Advisory Board Member, Pioneer Elections Set

Elections for student representative to the GSC Board of Advisors and for GSC Pioneer are scheduled for April 6 and 7. Nominations for both positions must be submitted to the Office of Student Affairs by 12 noon on Monday, March 29, 1982.

In a state law passed last year, the WV legislature required the creation of a Board of Advisors at each public college and university. The board serves in an advisory capacity to the college, the president, and to the Board of Regents. This board consists of appointed alumni, community members, and elected faculty, staff, and student representatives. The student representative must be elected by the student body. Last year, due to the fact that the law did not go into effect until April 30, 1981, the Student Congress did not have time to conduct a general election, and therefore elected the student body president to serve on the position. The person serving in this position should be knowledgeable of college policies and activities, as well as budgetary affairs.

Elections will also be held to select the 1982-83 GSC Pioneer. Requirements for Pioneer and musket presentation are stated in Section 13 of Article VI of the Student Congress Constitution.

If you have further questions, please contact Dena Dunlap, Student Congress president, or Dr. Billips, Dean of Student Affairs.

Meeting Set

The West Virginia Association of College English Teachers will hold its Spring meeting on Friday and Saturday, March 12 & 13, at Jackson's Mill.

According to Don Nemanich, President of the WVACET, the meeting provides an excellent opportunity for teachers to meet colleagues from other colleges throughout the state as well as to hear some fine presentations.

Presentations include informal poetry readings and recordings of Shakespeare. Several members of the GSC faculty have made presentations at the meeting in previous years.

Room reservations are still available at Jackson's Mill for the meeting. To reserve rooms, call 269-5100.

SIRO Open For Service

The Student Information and Referral Office (SIRO) is now open for operation. What is the SIRO? The SIRO provides a service for those at GSC who may be looking for some information on a variety of topics. These topics may range from the proper judicial procedures at GSC to the phone number of the local police to such information as the pros and cons of drug use or an abortion. Its purpose is to dispense information and/or to refer people to the appropriate agency. All information and interaction is kept strictly confidential.

The Student Information and Referral Office is located in the Social

White Donates Papers

Mr. John White has donated to the library research papers done by honor students in Math 415 & 499.

The papers have been bound and catalogued. These books are the original copies. Dr. White said that these papers were as "good as master's thesis."

The students and titles are: Susan Mouser, 1976, "History of Mathematics;" Carol Kuhlman, 1979, "Mathematical Thought Through the Ages;" Charles White, 1975, "The Monroe Model 1670;" George A. Welch, 1975, "The Development of Mathematics To 1 B.C.;" Darlene Barnes, 1970, "Zero;" Alan Yoak, 1973, "Learning about Pi;" Richard Pingley, 1972, "The Solution of Nonlinear and Simultaneous Equations;" Allen Stump, 1978, "A Short History of the Calculus;" Richard Butler, 1974, "An Elementary Survey of Boolean Logic as Applied to Today's Digital Computers;" Dale King, 1973, "From the Beginning to Modern Mathematics;" Vickie Cutright, 1971, "Interesting Antidotes in Mathematics;" Eric Minigh, 1974, "Great Greek Mathematicians;" William Carr, 1975, "A study of Infinite Series Theory, Problem Solutions;" Brenda Burroughs, 1974, "Greek Mathematics;" William Ball, Jr., 1965, "A History of Mathematics;" William Carr, 1974, "A Study of G.H. Hardy and British Pure Mathematicians From 1900-1950."

Science Division in office 336. Currently, the SIRO is being operated by volunteers from the Student Social Service Organization. However, if anyone is interested in working with the SIRO, they are asked to contact Craig Parker by calling Ext. 274, Room 352 or leaving a message in Box 193 LBH.

If you are in need of information about a particular topic or an agency's services or even just someone to talk with, the people at the SIRO may be able to assist you. And all information will be kept confidential. Everyone is welcome to stop by and visit the office. The office hours are tentatively set as follows.

Monday - 10-1; Tuesday - 8-9, 1-2, 3-4; Wednesday - 10-1; Thursday - 8-9, 1-2, 3-4.

Representatives from several agencies and companies will be on campus April 6, 1982, to interview prospective May and August graduates. Students interested in participating in this interview day must contact Janet Gainer in the Placement Office before leaving for Spring Break.

Play Costumes Created

If you saw "The Music Man," you undoubtedly noticed the lovely costumes worn by cast members of the musical: dresses for Indian maidens, uniforms for a boys' band, flowing dresses for the ladies of the town, and togas for the Del Sart committee.

Approximately 70 of the costumes worn by cast members of the musical were the result of hundreds of hours of hard work by Lois Miller, costume mistress, and her crew.

