

The Glenville Mercury

Number 22

Glenville State College, Glenville, West Virginia

Friday, March 7, 1980

King Arthur (Joe Hickman) and Queen Guenevere (Fran Davis) share a tender scene from Camelot.

"Camelot" Premiered

The Arthurian Legend-Knights at the Round Table is the plot for the musical "Camelot" which began Thursday evening at 8 p.m. in the GSC auditorium. Attending Thursday evening's performance was sixty junior high and senior high school students from Braxton County High and 126 grade school students from Spencer Elementary.

Camelot's cast is comprised of students, faculty, and community and the production has been designed and directed by Mr. and Mrs. Ed McKown.

David Huddle To Appear

On March 26th and 27th, David Huddle, writer and teacher, will be visiting GSC at the request of Martha Keating, English teacher. Mr. Huddle is from Ivanhoe, Virginia, near the West Virginia border. His writings are about his life in Appalachia. He is a teacher at University of Vermont.

Two books that Mr. Huddle has written are Paper Boy, poetry, published by University of Pittsburgh Press, and Dream With No Stumps In It, short stories, published by University of Missouri Press. Copies of both books have been ordered, and will be on sale at the bookstore when received.

Construction of the set has been handled by Mike Holley, Greg Rose, and Phil Minigh. Art work has been done by Melody Wilt, Jerri Riley, and Randy Gibson. Together they have created an illusion of a kingdom and a castle.

Tickets may be purchased at the door but it will be first come first serve as seats will be limited because of previously purchased tickets.

Camelot will continue with performances tonight and Saturday night beginning at 8 p.m.

Ms. Keating said Mr. Huddle will meet with her Narration and Description class one day during his visit on campus.

Poetry Contest

A $1000 grand prize will be awarded in the Poetry Competition sponsored by the World of Poetry, a quarterly newsletter for poets.

Poems of all styles and on any subject are eligible to compete for the grand prize or for 49 other cash or merchandise awards.

Rules and official entry forms are available from World of Poetry, 2431 Stockton Blvd., Dept. N, Sacramento, California 95817.

New Service Offered

A new, non-profit service for students was announced today. Designed to find all of the scholarships, loans, grants and workstudy opportunities for students at the high school, undergraduate and graduate levels, the new service guarantees that each applicant will receive at least $100 in aid.

According to Steve Danz, Director of the Scholarship Bank, the average student applicant is received thirty two "leads" on scholarship information, with a combined value of $17,000, and that figure doesn't even include those aid sources that are renewable for future years of study. Students are given scholarship information on those sources for which they are potentially eligible. The student then decides which sources to actually apply for.

An analysis of the more than 15,000 individual entries in the data bank indicates that about 30% are based on need, about 30% on merit and the remainder on a combination or other factors. The Scholarship Bank is the only source for all aid sources, including graduate grants.

The key to the data bank is the questionnaire that each student fills out. Requested information concerns age, sex, marital status, year in school, schools attending, major, occupational goals, jobs held, religion, parents union, employment and military information, and a variety of other factors. Cost of the service is only $25.

Interested students should send a stamped, self-addressed envelope (and save themselves approximately 100 hours of research) to The Scholarship Bank, 10100 Santa Monica Blvd., 750, Los Angeles, CA. 90067, or call toll-free 800-327-9191 ext. 397.

Census To Be Taken

"More than just a headcount" was the phrase Dean A. T. Billips, of Student Affairs, used to sum up the 1980 census. The United States Census Bureau will be on the GSC campus April 9 to visit the residence halls. Dean Billips urges all on-campus students to cooperate in this endeavor. All questions asked during the census are strictly confidential. For the next 72 years only sworn census workers have access to the individual records.

Many of the questions asked pertain to the education one has received, ethnic background, where one's place of residence five years ago was, and if foreign languages are spoken. However, the most important topic in the census is probably employment. This section of the questionnaire could be very hard for some college students to answer. Questions such as, "did you work last week" or "how did you usually get to work last week?" should be answered by "student" or "walked."

The income status of most students will also prove to be a problem. These questions ask what your income for the entire year of 1979 was, reporting net income of a farm or if you receive Social Security.

Piedmont Chamber Orchestra

Orchestra Presents Concert

On Tuesday, March 11 the Piedmont Chamber Orchestra will present a lively and diversified program conducted by Dr. George Trautwein under the sponsorship of the Cultural Affairs Committee of Glenville State College. The concert will be at 8 p.m. in the college auditorium, and is free and open to the public. It will be the only appearance in West Virginia this season of this famous orchestra.

The concert will offer a varied palette of sounds and styles and will include works for chamber orchestra, string orchestra, and featured soloists.

Opening the program will be the Symphonie in B flat, Op. 18, No. 2 by J. C. Bach, followed by the Fifth Concertante Symphony for solo flute, clarinet, horn, bassoon and orchestra by Pleyel, Variations on a Theme by Frank Bridge by Britten, and Symphony No. 88 in G by Haydn.

