Scholarships Listed

Paying for a college education may be difficult for some students. Each year the Financial Aid Office offers scholarships for freshmen students. One of the main scholarships for freshmen is the John C. Shaw Scholarship. This scholarship was established by John C. Shaw, President of Glenville State College from 1901 to 1908. The scholarship amount given to a selected student, who has at least a 3.0 scholastic average and who is a resident of West Virginia, is $150 each year. Top priority is given to freshmen, but sometimes, in an emergency, an upperclassman is taken into account.

Tuition Waiver Scholarships are awarded to students who demonstrate financial need, academic ability, or a specific skill in a particular area, such as music or athletics. The amount of this scholarship is equal to the amount of tuition charged.

GSC Scholarships are for freshmen only. Two are awarded each year, and are given on basis of outstanding academic performance at their high schools.

The Alumni Association will be having a buffet at 4:30 p.m. in the Verona Maple Room and there will also be an "after the game" reception.

The representatives of West Virginia school systems listed below indicated that they will attend our October 27, 1980, Interview Day. Students wishing to interview with these representatives should sign up in the Placement Office by October 1, 1980.

Interviews will be held from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. in the ballroom of the Pioneer Center.

Homecoming Roundup

Circle the wagons, hobble the horses, and get ready for a rip-snortin' time, because the GSC Homecoming is here.

Listen hombre, this Homecoming is enough to make the coyotes want to stop howling. Who would want to miss such an event as the tobacco-spitting contest or the day when all of you city slickers get to dress up in authentic western gear? Dust off those spurs and tighten up your cinch (for you humans that would be your belt).

On Wednesday, the annual banner contest was held. This event was guaranteed to bring any gopher out of his hole.

Next on the agenda was the Alumni Gong Show. Gals were seen wearing their fancy garters and gents had on their best spurs. The show featured the renowned master of ceremonies, "Doc" Daugherty. A thuse was held right after the Gong Show in the ballroom, and listen partners, people were hootin' and hollerin' like wild Indians and the sheriff didn't even get onto them.

The parade will be on Saturday, with the coronation of the Queen in the Amphitheatre following. At 1:30, the Pioneers will take on the WV State Yellow Jackets.

Hitch up your buckboards and ramble on out to the field for the game. Students are advised to leave their firearms at home, but to bring those "bad bandanas."

Be sure to check your timepiece because you sure won't want to miss this yearly celebration. Put on your fancy duds and your wampum belt and jump on the wagon. The celebration is a'coming!

Becky Triplett, Editor

As President of the GSC Student Congress, I would like to welcome all returning Alumni, Parents and friends to the 1980 Homecoming Festivities.

As you visit the campus, you will find many changes that have taken place over the years. Even though the campus appearance may have changed, the friendships and memories that were made will always remain.

I hope that today's visit has reacquainted you with that "Pioneer Spirit" which each of us possess.

Karin's Kolumn

What? You don't know a commuter when you see one? Why is it you can easily spot a freshman, a football player, and even a biology major, but you can't recognize the common commuter? Oh, O.K., you say the freshman is the one with the expression of total disorientation being led around campus like a pre-schooler. How about the football player...is he the 6'5, 250 pounder with bulging biceps making passes....at the girls? We suppose the biology major is the one down on his hands and knees with his nose in a bed of marigolds....or is he the one climbing trees?

It isn't as difficult as you think singling out a commuter from everyone else on campus. He's the one carrying the backpack, who looks like a hiker on the Appalachian Trail. If there's no backpack or bookbag to be seen, then it may be possible that the person is paying that kid on his heels to carry his books. (It can happen!) Likewise, the commuter can be heard swearing and squawking about the parking ticket he's gotten 3 days in a row in 3 different parking places! (He then wishes he never saw that "Cute little parking sticker.") If the commuter is an unlucky one who is anywhere but near his parked car (or worse, has no car at all), then this person has the joy of tangling himself up in arms full of belongings. This same person, with "locker stuff" in his arms all through the day, will be seen looking like Mary Poppins because he's stuck carrying an umbrella on a bright, sunny day.

I have given you only a few examples of identifying a common commuter, but maybe now you'll be more aware of the "dorm student opposites" (a sobriquet I give to "Commuters"). Remember, there will always be commuters as long as there are college campuses.

Horticulture Beautifies Campus

What was the most noticeable difference to the GSC campus when you arrived this fall? If you were like everyone else, the new woodchips, plants, chains, and trees kind of jumped out and greeted you as you entered the middle grounds of the campus.

The person most responsible for the beautiful new image is Mary Durand, the new instructor and head of the Ornamental Horticulture department here at the college. Ms. Durand took over the foreman's job this summer after Joe Hickman, Director of Placement, suggested that the grounds needed "something." So Ms. Durand and Mr. Hickman chose the trees, flowers, and general reclaiming of the landscape in front of Louis Bennett Hall, the amphitheatre, and beside the library. Ms. Durand, along with two college students, Gary Ross and Gary Skidmore, and three other CETA crew members, started landscaping. In the period of five weeks, they carried top soil, dug holes, placed locust logs along the hills, planted shrubs, flowers, plants and trees, and made the grounds look "just splendid." When asked what she thought of the whole thing, Ms. Durand commented, "It was tiring, but we had a lot of fun. I was real happy with what all we got done—but we're not through yet."

