

Two More LA Bound

The Glenville State College Forensics Team under the direction of Katherine J. Leisering, assistant professor of speech, swept to a second place grand sweepstakes award at the annual W.Va. Intercollegiate Forensics Association's tournament held this past weekend at Parkersburg Community College. Beaten only by PCC, Glenville amassed 15 1/2 sweepstakes points with only a six member team and took an impressive 5 out of 9 possible first place awards.

Judy Ditlow repeated her last year's win in After Dinner Speaking and also finished second in Peace Oratory, third in Prose Interp and fourth in Drama Duo with Brenda Henthorn. Ms. Ditlow also finished second in Persuasion which entitles her to represent the state of W.Va., along with the first place persuasion winner from Marshall, at the National Oratorical Finals to be held this year at Gatlinburg, Tennessee, on May 6-8. Ms. Ditlow did a fantastic job, finaling in five of the nine events in which she was entered—Ms. Ditlow competed in every event.

Dorothy Wright, competing in six events, finalied in three, and narrowly missed a fourth and fifth finalist position. Ms. Wright finished first in Drama Duo with Mark Hickman and first in Peace Oratory. The latter entitles Ms. Wright to compete via tape in the National Peace Oratory finals as the representative from the state of W.Va. These will be held in June in Illinois.

Tina Crump finalied in three of her five events, taking first place for the third consecutive tournament in Prose (this is a team record) third place in Drama Duo with Mark Hickman and fourth in After Dinner Speaking.

Mark Hickman, competing in eight events, finalied in three, placing first and third in Drama Duo with Dorothy Wright and Tina Crump respectively and first in Expository Speaking.

Barb Stemple, competing in six events finalied in two, placing fifth in After Dinner Speaking and fourth in Expository Speaking.

Finally, Brenda Henthorn, competing in seven events, four of which

Collins Takes Campus Title

The Miss GSC Pageant was held on Wednesday, March 31. The nine contestants were Sara Susan Arnold, Charlotte Ruth Eary, Jennifer Ann Cavender, Marian Patricia Groves, Mary Beth Martin, Kathy Ann Moore, Debra Jo Harvey, Peggy Helen Collins, and Cynthia Ann Gunnoe.

An overture was played to open the show, Miss GSC 1974-Sherry Helvy, Miss GSC 1975-Becky Cummings and Miss West Virginia 1975-Kristi Wick gave the introduction of principles.

The contestants competed in three categories: swimsuit, talent, and evening gown.

Perhaps for the first time ever in the history of the Miss GSC Pageant, a single contestant won top honors in all three of these areas. Miss Peggy Helen Collins captivated the audience and the judges, winning the contest and being named Miss Glenville State College for 1976. She was also voted Miss Congeniality by her fellow contestants.

First runner-up was Miss Marian Patricia Groves. Second runner-up was Miss Kathy Ann Moore. Third runner-up was Miss Jennifer Ann Cavender.

Judges for the event were James E. Smith, Creel Harrah, Paula Garrison, Margaret Merimar, and Kay Villers.

The GSC Jazz Ensemble performed intermittently during the pageant and vocalists Marsha McIntyre and Tom Mills performed a medley of Bicentennial songs.

See next week's issue for more details.

Math Council Meets at GSC

The West Virginia Council of Teachers of Mathematics held their annual convention March 25 through 27. Over 200 teachers from public schools and colleges from all over the state were present and 30 Glenville State College students were present as convention aides.

On Friday, March 26, a general session was held. Mr. Richard Wilkes of the State Department of Education spoke on the trends and issues in mathematics education. Also there were 23 other sessions and workshops which included discussions of metric measurement, computation, and careers in mathematics. There were many mathematics bulletin boards and posters and a dozen commercial exhibitors displayed textbook and instructional materials.

Mr. Jerry Jackson, Supervisor of Mathematics in Braxton County, collected and displayed many student math projects from all over the state. Joanna Rose, a Glenville State College student-teacher, planned and directed a mathematics game room.

The highlight of the convention was the banquet which was held in the Ballroom on Friday. The food was excellent and there were a variety of table favors relating to mathematics.

Dr. Theresa Gray served as Program Chairman, Mr. John White was Registration Chairman, Jean Wright served as facilities Chairman, Robert Hardman collected free materials, Jerry Jackson was in charge of student projects and Don Phillips served as A-V Equipment Chairman. The program cover was designed by Charles Scott of the art department at GSC.

