For 'Jericho Harp' The concert featuring Jericho Harp, on February 24, between 8-10 p.m. in the auditorium is going to be a treat for the students of GSC. Once in a long while you come across a group that has exceptional ability for performing. And once in awhile you come across a group that has the gifts for writing. But you rarely find a group that has the genius for both. Jericho Harp is just such a group.

Thomas and Schmidt have woven their separate experiences in folk and rock into a style of music that's as fresh as it is undefinable. Their music delivery is strong, smooth, and tight whether the song is their dynamic "Mississippi Magic" or a delicate arrangement of Dan Fogelberg's "Wysteria

Having played over 200 concerts that cover more than half the United States, from small colleges to major universities, Jericho Harp's reputation of captivating audiences has become a solid foundation for a long and successful career.

Starting Your Own, Maybe?

The Mercury Office has been slowly disappearing - piece by piece! If things keep "going" at this rate we may have to give the news by campus crier in a few weeks (we can print the pictures on his T-shirt.)

Of course this is not a localized problem. Things have been disappearing all over campus but since I am concerned mainly with the Mercury office I tend to notice the thievery here a lot more. Especially since everything from pencils to our electric heater is missing!

It's understandable that things like a Yashica camera, a pencil sharpener and an electric heater (especially an electric heater) would be missing. But what would a phantom thief do with eight desk chairs? At least he/she has enough for a perfect dinette set!

I'm making light of the situation but it's really no longer so amusing (especially when one has to stand up and use a pencil stub sharpened with a case knife!)

Thievery on campus has become almost an epidemic. The trouble is that it is very easy to obtain entrance into buildings and offices on campus. What's more frightening is that it is very easy to walk around campus with anything from curtains to refrigerators without being noticed.

Before closing I'd like to give the phantom thief a word of advice. We have several reams of newsprint and a couple dorky typewriters that we wouldn't miss at all in the February fourth edition of The Mercury:

So when you sit in our chairs, sharpening our pencils with our pencil sharpener and writing on our typing paper in front of our electric heater don't forget that only our words will come out on the paper!

The people of this country have come to realize that the Vietnam conflict was a senseless confrontation that prolonged the agony of a dying country and cost the U.S. thousands of precious lives and billions of dollars in revenue and equipment. The Vietnam conflict was the most idealogical engagement the U.S. has ever been involved in.

I would be the first to stand up and give praise to our Vietnam veterans who fought under adverse conditions in a far away country without the support of a lot of Americans. These men deserve to be honored. On the other hand, the Vietnam conflict was an unconstitutional war. A declaration of war was never issued by Congress. It was a war of several presidents with the support of Congress but never a declared war.

President Carter recognized the tragedies of this war and recognized men. who for one reason or another, chose not to fight. He pardoned draft evaders which he promised to do during his campaign (and one reason why he was elected). It is often said that elected officials never keep their campaign promises. Jimmy Carter got off to a good start. Sure, he pardoned draft Contestants Named (continued on page 4)

The Brothers of Beta Beta Zeta are presently busy with pledging plans for next week's arm and wrestling tourney and conclave trip to the University of Richmond.

The arm wrestling tournament is slated for Tuesday evening in the student union at 5:30. There will be three classes for men and one for women with trophies awarded to the winner of each class.

The three-day conclave will get underway Friday evening at Richmond with about ten brothers planning to attend.

The Brothers are also busy with several other activities: 1) sponsoring Carole Humphrey in the Miss Kanawhachen contest, 2) Team One remaining unbeaten in the volleyball intramurals, 3) giving surprise birthday parties for Jet Vickers, 4) being visited by alumni James (Rookie) Mattox, and 5) listening to treasurer Scott Barkwill give stirring speeches.

Bad weather has continued to Glenville has been knocked out of three home games. Games scheduled

Halftime Talk

By Doug Martin

Bluefield here next Friday . . . Bluefield is presently in second place.

I almost failed to mention one other cancellation. The Fairmont game which was scheduled for Jan. 29th at Fairmont will not be made up. I guess we'll just have to wait until we get to Charleston before we beat 'em!

While most of our attention has been focused on the basketball team lately, we must realize that other sports are beginning to pick up steam on campus. The bowling team is in the final legs of its r season, and still hoping to go back to the national championships . . . The baseball team has been working out at 6:00 in the morning in preparation for their southern trip, and conference schedule. Now that's what I call dedication . . . The golfers are still waiting for a Spring thaw so they can get back out on the links. They're so hard up for somewhere to play that I saw one of them putting in the hall of L.B.H. one night this week.

Final Note

Next Friday's game against Bluefield State will be the last home game of the season. Let's pack in for that game and then follow the Pioneers to Charleston and the WVIAC tournament ... LATER!

ference! But this means beating

Our Glenville State bowlers took part in another regional bowling event last weekend and finished third behind West Liberty and Alderson Broaddus. The roll-off held at Fairmont saw Glenville finish with a 5-3 record while West Liberty had a perfect 8-0 mark and A-B

Dave Twyman sparked the Pioneers with an eight game average of 189. He also had individual high games for Glenville with scores of 225 and 221. He was followed by Bob Davison and Dale Sparks with 176 averages, Mike Hickman finished fifth with a 154 average.

