Two Speakers Steal Honors

The Glenville State College Forensics Team, under the direction of Katherine J. Leisering, instructor in Speech, made another impressive showing at the Mansfield College Invitational Tournament held this past weekend at Mansfield State College, Mansfield Pa. Glenville fielded only eight total entries at the tournament, taking only two of the regular six member team to Mansfield.

Competing against eastern schools Glenville took 1st place in After Dinner Speaking with Mark Hickman performing. Mr. Hickman, also entered in Oral Interpretation, missed finishing by only one speaker point. Had he been on his own circuit he would have finished since the norm is to take the top six into the finals; in the east only the top five make it. Mr. Hickman also competed in persuasion and picked up sweepstakes points.

Brenda Henthorn won third place in Oral Interpretation with a prose cutting written especially for her by Katherine Leisering, team coach, and received such comments as 'excellent cutting,' 'beautiful literature' and 'wonderful selection.' Ms. Henthorn has now added that qualification to her national qualifications. Also competing in After Dinner Speaking and 'Original' Poetry, Ms. Henthorn picked up sweepstakes points in those events.

Also helping with sweepstakes points was Greg Schneider who competed in original poetry. There were no restrictions in this category as to who could compete.

Overall, Glenville finished sixth in Sweepstakes with only the 8 total entries out of twelve schools. The yearly trophy total is now 35 with an overall total of 95. Glenville now has twenty qualifiers for the Individual Events Nationals in Los Angeles.

Smiles of triumph are exhibited on the faces of Brenda Henthorn and Mark Hickman after their winnings at last weekend's Mansfield College Invitational Tournament.

Anyone (faculty, staff, or students) who is interested in organizing a film society or club, please contact Mr. Collins in the Library, in person or by mail. The purpose of the organization is to obtain quality films on a regular basis for viewing and discussion.

A 35mm camera lens has been turned in at the Placement Office.

GSC Gets Land Grant

A donation of 733.39 acres of surface land on Jake's Run and Stewart's Creek near Baldwin, West Virginia was made by Eastern Associates Coal Corporation to the Glenville State College Alumni Foundation, Inc. On Friday, February 20, 1976, Mr. B. P. Romero, vice president of the company, presented the deed to Mr. John White, secretary-treasurer of the Alumni Association, and President D. Banks Wilburn. Dr. Grafton of the forestry department was also at the presentation.

This surface land was part of a very large tract of coal property owned by Eastern which reaches into several counties. The donated land has been appraised at approximately $124,000.

Glenville State College has been trying to find a tract of land to provide a training site for the Forestry, Land Surveying and Horticulture programs currently being offered by the college. Eastern, which has an active program in college grants and scholarships, recently became acquainted with the need for additional land by the college, and arranged to transfer the title to the tract to the Foundation.

The land is readily accessible for field study by Glenville students. The wide variety of vegetation, topography, and water impoundments will provide students with many unique and challenging educational opportunities. The area will be developed into a model of land resource management with portions of the land developed for timber, wildlife, and outdoor recreation objectives.

The area will provide excellent opportunities for applied research by both students and faculty in all phases of multiple land resources management. This area will be invaluable to the natural resource programs of Glenville State College and college officials gratefully appreciate the donation of the Jake's Run tract for the enrichment of its educational efforts.

It's Tourney Time

Due to the fact that this happens to be tournament week, this editor finds it very difficult to come up with any ideas for an editorial. Hopefully all of Glenville will be in Charleston cheering the Pioneer basketball team to victory in semi-final action by the time this is released. If you have the chance to go, it would be a very worthwhile experience for you (whether you are a student, alumni, faculty member, or resident of Glenville) to visit our fair capital city during this gala event. The air of excitement is unbelievable and the entire city is stricken by the extremely contagious disease called basketball fever. With luck, Glenville's cheering section will be full of enthusiastic fans—a sight which would make anyone affiliated with GSC proud.

Hopefully, by now Theta Xi fraternity has reached the Civic Center (2 days ago) and if communication lines between the Mercury and the Charleston TV stations were kept in tact, they had commendable coverage on the state-wide TV circuit.

Good luck to the team and to the fans—drive safely. We will need you around again at tournament time next year.

The Commendation Game??

In recent issues of this paper there have been several editorials suggesting change on this campus. As it is the job of an editor to write editorials in addition to putting the paper together, one often finds that after strenuously racking his brain for creative writing and lay-out ideas, he lives the futile existence a journalist must often cope with.

