Charles "Chick" Zakarian

Zakarian Receives Award

Charles "Chick" Zakarian will be honored May 2 as the recipient of the Glenville State College Alumni Service Award.

The initiator of the Maryland-Virginia GSC Alumni Chapter, Zakarian was born and raised in Pawtucket, RI, and following graduation from high school, he served in World War II, being in one of the first troops to occupy Japan. After his discharge from the Army, and after working various jobs, Zakarian applied to several colleges with the aid of his guidance counselor. Zakarian always said that GSC was the first to reply so he chose it to attend—a decision he has said many times was the best he ever made.

While at GSC, Chick was a member of Kappa Sigma Kappa, Omicron Kappa Epsilon, Alpha Psi Omega, head cheerleader, and business manager of the Mercury. He graduated in 1954 with a degree in physical education and social studies. His first teaching position was in Green Bank High School under principal Virgil B. Harris.

Chick later moved to Queen Anne's County, Md., to teach physical education and coach at Stevensville High School. In 1957, he completed his M.A. degree at Columbia University, New York. He then became principal of Stevensville High School in 1962.

In 1965, he became a supervisor in the Central Office and is presently Director of Supporting Services for Queen Anne's County Board of Education, Centreville, Md.

Chick is married to the former Bonel Poling of Mt. Zion, Calhoun County. They have three children - Paul, attending West Chester State College in Pa., and Craig and Dawn, both attending Shepherd College.

Resignations Presented

The following resignations have been sent to the President's office: Mr. Wayne Ervin, Mr. Joseph Wiseman and Assistant Dean Vaughn.

Wayne Ervin is an instructor of computer science. He graduated from Glenville State College with a Bachelor of Science degree in Chemistry. While at Glenville, Wayne was a member of Chi Beta Phi, choir and on an FAO committee.

As an instructor, he advised the Computer Club. Mr. Ervin has accepted a job in Buckhannon at the Core Heart Factory, a division of Corning Glass.

The second resignation was sent by Mr. Joseph Wiseman. Mr. Wiseman has been at Glenville for 12 years. He received his B.S. in math from D.C. Teachers College and M.A. from WVU in Administration.

Mr. Wiseman is a member of WVEA-NEA.

The final resignation is the Assistant Dean of Academic Affairs, John Vaughn. Dean Vaughn has been with Glenville for two years.

Dean Vaughn graduated from WVU with a B.A. in Social Work and obtained his Master's in Higher Education Administration. Dean Vaughn is involved in the GSC Week production, Panhellenic Council and Pickens Hall activities.

Dean Vaughn is married to Jo Rae who is presently a student at WVU. Dean Vaughn plans to attend law school in San Francisco.

Alumnus of the Year
Denzil E. Skinner

Skinner Named Alumnus Of Year

Denzil E. Skinner will be honored as the 1981 Alumnus of the Year on Alumni Day, May 2, at Glenville State College.

Mr. Skinner is a native of Norman-town and a 1954 graduate of GSC. After graduation, he taught for two years in a one-room Gilmer County school and subsequently became a school principal in Webster County.

His career in public facility management began as general manager of the Charleston Civic Center and Auditorium following his service as field director of the Boy Scouts of America. Skinner moved from Charleston to the position of Director of the Department of Promotion and Public Facilities in Norfolk, Virginia later as a managing partner of the Market Square Arena in Indianapolis, Indiana.

In 1977, Skinner accepted a position from the Hyatt Management Corporation as president of the world's largest enclosed public facility, the Louisiana Superdome in New Orleans. With the same company in 1981 he is chairman of the board of operators of the Baltimore Civic and Convention Center and Bureau and the Nassau County Memorial Coliseum, Nassau, N.Y.

Skinner also serves as president of Facility Management Groups (FMG), a conglomerate of nine companies whose value is in the hundreds of millions of dollars. Their operation of public assembly facilities gives the conglomerate an annual gross of 30 million. With all this, Skinner is still the president of the Superdome.

The FMG is a family business with Skinner's son David, serving as President of the New York/Maryland operation and son-in-law, Mike Noah, serving as Corporate Vice President.

Skinner is also a member of the Louisiana Legislative Council, Board of Directors of the 1984 World Fair and Billboard Publication. He is formerly the national chairman of facilities planning of International Association of Auditorium Managers and has served as a consultant on other arena projects.

Skinner and his wife, the former Maxine Wilmouth of Normantown, reside in Leesburg, Va. Skinner's mother, Mrs. C. O. Skinner, resides in Glenville.

