Rex Elwood Pyles has been named 1977 Alumnus of the Year of Glenville State College. He will be the guest of honor at the Alumni Day Banquet on Saturday, April 30.

In 1934, Rex Pyles graduated from GSC with a major in zoology, a minor in physical science, and one in physical education. He earned an M.S. Degree in physical education from WVU in 1940. He has also done graduate work in health and physical education at Northwestern University, Michigan State University, and the University of Kentucky.

During World War II, Pyles was in the Navy and was a Lieutenant Commander when he separated from active duty at the end of the war.

Except for his active duty in the Navy, Mr. Pyles served from 1934 to 1975, the year he retired as Director of Athletics at Alderson-Broaddus College, Philippi, W.Va. He now holds the mark of Professor Emeritus. From 1934 until 1964, besides being Athletic Director, he also coached the baseball and basketball teams.

Mr. Pyles has been awarded four citations from the Sports Trail Century Club of Chicago, Ill. for winning over 400 games. In 1960, he was presented the Award of Proficiency by the Touchdown Club of Morgantown, W.V. The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) named him national "Coach of the Year" for 1961. The same organization honored him in 1968 by naming him to the Helms Hall of Fame in Los Angeles, Calif.

In 1972, the West Virginia College Health and Physical Education Association presented Pyles an Award of Recognition. The West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference coaches named him as one of the All-Time Coaches in 1974. West Virginia Sports Writers named him to the W.Va. Sports Hall of Fame in 1975. Bronze plaques bearing the portraits of each honoree in the Sports Hall of Fame are displayed in the lobby of the Charleston, W.Va. Civic Center. The next year, 1976, Mr. Pyles was installed in the Hall of Fame of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics.

Since 1954, Rex Pyles has served as a member of the National Basketball Rules Committee of the NAIA. He is a past chairman of District 28 of NAIA.

In 1970, Rex Pyles' career of dedicated service as a teacher, coach, and athletic director was capped at Alderson-Broaddus College when the Rex E. Pyles Arena on that campus was named in his honor.

Rex Pyles is the son of George and Lillian Bach Pyles, both of whom are deceased. Although he was born in Independence, Preston County, W.Va. he spent most of his early years in Shinnston, W.Va. He graduated from Shinnston High School.

Mr. Pyles is a member of the Baptist Church, the Kiwanis Club, Masonic Lodge-Bigelow No. 52, Shriners, and the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics.

While a student at Glenville, Rex Pyles played football, basketball, and baseball. He remembers with fondness Miss Alma Arbuckle and the evenings he worked for her in the library for 15 cents an hour. The library was also the place he recalls that he and a few other boys bunked in the basement. The old library building is now Clark Hall which houses the Division of Education and the Mercury Office.

The Alumni Council invites all alumni to join in honoring Rex Pyles as Alumnus of the Year for 1977 on this Alumni Day, Saturday, April 30.

Welcome, Alumni!

It's Alumni Weekend and past students are coming back to observe changes in the campus, talk to their instructors, and just to see each other after long years away from GSC.

Every one has complaints about our college but even Glenville has its good points it seems because almost everyone that leaves comes back to visit and reminisce about life at Glenville. You know, if you stop and think about it, Glenville is a nice little place. Who can forget the Thursday nights spent at the 'Scoreboard or the afternoon football games under chilly fall skies?

The campus once had different buildings, smaller buildings, and no parking problems. But in spite of all the changes here, the atmosphere is still the same. Everybody has time for a quick smile and pleasant 'hello' as one hurries by to keep up with a busy schedule.

Today and tomorrow GSC alumnus will be pouring onto our campus. Things will be a little different this year. The festivities of the Day will be overshadowed by the forthcoming retirement of Dr. D. Banks Wilburn. Things always have to change and sometimes the changes leave us with a feeling of emptiness and a knowledge that things will never be the same.

Many people will be here just to visit one another and a lot of people will be coming back to say good-bye for the last time to our president, Dr. Wilburn.