The campus-funded project which was approved by Mr. Robert Gainer, Director of Finance and Administration, was very low cost. The Maintenance Department was very cooperative in lending a helping hand; supplying a dump truck, carrying dirt and woodchips, and to top it all—they will continue some of the maintenance of the woodchipped areas. Ms. Durand said, "The Maintenance staff was great—and about the cost, the woodchips were free and the plants were very low cost."

Ms. Durand, who was a Glenville student last year, took over the two-year Ornamental Horticulture program this past summer. She expressed a weird feeling about being a teacher to previous classmates and said, "The position is definitely different. I thought it was hard enough as a student, but now I see the other side of the story and exactly all the organization, planning and following through of the program. But I wouldn't trade it for anything." The program, Ornamental Horticulture, is a class that simply means "working with plants." It involves such areas as nursery management, turf management, and landscaping, to name a few—and it prepares the students for such jobs as manager of golf courses, football fields and other jobs involving the maintaining of turf. Green houses and landscapers are also job fields for these majors.

Along with the classes, there are activities and projects for the students. Last year the planting of trees and addition of woodchips to the courtyard of LBH along with pruning of trees and flowers in front of the student union were just a few of their activities. This year Ms. Durand pointed out the project of finishing the grounds job by placing some dogwood and redwood trees to the open areas of the campus and working with weed control on the already completed parts of the project.

From what we gather, this class is very fulfilling and helpful to the students, campus, and other surrounding plant followers, but because of the lack of interest in the course, it is in its last year at Glenville. "It's a real shame the program was dropped; it was much needed, and it's just beginning to blossom—it's a real shame," Ms. Durand said.

However, something good came from the effort—our campus is much more attractive as alumni and friends gather back 'home' for this Homecoming weekend.

Part of the Ornamental Horticulture project are the woodchips and shrubbery in front of Louis Bennett Hall.

Stage Band Forms

A stage band is forming in the GSC Music Department. Maynard Ferguson, Woodie Herman, and Stan Kenton arrangements are due to arrive this week. Mr. David Harry who is organizing the group is particularly suited to this task. Mr. Harry himself once played with the Glen Miller Orchestra. All students interested in participating in the band should contact him between 9 and 3 any weekday in the Music Dept. He is especially interested in saxophones as well as brass instruments.

Sugarcreek Slated

Sugarcreek, a band that has been together for over twelve years, has been chosen as the Homecoming dance band. The dance is slated for Sept. 27, Saturday, from 9 p.m. to midnight in the ballroom. The dance will be semiformal, and a $1.00 admission fee will be charged to each person.

The band's gimmick is a good selection of music, a good stage performance, and the very best lighting, musical and public address equipment.

The band has played engagements throughout the south, performing for hundreds of college dances, sorority and fraternity parties. One outstanding feature of Sugarcreek is that they all share the lead and harmony vocal parts, plus each being an accomplished musician. It is rare that a group has five lead singers.

A partial repertoire of Sugarcreek includes Lynyrd Skynyrd, Queen, Billy Joel, Molly Hatchet, Styx, the Beatles, and Bob Seger. Along with these songs, Sugarcreek will be performing some of their own original songs.

Yearbooks are now in and will be distributed daily from 8-4 in Room 306 Ad. Building. Yearbooks are free to all students who paid activities fees last year. Don't forget to pick up yours!

Yearbook Staff Chosen

"Country Store" has been chosen as the theme for the 1980-81 Kanawhachen. The staff positions for the yearbook have also been filled, according to Ms. Yvonne H. King, advisor.

Carron Smith, a sophomore journalism major, has taken the position of editor. She worked on last year's yearbook as advertising editor and was editor of her high school yearbook. She has been a reporter for the Mercury during her career at GSC. Carron claims St. Marys as her hometown.

Layout editor for the year is Liz Carpenter. Liz is a sophomore Elementary Education major. Liz is also from St. Marys.

Section editors for the various sections of the yearbook are a new attraction to the book. Nancy Bernola, a Weirton resident with a major in Early Childhood Development, will be copy editor. Diane Winslow has been chosen to work as the class section editor. Diane is planning a major in Special Education.

Betty Wells, a sophomore History

major, is in charge of the sports section. Lurene Scott, a junior biology and art major, has been chosen as the art and graphic design editor. Kelly Ford, also a junior, will handle the academic section of the book. Kelly is a Business Education major.

Business Education major Brenda Gray will be in charge of the organization section of the book. Each organization will be granted one page in the book, and additional pages will cost $25 each. Group pictures for the organizations will be taken as soon as possible. Vicki Parrish has been chosen as the head typist. Vicki is a Secretarial Science major. Melody McHenry will be in charge of proof reading and the photo file.

