Drama Department Presents Camelot

Theatre at Glenville State College is producing the Lerner and Loewe musical Camelot. Camelot was first produced on Broadway in 1960 starring Richard Burton, Julie Andrews, and the new, romantic Robert Goulet. The show won many awards—Best actor for Richard Burton, best director for Moss Hart, best music, and best set design to name a few.

Camelot will be seen on the Glenville State College stage March 6, 7, and 8 at 8 p.m. each evening. Tickets will go on sale Thursday, Feb. 28 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Student Union or in the Administration Building in front of the Auditorium. Cost of tickets is $1 with I.D. for students, $1.50 for faculty and staff, and $2 for all others.

The cast is comprised of students, faculty, and community. The role of Arthur will be portrayed by Mr. Joe Hickman, Director of Career Planning and Placement Services. The show is a special effort on the part of the Hickman family. Mr. Hickman's three children also appear in theatrical roles in the production. The rumor has it that Mrs. Hickman is head cheerleader.

Fran Davis of Kingwood will be seen as Guenevere. Fran's father is the former assistant football coach at Glenville State College. Gene White of Akron, Ohio, will play Lancelot. Gene has much experience of the GSC stage. This is his major music debut, however. The delightful comedy relief in a rather sad love story is provided by Robey Godfrey of Weston. Robey will portray King Pelinore, in quest of the Beast of the Pelinores.

The nastiness of the show is personified by Eddie Harbert of Lost Creek who plays Mordred to the hilt—of his sword even. He is assisted in crime by Nancy Sutton of Parkersburg who plays Morgan Le Fey, Enchantress of the Forest. Her court is made up of four young ladies of the Glenville areas. Erica Gillespie, daughter of Dr. David and Yvonne Gillespie of Glenville; Meg Berisford, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Martin Berisford; Tracy Samples, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Samples—Mr. Samples is Registrar at GSC—and Mandy Nicholson, daughter of Greg and Barbara Nicholson—Mrs. Nicholson teaches Speech at GSC—will create the inhabitants of the Enchanted Forest.

Other young people in the cast are Kevin Evans who plays Tom of Warwick, the hope of the Camelot future. Kevin is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Joe Evans. Richard Norton will be seen as Dap, Squire to Sir Lancelot. Fritz Gillespie, son of Dr. and Mrs. Gary Gillespie, is Claris—page to the court of Camelot.

The favorite knights to the court are played by Skip Thrasher as Sir Dinadan and Joe Hickman as Sir Lionel—both of Glenville. Marvin Taylor of Weston is Sir Sagamore.

The magical, mystical magician of the court, Merlyn, is brought to life by Dr. Tom Nelson of the GSC English faculty. Three Ladies-in-waiting to the queen are created by Barbara Nicholson, Yvonne King, and June Nonneberg—all faculty/community members.

Four knights seeking membership at the Round Table are Tim Brady, Phil Minigh, Dan Depugh and Mike

Holley. The three leading contenders for Lady-in-waiting are Carole Norton, Marilyn King, and Peggy Gasper. Carole will also be seen as the Nymph Nimue, who seduces Merlyn away for hundreds of years. Other ladies of the court are Lorrie Price, Heather Hickman, Martha Rose Hickman, and Debbie Dean. Louis Kent presents a surprisingly lusty priest.

The orchestra for the show is also a combination of students, community, and out of towns. Students include Carol Wilson, Greg Anderson, and Dena Dunlap. The Community provides Rev. Jan Owen, Sandy Seaman, Bill Wilkes, and Lew King, Band Director at Gilmer. From out of town, there are Charles Miller, and Gordan Allen—music teachers at Calhoun County High School.

The story begins with the young King Arthur on his wedding day. He is so shy that he hides from Guenevere just as she is hiding from him. They meet, fall in love, then the story truly begins. Arthur develops the idea for the Roundtable. Into the picture steps Lancelot to join Arthur's ranks. A romantic triangle is created, however, which causes everyone grief. Fate seems to gleefully look for coincidences. At the time Lancelot and Guenevere are trying to avoid romance, Arthur's illegitimate son, Mordred, enters and with a little magical help from his Aunt Morgan Le Fey, he exposes the romance. Guenevere must be punished. Lancelot comes to the rescue and war breaks out. End of story? This is a musical. There must be a way. See for yourself.

