Veterans May Be Making Payments

Veterans going to school under the GI Bill could wind up in debt to the Federal government if they drop courses, or receive non-punitive grades under certain circumstances, the Veterans Administration advised.

VA Regional Director Sam A. Tiano explained that a recent Congressional amendment to the GI Bill requires the agency to retroactively cancel assistance payments for courses dropped without a grade. This also applies in cases when a course is completed but the grade assigned is, in effect, ignored by the school for graduation requirements.

The new regulations do not apply when the situation was caused by circumstances beyond the student's control, Tiano said.

He described the new regulation as a major change in GI Bill benefit payments policy.

The new law provides that VA may not pay educational benefits for any part of a course which is not used in computing graduation requirements, Tiano explained.

This means, he said, that many students will find themselves overpaid under the GI Bill for courses from which they withdraw and for courses in which the assigned grade is not used in computing requirements for graduation.

Payments for such courses must be stopped as of the first day of the school term, of December 1, 1977, whichever date is later, he said.

For example, if a student withdraws from a course on April 1, under the conditions outlined, VA payments will, in effect, be terminated retroactively to the beginning of the term.

In the past, GI Bill Payments would have been continued up to the date of withdrawal, but the new law prohibits this.

Tiano urges students enrolled under the GI Bill not to drop courses, or request non-punitive grades until they contact their school's veterans affairs office and determine what effect the action may have on their monthly VA checks.

The agency also recommends that both the student and school officials provide a brief statement concerning circumstances of the withdrawal, or grade assignment when reporting it to the VA.

VA will then determine the effect of the circumstances and notify the student of the action taken to adjust his or her educational benefits.

GCHS Seniors To Visit Campus

Approximately thirty Gilmer County High School students will be visiting our campus next Tuesday, March 8 from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. These college bound seniors will be visiting our campus to get a basic idea of what campus life is like.

The prospective students (not necessarily interested in GSC) will be here seeking answers to any questions they may have concerning college.

Various faculty members, division chairpersons, and administrators will be participating in this event filled day.

Charles Warner receives the George Springer Award.

Election for the Student Congress officers and representatives for the 1977-78 year will be held on Monday, March 7 and Tuesday, March 8. Voting will be held in front of the old cafeteria from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. and in both dorms from 7 p.m. until 11 p.m.

Pageant To Be Held

The Miss GSC Pageant is fast approaching and plans are being made by the reigning Miss GSC, Miss Pitty Groves. The pageant will be held on March 30.

Pitty stated that plans must be made in conjunction with the state pageant. The people from the state choose the theme of the pageant and send ideas for programming.

Judges will be interviewing all the contestants on March 27, probably in the Wesley Foundation.

If anyone is interested in becoming a contestant make plans now! The pageant is only three weeks away.

V. Bugliosi To Appear

Charles Manson is eligible to apply for parole next year. Should he be paroled? How did Manson manage to control and program dozens of young men and women into an army of zombies? Could it happen again?

Next Thursday, March 10, Vincent Bugliosi, the aggressive Prosecuting Attorney chosen to try Charles Manson and four co-defendants, will appear on the Glenville campus. Present plans for the afternoon include a reception Thursday afternoon and a guest appearance on stage at 8 p.m.

Mr. Bugliosi will reveal the fascinating and often misunderstood facts about the family's background, their bizarre philosophy and how the different types came to believe Manson was Jesus Christ. He discusses motives for the killings.

Mr. Bugliosi is co-author of Helter Skelter. His spectacular career served as a criminal prosecutor and the model for the TV series, The DA, starring Robert Conrad. Now in private practice in LA, he is currently working to reopen the files on Robert Kennedy's assassination based on new evidence which he feels points to the existence of a second assassin.

Don't miss this exciting speaker. Advance tickets are available for $1 ea.

Advance tickets are available for the appearance of Vincent Bugliosi on March 10. Tickets are available at the Campus Bookstore, the Information Center, and the Towne Bookstore on Main Street. They will be available at the door also.

The appearance was subsidized $2,300 by the Student Congress. Students would have had to pay $5.00 without this subsidization.