Photographers for the yearbook include Robey Godfrey, Mark Linville, and Kenny Riggs. Robey is a Social Science major, Mark is a Business Administration major and Kenny is an Elementary Education major.

Yearbook meetings are held each Tuesday night at the yearbook office (306 Administration Building) at 7.

Clinic Offers Coaching

If you "need a coach" to help you through some of the adjustments of college life, the Gilmer County Mental Health Clinic can help. The Clinic, located on Mineral Road, offers professional counseling for individuals, families and groups, and also for alcohol and drug abuse. Hours at the Clinic are 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and evenings by appointment only.

"The main problem of most students is the first separation from the home and family. The students need someone to show them their mistakes and lend an objective ear," Dr. Jeffrey Cosnow of the Clinic stated.

There are several new innovations at the Mental Health Clinic this year. Dr. Hoover, of Glenville, has been employed on a part-time basis as a medical consultant. The Clinic is also doing hypnosis for weight loss and smoking.

Patients at the Clinic need not worry about names being given out to the general public. As patients, their names are kept strictly confidential. Dr. Cosnow cited the following example, "If you were a patient at the Clinic and your parents called and asked if you were receiving treatment there, the only legal answer the Clinic could give would be 'I'm sorry I am not able to give out that information.'" Another worry to a possible patient is fees. The Mental Health Clinic operates on a sliding scale fee range, which means that a patient pays a fee that is in proportion to their income. Many times the patient may have insurance which will pay for the treatment, explained Dr. Cosnow.

The Clinic has also acquired a great deal of good quality literature on alcohol and drug abuse. Anyone needing information on these matters may go to the Clinic and use this information. An alcohol abuse group meets every Wednesday evening at the Clinic for those people who need help with their drinking problems. Anyone wishing to enter the group or who wants more information of the group should contact the Clinic. Dr. Cosnow feels that alcohol is a vastly underrated drug by many college students. Many students do not realize, emphasized Dr. Cosnow, that getting drunk is just an overdose.

An adult mentally retarded group, consisting of eight men and women, meets on Wednesday mornings. The group needs a teacher to help them with carpentry. Anyone wishing to work with these individuals should contact Liz Schelper at 462-5716.

4-H Club Meets

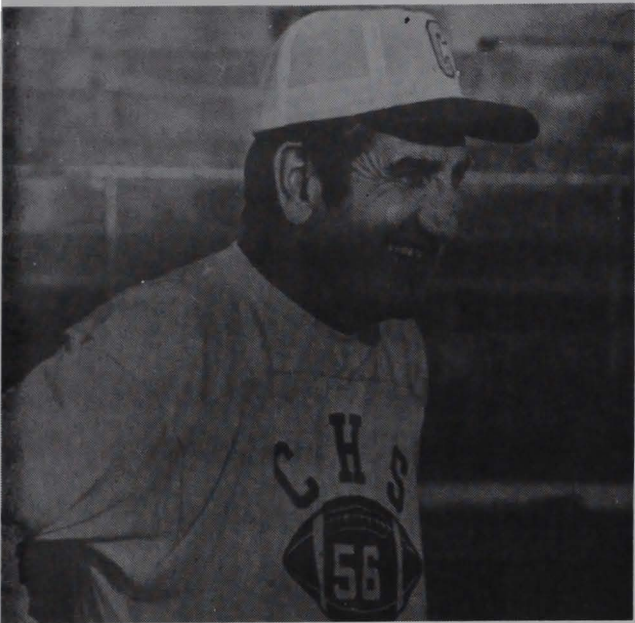

The Glenville State Collegiate 4-H club held its first meeting Sept. 14 at 8:00 p.m. The 1st order of business conducted was the election of officers.

The 1980-81 officers include Vicki Gaston, President; Tina Helmick, Vice-president; Debbie Moore, Secretary-Treasurer; Arnie Headly and June Casto, Song and Recreation leaders. Lee Loy was also elected Chairperson of the Publicity committee.

Also discussed was the participation in the banner contest, money making projects, camps, and county-wide activities.

Sugarcreek, the band to perform at the Homecoming dance, includes in its repertoire Lynyrd Skynyrd, Queen, Billy Joel, Molly Hatchet, Styx, the Beatles and Bob Seger.

Parade Marshal Lou Romano

Romano Serving As Parade Marshal

The winningest coach in Charleston High School's history has been chosen as the 1980 Glenville State College Homecoming Parade Marshal. Lou Romano, a 1940 graduate of GSC, has been chosen for the honors of Parade Marshal.

