Shortage Causes Violence

In this world of ever increasing violence, another blow has been added. No it is not the threat of bringing back the draft or the controversy over Nuclear power plants, it is simply as mundane as gasoline, that liquified priceless gem that America runs on. Although some parts of the country are harder hit than others, West Virginia still remains relatively calm among turbulent seas. We as West Virginians have the promise from W.Va. Gasoline Dealers Association that we will miss out on the long lines and closings of service stations, although stations will start closing on Sundays and shorten their hours through the week. If some grumble at this, try to imagine how Californians are feeling. Some drivers wait hours, sometimes overnight to get their chance at the pumps. Violence and tempers have flared often with reports of drivers trying to bribe station operators. People cutting in front of other motorists are taking their lives in their own hands. In Hollywood one such man cut in front of about 50 motorists at a gas station. When an angry group moved toward him, he pulled a derringer and held off the crowd with the gun while he filled his tank, police said. He was still pumping when he was arrested, officers said. Tow trucks have been stopped from stranded motorists who have run out of gas and finally, but not least, a pregnant woman was allegedly attacked by a man because he claimed she cut in front of him in line.

With Memorial Day coming up, the violence will be on the increase because gas will be running lower than ever.

Although I can see tempers flare, I do not see any reason for violence. We backed ourselves into this corner. Why take it out on a fellow human being who has no more control over this situation than you? I can just imagine how severe this problem can become if not checked, just imagine someone attacking you for the gas in your riding lawn mower.

Letter To The Editor

To the Editor:

Well, another weekend has passed, various events have been completed and hardly anyone was there. Where you all disappear to on the weekends must really be some terrific spot or you perhaps haven't learned to do your own laundry yet or your high school was having a hop.

This weekend there was a Panhellenic track and field meet, a car rally, and a West Virginia Conference track and field meet and these are only the ones I knew about.

The car rally was a very enjoyable event (I should have won), and the weather was perfect for track and field. I have yet to understand why people leave home to go to school if they only intend to make it a 4 1/2 day a week experience. The best part is going down the drain. I don't understand this urge to get out of Glenville to do "something" when there could be plenty to do here with "somebody." These things you leave here to do will be there during breaks, the summer, etc. You have only so many chances to form relationships with people and almost a third of that time is going down the tubes. A 4 1/2 day per week college career is not an experience you are likely to get much play out of.

Where is the pride in GSC? No pride in GSC suggests little pride in yourselves because you the students are the institution. Where is the cooperation and support among campus organizations for not only a "little profit" but opportunities to get to know one another? We've reached a sorry state of affairs when an event's success or failure is to be related to (1) not having it on a weekend and (2) how many kegs of beer will be bought.

If we reap only what we sow there are going to be some pretty bare plots of people leaving here in the next few years. Not since the MD drive has any spirit or cooperation reared its head. At GSC people are our most important product—help make one.

Mrs. Gillespie's Retailing Class Visits Pittsburgh

In order to give her students a better understanding of how retailing works, Mrs. Yvonne Gillespie along with Mr. Ernest H. Smith took her Retailing class to South Hills Village in Pittsburgh, PA on Tuesday, May 8.

The students were met by Ms. Cynthia Rogoff, Promotion Director for the Mall and a schedule of speakers was given to the students. Students were invited to the community room for tea and coffee before the talks were to begin.

At 10:30 the presentations began with a talk by Mr. Seigal, Mall Manager, on "Concepts of a Shopping Center." Next Mr. Felter, of Sears, told the students about his specialty, "Personel Management."

Around 11:00 Mr. Baskin, of H. B. Clothier, a clothing store, talked about his expertise, "Buying Merchandise." The owner of two Baskins Robbins stores, Mr. Axelrad, told the students about "the franchise store." Last on the agenda was Mr. Samuels, owner of Stoff's a clothing store for young people, gave a talk on Pricing Methods.

Each of the men held their audiences attention with their presentations and the students came away with a better understanding of what it takes to survive in the retail business.

After the presentation the students were given time to tour the some 115 stores in the Mall and were invited to ask questions of the mana-

Pioneers Defeat Davis & Elkins, Win 3rd WVIAC Championship

The Glenville State College Pioneers captured their third straight WVIAC golf tournament, defeating a strong Davis and Elkins team 972-964, at Berkeley Springs.

