Trillium Plans Year

All Glenville State College students are encouraged to submit poems and short stories for publication in the spring issue of the TRILLIUM. The deadline for submitting material is November 12, 1982.

The advisor to the TRILLIUM is Martha Keating. She will be accepting material in her office, located in the English Department. Should Mrs. Keating be unavailable, material can be left with the department secretary, Mrs. Denise Ellyson.

There are no requirements pertaining to form. Work may be fiction or non-fiction, but many writers use personal experience as a foundation for their literary expression. All work will be given equal consideration, but the editor would like to see some humor in the next TRILLIUM which is due for printing during March, 1982.

Authors are encouraged to follow-up their material from acceptance to final corrections by visiting with the editor, Room 306, Administration Building, Monday through Friday, 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. The editor will also be available from 12:30 to 1:30 on Tuesday and Thursday.

Librarians Attend Seminar

Dr. David M. Gillespie, Library Director, and Charles A. Julian, Reference Librarian, were active participants in the 67th Annual Conference of the West Virginia Library Association held at the Holiday Inn, Charleston, October 11-13. The theme of the conference was, "Fighting Inflation with Information" and sessions dealt with cost effectiveness, publicity and promotion, political awareness, continuing education, popular culture, micro-computers, and other topics germane to the library and information science area.

Gillespie led a workshop entitled, "How to Find It Even Though You Didn't Know That You Lost It."

Gillespie stressed the need for local indexing projects and offered suggestions for types of indexing which could be done. He is a past president of the West Virginia Library Association and served during 1979-80.

As Chairman of the Junior Members Round Table (JMRT) and

Secretary of the College and University Section, Julian was responsible for many of the organizational activities of the conference. Along with the Chairman of the School Library Section, he presided at a workshop on publicity and promotion entitled, "Pretend the People of Your Community Are Iron Filings and Your Library Is the Magnet." Julian conducted the business meeting held by JMRT and oversaw the election of new section officers. Additionally, he compiled the corrections and revisions edition of the College and University Section's Annual Directory which was distributed during the conference at the Section's business meeting.

At the Second General Session, WVLA President Ellen Wilkerson announced the new officers. They include; Second Vice-President, Charles A. Julian of Glenville State College.

Pamphlets Win Awards

The West Virginia Association of Student Personal Administrators (WVASPA) held its annual Fall Conference Oct. 18 and 19 at Oglebay Park in Wheeling, WV.

Diane Bach, Associate Dean of Student Affairs, was the co-ordinator of the Resource Room and the Publications Competition. Eleven schools in the state submitted 146 publications for consideration. There were 10 areas of competition: Admissions, Career Planning and Placement, Counseling, Financial Aid, Housing and Residence Life, Special Student Services, Student Activities and Programming, Student Handbooks, Student /Greek Organizations, and Orientation.

Six of the eleven schools received awards and GSC won 2 certificates. The Panhellenic Council's Joint Rush Brochure won in the area of the Student/Greek Organizations. Also, the Freshman Information Guide published by the Student Congress was selected as the best publication in the area of Orientation.

GSC was represented at the conference by students, Bill Belcher, Sandi Gainer, Annetta Haddox, and Bill Szabo, and GSC staff members Dianne Bach, Bob Dinkler, Janet Gainer, and Shirley Williams.

Bring your validated ID and ticket with you to the Maynard Ferguson concert October 26, in the auditorium.

Interview Day Set

Education Interview Day for Teacher Education Graduates has been set up for Tuesday, October 26, in the Ballroom from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. This day is arranged for those grads to be interviewed by different schools across the state.

Representatives from 16 West Virginia counties have been invited to interview those students who signed up to participate. Those who will not be involved will remain in their student teaching stations.

This day is mostly participated by December graduates. Another Interview Day will be scheduled for Spring.

A luncheon will be given for those representatives in the Verona Maple Room from 12 p.m. to 1 p.m.

