Tournament Hosted

Twelve high schools from across the state will be competing in the fourth annual West Virginia Speech Communication Association Novice Tournament this Saturday, October 16. The event is being hosted by the Glenville State College Forensics Tournament, under the student direction of Lou Davidson.

Eight individual events will be: Extemporaneous Speaking, After-Dinner Speaking, Prose-Poetry Interpretation, Dramatic Interpretation, Impromptu, Dramatic Duo, Original Oratory and Humorous Interpretation; with two classifications of debate: Novice and Varsity.

Those schools participating are Herbert Hoover, Stonewall-Jackson, Hundred, Fayetteville, Winfield, Huntington East, Barboursville, Braxton County, Franklin Jr. High, Parkersburg South and Duval.

The competition, which will be on the GSC campus is being managed by the Forensics team. They will be in charge of judging, tabulating the results and making the schedule.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m. and rounds begin at 9 a.m. There will be an awards ceremony beginning at 6:15 p.m. in the ballroom.

Anyone wishing to help, as timers and gophers are needed, should see Mrs. Bobbi Nicholson this week.

Mrs. Bobbi Nicholson and Lou Davidson prepare for the upcoming Forensic Tournament.

Seniors Plan Recitals

The department of music will present a Senior recital featuring David McDonald, euphonium and Bill Wilkes, trumpet on Sunday, Oct. 17 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium. This is the first such recital given to two years and is presented as a requirement for the Bachelor of Arts degree in Music Education.

Opening is Bill Wilkes on trumpet playing "Sonata VII" by Arcangelo Corelli. He will move through "Preludio," "Sarabande," and "Corrente" before finishing with "Gigue." David McDonald on euphonium will play "Euphonium Concerto;" "Lento" by Joseph Horowitz. Bill Wilkes on trumpet will play "Rustiques" by Eugene Bozza. David will then follow with "Sonata VIII" by Arcangelo Corelli playing through "Prelude," "Allemande," "Sarabande," before closing with "Gigue." Bill will then play "Sonata for Trumpet and Piano" by Thomas Beversdorf beginning with "Allegro Decisivo" and "Largo" before the finish of "Allegro." As the finish of the recital, David McDonald on euphonium will play the "Blue Bells of Scotland" by Arthur Pryor.

The pianist will be Jennine Carpenter and Leesa Holder.

There will be a Variety Show on Oct. 18 sponsored by MENC. Auditions are Oct. 13th and 14th, 6:30 in the Little Theatre.

Variety Show will be at 8 p.m. in the Ballroom. Admissions $1.00.

BOR Releases Statistics

Official enrollment for the 1982 semester at Glenville State College reflects a 10.66 percent decrease in total headcount. This follows on the heels of a record enrollment growth period for the Fall 1981 semester.

Total credit headcount enrollment numbers 1,785 this Fall 1982 semester, as compared to 1,998 for the Fall 1981 semester, for a decrease of 213 students or 10.66 percent.

Dr. William K. Simmons, president of Glenville State College, attributes the decrease in enrollment to three specific areas. "The Board of Regents degree credits has been reduced considerably, and this is the foremost factor of the decrease," said Simmons. "Off-campus enrollment is down, particularly in Nicholas County, where the economic recession is visible. Individuals now think twice about paying $48 for a course." The Nicholas County area also reflects a decrease in enrollment for the West Virginia College of Graduate Studies who services that county for graduate programs.

"Lastly, part of this decrease may be attributed to an extraordinarily outstanding enrollment last fall," he said. "There were certain areas that were not heavily recruited because the maximum enrollment had been reached, particularly in business and music. And there are some areas that we will be heavily recruiting next year—science and math, education, forestry and surveying."

Simmons warns that an excessive enrollment could be critical for the College staff and faculty. "We don't want enrollment in areas we could not handle properly. In several areas, if the enrollment were to continue to increase, we would have to ask for an increase in staff or to limit enrollment," he said.

"Glenville is in a position to serve 1,500 fulltime students," Simmons said. "Going beyond that would stretch our resources. It's not a part of Glenville's philosophy to have classes in excess of 40 students per class. Our goal is quality, and that is what Glenville is noted for."

English Teachers Schedule Seminar

The West Virginia Association of College English Teachers will be holding three instructional sessions on the weekend of October 22 at Jackson's Mill.

Four guest speakers will be on hand Friday, October 22 at 7:00 p.m. Three of these speakers are from small state colleges including David Roberts of Bluefield State College, Madeline Smith of Frostburg State College, and Carol Teaff from West Virginia Northern Community College.

Saturday morning at 9:00 a.m. there will be four more presentations before lunch.

After lunch a session on technical writing will be given and will be considered the highlight of the conference.

Members of the GSC English faculty will attend.

