Contest Open

The search is on again for Glamour Magazine's Top Ten College Women in the country and all Glenville State College women students are eligible to enter the contest.

Young women from colleges and universities throughout the country will compete in "Glamour's" search for 10 outstanding students.

A panel of "Glamour" editors will select the winners on the basis of their solid records of achievement in academic studies and/or in extra-curricular activities on campus or in the community.

The 1979 Top Ten College Women will be featured in "Glamour's" August College Issue, and during May, June or July, the 10 winners will be invited to New York to meet the "Glamour" staff and receive a $500 cash prize.

Anyone who is interested in entering the search should contact Ben Polis, director of Public Relations and Information, for more information. The deadline for submitting an application to "Glamour" is Dec. 15, 1978.

DAVID M. GILLISPIE
LIBRARY DIRECTOR

Chronicles Added

The Robert F. Kidd Library at Glenville State College, has received a new journal, "The Stalnaker Family Chronicles," which began publication this month.

The chronicle is an outgrowth of the seventh annual reunion of the Stalnaker Family Association of Dailey, W. Va., and will be published four times a year.

Jacob Stalnaker, his wife, Elizabeth Truby Stalnaker, and their descendants, who were early settlers in the Tygart Valley in 1772, are the branch of Stalnakers that the chronicle will cover. Jacob Stalnaker was a son of Captain Samuel Stalnaker of Holston River, Va.

The editor is Martin Yokum of Box 21, Huttonsville, and personal copies of the chronicle can be obtained for $3. The documents are also available to the public at GSC's library.

GILLISPIE ELECTED VP

David M. Gillispie, Library Director of Glenville State College, was elected First Vice President, president elect, of the West Virginia Library Association at its annual meeting in Charleston on Oct. 13-15.

The meeting was held in conjunction with the Governor's Conference on Libraries. There were over 60,000 people who visited the "Great Info Show" and participated in the joint conference.

The West Virginia Library Association has a membership of over 500 with a current operating budget of $40,000. Members are from all facets of librarians including school, public, academic and special librarians and public library trustees.

Gillispie is originally from Webster Springs and is married to former Yvonne Rowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Rowe of Junior. They are the parents of one child, Erica.

Enrollment Decreases

Glenville State College's enrollment has decreased this year by 5.9%, 105 students, according to an Enrollment Analysis produced by the West Virginia Board of Regents. The total enrollment of the 1978 fall semester is 1,672 students. Last year's enrollment, the largest in the history of GSC, was a total of 1,777 students.

The number of full-time students totals, 1,054, which outnumbers the part-time students with an enrollment of 618.

According to statistics, Glenville State has the lowest enrollment out of all four-year institutions in the state. Fairmont has the largest State enrollment of 3,005 students.

JOHN COLLINS
ASSISTANT LIBRARIAN

Collins Is Elected As Vice-Chairman

During the annual West Virginia Library Association Conference held recently in conjunction with the Governor's Conference on Libraries in Charleston, WV, John Collins, assistant librarian at GSC, assumed the chairmanship of the Junior Member's Round Table Section of the Association.

Collins was elected Vice-Chairman Chairman-elect at last year's meeting. He was also recently named to represent the state of WV in serving on the Southeastern Library Association's Bibliographic Instruction Committee. This committee is composed of one librarian from each of the southeastern states and the appointment is for two years.

Well, this sure is a hazy situation.
Ten pennies and a quart of beer...
I could be here forever, wherever
I am.....

Editor's Note:

This article, which we are using for a guest editorial, was written by George W. Spasyk and was presented to us by the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity. It is from their national magazine, Cross and Crescent. We feel this deserves merit since hazing is something that should be seriously contemplated.

We have read more and more lately of various animals that are on the list of endangered species -- the white whale, the bald eagle, the albino seal, to name just a few. There is now another animal to add to this list of endangered species -- the senseless chapter that continues to haze, harass and demean its new members. Unlike the white whale, the bald eagle, or the others, however, Lambda Chi Alpha will do everything in its power to hasten the demise of such chapters.

Hopefully, these chapters will rid themselves of such idiotic and chronic stupidity, as the large majority of chapters have already done. Calling on great reserves of courage, frequently in the face of strong campus tradition, more than 90% of our chapters have adopted the Fraternity Education/Associate Member program to replace pledgship, and we know there are courageous exponents of this program in all of the remaining chapters which have been unwilling or unable to change. We intend to do everything possible to rid ourselves of this cancer, or these chapters will face a limited future.

The associate member program was introduced in Lambda Chi Alpha nine years ago, and in 1972 the General Assembly made up of some 80% undergraduates adopted it as the official policy of the Fraternity. But our anti-hazing laws go all the way back to 1942.

We are not dealing with adolescent fun and games. We are dealing with human life, the dignity of the individual. We are dealing with potential multi-million dollar law suits. The member who adopts the ostrich-like attitude that "it can't happen here" is woefully uninformed and patently stupid. We are fortunate that there have been no recent hazing deaths in Lambda Chi Alpha. But we have had three such deaths in Lambda Chi Alpha since I've been on the staff, and there have been a half-dozen or more among fraternities in the last ten years. The number of serious injuries, some for life, is far greater.

