Brown Speaks At S.E.A. Meet

"Children's television is there, whether you like it or not," spoke Dr. Pam Brown of the Education Department. Dr. Brown was guest speaker at the monthly meeting of Student Education Association. "Children's Television-On or Off" was the topic. The meeting was held in the Media Room on Feb. 17.

Dr. Brown showed slides of the Appalachia Education Laboratory Program. This program, which was aired on WOAY Oak Hill, was called "Around the Bend", and consisted of experienced and inexperienced people researching the effect of television of children. Dr. Brown showed a film of the 3-4-5 Club (for Anglos, Chicanos, and Blacks), and this film contained the Lion Hunt.

However, the most enjoyable part of the evening was when Dr. Brown showed excerpts from Sesame Street.

Dr. Brown mentioned she would not hold the program over an hour, but she need not have worried. Dr. Brown could have held her audience spellbound for the entire evening with nobody bothering to look at their watches.

Next month's meeting will be held March, 16, and Mr. H.Y. Clark will be the guest speaker. The S.E.A. membership now stands at 118 people.

$50 For Records To Be Given Away

The Glennville State College Chapter of the Music Educators National Conference held its meeting Thursday, February 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the band room. The members are giving away a $50.00 gift certificate for records from Camelot Music in the Midletown Mall at Fairmont. Donations are fifty cents each or three for $1.00. Tickets may be obtained from any MENC member.

Also discussed was the West Virginia Music Educators Association Spring Conference to be held April 1-3 at Marshall University in Huntington. There will be workshops, concerts, and a student recital in which each college will have two representatives of the Music Department performing.

Due to the resignation of MENC president Jane Lowe, Janet Griffin, former vice-president, will be serving as president. Jim Anderson will be serving as vice-president.

A new computer system will be installed by March 6 in the GSC computer system. Anyone wanting to see the apparatus is welcome to visit. A new student operator, Tom Mills, has been hired to operate the new equipment. Tom is from Parkersburg and has his major in Business.

Speech Team Wins

The Glennville State College Forensics team scored another impressive victory as it won the second place sweepstakes trophy at the Buckeye Invitational Individual Events Tourney held this past weekend at Kent State University, Kent, Ohio. Competing in the tournament which hosted 30 schools, Glennville accrued 102 sweepstakes points with only nine single entries. Defiance College, the winning sweepstakes school, had 18 entries and 134 sweepstakes points in the event. Glennville beat such other schools as Oberlin, Youngstown University, Dayton University, Ohio Wesleyan, and Miami University.

Under the direction of Katherine Leisering, the GSC forensics team won five more trophies, three of them first place, had seven out of ten entries (an impressive 70%) reach the finals, and added three new qualifiers for the National Finals to be held in April in Los Angeles, Calif. Trophies were given only to the top three finalists in each category.

Tina Crump, for the first time in Glennville Forensics history, won the Prose Interpretation category for the second contest in a row. Ms. Crump won Prose two weeks ago at Georgetown College, Ky.

Dorothy Wright scored an impressive victory in Extemporaneous Interpretation of Poetry. This category requires the contestant to interpret a poem or series of poems, and write an appropriate introduction and transition. The contestant has 30 minutes to prepare the presentation. Ms. Wright went through three rounds and finals, and thus had to prepare four separate and different programs.

The Duo Team of Judy Ditlow and Brenda Henthorn took first place in Drama Duo, the first time on a Glennville Duo team, with their superb presentation of a cutting from Noel Coward's Blithe Spirit. Ms. Henthorn and Barb Stemple also finaled with their duo, The Bad Seed, finishing sixth.

Mark Hickman finaled and placed third in Persuasive Speaking. Judy Ditlow, in addition to her Duo victory, finaled in Informative Speaking, placing fourth and Barb Stemple finaled in Prose Interpretation, placing fifth.

