Five Added To Faculty

Five additional faculty members have been added to the faculty, according to President William K. Simmons. Assuming their duties this week are: Randy R. Hunt, Clifford C. Young, James Ramon Rappold, Thomas Clayton, and Herman Heacker III.

Mr. Hunt, a Glenville State graduate, is assistant professor of physical education and athletic coach. He holds a Master's degree with an emphasis in Sports Science from West Virginia University, where he has now completed coursework for a doctorate in Sports Management and is now writing his dissertation. He formerly taught and coached at Central Preston Senior High. Hunt is married to the former Stephanie Shimer, also a GSC graduate, and they have a son, Sean, eight.

Clifford Young is assistant professor of special education with a specialty in behavior disorders. He is a California native, holding B.A. and M.A. degrees from California State University. He also holds a Ph. D. from George Peabody College of Vanderbilt University. He has taught at both California State and George Peabody.

Mr. Rappold, who replaces C. Vance Weekly on leave to study in Europe, holds B.A. and M.S. degrees from Marshall University. His degrees are in geography and biology. He is an instructor in World Geography. He was formerly associated with the Governor's office in the travel division and with the National Youth Science Camp. He is single.

Mr. Clayton, instructor in Mathematics, holds B.A. and M.A. degrees from West Virginia University. He was formerly associated with Fairmont State College.

Heacker has been hired as instructor in computer science. He holds B.S. and M.S. degrees from the University of Tennessee in Knoxville. His field is Business Education with a specialty in data processing. He was formerly employed in the Hamilton County schools of Chattanooga. His wife Beverly is employed in the Financial Aid Division.

Schedule Pictures!

Appointments will be made tomorrow and Tuesday for yearbook pictures to be taken Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 31 and Sept. 1. Kanawha representatives will be stationed inside Pioneer Center in the lobby outside Verona Mapel Room.

Nine Classes Offered

Glenville State College Continuing Education Office is offering an exciting assortment of classes during the Fall 1981 Semester. The classes are designed to be of interest to the college student, faculty, staff and community. If you are interested in enrolling in a Continuing Education class, application must be made through the Continuing Education Office located in the Pioneer Center or by calling Ext. 118.

Beginning Sign Language will be taught by Tammy Altizer in Room 301 Science Hall beginning September 17 - October 15 from 6:30 - 9:30 p.m. The Manual Alphabet or fingerspelling will be taught first. Many signs are based on the hand-shapes of the letters, thus are more readily learned when the Manual Alphabet is known. The most commonly used words will be taught in the Beginning Class. The $25.00 fee includes the use of textbook. College credit is available.

Intermediate Sign Language will be taught by Tammy Altizer in Room 301 Science Hall beginning October 22 - November 19 from 6:30 - 9:30 p.m. This class goes beyond the basic 100 concrete signs into signs dealing with abstractions such as feelings, adjectives, adverbs, etc. Conversation will be stressed. Videotape of instructor working in classroom situations with deaf students (toddlers to adults) will be shown. The $25.00 fee includes the use of textbook. College credit is available. Both sign language classes should be of special interest to Special Education and Social Work majors.

Intermediate Swimming is for the participant who has mastered the beginning skills of swimming and wishes to learn the five major strokes: American crawl, back crawl, side stroke, breast stroke, and elementary back stroke. Jackie Milliken will be teaching this class at the Glenville State College Pool from 7:00 - 8:00 p.m. Session I will be September 9 - October 7 - Session II will be October 14 - November 11. A $10.00 fee will be charged per session.

Shaping - Up physical fitness class will help tone up and slim down the body. Participants will engage in Aerobic dancing, Aerobic exercising and swimming. Jackie Milliken will be teaching this 10 week class from September 10 - November 12. The class will meet from 7:00 - 8:00 in the Ballroom located in the Pioneer Center and from 8:00 - 9:00 at the pool in the Health Building. A fee of $25.00 will be charged.

Bowling will be taught by Garry Kight September 9 - November 11 from 6:00 - 7:00 p.m. at the college bowling lanes in the Pioneer Center. Learn to spot bowl using correct bowling systems and styles. Participants will be taught how to select equipment, bowl strikes, pick-up spares and keep score. Mr. Kight is the Glenville State College bowling coach with NBC and Instructor certification. A $25.00 fee will be charged.

