Drama Auditions Announced

It's true! It's true! The king has made it clear. The climate must be perfect all the year. Where? you ask. Not in Glenville. However, there is hope. For... "one, brief shining hour..." Glenville State College Theatre '80 plans to take you away to a perfect world known as Camelot.

The musical Camelot, scheduled for March 6, 7, and 8, will be auditioned at 7 in the Little Theatre Dec. 10, 11 and 12. Everyone interested is encouraged to bring a prepared piece of music or be ready to sing a selection from the Lerner and Lowe score. Previous stage experience is not necessary. Mrs. McKown is interested in enthusiasm.

The musical drama concerns itself with King Arthur and his round table. Into his beautiful kingdom appears the beautiful Queen Guinevere, the magician Merlin, Morgan Le Fey-Enchantress of the Forest, her wicked son Mordred, a senile and delightful King Pelinore, various knights, ladies, pages, squires, and faries. All would have been well if the handsome Sir Lancelot had not been so handsome, so perfect, so brave, so... Triangle happens. War breaks out. Beautiful kingdom no longer exists.

The show needs a cast of 24 men and women and one 12 year old boy to recreate the kingdom of Camelot and to do justice to the beautiful musical score. The songs include, "If Ever I Would Leave You," "Camelot," "What Do the Simple Folk Do?," "The Lusty Month of May," "I Wonder What the King is Doing Tonight," "The Seven Deadly Virtues," and many more.

If you have questions, please see or call Mrs. McKown in the English office. Don't be afraid of the auditions. Come and enjoy yourself. Sing along. Read along. You may be at any one or all of the auditions. Faculty and community is welcome. Musicians and technical crews are encouraged to indicate interest at this time.

Rockefeller Visits

West Virginia Governor, John D. Rockefeller IV, was on the Glenville State College campus yesterday to talk with students, faculty, and staff. The subject of his talk was "West Virginia." A question and answer session followed the talk.

Governor Rockefeller is presently in the process of visiting every county in the state. He was scheduled to visit Calhoun County yesterday. After taking time out to visit the campus of GSC, he resumed his trip to Calhoun County.

SC Forum Termed Success

"Very happy," was the comment made by Dean Billips about the first-ever Student Congress sponsored Administrative Forum. Approximately 150 students attended to hear President Simmons speak on upcoming plans and possible changes in the curriculum. President Simmons announced several new programs that may possibly be added to GSC, such as a two-year Business program, a non-teaching degree in Physical Education and Business Management, and Urban Forestry.

In other matters, Simmons commented on several renovation projects. The Science Hall will be completely refurbished and redecorated, as well as Fherle Hall (the Forestry Building) being re-roofed. All existing parking lots are scheduled to be paved and new concrete steps will be placed at the Health and Physical Education Building.

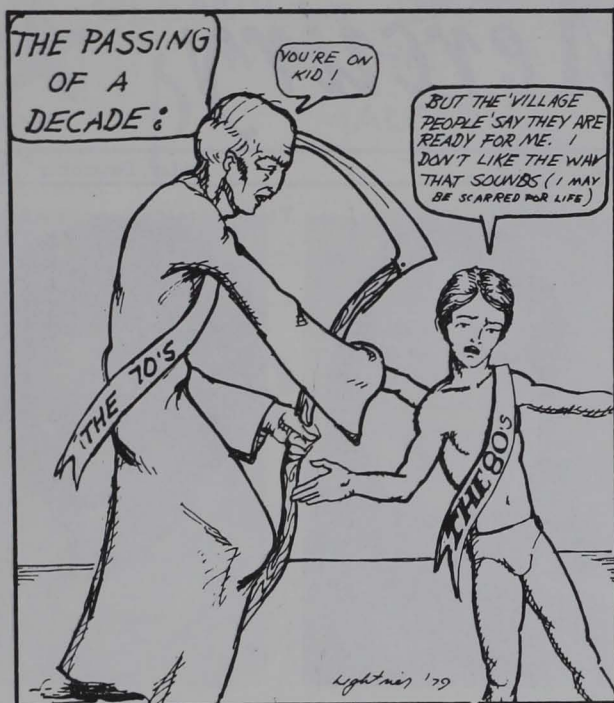

After the President's speech, Mike Murphy, Student Congress President, introduced the 13 panelists and opened the floor to questions and suggestions. A major concern was the parking situation. One suggestion was made that parking permits be bought at registration for classes to eliminate long lines at the Student Affairs Office. Another topic arose about commuting students who carpool. A proposition was made that instead of each driver buying a parking permit for their car, a single permit could be bought and transferred.

