Chimes Ring Out At GSC

There is a different sound ringing out from the clock tower these days at 11:50 a.m. on the Glenville campus. The beautiful sound of chimes, not heard on this campus for approximately 15 years, has been revived.

Due to mechanical and technical difficulties, the chimes have been inoperable for several years, but interest in getting them repaired has never died down. Miss Virginia West, chairperson of the Language division, provided the incentive for having the chimes repaired and the project started in December, 1978. Mr. Sidney Tedford, music instructor, is now in charge of playing the carillon. Mr. Don Phillips, director of the Learning Materials Center, along with Mr. Don Jones, campus technician, has given much time and effort to this project by getting equipment together and handling mechanical and electronic repairs. President Simmons has pledged his full support for this project.

The sound quality is not as good as it could be because they are using a microphone and an amplifier and the microphone causes some of the sound to be lost. The system is still being worked on in hopes of improving the sound quality.

A wide variety of songs will be played on the chimes, including hymns, folk songs and popular tunes which fit the nature of the instrument. Each day at 11:50 a.m. the chimes will be played by Mr. Tedford and the program will begin and end with the Canterbury chimes and will usually include two songs.

Interest has been expressed in playing the chimes on special occasions such as Easter, Commencement or any time that will be effective. Other members of the music department and a few townspeople have agreed to take a turn playing the carillon. Among those agreeing to play is Miss Bertha Olsen, retired faculty member, who used to play the chimes years ago before they became inoperable.

Final Preparations Completed for Play

'Bus Stop', a play by William Inge, will be an event of March 8, 9, 10 at GSC. The play will be presented in the Auditorium at 8:00 each night.

'Bus Stop' is a character study of some bus passengers who are held overnight in a diner due to bad highway conditions caused by a storm.

The main plot features Bo Decker and Cherie. Bo is a 21-year-old cowboy who has just recently won every trophy in a rodeo. To celebrate Bo goes to a nightclub where he finds Cherie singing. Bo is enhanced with Cherie and gets her onto the bus with him to go to his ranch in Montana. She doesn't like the situation and works desperately to get away.

Virgil Blessing is Bo's best friend who sticks with him through thick and thin. Will Masters protects Cherie. He is the sheriff and is a symbol of law, order, and reality.

A second plot is that of Elma Duckworth, a waitress, and Dr. Lyman is an alcoholic professor who has been married 3 times and divorced every time. He is in pursuit of young Elma and is quite anxious to cross the state line and marry her. During the situation at the bus stop Lyman comes face to face with himself. After sleeping off this alcohol, however, he returns to his regular old ways.

Grace Hoyland who owns the diner and a man named Carl are the subjects for another plot. Grace and Carl are sexually attracted to each other. Grace has been divorced and tells Carl that she needs a man every now and then to keep her from becoming grouchy.

The central theme of the whole play is romantic love. 'Bus Stop' became a hit on Broadway in 1955 at the Music Box Theatre. The original play starred Elaine Stritch, Kim Sterling, and Albert Salami. At a later date the play became a movie and starred Marilyn Monroe.

The cast of 'Bus Stop' will be traveling to Clarksburg on March 6 for an interview and to stage a scene of the play. They will be on the Channel 12 Noon News.

Editorially Speaking . . .

At the time of this writing, I feel that Mother Nature has, to use a popular term, 'Ripped us off!' Last week the temperature began to rise, the snow began to melt, the birds began singing and I thought spring was finally here. Then she let loose the rain which turned everything first into ice, which made everyone feel like they were on a huge skating rink, then to a sea of mud. It is at times like this that I am glad for all the miles and miles of concrete and asphalt which keep everyone and everything from getting 'bogged' down. With all of the rain we had, which melted what snow was left, the threat of flood was imminent. I guess 'she' had decided that we'd had enough for the time being.

The main reason I am so angry at Mother Nature is because she robbed us of the opportunity to view the last eclipse of this century which occurred on Monday. The dense cloud cover over the Eastern United States prevented us from seeing this spectacular phenomenon, and left many people quite disappointed. I became even angrier at the 'old lady' when I know that the next eclipse would not occur until the year 2017, on the North American Continent.