The Management 386 course, Equal Opportunity in Employment, scheduled to begin on Thursday, March 10, at 6:30 p.m. will meet in room 302A and not in room 208A as previously announced.

CINDY GUNNOE - MS. KANAWHACHEN

Gunnoe Becomes Ms. Kanawhachen

Cindy Gunnoe, representing the Delta Zeta Sorority, has captured Glenville State College's first (but not last) Ms. Kanawhachen Contest. Ms. Gunnoe is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gunnoe of Charleston.

The contest, sponsored by GSC's yearbook staff, proved to be quite a success and a booster shot for a not-so-well accepted yearbook. The final tally rounded up a donation of $71.14 towards yearbook finances. The contest was graciously received by GSC students.

First runner-up in the contest was Ms. Carole Humphrey. She was sponsored by Lambda Chi Alpha and Sigma Sigma Sigma. Second runner-up was the Mercury's Ms. Robin E. Carns and third runner up was the TKE's Dawn Butler.

Below is the breakdown of the vote tally:

- 1) Delta Zeta, Cindy Gunnoe, 2,763 votes
- 2) Lambda Chi Alpha - Sigma Sigma, Carole Humphrey, 2326 votes
- 3) Mercury, Robin Carns, 1,018 votes
- 4) TKE, Dawn Butler, 1,007 votes.

On behalf of the yearbook staff we congratulate and thank all participants.

Children's Play to Be Shown in Charleston

Tryouts for the children's play, Jack and the Beanstalk were held this Tuesday and Wednesday. The play will be performed in mid-April in the Aud. During the month of April, it will also be performed at the Science and Cultural Center at the State capital in Charleston.

Sheila Hamden will play Jack. She is a history major and has acted in "Le Barbe Blen." Jack's mother will be Dianne Adrian. She has acted in five plays in junior and senior high school. Randy Gilles will portray Jack's kidnapped father. He worked in 6 Rms Riv Vu, and has experience working with sets.

Bossy the cow will be played by two actors. The north end will be Gil Valdez, who acted and worked with the set in Never Too Late. The cow's south end will be Jeff Judkins, who has technical and acting experience in The Dragon of Nitt.

Richard Adrian will play Mack the Magician, who gives the magic beans to Jack. He has extensive acting experience in high school.

Jim Steele will be the giant. He has acted in the Dragon of Nitt and Of Mice and Men. Connie Snyder will play his wife. She has acted before in church plays.

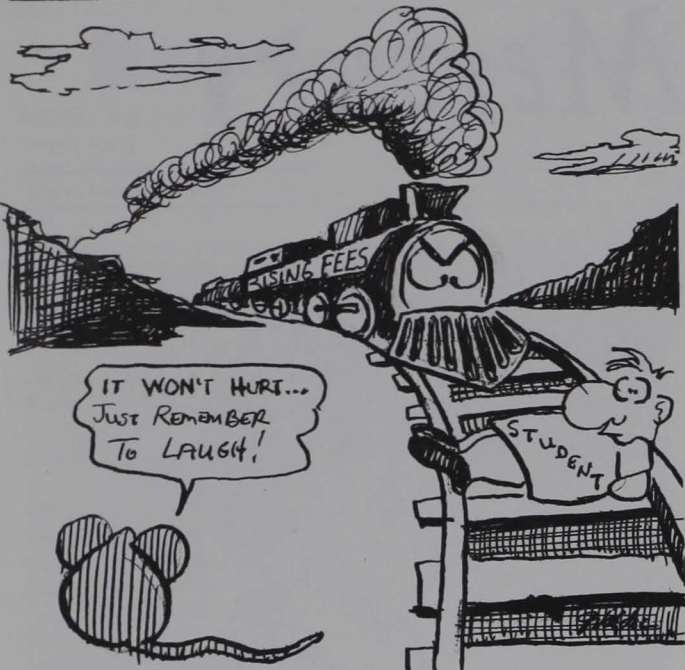

The stolen harp will be played by Tina Crump. She has worked with the Reader's theatre and played in Contributions and most recently, The Miracle Worker. She was also a member of last years forensic's team.