Lois Miller, a junior Business Administration

Major from Shock, has worked on costumes for seven shows performed by GSC Theater and four one-acts since her freshman year. Lois, a member of the Ohningohow Players, Alpha Psi Omega, and Phi Beta Lambda, credits Melanie Green, LeAnn Butler, Marlene Lewis, and Betty Wagner for their aid in designing and making the costumes and hats. A minimum of two hours a day and up to twelve hours a day on week-ends was spent by most of these people.

Jupiter Effect or Spacey Tale

Some have called it "doomsday," others say it will be the end of the world, but according to many scientists across the U.S. we have nothing to worry about today, March 10, 1982 - the day of "The Jupiter Effect."

The fact that today all nine planets will be aligned in a 98 degree arc on one side of the sun has created a mystery of what phenomena could occur on the planet Earth. According to authors John Bribbin and Stephen Plagemann in their book entitled, "The Jupiter Effect," the gravitational change that takes place could cause some worldly disasters, mainly earthquakes. The theories introduced by the book have made many people eerie of what may actually happen today.

Of course, since you are reading this, we can rule out the possibility of doomsday or the end of the world. However, I wonder how many people telephoned faraway relatives or said an extra prayer last night just in case it would have been. Many people probably gave it a thought.

I've decided to stick with the scientists and others who have closely analyzed the situation and have concluded that the best thing to come out of the day is the opportunity to view all nine planets in one night for the first time in 179 years. That sounds like something exciting rather than disastrous.

Jellybeans of the World, Unite

Jellybeans, jellybeans and more jellybeans. The time for jellybeans has come, bringing them into the candy hall of fame. Our illustrious President Reagan has brought on this trend of popping these little sweetmates like Valium (or multi-chew vitamins.)

The President prefers white coconut-flavored jelly beans and this means that people who choose this color are ambitious, seeking popularity and attempting to display a feeling of authority.

Men who like purple jelly beans apply strict standards to their choice of a partner. Women who prefer green are described as ambitious and are easily offended and those who prefer red jellybeans show great personal charm, are regarded as interesting, easily influence decisions and proceed cautiously toward a decision in which personal ambition may be temporarily disregarded, while comfort and security are obtained. So the next time that gorgeously handsome individual sort of becomes your target, subtly try to find out which jelly beans he likes (among other things) and take it from there. If he likes all colors watch out, you have a "wild man" to contend with. Oh well, you know what your mother always said about "wild men." Anyone for bon-bons? Becky Triplett

A formal meeting of the Theta Xi Chapter of the Delta Zeta Sorority was held Monday, March 8.

Joyce Wright, one of our advisors, was welcomed to the meeting.

We would like to congratulate our pledges Sandi Gainer and Doretta Pugh for doing a good job in the play. Also, we would like to congratulate Sisters Dena Dunlap and Vicki Parrish for their performance.

Plans are being made for a Women's Softball Tournament for April 17 and 18.

Clean Room Award went to Dena Dunlap and the Pig Pen Award went to Michele Bruce and Vicki Parrish.

Becky Beall was selected as pledge of the week for her outstanding job on her interviews.

Sheila Martin was elected as the new Panhellenic president, and Lora Park was elected as vice president. Congratulations to them both.

The Annual Spaghetti Dinner will be March 23 and 24.

Diane Winslow was selected as the outstanding Delta Zeta for the year.

SSSO

SSSO met last Wednesday, March 3, and is working on many projects and activities.

On March 23, SSSO is holding a meeting to plan for the Easter Egg Hunt, which will be held on April 2 at 9-12 at Sycamore Road Park. The hunt is for Headstart students and the GSC Day Care children. Interested students can come to the Scott Wing lounge at 4 p.m. on March 23.

Also, there will be a Battle of the D.J.'s Dance held in the ballroom on Wednesday, April 7, from 7:30 to 11 p.m. There will be no refreshments, but the Union will be open.

SSSO selected Susan Cates as Outstanding Woman of 1982 for Panhellenic Council, and Craig Parker as Outstanding Man of 1982 for Interfraternity Council.

SSSO's next meeting will be held on March 23 in Scott-Wing lounge, after the Easter Egg Hunt meeting at 4 p.m.

Cafeteria Controversy

This letter is in response to Bill Szabo's request for other students to express their feelings toward the cafeteria situation. I feel that Bill expressed the sentiment of the majority of the students who do eat in the cafeteria. But after thinking about the situation, I found a few additional items to present to the students.

In discussing the cafeteria with several other people, I learned that the cafeteria is supposed to be on a five-week rotation basis. This means that in a thirty-five day period no two meals should be the same. I find this hard to believe, for there have been many occasions, especially weekends, when the meals were identical. These meals being either chicken, hotdogs, hamburger, or the newcomer, VEAL. Just look how often veal was served in the past several weeks. If the meals are not the same, they are related in some manner. For example, we would have chili one day and tacos on the following day, and possibly even spaghetti on the day after that. As long as I am discussing meals, I wish they had a quality control on the food. Last week a friend of mine found two small, hard objects in his food. We have not yet figured out if it was buckshot or gravel.