A hearty welcome goes out to all alumni and visitors who will be on campus this week-end. Have a good time and a safe trip home after the event filled day is over.

Manpower Will Hire Students This Summer

Manpower, Inc., the world's largest temporary help firm, expects to have jobs for more than 25,000 students with office work skills throughout the country this summer, a substantial increase over last summer, according to Mitchell S. Fromstein, President of Manpower.

"Every year students add an important dimension to our workforce. This year they'll play an even bigger role because of the optimistic job forecast Manpower has received from businessmen," Fromstein said.

A recent survey of 5,000 businessmen nationally conducted by Manpower indicates business hiring is on the upswing with a growth projected for this spring and summer in the service and retail trade areas.

When students go looking for jobs, they swell a part-time U.S. workforce, that already includes some 16,000,000 people. Ironically, students may not get a job because they overlook their competitive edge. Many of them have a marketable office skill and don't know it.

"Manpower offices are amazed at the number of students who come in, fill out their applications, and don't even mention that they can type, take shorthand or operate a business machine. These are good skills which we need," Fromstein said.

One of the reasons that students may overlook these skills is that they have their sights set on a more distant goal—a case of not being able to see the forest for the trees. Fromstein said that students who type term papers for themselves and their friends often have typing rates as high as a highly qualified typist.

The person who's a skilled typist or office machine operator can usually find a job with Manpower. There are also some opportunities that don't require as much skill, such as inventory takers, maintenance workers, etc.

"If you type a good paper for a stiff-grading instructor, the chances are you can work for Manpower," he said.

One University of Denver student, Mary Kay McNulty, uses her typing ability to travel the world with Manpower. Mary Kay lives at 6178 Washington Circle in Milwaukee, Wisconsin (414/475-0160), and during the Christmas vacation she works in Manpower's Milwaukee office. One summer she decided she wanted to stay in San Francisco and worked in Manpower's office there.

Fromstein said Mary Kay is just one example of the many students who take advantage of Manpower's Work Travel program. Under this program, a student who establishes a good work performance record in one city can transfer to another Manpower office in another city.

Reasons for entering Manpower's temporary workforce are varied. Many are women who re-enter the work force after their children are grown. Teachers and students work for Manpower because it offers them variety and they can work whenever their schedules permit. Other individuals work for Manpower because it offers a supplemental income.

Besides typists, secretaries, material handlers and some technicians, Manpower offers positions as systems analysts and keypunch operators. Students can find jobs as survey takers, interviewers, sample distributors, or they may help out at conventions, or work on assembly lines.

Fromstein said that office work opportunities vary from city to city but that most of Manpower's 400 offices in the U.S. can use most people with skills and some experience. He said all Manpower offices are equipped to test applicants and tell them quickly if their skills are promising for summer work.

Outstanding Women Honored at Banquet

On Thursday, April 21, the Panhellenic Council held an awards banquet for outstanding women on campus.

The banquet was the first of what the Panhellenic Council hopes to be an annual affair. Next year they will again host the dinner but after this it is hoped that the banquet will become independent of the council.

Before the awards were presented the special guests were introduced by Susan Martin, Panhellenic Vice-President. Also, the new Panhellenic Officers were installed by Mrs. Jean S. Wright, advisor. The new officers are: Lyn Bartges, President, Debbie Stalnaker, Secretary-Treasurer.

Certificates were then given to Twyla Wallace, Band; Dale Moore, Student Congress; Judy Lieving, Delta Zeta; Janet Cogar, Chi Beta Phi and Sigma Sigma Sigma; Ann Sharp, majorette.

Sandy Betler, Theta Xi; Jet Vickers, Lambda Chi Alpha; Debra Curry, Bowling; Mary Radabaugh, SEA; Phyllis Taylor, Basketball; Marsha McIntyre, Choir; Kim Beebe, Kappa Delta Pi; Vicki Wilson, Miss GSC; Trish Lothes, Forensics; Mary Morton, Ohnimgohow Players; Peggy Bauman, Mercury.