Dorothy Bennett, who has acted in church plays, will play a calf. Ray Powell, who has most recently been in 6 Rms. Riv. Vu, The Miracle Worker, and several other plays will play the chicken.

Election Raises Fees

What happened to the Student Congress fee raise election? The election results faded away after being threatened by less than forty per cent of the students voting.

The fee raise of $7 for the yearbook and $5 for sports was passed by approximately forty per cent of the student body. Yes! There will be a year-book and spring sports are saved! (Knock on Wood)

Of course, even with this fee raise, the money will have to be carefully budgeted in both areas. The athletic funds will be budgeted through the business office and perhaps with a little care, both groups will be able to survive without asking the Student Congress to bail them out with money designated for entertainment.

If our luck holds out we won't have to vote in a similar election next spring.

Peggy Bauman,
Editor

Candidates Converse

New Student Congress Officers will be elected next week. I, Dale E. Moore, will be on the ballot for the office of President. The Constitution states that one of the duties of President is "to act as an intermediary between the students and the administration." Too few students and members of Administration take this duty seriously. If elected Student Congress President I pledge to work to eradicate the gulf that has emerged between GSC students and the administration. But to accomplish this, I need your the student body's support. I am appealing to you for your vote in the coming election.

Thank You,
Dale E. Moore

This Monday and Tuesday, March 7 and 8, the Student Body here at GSC will elect a new set of officers for Student Congress. I, Dale A. Sparks, am running for Parliamentarian. The duties of this office include preserving order and acting at the discretion of the President; to interpret rules of procedure and constitutionality of all action taken by the SC; and to be chairman of the committee to plan homecoming activities. I, if elected next Parliamentarian, promise to work for the fulfillment of these obligations. In past years there has been a lack of communication between students and the administration. I would strive to eliminate this gap and restore unity at Glenville State College. Students have a right to a voice in student government. The Student Congress is the voice of the student. As an elected officer of SC I would work to have that voice heard. I would appreciate your vote of confidence on Monday and Tuesday, March 7 and 8. Thank You.

Respectively,
Dale A. Sparks
Student Congress - Louis Bennett Rep.

4-Hers go to Nationals

Seven Glenville State 4-H Collegians will be attending the National Collegiate 4-H Congress at Pennsylvania State University March 31 through April 3.

Jill Crutchfield, Connie Queen, Danny Brown, Curt Coffman, Beth Stalnaker, Roberta Shearer, and Diane Jones will be housed at Penn State Sheraton Inn, along with 400 delegates to the conference.

This year's conference theme is 'Continuing to Share - Sharing to Continue'. Workshops will be held on leadership, Urban 4-H, management, and publicity. Local 4-Her's hope to gain new ideas, and promote collegiate 4-H through this conference.

The 4th quarter meal ticket is due March 8, 1977 ($185.40)

College 'Greeks' Plan Spring Activities

LAMBDA CHI

The Brothers of Beta Beta Zeta are looking forward to a busy week of activities before leaving for a well - deserved Spring Break.

High Beta Randy Gilles is finalizing plans for a Founder's Day Banquet which is scheduled for March 22. Gilles is also finalizing plans for several money-making projects.

At this week's meeting, the chapter voted on chaperones and awards for Closed Ball and selected Tom (Wilbon) Phillips as our new athletic director.

Brother Bill Rubin is this week's winner of the POW award - edging Randy Gilles who was about to retire the award. Don Chapman won the AH, assoc. member Chuck Case the WINO, and Don Whalen the KCUF.

TKE

A TKE Formal meeting was held March 1 in the Multi-Purpose Room.

The TKE Closed Ball will be held April 30 at the Sheraton Inn in Clarksburg.

Plans were discussed on the TKE Tournament. We have six different TKE teams from around the state in the event which will take place on April 2 and 3.

Work session will be held next Tuesday at 3:00 p.m. at the TKE House.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA

The sisters of Delta Alpha Chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority held a school dress meeting February 28, 1977 in Clark Hall. The pledges for this semester were also in attendance. Sister Lyn Bartges gave a slide presentation entitled "Welcome to our World," which dealt with becoming a Sigma.