Writing, as well as speaking, is a God-given asset that man has inherited over the other animals of the earth. With this in mind, this editor would like to commend those who never read an editorial and nonchalantly disregard the written information as vague, misleading, and assinine.

Thank you, students, who continuously overlook your right to speak and write. I commend those of you who joyously act as though you live in a non-existent limbo. I especially wish to commend those administrative officials who enjoy their office-playing roles, and who very seldom ever notice the disgruntled attitude students have.

Thespian Fete Attracts 219

The second W. Va. State Thespian Festival for high school students was held at Glenville State this past weekend, Feb. 20-22.

The affair attracted some 219 students from 12 high schools around the state. Troupes from Nicholas County, Madison, Ravenswood, Blacksville, Sophia, New Cumberland, Berkeley Springs, and Jefferson County presented plays. All participated in seminars on makeup, silkscreening posters, creative exercises and the exchange of ideas. All attended the third staging of Steinbeck's Of Mice and Men given by Rhys Watson, professional W. Va. actor, and a group of GSC students. This play was directed by Ms. Jeanne Kobuszewski, GSC Instructor in Drama and speech, and cosponsor of the festival.

Lonnie Brewster, W. Va. Director for the International Thespian Society of High Schools and sponsor of the troupe from Ravenswood, spoke to the gathering of the "Role of Our State Society". Ms. Kobuszewski addressed the group on "Theatre - A Potpourri". The third feature of the Saturday evening program was the performances by Rhys Watson of Actor's Equity of Benet's "Mountain Whippoorwill", Darcy's "The Face on the Barroom Floor", and monologues of Robert Service.

In addition to the eight high schools giving plays or holding seminars, troupes came to the festival from Parkersburg, Summersville, Ripley, & Weston.

The festival was concluded by a dance in the GSC Pioneer ballroom and the appointments of officers for the coming year.

State Director Brewster was favorably impressed by the response of high schools for this, the second festival to be held by the state chapter of state troupes. The first was held several years ago. He hopes that this indicates an awakened interest and that annual festivals will follow. Plans are beginning to be formed for a third festival next year.

American Collegiate Publications has announced it is now accepting applications for the second volume of Who's Who In Poetry In American Colleges and Universities. This Publication has been created to give noteworthy student poets recognition.

All applications requests must be received no later than March 22. Applications must include a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Play Is Successful

Steinbeck's Of Mice And Men, presented on Feb. 18, 19, & 20, was another success for the GSC Drama Department.

The costuming and vivid scenery made the bunk house so realistic that one could almost hear the farm sounds in the distance. The sound effects and forest scenes sent chills through one.

The cast, including the dog, were all ready to meet the waiting audiences.

Bob Hays, who portrayed the role of Lennie, did a great job on the extremely difficult role. At times he seemed to fall out of character, but he always came back.

Rhys Watson, who portrayed George, added just the right touch of professionalism to the drama. However, at times it seemed that he was over-acting compared to our inexperienced college crew.

It is sad to say that the audience was not as receptive as expected. Often Steinbeck's irony and sadness were taken as humor by many. I'm sure that any serious-minded play-goer pitied those who obviously didn't understand the drama.

Overall, the cast was well prepared and the stage crews did a fantastic job on all technical aspects of the production.

Congratulations to Ms. K. and the GSC Players for another job well done! by peggy bauman

On The Bench

by John Lilly

By the time this column is out the Pioneer cagers will have played the Salem Tigers and possibly the Fairmont Falcons in the WVIAC Tournament in Charleston. If you read my column last week, I figured we would be playing the Wheeling Cardinals in the first round but I didn't realize Bluefield would lose two out of their last three games to drop into ninth place.

SURGING PIONEER

The Glenville cagers finished their regular season in a rush, winning four out of their last six games. It seems that the young Pioneers matured during the last month of the season.

Two freshmen played key roles in the Pioneer surge. Charles "Stretch" Warner in his last six games averaged 15 points and 9 rebounds a game and guard Wayne Washington in his last seven games came through with 14.4 points and 3.5 assists a game.

So now it seems Coach Jesse Lilly will have a good nucleus work for next year, losing only Randy Datcher and Randy Hess through graduation.

SOOTHIE AT THE TOURNEY

Since this column was written before the start of the tournament action, "Soothie" thought it would be nice to predict some things about the tourney:

"Soothie" sees through his crystal ball 7,000 fans packed into the Civic Center at 8:00 p.m. on Wednesday, 6,500 of those people cheering and rooting for Archie Talley and only 500 cheering for the Pioneers.