Speech Team Gives Award

President D. Banks Wilburn was presented with a special award by the Forensics Team of Glenville State College on March 29 in appreciation of his constant interest in and sustained aid provided for the Forensics Team. Katherine Leisering, assistant professor of Speech and director of the Forensics Team, presented the award which read:

To President D. Banks Wilburn—With heartfelt appreciation for your constant support and tireless efforts on behalf of Forensics at Glenville State College. The Glenville State College Forensics Team; Katherine J. Leisering, Director, 1976.

Ms. Leisering said of the award: "This year alone President Wilburn has worked unceasingly to raise the money needed for the Forensics Team to compete in the National Finals in Los Angeles. For three years now, he has been the Forensics Team's most ardent supporter in every respect and has, by his cooperation, helped boost the team to its current national status. He deserves the award more than words can adequately express."

The Theta Xi Chapter of Delta Zeta anxiously anticipates the arrival of over 250 sisters and guests who will be in Glenville for State Day or Saturday.

Glenville Delta Zeta's Host 1976 'State Day'

Theta Xi Chapter is proud to host the 1976 State Day for Providence IV, West Virginia. Two hundred and fifty Delta Zeta's and guests will attend the activities on Saturday, April 3. State Day, with the theme "DZ Spirit of '76," will host many prestigious guests including a National Representative.

The schedule of events include an awards banquet at 5:30 p.m. which will culminate State Day for 1976. Speakers will include Dr. D. Banks Wilburn, president of Glenville State College, Judy Leiving, president of Theta Xi chapter, Mrs. Emma Shearer, P.C.D. of Providence IV, and Paulette Jackson, C.C.D. of Theta Xi chapter.

The State awards given are: Outstanding Chapter; Most Improved Chapter; DZ of the Year; Philanthropies; Scholarship; Activities; 100% Initiation; Scrapbook and Press; and Song Competition. It might be worthwhile to note that 'DZ of the Year' has been awarded to Theta Xi chapter every State Day since its origin in 1972.

State chapters competing for awards include: Delta Upsilon at Marshall University; Epsilon Delta at Concord College; Epsilon Iota at Fairmont State; Zeta Tau at Morris Harvey; Iota Pi at West Virginia Tech; Iota Tau at West Liberty and Kappa Mu at Shepherd.

Theta Xi chapter is centered at the sorority house at 305 E. Main Street in Glenville. Presently the chapter is 40 members strong and 13 years old. Judy Leiving, a junior physical education major from Mason County serves as sorority president. Other officers include: Ann Hamric, a junior English major from Glenville, as 1st vice-president; Terri Parsons, a junior physical education major from Pt. Pleasant, as second vice-president; corresponding secretary is Janet Cunningham, a sophomore elementary education major from Mannington; Recording secretary is Kay Nottingham, a junior business education major and Phyllis Taylor, a junior physical education major, the group's secretary, both from Braxton County. Paulette Jackson, the GSC computer center director, serves the sorority as C.C.D. Jeanne Kobuszewski and Sherri Mills are advisors.

Registration will be from 9-10:30 tomorrow, opening ceremonies will run from 10:30-12 noon, luncheon will last from 12:30-2 and committee meetings will fill the afternoon from 2-4 p.m.

Theta Xi chapter of Delta Zeta would like to extend their warmest welcome to their sisters throughout the state of West Virginia.

Luncheon Features Mr. Paul Dworak

An active Parkersburg fashion coordinator and model, Mrs. Sandy Lessig, will be the speaker for the Glenville State College Faculty Wives Spring Luncheon. This event will be held on Saturday, April 10, at 12:30 p.m. in the Ballroom of the Pioneer Center on the GSC campus.

Speaking on fashion trends, Mrs. Lessig will communicate many ideas based upon her varied experiences. She is director of the Wendy Ward School of Charm at Montgomery Ward, Inc., in which she works with teenagers and young women to aid them in realizing self-improvement on an individual basis.

A piano solo by Mr. Paul Dworak will be featured as part of the Spring Luncheon. Mr. Dworak is a member of the music faculty at Glenville State College. Instructor in piano, Mr. Dworak is highly esteemed by his music students. By the end of April, he anticipates completing all requirements for his doctor's degree at Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. For his piano solo he has chosen a work by Debussy.