The sisters have began two new social service projects: (1) working with children at the Day Care Center; (2) writing, calling by phone, and visiting the Senior Citizens in the Gilmer County area.

There will be a Chili Dinner on March 24, 1977.

Big Sis - Little Sis ceremony was held for Donna Cammarato Tuesday in the Sigma Lounge. Donna's Big Sis is Janet Kay James.

Sigas wish everyone good luck on their mid term examinations.

DELTA ZETA

Delta Zeta Sorority is supporting the following candidates in the upcoming Student Congress:

President - Allan Stump; Vice President - Cindy Gunnoe; Secretary - Karen Bush; Treasurer - Deb Stalnaker; Parliamentarian - Pitty Groves; Sr. Rep. - Vickie Wilson; Jr. Rep. - Sonnie Shaw; Soph. Rep. Terry Evans; Senators - at - Large - Patsy

Do you think that the dorms should have television cables in the rooms for the students who want them?

Yes 96%

No 4%

If this service were offered, would you subscribe to it? (There is a charge of approximately $6.00 per mth.)

Yes 79%

No 21%

Two-Hundred and seven dorm residents were asked the above question. Some who did favor cable installation said they could not subscribe to it because they did not have a television set or could not afford one.

The cost of cable installation in Pickens and LBH would be approximately $3,000.00

Dr. A.T. Billips said the reasons that the college has not had TV cables installed are, in order of importance: 1) the cost is prohibitive. 2) The bill collecting would be left to the college, causing additional problems. 3) A noise problem would result. If cables would be installed, they would be contracted only by the cable company and the student, with the college acting only as the landowner. This way, the student would be fully responsible for payment of all bills.

Groves, Karen Pettrey, Bev Hamric, Sue Lieving, Susan Parson, Deena Snyder, and Anita Keister.

THETA XI

The Kappa Eta chapter of Theta Xi Fraternity held its weekly meeting on Monday, Feb. 28.

Plans for our closed ball are being finalized. This year's ball will be at the Uptowner Inn in Parkersburg on March 26. The brothers wish to thank everyone who came out and supported us on the dribble, and to our little sisses who fixed sandwiches and other food for our trip. This week's SLOTH award goes to Joe Knically, now that basketball season is over. The Lover award goes to Mark Dorsey for his tournament action. And a new award to commemorate the dribble is issued this week. The Millstone Mangler award goes to Tim Snead and Tom Antill to show that they can't hang with the big dogs. Congratulations to all!

Express Yourself by Voting

Dear Editor,

Regarding the Mercury Poll in last week's issue, it is evident that students are afraid to voice their opinions. Personally I think this is a crime since there is so much student unrest on this campus. It's about time that an end come to such "crimes" and something be done - before it's too late.

Before anything significant can be done though, there needs to be some kind of communication established between the administration and the students. Apparently from the Mercury Poll there is very little.

We do have some good administrators (believe it or not), and although I'm not sure what most of their reasons are for the things they have done, there are reasons - - there must be. I believe that one of the greatest shortcomings of our administration is that they fail to make students understand why they do what they do. We are students. It is our purpose to learn, to reason, to understand. It is as much our right to know such things as anyone.

Perhaps the blame for this communication gap belongs to Student Congress since it is Student Congress' responsibility to act as liaison between the students and the administration. Perhaps Student Congress should demand more answers from the administration. Perhaps the administration should utilize the Student Congress for what it is - student representation - instead of letting it remain an entertainment committee - and a farce.

If there are still students who believe that freedom of the press is nonexistent at GSC, then I guess I've strung my own noose. If that's the case, I have one dying request:

Take Student Congress elections seriously. Elect representatives who will make Student Congress a meaningful organization - one that will work smoothly with the administration and the student body and thereby bridge this widening communication gap.

Halftime Talk

BY DOUG MARTIN

It's over for another year, but anyone that saw much of the 40th Annual WVIAC Basketball Tournament last week will tell you it's one of the best sports spectacles put on in West Virginia.