The production has been designed and directed by Linda McKown and Edward McKown.

King Arthur (Joe Hickman) and Queen Guenevere (Fran Davis) are shown in rehearsal for "Camelot" which opens next week.

Mordred (Tom Nelson) and King Arthur (Joe Hickman) discuss strategy.

Republicans to Host First Guest Speaker

Jim Comstock, Editor of the "West Virginia Hillbilly" will be on campus March 5 to speak to the students at 3 p.m. Mr. Comstock's topic will concern the media and politics. This speech is open to any interested student.

From his first person biography, Mr. Comstock states, "First off, I am a newspaperman." Later, he lists several projects that his paper has undertaken. Some of his "newspapering" achievements follow: saved the Pearl S. Buck birthplace in Hillsboro, WV; published a 50-volume West Virginia Heritage Encyclopedia; started a Past 80 Party in his hometown; and set up several scholarship funds for young people.

Mr. Comstock launched a newspaper of his dreams when he published the "West Virginia Hillbilly," which, reduced the entire state into a community norm with a personalized newspaper. "The paper has been successful because it put its readers to work."

Mr. Comstock is being sponsored by the "Young Republicans Club." Mr. Comstock is a native of Richwood. The location of the speech has not been determined, but there will be posters stating both the time and the place later.

Security System Is Installed

A new security system to improve service for library patrons by preventing unauthorized borrowing of books has been installed at the Robert F. Kidd Library. Book losses, according to Mary Kennedy, Reference Librarian, will be greatly reduced with the new detection system.

The 3M book detection system "sensitizes" library materials to activate an electronic detector if patrons attempt to leave with a book or periodical which has not been properly checked out. An audible signal sounds and the exit gate locks. "The great percentage of students are honest, and would not intentionally take a book or periodical without checking it out," says Kennedy. "In most cases, it's just a matter of being forgetful."

Unfortunately, Kennedy says a great deal of material removed by forgetful patrons, seldom, if ever, finds its way back to the library.

"Of course, there also are those who will selfishly walk off with popular volumes and source materials in short supply. This is not only unfair and disappointing to others, but it also strains the lib-

GSC Week Slated

"Everybody who leaves campus that weekend doesn't need to come back." That was the statement made by John Vaughn, Associate Dean of Student Affairs, concerning the first ever Glenville State College Week. The event will take place April 23 through the 26.

GSC Week is slated to begin on Wednesday with organization highlights; Thursday will be mountain and bluegrass music in the amphitheater. Also, on Thursday will be a "Pioneer Dinner" at supper, Friday will be departmental day, and A. James Manchin will also visit. There will be a DJ dance from 8:30 to 11:30 in the Ballroom.

The grand finale of the week will be Saturday, April 26. Saturday will be a "Field Day" with such events as tug-of-war, sack races, and foot races. Ribbons will be awarded to winners and runners up.

Yet, everyone who attends Field Day will be a winner. Now, does that sound like an old song and dance? But, everyone attending will receive a large glass mug. The mug will have an emblem emblazoned on it, which is being designed by Bill Pitzer. These mugs will be collectors items. Also at Field Day will be a lunch and at the end of the day, a barbeque will be served by Food Service. At the close of Field Day a square dance will be held.

As of now approximately 50 to 70 activities are scheduled for Field Day. Dean Vaughn hopes that this activity will encourage students to spend the weekend, and relax before finals. Vaughn also stated that the weather will be nice for this event. The GSC Week Committee will meet Tuesday, March 4, in the Media Center at 12:30. Anyone having any suggestions or questions should contact Dena Dunlap. Glenville State College Week is being sponsored by the Student Congress.

Lady Pioneers Acknowledged

I think it is apparent by looking at the February 22, 1980 edition of "The Glenville Mercury" that the paper does not support the LADY PIONEER BASKETBALL TEAM. The paper contained pictures and articles concerning the latest news of the MEN'S basketball season, the MALE cheerleaders and the MEN'S basketball tournament NEXT week in Charleston. What the paper seems to have overlooked is the fact that the WOMEN'S STATE BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT was played this PAST week in Buckhannon.