Philip Dunigan, flute, Robert Listokin, clarinet, Fredrick Bergstone, horn, and Mark Popkin, bassoon, all members of the internationally known Clarion Wind Quintet, are the featured soloists for the evening. Each of these artists is a virtuoso in his own right, and all backgrounds list successful solo careers and first-chair positions in major symphony and chamber orchestras. They are Artists-in-Residence at the North Carolina School of the Arts in Winston-Salem, and even when they are not on tour they are working together, exploring and expanding their already wide-ranging repertoire.

George Trautwein, currently Music Director and Conductor of the Tucson Symphony and principal guest conductor of the Evansville (Indiana) Philharmonic, has had conducting posts with the Dallas Symphony, Minnesota Orchestra, Savannah Symphony, and Music Director of the Education Network at RIAS in West Berlin which records broadcasts for Berlin Radio. Dr. Trautwein has continually added to his reputation as a conductor with European guest conducting in Germany, Sweden, Iceland, Portugal, Romania, and also in Puerto Rico and Mexico.

Since 1968 the Piedmont Chamber Orchestra has delighted audiences with the beauty and flexibility of music for strings and winds via recordings by VOX, performances at Kennedy Center, Lincoln Center, and concerts from Detroit to Miami. Audiences and critics alike have rediscovered the charm and vitality of orchestral chamber music as played by a polished ensemble of virtuoso performers and soloists.

Notice! Applications for student teaching, both spring and fall semesters of the 1980-81 academic year, will be taken Tuesday, March 18 at 3 p.m. in room 102 of Clark Hall.

Flu Miseries Hit

Although we have had a fairly nice winter (up until now) most of us have at, one time or another, come down with that dreaded disease that seems to plague us all, the flu. Experts tell us that there are two strains of this virus floating around—there is the A type and the B type. Most of us come down with the B type, which is very contagious.

The miseries that accompany this flu are that your nose runs like a runaway locomotive, you cough like a plane that has run out of fuel, and you sneeze so often you think someone is infiltrating the air with pepper. Of course this is not the end of this torture, you may have a temperature, your head may feel like it weighs a ton and your doctor will not give antibiotics. This happens to be in a new phase in medicine now; doctors will not under any circumstances prescribe antibiotics due to the fact that a new study reports that antibiotics cause serious problems to your health later on. My favorite tonic is a good stiff shot of Old Grandad Whiskey and two teaspoons of pure mountain honey. Of course any other type or brand will do.

The New England states have been the hardest hit with the middle west states coming in a close second. Schools have been closed repeatedly since most of the students have been out with the flu. Even some hospitals have been quarantined due to the increase of patients who have contacted it and the visitors who may bring the strain in.

With the floods, the blizzards, the takeovers and the Presidential race, the flu is just another plague that we will have to endure.

Cheerleaders Comment

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all those people who have helped and supported us throughout this year. We have asked for many things in order to support the teams in the best way we know how. The administration has helped us to accomplish this. Dr. Now has given us as much help as possible. It is so hard to do things without money but he was always there trying to figure out ways for us to do the things we felt like needed to be done. We owe a big thanks to him, as well as our two advisors, Mrs. Sandra Piercy, who was our advisor the first semester, and Mrs. Kay Chico, who was our advisor the second semester. They worked along with Dr. Now to try and make things a little better for us. We would also like to thank President Simmons and Nasia Pavlidies for their endless support as well as the drivers who took us the places we needed to go.

Another thank you goes to Shelia Drennen for her hard work in getting us started. She put in many hours of work and planning to get us ready for this year. Shelia ran tryouts last year and got the cheerleaders headed in the right direction for a successful year.

Coach Adolfsen and Coach Lilly have been very supportive by giving us all the help and encouragement they could. It is people like them that made our job so easy. A very special thanks goes to Coach Lilly for helping us out. He provided us with warmup pants for the male cheerleaders and travelling bags, as well as a ride to many of the away games. We are proud to have cheered for our football and basketball teams and to have supported coaches and teams like these.

We would also like to thank those who supported us in our money making activities, especially those contestants and the MC in the $1.98 Male Beauty Show. It took a lot of courage for them to get up there and do the things they did, for nothing in return.

A special thanks goes to our fans for their loyalty to GSC. Without them, our efforts would not have been so successful. The "Bad Bandanas" helped to show the school spirit and during the tournaments, GSC spirit was something to be remembered!

GSC Cheerleaders

Greeks Comment On Tournaments

THETA XI

We would like to thank all of you who pledged money for M.S., and to remind you to get your money in as soon as possible. All the Brothers made it back from Charleston. Awards from the dribble are awarded to: Dave for his leadership, Andy for his driving, the Mouth award goes to Billy, the Hog award for all his eating goes to Randy, and the Lifesaving award goes to the Theta girls for their support in the dribble.

Congratulations goes to both the Men's and Women's Basketball Teams in the tournament games, also to Pam Linger, Pam Minigh and Doug Watts for making all tournament team. The big congratulations goes out to sister Angel, and brothers John and Dave and the rest of the cheerleaders for being the best in the Conference.

We would also like to thank the two fine sororities for all their support to the football team before games and on trips.

We are getting together a Lift-a-Thon for everyone except Theta Xi's, so be looking for posters and sign-up sheets. Brothers don't forget to get in your money by March 28.

ORDER OF DIANA

The Order of Diana held its bi-monthly meeting Tuesday, March 4. Plans for money making projects were discussed. It was decided to hold a bake sale on Monday, March 17 in the Union in the morning and in the dorms that evening.