Diane Bach, Pickens Hall; Kim Casto, Cheerleaders, and Ann Hamric, Panhellenic Council.

Open House a Success

Sunday, April 24, open house was held at the Glenville State College Greenhouse, Mineral Road. There were students and instructors on hand to explain about the greenhouse, the Ornamental Horticulture, and to answer questions about the plants. Many people had questions about the care and cure of their houseplants and some knowledgeable members of the community shared their knowledge about plants with the students. It was an enjoyable learning experience for all.

A turnout of about 125 people rewarded the Ornamental Horticulture Department for their weeks of preparation. Donations were accepted for several kinds of houseplants including many colors of coleus, pink polka dot plant, maternity plant, Wandering jews, Swedish ivy, and others. These donations went into a fund for small loans for students for field trips and to aid the Ornamental Horticulture Club in its activities once the club completes its struggle to become a recognized organization on our campus. The students of Ornamental Horticulture wish to extend a "thank you" to all those who expressed their interest and support by helping to make the Open-house successful.

Halftime Talk

By Doug Martin

If you think back to as far as late January, you will remember that it was announced by the college president that after February no college funds would be used to support Spring Sports. What this actually meant, was that golf, baseball and bowling would have to come up with their own money if they were going to field teams. Well, it's been almost 3 months since this announcement so let's take a look at how these 3 second semester sports did.

The bowling team's season is over, but one could hardly say that it was dull or lacked finances. The team traveled to a different city (and sometimes state) to compete in a tournament, almost every weekend for two months, including Kansas City and Philadelphia. Their journeys included a plane flight to the NAIA National Championships in K.C. where they spent three days. In fact, they seemed to travel as much this year, as they did last year when they were college supported.

The "penniless" golf team has done no more than gone undefeated in the WVIAC while relying on donations for their livelihood. It looks as though the golfers will follow the bowlers' example and reach the national championship play-offs. This will mean gathering funds for a trip to Michigan, but this will be no problem as people seem to give when they know it's needed. The golfers, as the bowlers, have traveled quite a bit playing in six tournaments in 2 states.

The baseball team, although not having the successful record enjoyed by the bowlers and golfers, has seemed to manage rather well without the help of college finances. Their travels include a week long trip down south at the beginning of the year which covered 3 states, and extensive travel within the state since then.

They also have received new uniforms and as the keggers and link-sters, their money came through hard work and donations.

All in all, I would say it's been a good year for Spring sports which shows that it takes more than a cut off of funds to stop dedicated people from doing what they love.

Spring Football

Last week I reported that the GSC football team was in the middle of Spring football drills. After holding a final scrimmage last Saturday, the gridders are finished (and probably relieved) and can put their equipment up until next August.

I also mentioned last week that the coaches seemed pleased with what they saw and that is still quite clear after another week of practice and another scrimmage. Halfback Leandis Hodges continued to sparkle as expected as did fullbacks Tom Phillips and Mike Reed. The coaches made some switches in playing positions and although not all can be mentioned in this article a few can be noted. Jerry Ware (formerly an end) and Tom Cowan (formerly a quarterback) were moved from offense to defensive backs where they both played well. Bob Eaton has been moved from defensive back to split end to take advantage of his size and good hands. It could also be pointed out that these are all experimental moves and may be switched again before next fall. The coaches were also pleased with some newcomers who did not play last year, but will be eligible next year. Among these were Brad Batten, a slotback from St. Albans; Terry Spangler, a quarterback from Sherman; and Van Vaughn, a linebacker from Maryland.

Three players suffered rather serious injuries, two requiring operations. Jerry Ware broke his ankle in three places and Rocky Powell injured a knee, both requiring surgery. Also, Tom Cowan suffered a broken finger.

Members of the women's bowling team which just completed its season: Sitting - Diane Bach, Debbie Curry. Standing - Sue Lieving, Debbie Stalnaker, and Anita Keister.