Members of the luncheon planning committee are as follows: Mrs. Bruce Flack (chairperson), Mrs. David Harry, Mrs. Byron Turner, Mrs. Bob Deal, Mrs. Ernest Smith, and Mrs. John McCreary. Reservations for the salad buffet luncheon should be made with Mrs. David Harry before Monday, April 5.

Fever Soars High

Year after year as the robins and dandelions force the cold winds northward, a disease of epidemic proportion spreads throughout the country. Fortunately, "spring fever" is not a disease which is fatal or terminal, yet when one stops to think about the consequences suffered by the many stricken students in the college community, it becomes evident that a cure is needed.

"Spring fever" usually hits a person's mind unexpectedly on the first, truly warm day late during winter. From the first day the disease enters the mind, every following warm day is one of a dazed, dreamy, and flushed existence. Instead of doing those needed studies and duties involved with school, most inflicted people daydream of love, flowers, beer bashes, frisbees, sunbathing, picnics, swimming . . . As a consequence, papers are turned in late, "all-nighters" are pulled for exams, meetings are unattended, and nerves are shot while waiting for test results. What seems to be a carefree and lazy life is changed into one of anxiety and ulcers.

The trouble with all of this is that there is no cure available. Dedication can even succumb to these fleeting moments of derring-do. Often, the most studious person falls to the short-comings of "spring fever." Yet, each of us weathers through the storm, only to return to the same effects the next spring.

Where is the cure? Where's the Salk of our age? Why can "spring fever" cause such devastating effects? Why should we even worry about it . . .

Delta Alpha chapter of Sigma Sigma held a ceremonial meeting Monday afternoon in the ballroom. The sisters are eagerly looking forward to this weekend and the scheduled trip to Walton House, Sigma's national headquarters in the Shenandoah Valley, of Virginia. An Easter Boutique is planned for the week of April 12. On Tuesday afternoon, two Sigma teams competed in a spirited game of softball. Congratulations to the winning team. The pledges took the national test Tuesday evening.

Delta Alpha chapter plans to host a regional workshop during the fall term. Congratulations to newlyweds Bev and Tom Knotts.

An informal meeting of Theta Xi chapter of Delta Zeta sorority was held Tuesday, March 30.

All the girls are looking forward to State Day this weekend.

The girls are also looking forward to the Spring Sing in which they will participate.

The Iota-Omega Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon held a little get-together Sunday night, March 28. Plans will be finalized for the bathtub pull to held next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. The fraters are looking forward to a good time and a successful trip.

Board Of Regents Internship Offered

The West Virginia Board of Regents will offer a Public Service Internship Program for the Fall semester beginning September 7, 1976. This is a planned off-campus learning opportunity and, at this time, is offered only in Charleston, W.Va.

The internship program is designed to allow full-time juniors and seniors an opportunity to utilize their theoretical knowledge in practical application.

Each intern will be matched with a state agency on the basis of the expressed choice of the student and the availability of an agency slot. Every effort will be made to achieve compatibility.

The student will be responsible for completing, during the internship program, a contracted project involving some facet of the agency's public service. The project, which will be agreed upon among student, educational institution, state agency, and program coordinator, will be a field experience related to the student's educational goals or course requirements.

The intern will be eligible for student intern civil service classification and will be responsible for adhering to the policies and reporting procedures of the assigned by the home institution.

Students will be selected for this program on an equal opportunity basis; those interested are urged to participate.

All students will receive 12-15 hours of college credit upon satisfactory completion of the internship. Grades will be awarded on the basis of performance with the agency, participation in the seminar and demonstration of integration of abstract concepts with public service realities.

Housing arrangements will be made available on the West Virginia State College Campus. A limited number of dormitory rooms have been reserved. All students are strongly urged to live in the coeducational dormitory space (Dawson Hall). An early decision on living arrangements must be made.

Each school will provide a liaison officer whose function will be to provide information, assist the student in the completion of his application, and help evaluate applications. GSC's liaison officer is Dr. Darnall of the Social Studies Department. Applications are available in his office. The form must be completed and returned to the campus by April 9, 1976.

Students will be notified of their acceptance by May 1, 1976, and should plan to come to Charleston for an interview with the agency.