Golf will be taught at the Gilmer Golf Course September 10 - October 15 from 6:00 - 7:30 p.m. by Tim Carney. This course is designed to teach various aspects of golf including grip, stance, swing, and proper use of woods and irons. Previous experience is not necessary as instruction will begin at the participants' level of development. A fee

Freshmen Invade Campus Outline Activities for Week

Welcome Freshmen! The first few days of the fall term are going to be busy ones for incoming freshmen as well as for returning Glenville State College students. On Sunday, August 23 from 1:30 - 2:15 p.m., there will be a parents' and students' convocation in the auditorium of the Administration Building during which President William K. Simmons and other administrative officers will provide a general orientation for incoming students and their parents. A general question-answer period will also be offered.

At 2:30 p.m., the president's reception will be held in the Ballroom of the Pioneer Center. This will provide freshmen and their parents an opportunity to meet the administrative staff, faculty, and local ministers in an informal setting.

From 6:30 - 7:30, there will be an ice cream social for the freshmen in the amphitheater. In case of rain, the social will be held in the Ballroom.

On Monday, August 24, all students will have their identification card photos taken in the Ballroom from 8:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. This should be done prior to completing the registration process. Upperclassmen who have pre-registered may pay fees beginning at 8:00 a.m. in the Little Theater (Room 208) of the Administration Building. Financial aid may be picked up in the Little Theater, also.

Tuesday, August 25 offers students another chance to have I.D. pictures taken and a chance for freshmen to register and pay fees from 8:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. An important freshman meeting will be held from 8:30 - 9:00 a.m. in the auditorium of the Administration Building. All freshmen must be in attendance.

The election of the freshmen representative to the Student Congress will be held in a freshman ceremony in the amphitheater from 7:00 - 8:00 p.m. Also, the Pioneer, cheerleaders, football team, and coaches will be introduced.

While the first few days will be busy ones, they will also offer quite a bit of insight into some of the operations of Glenville State College for incoming students.

Theatre 1981-82 Choices Revealed

The 1981-1982 year here at GSC promises to be exciting in several categories, and one of those categories is the theatrical department. There are three plays scheduled for the season under the direction of Mrs. Linda McKown and they are: The Effects of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds by Paul Zindel, to be performed on October 1-3; The Music Man by Meredith Wilson, to be performed the fourth weekend in February; and The Unwicked Witch (a children's show), to be held April 25-28.

The musical The Music Man will be co-directed by Mrs. McKown and Edward McKown, instructor in Music and the band director. The auditions for the musical will be before Christmas. The auditions for The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds will be held August 25-27. Also, the Speech 311 Stage Directing class will direct at least four plays in the first semester. So all in all, the theatrical season will definitely rate five stars.

The auditions for all shows are open to the campus, and freshmen are urged to try out. Actors and technicians are needed, so anyone who is interested, quit dragging your feet and who knows? A star may be born!

The Robert F. Kidd Library staff has released the schedule for the fall term:

Aug. 23-9 a.m.-4 p.m.
Aug. 24-Sept. 4: 8 a.m.-4 p.m.
10 p.m.; Aug. 29-9 a.m.-5 p.m.; Aug. 30-2:30-10 p.m.; Sept. 8-Nov. 20
*Regular hours: (Mon.-Thur.) 8 a.m.-10 p.m.; Fridays: 8 a.m.-4 p.m.; Saturdays, 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Sundays-2:30-10 p.m.

The library will be closed on Nov. 21 and 22. On Nov. 23 through 25, the library will be open from 8 a.m.-4 p.m. The library will be closed from Nov. 26-29.

Your free copy of The GSC Mercury will be distributed this year on Wednesdays, beginning September 2.

Yearbooks will arrive on the campus momentarily. They were shipped on Aug. 14. As they arrive, posters will indicate the site of distribution.

Robert F. Kidd Library is in the process of publishing a tabloid commemorating the 100th birthday of Robert F. Kidd. Copies will be available to all students during the first week of classes.

Welcome—Get With It!

The end of summer is near and the time for a new beginning is once again here. It is time for the fall semester of college to start. For many, pre-hensions are innumerable. The worry, tension, and the unknown has kept the body tense and the mind working overtime. But relax, you are enrolling in Glenville State College (the friendly campus) not some rigid, uncompromising program. Glenville State welcomes the freshman and the returning students.