Affairs Committee Profiled

Several weeks ago the Mercury planned to publish articles stating the duties of all standing committees within the FAO.

The Cultural Affairs Committee shall be comprised of six faculty members and five students. Their duties are:

Alumni Return For Banquet

Welcome back to the old stomping grounds, Alumni. Hopefully, the GSC campus has changed for the better because in the last couple of years, some much-needed changes have been made. For example, the old Verona Mapel building was torn down and a parking lot was put in its place. The landscape of the campus has been beautified with shrubs and flowers. New faces in the administration, faculty and staff have been added, but never fear, we are still known as the "friendly campus" and the new faces make it a point to speak.

As you stroll along the campus, take your time and enjoy while you reminisce. The activities that have been prepared for you will help somewhat and meandering through the buildings and talking to people will also help. If you become restless, you may want to travel out to the new Pioneer Stadium for the State Conference Track Meet and take in the action there.

Hopefully, the memories and the new impressions will all be happy ones. College life is, or ought to be, a happy and a productive time in life, and as you return, all these recollections will come back. May they all be happy.

Readers Submit Letters

Yes, it's that time again -- notices have been sent to your parents by the Panhellenic Council imploring your mom and dad to purchase a CARE package for their little one at college during finals week. Frankly, I'm surprised that they have nerve enough to try it again this semester. Last semester, the letter led the reader to believe that the Panhellenic Council made no profit from the packages. Supposedly, all the items together cost around $3.00. Certificates were given that gave $2.00 off on merchandise purchased in the bookstore, but these were given only after several people complained about the contents of the bags and were not mentioned in the letters to the parents.

This is what was found in last semester's $5.00 CARE package: one apple (some received oranges), two cookies, one flat pepperoni roll, one small bag of potato chips, one pack of bubble gum, one pencil and one felt-tipped pen in a brown paper lunch bag. All of these things could have been bought in quantity for less than their retail value and at least the pepperoni rolls and cookies were provided by campus food services.

Will I receive a CARE package this semester? No, because my parents and I were very distressed with the last one, and our confidence in them will probably never be restored.

Sincerely,

Past receiver of CARE package

I am writing concerning the tennis team or better yet the coach. Just to be sure that everyone knows what a coach is I will give you the definition. A coach is "to train intensively by instruction, demonstration, and practice." It has been brought to my attention that the tennis coach has not been doing his job both by observing him and from some of the players. I do hope the other sports here at Glenville aren't being as neglected. I am sure he is a good coach for other sports but he is neglecting his tennis team. I feel that since he is being paid to be a tennis coach he should do so. Here are a few ideas of what he is doing and getting away with. He is not coaching the team at practice because he is hardly ever there and when he is the coach just stays a few minutes. He asks other players how the line up should be since he does not know how the players play and he leaves during the actual matches. He never demonstrates his skill of tennis. Going by the definition the coach is not performing his coaching job. In order for a coach to instruct and demonstrate he must have a knowledge of the sport. In the case of the tennis team the coach shows little knowledge of the sport. I thought this should be brought to everybody's attention since we the students are helping pay for his job. Come on lets get concerned after all the coach and the team are setting an example for our school.

Letter TO To Editor

With the awards ceremony on Thursday, April 23, another MD Week has been deemed a big success. A check in the amount of over $2400 was presented to Doris Keith, Program Coordinator for MD from Charleston. Collections on IOU's this year is about 80% and there has been some money turned in since the ceremony which will be sent to Charleston and raise our total for the year. All students, staff and faculty as well as area residents are to be saluted for their support of this year's effort.

There are a few persons who during such events bear the brunt of the work load and this year is no exception. Many students were given a chance to participate in a variety of events due to the efforts of these volunteers and I want to thank all of those persons who devoted their time and energy towards that end. I especially want to recognize Jeanine Bell for her excellent work on the accounting committee and assistance in the week long series of events plus her leadership in planning and organizing the activities for MD 81. There were many other persons involved and at the risk of leaving someone out, a special thanks should go to Parry Pierce, Angel Baker, Carole Norton, Marcy Arnold, Kathy West, Lisa Lucas, Della Seaman, Ruby Tenney, Kay Galford, Sheila Moran, Nancy Foster, Jami Riggs, Dave Thomas, Jim Rogers, Kate Reed, Lorrie Price, Debbie Myers, Addie Holcomb, Brenda McCutcheon, and Pip Luikart. Again, this year we got excellent cooperation from Joe Drahnak and Silas Hicks and Don Phillips and the staff of WGSC. This type of an event works because a handful of people put it together and are able to offer the college community something of interest and at the same time make a contribution to a worthy cause.