Topics Highlight Historians' Meet

Glenville State College will host the annual meeting of the W.Va. Historical Association of College and University Teachers on April 2 and 3.

The meeting will be held at North Bend State Park and college and university instructors will be in attendance from all over the state. Dr. D. Banks Wilburn, President of GSC, will give a welcome speech at the banquet which will be held Friday, April 2. The featured speaker will be Dr. John E. Ferling of the Department of History of West Georgia College, Carrollton, Georgia. His topic will be "Two Revolutions, the 1760's-1770's and the 1960's-1970's."

Pres. D. Banks Wilburn receives an award of appreciation from Ms. Katherine Leisnering, Forensics team coach.

American History Volumes At R. F. K.

In this year of the bicentennial there are countless materials being published relative to the history of America. One which does a fine job of recording American history through documentation and commentary is a publication of Encyclopedia Britannica - Annals of America. It is a set of three component parts - the 19 volume Annals, the 2 - volume Conspectus, and a one volume Index.

The Annals which comprise the bulk of the set cover the span of America's history from 1493 to 1973. Each volume contains original documents in whole or in part which come from the periods covered. The very first document is a letter from Christopher Columbus to Lord Raphael Sanchez, treasurer of Aragon and a patron of Columbus. In this letter, dated March 14, 1493, Columbus gives details of his discovery of the Western World and of the people he called 'Indians.' Each document contained in this set is briefly described, and cited as to its exact source.

Each of these volumes contains a table of contents - all documents and authors in the volume, a Chronology of events which occurred in the years covered by the volume, illustrations and maps. Volumes 1-18 of the Annals each contains an index of the authors of documents, with years of life and brief biographical information.

Placement News

There are many openings for summer employment and anyone interested should check with the Placement Office. Information can be obtained at the Placement Office concerning employment with the Peace Corps, and the Continental Employment Agency has 40,00 current job listings. Also, the Girl Scout Council of the Nation's Capital will be employing approximately 150 persons as staff members. Employment is also available with the Long John Silvers Seafood Shoppes and information can be obtained at the Placement Office. Mr. Harry Tennant of Haymarket, Virginia is interested in hiring someone for summer employment doing general duties and maintenance on a small acreage farm. It is an 8 hour 5 day job beginning in late May or early June. West Virginia Civil Service announcements are available in the Placement Office and information on summer jobs with the U.S. Civil Service is available in the Placement Office.

Teaching positions are available at Parkersburg, Wood County, Inverness, Citrus County, Florida.

The two-volume Conspectus is the approach to America by cultural themes. Chapter 1, Volume 1, called 'National Character,' is an essay on the general aspects of this topic. All coverage in the Conspectus is essayical on such large areas as General Welfare, Common Defense, Individualism, Taxation, Family, The Arts, etc. Each subject is treated in the entire range of its history. Following each essay is an outline of the topics covered in the essay, indicating pages in the 'References' section that follows. For instance; From the outline: Point no. 2 - Periods and phases of the American character 26 The Puritan tradition. 1p.36. In the 'References' Section one listing reads, 1:42 Connecticut Blue Laws 199a-203d - Which means Vol. 1, Sect. 42, p. 199a to p. 203d.

The last part of the set is the Index, which contains a contents list to all eighteen volumes, a proper name index, which leads to exact volume and page in each of the eighteen volumes and finally authors and sources index. In short, all three parts work together, whether one's approach be thematic (through the index to the volumes). It is a source not to be overlooked by any student or inquirer into American History.

S. C. Joins Association

The Glenville State College Student Congress has become the West Virginia Student Government Association, Inc. when it was incorporated as of March 4.

It is a statewide organization for state colleges, universities, private and community institution for student rights.

There have been three meetings of organization, the first at Marshall University, the second at Concord, and the third at WVU. At the WVU meeting, officers were elected from the Board of Directors. GSC student Jane Stump was elected as Secretary.

Glenville State College was also chosen as the mailing headquarters for the organization.

The meetings are held monthly and are hosted by schools that are members (by rotation process).

The next meeting is March 26-28 at Bluefield State College.

Mr. Tom Meikle with the Fidelity Insurance Company will be interviewing in the Placement Office on April 8 from 10:00 to 3:00. The West Virginia Department of Welfare will be interviewing on April 28 from 9:00 to 3:30. Students interested must register for a time to interview.

