool, the most simple and least exhausting being to post a notice on every bulletin board you lay eyes on, telling who you are, when you are leaving, and where you are going. Of course, there is word of mouth too. This should be enjoyable for those who enjoy striking up conversations with strangers. But don't get too carried away and invite too many to ride with you. One simply does not put 7 people in an MGB. You will not only have gas money flowing out your ears, but arms and legs, also.

Below is a chart, telling how much money can be saved, according to the type of car and the number of passengers. Read it carefully. Then begin to plan your trip home this weekend!

| type of car | round-trip commute | annual cost of driving alone |          |          |          |          | a car pool saves |          |          |          |          |

these abstracts are in numerical order by accession number, they are under such broad classes as "CE-Career Education," etc.

With each abstract is provided author (individual or corporate); title; agency of origin; sponsoring agency, if any; price for hard and microfiche copy, if available; descriptors and identifiers and the abstract of the document. From the abstract, the user can go to the complete document on microfiche, located in the ERIC/NEWSBANK Room on the first floor of the library. The microfiche collection in the library is complete from the first document, dated in 1960, to the present date.

The indexes at the back of each issue of Resources in Education provide access to the microfiche. There are three indexes: author, institution, and subject, under which holdings are listed by title and accession number.

A third part of the system as employed here at the library is the Thesaurus of Descriptors. This is actually a listing of terms, used for indexing and for searching within the ERIC system. These terms are specially geared for computer searches.

The Thesaurus lists main terms, and all related terms that are broader, narrower, or synonymous with the main term. The Thesaurus is consulted mainly to see what subject areas are covered. It may be used for searching documents in related subject fields.

Resources in Education abstracts and index-is located in the reference and index section of the library.

The ERIC services are vital to people in any area of education. The chief benefits of these materials are their currency, derivation from empirical study, and the ease of search and use. Because of these factors, teachers especially would find them essential to their work.

Readers for microfiche are on the first floor of the library.

16 Babies Born In Music Dept.

A miraculous thing happened on the way to the Music Department on November 2, 1975 at 7:15 p.m. in room 12 (Mr. Vineyard's office). Sixteen perfect baby guppies were born in his office aquarium.

At 7:00 p.m. Mr. Vineyard peeked in his little aquarium and saw nothing, but on a second inspection at 7:15 he discovered what he thought were gnats. When he suddenly realized that there were 16 baby guppies, he quickly transplanted them into a second aquarium to protect them from their cannibalistic parents.

Sorry, but all sixteen are promised to Mrs. Vineyard's second grade class at Spencer Elementary. However, I am sure that any helpful advice on how to care for sixteen baby fancy-guppies will be appreciated.

Term Paper Clinic Aids Established by Library

Term papers generally are due at the busiest point in the semester. Despite our good intentions most of us wait until the last minute to get them done. So it goes.

This year the library is offering some relief. A term paper clinic will be given in the library between Nov. 17 and Nov. 25 from 2:00 to 4:00 daily and on the evening of Nov. 19 from 4:00 to 10:00.

The methodology will be for a librarian to work individually with interested students concerning their specific topics. Find out what information is available on your topic. Ask questions and get answers. For further information see John Collins or Mary Kennedy in the library.