A word must be said about the valiant efforts of Tina Crump and Mark Hickman in Informative Speaking. Upon arrival at the contest, it was discovered that Informative was the only category lacking enough contestants to make it a qualifying event at the nationals. Informative was short by two contestants. Ms. Leisering offered the services of Ms. Crump, who had been working on an informative speech, but was not ready yet to give it, and Mr. Hickman who had no speech. Minutes before the contest, Dorothy Wright and Mark Hickman collaborated on a brilliant informative effort on "Afros". Mr. Hickman went through three rounds with the speech and even managed to pick up a sweepstakes point, by finishing third in round one. Thus, Tina Crump and Mark Hickman made it possible for Judy Ditlow's finalist placement finish for the nationals.

This week, Glennville will hit the road again to travel to Mansfield, Pa. for yet another tournament. Only part of the team will make the trip:

Ms. Wright Is Glamour Girl

Ms. Dorothy Lynn Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wright of Beckley, W. Va., is the winner of the 1976 Glamour Girl Contest, at Glennville State College, sponsored by Glamour Magazine. Ms. Wright is a language arts major with a minor in mathematics. She has been actively involved in various organizations on the GSC campus. She has served as a GSC cheerleader and was prominent in the organization of the campus Blacks United group. She has also won national acclaim for her accomplishments on the GSC forensics team of which she now serves as team captain.

Ms. Wright was chosen as Glamour Girl by a 10 member publication committee. She was judged by her records of achievement in academic studies, extracurricular activities on campus or in the community, and by her essay. If Ms. Wright should be chosen among the top ten contestants of the country, she will receive an all-expense paid trip to New York to collect a $500 cash prize and will receive recognition in Glamour magazine.

You Hear No Evil? Or Anything Else!!

Did you ever notice how many people talk and how few people listen?

In any congregation of people, ranging in number from two to a thousand to infinity, this observation can readily be made. Everyone wants to be heard but many don't stop to realize that probably nobody is listening to a word they are saying.

There is nothing more disheartening and ego-deflating than to tell an exciting story or a humble confession to someone when you suddenly notice the person you are taking into your confidence may as well be a million miles away. We are all guilty from time to time of this inconsiderate crime. There are certain times when one has simply lost his concentration. The very saddest time this occurs is at midnight when a friend calls long distance with a problem and the listener is either asleep or absorbed in the Tonight Show.

This problem of the absence of listeners exists not only in personal situations but also in education -- namely the classroom. Many students fall asleep upon immediate entry into a classroom and do not regain consciousness until he notices that everyone is filing out of the room. We have speech classes, ranging from oration to persuasion, but what good will they do when their audience is daydreaming?

Perhaps the world should take notice to this Editor's pet peeve. In my opinion there should be a new program introduced into education where children would be taught at an early age, not only to read, write, and speak correctly, but also to listen with sensibility.

The world would be a much happier and more harmonious place to live if only fewer people talked and more people listened.

New English Redefined

In a recent Mercury, dictionaries were described that perform special functions regarding the definitions of words and phrases in the English language. Another dictionary that answers question on new and unusual terms is the BARNHART DICTIONARY OF NEW ENGLISH SINCE 1963 (Barnhart/Harper-Row, 1973)-R423/B262, which performs a task not unlike the Oxford English Dictionary. It records new terms, old words used in new contexts, and phrases.

"Beautiful People" is a term used much in the late sixties, and recorded in three locations in 1970, according to citations listed in this dictionary. The use of "bar mitzvah" as a verb -- to confirm a thirteen-year-old boy in the Synagogue -- reflects a new trend, to make verbs out of many common, and even proper, nouns. "Xerox" is another example of a noun used as a verb. Its usage is recorded by NEW SCIENTIST and HARPER'S magazine in 1970. Terms having to do with life styles, two working parents, new music, technology, and social and ecological consciousness, are evident in this book. "Life-support systems" is an example of a current ecological phrase that came into vogue in the 1970's.

Charles Funk has collected several interesting sayings in his work, HEAVENS TO BETSY! reflects a collection of expressions strange and archaic as well as those in rather common usage. These idioms of the English language have been around a long while, and have interesting origins. One expression not heard much, but which may be remembered by some is "to sit (or stand) like a Stoughton bottle". Mr. Funk devotes three and a half pages to the history of the expression and the man for which it may be credited.

Still to be heard and used frequently are such phrases as "between the devil and the deep blue sea"; "not worth a hill of beans"; "sacred cow"; and "taken to the cleaners". For all expressions included brief origins are given, in an interesting and catchy way. This index is absolutely necessary to this volume; however, indication is not made as to which indexed phrases are main entries in the dictionary, and which are merely mentioned as synonymous with a main entry.