As if that wasn't enough, within two hours after the eclipse we didn't see, Mother Nature dumped a (what I hope is her last) bucketfull of snow to make the roads treacherous again. At least it covered the ugly mud, but don't be fooled—it's still there. I don't know why Mother Nature has been so unkind to us lately, unless she just got tired of being fooled by margarine.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I am writing in regards to the health facilities, here at GSC. It is not an understatement to say that the Infirmary is not adequate for the medical needs of the students. However, the health service could be improved, if it was turned over to the Gilmer County Health Clinic.

The Gilmer County Health clinic has better facilities and they are on call 24 hours a day, besides being conveniently located.

The clinic is more than willing to help the GSC students, but they cannot do it without the support of the students! I think it would be a definite improvement for the students of GSC.

One vote for the clinic

Dear Editor:

I, Tim James, President of Student Congress hereby wish to extend the best of luck, to all the nominees for the 1979-1980 Student Congress.

Sincerely,
Tim James
President of Student Congress

Off The Wall

by Tim Brady

By now many of you have heard that I have been awarded the honorary Doctorate of Genius Ameritus by the University of Peoria on the Rhine. I was selected because of my high I.Q. (1,060), my obvious tendency towards mind boggling intellectual endeavors, and because I hold the president of the college prisoner in a locker at LaGuardia Airport.

Among my contemporaries are some famous men, none of whom you have ever heard of: Bernie Swartz, inventor of the first no deposit no return underarm deodorant. Anatoli Scurelli was the first Italian movie director to make a movie without Sophia Loren. Bobby 'Boom Boom' Baxter was the first boxer to learn more than three words. 'Wings' Larson was the first man on the moon; unfortunately, he thought he was in a suburb of New Jersey and immediately took the E train home.

Men are not the only members of this exclusive group. Women, if qualified, are also honored: Sandra Glutz was the first woman to burn her bra. It was a 44E cup and started the Great Chicago Fire. Alison Walters is the only woman who has told Mrs. Olsen where she can put her 'Mountain Grown Folgers.' Olga Putzha is the only human being to ever defeat Bruno the wrestling bear. They were married last July.

meant, we adjourned.

There are several people I would like to thank for helping my career get started and for their continued support. First, many thanks go out to my mom and dad who kept me out of jail by lying to the Feds. They got 25 to life. Second, I have to thank my college instructors who get so little credit and deserve it. Finally, I wish to thank my adoring public, whose continued support enables me to live comfortably in an English castle. Thank you, you bunch of suckers.

SC Candidates Speak Out

Dear Editor:

I, Michael Murphy, am a candidate for President of the Student Congress. Realizing that the Student Congress is the go-between for the student body and the administration I feel that I have the qualifications to fill the office and I am ready to accept the responsibilities and perform the related duties to the best of my ability. I encourage every student to talk to each of the candidates and most of all, to vote for the candidate of their choice.

When I first enrolled at Glenville in the Fall of '76, the friendly, cooperative attitude on the campus was a major influence on my decision. I still believe that this attitude is one of our major assets. As Student Congress President I will strive to put that attitude to work for you. If all of the students, fraternities, sororities, and organizations on this campus work together in harmony, the potential is unlimited (i.e. the recent Muscular Dystrophy drive was a huge success). I hope you will allow me to work for you by giving me your vote of confidence on March 5.

Sincerely,
Michael V. Murphy

Dear Editor:

I, Debbie Bennett, am a candidate for President of Student Congress. I believe that I am qualified for this position because in high school I was involved in student council and its activities and senior class council. While in college I have participated in various activities: campus planning committee, corresponding secretary for the judicial board of Pickens Hall, and Homecoming events.

I feel I can improve the communications between student congress and student body, and also between students, faculty, and administration. With your support I will try to update campus rules and regulations. I have attended student congress meetings and know how they are run and believe that I can continue on a smooth basis.

I would sincerely appreciate your support Monday. Thank You!

Sincerely,
Debbie Bennett

To the Student Body of GSC:

I am running for the office of vice-president of Student Congress and would like to ask for your support in the upcoming elections.

