Number 20

Glenville State College, Glenville, West Virginia

Friday, February 20, 1981

Science Class Planned

The Science 321 Class (Science for Elementary Teachers) will present two series of science activities: one series for a group of elementary students currently enrolled in grades 3-4 and another series for students currently enrolled in grades 5-6. Each series will consist of six meetings to be held during February and March.

All students will meet from 6:15 to 8:45 p.m. in the Science Hall on the following Tuesdays: Feb. 24, March 3, 30, 37, 24, and 31. The 3rd and 4th grade students will assemble in Room 107; their topic is "Rock Formations." The major thrust will be to relate rocks and rock strata to geologic formations particularly as evidenced in West Virginia. All sessions will be activity based. The 5th and 6th grade students will report to Room 200; their activity-based sessions will pertain to environmental conditions and the effects that these conditions have on animal behavior.

Every interested student in grades 3-4 or 5-6 is invited to apply for participation in these programs. However, only the first fifteen names submitted for each of the two series of activities will be accepted. There is no charge for participation. Those interested must pre-register by contacting the Glenville State College Office of Continuing Education, phone 462-7361, ext. 118.

Mercury To Be Evaluated

Have you asked yourself "Am I doing my job the way it should be done?" Have you had the desire to improve, to correct "minor imperfections" but lacked the proper guidance and counseling? The Mercury Staff has continued to take steps in this direction to improve the quality of the paper that you are holding in your hands this very moment.

As a member of the Associated Collegiate Press, the Glenville Mercury submits semester publications of the Mercury to the National Scholastic Press Association for professional journalistic criticisms and judgment for grading. The last grading for the Mercury was 2nd place among many college and university news publications.

Judging is based on several factors: the school enrollment, number of publications and frequency, and the percentage of work done by advisors and students. Criticism is especially helpful in areas of copywriting, proofreading, headline writing, make-up, typesetting and presswork.

Constructive criticism is always beneficial to journalism. The staff of the Glenville Mercury intends to implement the "helpful hints" that may be forthcoming.

Jeff McMahon

Set Designer Profiled

By Raeleen McMillion

Jeff McMahon, a special designer, was on campus for two weeks to design and construct the set for the up-coming musical "Man of La Mancha." Jeff has been working as a union stagehand since he was 19 years old. (He is now 29.) He received his Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in acting and directing from WVU in 1973 and completed a BS degree in business administration and management there last year. Currently from Morgantown, Jeff was on loan to GSC as an artist in residence. Jeff has done much interesting work as a stagehand, carpenter, electrician, and designer for such famous companies as Holiday on Ice, Pittsburgh Ballet Theatre, Wagon Wheel Playhouse in Indiana, and the Actor's Guild in Parkersburg where he worked with Ed and Linda McKown. Jeff said that "Man of La Mancha" must make show number 201 that he has worked with. He has also done technical work for touring rock groups such as Michael Stanley Band, Jethro Tull, and Molly Hatchet. The stage in the GSC theatre has been metamorphosed to a prison of sixteenth century Spain since February 1st when he arrived. I feel privileged to have witnessed such a talent at work, and although work in the theatre is at its most hectic, these two weeks went very smoothly.

Nominations are currently being taken for the 1981-82 Glenville State College Pioneer. The Pioneer elections will be held April 6 and 7 in the lobby of the Pioneer Center.

The Sigma pledges are sponsoring a "Mr. Pretty-Legs" contest, featuring the GSC Basketball team. The penny-a-vote contest will be held in the Student Union from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday and Tuesday and in the dorms from 5 to 9 p.m.

All new Student Congress members are to meet in the Student Congress room, Tuesday, Feb. 24 at 12:20 for a picture.

La Mancha Presented

One of Broadway's longest-running musicals, "Man of La Mancha" will be presented at Glenville State College. A sixteenth century Spanish based musical suggested by the life and works of Miguel de Cervantes y Saavedra, "Man of La Mancha" led all other productions in prize awards at the end of the first Broadway season.

The action begins with Cervantes and his servant entering a prison in Seville, where Cervantes is to await trial by the Inquisition for an offense against the Church. The thieves and trollops who surround him try to take away his possessions, including the manuscript of "Don Quixote," but Cervantes persuades a kangaroo court set up by his fellow prisoners to permit him to offer as his defense a dramatization of his manuscript. During the first musical number, Cervantes puts on make-up to resemble Don Quixote. His servant becomes Sancho Panza, and the other prisoners assume supporting roles.