Lou Davidson and Raeleen McMillion prepare for the upcoming play production of "Barefoot In the Park" which can be viewed November 11, 12, 13 in the Auditorium of the Administration Building.

WVU Rep. Schedules Visit

Representatives of the West Virginia University College of Law will be on campus, October 28, (2:00 -4:30 pm) to meet with students interested in attending law school upon graduation from Glenville State College. Students will have an opportunity to talk with representatives of the law school at an open meeting to be held in the Vandalia Room.

The WVU College of Law was founded in 1878 and is nationally accredited by the American Bar Association and the Association of American Law Schools. The faculty are young and energetic providing diversity in expertise which allows the College to offer a student a variety of educational opportunities. The law school is gaining national recognition for its work in the area of energy law and labor law as it relates to the energy field. The College's graduates can be found throughout the United States and in all areas of practice.

"Our purpose in coming to Glenville State College is to talk about the study of law generally and to talk about the academic programs at the College of Law. We urge anyone interested in attending law school whatever the academic rank might be to take time to visit with us. As a result we hope that they will be better able to prepare themselves for law school." D. Lyn Dotson, Assistant Dean & Director of Admissions.

Students not able to attend the meeting but interested in obtaining additional information should write to the Admissions Office, West Virginia University College of Law, Morgantown, WV 26506.

Candidate To Speak

William Hovland, socialist candidate for the United States Senate, will be a guest speaker sponsored by Pi Gamma Mu on Monday, Oct. 25 at 7 p.m. in the Verona Maple Room.

Mr. Hovland, who is running against Robert Byrd and Cleve Benedict on the Republican ticket, is a Morgantown resident and a coal miner in Phillipi. The purpose for his visit is to help inform the voters on the candidates and where he himself stands.

The public is invited to attend.

There are a limited number of student, staff and faculty tickets available for the Maynard Ferguson Concert, Oct. 26, in the Auditorium. Ticket validation is being conducted in the Public Relations Office, 102 Pioneer Center. Valid ID required. General Admission tickets are also available for $5 each. Concert is almost a sellout, so get your tickets today.

Just Another Cliche

Everyday as idle conversation passes through our lips we never stop to realize how many cliches we use and how ridiculous they sound. Have you ever wondered what it would be like to bear the weight of the world on your shoulders or to be a cherry in the bowl of life? How often have you used these examples in your conversation?

For those of you who are steadily dating, remember that a bed of roses could be a little thorny or quiet candle light dinner could turn into a raging inferno, to say the least. If it takes two to tango, does it take three to twango?

Does the cliche "somedays you get the bear and other days the bear gets you," ring a bell? I often wonder who in their right mind would want to get a bear, but who's to say!

We all know that certain baseball pitchers couldn't hit the broadside of a barn and it really doesn't rain cats and dogs. I personally could never visualize cats and dogs falling out of storm clouds! Oh the thought of it! Have you ever counted your chickens before they hatch? What if all the eggs were spoiled, now wouldn't that be a smelly situation.

Has the thought of being tickled pink ever struck your fancy or has someone ever got your goat? I want to know, for my own reference, what it's like to be cute as a bug's ear or as ugly as homemade sin. Could somebody with a lick of sense please explain this to me!

Now that I have totally confused you, and I am at a loss for words, I have only one last statement to make: "What does all this have to do with the price of tea in China?"

Congress To Hold Forum

Complaining seems to be a major pastime here at GSC. Of course complaining isn't the term used to describe what is said about absence policies, tests, cafeteria food, etc.

If you should happen to have a complaint dealing with the campus, whether it be the cafeteria, teacher-student relations, absence policies, or publications (MERCURY and KANAWHA-CHEN), Student Congress is interested.

Student Congress? Who? What? Congress is a group of students elected by the student body to formulate student policies. Purposes of Student Congress include promotion of general student activities, constituting a medium for expressing the opinion of the students, and strengthening relations between administration, faculty, students, and community.