In talking to a restaurant worker from Ohio, I found that there is a set temperature for food to be served. In Ohio it is a state law that hot food be served over 140 degrees and cold food be served under 40 degrees. I am now checking the West Virginia State Law on this matter and will relay this information later.

There are many other items I would like to discuss, but time does not allow me to do so. But I will be writing additional articles on this subject.

Thank you,
Sincerely,
Sheldon Sturm

Staff Reviews Play

A splice of New York City Broadway came to GSC on March 5-7 and everyone was delighted. In fact, standing ovations honored the end of the performances each night and everyone in anyway associated with the production deserved every minute of the praise.

"The Music Man," Meredith Wilson's 1957 prize-winning musical, brought smiles and a few tears to many eyes. The story of the red, white, and blue American Dream was well performed by the 36 member cast.

Dan DePugh, as Professor Harold Hill, a slick traveling salesman, and Pam Perry, portraying Marian Paroo, River City, Iowa's Spinster Librarian, excellently displayed their singing abilities. Both Dan and Pam won many hearts through their exciting performances of their tender love story.

Mayor Shinn, played by Danny Bayer and Eulalie Mackecknie Shinn, played by Kelly Davis, were the showstoppers, and although it is a hard decision to make, they made their characters hilarious standouts.

Every situation in life must have a "black sheep" and "The Music Man" was no exception. Charlie Cowell was the slimy salesman who constantly tried to throw a monkey wrench into everyone's plans. Bill Anderson portrayed Charlie to his slimiest.

Marcellus, played by Mickey McDonald, was a cross between a carnival Barker and a younger Jackie Gleason. Mrs. Paroo, portayed by Dana Balachowski, could sing with the best of them. She hit every note in the book and then some. The children acted like old pros and the Wa Tan Ye Girls played the part of a vaudeville girlie group to perfection.

The Del Sart Ladies and the Board of Education Quartet provided many enjoyable moments throughout the play with their hilarious antics and fine voices. Another delight was offered by the presence of children in the play.

All in all, it was one of the best we have seen here at GSC. The whole production, cast and directors, should give themselves a big pat on the back because magic only happens now and then.

Weigh-ins for the Lambda Chi Alpha wrestling tournament will be held in the Health building dressing room on Wednesday, March 10, from 4-7 p.m. and Thursday, March 11, from 4-6 p.m. A $3 entry fee will be charged at the weigh-in.

The second annual tourney will be held from Monday, March 22 to Thursday, March 25. High school rules will be followed, and weight classes will be from 126 pounds to unlimited.

Sculptures are displayed outside the auditorium.

Sculptures Displayed

The sculptures displayed in the bookcase in the administration building are from the 340 sculpturing class, which deals with Wood relief sculpture and plaster over wire sculpture.

The students who made the sculptures out of cherry wood. The students were Sherri McLaughlin, Bill Szabo, Alice Morris, Juliet O'Dell and Donna Bumgardner.

The plaster over paris sculptures were made by Bill Szabo, Lee Loy, Juliet O'Dell, Phillip Bartsch, Sherri McLaughlin and Mark Mays.

The wire sculpture came from sculpture class 360. The students who displayed were Malinda Parks, Bill Szabo, Sherri McLaughlin, and Juliet O'Dell.

The paper sculpture was also from sculpture class 360 and was done by Melinda Parks.

SSSO Organization Outline

The Student Social Service Organization (SSSO) is an organization on GSC's campus. Although the SSSO has been here on campus for several years, there are still many people who do not know what the SSSO is all about. The SSSO's membership consists of full and part-time students in the Social Service Technology Program, Bachelors of Social Work Program, and the School Attendance Program. The purpose of this organization is to guide members toward professionalism and an identity with social work.

The SSSO may not appear very visible to some people, nevertheless, the SSSO is a very active organization. This semester the SSSO is currently involved with several special projects. These projects include working with the Special Olympics for the surrounding area's participants, working with the GSC Muscular Dystrophy Week and planning on Easter Egg Hunt for some of the area's pre-school age children. In addition, some of the more common activities which the SSSO is involved with include the Red Cross Blood Drive, entertaining some of Glenville's pre-school age children on certain holidays, and providing GSC with the Student Information and Referral Office (SIRO).

March is the official National Month of Social Workers.

Linksters To Open 1982 Season

For every year since 1972, the Glenville State College Golf Team has either won or placed second in the West Virginia Conference. This season should be no exception.

Coach Tim Carney has five experienced returners and a solid newcomer ready for a bid at the conference championship.

Said Carney, "Davis and Elkins will be the team to beat since they won last year."

The five returners are led by Dave Lamm of Parkersburg, the team's only Senior. Carney remarked, "If Dave has a good year, we can be right there."

Slabaugh and Kurjian were All-Conference selections last season.

The GSC Linksters will begin play at the James Madison University Invitational on March 18 & 19.