There are many changes that I would like to see take place at this college and with your help, I could have the opportunity to do this. An eighteen-year-old is a legal adult in this state, and I would like this college to treat the students of GSC as such. I hope to see a change in the open dorm hours. These are just a few.

I will do everything I can to help the person you elect as Student Congress President. I can not promise that we will achieve the goals that I have for Student Congress, however, I will try my hardest to reach these goals.

I would truly appreciate your support.

Thank-you,
Sheila R. Hamden

Dear Editor:

By accepting the nomination of Student Congress Secretary, I have taken on a great responsibility. But, the student body has an even more important responsibility of choosing the right candidate.

My background includes being a member of the senior executive committee and band officer in high school. In the short time I've attended Glenville, I've held the presidential office of the forensics team and have participated in the Music Educators National Conference.

Most importantly, I care about what happens to the students. I'm tired of the apathy that dominates the feelings of the student body. By being an officer in Student Congress I will be in a better position to do something about the problems on campus.

It's your decision. Choose the candidate that you feel will work to get what it is that you want or need. If I'm that person, I will try to fulfill all of the necessary responsibilities to the best of my ability.

Sincerely,
Athelene Birchfield

Monthly Dorm Inspections Are Scheduled For LBH

In order to insure that everything in the dorms is functioning properly and that everyone is happy there are scheduled maintenance checks one a month. During these inspections everything in the dorms are checked including every room to insure all is in safe working order.

This year has been different than most because the destruction in the two dorms has not been as great as before. It is believed that this year's group of residents has more pride about where they live than previous ones.

Doug McQuigan, House director at Louis Bennett Hall, said when interviewed recently "I am very pleased at the pride of LBH residents are taking on the whole." He also said "Their creativity and imaginative use of their dorm rooms has really been surprising to me."

When interviewed on the subject of inspections Dr. A. T. Billips, Dean of Student Affairs said, "This year on the whole the dorms are more attractive, neater and nicer to visit." Dr. Billips also said that "usually this time of year there is much destruction because the students are frustrated with their semester grades and the only way to prevent that anger is to tear something up. This year is different however maybe because they (meaning residents) have realized the dorm is their home and if they tear it up they are not only hurting themselves but their neighbors. He ended the conversation by saying that the Fire Dept. Insurance Companies, and Public Health Dept. says that GSC has the nicest dorms they have seen.

Housing Rules Now Modified

By a proposal from the Office of Student Affairs, the general housing policy will be modified.

The new policy will state that only unmarried freshmen under 21 years of age will be required to live in the dormitories. Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors will no longer be required.

After consulting the College Counsel and the Board of Regents staff, the Office of Student Affairs proposed the new policy to President Simmons. The President approved the modification and the new policy will come into effect in the fall semester of '79.

VISITOR ON CAMPUS

Mrs. Judy Shoemaker, a 1971 Glenville State College graduate, and presently employed at Colin Anderson at St. Marys, will be visiting campus on March 6. Mrs. Shoemaker would like to talk with any student interested in working with the mentally retarded and will give a slide presentation in Room 201 of Clark Hall at 6:30. Any interested student is invited to attend.

Is it really Woody Allen?

Stover Attends State Legislature

Due to the Frazier Singleton Student Legislator Law selection process, Dale Stover was elected to sit in on the proceedings of the West Virginia State Legislature. The week of February 11-16 was devoted to showing the participating college students just how the legislature works.

The students were informed about this internship by the Political Science department, which posted the applications on the bulletin board. After the applications were completed, they were sent to the legislative board, which selected the student, or students. The colleges were represented in ratio to student population. After the students are notified they are sent packaged information informing them of what will be taking place, the speakers and other proceedings.

The student's next move was to select the week he or she could attend. This program was set up to allow college students to become more interested and aware of the actual proceedings of the legislature.

Registration at 10:00 to 1:00 on Sunday, February 11, at the Daniel Boone Hotel, was followed by a welcoming committee, and a rules and proceeding program.

The rest of the day was taken up by a Budget Panel, a legislative research and skills program, and a dinner meeting after which there were three or four speakers.

Monday started out with talks on the role of the Legislation staff, a meeting with the Senate President, and a look at the West Virginia Court structure.