I salute the volunteers, the participants and all those persons who in some way supported the events by their participation and or their donations. I apologize for anyone whom I have not recognized but I hope to see as much spirit and hard work next year at MD 82 and hope you as students and college staff and faculty will continue to support this type of activity for our campus.

Fall Pre-registration Planned

STOP! LOOK! READ! Pre-registration for the Fall Term 1981 begins Monday, May 4 and ends Friday, May 8.

Check the schedule, see your advisor, and register.

Commuting students should not miss this pre-registration opportunity. There's a difference in time and effort if you live 50 yards from your classroom as compared to commuters that drive 80 to 100 miles daily.

Don't take the chance. Why spend those dark winter mornings on the road to school for an 8 a.m. class and then travel the same road under the same conditions after your afternoon class.

Sign up next week and select a course routine that benefits your daily routine.

"GSC Week" mugs for 1981 are on sale in the Office of Student Affairs for $1.00. Last year's mugs are on sale in the Bookstore for $2.00.

Anyone wishing to purchase a "GSC Week" frisbee may do so in the Office of Student Affairs for $1.00.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Nichols on the birth of their daughter, Erin Elizabeth.

Trillium Is Ready

The 1981 edition of Trillium, Glenville State College's literary magazine, will appear soon after May 1. The publication will be free to all Glenville students, faculty, and staff.

This year's Trillium, the second to appear, will be 52 pages, 25% larger than last year's edition. The magazine will feature stories, poems, and artwork by sixteen Glenville students. Co-editors of the publication are Mary Hughes and Dolly Woodell. Scott Wigal and Mark Gue are responsible for art direction. The cover design is by Bill Pitzer.

According to Mrs. Martha Keating, sponsor of the Trillium, the publication received more good material than it could use and is saving some for next year. Members of English 412, Narration and Description, have been especially active in producing the magazine. Several of the class members have stories appearing. Members of the Mercury have also contributed time and materials.

"Special thanks should go to Jim Wright and Michele Bruce for layout work and to Carron Smith, Kay Peters, and Becky Triplett for typing," Mrs. Keating said. "Garry Kight of the GSC printing office has also been very helpful."

Trillium will be distributed at various points on campus and can also be picked up at the English Department Office.

Speleologist Course Completed

The members of the Glenville State College cave biology course traveled to the historic Sinks of Gandy in Randolph County on Saturday, April 25th. The Sinks of Gandy Creek is one of the oldest known caves in the region. Gandy Creek flows along a subterranean channel for about 3000 feet through a spur on the south side of Yokum Knob one-half mile west of Osceola. The south entrance is in a low ledge of limestone in the north end of a large depressed meadow.

After exploring the Sinks of Gandy, the caving team hiked to Stillhouse Cave located nearby. Stillhouse Cave is famous in Randolph County history for its utilization as a moonshine factory. The moonshining activities here were found and destroyed in 1881. Stillhouse, also known as Hermits Cave due to a 6 year residence by a New York man, contains large rooms readily applicable to the white lightning trade.

The Glenville cavers discovered the entrance to Stillhouse Cave at the base of a local trash dump. The cavern has a variety of interesting formations and passageways.

Caver Martha Rose Hickman was the team leader in the study of bats. Jeff Sperry, Rick Ray, and Peggy Beckelheimer are to be commended for their efforts in establishing the GSC base camp on Spruce Knob Friday night.

This field activity was the last in a series of cave explorations for the cave biology students. Other excursions this semester have allowed the cavers the opportunity to explore a variety of West Virginia caverns including the Bowden Cave system, Smokehole Caverns, Seneca Caverns, and Stratosphere Balloon Cave.

In addition to the planned field activities, the cave biologists have used micro-computers in their cave studies. The Apple II micro-computer system has been available to each student throughout the semester and has assisted the student in preparation for periodic quizzes and examinations.

Jim Meads, Cave Biology instructor, would like to thank all those who have assisted in making this semester's speleology course successful.

3. Arrange and supervise a program of campus-initiated cultural activities for presentation off-campus.

Glenville State College, as we all know, is a relatively small institution of higher learning. Naturally, the purse strings cannot extend beyond the length of student activity fees. Under-booked? Definitely not. Their efforts and accomplishments have been, at least, equal to the funds available.