Meal tickets were also a broad subject at the Forum. A question was raised as to why students who live in the dorms had to buy a meal ticket. Another suggestion, made by a student, was why pay for every meal, even though you do not eat all three meals in the cafeteria. A "pay only for the meals you eat" question arose, and the student involved asked if it would be possible to pay for only the meals you ate, and get a refund back on the other meals.

The hour and a half session ended with Dean Billips commending the students involved and hoping to have another Forum next semester. Those comprising the panel were: President: William Simmons, Dr. Lowell Peterson, Dean of Academic Affairs; Dr. A. T. Billips, Dean of Student Affairs; Robert Gainer, Financial and Administration Director; Mack Samples, Associate Dean of Academic Affairs; John Vaughn, Associate Dean of Student Affairs; William Osborne, Business Manager; Wayne de Rosset, Faculty Administration Organization; Robert Summers, Parkersburg; Edsel Dewese, maintenance; and Mike Murphy, Student Congress President.

Greeks Plan For Christmas

End Of The Decade

By Becky Triplett

1979 has come and is near past depression and heartache is coming on fast
Cult and culture clashed
3 mile island showed us the no nuke flash
and Skylab came down with a spaced out splash

Margaret Thatcher is the first woman Prime Minister
Gas prices were sinister
The Pope came to Yankee Stadium
Roller skates evaded the Palladium
Baggy blue jeans are new Proposition 13 upset a few
Test tube babies brought us to wonder

What is next
DC-10's seemed to have a hex

The end of another decade is near
Middle East is a definite fear
What will a new era bring?
What will a new era bring?
It is a toss in the hat, another fling
But whatever is nigh
We will endure, but not without a sigh
Cause everyone knows America is only as united
As we the people are.
Who will be our next President;
Carter, Reagan, Kennedy or maybe Clark Kent
Will there be a economic depression with Henry Kissinger's confessions

Who is really inside the Burger Court
10 little Indians locked outside of the fort Fuel prices go up, where they will stop nobody knows
You will freeze your calories and your toes

Prayer and hope is the individual's advice
For me I just want the next slice and always remember
do not bury your head in the sand that will be just an ego for modern day man.

A Comment About Alcohol

Drinking -- a ritual in the American process of socialization, and a word that has become synonymous with alcohol. The college campus is no exception to this trend and possibly helps shape the drinking habits of many individuals in later life. While I am not professing to be anti-alcohol, I do believe many individuals and groups need to reflect on the role alcohol plays in their lives, especially in the formation and sustaining of relationships. Becoming a statistic to alcohol abuse is not as tough as you might think.

From a legal standpoint "under the influence" is determined by blood alcohol content (BAC). In West Virginia, a BAC of .10% is the limit. A first offense can cost you your driver's license for six months and the second time . . . well, by the time you get it back you may have forgotten how to drive. For a male, at 180 pounds, 3 drinks have you at .55% in an hour and you should not drive. The less you weigh the worse it is. At 120 pounds the same three drinks in an hour give you a BAC of .81% By the way, a 12 ounce beer, 1 1/2 oz. of 86 proof liquor or 3-4 ounces of wine all constitute "a drink" when you talk about effect on the body.

Now that I've rambled on about alcohol in general I would like to make a few observations about alcohol and the GSC campus.

GSC has a lot to offer the student besides an education, which at the time you're getting it often seems to be a questionable use of time. On this campus there are many groups and organizations that are active but there seems to be little unity or mutual support for activities at a college wide level. Organizations seem to exist for their own benefit and purpose and I have seen little support cross the organizational boundaries. As a result, I feel many of these groups have lost their attractiveness to prospective members. What internal activities that are well attended seem to involve being off campus and therefore involve alcohol.