The first day will seem to be too long and too terrifying, but do not let this become too much of an issue, the first day is always the hardest. If you have any trouble, GSC is not called the friendly campus for nothing, ask someone. Everyone from the janitors to the head of departments here at GSC are ready and willing to help anyone in trouble. The campus will be new, the faces will be new, and the routine will be new so some mistakes are inevitable. If you do make a mistake, do not be to embarrassed or scared to ask for help, that is what the people are here for.

Hopefully the other aspects of campus life will help orientate and settle the students into the mainstream. The administration and other organizations have planned some activities to help students become better adjusted and more at ease.

For the returning students, the campus is still the same friendly place with the addition of more woodchips and everything is geared up for the new semester. The time is near for us to shake the sun out of our hair and to get serious about this semester.

1½ Yr. Reign Ends

Editor Steps Down

All good things must come to an end and for me this time has come. My reign as the editor of the Glenville Mercury has come to an end. Although I will continue to write and work for the paper, the job of editor will pass on to my very qualified colleague. This past year I have had the opportunity to try my wings at running or being at the helm of the paper. The year has been one of trials and triumphs.

Since this will be the last time to exercise my editorial opinion, I would like to thank my guiding mentor, Mrs. King, and the staff who helped pull everything together every Wednesday night. Where would I be without you all?

At the time when I was chosen for the job it seemed like the year would never end, but now it seems like it has gone too fast. The good times have outweighed the bad times. Like they say, you never know what you have until it is gone. I will miss helping to guide the paper, along with the expert guidance I have received.

I would like to thank Mrs. King once again, it was she who through untold patience and faith, helped me through the decisions and the actual workings of the paper. The hand that soothed also smoothed. I will also be grateful to be given the chance to prove myself. I hope I can somehow repay the favor.

As I have stated before the time has come and I again say thank-you to everyone and I hope my successor has the same great experience.

Becky Triplett

All campus organizations are reminded of the opportunity to set up displays for freshmen on the Clark Hall lawn on Tuesday, August 25 from 5:00 - 6:00 p.m. "Organizations on Campus" is sponsored by the Student Congress.

TV Courses Set

Glenville State College is offering credit for courses built around selected television programming to be broadcast this fall by the state's three public television stations.

The West Virginia Board of Regents and Glenville State College in cooperation with the public television stations has arranged five series to be aired:

Economics: Personal Finance and Money Management.
Geography: Of Earth and Man
Science: Cosmos
Philosophy: Art of Being Human
English: Shakespeare Plays

Courses range from 13 to 15 weeks and offer 3 credit hours.

Students enrolled full time and who have paid full tuition will not be assessed additional cost.

For those students who desire one or more of those programs, but do not have access to public television, may view their course in the Robert F. Kidd Library at Glenville State College or Parkersburg Community College.

Segments of each course will be video taped and available for viewing in the library video department for a hour one week. Following their availability in the GSC library, video tapes are taken to Parkersburg Community College where they are available for an additional week for those GSC students enrolled at PCC. Try not to miss any segments if you enroll.

If interested see your advisor or contact Dr. Bruce Flack, ex. 181 or 180.

Keating Employed

Martha Keating has accepted a tenure track position as a full time English instructor at Glenville State College beginning with the fall term of 81.

With three years experience at GSC, Mrs. Keating has been active in promoting the Visiting Writers Program and was also the founder and sponsor of the school literary magazine, the "Trillium".

Mrs. Keating holds a BA in English from William and Mary College and a MA from the University of Virginia. She has also completed graduate studies at the University of Birmingham and the Shakespeare Summer School at Stratford-upon-Avon, in England.

Mrs. Keating has also completed a Publishers Procedure Course at Harvard University, which, no doubt, provided insight to her position as Desk Editor of the Elsevier Editorial Service, Oxford, England. Mrs. Keating accompanied her husband to England when he did graduate studies on philosophy.

Mr. Keating has received his Doctorate in Philosophy and is presently a Professor at Wesleyan College in Buckhannon, West Virginia.

Mrs. Keating will be instructing courses in English Composition, Introduction to Literature, Shakespeare and Creative Writing.

The Keatings reside in Buckhannon, West Virginia.

President Greets Students

Welcome to all new and returning students.

Glenville State College is prepared for an interesting and profitable year. In a time of projected enrollment decline, Glenville continues to grow. To encourage continued growth, you will see an increased emphasis on quality educational experience both in and out of the classroom during the 1981-1982 college year. Some requirements will be strengthened and expectations will be raised as the college continues to prepare students to meet increasing public demands for improved quality in education.

