Room Requirements Outlined

The procedure for acquiring room reservations at Glenville State College for the academic year 1981-1982 is as follows:

Students currently enrolled are given until December 19, 1980 to guarantee themselves a space in the residence halls for next fall semester beginning August 20, 1981. Room assignments are made in order of receipt of application. (Please note that this reservation fee is for next fall and no additional $25.00 deposit is needed for the second semester of this academic year!) Summer session, however, does require an additional $25.00 room deposit.

A twenty-five ($25.00) dollar reservation fee must accompany the formal application for room reservation. These requests for space during the month of November and December will be made at the separate residence hall offices. The fee will be deposited by the residence hall director with the Business Office and receipts returned to students making application.

After January 12, 1981 reservations are open to new students and space shall be allocated in the order of receipt of request in the Office of Student Affairs.

If it becomes necessary for you to cancel your reservation, please notify the BUSINESS MANAGER, GLENVILLE STATE COLLEGE. Such cancellation or failure to enroll for the period for which the reservation is made will result in forfeiture of the entire reservation fee to the college. However, the fee of $25.00 will be refunded about three weeks after the end of the college year to those students who complete their housing contract, less any charges for damage to the room, loss of room key, and any other indebtedness having been incurred or owed Glenville State College.

In accordance with West Virginia Board of Regents policy, all full-time freshmen who have not taken the ACT examination will not be permitted to register for the Spring 1981 semester. This test will be given during registration week for those who need it.

Choir To Perform

The GSC Choir will perform at its annual Christmas Concert on Sunday, Dec. 7 at 8 p.m. Some of the selections will include, "Christmas Trilogy," "Silent Night," "Sweet Baby, Sleep," "Bring a Torch, Jeanette Isabella," "He Is Born," "What is this Lovely Fragrance" and "The First Noel."

The Choir will travel to Clarksburg on Tuesday, Dec. 9 to tape a concert to be aired on WBOY.

Glamour Girl Contest Slated

Glenville State College students are invited to participate in Glamour Magazine's 1981 Top Ten College Women Competition. Young women from colleges and universities throughout the country will compete in Glamour's search for ten outstanding students. A panel of Glamour editors will select the winners on the basis of their solid records of achievement in academic studies and/or in extracurricular activities on campus or in the community.

The 1981 Top Ten Women will be featured in Glamour's August College Issue. During May, June or July, the ten winners will be invited to New York to meet the staff of Glamour and will receive a $500 cash prize.

Anyone who is interested in entering the search should contact Nasia Pavlidies, Director of Public Relations and Alumni Affairs, for more information. The deadline for submitting an entry is Dec. 8.

Parrish Wins Contest

Vicki Lynn Parrish is the 1980 winner of the DZ pledges "Baby Beautiful" contest. Vicki takes away the coveted golden pacifier from the 1979 reigning baby - Ann Woody.

The junior business major, from Parkersburg, W.Va. was sponsored by the sisters of Delta Zeta. This is the second beauty contest won by Vicki.

the first being Miss GSC of 1979.

The DZ pledge's president, Traci Carter, termed the contest "a lot of fun, and a big success!" She would like to thank "all" that contributed and the other running contestants: Jamie Copenhaver, Elaine Harvey, and Randy Anderson.

Congratulations Vicki!

Olsen Tribute Held

A celebration at the Trinity United Methodist Church was held November 16, in honor of Bertha Olsen's 50th year of service in the Glenville Community. Approximately two hundred of Miss Olsen's friends were on hand to visit with her and to pay tribute to her forty-two years of teaching at GSC.

The highlight of the afternoon was the establishing of a scholarship for music majors in Miss Olsen's name. The scholarship will be available to incoming freshmen. A solid academic grade point average is a requirement, but the scholarship will be based on musical talent. High school seniors will have to audition for the scholarship and one freshman will be selected by the faculty.