To have seen or participated in homecoming, dances and football - basketball games 10-15 years ago, you would think you were on a different campus today. There have been a few bright spots including the muscular dystrophy drive last year and support of Pioneer basketball this year.

We, all persons associated with GSC, are a community but we are not acting as such in many instances. The absence of this "togetherness" in my biased opinion is partly attributable to alcohol because events with it succeed much more often than those without it.

We are a society that drinks and while I drank more than my fair share in college, it was not an activity that was so crucial to my involvement. With all of the organizations on our campus, we have the potential for much more involvement and interaction with each other if the thrust of our efforts can just be redirected. The Pittsburgh Pirates rode the wave of "We are family" to the top. Well, at GSC, we are family too. I just hope the reunion is soon.

J. Michael Geary

Free sandwiches and drinks will be served in the cafeteria Dec. 17 and 18 from 8:00 to 9:00 p.m., Joe Drahnak, Food Service Director, makes this announcement. This "food break" is hoped to make a better balance of study during finals week. Eat all you wish at the cafeteria because the food will be confined to this area. However, this is only offered to those students with ID's validated for meals.

There will be a meeting of the GSC Veteran's Club on Dec. 12 at 12 noon. The meeting will take place in the Louis Bennett Hall basement TV Lounge. All interested veterans please attend this, the last meeting of the semester.

New Plan Outlined

Artist's Workshop Held

On Wednesday, Dec. 5, "Artist's Workshop-6" was held on the GSC campus. Students from high schools statewide and their instructors participated in the workshop.

Mr. Harper had 19 students and two teachers attending his class-on water color. The class was required to paint water color pictures in the classroom. Mr. Cooper's Photography class had a Pentax 35mm camera to be shared by each two students. The students shot a roll of thirty pictures between them, then developed them in the darkroom. Most of the pictures were to be close-ups of people or objects.

Mr. Erkman had 30 students in his Portrait Sketching class. The portraits were to be drawn in pencil. Mr. Rogers had thirteen students and two instructors in his Lucite Engraving class. The students did an original Lucite engraving that was to be printed. Mr. Scott and Paul Latos had 26 students doing pottery making and Raku Firing. The students made bowls and bottles, practiced throwing cyclinders, and decorating Raku.

There were 116 students and teachers from the following High Schools: Barboursville H.S., Braxton County H.S., Charleston Catholic H.S., Clear Fork H.S., Elkins H.S., Fayetteville H.S., Harrisville H.S., Magnolia High School, Martinsburg High School, Nicholas County Votech, Parkersburg H.S., Parkersburg South H.S., Phillip Barbour H.S., Ravenswood H.S., St. Francis H.S., St. Marys H.S., Stonewall Jackson H.S., Tyler County H.S., Winfield H.S., and Wirt County H.S.

Dr. Talbott Reveals Peace Corps Past

Dr. Irvin "Duke" Talbott, Resource Director at GSC, was a Peace Corp volunteer from 1964-66 in the Somali Republic in East Africa. Dr. Talbott, in a recent interview, told about his experiences there with the Peace Corp.

After volunteering for the Peace Corp, Dr. Talbott had a ten week training course at Eastern Michigan University. There he learned Somali language, teaching techniques, African Studies, and teaching English as a foreign language. When he went to the Somali Republic, he taught English, World History, and Geography.

After the training, he flew to Nairobi, Kenya for a one week orientation session.

The school at Bebera, Somali Republic where he taught, had grades 4-7, four rooms, and all male students. The teaching staff consisted of two Peace Corp volunteers, one Egyptian and four Somalis. There were separate schools for girls.

The people of Bebera were enthusiastic about having an English teacher for their children. They thought English was a key to success and wanted their children to learn English to better themselves in life. The boys were good students, Dr. Talbott related, and were tested at the end of the year on the British System. The students had to pay a fee to go to school.