Organization Sponsors Film

Pi Gamma Mu is sponsoring a movie entitled THE RAMPARTS OF CLAY. This movie has been praised for its astounding visual beauty and its sensitivity in revealing one of Africa's intriguing cultures. Comments include, "One of the most sophisticated protest films ever made. Like the Battle of Algiers, it is a re-creation of an actual incident, recalled in a spirit of quiet fury." Time magazine and The Wall Street Journal comment that the film is, "Arresting in its sullen, dark beauty."

An, extraordinary, hauntingly beautiful film."

The Little Theatre will be the place and the times are 7 p.m. and 9 p.m., Monday, October 18 for the showing of this film; admission is FREE.

Jean-Louis Bertucelli directed THE RAMPARTS OF CLAY.

The film is a drama of a young woman unable to accept her menial role in life. She has conflicts with the villages' difficult awakening to their own exploration.

The Ramparts of Clay will be shown Monday, Oct. 18, in the Little Theatre at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Anyone interested in joining a programming committee should meet Monday at 4 p.m. October 18th in the Verona Mapel Room of the Pioneer Center. The purpose of this committee is to plan for activities to get people involved in the Pioneer Center. All students, faculty and staff are encouraged to attend. For further information contact Maria Catlett, Assistant Director of the Pioneer Center.

Taking time out from senior recital practice is Bill Wilkes and David McDonald.

Reality—The Real World

As the 1982 year rapidly approaches its end and 1983 begins to shine through the stormy sky, many students of Glenville State College must begin to prepare for the future. Many of these individuals are seniors who will start their post college years in a cloud of rainy mist.

When we, the students of GSC, step into the working force, the reality of no longer being top dog will drag a few people down from their high pedestal. We have to realize that life is a constant game with competition running high. Unfortunately a few individuals still see themselves as indispensable and all those already in the working force will step aside for his or her new and polished skills. However, this does not occur in reality.

Once we become graduates of Glenville State College, we no longer have advisors to help us with major decisions or parents to pay our bills. We will, at this time, become totally responsible for ourselves if this hasn't already occurred. Life is a game where the fittest shall survive and the fittest are those who blend in and establish good relations with the working force.

Reagan Supports Newspaper Week

(Excerpt from Parkersburg News) - President Reagan paid tribute to the nation's newspaper industry Wednesday, calling it a "foundation of our continued progress as a nation."

Reagan marked next week's observance of National Newspaper Week by issuing a message in which he said a free press "is a cornerstone of our democracy." He added that in countries where the press is controlled by government, "it follows that all human freedoms are limited."

"A free press is, indeed, our key to freedom," Reagan said. "During National Newspaper Week, I join with my fellow Americans in celebrating our free press and in paying tribute to the responsible men and women of the newspaper industry whose dedication and commitment to independent and truthful news reporting and analysis are the foundation of our continued progress as a nation."

I'm sure that most of you have seen headlines concerning "spikers" and "netters" in the sports pages of papers before. Well, in case you still haven't figured out what one is, I'll tell you. A "spiker" is a volleyball player, also known sometimes as a "netter."

In case you're wondering why I'm writing about them, it's because we have them right here on campus. Ours are of the female persuasion.

The Lady Pioneer volleyball team is the only female intercollegiate sport in existence at GSC during the fall. The women, coached by Kay Chico, work hard and have enjoyed some success over the years.

Volleyball is a fast-paced sport which can be very exciting at times. Action at these matches is sometimes unpredictable.

GSC will play at home today at 4 p.m. in the gym. So, if you want a change of pace from football, come on out and watch. I'm sure the girls would appreciate your support. Besides, it's one of the few chances you'll get to see them play.

Lady Pioneers Go 1-1 In Match

The GSC Lady Pioneer volleyball team split a triangular match this past weekend at Shepherd College. GSC defeated Dundalk College (Md.) and lost to Shepherd.

In the first match, the Pioneer women were beaten by Shepherd, 9-15 and 8-15. For Glenville, Leah Marlowe had six total points, Pam Minigh four, Laura Dabney three, Jewell Rankin two, and Wendy Healy and Gina Bailes one each.

The Lady Pioneers surprised nationally-ranked Dundalk in the second match. The scores were 15-10, 9-15, and 15-11. Wendy Healy's ten points paced GSC overall. Gina Bailes had nine, Leah Marlowe eight, Laura Dabney seven, Pam Minigh three, and Jewell Rankin two.

GSC, coached by Kay Chico, has a full slate this week. The ladies will compete in their first home match on Wednesday, Oct. 13 at 4 p.m. in the gym. The opponents are Salem and Alderson-Broaddus. Then, on Thursday, Oct. 14, the women travel to Montgomery for a match with West Virginia Tech.

Linksters Compete In Two Matches

Six members of the Glenville State College golf team have competed in two fall matches and will close out the mini-season with a match this Wednesday.

Coach Tim Carney has his team participating in these fall matches so they can gain experience for the important spring season.

At the DE Invitational on Sept. 23, GSC placed fourth out of ten teams. The Pioneers had a team total of 399 points, 12 points behind the winners.