From the opening night when Glenville opened the tournament with a 85-79 win over Beckley to the final buzzer on Saturday night, basketball was king in Charleston. And when all the smoke had cleared the W.Va. Wesleyan Bobcats had enthroned the Fairmont Falcons from their well worn seat. This is the first time in four years Fairmont has not won the tournament.

Although ranked fourth in the conference, I would have had to call Wesleyan a dark horse at the beginning of the week. They had played only two games the whole month of February due to the closing of the school. Maybe this was just enough of a vacation to get them rested while other teams were worn out.

This was only the fourth time since the tournament originated, that the four top seeded teams made it to the semifinals. Ironically enough, these four teams finished in the opposite order that they finished in the conference. Top ranked Fairmont finished fourth, second place finisher Glenville finished third, third ranked Morris Harvey came in second, while fourth seeded Wesleyan took all the barbles.

The Pioneers were well represented in post tournament honors. Ralph Ledbetter and Tom Coates were named to the All Tournament team and Charles Warner received the George Springer Sportsmanship Award. The only place I felt we were shorted was in the cheerleading division where we came away empty handed. West Liberty won almost all honors here which makes little sense to me since they were eliminated on Tuesday night and cheered only that night . . . Tom Coates led all players that played in all four games in scoring with a 22.2 average. Coates really shone and finally got some of the glory he deserves . . .

This tournament didn't set any attendance records (It couldn't outdo Archie Talley's farce last year!) but it had to set some kind of cardic arrest record. Eight of the 15 games played were decided by 6 or less points and 3 of the games went into overtime. All in all, this was the most exciting tourney I've ever witnessed, but of course that only goes back about 8 years...

This had to be one of the youngest tournaments ever. W.Va. Wesleyan started two freshmen, two sophs and only one senior. We were not far behind as we started only one senior with three sophomores and one junior. Fairmont will have three of its five starters back. Just wait til next year...

Spring Sports

They say, all good things must come to an end and I guess it's true. As much as I have enjoyed working with Coaches Lilly and Carney and the basketball team, its time to leave basketball and turn to the fairer weather sports. But before I do, I would personally like to thank Jim Riffle, Jesse Lilly and Tim Carney for their complete cooperation throughout the entire season; even when things weren't going too smoothly at the first of the year . . .

With the arrival of March, spring sports start to blossom around the state each year. Glenville is no exception to this rule. The football players will be having their annual spring football practice starting after spring break. This is a couple of weeks that the coaches use to reevaluate players and make adjustments before next year comes along. I just wonder where they'll get the money to buy tape and other practice necessities since all athletic money has been cut off for the rest of this academic year?? Well, Student Congress...

More important is that the baseball team is getting ready to head south over Spring Break for a week's tour of southern baseball. They will play 7 games in roughly a week's time. They are looking for much better luck this time around . . . Look for alot more on the baseball team in next week's paper.

Bowling

The keggers will be bowling in the state conference roll-off this weekend in Parkersburg. West Liberty goes into the competition as the favorite and our Pioneers are seeded second. The G-Men are looking for a big upset and a chance to defend their national championship in Kansas City this month.

Glenville Places Well In Tourney

The 40th Annual WVIAC Tournament has come and gone and alot has been said about it, but just how well did the Pioneers fare? As a team they went 3-1 in the tournaments good enough for a third place finish. They beat 'unbeatable' archrival Fairmont. They had two players named to the All-Tournament Team (Coates and Ledbetter) and Charles Warner won the Sportsmanship Award. As individuals, the Pioneers got a 6-Day vacation from Glenville and school work, 3 good meals a day and fashionable living in one of Charleston's finest hotels. All in all it was a good week for all Glenville players, cheerleaders, staff and fans.

Glenville - 85, Beckley - 79

We opened the tournament Tuesday night against "bowing out" Beckley Jr. College which was playing its last intercollegiate game. The Pioneers won easier than the score may indicate but it wasn't pretty. Charles Warner kept us ahead with good defensive plays while Ralph Ledbetter led the scoring with his high season total of 29 points. Wayne Washington finished with 17, Warner 15 and Tom Coates, 12.