We need your help and support in our efforts to keep Glenville State College in the forefront in West Virginia higher education.

I wish you a happy and successful year in 1981-1982.

Dr. William K. Simmons, President
Glenville State College

ACT—Privilege or Duty?

Can you imagine the following schools that teach: George Brett and Rod Carew how to hit a baseball; Chris Everett and Bjorn Borg how to play tennis; conservative politics to William F. Buckley and Jessie Helms? Neither can I!

Can you imagine juniors at Glenville State College with a grade point average of 3.8 taking the ACT to demonstrate their potential to grasp lower level courses?

"Don't be silly" you reply. "Who would believe such a preposterous and inane suggestion!"

Ah, my dear editor, it is true. The inane, and whatever you said, is scheduled for 7 p.m. August 24, 1981 at GSC. The Board of Regents (BORs) has decreed, so it is to be.

So be there and see heretofore motivated perennial Dean's List students pay ten bucks for the privilege of demonstrating their ability.

Since the "BORs" have honored me by extending a personal invitation to participate in the ACT on 24 Aug., and also due to faculty members expressing their confidence in me in the past, I'll be there.

Hopefully, I'll do well, and save face. But the flame; that always present spark that seems to "light my fire" that illuminates the test terrain, is flickering like a candle in a near vacuum.

Suddenly, I feel like Rodney Dangerfield, as I adjust my tie and quote the famous and meaningful line, "I get no respect, no respect at all."

Woodchips Reviewed

I read with amusement Cheryl Keenan's letter in which she expressed the opinion that Glenville State College is going overboard with their woodchip landscaping. It brought tears to my eyes when I learned that a romantic summer evening must be spent in the midst of a landscape scattered with the mutilated remains of angiosperms and gymnosperms.

After diligent research, I have scientifically determined that the only romantic types that should be concerned with this situation are Oreamnos Americanus - The North American Goat. The landscaping projects are primarily involved with the development of those slopes that have extremely steep grades. In the past, these areas have been difficult to maintain and were frequently bare.

I agree with Cheryl that Glenville's campus has been beautified during this project and this will become even more evident as time passes and the shrubs and trees develop. A second point that may be expressed is that the development of the shrub areas on campus helps to minimize the chance of mowing accidents on these steep grades. I would like to commend Miss Mary Howard and her able crew for a job well done.

Mr. Jim Meads

Registration Woes 'Fondly' Recalled

During one of the many cold and miserable days last January, I moved slowly through the halls of the Administration Building maintaining my place in the registration line.

After several hours, I picked up my registration slip, moved to the cashier with money extended, picked up my receipt and headed east on 33.

Time in line: 2-3 hours.

Processing Time: 30-60 seconds.

I'll try not to make the same mistakes again, and if you're a 'line victim' from past registrations, you should be planning your fall registration route now. The following may help:

1. Move to the front of the line clutching your chest and gasping, 'my pacemaker just stopped!!'.

2. Run up the line shouting 'barf bag, who's got a barf bag, barf bag!!'

3. Stay up the night before registration eating wolf sandwiches, one pound of garlic with a ramp casserole, drink plenty of left over yak milk and strike up conversations with every student in line during registration.

4. Wear dark glasses, carry a white cane and lead a seeing-eye gorilla.

5. Have your nose, ears and several fingers amputated. When someone in line asks what happened, point as best as you can, to your leprosy sign.

6. Don't take a bath all summer and scratch a lot. Observe your dog to get the fine points of scratching down pat.

I'm sure that any of the six suggestions would work, but for those who are sticklers for decorum and tradition, not to mention rules, policy and taste, I suggest the following:

For those who have not pre-registered go to the basement of the Administration Building for registration. Be sure that your advisor has signed your slip.

All fees will be paid in the small auditorium room 208A-- in the Administration Building. Students who are pre-registered and are not receiving financial aid do not have to wait for any processing. Just pick up your registration slip and move to the cashier's desk.

All students receiving financial aid must go through the procedures required by the financial aid department. There will be signs over desks to direct you.

Veterans educational allowance (GI Bill) is not considered financial aid. If you are a pre-registered veteran just pick up your registration slip and move to the cashier's desk.