What is hazing? If you have to ask if a particular activity is hazing, it probably is. Another response would be, "Would you be afraid or embarrassed to do it in front of the president of the university, your parents, or a reporter from the local newspaper or television station?" If the answer is affirmative, it's probably hazing.

Other fraternities are as concerned about hazing as we are, and many are looking for alternative programs.

We would be remiss not only to our present members but to future generations of Lambda Chi's if we did not pursue vigorously a policy of enforcing our laws against hazing, and we call on all segments of the Fraternity, undergraduate and alumni alike, to support and assist us in this effort. The time for talk has long since passed. It's time for action.

Dear Concerned GDI and Mr. Moral: Again I would like to stress that I cannot print your letters unless I know who you are. You can use a pseudo-name for the paper, but to know who you are in case there is controversy. So, please, place your name on your letters and specify your pseudo-name you wish to have printed. If you let me know who you are, I'll run your letters next week. Editor

Editor's Note . . . The following article is written verbatim from the "Higher Education and National Affairs." This article concerns the adjusted income range which provides eligibility for Basic Opportunity Grants (BEOGs). The middle-class family yearly income range has increased from that of $10,000 to $25,000, thus allowing more students to be eligible for the BEOG aid.

The success of the student-aid bill and failure of the tax-credit bill ended a year-long dispute between the Carter Administration and tax-credit supporters over the best way to help middle-income families meet college costs.

The Administration, backed by the higher education community, won. The student-aid bill, hailed as "landmark legislation" by its supporters, provides for a $1.3 billion annual expansion of existing student-aid programs in order to reach students from middle-income families. It would make about 1.5 million more students, from families in the $15,000 to $25,000 adjusted income range, eligible for Basic Educational Opportunity Grants (SEOGs) and College-Work Study (CWS) programs significantly so more funds will be available for middle-income students. As finally passed, the bill (S 2539) raises the "threshold level" for funding the two programs from the current $130 million for SEOGs to $370 million by 1980 and from the current $237.4 million for CWS to $500 million by 1980.

The "threshold level" is the minimum amount for funding the two programs which must be provided before any BEOGs can be awarded. And the bill permits full and half-time students from families at any income level to qualify for in-school subsidies on Guaranteed Student Loans.

The subsidies now are limited to students from families with incomes below $25,000. The subsidies are worth more than $400 per year to students who borrow the $2,500 maximum allowed.

Letter To The Editor

To the Editor of the Mercury,

First of all, our newspaper is basically a good one. You can tell someone knows what they are doing and doing it rather well. However, there are those who I have some question about.

For example, the advertising on the back page of last week's edition. I am fully aware that the headliner machine is not working properly but the handwriting on several ads is disgusting. My poor little 4 year old nephew could print better than that! Whoever is in charge of advertising should take a lot more pride in their work.

What I have seen in recent weeks on the ad page has not been very impressive.

Secondly, some of the reporters are tending to not get the facts right. This is very unprofessional. Either you get the facts right or you don't print a story. If you are not sure of the facts, you certainly don't guess about them.

The Mercury is a good school paper; I'm proud to show it to my friends but a few less simple mistakes could make it a "great school paper." Good luck and show a little pride!

A Concerned GSC Student

Meeting Scheduled

The faculty of the Department of Social Work at Glenville State College have scheduled an organizational meeting for anybody in central West Virginia involved in social work to attend on Wednesday, Nov. 8, at 7 p.m. in the social room of the Emmaus Chapel.

The reasons behind organizing the social workers in central West Virginia, according to a spokesman for the department, are as follows:

To affirm and enhance professionalism; to discuss trends and policies affecting the central West Virginia area; talking about and comparing problems; planning activities to meet needs and interests; becoming acquainted with fellow workers; building a communication and support network within central West Virginia.

Additional information on the organizational move can be obtained by contacting Bill Roberts, Lucie O'Brien, J. Michael Geary or Doug McGuigan at GSC, 462-7361.

ADE Meets

Bobcats Sneak By Pioneers

Glenville State ran out of time last Saturday in Buckhannon. A 21 point difference was too much to make up in the final minute.

Dave Boggess put the first Pioneer points on the board with a three yard run in the second quarter.

Down 28-7 with time running out Glenville State stung the Wesleyan defense for two quick scores through the air.

Mike McGill hauled in a 26 yard Terry Spangler pass for his third touchdown reception of the year. Mitch Guy came up with the last Pioneer score, a 14 yard toss from Spangler, with only seconds remaining.

On the afternoon Spangler completed 21 of 37 attempts for 319 yards. For the season Spangler has picked up 1069 yards through the o-zone by completing 70 of 146 tries.

Mike McGill has been Spangler's favorite target this season. He has 21 receptions that have covered 354 yards.

Chuck Barker had a big afternoon for the Pioneer defensive unit. He came up with eight tackles to go along with three assists.

The 28-21 setback to W. Va. Wesleyan snapped a two game winning streak for the Gilmer County crew.