At the start of the story of the eccentric knight whose aim is to restore chivalry, Quixote and Panza come to a roadside inn, which Quixote tells Panza is a castle. There he meets Aldonza, a servant girl and strumpet. When he insists upon calling her Dulcinea, the ideal lady of quality whom he would worship, the confused Aldonza cannot understand why Quixote does not see her as she really is.

After scenes where Quixote's niece and housekeeper asks the padre for help in dealing with Quixote's madness, the padre realizes that they are less interested in Quixote's welfare than in stopping him from causing further embarrassment.

At the inn, Quixote, waiting to be dubbed a knight, sees a barber wearing his shaving basin as a helmet and snatches it from the barber. He defends Aldonza against the attack of the muleteers and the innkeeper then knights the Quixote.

The doctor and padre then devise a new plan in an attempt to restore Quixote's sanity. Disguised as the Knight of Mirrors, the doctor challenges Quixote and forces him to look into the mirror of reality where he sees himself as an old, demented man. The doctor then takes Quixote back, defeated and dying. He collapses and dies trying to get out of bed to put on his armour for another quest. Quixote's death has changed Aldonza, for she now calls herself Dulcinea as though she has become the ideal woman of Quixote's dream.

Cervantes is back in the dungeon with the prisoners who have returned his manuscript and now he leaves to face his Inquisitors.

Glenville's production is directed by Linda McKown, head of theatre. Edward McKown is musical director, and the set for the musical was designed and constructed by Jeffrey McMahon of Morgantown.

Robey Godfrey (Sancho Panza) and Gary Wooten (Anselmo) rehearse their roles in "Man of La Mancha."

SC Representatives Listed

Elections for the 1981-82 Student Congress officers and representatives were held Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 16 and 17. The results for the officers were: Dena Dunlap-President; Ann Woody-Vice President; Secretary-Vicki Parrish; Treasurer-Tina Helmick; and Parliamentarian-Jamie Copenhaver.

Senior Representative was chosen as Rhonda Anderson, Junior Rep. Carron Smith; and Sophomore Rep. Lou Ann Petit. Senators-at-large are Scott Bennett, Donna Birdette. Jeff Davis, Annetta Haddox, Dave Husk, and David Jarvis. Profiles of the new Congress members will be in next week's Mercury, as well as a picture.

The GSC sponsored nursery school, directed by Erma Jean Woofter, celebrated Valentine's Day with a party and refreshments.

SNEA Speaker Planned

SNEA will be meeting Feb. 24, Tuesday, at 4:00 in Room 101 of Clark Hall. Mr. John Wolfe will be the guest speaker. Topics to be discussed will include current concerns of the teaching and education field, with primary emphasis on current legislation involving education. Anyone interested in attending is more than welcome. Education majors are specifically urged to attend since the topics to be discussed are relevant concerns and will affect you directly.

IS ALL THE EFFORT WORTH IT?

Charity Events Need Support

The West Virginia Heart Association jump rope benefit and MD Week will be held in the near future, and to make these charitable programs a success, students must participate. These volunteering students give their time, their energy, and they show they care by signing up to jump rope for hours, to dance for twenty-four hours, to swallow goldfish, or whatever it takes.

Of course, the glory goes to the program, the money raised is unconsciously added into the national total at the end, and the many who participated become unknown heroes. It takes a special kind of person to sacrifice for others who cannot. We, the student body of GSC, should congratulate and offer support to these unselfish individuals.

For years these organizations have counted upon this show of support, so when the time comes, do not drag your feet because a lot of underprivileged will benefit.

WV Legislature Program Offered For GSC Women

Women's Day at the Legislature, co-sponsored by the West Virginia Women's Commission and 24 state women's organizations, is planned for March 3, 1981. The annual program will have such highlights as workshops on the legislative process, domestic violence, lobbying, probate and displaced homemakers; tours of the Capitol; visits to legislative committees and a reception at the Governor's mansion.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. in the Cultural Center at a cost of $4 and will include lunch, if desired. Child care is available through pre-registration. Barbara Posey, of St. Albans, heads the planning committee. Further information can be obtained by writing: West Virginia Women's Commission, WB-9 Capitol Complex, Charleston, WV 25305.

Congratulations to Big Bros, Victor Whitt and Scott Taylor, and our DZ sister, Mary Grose, for being great cheerleaders and giving great support to GSC.

Awards this week: Active of the week-Deena Warner; Pig Pen-Brenda, Clean Room Award goes to the chapter room.

ΘΞ

Theta Xi will again be sponsoring the Muscular Dystrophy dribble to Charleston. Anyone wanting to pledge a donation is asked to contact Larry Greathouse at 462-9917 or Inez Skidmore in Pickens Hall. We hope that if you cannot make the tournaments, you will at least sponsor the dribble.