On The Bench

While most of us were relaxing under the bright and sunny skies last week taking it easy from the rigors of college life, the Glenville State College sports scene was busy as ever.

The Pioneer baseball team traveled down to the Carolinas and enjoyed a full week of baseball, although they didn't fare too well in the won-lost column. And the GSC bowling team was chosen as the NAIA at large team which will compete in the National finals in Kansas City, Mo., on April 9 and 10.

SOUTHERN TOUR

The Pioneer baseball team just completed their first southern tour ever into North and South Carolina and enjoyed every minute of it, although they did not win a game.

First year coach, Bob Belcastro, stated that he was not concerned with the winning of the contests, he was more interested in allowing his young team to work out and play under game competition so that they would be ready for the conference season. Coach Belcastro considered these games more like exhibition contests.

RUNDOWN ON THE GAMES

Since Belcastro considered these games as exhibition contests, the scores are not that important, so they won't be mentioned.

The Pioneers opened with Newberry College and the G-Men showed the usual first game jitters, committing 11 errors.

Against Baptist College, the Pioneers lost a doubleheader but cut down their errors to five. In one of the games the Pioneer's left fielder Scott Anderson made a circus catch against the wall which everyone is still talking about.

Against the Citadel, which Belcastro considered the best team they faced, the Pioneers played in a minor league park. In that contest designated hitter Buddy Jarrell hit a 400 foot blast that hit directly on top of the fence and bounced back into the park. Jarrell got a triple for his efforts.

By the middle of the week seven of the sixteen players had sore arms from pitching, so by Friday anybody who didn't have a sore arm was pitching.

BY JOHN LILLY

Although the G-Men didn't win a game down south, Belcastro feels this southern swing will greatly improve the Pioneer baseball program both this year and in the future. Already he is making plans for next year.

That's the spirit, Coach!

K.C. BOUND

Dr. Robert Dollgener and his GSC bowling team were given a thrill over spring break when they were named as the 'at large' team for the NAIA bowling finals in Kansas City.

This marks the third time in the nine year history of the Pioneer team that they will compete in the National finals.

Dr. Dollgener feels it is an honor and a privilege to be chosen as the 'at large' team for the National finals.

It also marks the first time in NAIA history that two WVIAC schools will compete in the National finals at the same time, with West Liberty being the other conference school.

Other schools competing for the National title will be: Oregon College of Education, Winona State College, Southwest Baptist College, Harding College, Saginaw Valley College & Clarion State.

Congratulations Pioneers on being chosen, and good luck!

LINKSTERS READY

The Pioneer golf team, the defending WVIAC champs, are preparing for their upcoming season with great optimism. The Pioneers, who have won the conference title three out of the last four years, will open their season next Thursday and Friday at Pipestem in the Central Regionals.

Coach Tim Carney feels the season, "looks pretty bright, but West Liberty, Shepherd and WV Wesleyan will give us a good fight."

The picture taking schedule for the yearbook for next Thursday, April 8, is as follows by surnames:

a A-N-9 a.m.- 12 noon

O-Z-1 p.m.-4 p.m.

in the library.

Job opportunities are available in teaching, physical education, and land surveying. If interested, see Mrs. Starr in the Placement Office for details.

Bowling Team Heads For K. C.

The Glenville State College Bowling Team has been chosen as the NAIA team at large to compete in the national finals in Kansas City, Mo. next month. The Pioneer team, coached by Dr. Robert Dollgener will represent Area 8. This is the third trip to the national finals for the nine-year-old Glenville team.

This is the first time in NAIA history that two teams from West Virginia have been entered in the National finals. West Liberty State College of West Liberty, W. Va., will represent Area 6 which includes schools in South Carolina, North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, Alabama, Kentucky and West Virginia.

Other areas meeting at the King Louis Plaza on April 9 are: Oregon College of Education, Monmouth, Oregon-Area 1; Winona State College, Minn-Area 2; Southwest Baptist College, Bolivar, Mo-Area 3; Harding College, Searcy, Ark-Area 4; Saginaw Valley College, University Center, Michigan-Area 5; Clarion State, Pennsylvania-Area 7.