Miss Olsen serves as organist at the Trinity United Methodist Church and the Presbyterian Church. Miss Olsen is also responsible for the tunes drifting across campus each Tuesday and Thursday.

Who Cares...

Thanksgiving is over and of course everyone is a few pounds heavier to prove it. Everyone must have followed the saying of 'when choosing between two evils, I always like to try the one I've never tried before' and chose the evil of eating instead of the evil you had not tried before (of course, most of you have very few so-called evils that you have not tried).

Naturally, some of you may think this editorial is directed only to you but 'just because you're paranoid doesn't mean everyone isn't out to get you' as the saying goes. From the editor's point of view, the words of 'it's not that you and I are so clever, but that others are such idiots' may or may not apply.

For some, the saying of 'who knows, who cares, why bother' becomes their creed! as can be seen by the feelings of apathy that are prevalent on campus. Others seem simply to live by the saying of 'I don't know, I don't care, and it doesn't make any difference.' Although to some, this editorial may sound like a knock down, drag out sermon, it was meant to tickle your funny bone (of course, some of you may not be able to find it through the after-holiday poundage.)

Okay, okay! Enough fat jokes. You, the reader, must realize that after a holiday everyone is a little bit overstuffed (we simply will not say with what). On that note, the pen and the mind are running out of ink so until next time, remember that 'if you can't dazzle 'em with brilliance, baffle 'em with bull.'

speaking out

Contrary to popular belief, the Glenville Mercury does make mistakes and naturally we try to rectify these oversights. When these mistakes are made it usually deals with a communication problem or a mechanical problem. It is not easy to put out a six page paper when both IBM typesetters are broken, when people bring in news at four o'clock and expect it to be printed perfectly with no questions asked, and when we have only 5 reporters to cover the whole campus. Like any other job, the more time you have to work with the material, the better the finished product. Therefore, the criticism heaped upon our heads may or may not be justifiable. The unjustifiable criticism does more harm than good.

If you have a criticism, please go about it pleasantly and do not roast some member of the staff in your anger. When we get a story wrong, forget to sign a review, or make some other mistake, please take into mind the above conditions before you judge and condemn.

Please bear with us and our mistakes because we do try to put out 100 percent at all times. Again, we are sorry for any mistakes we make.

Becky Triplett, Editor in Chief

Class schedules for the Spring 1981 semester are currently available and may be obtained from the Registrar's Office in the Administration Building. Pre-registration will be held during the two week period beginning December 1 and ending December 12, 1980.

A special meeting of the Phi Beta Lambda was held on Wednesday, the 19th of November.

We were honored during this meeting, by the Secretary of State, A. James Manchin, who presented the organization with a state flag.

In turn, the organization presented Mr. Manchin with a certificate designating him as an honorary member of Phi Beta Lambda. A buffet dinner was served in the ballroom following the meeting.

Today is the day to turn in your Kit and Kaboodle packs and orders to Lois Miller or Heather Hickman in the Division of Business.

The winner of the twenty-pound turkey and the basket of cheer will be announced next week.

The next regularly scheduled meeting will be on Dec. 11 at 6:00 in the Verona Maple Room. A Christmas reception will follow the meeting.

ORDER OF DIANA

New officers were elected at the last Order of Diana meeting held on Nov. 11. They are as follows: president-Cathy Stout; vice-president-Kim Gaylord; secretary - Michele Bruce; treasurer-Susan Edwards; and press reporter-Beth Buck.

The next meeting is scheduled for Dec. 2 and is mandatory.

We hope everyone enjoyed the Thanksgiving break.

ΣΣΣ

Hello everyone and welcome back to dear old GSC! We hope you all had happy (and restful) Thanksgiving breaks and are ready to buckle down as the term winds down to its close.