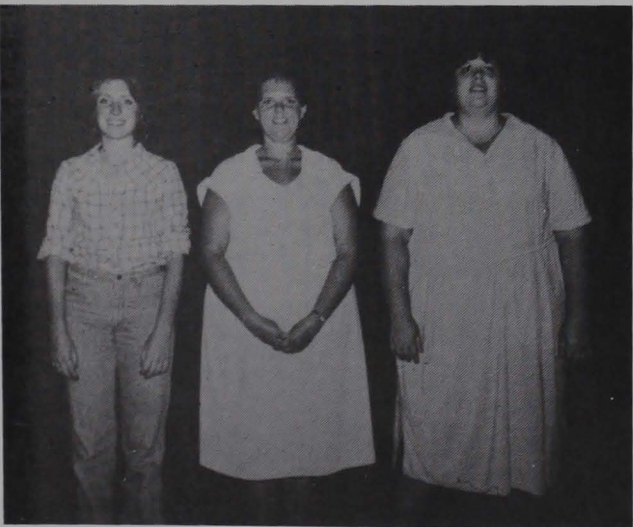

While at Glenville, Romano was named to the NAIA All Tournament team in Kansas City, when the basketball team went to the national tournaments, the Small College All American Team, and was the first All American to be named from GSC.

After graduating from Glenville in 1940, Romano went to Leewood High School in Kanawha County.

During his stay at Leewood, Romano won three Upper Kanawha Valley Championships in football.

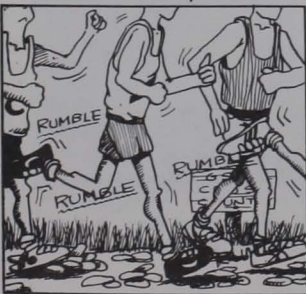

After leaving Leewood, Romano went to Charleston High School, where he compiled the winningest record of any basketball coach in the history of Charleston High, with 318 wins and 77 losses. Romano also won three State Titles, in 1938, '73 and '74, eight Kanawha Valley Conference titles. While at CHS, Romano concentrated his coaching efforts to the basketball courts.

Romano was head basketball coach at Charleston High School for 17 years. He is now retired and has one son, Anthony, a daughter, Monica Lou, and wife, Sperry.

Charles Scott On Sabbatical

Dr. Gary Gillespie, chairperson of the Art Department, announced that Mr. Charles Scott has been granted a sabbatical. Mr. Scott is the first GSC teacher in nearly 25 years to get a sabbatical granted. A sabbatical is one semester off with pay. It is awarded as recognition of scholarship and academic service to the school. "Mr. Scott is deserving of this sabbatical because his reputation as a potter is well-known all over the Eastern United States. Mr. Scott has exhibited in Rennick Gallery at the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C.," said Dr. Gillespie.

Mr. Scott will study pottery and glazing processes in England, Japan, China, and Korea. The primary purpose of the trip will be to increase his knowledge of pottery.

The trip's itinerary includes: Sept. 12, leave Pittsburgh for Glasgow, Scotland and then on to London, England; Amsterdam, Netherlands; Geneva, Switzerland; Rome, Italy; Delhi, India; Bangkok, Thailand; Hong Kong, China; Tokyo, Japan; Seoul, Korea and Honolulu, Hawaii. On Nov. 25 he will fly back to Minneapolis and return to Pittsburgh. He will be home November 30.

Accompanying Mr. Scott will be his wife, Janet, and daughter, Ruth Ann. Ruth Ann is a recent GSC graduate, now attending WVU.

Miss Olsen playing campus chimes.

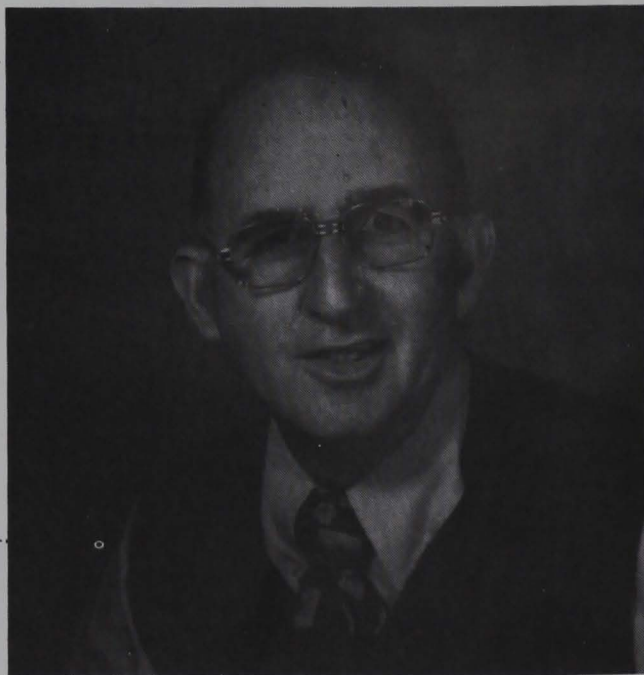

Chimes Played By Miss Olsen

There's music in the air as the chimes echo across campus each Tuesday and Thursday, shortly after the striking of 12 noon. Consensus has the music coming from pre-recorded tapes in the tower, but this is not the case. Miss Bertha E. Olsen, former GSC music instructor, was requested by President Simmons to play the Baldwin organ in the auditorium.

Miss Olsen, originally from New England, received her education at The New England Conservatory School of Music. She came to Glenville State College in the fall of 1930 and taught all aspects of music for 42 years, before retiring in 1972.