West Liberty strengthened their hold on first place in the conference with last week's win. This makes their overall record 21-3, while our Keglers are still second with a 15-9 record Even if we fail to win the conference title, our bowlers still have a chance to go to the national tournament on a wild card bid since we are defending champs.

The Pioneers are off this week, before competing in their final regional of the year next week at Clarksburg.

with a 174 average. Noble came followed by Concord who is 13-11.

Bowlers Finish Third At Fairmont

This was before last night's game with Alderson - Broaddus. This should be good enough for third in the conference this week. A win over Bluefield next week should give us a second place finish in the confer-ioneers

rence The last 2 opponents to be disposed of by the Pioneers were W.Va. Tech and Beckley.

Glenville - 53. Tech - 52

The G-Men went to Montgomery last weekend realizing that this was a must win, and in spite of everything they got one. The Pioneers led early but fell behind with more than ten minutes to go in the half and trailed the rest of the way, until the last minute and a half of the game. We trailed by 8 at halftime and by as much as 10 in the second half before staging a comeback.

This game was a matter of Coach Lilly outcoaching Tech's coach, Pete

Phillips. Phillips tried to sit on the hall the entire second half but the Pioneers' pressure defense forced Tech into turnover after turnover, enabling the Pioneers to finally overtake them in the final minutes. The Golden Bears had a final chance to win the game in the final seconds but Jack McClinton "choked" a layup to give us the win.

Keep On

The game was marred by flares of tempers as the referees had trouble keeping the game under control. Two technicals were called on the Pioneers, and none against the Golden Bears, which was about as justified as the Louis Bennett Hall J-Board meetings. Ralph Ledbetter led our balanced scoring with 15 markers, while Charles Warner added 14 and Tom Coates added 12. "Bum" also pulled down 12 rebounds. Freshman Jack McClinton led Tech with 24 points but missed the lay-up that lost the game.

Glenville - 88, Beckley - 78

This was Glenville's last away ame before the tournaments and they went out in blazing fashion. They ripped the nets for a 62 shooting percentage and led by as much as 16 points at one time The Pioneers jumped into a 10 point halftime lead (46-36) and then played the Eagles from Raleigh County even in the second half. The win might have been a costly one for Glenville Charles Warner injured an ankle but is expected to be ready for next Friday's finale against Bluefield.

Winning

This time it was Tom Coates who led Glenville's even scoring with 24 points. The 6-1 guard from Pittsburgh also led the teams in rebounds for the second straight game with 12. Ledbetter and Wayne Washington each added 20 to the scoring cause while Warner chipped in 16 before leaving with the injury. Doug Watts and Andre White spearheaded the attack for Beckley Junior College with 20 points each.

This was the last time the Pioneers will face Beckley in basketball (unless they meet them in the tournament) since they are discontinuing their basketball program next year.

Our next game will be the season and home closer next Friday here against Bluefield State. This game will probably decide second place in the conference.

G-Women Win Two More: Face Harvey

The girls have run their winning streak to four in a row again, by winning two more games this past week. Early this year they had a five game winning streak which was snapped. Let's hope they can better that one this time around. I'm confident that they will. Last weekend the G-Women defeated Tech at Montgomery, and last Tuesday they defeated Rio Grande here.

Glenville - 82, WVa Tech - 38

This was a mismatch from the beginning as Tech-fell-behind early and stayed behind. Our ladies took a 20 point halftime lead and expanded on it in the second half. Coach Davis' squad looked like the blue and white teams that North Carolina had so much success with, as he substituted five players at one time. The Pioneerettes had balanced scoring with everyone getting in the scorebook. We were led by Kim Short with 12 and Kim Roten with 10. Only four players managed to score for Tech. Their leading scorer was Sue Lane who threw in 21 points. Glenville - 73, Rio Grande - 58

This game averaged an earlier loss to the powerful Rio Grande women who had been defeated only one time before this setback. Kim Short stole the show as she hit for a season high of 32 points. (This may be a school record but it can't be confirmed.) A lot of her points came on lay ups after key steals, but her outside shooting was also devastating. She was helped by Debbie Grogg's 15 points and 10 rebounds. Denise Radcliff led Rio

Grande with 21

Wesleyan which is scheduled for Feb. The girls' schedule has not been cut 14th. The D&E game has been postponed and will be made up later.

Calendar Altered

On January 26, 1977, the Glenville State College Council approved revisions in the academic calendar for the 1977-78, 1978-79 school years Only the second semester will be affected by the revision.

It will be noted that the beginning date for second semester 1978 is January 30 and graduation is May 31. The 1979 second semester is much the same. College will not be in session from December 20, 21 until near the beginning of February.

At a recent meeting of public college presidents, the concensus was that public colleges and universities would observe the January closing. The amount of savings of energy and the difficulties of travel during January would certainly justify this action.

Hardly the case when you realize that the majority of Amercians will treat the draft evader as they would the Bubonic Plague anyway. On top of that, the Vietnam vet was not, as you say, ignored. President Carter, upon granting the pardon to draft evaders, presented a plan to put thousands of veterans into the working force and thousands more into voca tional training. The vet was not ignored and I sincerely doubt that the draft evaders will be welcomed home with open arms, but at least they have the chance.