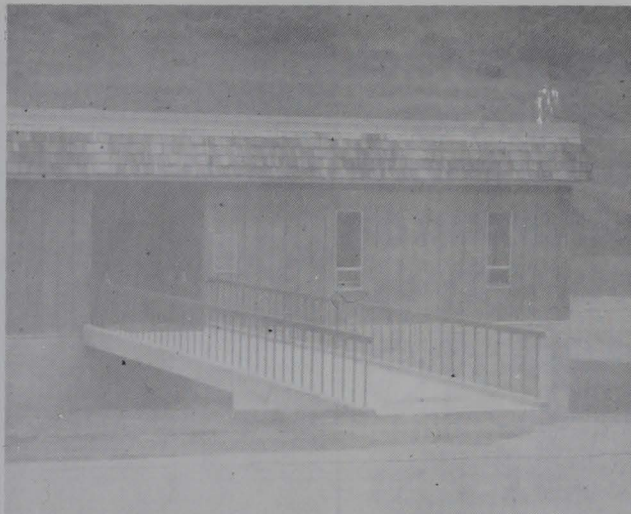

There should be two lines during registration: one line for financial aid and one for others. by J.D. Brooks

In addition, if sweethearts (Individually) have proofs made, they may have an extra proof made together at no charge.

Students who do not have pictures taken will not have their pictures included in the 1982 Kanawhachen.

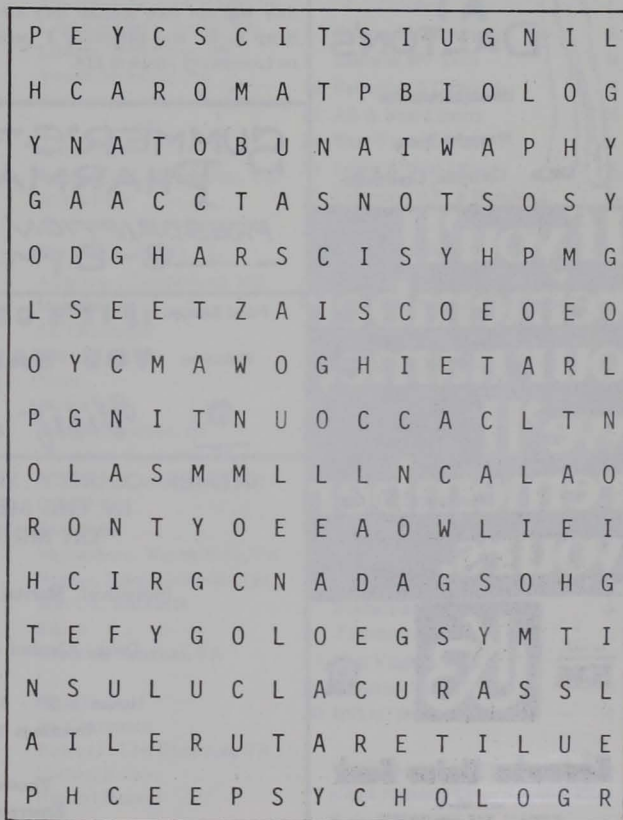

A new bridge has been erected at Eberle Hall to enable easy access, especially for forestry, surveying students.

'Roomie Blues' Diagnosed

Greetings Freshmen (as opposed to "Greetings Earthlings" as we all know that anyone who comes to Glenville State College has to be a little bit "out of this world"! Most of you have already formed several impressions about GSC, even though some of you may have never been on campus before. "Wow! What a nice campus!", "I can already see why they call this "The Friendly Campus!", "I want a new roommate!" These statements have been uttered frequently by incoming freshmen over the years. Well, "two out of three ain't bad."

Unfortunately, too often incoming freshmen find themselves in a situation in which they absolutely cannot get along with their roommate. Personally, I have had very good luck with roommates my past two years of attending this venerable institution of higher learning, but such is not always the case.

If you find yourself in such an unfortunate situation, you may follow three different routes: 1) sit down in your cubicle and have a talk with your roommate in order to work out some ground rules and try to work out any problems you may have with each other; 2) if you can't talk out your problems, you can request a room change (with the agreement of your roommate and any other persons involved) and hang in there until Friendly Moving Day; or 3) sit back and suffer.

Hopefully, none of you will resort to the latter of the three choices. It's always better to try to talk out your problems or take some other positive action, no matter how unimportant you may feel the problem is at first. Even a minor problem which causes just a mere bit of annoyance at first can grow until you won't be able to stand it anymore.