"Soothie" sees Talley launching shots from 35 and 40 feet and they're going in!

"Soothie" sees Coach Jesse Lilly sitting coolly and calmly on the Pioneer bench, but he is still cussing under his breath.

"Soothie" sees the Pioneers coming out on top of Talley's Tigers something like 89-85. Talley scores over fifty points.

"Soothie" sees through his crystal ball Glenville playing the Fairmont Falcons. Oops! "Soothie's" crystal ball blew a fuse!

ALL CONFERENCE SELECTIONS

It's time again that this sports-writer chooses his All WVIAC Conference Team. This team was the hardest squad to select because there weren't that many individual stars, most of them being team players.

But here they are:

Archie Talley, he is the only individual star in the conference this year and he could very well be the greatest WVIAC player ever.

Dave Moore from Fairmont is right behind Talley in talent. He can do it all.

Rodney Sewell from Shepherd is right behind Talley in shooting. He led the Rams to their second place finish.

Matty Watts from WV Tech has led the Golden Bears to two consecutive good seasons.

Jim Johnston from Fairmont is the main cog in Fairmont's rebounding department.

Bruce Haberson doesn't score much for Concord but he is a menace under the boards. He has guided them to their surprising sixth place finish.

Jim Schmitt is about the only thing West Liberty had, but he is a dandy.

Last but not least is Glenville's Tom Coates. Coates led the Pioneers in scoring, rebounding and assists. Not bad for a guard!

A FINAL QUOTE

Al McGuire, asked why his Marquette teams play so many low-scoring games, replied thusly: 'I'm a defensive coach. I couldn't shoot when I played, so I teach defense.'

SENIOR RANDY DATCHER

Pioneerettes End Season

The Glenville Pioneerettes finished a disappointing last place in the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Association Tournament last week. Coach Gene Davis's gals fell to the Fairmont Falcons in the first round 78-48 and then lost to West Liberty 75-46 in the losing bracket game.

The tournament, which was played on the WV Wesleyan campus, was won by the Marshall Green Gals. They beat the WVU women in the finals 69-68. Morris Harvey, the pre-tourney favorite, beat D&E to take third place honors.

Against Fairmont, the Pioneerettes lost their seventh straight game. The Falcons jumped on the G-Women early taking a commanding lead of 41-25 at halftime. Fairmont coasted on in the second half outscoring the Pioneerettes 33-23.

Debbie Curry led the G-Women with 20 points, followed by Kim West with 10, Phyllis Taylor and Patsy Groves, both with six points each.

In the second contest, West Liberty rolled over the Pioneerettes 75-46. The WL gals shot out to a 38-23 halftime lead and never looked back.

West led Glenville in scoring with 22 points. Curry added 12, while Taylor and Groves tossed in six each.

The Pioneerettes' record dropped to a dismal 3-11 mark.

R.F.K. Suspends IL Loan Service

Business Students Required To Meet

The library will temporarily suspend its interlibrary loan service beginning in March. The West Virginia Library Commission will be moving its headquarters to a new location, and has set the following deadlines: No hard-to-find requests after March 1; No periodical or book requests will be processed after March 15.

Service will be suspended through the first part of April while the Commission establishes itself in new headquarters.

It is important that all requests be submitted with full verification information. This includes publishing information for books and periodicals and exact listing of the index in which the title was cited. For example:

Books - author, title, publishers, date of publication.

Periodicals - author of the article, title, periodical title, volume, exact date of issue, and pages needed.

For index where title was found, list name and date of index, and page where citation was found.

With full information listed, your requests will be expedited more efficiently. If you need assistance in supplying this information, ask any librarian for help.

All students in Administration Science, Computer Science, and Secretarial Science pursuing a 2 year degree who entered a transferral to GSC after June 1, 1975, should read this article.

They are asked to meet Dr. McCreary to discuss their program regarding the work experience activity. Students are to meet on either Monday, March 1 at 2 p.m., in Room 100A or Tuesday, March 2 at 12:30 p.m. in Room 100A.

Under the work experience activity, the student has the flexibility of a wide variety of job opportunities even in the students' home town. The work activity is approved by, supervised by, and evaluated by members of the faculty in the Division of Business. At these two meetings, there will be discussions pertaining to how the student acquires this experience, when the activity may occur, and the credit awarded upon successful completion of the work experience.