Gordie Delaat's score of 77 was GSC's best for the day. John Forrest shot 78, Rick Moore 79, Norman Craig 81, Jim Moss 84, and Tom Davisson 85.

On Sept. 27, the Pioneers were 11th of 15 teams in the California State Invitational.

Forrest and Delaat both recorded 83's for GSC. Carney remarked, "We played pretty well in one match and not so good in the other."

Glenville will compete in the West Virginia Intercollegiate match at Huntington on Wednesday..

Standings Listed

After the third week of play, the standings for the Wednesday Night Student League are: first place, B&B (22-2); second place, The Johnston Jaguars and the Terrific Trio (14-10); third place, Tonkins' Tokers (10-14); and fourth place, Funny Farm and the Steamrollers (6-18).

The top three high games for the men were: Bill Weigel, 183; Joe Varrella, 182 and Anthony Cochran, 176. The top three high games for the women were: Susan Johnston, 131; Andrea Clifton, 121; and, Crystal Loudin, 109. The top three high individual series goes to: Bill Weigel, 470, Anthony Cochran, 473; and Joe Varrella, 419.

High team series as well as high team series with handicap goes to the Terrific Trio, with 446 and 638, respectively.

Any team interested in men's intramurals should have a representative at the meeting on Thursday, Oct. 14. The meeting will begin at 6 p.m. in room 206 of the Health Building. If a team has no representative at the meeting, no complaints will be heard from them.

Women's Basketball Intramural Rosters are due Oct. 29 to Mindy Parks, Dean Bach, Shelley Tharp or Annetta Haddox. Teams and schedule will be posted Monday, November 1 and practices may be held that week. Games begin on Monday, November 8.

Senior Steve Williams pulls in one of his five catches as a Mercyhurst defender closes in for the tackle.

Mercyhurst Defeats Glenville, 12-10

Glenville State College's Pioneer football team lost another heartbreaker last weekend to Mercyhurst. The Lakers, who squeaked out a win over GSC last season in nearly the same fashion, scored two touchdowns in the second half to overcome a 10-0 Pioneer lead, and win by 12-10. GSC mistakes led to both Mercyhurst scores.

Byron Brook's fifth touchdown of the season got Glenville on the scoreboard first. Brooks' score was a one-yard run. Jim Weidemoyer added the extra point for a 7-0 lead before half.

Weidemoyer, a freshman, kicked his third field goal of the season, a 33-yarder, to push GSC's margin to 10-0 in the third period.

Mercyhurst rallied with two touchdowns, one in the third quarter and one in the fourth frame, to clinch their third win of the season.

Total offensive yardage was close for the contest. Mercyhurst gained 196 yards, and GSC had 188 yards.

Byron Brooks gained 71 yards on 32 carries. Dale West added 30 yards on nine carries. Jeff Metheny was 6 for 14 for 75 yards and three interceptions in the passing department. Steve Williams snared five passes for 56 yards.

Andy Marchal and John Atkins were in on ten tackles each to lead GSC's defense. Marchal recorded two fumble recoveries and a quarterback sack. Mark Hash added nine tackles and Terry. Kendall and Mike Payne had eight each. Bernie Bertus had an interception.

GSC, now 2-3-1, will play Salem College this Saturday night at Pioneer Stadium. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

If anyone has been out to the band's practice field on Vanhorn Drive, he is greeted with the sight of an observation tower. This tower, paid for by Mr. Gene Stalnaker, who donated labor and materials, was built for the GSC Pioneer Band. This will enable Mr. McKinney to observe the band and help with their formations. We thank Mr. Stalnaker for his donation.

Losing Advice From Kyle Clinic

In this week's column, the Kyle Clinic has provided us with some information about how to watch our weight and how to eat the right foods. The nutrition specialist at the Kyle Clinic is Beth Brooks.

"You are what you eat." As many times as we have heard this statement, there is truth to it. If we eat healthy foods, we are going to be healthy, and if we eat junk food, we are going to be more unhealthy. Since college cafeteria food isn't like mom's at home, many of us have turned to those junk foods like potato chips and cookies, etc.

Just to show the calories that are involved with junk foods, here are some of the foods most of us munch and their calories: eight potato chips, a two-ounce hamburger without the bun or extras, six saltine crackers, or one half of a doughnut have one hundred empty calories. One twelve ounce can of beer has two hundred empty calories.

An empty calorie is a calorie that has less nutritive value than a regular calorie. Calories are about the same in nutritious foods, but they have more nutrients and they are better for you.

"Eat the calories that are good for you," commented Beth Brooks. One should stick to the basic foods from the four basic food groups.

Diets should be a way of life and not restrictive. A diet is changing your eating habits and being comfortable with those habits. To watch your weight and to increase your health, follow the information and eat the right foods.

Persons wishing to seek more information may call Beth Brooks at the Kyle Clinic to set up an appointment individually or with a group. Exercise programs and diet counseling can be provided, also.