The sisters of the Delta Alpha Chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority held a ceremonial meeting on Monday, Nov. 17 in the Vandalia Room of the Pioneer Center. The main order of business for the meeting was the election of new officers for the 1981 school year. Officers elected were President - Debbie Godfrey; Vice-president - Lois Alexander; Secretary - Timmie Lilly; Treasurer - Cheryl Keenan; Membership/Rush - Lisa Smith; and Education Director - Kelly Ford. Also, acting as Assistant Secretary - Jennie Spencer; Assistant Treasurer-Elaine Harvey; Assistant Membership/Rush-Vicki Collins; and Public Relations Chairman - Cindy Hemingway. Installation of officers will be on December 1 with the new officers taking over on December 8. We would like to extend our deepest appreciation to the outgoing officers (President - Cheryl Cline; Vice-president-Terre Smith; Secretary-Timmie Lilly; Treasurer-Linda Collins; Membership/Rush-Lisa Smith; and Education Director-Della Seaman) for all their love, support, and guidance over the past year.

Everyone is reminded of our Christmas Boutique that is going on this week outside the Old Cafeteria.

Sisters Becky Bennett and Kim Bickel share the Stinker of the Week Award for their performances Thursday night before break. The Sister of the Week Award is shared by Sisters Becky Carr, Vickie Collins, and Debbie Godfrey for helping Sister Becky Bennett through her rough times.

LaMancha Tryouts Scheduled

Tryouts for the musical Man of La Mancha will begin Monday, Dec. 8 at 6:30 in the auditorium. Tryouts will last Monday through Thursday each night at 6:30. You are welcome to one or all nights of tryouts.

Persons trying out may prepare any musical selection or contact Mr. Edward McKown in the music department. He has copies of music from the show which can be borrowed for a short period of time.

The show calls for a cast of 16-20 actor-singers. There is a fairly even distribution of men and women. Everyone must sing—not professionally—but try.

The show will go into rehearsal on January 15 and be produced March 5, 6, and 7. La Mancha will be directed by Mrs. Linda McKown. Musical direction will be accomplished by Mr. Edward McKown. Everyone is welcome.

It's Still Latin To Me

"You just wear me out." "Yeh, I had a big time test today." "That class is just TOO MUCH for me." "They make a perfect couple together, a space cadet and an airhead." Confused? Probably not if you are a student at Glenville State College, where language like this occurs all the time. Translated, those sentences said, (1) "You tire me out." (2) "Yes, I had an important test today." (3) "That class is absolutely outrageous." (4) "They are the perfect couple, a guy really into drugs and a girl with nothing between her ears." College students have a language all their own and where it comes from nobody knows. Ya know?

A typical conversation between two GSC students on a Thursday afternoon would consist of this: (A) "I'm gonna foot it down to the bag store for some brew, do some heavy nerding out and then go scoping at the Pub." (B) "Well you'd better tighten up your backstroke before stepping out of this nunnery. I'm going to be stepping out of this nunnery and get faced to the max tonight." Now really, wouldn't it have been easier to say (A) "I'm going to walk down to the ABC store and purchase some liquor, do some heavy studying and then check out the occurrences at the local beer joint." (B) "Well you had better get your act together before leaving the dormitory. I, myself, plan to consume mass quantities of alcohol and be very drunk tonight." It might make more sense but it wouldn't be more fun.

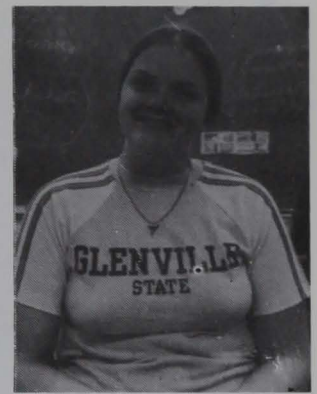

It seems that each week there are different phrases that catch hold of the students. Last year it was "Go for it," now we have "snaking," "crashing," "TOO MUCH" the "munchies" (not to be out done by pigging out), "hockey pucks" (cafeteria steak patties), and the ever popular "sucking face." The only possible reason for this type language is the extreme pressure put on the students that forces them into this state of gab.