Glenville State goes back into action Saturday Oct. 28 at 7:30 (Pioneer Stadium) against Fairmont State. The Fighting Falcons will try and bounce back from a 17-16 loss to W. Va. Tech. Nothing more needs to be said about who is coming to town this weekend.

Cindy and Becky would like to thank the contestants and everyone else who helped to make the "Room-mate Game" a success!

MENC Variety Show, 8:00 Monday in the Ballroom. Oct. 30, 1978. Admission is $1.00 per person.

Would representatives from all campus organizations please get in contact with Mike Maloney at box 174 LBH.

Cline's Lines

Football season is rapidly passing by and the Pioneers are 2-4 for the season. They have defeated Salem and Bluefield, hopefully adding Fairmont to this list tomorrow night.

Since football season is well under way I'd like to voice my opinion on something that has often bothered me. This is the lack of support given toward women's athletic events.

Having a good team takes more than good players and a coach telling them what to do. You need a crowd yelling and showing their spirit and letting the team know that they care.

Womens Volleyball is already underway and Basketball is just around the corner. I'm sure that they would like to see you at these events and hear you too!

Pioneers Excel In Golf Program

If you haven't heard about the Glenville State golf program, feast your eyes on a few facts and figures.

For the last five out of seven years, including the last two years, the GSC golf team has been W.V.I.A.C. champions.

In 1977-78 their record was 41-1, in 76-77 it was 49-0, and in 75-76 it was 47-2. In the conference championship in 1978 they set a record with a team total of 300. At Davis and Elkins this year they shot a 299. Two years ago they were the first golf team in conference history to make the cut in the national finals. Last year, in the nationals, they finished 18th.

This years squad returns everyone from last year's conference champs. Their toughest competition this year will come from a very good Davis and Elkins. But, if all things are equal the 78-79 Pioneer golf team should be headed for Charlotte, NC for the national finals to represent Glenville and the conference.

'BRADY'S BANTERINGS'

Well it was good to be on a college campus this weekend that did not have hills, humps, or bumps. I didn't know how to walk at Wesleyan. I did have trouble finding a parking place though.

For those who were at the ballgame, you saw an extremely hard hitting game. Both sides were kicking each other all over the field. Dennis Gilchrist got hit so hard that four people in the stands had to be carried off in an ambulance.

Terry Spangler threw the ball very well, setting two school records. He completed 21 of 37 for 319 yards. The previous records were 18 completions by Pete McDermitt in 1969 and 309 yards in 1965 by Frank Mays. Also, Pete McDermitt's single season record of 1048 yards is also in danger of being broken by Spangler.

Saturday's game was a tough loss for the Pioneers. The defense gave up the most points they have given up this year, 28. One touchdown should not have been scored as an apparent Glenville interception in the end-zone was taken away by the Wesleyan receiver and turned into six points.

The Pioneers have three games remaining: Fairmont at home. Concord away, and Tech at home. A couple of wins at home and an upset of nationally ranked Concord would be a fine end to an exciting but disappointing season.

By this time next week, the Pioneer cross country team will be engaged in the conference meet. It's good to see another sport enjoying some success during the fall season.

Attention all Student Congress members: All members missing three unexcused meetings without valid excuses, will be removed and replaced.
Tim James, President
Student Congress

Pioneers 3rd In Meet

With beautiful weather highlighting the proceedings of Saturday, at West Virginia Wesleyan, the Glenville State Pioneer Cross Country Team finished third out of a four team field. Jim Cluvers was the highest finisher for the Pioneers, finishing in third place. Powerful Davis and Elkins won the meet, Wesleyan was second, and Fairmont fourth.

On Tuesday, October 24, the Pioneer runners competed against WV Tech and Washington Lee and College of Va. at Oak Hill. Glenville finished behind Washington Lee with Tech coming in third. Paul Coon performed well coming in fifth in the meet.

Glenville next travels to the West Liberty Invitational on Friday, the 27th. All of these meets are tune ups for the conference meet which will be held on November 3. Coach Hilgenberg feels good about most of the team's performances and expects them to perform well at the conference meet.

Who's Who will be selected this week. Those selecting will be:

Dr. Gray, Dean Thorpe, Mike Young, Mary Langford, Ann Johnson.

GSC COMPETES IN BOWLING

The GSC Bowling Team competed on its first Tournament of the 1978-1979 season this past weekend at WVU. The GSC A Team finished 15th and B Team finished 16 out of 18 teams. Erie Community College from Buffalo, N.Y. won the team event with a 2739 pin fall. Other teams competing were WVU, Marshall, University of Cincinnati, Western Kentucky, Ohio State, Villanova, University of South Carolina, West Liberty, Ashland, Kentucky.

Doubles team of Jason Kuhl and Jeff Stump placed 11th in tourney with a 1048 pin fall.

Dave Twyman was high individual bowler for Glenville with a 177 average, Keith Hite 155 average, Jason Kuhl 173 average, Andy Lowther 171 average, Greg Martin 169 average.

Jason Kuhl had high game for Glenville with a 226.

The 1978-79 Glenville State basketball team.