Glenville State College does have a Women's Basketball Team and it is a good one. The LADY PIONEERS finished the regular season with a record of 14 - 4; good enough for a fourth place finish. The LADY PIONEERS played four games in the WVIAA tournament, winning three games and only losing one, finishing in a very respectable third place.

I find it very unfortunate that the "Mercury" could not find the space to support the Lady Pioneers and inform the readers of their tournament. I think the women and the coaches are to be congratulated for an excellent season.

SC Reelections Slated

I, Jennifer (Jupe) Morton, am running for the Presidency of the Junior Class. I am qualified for this position, because I have held high school offices and offices in college. Presently, I am Vice-President of the Ohnimgohow Players and a Pichens Hall Representative to Student Congress, and a member of the governing board.

With these qualifications, I think I am prepared to do the best job I can to make GSC a pleasant place to be.

Thank you,

Jupe Morton

I, Michele Bruce, am a candidate for representative of the Junior Class for Student Congress. At the last election Jennifer Morton and I tied; therefore, there will be a new election on Monday and Tuesday of this coming week.

At the present time, I hold offices in the Delta Zeta Sorority and Order of Diana. I am also assistant editor of the Mercury, and a voting delegate on the Panhellenic Council.

With these qualifications I feel I can do the best job as your Junior Class Representative. I would appreciate your support!

Sincerely,

Michele D. Bruce

Candidate for Junior Class Representative

A bread sale has been tentatively scheduled for Wed., March 5.

Congratulations to the Lady Pioneers who finished a very fine season.

THETA XI

Theta Xi's had their annual dribble to Charleston on Tuesday and Wednesday. The dribble took around 20 hours of constant dribbling. We would like to thank the Theta girls for all the help in getting us ready for the dribble.

Also, a 'thanks' goes out to the "Red" pledge for his outstanding exhibition he put on for the actives and other pledges on the Theta Xi porch. The pledges would like to thank John Miles for all the support he has given and they would like to know if he has anything else he wants painted black.

Does It Help To Shout It Out?

Is anyone angry today? Probably someone on campus is upset about something. Perhaps a friend has done something to offend us. Or that silly bunch of girls pushed all the floors in the elevator. Whatever the problem is, there are some things to consider.

According to Campus Life magazine, anger is simply a release of an emotion. We all have perfectly normal emotions, whether they be good or bad feelings. For instance, it is appropriate to laugh when we're happy, cry when we're sad, and yell when we're angry.

Before yelling, let's take three things into consideration: 1. Did the person that made us mad really mean to? 2. Will it help the situation to yell about it? 3. Is the reason we are angry going to make all that much difference in an hour, a day, or even a week?

In referring to number one, many people do not realize when they are offending others! Perhaps a friend might have said something that really hit us hard and they didn't even know it. For instance, a friend says, "The English paper you wrote needs some revision." If we've changed that paper five times already, we might get angry at the friend for showing our faults. The friend, however, was just trying to help us get a better grade.

The second thing to take into consideration is one that most of us forget until it is too late. I know I sometimes yell when I'm angry before I actually stop and think about the situation. This kind of spontaneous reaction is often dangerous and creates hard feelings on both ends of the argument.

Number three, ask if the reason we are angry is going to make all that much difference later. Nine times out of ten—it won't. When someone cuts in front of us in the lunch line, will that make any difference the next day? Only if we die from starvation while waiting to get our lunch, but that is unlikely. I don't know why anyone would want to fight to get to the cafeteria food anyway.

Stopping to think about one's anger before a quick reaction, could sometimes prevent various harmful outcomes. Perhaps if we would have thought for a second, we would have prevented that black eye last Thursday night. It pays to think before we react. Next time we get angry, let's stop for a minute and see if it is worth the bother to react.

Letter Of Concern

This letter is directed to the GSC students who walk to the Forestry building for 8:00 a.m. classes. First of all, I respect you for walking. More individuals, including myself, should leave our automobiles at home or on campus and help solve our nation's energy problem.

I am concerned about the manner in which you walk on Mineral Road. I realize that pedestrians have the right of way, but why is it necessary for two or three students to walk side by side? This occurs most every morning regardless of weather conditions. When Mineral Road is snowy and icy it is difficult enough to keep an automobile under control while meeting other automobiles and dodging the parked vehicles along the road. Students walking two and three abreast add to the dangerous conditions.