And now since we are all back from Thanksgiving Break let's all get faced and get into some heavy commode-hugging (throwing-up). More terms for those lizards who spent TOO MUCH time studying: computer head - engineering or computer science major; emotional flash - a brief love affair; spraying - throwing up; nerding out - studying; and lizards - a very studious person.

Flaky means the same as an airhead, and a wimp is a person who is extremely studious. Gatoring and a dying cockroach is a thing or person lying on their back wiggling their arms. (This is usually done by a Turkey or a person from the Northern Panhandle.) If someone calls you a Ted, beware because this is the same as a Turkey. For the drug addicts who do not wish to be caught are the slang terms of ludes (quaaludes) and doob (joint). Fun is pointless and great is useless. Those of us with guts have easy classes, and the rest of the students must spend gross amounts of time in the libes (library).

This information was accumulated from U.P.S. and various overheard conversations at GSC.

Barbara Reip

Barbara Reip Elected State MENC Officer

At the recent state Music Educators National Conference meeting, held at Jackson's Mill, GSC student Barbara Reip was elected as State Vice President. She will serve with two students from West Virginia University as the executive council for MENC. Her duties will include helping to organize two state conventions, and drawing each individual college MENC chapter closer together.

While in high school at Calhoun Co., Barb was active in band, jazz band, percussion ensemble, choir, FHA, and was listed in Who's Who among American High School Students. Here at Glenville she is active in band, both marching and concert, choir, and has served as Reporter for MENC for two years.

Barb will be installed as V. Pres. at the upcoming spring convention, to be held March 26-28, at West Virginia University.

Julian Appointed As Librarian

Charles A. (Chuck) Julian, formerly Media Librarian at Glenville State College, has been appointed to the position of Reference Librarian effective November 1. According to Dr. David M. Gillespie, Library Director, Julian has been employed at the Robert F. Kidd Library since January 1980. Prior to that time he served briefly as cataloger at Parkersburg Community College.

Having received his A. B. in 1975 from Glenville, Julian also holds the degrees of Master of Arts in Information Studies (Social Science) from the University of Sheffield (1978) and Master of Library Science from George Peabody College for Teachers (1979).

He is a member of Beta Phi Mu, the national library science honorary fraternity, has served the past year as Chairman of the WV Indexing and Publications Committee, and is a frequent contributor to West Virginia Libraries. Other professional affiliations include the Tri-State Chapter of the Association of Research Libraries and the South-eastern Library Association.

Additional duties at Glenville include instruction in the library science program, supervisory responsibilities for the selective documents depository, circulation duties, and other library-related activities.

Julian currently serves as a board member for the Gilmer Public Library in the capacity of secretary, is a member of the Glenville Rotary Club, and a member of the Trinity United Methodist Church.

He replaces Mary Ellen Kennedy who successfully completed her doctoral work and joined the graduate faculty in the School of Library Science at Ball State University, Muncie, Indiana.

Winner of the Sigma Sigma Sigma spirit chain contest was the Duma Phi Duma organization.

Football for 1980 at Glenville State College is a thing of the past. At least for everyone but the football players it's a thing of the past. Now we turn our attention to the "indoor" sport, that fast-moving, action-packed activity known as basketball.

Basketball is an experience all in itself at GSC. During my high school years at a small, modest high school in Roane County, I never experienced exciting basketball. Sure, my high school team would win several games but we never had the school spirit that it takes to make a basketball game exciting.

Then I came to Glenville. The school spirit was there at the football games but it was vague. It's hard to produce school spirit when 95% of the body goes home for the weekends. But in November everything changed, I walked into the Health Building to watch Glenville play their first home basketball game of the season. I had no sooner gotten into the building than I heard the noise upstairs. And as I walked into the gym I witnessed true Glenville School Spirit. The place was utterly packed! And being a freshman from a small high school in Roane County, I didn't know what to think. They even had male cheerleaders! Everyone was going around waving pieces of cloth that I soon learned to be "bad bandannas." This was the type of basketball that I longed to witness.