Charles Funk, has, nevertheless, rendered a colorful commentary on the development of the English language. HEAVENS TO BETSY!! may be found in the reference section under number R423/F998h.

GREG ARNETTE PUTS ON A SHOW FOR THE HOME FOLKS

On The Bench

by John Lilly

Next week is going to be a fun time in the big city for most basketball-hungry fans. Starting Wednesday, the WVIAC will begin its four day tournament, showcasing all its individual and team talent in the big city of Charleston.

As always, the tournament is a big success for the WVIAC, and the city of Charleston does a great job of hosting this event.

If you are a Glenville resident and a just Pioneer fan, it is always nice to get down to the "big city" and see the Pioneers in action. Basketball games are not the only things happening in that town.

This sportswriter remembers back in 1972 when the Pioneers won the tournament and there was a huge Glenville following. It seemed like everyone from Glenville was down at the tournament. The big talk that week was not who would win the tournament, but who would turn off the stop light at Glenville.

LOOKS LIKE WHEELING

It seems the Pioneers will finish ninth in the conference standing this year unless there are some upsets tomorrow night. In finishing ninth, it looks like the G-Men will be playing the fifth place Wheeling Cardinals in the first round of the WVIAC Tourney on Wednesday.

PIONEERS ARE DARKHORSES

Coach Jesse Lilly and his Pioneers finished the season with two impressive wins over WV Wesleyan and Davis and Elkins Colleges.

If Glenville can play as well as they did in the last two outings, they could slip right in as the darkhorse team.

In 1970 the Pioneers were considered the darkhorse team of the tournament and darned if they didn't win the tourney.

I wonder if history repeats itself?

JUST SPECTACULAR

If you missed the last home game of the season against Davis and Elkins, you missed one of the most spectacular performances by any Glenville athlete.

Greg Arnette, who has been in a slump since Christmas holidays, broke loose and scored an incredible 24 points in less than ten minutes of action.

The likable Arnette, who stands only at 5'11" but can jump out of the gym, hit on 10 of 14 shots from the floor and 5 of 6 from the foul line. The most unbelievable part was that he hit 10 of his last 11 shots!

MR. SOOTH IS BACK

Mr. Soothsayer is coming out of retirement just to forecast who will win the basketball tournament next week in Charleston. Soothie, as you all know, is rated right up there with Jimmy "The Greek" in the forecasting and odds-making business. So if you want a reliable source on how the tournament is going to end up, just read on.

As "Soothie" sees it, there are eight teams with outstanding chances of winning this event, including the Pioneers. But, Mr. Sooth feels, though, that Fairmont will get knocked off in the finals by the Shepherd Rams.

Just a guess, though!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Pioneers Break Bobcats' Streak

The hot-shooting Glenville Pioneers rolled over the favored WV Wesleyan Bobcats last Monday night 89-78. The Pioneer's victory broke the Bobcats' six game winning streak, and also reversed an earlier trouncing when Wesleyan crushed the G-Men 98-71.

Wesleyan jumped out to an early lead, but the young Pioneers fought back from a 35-30 deficit to take the halftime lead at 43-41. The Pioneers tossed in 65% of their shots the first half.

Glenville came out the second half and took a commanding ten point lead, but the Bobcats rallied and tied the score at 70-70 with less than eight minutes to go in the game.

But five quick Pioneer points put the G-Men back in command for the rest of the contest.

The Pioneers, who shot 51.4% for the night, was led by Roger Dingey's 24 points. Wayne Washington was close behind with 20 points. Tom Coates added 17, while Charles Warner connected on 14. Randy Datcher and Danny Pruden both added 7 points to the total.

Jerry Gatewood led the losers with 18 points. Kenny Hayes added 15, while Glenn Pietris and Mark Davis tossed in 14 points apiece.

The Pioneers raised their record to 11-15 overall and 8-11 in the WVIAC, while Wesleyan slipped to a 13-9 mark.