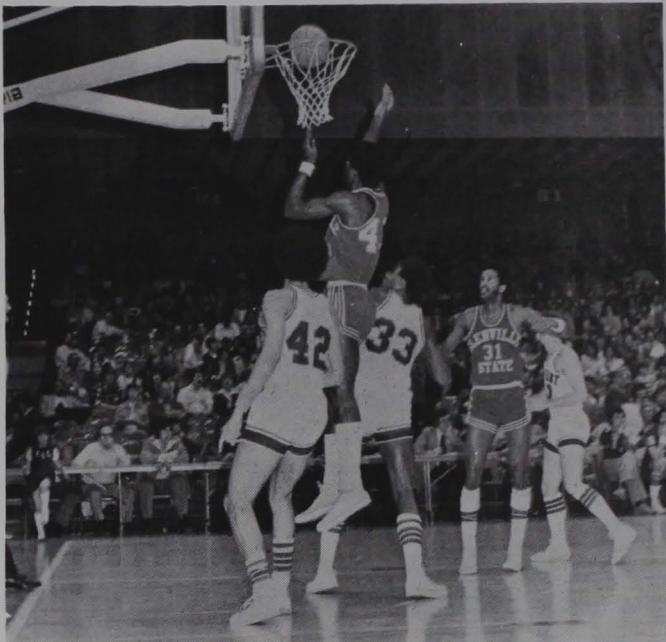

Only 3600 people turned out for the opening session which saw Glenville win its first tournament tilt in 3 years. In the other game of Tuesday night Tech beat outmanned West Liberty 73 - 60.

Glenville - 74, Bluefield - 70

Thursday afternoon Glenville faced the survivor of the Bluefield - Salem in the opening game of round two, this turned out to be the 'Big Blues' who defeated Salem rather handily, 94 - 80.

Glenville once again refused to blow anybody out as they had Bluefield on the ropes time and time again, but couldn't put them away. For the second straight game, the Pioneers managed to stay ahead the whole game, never trailing. Glenville had a nine point lead in the first half at 33-24. Bluefield cut the lead to 6 at half, 38-32. Coates and Warner provided the first half fireworks with 12 and 10 respectively. Ralph Ledbetter scored the basket that put us ahead 4-2 but never scored again in the first half.

The second half was more of the same as Glenville grabbed a 9 point lead 51 - 42, only to lose it to carelessness. The Blues fought back to tie the score at 48 and tied us for the last time at 66. Washington put the G-Men ahead to stay at the 2:46 mark on a layup. The Pioneers held on for a win, despite shooting the ball with 14 seconds left and holding a slim one point lead. Tom Coates put the game on ice by hitting 3 of four foul shots in the last 11 seconds, to make the final 74-70. Coates ended with 24 points followed by Washington with 15 and Charles Warner 14. Ledbetter ended with only 6 points. Warner and Joe Knicely led in rebounding with 9 and 8.

Morris Harvey-71, Glenville-70 (OT)

Friday night's overtime loss to Morris Harvey in the semifinals was a sad end to a beautiful dream. It was one of the most exciting games I've ever witnessed and could have gone either way. Unfortunately for us, time happened to run out when we were behind.

I was afraid our game with Morris Harvey would be anticlimatic after Fairmont was upset earlier in the night by Wesleyan but these fears turned out to be unfounded. Morris Harvey went into the game with only a 15-13 record compared to our 15-8 but had been almost as hot as we had in the last part of the season. They also had the majority of the crowd with them, with the school being located in Charleston.

The Pioneers jumped out to an early 6-2 lead but suddenly found themselves behind for the first time in the tournament when the Eagles scored 8 straight points to take a 10-6 lead. The G-Men played catch up ball the rest of the half, pulling within one point several times but never taking the lead. We trailed 31-30 at half. John Jividen led the attack for Morris Harvey in the first half, hitting five shots in a row from the outside, while most of our damage was done by Tom Coates and Ralph Ledbetter.

The second half was just as close as the lead changed hands several times. Glenville held two four point leads in the second half but turnovers killed us. With the score tied at 63 we had a chance to win

G-Women End Season; Begin Tourney

The varsity basketball team isn't the only one taking part in post season tournaments. The girls have been involved in one since Wednesday afternoon and hopefully when this paper comes out they will still be playing. The tournament games are being played at the John D. Rockefeller IV gymnasium at W.Va. Wesleyan in Buckhannon.