You don't have an excuse in basketball season. Both men's and women's basketball games are almost always played on the weekdays, and you can't go home on weekdays! I know a lot of you don't study at all so you can't use that for an excuse. Why not break down and become a part of GSC spirit? When you come to a game, why not sit in the student section? That balcony area is for the high school students and members of the community. Your place is across the floor in the bleachers behind the GSC cheerleaders.

It's not a necessity, but a "bad bandanna" would come in mighty handy. A "bad bandanna" is a blue piece of cloth much like the "Terrible Towels" of the Pittsburgh Steelers. (They probably copied the idea from us). Some people call them handkerchiefs, but here at GSC they are "bad bandannas" and they are second only to your voice in expressing that you are a true-blue Pioneer fan.

Basketball Season is upon us, so let's help the Pioneers through another successful season. Get those "bad bandannas" warmed up for our next home game which is tonight as the GSC men take on the West Virginia State Yellow Jackets!

Spikers Place Fifth in Tourney

On Nov. 14 and 15 the GSC Women's volleyball squad ended its season by competing in the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Association tournament held at Wheeling. Six teams—Wheeling, West Liberty, Marshall, Alderson-Broadus, Fairmont and Glenville—participated in the tournament. The Lady Pioneers placed fifth in the six-team field.

GSC was pitted against A-B in their first match. A-B captured the first game by a 15-6 score. Glenville came back to win the next contest 15-12 to gain a split of the match, since only two games were played in each match. Donita Cox led GSC's scoring in the first game with three points. Linda Collins, Shelly Tharp and Leza Groves added one apiece. In the win over A-B, Collins was the big scorer, collecting ten points. Cox added two, and Jackie Makle, Della Seaman and Tharp each scored one.

The Lady Pioneers' next opponent was a strong West Liberty squad. WL posted victories of 15-0 and 15-4 over the GSC team. In the 15-4 game, four Glenville players, Tharp, Makle, Seaman and Groves, scored one point apiece.

Fairmont State College was GSC's third opponent in the WVIAA tournament. The Fairmont women swept the Lady Pioneer spikers. The scores were 15-8 and 15-3. Cox scored three points, Collins and Seaman two each, and Makle one for the GSC team in the initial game. Tharp scored two and Makle one for Glenville in the second game.

The fourth opponent for GSC, and the eventual tournament champions, were the Marshall University women. Marshall made short work of Glenville, outpointing them 15-1 in both games. Seaman scored the point in the first game, and Makle tallied the lone point of the second MU contest.

The tourney host, Wheeling College, provided the Lady Pioneers' next opposition. GSC was again swept in both games, by scores of 15-5 and 15-6. For GSC in the first game, Collins scored three, and Tharp and Cox tallied one each. Tharp, with three points, led the second game scoring. Collins added two and Seaman one.

Glenville's final opponent in the tourney was Fairmont, a team which had already beaten them once. The winner of the match would take fifth place, while the loser had to settle for sixth. The Lady Pioneers were not to be denied in this match. They salvaged fifth place by defeating Fairmont by margins of 15-7 and 15-4. Tharp's six points paced the first GSC triumph over Fairmont. Seaman chipped in four, Collins three, and Cox and Makle one each. Seven points by Cox led in the second contest. Tharp, Makle and Seaman had two apiece, and Collins and Groves one each.

Senior captain Linda Collins had a good tournament for GSC. Collins, the only four-year regular that Lady Pioneer coach Kay Chico has ever had, was her team's leading scorer over the course of the two-day tourney with 22 points. Shelly Tharp, in her first extensive action of the season, and Donita Cox both supported the team with 17 points. Della Seaman added twelve, Jackie Makle eight, and Leza Groves three. Becky Gilchrist, the team's only other senior besides Collins, played in her last match, although she didn't score.