Arnette Sparks Pioneer Victory

The Glenville Pioneers closed out their regular season last Tuesday night when they smashed the Davis and Elkins Senators before a hometown crowd, 113-80. It was Glenville's second straight win in as many nights and its twelfth victory of the season against fifteen losses.

The big story of the game was Greg Arnette's performances. The 5' 11" jumping-jack came off the bench with less than ten minutes to go in the game and scored 24 points to thrill the home town crowd. Arnette, who is one of the crowd's favorite, connected on 10 of 14 shots from the floor and 5 of 6 from the foul line.

In the contest the streaking Pioneers jumped out to an early lead and never looked back. The G-Men held a comfortable 53-34 lead at halftime.

In the second half the Senators came out and matched baskets with the G-Men, until Arnette made his entrance into the contest. Arnette missed the first three shots he took, but then he caught fire and hit on 10 of his next 11.

Six other Pioneers scored in double figures for the hot shooting outfit. Wayne Washington tallied 16 while Tom Coates tossed in 15. Not far behind them was Roger Dingey's 14, Randy Datcher's 12, Charles Warner's 12 and Danny Pruden's 10. Other Pioneers scoring were Robert Hawkins and Gary Nottingham with 4, and Randy Hess adding 2.

The G-Men shot a blistering 56.5% from the floor compared to the Senators 39.5% Glenville out rebounded D & E 61 to 40.

The Senators were led in scoring by Randy Hill's 18 points.

Glenville finished their conference schedule with a 9-11 mark and a 12-15 overall record.

GSC Bowlers Place Third In Championship

The West Liberty Hilltoppers captured the WVIAC Bowling Championship last Saturday in Fairmont. The conference race was considered one of the tightest races ever in the league with five teams in contention for the title until the next to the last game.

West Liberty won the championship when they outbowled West Virginia Wesleyan in a one game bowl-off after they both tied at the end of the regularly scheduled games. The Glenville Pioneers tied for third with WV State and Concord. Morris Harvey came in fourth while Alderson-Broadus tied for last.

Glenville was in the title race up until the next to the last game. The Pioneers' chances were hurt badly when they got beat by West Liberty in one game by 18 pins and fell to last place.

Tom Newberry led the Pioneers with a 190 average. Newberry's high game was a 213. Mark Smith was close behind with a 188 average. Smith had games of 213, 229, and 226. Sam Ferrell followed with a 175 average, with Dave Twyman next with a 174 mark, Mike Hickman with a 162 average, and Karen Goodall averaged 160.

The Pioneers will participate in the WVIAC Bowling Tournament of March 6 and 7 in Parkersburg.

Women's Track & Field practice will start March 1 at 3:00 p.m. in the gym.

Freshman Wayne Washington slips by two Davis and Elkins defenders and scores two of his sixteen points.

Bluefield Loss 'Turned-over'

The Glenville Pioneers were turned over by the Bluefield Big Blues, 100-74 last Friday night in Bluefield. The Pioneers set a school record and possibly a conference record when they turned the ball over 43 times in the contest.

The Big Blues jumped on the Pioneers easily, scoring six points in the first minute of play. The G-Men, who hit on only 30 of 73 shots for 40%, could only score 23 points in the first half, compared to Bluefield's 49.

The Pioneers came out in the second half and outscored the Big Blues, 52-51, but the game was already decided in the first stanza.

Glenville did lead in the battle of the boards, 42-33.

All the Big Blues scored in the game, with four of them scoring in double figures. Sophomore Tim Farley was high man with 24 points, followed by Anthony Harris's 19, Jeff Mingo's 15, and Mark Page's 14.

Glenville had three players reach double figures with Charles Warner leading the way with 19 points, followed by Wayne Washington with 16 and Roger Dingey with 15.

Glenville's overall record dipped to 10-14 with a 7-10 conference mark.

Pioneers Clawed By Concord Mt. Lions

The Glenville Pioneers lost their second straight game in as many nights when the Concord Mt. Lions upended the Pioneers, 85-79. It was Glenville's fifteenth loss against ten wins this season.

Concord, who never trailed in the contest, jumped out to a seven point halftime lead at 37-30. Steve Herndon and Dave Brinkley led the Mt. Lions in their first half surge. Herndon ended up scoring 27 points for the game while Brinkley hauled in 17 rebounds and tossed in 12 points.