Team members making the trip include: Sam Ferrell, a senior physical education major from Parkersburg; Mark Smith, a freshman physical education major from Parkersburg; Dave Twyman, a freshman physical education major from Parkersburg; and Mike Hickman a physical education major from Dunbar. Last year, Sam Ferrell placed fifth highest in the nation in the national finals with a 190 average. Glenville State placed seventh in the finals last year, fourth in 1970 in the national finals.

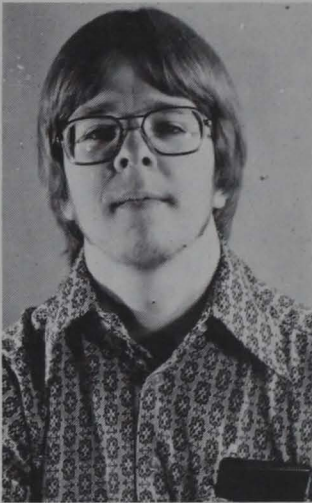

IS IT A GOOD BLOCK OR A FOUL? BE THE JUDGE.

Golden Eagles Nip Pioneers, 8-7

The Glenville State Pioneer baseball team opened up their 1976 conference season with a heartbreaking 8-7 extra inning lose to the powerful Morris Harvey Golden Eagles last Monday afternoon.

The second game of the scheduled doubleheader was rained out after three innings with the Golden Eagles leading 9-0.

In the first contest both teams were knotted up at 2-2 going into the sixth inning when the G-Men scored two runs, but Morris Harvey

GC Health Dept. Plans Free Fair

The Health Department is having a Health Fair on Saturday, May 1, 1976. This will be a health screening program consisting of Blood Typing, Glaucoma testing, Hematacrit (a test for anemia), Pap's Smear, Breast Examination, Blood Pressure, Urine, Weight, Vision and Hearing tests, and Tuberculin skin test. Venereal Disease testing will be available on request.

All tests are available. Each person may choose to have all the tests done, or just the test of his choice.

Also will be available literature and personel on Nutrition, Medicare, Welfare, Rehabilitation, Family Planning, Immunization, Sanitation, Emergency Squad, and Mental Health.

Persons under the age of eighteen will be required to have parental consent for most tests.

The public is invited. All tests are free of charge.

A free showing of the film "School Without Failure" will be offered by the Glenville Chapter of AAUW on Sunday, April 4 at 2:30 p.m. in Room 16 L (R. F. Kidd Library).

The film deals with an experimental school in Palo Alto, California, is on the elementary school level, and employs the 'Discovery' technique. This film may be of interest to student teachers and elementary teachers.

For John Hutchinson, of Charleston, will be speaking in the GSC Little Theater at 3:30 p.m., on Tuesday, April 6. All students are encouraged to attend.

were new for this tournament, finaled in Drama Duo with Judy Ditlow, finishing fourth.

In all, Glenville has added five more qualifications for the national finals to be held at Cal. St. at Los Angeles, on April 23-25. The next tournament for Glenville will be this week's Mid-America Individual Events Championship to be held at Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio. This tournament will host schools from all over the Mid Eastern U.S. and is a modified version of National T.E. Finals.

The tournament following the Mid America will tentatively be the "Springtime on the Little Kanawha Tournament," a special one-day pick up tourney (to pick up I.E. qualifiers for the Nationals) to be held at Glenville State College, Sunday April 11. For those who have been wanting to see forensics in action at a tournament, this is it. Feel free to attend.

After this comes the Marshall University Qualifications Prep Tourney to be held in Huntington on April 9-10 and the National Finals followed by the National Oratorical Finals at Gatlinburg, Tennessee, May 6-8.

Students Present One-Acts

Two nights of "Mixed Emotions" will be presented in the GSC Little Theatre on April 12 and 13. Once again the Play Production class will present student-directed one-act plays. Both comedy and drama will be staged this year. As usual, admission is free and everyone is encouraged to attend to see another display of talent available at GSC.

The plays to be presented are: 27 Wagons Full of Cotton, The Whole Truth and the Honest Man, Act III of Last of the Red Hot Lovers, Contributions, and The Old Jew.