New officers recently elected are: Cathy Kidd as vice-president, Brenda Gray as treasurer, and Michele Bruce as reporter.

The O.D.'s enjoyed Big Sis-Little Brother week and hope the TKE pledges enjoyed it too.

Congratulations to the new TKE Initiates!

DELTA ZETA PLEDGES

The pledges of the Delta Zeta Sorority will be holding a Pop Bottle Drive on Saturday, March 8 from 10 a.m. to 12 a.m. They will be canvassing the Glenville area collecting pop bottles as a fund raiser. If anyone has pop bottles and are not contacted Saturday, please call 462-7958.

The annual Cutest Couple contest, sponsored by the DZ pledges, will be held March 17, 18 and 19, in the Pioneer Center. Voting will be a penny-a-vote and nominations by an organization can be turned in to any of the DZ pledges. The pledges are: Donna Burdette, Brenda Hornick, Joanna Helmick, Ronni Shears, Lisa Taylor, Dina Bush, Tina Helmick, Brenda Gray, Judy Devers and Tammy Gumm.

COMPUTER CLUB

The GSC Computer Club will take a tour of several computer departments of businesses located in the Charleston area on Wed., March 12. Scheduled on the tour are McJunkin Corp., Kanawha County Board of Education, Kanawha County Bank, Carbide and Digital Equipment.

Computer Club president, Bobby Baker, has been appointed as student member of the GSC Computer Advisory Board.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

The fraters of the Iota Omega chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity held their weekly meeting Sunday evening, March 2. Coming events discussed were a basketball dribble, bathtub pull, and a closed ball. The basketball dribble has been set for April 9. This dribble will start in Glenville and finish in Weston.

Congratulations to the TKE I intramural basketball team. They finished the regular season with 5 wins and 0 defeats. Tourney play will begin Thursday, March 6th.

Last week the fraters enjoyed going to Charleston for the WVIAC Basketball Tournament. GSC was well represented by both fraters and students. Congratulations to the Pioneers for their great stretch run.

Also enough cannot be said about the GSC cheerleaders. They won the "best cheerleading group" award. The whole group performed admirably all through the year. Another notable person who did alot for enthusiasm at basketball and football games was "Pioneer", Frater Tom Keene. Frater Keene's enthusiasm was great in Charleston. He will be sorely missed next year at ballgames.

The fraternity would also like to thank the Glenville State College Alumni Association for the hospitality room. It was great to mingle with the students of yesteryears.

Finally, we would like to wish good luck to Frater Godfrey and Frater White in the upcoming play "Camelot."

DELTA ZETA

A formal meeting of the Theta Xi chapter of the Delta Zeta Sorority was held, March 3rd.

The drawing of the raffle tickets on the clock radio will be held at noon, on March 17, in the student union. You do not have to be present to win. Tickets are $.75. If you wish to buy any, contact a DZ.

The Sisters are sponsoring a Clothes Drive for Colin Anderson Center, St. Marys, on March 8th. Donations of any clothes or materials would be appreciated. Contact a DZ or call the Sorority House for clothes to be picked up.

We are glad to see that our cheerleaders' hard work and efforts were recognized at the tournaments for being the Best Squad. A big congratulations cheerleaders! We would also like to congratulate the basketball team on a fine season.

Our big brothers are invited to the Game room on March 7th, tonight, from 6-8. Afterwards, they are all welcome to come to the house.

Clean Room Award this week goes to Diane Winslow and Michele Bruce.

Voted Pledge of the Week was Tina Helmick. Voted Actives of the week were the Delta Zeta Sorority and Mom Bennett.

The Tri-Sigma sorority will be selling chances on their $50 raffle on March 10 and 11 in front of the old cafeteria. You may also order Easter egg cakes at that time. The tickets and cakes sell for $1 each.

Belated Wish Extended

She was 108 years old last month and totally forgotten about. It's a shame no one wished her Happy Birthday on February 19 and I for one also forgot.

She is and has been a landmark figure in Glenville and Gilmer County, as well as West Virginia and even in some cases—the United States.

She has met every WV governor from her time of birth, plus many famous actors, comedians, and entertainers. She has honored their presence with grace, dignity, and stillness.

In her presence, many people—famous and not-so-famous—have been awe-struck upon a first glimpse of her. It is no wonder she has attracted thousands of visitors through her long life.

It has not been an easy life. She has had to face wars, depression, catastrophe and deep personal, physical changes.

Although much bad was encountered, the good was also there. She's been to thousands of parties, dances, sporting events and special productions. To coin an old cliché, she has experienced "the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat."

She's been around long enough to see the transportation problem ease with the appearance of the horseless carriage—the automobile. Many people wanting to visit her have had to travel the Little Kanawha River by boat after getting off the train at Gilmer Station—back then it was either that or hitch a ride with a horse. She was closed off to the outside world—more or less—but modern changes began to give her a new outlook.

As she began to physically change, grow older and wiser, she became more credible, dignified and loved. Many people wept openly upon the end of a visit with her.

In time, she has become a symbol of pride and patriotism for West Virginia and the U.S. She's stood tall and strong through the many unpatriotic gestures toward her and her country—including presidential assassinations, draft-card burning, "Old Glory" burning and the like.