Take heart! If you and your roommate aren't suited to living together, you do have other choices besides screaming and tearing your hair out! by Cheryl Keenan

Workmen have been hard at work on the GSC campus constructing a new breezeway for the Pioneer Center. This construction is just one of the many improvements made at GSC for the year 1981-82.

Heart attack or stroke could knock you down on your way up.

You're working for the challenge, the satisfaction, the success. The last thing you want is a heart attack or stroke. Yet nearly one million Americans die of heart disease and stroke every year. And 200,000 of them die before retirement age.

'This Does Not Compute—'

Computers, computers everywhere, and not a worker in sight. This world is being fast taken over by those machine wonders that are faster and more efficient than we imperfect mortals. After all, God made us, not IBM.

We see computers everywhere, even our games are being integrated with computers. Those old science fiction books and movies that audiences used to laugh at are now in the twenty-first century fulfilling the prophecies. It used to be funny back then, but now the computers are forcing people out of jobs, the computers are the ones laughing (and yes, Virginia, they can be programmed to laugh and talk.)

Since they are supposed to be so much better than we souls down here at the foot of Mt. Technology, we get great pleasure when one of the brains' go wrong. We all snicker behind their backs but, unfortunately or fortunately, a computer cannot be programmed to feel yet, so we cannot hurt their feelings. This is the age of discovery but try to tell that to someone who has lost his job to the 'new worker'. Somehow I do not think he will see the humor or the scientific achievement.

'Eh Gods', we can cuss or we can learn to live with them. Either way, they will not care because they are so thick-skinned. So really, the decision is up to us, and personally I prefer to get back to my Star Wars game on (computer) program 114.

Literary Society Welcomes Members

Have you read an interesting book, but never had the opportunity to discuss it with 'birds of a feather'? Well the birds of a feather are flocking together under guiding wings of Wayne DeRosset.

The flock, called the Literary Society, is composed of 'interested readers'. They meet monthly to discuss, evaluate and critique various selections of fiction, non-fiction, biographies and poetry. Reading selections are taken from a list compiled by DeRosset.

'Lord of the Flies' by William Golding will be the topic of discussion during the first meeting in September. A complete reading list will be handed out to L.S. members and the time and place for discussions will be announced at a later date.

One credit hour is awarded to those who participate in the Literary Society as full time interested readers.

However, the credit hour may not be used for undergraduate credits.

You do not have to be an English major to join L.S. The only requirement is that you should be a sincere and interested reader.

Meetings are informal; anyone may voice their opinions, whether they are negative or positive. However, be prepared to defend your viewpoint.

Interested readers can obtain more information by contacting Wayne DeRosset, Language Division, G.S.C. ext. 216.

Pioneers Add 57 Recruits

The 1981 version of the Glenville State College Pioneers Football Team is receiving a lot of new blood in the form of 57 new recruits who are coming to Glenville to pursue their college educations. GSC head football coach Frank Vincent is extremely pleased with the incoming players. Coach Vincent stated, "While we could not afford the luxury of recruiting by position, we did get a lot of people who can do what we need...play football."

THE HIGH COST OF A COLLEGE EDUCATION JUST WENT DOWN A FEW DEGREES.

ANNOUNCING THREE NEW ARMY NATIONAL GUARD PROGRAMS THAT CAN HELP YOU PAY FOR COLLEGE.

If you're like many college students, the closer you get to your degree, the deeper you get into debt. But, you don't have to get in over your head. Not when you join the Army National Guard.

Because now, the Guard has three new programs to help you pay for college: the College Loan Repayment Program; the Educational Assistance Program, and the Enlistment Bonus Program. And you don't have to wait for graduation to take advantage of them. You could join the Guard right now.

You see, the Army National Guard is part-time. After your initial training, it takes just two days a month and two weeks of annual training a year to serve. So there's plenty of time left for your studies. And you get paid for every hour you put into the Guard, so you'll have extra cash for books, lab fees, and all those other little expenses that come up.

Of course, there's more to the Guard than money. It's a chance to do something good for your country, as well as for people right in your own community. The Guard can give you more options in your life—and more control over your financial future.

If that sounds like where you want to be, see your financial aid officer, contact your local Army National Guard recruiter, or use the toll-free number below for complete details on how the Guard can help you pay for college. And help in a lot of other ways, too. But hurry! These special programs for college students are available for a limited time only.

America at its best.