Miss Olsen signs on and off with the melody "Canterberry Chimes." Her selections are based on patriotic songs and hymns which she plays on the organ in the auditorium. Some music is not suitable for the chimes, but if students have requests, they may submit them to Miss Olsen Tuesdays or Thursdays from 12-12:30 in the auditorium.

The Alumni Dance will be held at the Gilmer County Recreation Center from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. The band will be "The Production Company." Tickets are $12 a couple and $8 for single.

GSC Marching Band To Sound Off At Homecoming Festivities

BAND Attention! Sound familiar? It does to some 50 members of the GSC Marching Band. Not only will the band members be paying close attention to their director, Mr. Ed McKown, and field commander, Dena Dunlap, but there will also be attentive Pioneer fans.

Surely, the beat of the drums adds to the atmosphere of the football game, and we'll be seeing our college band at each Home game along with the band's new addition—the Flag Corps.

Kathy Cullum will be heading the flag corps along with Vicky Gaston as co-captain. Other members of the corps include Carreda Elder, Debra Robinson, Kim Nottingham, Diana Husk, Diane Ratliff, and Laurie Gandee.

There will be the usual tossing and twirling of batons this season with Rhonda Anderson, a junior majoring in Business Education, heading the majorette corps. Her fellow majorettes will be Joyce McNemar and Carolyn Snodgrass, both freshmen majoring in music, Marilyn King, a junior majoring in English, and Vicki Kerrigan, a freshman majoring in General Studies. A junior Elementary Education and Business major will be the band's feature twirler, whose name is Kathy Tompkins.

With the eight new flag corps members making up the band's new addition, we can easily accept the saying, "the more, the merrier," right? That also pertains to those who are still interested in joining the GSC Band. No deadline is in sight, and Mr. McKown would appreciate newcomers into the band, so hunt up your instrument and become good friends with it again.

A new addition to the Band is the Flag Corps: (L-R) Kim Nottingham, June Casto, Carreda Elder, Laurie Gandee, Debra Robinson, Diana Husk, Diane Ratliff, and co-captain Kathy Cullum (center). Missing is co-captain Vicky Gaston.

Although Glenville has experienced a minimal decline in enrollment, fulltime student enrollment has increased by five percent; 1200 this semester as compared to 1133 last fall. A dramatic decline of 29.45 percent was attributed to part-time students in the areas of extension and television courses. According to Mack Samples, Dean of

English Test To Be Given

The English Proficiency Examination Committee, Miss Virginia West, Dr. Gary Adkins, and Mr. Wayne de Rosset, wish to remind all advisers and their students who might need the exam that the English Proficiency Examination will be given Monday, October 6, at 6:00 p.m. in Room 312 Administration Building.

As a graduation requirement, all candidates for a baccalaureate degree at Glenville State College must demonstrate proficiency in the English language. In addition, timber harvesting, land surveying and ornamental horticulture students must meet language proficiency requirements.

If the student has an overall average of 2.0 ("C") or better in English 101 and 102, he has met the requirement. If he does not have a "C" average in English 101 and 102, he may take the Language Proficiency Examination. A student may not take this examination more than two times. Anyone who was enrolled at GSC prior to the fall semester 1977 must include English 202 in this average.

A student who has completed 58 hours, or will have completed this number by the end of this semester and who has not achieved an over-all average of "C" or better in English 101 and 102 should see his adviser regarding this matter. If the student wishes to take the examination rather than repeat the course(s), he should come to the Language Division Office by October 3 and sign to take the test October 6.

Radio Station Now On Air

WGSC radio 640 AM is now on the air. The station is on the air from 5:00-12:00 on Sunday through Thursday.

One of the new specials for this year will be Joe Jones' Country Show on Sunday from 5:00 to 6:00. Others include Greg Rose with a Rock-n-Roll special on Wednesday night from 10:30 to 12:00 and Erin Ubanks with a disco show from 7:30 to 9:00 on Sunday.

The station has acquired a new solid state transmitter that will now signal 10 watts. Others specials will be album hours and record give aways.

Staff members are: Station Manager-Craig Bock; Program Manager-Charlie Maxwell; News Director-Peggy Gaspers; PSA Director-Will Johnson and Secretary-Andrea Bell.

Records and Admissions, there are approximately 77 more part-time students on campus than last year.

Official college enrollments will be released at the October 7 meeting of the West Virginia Board of Regents.

Alcohol Group To Be Formed

There will be a new program started on campus concerning problems with alcohol. This group will be founded by alcoholics who know what alcohol does to a person and how it effects lifestyles.

This program will be open to the public, students and faculty. The first meeting will be held at the Wesley Foundation, Sept. 30, 7-8:30 p.m. There will be no charge or obligations.

The first meeting will be a discussion session, and the following meetings will consist of the educational aspects of alcohol, speakers, films, etc. The alcoholic knows how to drink, and the main point of this group is how to stay sober.

There is a great need to this program. Many people start an alcohol career in college and this is an unfortunate circumstance. "Thursday night" may be fun, but alcohol is a progressive disease. The first step is to admit to alcoholism, which is nothing to be ashamed of!