But through it all, she still stands. She remains alive and well with thousands of people—all colors, races and creeds—visiting her yearly.

Most important of all, she has seen the growth of Standard Normal School which grew to be known as State Normal School. From there she saw Glenville State Teachers College blossom into Glenville State College and that, my friend, is SHE.

By the way, Happy Belated 108th Birthday, Glenville State College!

Science Activites Presented To Elementary Students

Glenville State College will present three series of science activities for elementary-aged students during March and April. The activities will be directed by college students enrolled in the "Science for Elementary Teachers" course. The program will be under the supervision of Dr. Joe Evans.

Second and third grade student will examine the topics of "Light" and "Ecology." This group will meet from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. on the following Tuesdays: March 11, 18, and 25 and April 8, 15, 22, and 29. There is no meeting on April 1 due to the Spring Recess in conjunction with the Easter Season. These students will report to Room 107, Science Hall on the college campus. There is no charge for participation.

Fourth and fifth grade students will examine the topic of "Astronomy." This group will meet from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. on the following Tuesdays: March 11, 18, and 25 and April 8, 15, 22 and 29. There is no meeting on April 1 due to the Spring Recess in conjunction with the Easter Season. These students will report to Room 200, Science Hall on the college campus. There is no charge for participation.

Sixth, seventh, and eighth grade students will be involved in a "Nature Study" which will conclude with a weekend, tent camping experience in the Dolly Sods Wilderness Area. This group will meet from 6 p.m. to 8:15 p.m. on the following Wednesdays: April 9, 16, and 23 in Room 107, Science Hall on the college campus. The camping experience will commence on Friday evening, April 25 and conclude Sunday evening, April 27. The cost for this program is $20 per person: this covers the cost for food, insurance, and camp site fees. The college will provide the transportation and the tents. Each student will need a sleeping bag and a mess kit.

All interested students are invited to apply for participation in the program. However, only the first fifteen names submitted for each series will be accepted. Those interested may obtain additional information and/or make application for participation by contacting the Glenville State College Placement Office (462-7361, Ext. 294).

The winner of the Spirit Chain Contest was the TKE Fraternity!

Nominations Taken For Communication

West Virginia Press Women, state affiliate of the National Federation of Press Women, Inc., is seeking nominations for Woman of Achievement in Communications. Any woman resident of the state who has been actively engaged in communications during the past year is eligible for nomination for the state honor. Winner of the West Virginia competition will compete for the 1981 national award.

Nominees should have made important contributions to their professions and to mankind through their work. A letter stating the basis for the nomination, accompanied by printed material or citations of broadcasts and a $2 entry fee must be sent to contest chairman Susan Cumins, 409 Sheridan Circle, Charleston, West Virginia 25314 by March 15.

Entries will be judged by Dr. Deryl Lemming, Director, School of Communications, Marshall University; and WSAZ-TV news director Bob Brunner.

Ron Gregory, Editor of the "Gilmer Guardian."

Gregory Edits "Guardian"

by Jim Wright

Is it possible for one to start a newspaper on a whim? Impossible, you say? That's what a few men thought when Ron Gregory came up with a proposal to start a new paper in Glenville.

"I once mentioned to my present partners how easy I thought it was to start a newspaper. They took me up on an offer, and came up with the money. We started it up and here we are!" Those were the words of Ron Gregory, editor of the Gilmer Guardian, Glenville's newest newspaper.

Ever since Gregory graduated with the first class from newly-consolidated Gilmer County High School in 1969, he has found lots of success. He was Gilmer County High's very first Student Council president that year.

In 1970, Gregory opened "The Grille," a bus stop in downtown Glenville. He later added one in Sutton to serve the same purpose. That was the beginning of quite a remarkable career that leads up to his present post as editor of the Guardian.

Gregory entered the journalism business by becoming a special assignment correspondent for the Richwood Hillbilly. He also worked as a presidential campaign correspondent for the 1976 race for that paper. He has worked for such papers as the Clay Messenger, Grantsville News, Glenville Democrat, Clarksburg Telegraph, and the Mountain Statesman. He was editor for the Glenville Democrat. He has attended Glenville State College where he participated in journalistic endeavors and served as sports editor of the Glenville Mercury.

In 1977, he became mayor of Glenville. He served at that post until 1979. He has also been a candidate for the House of Delegates and the Circuit Court.

Gregory has also worked in other fields. He was once a salesman for 4-D pipe company in Glenville, the assistant manager of U.S. Life Credit in Grantsville, and is a salesman for Sutton Real Estate in Clay. And on top of all this, Ron Gregory is a Baptist minister for a church in Orma, a small community in Calhoun County. He has accomplished all this in only ten years.

Gregory is married to the former Sherry Osborne, also a native of Glenville. They have one child, a boy, Ron Jr.

Gregory summed it up best when he commented on small town newspapers: "The newspaper business in a small town is fun. Almost anything that is said is practically news. If it's done right, a newspaper has a direct effect on everything in town."

Ron Gregory has had quite a professional career. From minister to mayor to editor, he has proven that life does not have to be a '9 to 5 get up and go' routine. He once said that he wanted to run for President of the United States. Was he joking or telling a fact?