We would like to thank the ladies that have pledged to become Theta Girls: Pat Lewis, Sally Hyer, Arnie Headley, Brenda Lee Reynolds, Becky Hamric, and Shelley Cogar.

A special thanks goes out to all the people that attended our party Thursday night. And if there is anyone wanting to see John Kocher, you will have to make an appointment.

ΩΔ

A meeting of the Order of Diana was held in the Student Union. Yearbook pictures were taken during this meeting. Little brothers were chosen, so guys, get prepared for some surprises when you get clues next week as to whom your big sis is! O.D. bids were discussed and possible girls' names were given. Anyone who would like a bid should get in touch with an O.D. or a TKE.

There will be a meeting at 4:30 in the union on the 19th. Fund raising will be discussed at this time.

Congratulations to the future parents - Cathy & Kevin Stout.

LADIES

The Ladies held a short meeting Feb. 18 at 5:30.

The reception for the new associates of Lambda Chi Alpha on Feb. 18, was quite successful, and again we would like to congratulate all of them.

A reception for the new Ladies and other interested girls is planned for Feb. 25, at 6:00 in Scott Wing Lounge.

The Ladies will also be helping the brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha sell tickets for their Spaghetti Dinner which will be held Thurs., Feb. 26. Anyone interested in purchasing tickets for the dinner can contact either a member of Lambda Chi Alpha or Ladies of the White Rose.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 25 at 5:30, just before the reception. Ladies are reminded to bring their dues with them at that time.

We would also greatly appreciate the return of the tap that was stolen at the Valentines Dance.

ΣΣΣ

The Delta Alpha Chapter of Sigma Sigma held the regular grub meeting on Monday in the third floor Scott Wing lounge.

Big Sis-Little Sis ceremony was held Wednesday, February 11 for the 1981 Spring pledges. Big Sis-Little Sis combinations are as follows: Ann Bailey-Cindy Vance; Becky Bennett - Tina Barnett; Linda Collins - Carron Smith; Michele Gallourakis - Peggy Walton; Angel Goddard - Beth White; Debbie Godfrey - Kay Barnett; Elaine Harvey - Debbie Moore; Cindy Hummingway Jennifer Morton; Maureen Hite - Cathy Stout; Cheryl Keenan - Arnie Headley; Timmie Lilly - Liz Carpenter; Melissa Simpson - Beth Carpenter; Lisa Smith - Betty Wells; and Terre Smith - Mary Ann Triplett.

We would also like to welcome a new member to our Spring pledge class. Diane Sharps was pinned on Wednesday night, February 18. Congratulations Diane!

We'd like to thank everyone who came to our Rush Party before the game Wednesday night. It really got us psyched up for the Salem game.

Stinkers of the Week are pledges Betts, More-or-less, and Crip for their celebration last week-end. Sisters of the Week are our sisters who left to student teach: Cheryl Cline, Linda Collins, and Mary Hughes. We miss you girls! Good luck! All sisters are reminded to meet Sunday to collect for the Heart Fund between 1:00-5:00.

Good luck to the girls and guys in basketball action this week. Also, congratulations to the bowling team for a fantastic performance so far.

ΦΒΑ

A bake sale for Phi Beta Lambda was held yesterday in the lobby of the Pioneer Center from 10:30-1:00. Thanks to those who baked the goodies. If you did not participate for any reason, you are required to contribute $2.00 to the cause. No excuses will be accepted.

The attendance committee of Smokey Harris, Dottie Miller, Becky Coberly and Jeff Borah held its meeting on Wednesday in the Division of Business with Mrs. Echard and Mr. Hinter. Details of the meeting will be discussed in next week's meeting.

Yes, there is a meeting next week, Feb. 26 at 6:00 p.m. in room 101 AB. Come and find out what the attendance committee has proposed so you know what is required of you to stay a member of this fine nationally recognized business organization.

Applications for the state conference contests are still being accepted until the second week in March. Applications can be picked up in the offices of Mr. Smith, Mrs. Echard, and Mr. Hinter depending on the contest you wish to enter.

The Phi Beta Lambda yearbook picture will be taken next week during our regularly scheduled meeting.

TKE

Tau Kappa Epsilon has three new pledges for the Spring semester. They are Steve Marsh, Greg Floyd, and Richard Wickline.

The Jump Rope for Heart day is Tuesday, March 3rd and all TKE's are urged to participate. For further information, contact Mark Barnhart.