If you feel you have a drinking problem, or even "suspect" a possible problem, this group will welcome you. POSITIVELY CONFIDENTIAL.

For more information, call Dorcus Conrad, 462-7849.

Day Care Opened

The West Virginia Department of Welfare offers a Day Care Enrichment Program for children of parents who are working or students or both.

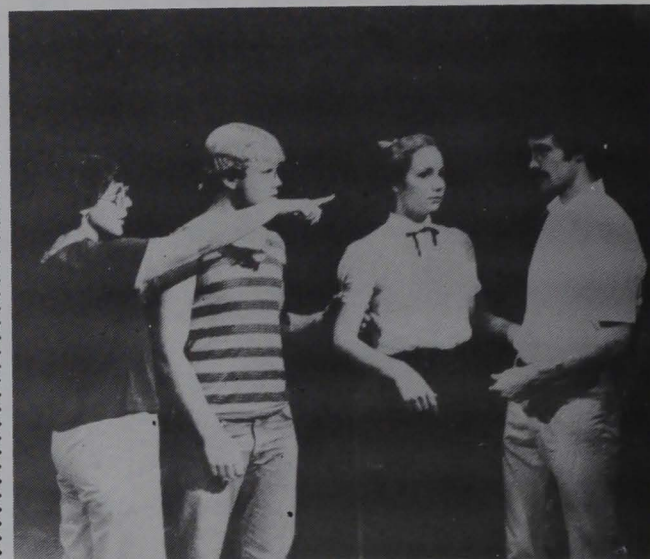

The final decision concerning parents' eligibility is based on total income. For example, a family of three is allowed a monthly income of up to $853.99 before a fee is required and an income of up to $932.00 monthly before they would be financially ineligible. The rates are adjusted according to family size.

The Department of Welfare is working toward having trained providers for families who need Day Care in Gilmer County. Mandatory training is required of all providers in a four phase program that includes first aid, health, nutrition, and early childhood development.

For more information on eligibility, call Paul Westbrook at the Gilmer County Welfare Department-462-7371.

Fairmont Trims Pioneers 24-17

Somewhere in the state of West Virginia there is a football forecast-er eating his words. And somewhere in the state of West Virginia there is a football team that has a lot of respect for the Glenville State College Pioneers.

"Ole Swami," the football fore-caster for the Parkersburg News, predicted the Fairmont Falcons would "wipe out" the Pioneers 50-0 in what he termed the "easiest game of the week to predict."

But GSC had other plans as they put a scare into Fairmont's heart. With the support of 3,000 fans the Pioneers fell short to the Falcons 24-17 in a seesaw type game.

Glenville drew first blood in the contest when Roy Nurkka recovered a fumble on Fairmont's 44 yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, Brad Batten took a pitchout and raced 44 yards for the score. Reno Gandee added the extra point and with 4:38 left in the opening period, GSC held a 7-0 lead.

Fairmont came right back and put seven of their own on the score-board when Ron Keith ran 6 yards and John Hofsteter kicked the PAT. Later in the first half, Hofsteter booted a 42 yard field goal to put Fairmont ahead 10-7 at the inter-mission.

Glenville came storming out of the locker room to start the second half by receiving the kick-off and driving it to the Falcon 20 yard line where Gandee hit on a 36 yard field goal to knot the score at 10-10.

But Fairmont came back again to score on the first play after the kick-off. Clifford Wright found a hole and scampered 69 yards to give the Falcons a 16-10 lead.

With almost eight minutes remaining in the third period, Glen-ville put on a show that entirely delighted the crowd at hand. Dave Boggess took the pigskin and headed down the sideline with teammate Reno Gandee as his blocking escort. Boggess followed Gandee 47 yards for Glenville's second touchdown of the night. wright writes

The page you are staring at is the sports page. I am the sports editor. And since I am the sports editor it is my responsibility to somehow entice the reader to read the sports page faithfully every week.

After pondering diligently for days I came up with several possible ways to catch the reader's attention. However, this newspaper has a certain code of ethics that I must keep in mind. So by the process of elimination I ended up with one choice. Thus, as of September 26, 1980, and for as long as I am sports editor of the Mercury, a sports column known as "Wright Writes" will be printed on the sports page for the reader's entertainment.

A sports column can have many advantages. For example, you might disagree with what I have to say on a certain subject. You can sharpen your skills at English 101-102 by writing me a "nice letter," politely stating why you don't agree with me. (Please use simple profanity).

Another advantage is that a sports column will keep the reader informed. I will do my utmost to bring you the "story of the week." Or, if you are curious about something concerning GSC sports, let me know and I will attempt to gather some info on it. You may have a question about recruiting or maybe you would like to ask a coach a question. Just get in touch with me, Jim Wright, at the Mercury office and I will take it from there. Watch for "Wright Writes" in next week's issue of the Mercury!

Volleyball Team Opens Season

The women's volleyball team of Glenville State College will begin their 1980 campaign next Friday and Saturday when they will take part in the Concord Invitational Tournament.