Baseballers Win Two More

The baseball team picked up a couple more wins last week, splitting with W.V. Tech at Montgomery last Thursday and sharing victories with Shepherd here last weekend. Their record now stands at 3 - 19, picking up 3 wins in the last two weeks.

GSC - 4, 7 Tech - 5, 4

The Pioneers almost swept their first doubleheader of the year, but let the first game get away from them when the Golden Bears scored three runs in the bottom of the fifth. Tom Keane got the loss while scattering only seven hits. On the other hand we collected 9 hits, Dale Stover, Gary Nottingham and Rick Wallace collecting 2 each. Stover's two hits included a double. Wallace led the RBI attack with two, while Stover and Shepherd added one each. The Pioneers also had 2 stolen bases.

The G-Men got their easiest win of the season in the second game, whipping the Bears 7-4 mostly thanks to catcher Pat Beebe who smacked 3 doubles and had 3 RBIs. He led a 10 hit barrage which also saw Nottingham and Scott Anderson hit doubles. Tom Shreve got his first win of the season, having trouble in only the fifth inning, giving up three runs. The Pioneers kept up their assault of opponents' catchers stealing 5 more bases, Dale Stover ripping off 2.

GSC - 2, 1 Shepherd - 1, 5

The first game of this doubleheader was a pitchers duel with Ralph Smith winning a 3 hit contest over former school and teammate, Mark Arvon. Pat Beebe provided all the firepower needed in the first inning, slamming a 2 run double that provided the margin of victory. Ralph gave up a run on a homer. Smith's record now stands at 2 - 3.

In the second game, Dale Norman got his first start of the regular season as a Pioneer and fell victim to multi-run innings by the Rams and weak hitting by the Pioneers. Shepherd scored 2 runs in the first and 3 in the fourth, while collecting 7 hits. Joedy Moots and Gary Nottingham got two singles a piece, accounting for all four of Glenville's hits.

The Pioneers played the Salem Tigers Wednesday at Rohrbough Field, but full results were not available at press time. The G-Men end their away schedule tomorrow with a scheduled doubleheader at Fairmont. They close out their season at home Monday against the division leading W.Va. State Yellow Jackets.

Varsity Bowling Teams End Year

Both of our bowling teams were busy this past weekend, the women competing in the Dr. Pepper Tournament at Marshall University and the men bowling in the Eastern Regional Individual Match Games Championship in Philadelphia.

At Marshall, the girls finished eighth out of a ten team field, finishing with a total team pinfall of 2033. Bowling Green won the tournament with a total pinfall of 2542. Hostess Marshall was second with 2485.

Leading Glenville's lady bowlers was Debby Curry with a 158 average; she had a high game of 194. Diane Bach followed with a 135 average and she bowled the highest individual game for Glenville with a 200. Finishing behind Curry and Bach were Debbie Stalnaker - 133, Sue Lieving - 122, and Anita Keister - 116.

At Philadelphia, Glenville entered four bowlers in this individual competition tournament. More than 65 bowlers were entered in the contest, with the top 2 averages advancing to the national finals which will be held in New York City. The two highest averages ended up belonging to Ted Long of Penn State (191.5 avg.) and Butch Goldberg of Temple (190.5 avg.)

All 65 bowlers bowl in the first round, which is called the qualifying round, with the top 12 bowlers advancing to the semifinal round. Glenville managed to qualify one bowler for the semifinal round in Dale Sparks, who averaged 182 in the first round in order to qualify. He averaged a disappointing 151 in the semifinal round, finishing twelfth out of 12. Other first round averages for the Pioneers were Bob Davison - 172, Dave Twyman - 169, and Mark Smith 159.

This ends the season for both bowling teams, but it's been a long and rewarding one, especially for the men. It should be pointed out that in all their success and travel, the bowlers used no college funds, but only money that came through donations and hard work.