We would like to thank everyone who participated in the pool tournament. Congratulations go to Rick Kinder for placing 3rd in the under water for distance race in the swimming intramurals Tuesday night.

We would like to wish the Pioneers good luck in the tournament in Charleston.

ΛΧΑ

The brothers of Lambda Chi are sponsoring a Spaghetti Dinner Feb. 26, 1981 in the ballroom from 4:00-7:00 p.m. The price is $2.50 for adults and $1.75 for children. Everyone is invited for a good meal and a good time.

Believe it or not, Glenville State College has defeated Ohio State, Penn State, Pitt, West Virginia University, Maryland, Duquesne University, Marshall University, Robert Morris, and George Washington University, all this season!

No, it isn't a joke. No, it isn't basketball, it isn't even a speech tournament. All of the above schools have fallen victim to the Glenville State College Bowling team! In a season that is best known for basketball, it is easy to forget the less glamorous sport of bowling.

The GSC bowling squad is under the direction of Coach Garry Kight and has been since 1977. Kight took over the reins the year after the Pioneers won the NAIA bowling crown and they have been contenders ever since. They won the small-college nationals that year but now the NAIA has done away with the small-college competition and Glenville State College has had to play with the big boys. That's exactly what they've done this year—they've played with them.

In a tournament at College Park, Maryland last week, Glenville won first place over 20 universities. Included was fourth place Penn State, who was ranked number two in the entire nation. GSC knocked down 97 more pins than the Nittany Lions did! How's that for a small college in central West Virginia?

Because of their victory in the competition at College Park, the Pioneers will get to vie for the national championship in April. This will not be against small colleges, but large universities.

Coach Kight has confidence in his team. He proudly states, "This is the best team that's ever competed in bowling at Glenville State College."

At last Glenville State College has a chance to play with the big boys in the country, and the bowlers of Coach Garry Kight have answered that challenge well. I think they deserve more recognition than they have received so far. Glenville State College should be more than proud of the achievements of such athletes as Dave Frazier, Greg Martin, Keith Hite, Jerry Kurjian, Dave Lamm, Jeff Stanley, and last but not least, Coach Garry Kight.

Let's get behind the bowling team as they make their way through post-season play and into the nationals, where at the end of the lane lies a national championship!

All organizations and departments are urged to make appointments to have their group photo taken as soon as possible. For an appointment, please call Carron Smith at the Mercury office.

All women interested in Track and Field should meet Wednesday, March 4, at 12:00 in room 209 of the Health Building.

Lambda Chi Hosts Wrestling Tourney

It's time to start cutting pounds, working out, and starving again because wrestling is alive and well on the Glenville State College campus.

Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity is sponsoring a wrestling tournament for students of GSC during the week of March 9-13. You need not be experienced in the sport; all interested men are invited to take part in the competition.

Weight classes are 112, 118, 126, 134, 142, 150, 155, 167, 177, 190, 220, and super heavyweight. Weigh-ins will be held March 3-4 at 3:00-5:00 in the infirmary.

Entry fee is three dollars and first place awards will be presented in each class.

Bowling Team Wins Championship

The Glenville State College Bowling team continued their scorching success on the lanes as they swept the Region IV Association of College Union-International Bowling competition (ACU-I) which was held last weekend in College Park, Maryland.

GSC had a total pinfall of 8,059 to defeat second place finisher West Virginia University who toppled 7,997. Duquesne University took third with 7,995.

High roller for Glenville was Dave Frasier with a 186 average and a 201 high game for nine games. Greg Martin had a 186 average for eight games and a 263 high game.

Keith Hite had a 178 average with 212 high game in nine games. Jerry Kurjian bowled 177 average-wise and a 190 high game in nine games. Dave Lamm bowled nine games and averaged 171 with a high of 192. Jeff Stanley bowled one game for 146.

This victory automatically qualifies Glenville State to compete in one of twelve sectional roll-off tournaments to qualify for the nationals.

On Saturday, the GSC bowlers travel to Bristol, Tennessee, to compete against the University of Tennessee for the Mid-South Bowling Conference Championship title.

Lilly Wins Game Number 250 As GSC Drops Davis & Elkins

Jesse Lilly received a double gift from his team Monday night at Elkins. Glenville State handed Lilly his 250th victory as the Pioneer mentor and at the same time won a big upset over Davis and Elkins College, the third ranked team in the West Virginia Conference, by a score of 74-65.

Don Bullett had his biggest night of the season as he scorched the nets for 40 points. His previous high was 35 points against St. Vincent College in January. Teammate Randy Anderson was the only other Pioneer in double figures with 10 points. Rounding out the scoring was Scott Ludwig (9), Paul Wills (7), John Irwin (6), and Mike Forbes (2).