Glenville in the second half, sparked by Danny Pruden, came back to within one point of the Mt. Lions. Randy Datcher missed a tap-in with thirty seconds left in the game, which would have given the Pioneers a one point lead. Instead, the G-Men had to foul to get the ball back and Concord made their foul shots which secured their win.

Following Herndon and Brinkley in scoring for the Mt. Lions were John Hudson with 13 and Harry Peoples with 11.

Glenville was led by Tom Coates who tossed in 24 and grabbed 13 rebounds. Roger Dingey followed by tossing in 14 points. Pruden scored 11 points, all in the second half. Charles Warner added 10 points.

With two more regular season games to play, the Pioneers record stands at 10-15.

Pioneerettes Lose 3 More

The Glenville Pioneerettes lost three more games recently to drop their record to 3-11.

In their first contest, the gals from Davis & Elkins pulled out to a 25-6 halftime lead and managed to play the G-Women even the second half to pick up the victory.

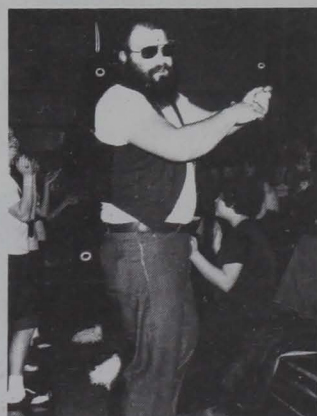

Kim West powered in 14 points for the Pioneerettes.

The G-Women lost a heartbreaker to the Marshall University gals 52-47. Glenville led at halftime 24-22, but the Thundering Herd Gals came back in the second half to take the victory away from the Pioneerettes.

West again led the G-Women with 20 points. Patsy Groves and Phyllis Taylor both added 8 points.

The Wesleyan Bobcats rolled over the Pioneerettes last Monday night 61-34. Wesleyan only led 26-19 at halftime, but they came out the second half to outscore the G-Women 35-15 and take the victory.

The Pioneerettes will travel to Rio Grande, Ohio, Monday and take on the women of Rio Grande College.

Don't forget about the Country Bluegrass Gospel Jamboree sponsored by the GSC Athletic Dept. on March 6, at the Gilmer Co. Recreation Center.

All the proceeds go to the improvement of the GSC athletics so you come out, you hear?

Theta Xi Fraternity Continues Dribble

For the tenth consecutive year the Brothers of Theta Xi Fraternity will follow the Pioneer Hoop Team to the WVIAC Conference Tournaments in Charleston via a 100 mile Dribble by some 35 brothers and pledges. On Tuesday, February 24, approximately 35 men will embark on the annual 24 hour endeavor. At 3:00 p.m., Mrs. Jean Wright, Associate Dean of Student Affairs, will toss out the ball to the fraternity members waiting in front of the Pioneer Center. From this point, it's downhill all the way (or at least until they must start up Town Hill) as the journey toward the Tourney

City gets into full swing.

These men will run alternately in pairs for the distance of 1/4 mile. As the team completes its quarter mile jaunt, the ball will be passed to the next waiting two-man team. This procedure will be followed for approximately 24 consecutive hours before the brothers arrive at the Charleston Civic Center.

Upon the arrival at the Charleston City Limits, the band of dribblers will be escorted by the Charleston City Police. This escort will lead to the doors of the Civic Center where the brothers will circle the court and ultimately dunk the ball in the GSC basket.

This year local merchants will pledge donations minimum of one cent per mile for the distance covered by the dribble. The money has been designated as a contribution to the Heart Fund.

The dribble is held in memory of the late brother Pat Wiant. Wiant was fatally injured in an auto accident while returning from Weston where he had arranged for television coverage of the 100 mile dribble.

Tournament—

Tina Crump, Mark Hickman and Brenda Henthorn. Glenville has never competed in the Mansfield Tourney and it should prove a real experience as it will consist primarily of Eastern schools, has only two rounds, instead of the customary three, and only one judge per round, which also deviates from the customary two. But it is hoped Glenville will get some needed and helpful exposure and hopefully some more qualifiers before the Nationals.