Tuesday was devoted to the legislator the student was assigned to and the Dinner meeting with the customary three speakers commenting on legislative oversight.

Wednesday, the theme for the after dinner meeting was lobbying the legislature.

Thursday, they met with Governor Jay Rockefeller, and the after dinner theme was press coverage of state government.

Friday was a busy day starting with checkout from the hotel at 7:30 a.m., then a meeting with the President of the House, a meeting with the Speaker, and then a short wrapup session.

Dale said that he was impressed with Governor Rockefeller, in that he did not try to evade any questions, and was very candid. He said that the legislature in general was very interesting and the legislator's in majority were hard-working, and dedicated, but some did not pay much attention.

In the Monday session, the legislature heard arguments for the Death Penalty. They proposed the amendment to have Governor Rockefeller as the executioner, and to have it in the public square and on television. These amendments were just ploys to kill or delay the bill.

Dale said the internship was a very good program, and very educational.

Judaism Discussed by Rabbi Wenger

The Social Science Division in a continuing and ongoing program to present a wide variety of speakers and educational opportunities of enrichment for its students and all campus students will have a guest speaker on campus Tuesday night. Rabbi Frederick L. Wenger of the B'nai Shalom Congregation, Huntington, West Virginia, will speak on the topic of Judaism and its relationship to other religions of the world.

Rabbi Wenger in addition to his leadership of the Ohev Shalom Congregation is a representative of the Jewish Chautauqua Society and comes to us as a representative of both organizations. Following his talk to be held Tuesday night, March 6, in the Little Theatre at 7 p.m., Rabbi Wenger will open the meeting for any and all informal questions students might wish to ask. All are cordially invited.

Impressionist to Perform March 15

Would you believe Johnny Carson, Groucho Marx, Woody Allen, and the entire crew from Star Trek are coming to the Glenville State College auditorium on March 15 at 8:00 p.m.? If you have heard of John Roarke as Carson and Company, you will believe it when you see it.

The American Program Bureau presents John Roarke and the whole Carson and Company live and on stage. Roarke has a unique talent for imitations that goes beyond mere mimicry. Aided by quicksilver makeup and costume changes, Roarke first brings you Carson, his hilarious monologue along with some of the things he might say off camera. Next, Groucho appears on stage—the young Groucho. He's as zanny as his days with the Marx Brothers. Following Groucho, you go on a journey with Woody Allen as he relives his past lives. Finally, Roarke creates the whole crew of Star Trek and the Starship Enterprise. Captain Kirk, Spock, Bones, Scotty will dramatically appear before your eyes. Roarke even adds in an assortment of the familiar sounds of the Enterprise.

Roarke and his Carson & Company is more than just hilarious. He's more than funny. He's often dramatic. Using films, costumes, elaborate makeup, Roarke creates the air of theatre. But more importantly, Roarke and his Carson & Company leave you feeling that you've actually spent an evening with Carson, Marx, Allen, the Star Trek crew—at any time a rare and unique experience.

Admission is by free ticket and can be obtained from any Student Congress member or in the Office of Student Affairs during regular business hours.

Any GSC student who is, or has been, a 4-H club member in any West Virginia County is requested to meet with Roma Adkins, Gilmer County 4-H Agent in Room 102, Clark Hall on Wednesday, March 7 at 12:30 p.m.

Shakespeare Plays Aired

The potential exists in the next six years for more people to become familiar with William Shakespeare and his plays than have done so in the entire 363 years since his death. On Wednesday, February 14, over the PBS network, the first of six of this season, Julius Caesar, was broadcast. There will be five more plays on alternate Wednesdays according to the schedule below. Plays will be given each year through 1984.

In connection with this series, Glenville is offering a course, English 399, The Shakespeare Plays. Students read and watch the plays. The course is primarily independent and self-taught, under the direction of Martha Keating of the English Department.

Students and faculty will be able to watch these plays in the Glenville College Library at 8:00 p.m. on the Wednesdays they are shown. As the library closes at 10:00 p.m., special permission is needed to remain until 11:00 p.m., when most plays end. In addition, the plays are being taped, for the benefit of those who cannot see them on Wednesday night. Due to copyright laws, these tapes may only be kept for one week. The tapes will be available in the audio-visual department for use at individual convenience.