Kuhl Given 4-H Honor

Kenneth W. Kuhl, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kuhl, Letter Gap, was received into the West Virginia 4-H All-Star Organization during the Consecration Service at the 1980 YAC (Young Adult Conference) at Jackson Mill. The 4-H All-Star organization is an honorary one, constituting the Alpha Chapter. Its membership is composed of older 4-H club members and local club leaders who are selected for life membership on their records of achievement and service.

Kenneth is a sophomore at GSC and is currently serving as President of the Collegiate 4-H Club. He has been a 4-H member for 12 years. Last summer he worked as a Camping Assistant at county 4-H camps throughout West Virginia, and is looking forward to working in the same capacity this summer.

At this time several items, found in the Health Building, remain unclaimed in the Athletic Department office. These include books, papers, clothes, etc. If you have lost any item in this area, please check with Dr. Now or Mrs. Edwards and identify the lost items.

Students are warned not to park in the two handicapped parking spaces, which are located in the parking lot at Clark Hall and at the Administration Building. Only vehicles displaying a handicapped sign in the window will be permitted to park there. Those who park there illegally will be ticketed.

March 19 through 22 has been designated as Muscular Dystrophy Week at GSC. An information table will be set up on March 5 and will remain up until March 21.

Co-chairpersons for the program are Deena Warner, Dave Tebay and Nancy Waybright.

SC Junior Rep Elected

"I'd like to thank everyone who voted for me--the second time around, I will do my best." Those were the words of Jennifer (Jupe) Morton who was elected Junior Class Representative to Student Congress for 1980-81. Jennifer is a Social Studies major with an Oral Communications minor.

Jennifer is active in Student Congress, where she is presently serving as a dorm representative, and serves on the Governing Board of Pickens Hall. Jennifer served as assistant director for "Camelot" and "The Importance of Being Earnest," stage manager of "Desperate Desmond's Dastardly Deeds." Jennifer is now serving as vice president of the Ohnimgohow Players and was president of the fall pledge class of Ohnimgohow.

John Walters to Perform

John Paul Walters, formerly of Meisburg and Walters, will be performing at the GSC auditorium, March 13 at 8 p.m. Admission is $1 per person.

John was born in Atlanta and lived much of his early life there, and in Los Angeles. He began playing, writing, and performing in his high school years. John began singing in rock bands and folk groups. Later at Florida State he went solo.

While at Florida State John met his former partner, Steve Meisburg.

The duo of Meisburg and Walters has previously performed at GSC, and other shows they performed to "whistling, whooping audiences." John Paul Walters show consists of soft "James Taylor" style music and also a wide variety of other talents. John is skilled in playing the banjo, guitar, and the piano.

Pellinore (Robey Godfrey) and Horrid (Scotter) create a sensation on stage.

Attention! All letters to the editor must be signed due to the fact that the Mercury must keep the letters on file. The name need not be published in the Mercury.

Initiation Held Off The WallBy Tim Brady.....

On Sunday, March 2, 1980, the Chi Beta Phi honorary math and science fraternity held its annual spring initiation banquet. The evening began with a buffet dinner. The meal was very well prepared and served by the cafeteria. Our speaker was then introduced. Mr. Steve Collins, a former president and Key Award winner of Chi Beta Phi, spoke to the group on being a well rounded "student-person." His remarks were enjoyed by all and each member and guest may have found something they could use to better themselves.

The new officers were then announced by retiring president Wayne Ervin. They are as follows: President-Grady Lamb; Vice-president-Joe Hickman; Recording Secretary-Angel Baker; Corresponding Secretary-Mike Montgomery and Treasurer-Bobby Baker. The purpose of the affair was initiation of new members. They include Annetta Haddox, Georgetta Massie, Mark Gainer, Bill Ratkovich, Daniel Greynolds and Jennifer Chisler. Welcome to the group. Following initiation the seniors were recognized for their contributions to the fraternity. They are Karen Pettry, Rick Singleton, Dave Drennon, Wayne Ervin and Jaquetta Hendricks. The Key Award winner, which is the award presented each year to the senior member who has contributed the most to Chi Beta Phi, is Wayne Ervin. Chi Beta Phi was also honored with several guests at the dinner. Faculty guests included Dr. and Mrs. Peterson, Academic Dean, President and Mrs. Simmons, Dr. and Mrs. Chisler, Mr. Wiseman, Mr. and Mrs. White, Mr. and Mrs. Meads, Mr. Hickman, Mrs. Turner, and Dr. Mary Jo Pribble. We were also proud of our alumni who returned for the banquet. We were glad to see Steve Collins, Dave Broshus, Barb Dietz and Anita Harold.

An evening of music will be held March 13, at 7 p.m. in the Pickens Hall Main Lounge. Performing will be Rick Roberts, Resident Musician; Mack Samples, Buddy Griffin, John "Mudcat" Peters, and possibly Frank Beall. A variety of music-bluegrass, old time fiddle tunes and some country will be played.

These men will be playing guitars, banjos, fiddles, mandolins and a stand-up bass. This program is being sponsored by Shirley Williams, Head RA of Pickens Hall. There is no admission charge, and everyone is urged to attend.