Several weeks ago the campus was graced by the performance of an outstanding pianist. Following his performance, a large portion of

Children's Play Reviewed

Slipping in between classes when I found time, I was delighted with the Spring Children's Show, "The Emperor's New Clothes."

Though the story has been told and retold since our childhoods, the new 'twist' to the play makes its theme ever new. (No doubt others were trying to imagine before the final scenes just how Mrs. McKown could possibly stage the scene where the king appears sans clothes.) This, however, as were all scenes, was done with tact!

Some new faces appeared on stage this production, and I daresay we'll see more of these (especially 'Patches') in the next three years! Kent Woofter made an excellent emperor in his exquisite royal garb, and his tailors were particularly adept at their rhymed verses and comical antics. Dan DePugh doesn't look too good in a gown, but his stage actions were quite fitting to his role. The children on stage were very credible, complete with Paige's curls. Craig Worl looked his part -- a magnificent, tall guard, though somewhat confused! And Shroud -- the play would not have been complete without the dungeon-keeper in his ghastly attire! 'Lady Yesmum' was convincing in her coquettish manner as was the Empress Velveteen in her blind loyalty. All in all, it was quite well done and enjoyed by more than the crowds of children who invaded the auditorium.

Costuming was extremely appropriate and the stage was realistic for the occasion. No bad points, actually -- just appreciation to all those who worked so hard -- crews, cast, director and volunteers! Theatre 1980-81 ends on a positive note!

Summer Scheduled Published

Once again the summer schedule has been published.

Unless mutated termites eat all the masonry structures on campus, or mudslides take GSC down hill to Little Kanawha River, summer session begins with registration on June 22, and classes on June 23.

Why are high school students more privileged in Glenville than college students when it comes down to using the athletic facilities? I'm referring especially to the use of the golf course and the way that it is run.

I joined a few of my friends at the golf course Tuesday evening to hit a few golf balls. When we arrived at about seven o'clock (more or less) the clubhouse was closed. There was still about two hours of daylight left and the person in charge must have decided to leave the course to do other things.

One of my companions was a GSC student that could play on the course whenever he wished because he was given permission. The others and myself would have to pay the $3.00 fee to play, which we would have done. But there was no one there to take our money. What were we to do?

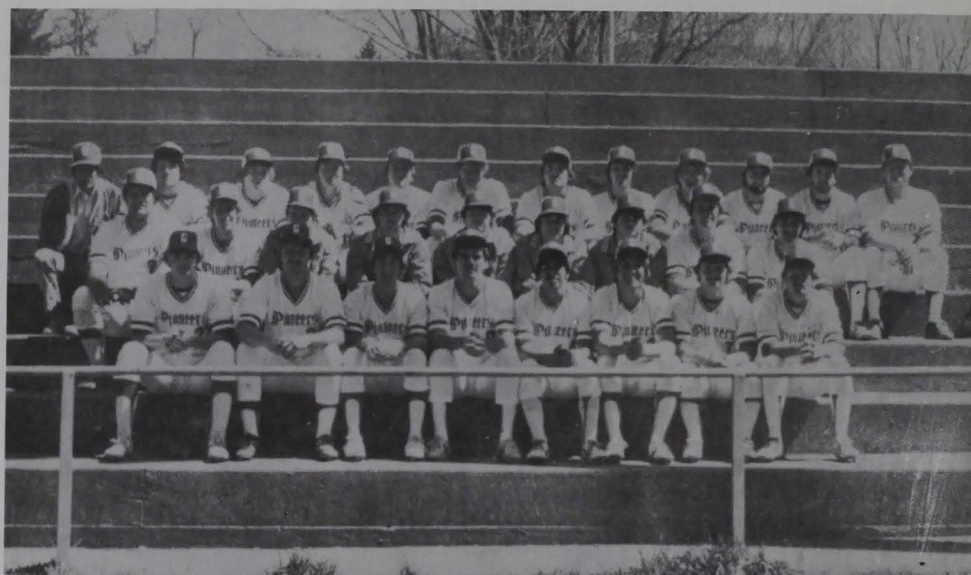

The student that had permission to play decided to tee off at the first hole and go ahead and play. We thought we could do the same because no one was there to take our fee. But that's where we must have made the big mistake.

As we were down on the first green, the person in charge appeared and ordered us off the course. We attempted to pay our fee but to no avail. This person simply did not want us on the course. She even threatened to call the police on us if we ever "tried it again." Tried what again? Is it against the law to play a game of golf after seven o'clock? It seems to me that the place would make more money if they would stay open until dark. Who wants to play golf in the middle of a hot, humid afternoon?