Anyone interested in the course or in viewing the plays in the library should see Mrs. Keating.

The plays will be broadcast Wednesdays at 8:00 p.m. in the following order:

February 28 - "As You Like It"
March 14 - "Romeo and Juliet"
March 28 - "Richard II"
April 11 - "Measure for Measure"
April 25 - "Henry VIII"

Leading 41-26 at the half, Glenville never fell behind, pushing their record to 8-6. Donita Cox led the Pioneers with 21 points followed by Debbie Grogg with 18 points and 12 rebounds, Sally Haught with 12 points and 17 rebounds and Kim Bickel scoring 10.

The Pioneers then had to face top-ranked Morris Harvey in the quarter-final round, losing 90-58. Debbie Grogg led the Pioneers with 16 points, followed by Kim Bickel and Sally Haught with 8 points each and Pam Linger with 7.

Morris Harvey won the tournament title by defeating Davis and Elkins. They rank 7th in the nation.

RACQUETBALL FINALS WILL BEGIN SOON

The finals of the Men's Intramural Racquetball tournament are almost here! After months of waiting, Dave Twyman of the Stoppers is one of the finalists.

Greg Martin will play the winner of the Jim Brady-Alan Johnson match, and out of the following match will come the second finalist. Greg Martin is representing Lambda Chi Alpha, Alan Johnson is playing for the Loads, and Jim Brady is racquetballing for the Stoppers.

In Intramural Basketball, which got underway last week, there are only five teams left that are undefeated: Theta Xi I, and II, 2-0; Gutz, 2-0; Loads I, 2-0; and Stoppers II, 1-0.

This week's contest will be played on Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday. Schedules are posted on the Bulletin Board outside Coach Ollie Pottmeyer's office in the Health building.

Pioneers Defeated In WVIAC Action

The GSC Pioneers were defeated in the first round of the WVIAC tournament, 82-77, by Alderson-Broadbudds on Tuesday night.

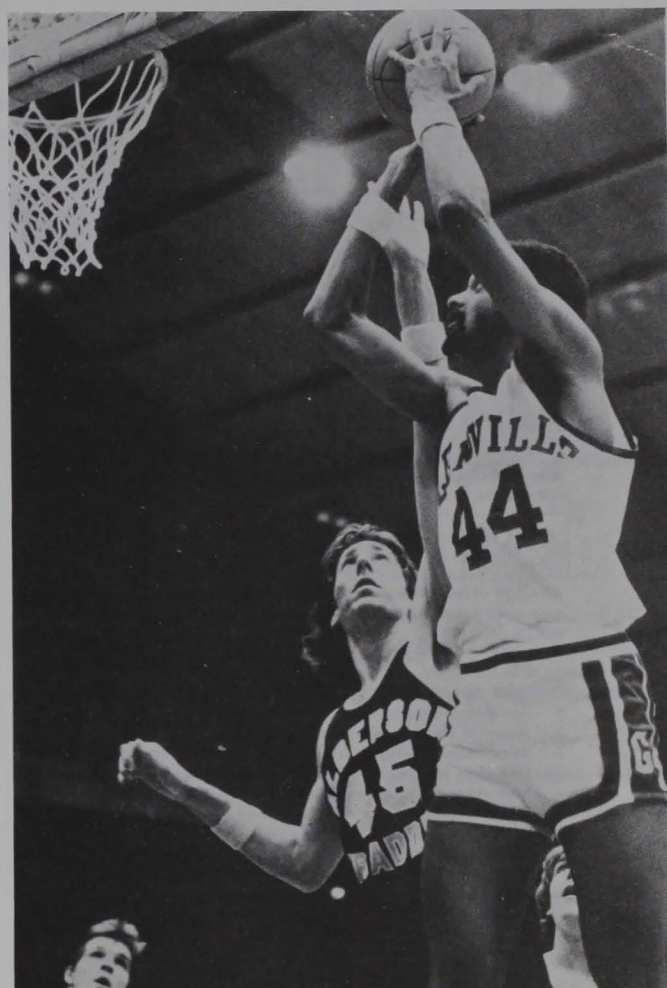

The early action of the game was played mostly in front of the scorer's table; fouls were called frequently. A-B's top scorer, Gary Washington picked up his third foul with 14 minutes remaining in the half. Ronnie Payton, A-B's second highest scorer picked up his fourth foul with 12 minutes remaining with the game about even. Glenville should have been able to take advantage of A-B's foul trouble, but they couldn't.