D & E attempted to foul the Pioneers to get the ball back, but GSC foiled that strategy by hitting 11 of their last 12 free throws.

Glenville shot 28 of 54 for 51.8% from the floor and the senators shot 26 of 46, good for 56.4%.

Both teams pulled down 24 rebounds on the night with Bullett and Wills sharing the top spot for GSC with nine each.

The win gave Glenville a 9-9 record in the conference, and 13-11 overall.

GSC-FAIRMONT

Earlier, on Thursday, the G-men travelled to Fairmont to take on the top ranked Falcons. Fairmont showed Glenville what it's like to be number one as they bombarded the Pioneers 65-57.

GSC was once again paced by Bullett who scored a game-high 28 tallies. Irwin and Ludwig added eight each, while Forbes chucked in nine. Anderson and Wills finished the scoring off with two points each.

Glenville shot 40.0% (36 of 65) from the floor, as Fairmont shot 58.7% (26 of 46). Fairmont edged Glenville in rebounds by a 32-30 margin.

Lady-Pioneers Fall in 'Battle of the Best'

The Glenville State College Lady Pioneer basketball team played two games last week, one at home and one on the road. Both games were against conference foes. The Lady Pioneers won over Fairmont, but they lost to the league-leading University of Charleston for their first loss against a conference team this season.

GSC had a tough time of it when they travelled to Fairmont for a game on Feb. 12. The Glenville gals soundly defeated the Fairmont women, 95-57, earlier in the year, but the game was much closer this time around. Fairmont, led by the scoring of Vicki Huffman, held a slim 35-34 lead at halftime. Glenville, however, used a 46-40 advantage in the second twenty minutes of play to record a well-deserved 80-75 victory, improving its record to 15-1. The Lady Pioneers, who were outshot 50 percent to 42.8 percent from the field, were paced by sophomore Pam Minigh's 25 points and 11 rebounds. Junior Pam Linger supported GSC's win with 15 markers and seven caroms. Freshman Bunny Taylor added 14 points and seven rebounds, and senior Mary Zangari put in 13 points. Also helping in Glenville's win were freshman Sonja Bailey with seven points and five steals, sophomore Judy Niday with four points and two rebounds, and senior Kim Bickel with two points and seven rebounds.

The Lady Pioneers' last home game of the season proved to be a spoiler. The top two teams in the conference were showcased in this contest. The University of Charleston women were number one in the most recent WVC rankings, while GSC held down the second spot. Both squads were unbeaten in conference play heading into the game.

Glenville, backed by vocal support from a very large crowd, took the game's first lead on a jumper by Bunny Taylor at the 19:17 mark. GSC also held leads of 3-2, 5-4 and 7-4 before UC reeled off five straight points, including three fast break layups, to take a 14-7 lead. The Lady Pioneers fought back to within 14-12 and stayed just about even with the much taller UC squad the rest of the first half, which ended with the visitors ahead by a 29-25 margin.

GSC fought an uphill battle almost the entire second half. After an exchange of two-pointers put the score at 31-27, UC used its strength inside to tally 12 unanswered points and 20 of the next 26 for a commanding 51-33 bulge with 11:50 left to play. The Lady Pioneers, behind Mary Zangari and Pam Linger, mounted a rally which brought them within ten points at 56-46 with 8:15 to play, but UC halted the rally with six straight points. Glenville could get no closer than 11 points the rest of the way and when the buzzer sounded found themselves on the short end of a 74-58 count.

GSC, which fell to 15-2 overall and 14-1 in the conference, had a very poor shooting night. The girls hit on only 21 of 90 shots from the field for 23.3 percent. UC was 36 of 78 for 46.2 percent. UC also had a decisive edge in rebounds, 72-56.

Pam Linger, working hard for every shot, led GSC with 21 points. She also had 13 rebounds and three steals. Bunny Taylor added 15 points and a team-high 15 rebounds. The team's two seniors, Mary Zangari and Kim Bickel, played in their last home game. Zangari put in nine points and six rebounds, and Bickel was credited with five points and six rebounds. Pam Minigh added eight points and ten caroms.

A Feb. 23 contest at West Virginia Wesleyan is the Lady Pioneer's final regular season outing. Then, on Feb. 26-28, the all-important WVIAA tourney will be held at Charleston to determine the district 28 winner. Glenville and UC are among the teams that will participate. We at GSC wish Coach Tim Carney and his team the best of luck in the tournament.