The G-Ladies go into the tournaments seeded fourth behind W.V.U., Morris Harvey and D & E. We were scheduled to play Fairmont Wednesday afternoon and if we won that we were scheduled to play the winner of the Shepherd - Marshall game. Beyond this game, scheduling was not complete at press time.

BULLETIN!!

Glenville's ladies defeated Fairmont in the first round of the WV women's college tournament 70-46. Deb Grogg led the way with 18 points.

The Pioneerettes finished their regular season by defeating Marietta 72-32, here last Thursday. Kim Short led the way for our ladies with 19 points. Kim West added 16 and Debbie Grogg 10. This final regular season victory gave the girls a record of 11-5 overall and 8-3 in the conference.

The Mercury is now accepting entries in their "Most Expressive Eyes" contest. Campus organizations or individuals may enter. A five dollar entry fee is required, and a cash prize will be awarded. All money will be donated to the Heart Fund.

"The Eyes Have It!"

A man was walking with his son through the park one bright Autumn afternoon, thankful that he and his son were together. Both of them ran and frolicked through the wind-strewn leaves, and the sound of the soft blowing breeze whispered through their ears.

Ahead, just a few yards, awaited the playground with the rust-covered swings that Little Jimmy loved to swing on. Hopes were up and the spirits of both father and son were mounting to a cheerful height. As the father put little Jimmy on the swing, the sounds of happy children playing filled his ears. His smile broadened.

He pushed little Jimmy, and as little Jimmy soared higher and higher above the ground the father began to gasp. Sounds struggled to free themselves from the father's throat but were choked off as the father fell unconscious to the ground. The father had suffered a heart attack and aid was not available. The father died as little Jimmy watched with tear-stained eyes. Jimmy's world was gone.

This story is fictional but it could happen and often does. The heart is the body's most precious instrument and should never be taken lightly. Heart attacks happen to anyone regardless of age, creed, height, or weight.

The Mercury is sponsoring a "Most Expressive Eyes" Contest and entrants are asked to donate an entrance fee of $5.00 which goes to the American Heart Fund. The contest is fun and the winner will receive a cash award, of course. But the Heart Fund cannot succeed unless GSC students support it.

We would do well to remember that although the contest may be fun, a heart attack isn't. Support the Heart Fund.

TEAM TRAVELS

This Thursday, the forensics team left for Eastern Kentucky University for competition. They will return Saturday.

Rachel Morris will compete in prose/improptu speaking; Working with poetry/prose; interpretation is Janice Smith; Trish Lothes will be in the category of informative and prose interpretation; Jim Workman, who won 6th place in the Rare Bird Tournament in California, PA last month, will compete in informative and improptuspeaking.

MORRIS HARVEY

it in regulation time, when Ledbetter went to the foul line for two shots with 11 seconds left in the game. But "Led" failed to hit either shot and when Morris Harvey failed to score we had overtime.

The lead went back and forth in the overtime as it had the whole game. We had our last lead at 46 seconds when Washington connected on a 3-point play after a Hawkins steal. John Jividen then put the Eagles ahead to stay on an off balance 15 foot shot with 25 seconds to go. The Pioneers stalled for the last shot, Hawkins taking it with 5 seconds left. It bounced off the rim into a waiting Morris Harvey man's hands and we were destined for the consolation game... Ledbetter and Coates led the Pioneers with 24 and 19 points respectively, while Charles Warner pulled down 13 rebounds.

On March 9, the Cultural Affairs Committee proudly presents the film classic Rules of the Game. Director Jean Renoir examines the decay of French social values just before World War II. The film will begin at 8:00 p.m. in the Auditorium.

The GSC Campus 4-H Club will hold a cupcake eating contest March 9 at 5:00 p.m. in the Multi-Purpose Room. Any interested organization or group of 6 people should contact Curt Coffman, Rm 351 LBH, ext. 303 before March 7.