Collins, the team's leading scorer during the season, said, "Our team, which had a lot of talent, played a lot of hard teams, and we knew we could play with these teams. A lot of spirit was shown at the tournament, and we played well. It was a good experience. You could see the improvement on the part of each of the players during the tourney."

Taylor Runs in Nationals

Although he is just a freshman, Larry Taylor has already made his mark on the West Virginia Conference cross country scene. Several weeks ago, at the WVC meet at Clendenin, Taylor ran away from about 60 other starters to post a convincing 28:15 victory over the five-mile Sandy Brae course, beating his nearest competition by 47 seconds. For his fine achievement, the GSC runner was awarded All-Conference honors as "Runner of the Year." He also advanced to NAIA national Competition at Salina, Kansas.

While in Kansas, Larry represented GSC well. Running against the finest small college runners in the nation, Taylor placed 126th overall in a field of nearly 400 runners. His time for the relatively flat five-mile Salina course was 26:17, as compared to the winning time of a little under 25 minutes. Taylor's average time per mile was 5:15.

For Taylor, who was the first WVC finisher at the nationals, running at the NAIA meet capped a great season for him. Hopefully, Larry, as well as the whole GSC team, will be able to qualify next year. Congratulations, Larry!

Pioneers End Season 1-8-1

Glenville State's Pioneer football team ended its 1980 season on a losing note last Saturday with a 10-0 loss to West Virginia Tech.

Tech led 3-0 at halftime with a field goal in the second quarter. They scored their touchdown in the fourth period.

Rain hampered the day as neither team could get their offenses going on the wet field. Glenville totaled 341 net yards, while Tech was one stripe back at 340 yards. Tech outdid the Pioneers in first downs by a 19-15 count. GSC lost two fumbles and Tech lost five.

David Boggess, out last week due to an injury, was Glenville's leading ground-gainer with 122 yards on 29 carries. Boggess ended the season with 555 yards on 135 carries for a 4.1 average. Brad Batten ran for 72 yards on 17 carries in the game. He finished the season with 581 yards on 145 carries, good for a 4.0 average. Fullback Grady Lamb totaled 50 yards against Tech. He ran for 480 yards on 124 carries for a 3.9 average.

Quarterback Eddie Huffman completed 6 of 18 passes against Tech. Steve Williams caught three of these passes for 64 yards. Huffman ended the season with 605 yards passing. He completed 48 passes in 150 attempts and had 13 intercepted. His main receiver was Steve Gandee with 14 catches for 266 yards.

Steve Williams, who led the conference in punting up to press time, punted for a 32.0 average in the game. He finished the season with a 36.8 average.

Defensively against Tech, the Pioneers were led by Lewis Hill and Terry Gandee who each had six tackles and two assists. Hill also had a fumble recovery and a quarterback sack. Gandee intercepted a pass for the Pioneers. Chuckie Taylor, Scott Taylor, John Adkins, and Danny Amick all had fumble recoveries also while Amick also intercepted a pass.

The loss ended Glenville's season and gave them a final 1-8-1 record.

Netters Lose Two

In their last match before the WVIAA conference tournament, the Glenville State College Women's Volleyball Team participated in a triangular involving themselves, Marshall University and the University of Charleston. Glenville played Marshall in their first match and UC in their second.

Marshall swept the GSC spikers by scores of 15-3, 15-0 in their match. Scoring for the Lady Pioneers in the 15-3 game were Linda Collins, Donita Cox and Leza Groves, each with one point.

GSC had to go against WVC opponent UC in the next match. In the initial contest, UC didn't allow Glenville a point by beating them 15-0. The second game between the two was completely different. Although UC captured the game, it was by a much closer score of 16-14 in the hard-fought game. For the Lady Pioneers, Donita Cox led in scoring with seven points, Marilyn Linger added four, Linda Collins two and Leza Groves one.

Dr. Jekyll Reviewed

By Betty Wells

Could you have a split personality? In the play "Seeking Dr. Jekyll" presented by The Chamber Repertory Theatre Nov. 17, the split personality was presented.