This incident prompted me to do a little research on the Gilmer County Golf Course. I found out that GSC students must pay $50 to become members of the club for a year. Gilmer County High School students pay only half that amount for the same deal. GSC students are not even in Glenville for the entire year, yet they pay twice as much as high school students who play all summer at 50% less.

I guess that when something destructive happens to the course, fingers are pointed at GSC students, whether they did it or not. I feel insulted that I have to pay more for enjoyment than a high school student who plays on the same course and uses the same facilities.

Baseballers Win Two From Tech

Glenville State College's baseball team won two and lost two in diamond action this past week as they defeated West Virginia Tech twice and lost two times to West Liberty.

On Monday, the Pioneers played host to West Liberty. The Hilltoppers put strong pitching to advantage as they defeated GSC 4-2 and 10-5.

In the first game, West Liberty scored in the first and third innings to post the win. Glenville's Gerry Myers hit a two-run homer in the first inning, but that was all that the Pioneers could cross over the plate in the game. Terry Mullens pitched seven innings to take the loss. He walked ten batters. Dale Teaney stroked a double for GSC.

In the second game, West Liberty scored seven times in the fourth inning to ice the win. Bob Davis lost his second game of the season as he went 3 1/3 innings. John Henderson hit a triple in the game and Myers, Henderson, and Mike Lilly all recorded two hits each.

On Tuesday, the Pioneers took on West Virginia Tech. In the first game, Craig Williams pitched a complete game to grab the win by a score of 8-7. The Pioneers scored three times in the last half of the final inning to record the victory.

Williams struck out eight batters and only walked two. Big hitters for GSC were Edge, who hit a double and had two rbi's, and Henderson, who slammed a home run and two runs batted in. Lilly went two for four in the contest.

In the nightcap, Glenville's Gerry Myers pitched a two hit shutout to lead GSC to a 12-0 short game win. Myers fanned seven and walked two in the contest. He was aided by Bill DelPrince, Dale Teaney, and Henderson in the winning cause. DelPrince and Teaney smacked doubles and Henderson hit two rbi's in the game.

Pioneers Place Third In GSC Track Meet

The third annual Glenville State College men's track Invitational was held last weekend, with five teams participating. The teams which competed in the Pioneer Invitational were Rio Grande (Ohio), West Virginia State, West Virginia Wesleyan, Salem, and the host Pioneer thinclads.

Wesleyan emerged victorious in the meet, for which the scoring was 6-4-3-2-1. The Bobcats edged State 79½ to 79, to claim the team trophy. GSC nabbed third place with 49½ points, compared to 49 for Rio Grande. Salem brought up the rear with 21 points.

GSC's sprint corps didn't have as good a day as they are accustomed to having. The Pioneers' top sprinter, Virgil Davis, pulled up lame in his 100 meter heat and in his leg of the 4 x 100 meter relay, thus taking away valuable points. Misfortune also hit Eddie Huffman, GSC's top 400 meter performer. He won the 400 meter dash in 50.2 seconds. In an event in which he is probably stronger, the 400 intermediate hurdles, he fell while in the lead and couldn't finish. In the 100, Scott Pottmeyer was GSC's lone scorer by tying for fifth place in 11:35. Also, the 4 x 400 meter relay team of Huffman, Pottmeyer, Greg Anderson and Ray Loughry recorded a second place finish in 3:32.

Twenty-nine of Glenville's total points came in the middle distance and distance events. From 800 meters up, GSC captured three of four individual wins and three more places. Mark Price took second place in the 800 meters in 2:03, Larry Taylor won both the 1500 meters (4:16) and the 5000 meters (14:48), and Steve Keenan won the 10,000 meters in 33:53. P.K. Coon captured second place in the 10,000 meters in 34:03 and third in the 1500 with a time of 4:34. Steve Roberts got fifth in the 5000 meters in 16:20. Also, Craig Bock got sixth in the 10,000 with a 38:38.

In the hurdle events, John Irwin, who also threw the javelin, claimed two fifth places. He ran the 100 meter high hurdles in 16.1 and the 400 intermediates in 1:01.7.

GSC mustered only five points in the field events. Craig Worl's throw of 36.7 meters in the discus earned him third place, and Davis, placing fourth in the triple jump, recorded a jump of 37' 8".

Coach Jerry Milliken remarked, "I would like to express my appreciation to the people who gave so much of their time and effort to help make this track meet a success. Congratulations on a job well done. Thanks for the support!"