The cave biology course will meet on Sunday, March 6, at 7:00 p.m. in the Little Theater, Administration Building. Due to the excellent student response, class size is now at its maximum and any further additions can not be accepted. If any student is uncertain as to whether or not he was officially accepted into the class, please check the class roster that is posted outside of room 303A.

Jericho Harp Reviewed

Before an audience of 250, Jericho Harp weaved music and emotions for slightly over two hours. The audience was so enthusiastic about the folk-rockers performance that they called them back for two encores after the twenty-one song set.

Jim Thomas and Tom Schmidt have been performing together for six years, and for the past four years have been touring colleges and universities in the Mideastern U. S. Now they are at the point in their careers where 90% of all musicians have failed to reach. They have a recording contract with United Artists and are now finishing their album. It will be released nationally next April. At present, the album does not have a title, but United Artists is expected to give it extensive advertising.

When they arrived at Glenville, the duo had been touring for five weeks. Most musicians are so worn down after the first month, that the quality of their playing deteriorates. Jericho Harp was surprisingly different. Their performance was so fresh that it could have been easily the first week of thier tour. Not only is their style consistent, their attitude toward their music and the music business in general is this: "We see no need to make unusual demands like vegetarian or diet food in the dressing rooms. It doesn't make sense for the promoter to have to drive 300 miles to meet unnecessary demands in the contracts," Tom Schmidt told me before the show. "Our rider requests coffee in the dressing rooms, but it rarely materializes."

This professional, serious, attitude toward their music is reflected in their concern for putting on a show of music for the audience, rather than a mere string of special effects. No beheadings, no fire-breathing, or pyrotechnics were present. The costumes were not elaborate, "the sequined jumpsuits are at the cleaners, and "Tom's makeup gave him a rash." Jim Thomas quipped. They rely on simplicity in their show. Colored lights were used, but not for effect, only illumination. The stage was bare, except for the musicians, and their sound equipment. They were quick-witted in their one-liners, most of which related to the college and surrounding area. Before "Josphine Chrysanti meem," a comedy song about "this bee who is trying to make it with this flower." The audience was asked if there was any sex in Glenville. In the wake of the joke, a member of the audience remarked, "What else is there here?" "Josphine Chrysanthimeem's humor was well received, as was the skillful guitar work on "Feelin' So New." Their fast-moving "Mississippi Magic" is an excellent show opener; it sets the mood and prepares the audience for what is to come later.

Mostly, Jericho Harp plays their own songs, which seem to be a prerequisite for success in today's competitive music market. They did play songs by Dick Holler, Jo Mapes, Micheal Johnson, Dan Fogelburg and one by Moby Grape, in casethere are any acid heads still alive out there."

Jericho Harp has outlasted the majority of groups which began six years ago, and with the combination of their singing and writing talent, I feel they will last on to national success.

Consolation Game

Whatever pride we could scrape up after the heart breaking loss Friday night, was evident when we did what we set out to do when we went to Charleston: We beat Fairmont! Although Saturday's win was only in the consolation game it was still gratifying to defeat the team that had been a thorn in our sides for years.

The Pioneers outplayed the Flying (make that fluttering) Falcons, who lost as many games during the tournament as they did all year, from beginning to end, to register their first win over the Falcons since 1972.

Glenville led by as many as 18 points, before pulling their usual routine of blowing a lead, and waiting until no ticks were on the clock before pulling out the win. This time they had to wait until they were assured of the win. With Glenville leading 82-80 and no time left on the clock, Vance Carr went to the line for two foul shots. He missed the first and made the second, giving Glenville an 82-81 lead. "Bum" Coates finished his college career in grand fashion scoring 34 points (15-19 from the field) and completely outplaying Fairmont star Davey Moore. Ralph Ledbetter was the only other G-Men in double figures with 13 points.

This game ended Glenville's participation in the tournament and enabled them to finish with a 15-6 conference record and 16-9 mark overall. You can look for the Pioneers to be in the thick of things again next year since we will be losing only two seniors.

There will be a very important Chi Beta Phi meeting this Sunday, March 6, 1977 at 7:00 p.m. The topic will be the March 8th convention. Those who have not paid their initiation fee please bring it to the meeting Sunday.