The Lady Pioneers, under the direction of Kay Chico, will be out to better their record of 7-13 of a year ago.

Leading the way will be senior Linda Collins who begins her fourth year on the Pioneer volleyball squad. The only other senior on the team is Becky Gilchrist, a two year regular. Other players are Donita Cox, Leza Groves, Marilyn Linger, Pam Linger, Jackie Mackle, Judy Niday, Lisa Pleasant, Marion Richards, Della Seaman and Shelly Tharp.

The Concord Invitational will prove to be very competitive for the Lady Pioneers with three out of state schools and four conference schools participating. The teams are: Mars Hill (NC), Emory and Henry (VA), Milligan (TN), Alderson-Broadus, Wheeling, Concord, Salem and Glenville.

"This tournament is a good one to start with," Chico stated. "There is a lot of good competition in these schools."

When asked to comment on the outlook of the season, Chico replied that "We hope we can do as well or better than last year. The University of Charleston was the conference champ last year. They will be the team to beat again this year."

Chico emphasized the difference between "competitive and intramural" volleyball. "You just have to see a college volleyball match to witness the excitement."

The women have a full schedule this year, but only two matches are home. Let's give Coach Chico and the Lady Pioneers all the support we can throughout their season!

The Ornamental Horticulture Club will be sponsoring a "plant sale" this weekend. The plants are to be sold this Friday, Sept. 26 from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., and Saturday from 12 p.m. to 4 p.m. in front of the Forestry Building on Mineral Road. The sale will consist mainly of landscape (outside) plants with a few house plants. Some of the plants to be sold will be: arbourtae, barberry, Japanese holley, forsythia, Chinese chestnuts, walnuts, etc. The price range is $.50 and up.

Cross Country Places Third

The GSC Pioneer cross country team finished an impressive third place in the team standings last weekend in their own invitational meet. For their effort, the squad received a beautiful trophy. Also, four individual runners from GSC received plaques for placing in the top fifteen overall.

The second annual GSC Invitational race, which started at 11:00 a.m. under humid, sunny conditions, was won by Dan Quinn of Frostburg University of Maryland. He covered the hilly 6.1 mile course in 32:30. In the team competition, Otterbein College of Ohio captured the top honors with a low score of 39 points.

For Glenville, which had a team score of 79 points, sophomore Asenso Kuffuor was again the first finisher. He covered the course in 34:45 to claim 11th position. Billy Belcher, also a sophomore, was 12th in the race with a time of 34:58. GSC's third man was freshman Larry Taylor. He clocked in at 35:03 for 13th place. Two behind Taylor was junior captain P. K. Coon, who placed 15th in 35:08. Those four ran tremendous races and received plaques for placing in the top 15.

Sophomore Pat Godfrey was GSC's fifth man. He placed 28th in 37:43. Freshman Steve Roberts finished 33rd with a time of 38:03. Four Pioneer runners couldn't finish the race. They were June Casto, Chris Keister, Steve Keenan and Mike Holcomb.

Coach Jim Hilgenberg was very pleased with his team's performance in the meet. He stated, "The caliber of competition was great. Our third place finish indicated a real strong performance."

Another point of the meet upon which Hilgenberg remarked was the organization of the meet. He praised, "The cooperation of the athletic department, golf course committee, student volunteers, and the cross country team was very positive. We received many compliments on the meet as a whole."

The GSC Harriers were scheduled to compete tomorrow at the Malone, Ohio Invitational, but injuries depleted the team's number to the point that it was impossible. As Coach Hilgenberg put it, "Our only problem is that we've had a rash of bad luck. There is an old adage that says 'injuries are a part of the game.' I think we've had more than our share!"

The Pioneers' next competition will be at the Rockefeller Invitational at West Virginia Wesleyan on Friday, October 3.

All rosters for men's intramural volleyball must be in by today!

Please turn them in to Coach Nottingham in the Health Building.

added the point after touchdown and Glenville held a 17-16 lead.

But Fairmont added another touchdown late in the third period, and the two point conversion was good. This gave the Falcons a 24-17 lead which they held on to.

Glenville led in every department but the score, though, as they totalled 286 yards to Fairmont's 246 and 16 first downs to 15.

Brad Batten led the rushing attack with 134 yards on 22 carries. Dave Bogges also had a fine night as he rushed for 82 yards on 16 carries.

Sophomore Andy Marchal proved effective on defense as he was credited with 5 tackles and three quarterback sacks.

Glenville hosts W. Va. State this Saturday at 1:30 in the homecoming game. State is coming off a 20-14 win over Salem last week.

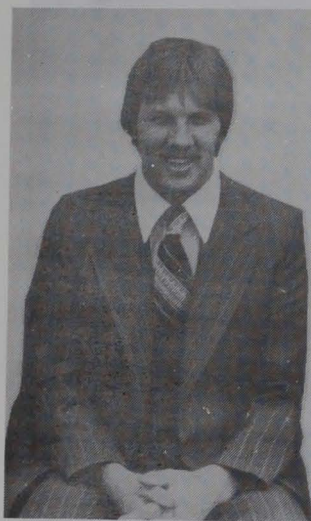

State returns nine of their starters from last year's offensive squad. Running back Anthony Weaver rushed for over 700 yards last season in only eight games. Another standout is guard Bryce Casto who has twice been named to the all-conference team.