Dr. Talbott was also a school construction project director in rural villages. The Somali government wanted additions to their schools and entered into an agreement with the Peace Corp to help with this project. Dr. Talbott visited the rural villages and negotiated with villagers to make one room schools into two room schools. Local villages paid half, and the United States paid half. Somali had to supply water, labor, and stone. The United States had to supply cement, windows, and doors. Under Dr. Talbott's direction, six schools were enlarged.

Dr. Irvin Talbott and Mr. Edward Grafton will team-teach a class called "East Africa: History, Tradition, and Resources" at 7 p.m. on Wednesday nights. The course number is 399-01.

The time in Somali Republic was "very rewarding and personally fulfilling," Dr. Talbott added.

GSC Pioneers Upend University of Charleston Eagles, 68-56

Mike Forbes splits the Charleston defenders for two points.

Randy Anderson prepares to blast by a defender.

The Pioneers issued a surprise attack as they fled past the University of Charleston 68-56 here on Dec. 3.

The Eagles, coming off a 78-69 victory over Marshall University trailed throughout the game as the Pioneers scored the first six points of the game and led throughout, giving them a 35-24 halftime lead. With 17:07 left in the game, the Eagles closed up the gap 37-34 although it wasn't enough to dominate the Pioneers.

At that time, Freshman Randy Anderson came into the game and ran Glenville's four-corner offense to stump the Eagles and hand them their second defeat.

With starters Jerry Myers and Phil Thomas out of the game, the Pioneers were led by Don Bullett with 17 points, Mike Forbes scored 14, Doug Watts dumped 12 and Ernie Gilliard scored 11 to up the Pioneers record to 3-2.

The Pioneers hit 27 of 49 shots for 55 percent from the floor and hit 14 of 18 foul shots. They were credited with 35 rebounds, led by Doug Watts' 15 and Don Bullett's 8. The Pioneers travel to Fairmont on Saturday and are scheduled to play at 7:30.

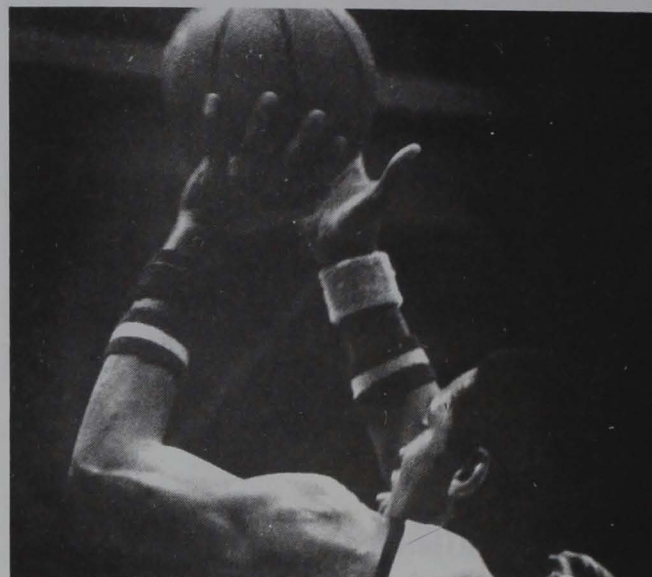

Wheeling Tournament

The Pioneer basketball team travelled to Wheeling on Dec. 1 to compete in the Wheeling Tip-off Basketball Tournament.