Please protect yourselves and the drivers on Mineral Road. Please get off the road as much as you can and walk in a single file along curves and when automobiles are in sight. Let's work together to avoid a terrible accident.

Debbie Kafer

Note Of Thanks For Blood Drive Helpers

A special thank you goes out to all the men and women who so generously gave of their time to assist us at the Red Cross Blood Drive on February 20.

Ladies Shine in Tourney

The Lady Pioneers opened their tournament action at WV Wesleyan on Thursday by defeating Bluefield College 81-38 which was the largest winning margin of any tournament game.

The Pioneers who had defeated Bluefield earlier in the season were led by Pam Minigh with 16 points and four other players hitting double figures and held a 39-16 lead at halftime.

Pam Linger led GSC with 3 assists and Debbie Grogg had 15 rebounds. The ladies shot 48 percent from the floor and 38.4 percent from the free throw line.

The following Pioneers scored: Pam Minigh 16 points; Kim Goodwin 14; Mary Zangari 12; Kim Bickel 11; Judy Niday 10; Deb Grogg 7; and Pam Linger and Sue Ann Reed with 4 points each.

On Friday the ladies tangled with Davis and Elkins College in a close game as the ladies came out on top with a one point advantage to defeat D & E 64-63.

The Pioneers were down by seven points with five minutes left in the game but came back as Kim Bickel missed a shot which was rebounded by Judy Niday who scored the winning basket. D & E got the ball with 24 seconds left and missed their shot with 16 seconds left as the Pioneers rebounded and held onto the ball until the end.

Pam Minigh and Pam Linger had 8 rebounds each and Deb Grogg had 7. The Pioneers shot 33½ percent from the field and 58.8 percent from the free throw line. Pam Minigh was high scorer with 15 points. Debbie Grogg and Kim Bickel hit double figures with 14 and 10 respectively. Bickel also led with three assists.

The Pioneers had beaten D & E once and were defeated once in earlier season action.

Those scoring were Pam Minigh-15 points; Deb Grogg-14; Kim Bickel-10; Pam Linger-9; Judy Niday-8; and Mary Zangari and Sue Ann Reed with 4 each.

The Ladies tangled with the University of Charleston girls on Saturday only to fall to a 96-76 defeat. Pam Minigh led the Pioneers with 20 points and Pam Linger with 16 points. Deb Grogg had 11 rebounds and Linger was noted with three assists.

Powerful Charleston had defeated GSC earlier in the season but only held a 48-38 advantage at the half as Charleston prepared to move on into tournament finals.

The Ladies played West Liberty in the Consolation game to capture third place. They defeated West Liberty 82-73 with Pam Linger scoring 28 points, Kim Goodwin with 25 and Mary Zangari hitting 16 as Glenville held a 40-30 halftime lead.

Pioneers scoring along with Minigh and Linger included Kim Goodwin-14, Debbie Grogg-11, Sue Ann Reed-7, Kim Bickel-6, and Judy Niday with 2 points.

Pam Minigh and Pam Linger were honored by being chosen as part of the All-Tournament team and Minigh received double honors as she was chosen for 1st team All-State.

All women interested in track and field will meet Tuesday, March 4 at 12 noon in Room 209 in the Health Building.

Theta Xi's preparing for their annual dribble to Charleston.

Ladies Rank Third

By Carron Smith

This is the second, in a series of articles, concerning Women on Campus. In this article the Women's Basketball Team, under the coaching of Tim Carney will be discussed. However, this article is not in compliance with the Letter to the Editor.

Everyone wishes to be Cinderella, however, the Lady Pioneers fulfilled that dream in the WVIAA Tournament Play February 20-24. The Women ended their season with a 17-5 record, ranking 4th in the Conference and 3rd in the Tournament.

When interviewed earlier in the season, Coach Tim Carney stated that he felt the girls would have "one of the top four teams in the league." After the Tournaments, Carney commented on the girls' success as "way beyond expectations," and that many felt the Glenville team was the "Cinderella" team of the Tournaments.

Carney listed better organization as the number one priority of his first year as Coach. Upgrading the schedule and playing some out-of-Conference teams are the plans for next year's team. Carney also hopes to attain a guard, some depth and height for next year. Playing more prime time evening games is another goal of Carney's.