During the past several months many letters have reached my desk crying, nay begging, for the return of "Off the Wall." Suicide notes, pleas of heart broken school girls, and claims of permanent psychological damage are only a few examples of the kind of correspondence that I have received. "Why," they ask (they being you) "has 'Off the Wall' been absent from the pages of the Mercury. Now, in this exclusive article, the true story can be told.

On a sleepy day in January, I was sleeping. The sun warmed the air and Tequila warmed my pancreas. Suddenly, a noise in the bathroom awakened me. Burglars perhaps! A salesman perhaps! A rapist perhaps! Unfortunately, for personal reasons, it was none of the above or a combination therein. Instead it was a representative of the local Lion's Club. This man, who said he sneaked into the bathroom through the drainage pipes (I didn't believe him because his argyle socks were still clean) said he had a proposition for me. A local art connoisseur was willing to pay a handsome fee to anyone who could secure a copy or the original of the Sistine Chapel and successfully transport it to Piscataway, New Jersey to be unveiled at halftime of the Nets-Pistons game.

Being an adventurer and having never been to Florence or Venice or wherever the Sistine Chapel is, I agreed to give it my best shot.

Taking my fake nose and hairpiece for disguise purposes, a hammer and chisel, and a suitcase for transportation of the stolen property, I set out.

Well, to make a long story longer, things worked out perfectly. I was able to chip away Michealangelo's masterpiece one tiny bit at a time. I only had to make twelve thousand trips across the ocean, three of them on a boat and I flew the rest of the times. My arms got really tired. And the art connoisseur, who happened to be the cousin of Mr. Goodwrench, paid me twelve million dollars in dimes.

So, fans, that's where I've been for the last two months. I would like to thank Kathy Sullivan for her help and inspiration, not to mention her dirty socks which inspired me to return. But that's another story.

Szabo Selected As Apprentice

Bill Szabo, a freshman art education major at GSC, has been chosen to attend the Cedar Point Craft apprentice program near Sandusky, Ohio. After being interviewed by Merchandise Department Manager Gene Goff, he was selected out of eleven candidates to work as an apprentice under two professional potters.

The interview consisted of showing different works of his pottery, drawings, and photographs showing him doing actual work on the pottery wheel.

Szabo had previous knowledge of Cedar Point, but never had knowledge of the award program. Mr. Charles Scott, head of the GSC art department informed Szabo of the program. Mr. Scott incidently also worked at Cedar Point prior to his coming to Glenville.

The program will run from May 19 to August 20, and for the first 2½ weeks Szabo will be the only potter working due to the fact that the two professionals will start late. During his stay he will be demonstrating to the public as he makes mugs, cups, tea pots, etc.

"I'm proud to be chosen as the best potter in the group that was interviewed for this program," Szabo reported. "I'm really excited and know this will be a rewarding experience for me."

Szabo has been interested in pottery for 5 years, but in this short period of time he has won numerous awards, the biggest being the grand prize at the West Liberty State Art Fair in the spring of 1979.

Another big award was the GSC-high school art exhibit in which he won first prize. The prize was a four year tuition waiver at GSC.

Szabo is a 1979 graduate of Brooke County High School and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Szabo of Wellsburg.

The last GSC student to win this prestigious award was Paul Latos in 1973.

Enrollment Increase

The enrollment figures at Glenville State College continue to rise as the Board of Regents reported a 2.4% increase for the 1979-80 spring semester.

The total number of students enrolled at GSC this semester is 1,640. This is an increase of 38 students from the figures of the spring semester last year.

All of the state colleges and universities but one (Potomac State) reported an increase in enrollment. Fairmont State College had the largest increase of a state college with 9.5%.

Pioneers Defeat Salem, Fall To Shepherd In WVC Action

The Pioneers travelled to the Charleston Civic Center as the WVC Cage Tourney got under way on Feb. 26 when they played Salem College.

In the first round of action, the underdog teams suprisingly won as 3rd ranked West Liberty was defeated by WV State (last place) and Alderson Broaddus (ranked 4th) fell to Wheeling College.

Glenville State later joined State and Wheeling as they suprisingly followed with an 80-59 victory over Salem College as they moved ahead for Thursday action with Shepherd College.

The Pioneers were noted for dominating the backboards, crashing the offensive end to keep the ball for second and third shots, doubling the Salem rebounds 22-11 in the first half.

Salem managed more field goals, 25-24, but the Pioneers held a 32-9 edge at the foul line.

Doug Watts led the Pioneers with 21 points as Paul Wills, Don Bullett and Mike Forbes joined him for double figure scores. Wills added 18, Bullett dumped 14 and Mike Forbes had 14. The Pioneers averaged 51 percent and they shot the ball 47 times making 24. Other Pioneers scoring were Randy Anderson, 4 pts; E. Gilliard, 4; Smith 5; and Myers 1.

The following night had the Pioneers facing Shepherd College who had defeated GSC by one point earlier in the season. The Pioneers faced disappointment as Shepherd scooted by with a two point margin of 59-57 to end GSC's hopes of joining State, Wheeling, and Fairmont.

This loss was attributed to several turnovers and the inability to convert foul shots as the Rams rallied on into semi-final action with WV State.