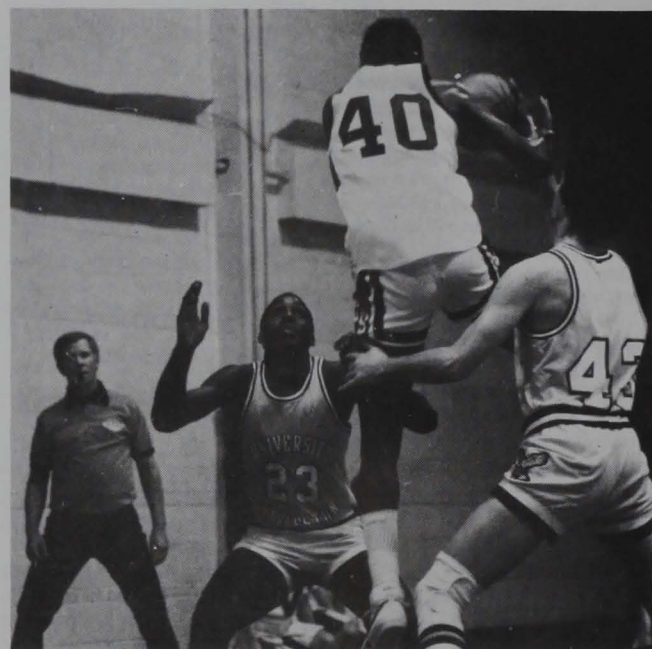

In the first game, the Pioneers nipped West Liberty 77-71 to gain a position in the finals against Wheeling College on Saturday.

The Pioneers were led by Mike Forbes who netted 21 points, and Phil Thomas who contributed to the Pioneer victory. Pioneer's Don Bullett scored 15 points, Doug Watts had 12, Ernie Gilliard hit 7 and Paul Willis had 2 points.

The Pioneers then played Wheeling only to fall to a 82-73 defeat in the championship game. Phil Thomas landed 23 points and Doug Watts collected 19 as the Pioneers record evened out to a 2-2.

Doug Watts loads one up for GSC.

Number 40, Don Bullett, grabs a rebound between two defenders.

Ernie Gilliard, number 10, looks for an open man as Randy Anderson looks on.

Tim Carney Profiled As Women's Mentor

by Sue Baisden

Success seems to go hand in hand with Coach Tim Carney. Re-staffing within the P.E. department brought the appointment of Mr. Carney as the women's basketball coach. His record as golf coach at GSC speaks for itself. Coach Carney has also served as assistant basketball coach for the GSC men's team from 1968-1979.

Coach Carney was very apprehensive at first, but having worked with the girls for some time now, he has found that they are very pleasing and hard workers. The biggest problem he has encountered has been the chaotic atmosphere that was present because the girls have been under several different coaches over the past few years. Coach Carney has made quite a few changes, but his basic emphasis has been on defense.

As for the future of the team, Coach Carney is already recruiting for next year. He says that the current team is very young, and feels there is a need for more height for next year's team, and possibly another guard.

When asked what the main difference in coaching women and men is, Carney said that in working with the fundamentals which he enjoys very much. Coach Carney feels that any coach can be successful if he stresses the basics and team work.

Coach Carney commented that he would like to see the enthusiasm for men's basketball at GSC carry over into the girl's program. He plans to try to schedule more prime time games in the future.

Coach Carney is a 1962 Glenville graduate. Upon graduating from GSC, Carney went on to WVU for his masters. He now resides in Glenville with his wife, Linda, and three children—Steve, a GCHS Senior, Scott, a GCHS Junior and Sandy, a Gilmer Elementary Sixth grader.

Carney is to be commended on a job well done. Remember, the fans are a very important part of any team, and Glenville's women's team is no exception. Get out there and support our Lady Pioneers—they'll go all the way this year.

There is a home game tonight at 3:00, and the Ladies play Fairmont at Fairmont on Saturday.

Ladies Tromp A-B

Glenville State College women's basketball team defeated Alderson-Broddus by a score of 85-68. This was A-B's first defeat of the season.

Leading scorers for the Lady Pioneers was Pam Minigh with 13 field goals and seven foul shots, Kim Bickel added 16 points, Pam Linger had 13 and Judy Niday had 10. Kim Bickel and Debbie Grogg collected nine rebounds each. Both teams pulled down 45 rebounds with A-B went 40 percent in the field goal accuracy with 28 connections in 70 throws at the hoop. The Pioneers totaled 50%.

Polo Continues

Four teams remain in the single elimination water polo tournament, which is the second intramural activity for the year.

The top seeded and over-all leaders, Lambda Chi Alpha, defeated the Illiterates in the first round and will meet TKE 2 in the semifinal round. TKE 2 beat D.U.T. in the first round. The Stoppers advanced to the semifinals after stopping TKE 3 and will square off with TKE 1 who defeated Lambda Chi 2.

So, it will be Lambda Chi Alpha vs. TKE 2 and the Stoppers against TKE 1 to determine who is the water polo kings of 1979-80.