Returning from the defensive side are seven of their starters from last year's 6-4 team. Standouts include All-Conference middle guard Warren Breckenridge and linebacker Milton Spradley who had 93 tackles and 13 quarterback sacks last year.

Crislip to Receive Montrose Award

Joe Crislip will receive the Montrose Award during the pre-game activities of the Homecoming game tomorrow with West Virginia State.

Crislip is honored because of his excellence on the golf course and in the classroom during his time at Glenville State College.

He was a regular on the GSC golf team under Coach Tim Carney for three years. Twice he was selected as an all-conference selection and twice he appeared in National tournaments. His first one was at Huntsville, Texas and his second one was at Greensboro, North Carolina.

He was a three-sport athlete at Parkersburg South High School where he graduated from in 1976. He was an all-state quarterback in football as well as a starter in basketball in addition to participating in golf.

He joins his brother Terry as a Montrose Award winner. Terry won the award in 1977 for golf also.

He graduated from Glenville State College last spring with a degree in Business Education.

President William Simmons will present the award to Crislip prior to the game tomorrow.

The award is named after Frank Montrose, a former athlete at GSC.

Cross Country Coach Featured

This column will be a weekly devoted to a relatively new sport at GSC, cross country. In each issue of the paper one or two members of the cross country team will be featured, so you can be more aware of who they are. The coach of the squad, Dr. James Hilgenberg, Jr., will be the first feature.

Cross country has been in existence here for four years, and Hilgenberg has been the head man all four years.

Hilgenberg, a native of Colorado, graduated from a suburban Denver high school. He then went on to Baker University, a small, private college in Kansas, where he graduated with a B.A. in History. A year later he received his Master's Degree in American History from the University of South Dakota. After teaching two years in a Tennessee college, Hilgenberg came to GSC in 1969. He gained his Ph.D. in Japanese History from WVU in May, 1978.

The initial cross country team which competed at Glenville was fielded in 1977. It was more of a club, as no one was recruited. Coach Hilgenberg has worked hard at no salary to bring that team, which finished last in the conference, to one that has participated in a national championship. Hilgenberg has recruited a team which is deep in talent this year and is shooting for the conference championship, which would be a first for Hilgenberg.

Rich Wynn Is State Karate Champion

Rich Wynn, a senior business major at Glenville State College, has captured the 1980-81 State Karate Championship in the White Belt Kata division.

The Championships were held last Saturday at Cross Lanes. Four GSC karate students and the instructor attended the competition. Bill King, the instructor, took Wynn, Bill Szabo, Tim Carter, and Jeff Rosselot.

The Kata division is one of two classes of competition. In this class the athlete performs a fighting situation. His score is based on power, technique, breathing, and balance. Three black-belts are the judges of the competition. The scoring is similar to the scoring of swimming competitions. After the performance the judges hold up score cards stating the participant's score. An average is taken for the final score. Wynn finished first ahead of about forty participants.

The other division, sparring, was not so fortunate to the GSC five. None of the five placed in the division.

For his efforts, Rich's name will appear in Karate Illustrated, the national magazine for Karate experts.

This is Wynn's first year in Karate competition. Bill King is his instructor at GSC. King is a second-degree black belt. He has a private karate school in Weston and teaches a class at GSC every Tuesday and Thursday at 6:30 p.m. King will continue to teach a class at GSC each semester.

King is a state champion himself as he won the sparring division last year.

"I'm really honored to have won the Kata Championship," Wynn stated, "but I don't think enough credit goes to my instructor. I have a lot of respect for Mr. King. He's a great man."

Wynn went on to say that "I wish more people would show interest in his karate program. I know they won't regret it."

Rosselot and Carter were competing in their first tournament and Szabo in his second. They finished respectively for the little tournament experience they had. All in all it was a good day for the karate participants from GSC.

Class Offered

A basketball officiating class is being offered at GSC during the fall semester. The course instructor is Bob Hardman, and the National Federation Rules which govern high school basketball in West Virginia will be taught.

An organizational meeting for the class will be held from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Tuesday, October 7, in Room 308 of the Science Hall. Six additional meetings will be held; the dates will be determined by group consensus at the first meeting. In addition to course work, approximately twenty hours of practicum will be arranged for each participant.

The class is sanctioned by the West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission, and is required for high school basketball officials. Completion of the requirements for the course will enable participants to be registered basketball officials. Registration deadline for 1980 is February 1, 1981.

To anyone who does not wish to become a registered official, a certificate will be issued upon the completion of the course requirements (practicum optional).

Fee for this Continuing Education Activity is $38; this includes the cost of instruction as well as course materials. For additional information or to enroll in the course, call 462-7361, Ext. 118.