The Pioneers held a 33-32 lead at the half and a somewhat larger 42-35 lead with 16:00 to play as it began to look like they were well on their way to another victory.

The Pioneers failed to make several foul shots as Shepherd moved on to tie the game 46-46 with 9:12 to go. Later with a three-point play Shepherd moved on top of GSC 49-46. And the Pioneers dropped, never to gain the upper hand again. They did, however, come with in one point on two occasions but failed to make easy shots to regain their lead.

The Pioneers were led by Doug Watts with 18 points as Paul Wills added 12.

The Pioneers sported a 35% shooting average as the Pioneers concluded the season with a 12-14 record.

Overall, the Pioneers have brought exciting games for the fans and cheerleaders this year.

The GSC fans received numerous compliments from other schools (including Fairmont) on their spirit, enthusiasm, and sportsmanship. This should be attributed to the cheering squad and their enthusiasm as they returned to campus bestowed with the Tourney award of the "Best Cheerleading Squad." Doug Watts brought GSC honors as he was chosen for the All-Tournament team.

Congratulations to the Pioneers (Men & Women), the Cheerleaders and fans for the pride that they have brought to this campus.

New Class Offered

A baseball officiating class is being offered at Glenville State College during the spring semester.

The class will meet from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday evenings, March 17, 18, 24, 25, 31 and April 1, in Room 206 Health Building on the college campus. In addition to the eighteen hours of course work, approximately twenty hours of practicum will be arranged for each participant. Course instructor will be Bob Belcastro.

The class is sanctioned by the West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission and is required for high school baseball umpires. Completion of the requirements for the course will enable participants to umpire high school ball games this spring.

Fee for this Continuing Education Activity is $30; this includes the $7.50 fee which is required by the West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission for the registration of baseball officials. For additional information dial 462-7361, Ext. 294.

Ladies Defeat WL

The Lady Pioneers finished their tournament action on February 24 as they defeated West Liberty 82-73.

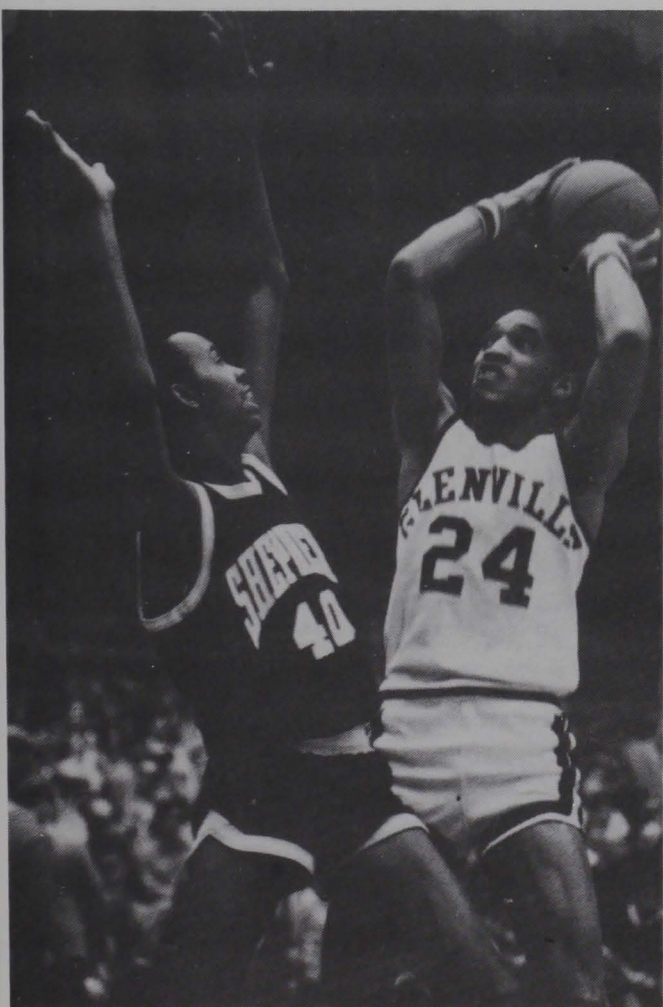

The Pioneers held a 46.1 percent field goal and 73.3 percent free throw average as compared to West Liberty, 41.2 percent and 80.7 percent.

The Pioneers, playing without

Pam Minigh who was injured early in the game, were led by Pam Linger with 28 points and Kim Goodwin with 25 points.

Other Ladies scoring included Mary Zangari with 16, Judy Niday, 5; and Kim Bickel and Debbie Grogg with 4 points each.

Due to limited space in this week's Mercury, some tournament photos were not run. These will be featured in next week's edition.

Series Discusses Title IX

"I would say, with the exception of scholarships and financial aid, we are in compliance (with Title IX) and will be moving toward total compliance in the not too distant future." This is the statement made by Dr. Joseph Now, Athletic Director of GSC, pertaining to the Title IX law. The Title IX bill requires that men and women must be treated equally in all aspects of the college curriculum. Sports seem to be the most affected from Title IX.

Dr. Now explained that Glenville is very well aware, and working toward the total compliance. Yet, Dr. Now noted that there are nine men's sports and only three women's sports. Money is allotted to each sport by proportions. Example: if there are 100 men involved in sports and 50 women—a total involvement of 150 of which one-third are women. Then one-third of the money would be allotted to women.