Pam Minigh, Freshman, and Pam Linger, Sophomore, were named to All Tournament Team, which is similar to the Men's All Conference Team. Pam Minigh was also named to the All State Team, and was 3rd leading vote getter. Coach Carney felt that Seniors Kim Goodwin and Debbie Grogg also played very well in the Tournaments.

The three teams that Coach Carney feels will always be hard to beat are the private schools, University of Charleston, Davis and Elkins, and W. V. Wesleyan. These three teams have been around longer than most other college teams and have better recruiting. Carney named the number one defensive players as Mary Zangari and Kim Bickel. The number one offensive player, Carney felt, was Pam Minigh. The most improved player Carney named as Pam Linger. Assistant Coach Ted Valentine named Mary Zangari as "Miss Hustle" of the squad. Valentine also stated that the girls had had good coaches in the past, but no coaches to make them play like boys. The girls should be proud of their record and themselves, and hopefully they will improve even more for next year.

Student Opinions Are Cited

It is pretty bad when a team as talented and as highly ranked as the Lady Pioneers get no recognition what so ever in their own school newspaper. The womens team was in conference tournament action this past weekend and not one word or one bit of information was printed in the Glenville Mercury concerning previously played games or the tournament. There were four pictures of the mens team in action and three articles on past men's games and men's cheerleaders and men's tournament. The ladies participated in their conference tournament this past weekend and the men's tournament was not even scheduled to begin until the following week yet they got all the coverage. It seems as if something—one sentence or one word—could have been printed, at least to let the readers know when the ladies games were to be played.

The Glenville State College Lady Pioneers finished fourth out of fourteen teams in the conference this season and third in the conference tournament, the best showing ever by the women. Congratulations, ladies, on a job very well done and congratulations to our first year coach Tim Carney and assistant coach Ted Valentine. Maybe the Mercury will do a better job next year.

There will be a meeting March 5 at 5:30 in 101 AB for all Phi Beta Lambda members. Everyone is asked to attend.

UC, State Lose Two

The Glenville Pioneers defeated WV State on Friday evening 75-69. This win produced an 11-14 overall and 8-12 Conference record. Don Bullett was top scorer for GSC with 23 points. Ernie Gilliard and Mike Forbes scored 12 each, P.T. Thomas added 11, Randy Anderson-12, Doug Watts-6, and Gerry Myers had 2 points.

On Saturday, the Pioneers finished their regular season by defeating the University of Charleston.

Next weeks paper will feature the Pioneers in the Men's tournament action.

Press-i-dential Candid Jokes

Dr. R. U. Normal, a prominent sociologist, recently determined that a new ethnic group exists in our society. According to Dr. Normal, the group has been increasing in size and importance over the past few months. Statistics are somewhat sketchy, but it appears that the new group possesses the distinguishing trait of any ethnic group: the ethnic joke. The group has been labeled "Presidential Candidates." Listed below are a few of the jokes that are associated with it.

- Q. How can you identify Ronald Reagan's horse at the Kentucky Derby?
A. Easily, its been there on three previous occasions.
- Q. How can you identify John Connally's horse at the Kentucky Derby?
A. Its the only one that gives milk.
- Q. How can you identify George Bush's horse at the Kentucky Derby?
A. It takes an early lead, causing the spectators to give hot pursuit in an attempt to climb on before it crosses the finish line.
- Q. How can you identify Howard Baker's horse at the Kentucky Derby?
A. It establishes itself in the middle of the track and remains there for the remainder of the race.
- Q. How can you identify Ted Kennedy's horse at the Kentucky Derby?
A. After finishing second, it will instinctively run toward the winner's circle.
- Q. Where will you find Jerry Brown's horse at the Kentucky Derby?
A. At the track hospital...in two separate rooms. As a result of inconsistent and contradictory training practices, the horse attempted to run in two directions at the same time.
- Q. Where will you find Jimmy Carter at the Kentucky Derby?
A. Nowhere. Due to a sudden attack of common sense, the President will not be in attendance. It should be noted, however, that his horse, "Press Secretariat," is a strong favorite.

Note: Dr. Normal advises that any individual desiring to repeat these jokes should avoid mass media.