With Wayne Washington on the bench with his third foul, Glenville hit a drought. Leading 26-23, the Pioneers were outscored, 16-0 to trail 39-26. Ernie Gillard broke the cold spell with a four-point play to cut the lead to nine, 39-30. The teams traded baskets to the end of the half. Halftime score was 44-34.

In the first three minutes of the second half, the Pioneers cut the lead to three points, 48-45, on seven straight points by Wayne Washington. Gary Nottingham cut the A-B lead to one, 50-49, with 16 minutes remaining. This would be the closest Glenville would come. It was not a lack of opportunities that thwarted Glenville; A-B gave them plenty of chances. Turnovers killed Glenville's chances. Victory slipped away with bad passes and mishandled balls. Four times Glenville came down with a chance to cut the A-B lead to two points. Three attempts resulted in turnovers. One field goal attempt was missed. A-B extended their lead, out of a four corners, to nine points, 80-71. The issue was decided.

Gary Nottingham led the Pioneers with 16 points. Warner scored 15 and pulled down 14 rebounds. Bullett, Washington, Thomas, Gillard, and Watts finished with 14, 12, 10, 8, and 2 points respectively.

The Pioneers finished with a 11-17 record.

In his final game as a Pioneer, Charles Warner scores two of his 15 points in the WVIAC Tournament.

Cagers End With 11-16 Record

The GSC Pioneers hit a cold streak midway through the first half which resulted in only two free throws in a nine minute span. West Liberty took advantage of the Glenville drought to take a 28-19 first half lead, and a 67-59 victory here Friday night.

Glenville started the game on an up note. With Charles Warner scoring eight of GSC's first ten points, the Pioneers took a 15-14 lead with 10:30 left. That is when the famine started. From 10:30 to 2:30, the Pioneers did not score from the floor. Ernie Gillard's two freethrows were the only points scored by the home team.

In the second half, West Liberty extended their lead to 18 points, 44-26. The Pioneers started a comeback with 12 minutes left, on four field goals by Gary Nottingham. Wayne Washington canned two free throws with 2:30 left to pull the Pioneers within three points, 53-50. Unfortunately, the Pioneers couldn't come any closer.

The loss dropped Glenville's record to 11 and 15.

Alderson-Broadbudds

It was an exciting finish to a disappointing season for the Pioneers. The A-B Battlers defeated GSC 93-92 in a thriller on Saturday night.

The Pioneers started out like gangbusters. Even before the game started, Glenville led 3-0. An A-B player was caught dunking the ball in warmup. The A-B bench protested too vehemently and was assessed a technical foul. Don Bullett sunk all three fouls.

Glenville extended their lead 13-4 at the 16 minute mark. A-B fought back and closed the gap to four points, 40-36 with five minutes remaining. They took the lead for the first time 45-44 with two minutes left in the half. A jump shot from the foul line by A-B's Chris Fort gave them a 50-48 half time lead.

In the second half, A-B got their big guns out and started firing. They took a nine point lead, 65-56, with twelve minutes remaining. Two buckets by Don Bullett pulled Glenville within four points, 70-66.

The Pioneers tied the score, 73 all, with 10 minutes left in the game. A-B scored six straight points, but a jump shot by Calvin Page gave the Pioneers their first lead since half, 86-85.

A-B took the lead, 93-92, with 1:10 left. Glenville got several chances to win the game. Wayne Washington missed a short jumper. With 25 seconds left, Wayne was charged with an offensive foul, but with seven seconds left, Washington gave Glenville one last chance by stealing an A-B pass. Glenville called a time out.

After the time out, Glenville inbounded the ball to Mike Forbes. With time running out, Calvin Page took a 20 foot jumper that banged off the front of the rim.

Wayne Washington led the Pioneers with a season high 36 points. Glenville ended the season with a 11 and 16 record.