If there is enough interest in a particular sport, and there is competition close enough, the women could begin a team. Dr. Now gave the following example—the first year the team would be on a club basis, with limited funding and schedule. After the initial year, if there is support in members, the program would be expanded. Dr. Now stated that there were more women in multiple sports than men.

The Activity Fee Increase Referendum, which was passed by a 71% majority, will give the Athletic Department much more money to direct to the sports program. Dr. Now characterized the increase as "going first class as opposed to barely there." There will be a greater compliance in all sports. However, Title IX covers more than sports.

Educational programs, scholarships and financial aid, housing, and health benefits are also covered by Title IX. Under educational programs it states that institutions may not engage in sex discrimination in any academic or extracurricular activities, research or occupational training programs. It may not have different rules for men and women students. Financial aid must also be distributed in a non-discriminating manner.

Health services must be provided for all students, however, this need not be a full service plan. The housing of students must be comparable to both sexes. This article also states that men and women may have separate housing facilities.

Next week, the issue of working women, and married women will be discussed, the problems that they face and how Glenville State College has provided services for them, what can be corrected and how the women feel. Also to be discussed next week, will be the growing number of women who come back to school after marriage when their children begin school.

Jim Comstock enralls audience at Young Republicans Club meeting.

Comstock Addresses Students

"I am a Republican. Exactly why, I don't know," was the opening statement made by Jim Comstock, Editor of the "West Virginia Hillbilly." Mr. Comstock was on the Glenville State College campus March 5, to speak for the newly reorganized "Young Republicans Club." Becky Gilchrist, president of the organization introduced Mr. Comstock.

The upcoming presidential elections was the main topic of the speech. "We've got to have some splash to make news," is how Comstock described the morning papers. The New Hampshire and Vermont primaries, in which John Anderson won, were used to make a front page. "The press can create for you," Mr. Comstock used the example of the Spanish-American War, where William Randolph Hearst and Joseph Pulitzer ran a circulation race.

Several minutes into the speech Comstock asked for participation from the audience on Russian Power, the Shah of Iran, the summer Olympic games, and the reactivation of the draft. Comstock noted that he felt politics and sports should be separate.

Dr. John Hymes asked Comstock if he felt Ronald Reagan is electable, Comstock replied "no." The faculty advisor of the club, Mack Samples, asked if the media had turned on Kennedy, who was felt to be the only man for the job, earlier this year. Comstock replied "I have that feeling too."

"The sky's the limit for women in politics." Another topic, the economy, Comstock felt should also be separate from politics. The answer to the economics problem is to cut back, according to Comstock.

From his first person biography he lists some of the projects that his newspaper has undertaken. Some of his "newspapering" achievements follow: saved the Pearl S. Buck birthplace in Hillsboro, WV; published a 50-volume West Virginia Heritage Encyclopedia; started a Past 80 Club in his hometown; and has set up several scholarship funds for people.

Interview Day Planned March 20

The Office of Career Planning and Placement has scheduled a "Career Exploration - Interview Day" for March 20, 1980. Several Corporations have scheduled a visit to the Glenville Campus, and will be interviewing prospective graduates in Business Administration and the Liberal Arts fields. To date, those corporations that are sending representatives are: The B. F. Goodrich Company from Grantsville; the West Virginia Civil Service System; Management Recruiters from Winchester, Virginia;

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company; the NCR Corporation from Charleston; the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI); and Frank B. Fuhrer and Associates, Inc. from Pittsburgh, PA.

Most of these representatives have indicated that positions are currently available with their corporation, and will be searching for candidates to fill those positions. Anyone interested in interviewing with these representatives should contact the Placement Office.

Pageant Planned

How would you like to bring in the new decade reigning as Miss GSC 1980? Well, plans are on the drawing board for the pageant to be held April 30, in the Ballroom. Miss West Virginia, Debbie Davis of Huntington, will serve as the Mistress of Ceremonies.

There will be three phases of competition, bathing suit, talent, and evening gown. Applications are due by April 9, to Vicki Parrish, and a $20.00 entry fee is required also. Rehearsals will be held the week of the pageant.

The contestants will have an interview prior to the pageant, with the judges. The winner of the pageant will go on to the Miss West Virginia Pageant, held later this year. There will also be voting for Miss Congeniality. Trophies and charm bracelets will be given to the contestants.

Society Organized

Dr. Mary Jo Pribble and 18 perspective students are in the process of organizing an official Glenville Chapter of the Student Affiliates of the American Chemical Society. Right now, the Chapter is waiting for an official charter. The Society is not an honorary, stressed Dr. Pribble, it is an organization for students majoring in chemistry and related fields.

The organization's first activity will be the volleyball tournament for Muscular Dystrophy. A field trip, to the Union Carbide Technical Center, is also being planned. While there, the group plans to visit laboratories and see demonstrations of equipment.

Friends of World Teaching is pleased to announce that hundreds of teachers and administrators are needed to fill existing overseas vacancies. They will supply applicants with updated lists of the colleges and schools overseas that are participating. Foreign language knowledge is not required.

For further information, prospective applicants should contact: Friends of World Teaching, P.O. Box 6454, Cleveland, Ohio 44101.