The company travels from place to place performing plays. These people are professionals and this is shown in their performance.

The character of Dr. Jekyll/Mr. Hyde was portrayed by Roy MacArthur. MacArthur had to be both characters, which meant two personalities, different appearances, and actions had to be presented. Roy MacArthur excelled in both roles.

Brad Cottrell, as the narrator of the play, had to have persuasive voice contact. His voice was magnetic, and he easily held the audience's attention.

Jeffrey Watkins and James Bodge finish out the cast. Each individual had portrayed their characters in a style which kept the audience rapt.

The dominant female role was Mrs. Poole, portrayed by Cora Hook. Cora brought her character to life and kept the audience on the edge of their seats throughout the show.

Susan Christiansen was responsible for bringing the Chamber Repertory Theatre to Glenville. Susan played the role of the beggar, and helped to make the show a success.

Dr. Jekyll and fellow cast members hypnotize the audience with the unfolding events of "Seeking Dr. Jekyll."

Vandalism Series Begun

By Carron Smith

Glenville State College ranked second per one thousand students in vandalism. The vandalism consists of petty thievery to the slashing of automobile tires. Dean A. T. Billips of the Student Affairs office is concerned over the matter.

Not only is the vandalism costly but it is also very immature. When people come to college they are treated like adults and are expected to behave in that manner. Dean Billips realizes that coming to school, for many students, is the first time they have been without parental supervision. However, there are better ways to test your wings than slashing tires and trashing the resident assistants' cars.

These actions are just as illegal as they are immature. Yet, do people realize that not reporting an act of vandalism is just as illegal. The "code of the hills," an unwritten but rigidly followed law, states that friends and neighbors should not "squeal" on one another. Any why should students living in the dorm squeal on one another? Dean Billips stresses that the bottom line is to be involved. If the students get involved, less stress and financial problems will be the answer.

Next week, the Mercury will discuss more of the vandalism problem and possible solutions.

Have a problem with the academic program on campus? If so, students are asked to contact the Steering Committee, consisting of Shirley Williams and Timmie Lilly. The North Central Evaluation Committee will be meeting with these people to discuss these problems.

Eleven Win Scholarship

Through the Alma J. Arbuckle Scholarship Fund at the Robert F. Kidd Library eleven GSC students, majoring in School Library-Media, and one instructor will be provided with a one-year subscription to the Library Journal.

T.V. Wasteland

As you switch or punch your TV dial to new stations, you come across a sample of life in these wacky United States. Many times, the only way you can survive a night of "star gazing" is to switch, unless of course, you are one of those viewers who live for commercials (do not laugh, right at this moment the Tidy Bowl man is probably in your bathroom bowl).

You have your educational shows like "PBS", "Sixty-minutes", "20-20", "Captain Kangaroo", (etc.), and then you have your entertaining shows like "Mork", "WKRP", "The Tim Conway Show" and channel five news. The in-between shows include movies and specials.

The networks have gone a long way to please the mundane viewer by coming up with all kinds of extras (catch the next showing of Body Human and see if that does not knock your socks off). The geniuses of leading companies have come up with nifty little gizmos to brighten up those six hours you are glued to the set each day. They have come up with games that destroy the set and a recording machine that makes sure you do not miss your favorite shows (if the average wife wanted her weekends ransomed from the football games, the video recorder is the answer).

This all goes to prove that you can catch a campaign debate on one channel and see a person on another channel telling you to touch your television set, that he feels a miracle coming (some of you may say that this might be on the same show, but I assure you it is not).

I seriously believe that the network could get away with a half hour slot of blank screen with the message of, "Due to the apathy of TV viewers we, the network, will show a film dealing with a mature subject theme entitled 'The Blank Generation,'" running across it.

I know some of you readers may wonder why should you read this bit of nonsense, but you must tune in next week for the exciting conclusion to this thrilling article.