Gary Nottingham goes all out trying to catch a ball driven deep to centerfield last Saturday.

Golfers Tune Up; Head For State Tourney

The Glenville golfers traveled to Morgantown last Wednesday to compete in their last regular season match of the year, The WVU Invitational. Using the four team match (WVU, Glenville, Ohio U. and Pitt) as a tune-up for this week's conference championship tournament, the Pioneers finished a surprisingly low third. No one seemed to be more disappointed than the players themselves, who thought they had a chance of capturing the entire event, but fell victim to tough luck, and hot shooting by WVU, who was playing on their home course.

The final team scores on the Par 71 Pines Golf Course were WVU - 530, Ohio U. - 545, GSC - 551 and Pitt - 571. Terry Crislip tied with Pat Weaver of WVU for Medalist with an 18 hole score of 71. Other individual Glenville scores were Greg DelPrince - 77, Jim Scott - 78, Bill Hess - 79, Rick Simmons - 80, Jim Brady - 82 and Perry Coe - 84.

This made the linksters 46 - 5 on the regular season and 29 - 0 in the conference, going undefeated. This week the Pioneers competed in the WVIAC Championships. This two day tournament (Wednesday and Thursday) will decide what team will represent the conference in the Nationals this coming June. The G-Men should be strong favorites to win the conference title, which will be decided at Pipestem, since they have won every conference regional held so far, but could be upset by a dark horse Concord team, which plays the Pipestem course every day. This seems to be an injustice to our team, but let's just hope that "right" prevails and our golfers come back conference champs, as I'm sure they will.

1977 Intramural champs, The Loads, with their trophy on the lawn of Verona Mapel.

The College and University Section of the West Virginia Library Association sponsored its second conference of 1977-77 - Bibliographic Instruction. The conference was held on the campus of Bethany College, April 20 - 21, 1977. John Collins, Media Librarian, and David M. Gillespie, College Librarian presented one of the five papers read at the meeting entitled "Library Services in Colleges."

Other staff attending the conference from Glenville State were: Evelyn Hui, Mary Kennedy, and Bill Wartman.

Folk and Bluegrass Fest. Will Be Presented at GSC

A folk and bluegrass music concert will be held in the GSC amphitheatre on Saturday, May 7 at 7:30 p.m. to provide students with a break from the rigors of studying for exams.

The concert, sponsored by the Cultural Affairs Committee, will feature the Kentucky Foothill Ramblers, the Sweeney Brothers and Joe Dobbs, with the Samples Brothers. The Ramblers, from the Huntington area, play old time music from the 20's 30's and 40's. They will be coming to Glenville after a highly successful performance at Marshall University. The Sweeney Brothers, whose specialty is traditional bluegrass, have appeared at numerous clubs in Ohio and West Virginia. Joe Dobbs, an old time fiddler, will be accompanied by the Samples Brothers. They have performed on the festival and club circuit as well as Salem and West Virginia Wesleyan Colleges.

In case of rain, the concert will be held in the GSC auditorium.

Admission will be free to students.

One Act Plays

There will be three one-act plays presented on May 3 at 8:00 p.m. in GSC's Auditorium. The plays all are comedies. The first is "The Star Spangled Girl," a comedy about a three way love affair that will leave you laughing for weeks. The second play is "Adam and Eve." This is the story of the first battle of the sexes, which develops over the naming of the things in the Garden of Eden. The result is anything but paradise, but it is completely funny. The third play is the "Sand box," an absurd play that presents several views of how the aged are treated. The play will leave you laughing and thinking at the same time. The players are directed by students of GSC and are free and opened to the public. Take a break from studying for finals and enjoy the one-act plays.

Schneider-con't from p. 1 or doctorate in both fields. He will be teaching one introductory education course in addition to his classes.

Originally from Morgantown, Schneider received his Bachelor's degree in Social Work from WVU and his Master's degree from the University of Minnesota. He joined the GSC faculty in January, 1976.