In the three day tournament, Glenville and D&E were tied after the first day with a score of 324. After the second day of competition GSC had a nine stroke lead, 647-638.

The final day of competition saw D&E shoot a 325, but the nine shot lead that Glenville had after the second day was reduced by only one shot when Glenville registered a 326.

This is the third straight conference championship for coach Tim Carney and his teams, and the sixth in the last eight years. They will represent District 27 in the NAIA tournament at Greensboro, North Carolina, in the first week of June.

Joe Crislip's score of 238 was good enough for third place behind medalist Ken Leatherwood of Bluefield's 227 and Conference "Golfer of the Year" Ken Phillip's 236.

Jim Brady shot 79-78-83-240 for fourth place. Greg DelPrince shot 83-81-77-241. Perry Coe registered a 251 and Dave Lamm shot a 252.

Following behind Glenville and D&E were Wesleyan, Bluefield, West Liberty, Fairmont, WV State, and Alderson-Broadus.

Jim Brady and Joe Crislip were selected to the All Conference team along with Ken Phillips and Steve Leitzel of Davis and Elkins and Kevin Leatherwood.

Baseball Team Finishes Season

The GSC baseball team has finished the 1978-79 season with a record of 5-10 in the conference and 5-17 overall.

Against Shepherd, Glenville lost the first game of the doubleheader 3-2. Gary Jones and Terry Spangler scored the two runs in the first and third innings. Shepherd won the game in the sixth inning when they scored their second and third runs off losing pitcher Terry Spangler who gave up only one earned run in six innings.

In the second game, the Pioneers scored a 11-10 victory on a Rick Wallace score in the seventh. In the slugfest, Gary Jones, Joedy Moots, and Steve Lockwood collected three hits. Fred Smith also contributed two hits including a home run. Tim Henson picked up the victory going six innings and giving up five earned runs.

In two games played in rainy weather, the Pioneers lost the first game 5-2, but came back to take the evening cap 8-3.

In the first game, Glenville failed to capitalize on a sixth inning rally when they had a chance to tie the game at five. Ted Valentine was on third base and Gary Jones, after a run scoring single, was on second. Terry Spangler and Fred Smith, the second and third hitters, failed to bring the runners in and the rally was squelched. Mike Goldsberry was saddled with the loss as he went the distance.

The Pioneers came back in the second game of the doubleheader to register a 8-3 win. Steve Gandee picked up the win, pitching the entire game. Gary Jones, Rick Wallace, and Terry Spangler picked up two hits each with one of Spangler's hits being a home run.

The Pioneers closed out their season with two shut out losses to Davis and Elkins.

In the first game, Ron Kaufman of D & E pitched a no hitter to completely shut down the Pioneers. Terry Spangler pitched a fine game in defeat, allowing three runs, two in the final inning.

In the second game, Glenville could only manage four hits in a ten run rule, five inning game, losing 10-0. Gary Jones, Joedy Moots, Kenny Riggs, and Rick Wallace each picked up one hit.

The two categories of the pyramid were won by Delta Zeta. These two categories were time to get the DZ's a chance to catch up. Points were awarded according to each category.

The field day was a great success and everyone had a good time.

Frisbee Contest Slated May 17

Everyone grab your frisbee and start practicing because there are only six more days until the first annual Frisbee Golf Contest.

The contest will be held on May 17. You must sign up ahead of time in the office of either dorm. Everyone is welcome. All you need is a frisbee and your body on the library steps at 6:00. The course is as follows:

HOLE 1—(par 3). Start by the bench in front of the Library. The target is the flagpole in front of the Administration Building. If your shot goes over the hill onto the road, take a penalty shot and start on the hill where your frisbee went off.

HOLE 2—(par 2). Tee off from the sidewalk next to the first hole. Straight ahead is a Silver Maple tree that has three trunk sections. You must throw your frisbee through the tree.

HOLE 3—(par 5). Tee off from the sidewalk next to hole 2. This hole is a dogleg with your destination the nearest backboard of the outside basketball courts. Take a penalty shot if your frisbee hits the pavement and rolls down to the road. If this happens, start from the corner of the Ad building and continue.

HOLE 4—(par 5). Tee off from the black steps in back of the Ad Building. The hole is the middle column on the right side of Louis Bennett Hall's breezeway. Beware of the many hazards. If your frisbee lands in a place that makes it unplayable, take a penalty shot and begin again near where your frisbee went out of play.