The dramatic one-act play by Tennessee Williams, 27 Wagons Full of Cotton, will be performed on April 12. The part of Jake Meighan, the tough, loud-mouthed cotton gin owner will be played by William Mick. Mr. Mick, a newcomer to GSC, is a biology major. He has been in the service and he hopes work after graduation. He lives here in Glenville with his wife and two sons. Pamela Ries, a junior library science major, will play Flora, the baby-faced giggling wife of Jake. Ms. Ries is a native of Wheeling. Bryan Moore rounds out the cast as the smooth-talking Sibra Vicarro. Mr. Moore is a sophomore majoring in social work and he and his wife live in Glenville.

Marylou Farnsworth, a senior library science and speech major, will direct the play. Ms. Farnsworth has appeared in several high school and college productions and performed many technical duties before transferring to GSC. Melodie Jones will be assisting with the technical aspects of the production. Ms. Jones boasts theatrical experience here at GSC both onstage and behind the scenes.

Mary Morton, director of The Whole Truth and the Honest Man, would like to announce her cast for Haubold's one-act comedy. Playing as Myron Sluice will be Jimmy Steele and as Lester Cravat will be Mickey McDonald.

Jimmy Steele is a sophomore elementary major carrying science and history as minors. You may recall Mr. Steele as Carlson in Of Mice and Men. He is also activities chairman for the GSC Christian Fellowship and a member of Ohnimgohow Players. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Steele of Gassaway, W.Va.

Mickey McDonald is a junior music major. This will be his acting debut on the GSC stage but he has had much experience from his high school where he performed in several plays. Mr. McDonald is a member of the GSC Marching and Concert Bands, MENC, and GSC Choir. He is currently the director of the GSC Jazz Ensemble and Pep Band. He is the son of Mrs. Wama G. McDonald of Fairmont, W.Va.

Mary Morton, director of the play, is a sophomore physical education and speech major. Mary is secretary of Ohnimgohow Players and Majors Club. She is also a member of Alpha Psi Omega and active in Christian Fellowship. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James N. Morton of Cairo, W. Va.

Cast in the part of The Old Jew, the one act play by Murray Schisgal, is David L. Brown. Mr. Brown is a former graduate of GSC with a degree in Speech and is currently finishing his English degree.

Voted Best Actor of 1975 at Glenville State, he has also held the office of Pledgemaster of Ohnimgohow Players, and was a member of Sigma Tau Delta. Currently a member of Phi Theta, Kappa and Kappa Delta Pi. He is the grandson of Ashford Ayers of Smithville.

Mrs. McCartney, student director, is a junior English and Speech major. She is presently vice-president of Ohnimgohow Players, Stage Manager of Alpha Psi Omega and a Dean's list student. She resides in Glenville with her husband, Tim.

Act III of Neil Simon's hilarious comedy Last of the Red Hot Lovers, will be performed on April 12 in the Little Theatre. The part of Jeanette, a middle aged neurotic, will be played by Carla Rector, a junior history major from Belpre, Ohio. Barney, a middle-aged would-be swinger, will be portrayed by Greg Schneider, a sociology instructor at GSC.

The play will be student directed by Brenda Henthorn, a junior speech and English major from Elyria, Ohio. Ms. Henthorn will soon travel with the GSC Forensics Team to Los Angeles, California.

Contributions, by Ted Shine, is directed by Dorothy Wright. The play concerns the Civil Rights movement. The three characters show three different attitudes about the Movement. Mrs. Grace Love, whom Latonya Caldwell portrays, encourages the movement, but she fights it on a personal level. Starring as her grandson, Eugene, will be Mark Hickman. Eugene is a college student who is a totally active part of the movement. Their neighbor, Katy, will be Tina Crump. Katy believes in the movement, but has to be encouraged before she is willing to be an active part.

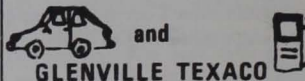

Ms. Caldwell is a senior English major with a speech minor. She resides in Beckley, W.Va. She has been active in several college organizations and served as crew member in You Can't Take It With You.

Ms. Crump is a freshman Social Science major. She is an active member of the GSC Forensics Team. Ms. Crump hails from White Sulphur Springs.

Mark Hickman, also a freshman Social Science major, is also cast as the Mayor in the upcoming The Dragon of Nitt. He lives in Lewisburg and is another outstanding Forensics Team member.

The Director, Ms. Wright is a senior Language Arts major. She has been cast as Hecate Witch in The Dragon of Nitt. Also, she is a Forensics team member, the current GSC Glamour Girl, and is from Beckley, W. Va.