This weekend, on Saturday and Sunday, May 2 and 3, the Pioneers will host another meet. The West Virginia Conference Meet will be contested, with seven teams competing. Everyone is urged to get out to the track and support the Pioneers in this important meet!

Track Seasons Come To A Close At GSC

Both the men's and the women's track teams at GSC will be competing in season-ending meets this coming weekend. The West Virginia Conference Meet is slated on Saturday and Sunday, May 2 and 3 for the Pioneer men thinclads, while the Lady Pioneers will compete in the State Meet on Saturday only. For the fourth straight year, the GSC track facility is the site for the men's WVIAC Championships. Seven teams will most likely run in this year's meet. In addition to the host Pioneers, last year's top two teams, West Virginia Wesleyan and West Virginia State, will be running, as will West Liberty, Fairmont State, Salem and West Virginia Tech.

Competition begins at 4:30 p.m. and concludes at 7:45 p.m. on Saturday. Action resumes on Sunday at 12:00, with the meet winding up at approximately 4:00.

Entrants for the GSC men are the following: Craig Worl and Dave Husk in the discus; Rick Murray in the discus and javelin; Virgil Davis and Gerald Miller in the 100 and 200 meters; Scott Pottmeyer in the 100, 200 and long jump; Eddie Huffman in the 400 meters, 200 meters and 400 intermediate hurdles;

John Irwin in the 110 high hurdles, 400 intermediate hurdles, high jump and javelin; Mark Price and Greg Anderson in the 400 and 800 meters; Ray Loughry in the 400, 800 and 1500 meters; P.K. Coon in the 1500 and 10,000 meters; Larry Taylor, Billy Belcher and Steve Roberts in the 1500, 5000 and 10,000 meters; and Steve Keenan and Craig Bock in the 5000 and 10,000 meters.

The Lady Pioneers will travel to Huntington to take part in their meet. Six teams, headed by the host Marshall University squad, are entered. Others, besides Glenville, are West Virginia State, Fairmont State, Concord and West Virginia Wesleyan.

Mary Davis heads the list of possible winners for GSC at the meet. She will compete in the 800 meters, 1500 meters, 3000 meters, mile relay and high jump. Also standing a good chance at winning events are "Poncho" Richards in the shot put and discus, June Casto, who will compete in the 400 meters and two relays, and Kay Galford, in the 200 meters and a relay. Other GSC participants will be: Donita Cox in the javelin, discus and two relays; Rachael Kelley in the 1500 meters; Leza Groves in the 3000 meters;

Jackie Davis in the 100 meters and long jump; Kathy Cook in the shot put; Karen Terry in the javelin; Linda McKinney in the discus; and "Bunny" Taylor in the javelin.

Coach Sandra Piercy feels that her team can place third in the meet.

Golfers Claim Regional Title

The golf squad of Glenville State College took part in the West Virginia Northern Regional Golf Tournament last weekend and came back to town with the first place trophy.

Glenville shot a 328 the first day, and a 334 the second day, for a total of 662. This was 33 shots better than the second place finisher, West Virginia Wesleyan, who shot 350 and 345 to total 695. Rounding out the remaining teams were West Liberty (350-350=700), Fairmont (341-362=704), West Virginia State (354-359=713), West Virginia Tech (358-369=727), and Wheeling (353-382=735).

Glenville placed four players in the top five individual spots for medals. Randy Slabaugh shot 74-80 for a 154 total to earn top honors. John Forrest shot 85-84=169 to grab second place. Third went to Wesleyan's Bill Blue with a 88-82=170. Dave Lamm shot 82-89=171 and Gordie Delaat 89-83=172 to win the next places. Jerry Kurjian was good for 87-87=174 to aid in GSC's winning cause.

Richards and Taylor Win Lady's Track Team Award

A sophomore girl and a freshman girl are the most recent winners of the track team award for the Lady Pioneer track team.

For her performance in the Don Frail Memorial Relays on April 8, "Poncho" Richards, a sophomore physical education major from Herbert Hoover High School, was given the award. Richards, the daughter of Mr. Denver Richards, won both the discus and the shot put in the meet at Marietta. She is in her second year of track at GSC.

"Bunny" Taylor, a freshman from Clay County High School, won the track team award, also. Taylor, a physical education major and the daughter of Leon and Vernal Taylor, placed first in the javelin in a meet for GSC recently.

The Glenville State College Lady Pioneer Track Team Award is presented by Coach Piercy and the team for each meet. The outstanding player of the meet is awarded the honor.