Congress is having a Student Forum for students to voice complaints as well as suggestions on Thursday, October 28 at 12:30 in the Vandalia Room. If you care about changes at GSC, be there; if not, don't worry about it.

GSC Blasts Salem, 28-3; Brooks Gains 234 Yards

The GSC Pioneer football team, powered by Byron Brooks' running and good team defensive effort, stomped the winless Salem Tigers by a 28-3 margin in West Virginia Conference grid action at Glenville Saturday. The victory in the game, played before a mass of shivering Pioneer fans, moved GSC to 3-3-1 (2-2-1 in the WVC) and snapped a three-game losing skid.

Brooks, a sophomore tailback, piled up 234 yards and three touchdowns in 32 carries to lead GSC's offensive attack. During the game, Brooks reached the magic 1,000-yard rushing plateau for the season. Brooks' 234-yard total, his third 200-yard game of the season, put him at 1,006 yards with three games remaining on the schedule.

Glenville's scores came on runs of five, two, and 85 yards by Brooks, and on a 24-yard pass from Jeff Metheny to Steve Williams, his second scoring catch of the season. Overall, Metheny was 4-8 for 74 yards and one score after not starting the game. Williams caught three for 46 yards.

GSC gained 393 yards (312 rushing, 81 passing), while Salem had only 217 total yards (126 passing, 91 rushing).

Linksters Finish Season

Three members of the GSC golf team recorded scores of 76 as the Pioneers placed fourth out of eight teams at the West Virginia Intercollegiate Golf Championship at Huntington last Wednesday. The match concluded the fall season for Coach Tim Carney's team.

Norman Craig, Tom Davisson and John Forrest all shot rounds of 76 to Freshman Jim Weidemeyer was a perfect 4-4 in PATs, making him 10-10 on the season.

While the Pioneer offense was moving the ball pretty effectively under Metheny's direction, the GSC defense was doing a good job of stifling the Salem offensive attack. An inspiring goal-line stand in the first period which prevented the Tigers from tying the game, plus constant pressure on the entire Salem backfield throughout the contest, proved instrumental in thwarting any serious threats.

Terry Kendall and Mark Hash led GSC's defensive effort. Kendall totaled seven tackles, six assists, a blocked pass, and a quarterback sack. Hash had two interceptions, a fumble recovery, and was in on seven tackles.

Also, Rod Abrams was in on ten tackles, Andy Marchal had eight stops, Fred Parsons had three quarterback sacks, David Darst had two sacks and a fumble recovery, and Mike Payne nabbed an interception.

The Pioneers of Coach Frank Vincent have another WVC encounter this weekend. They travel to Buckhannon for a 1:30 p.m. game with West Virginia Wesleyan on Saturday.

lead GSC to a total team score of 305. Rick Moore was close behind with a 77, and Jim Moss shot a round of 84.

Coach Carney was pleased with his team's play. He noted, "Our guys played well. We gained some good experience. Fairmont and D&E will be tough next spring, but we'll be right there."

Rosters for men's intramural team swimming should be turned in to Gary Nottingham by 3 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 25.

Team competition will be held on three or four separate nights. A team should consist of no more than 12 persons, with each individual being allowed to perform in as many as three individual events and two relay events. A team can enter no more than three persons in each event.

An exhibition basketball game between the Chinese National Olympic Team and the GSC Men's Team will be played on Nov. 1 at 7:30 pm in the Glenville gym.

Admission will be $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for students. No passes will be honored.

Two fraternities, Theta Xi and TKE, played yesterday in the first round of the Commode Bowl. The winner will play Lambda Chi Alpha in the championship game next Tuesday, Oct. 26 at 6 pm, at the old football field.

Women's Basketball Intramural Rosters are due Oct. 29 to Mindy Parks, Dean Bach, Shelley Tharp or Annetta Haddox. Teams and schedule will be posted Monday, November 1 and practices may be held that week.

Runners Split In Meet

Two good showings in meets last week moved the GSC cross country team closer to its goal of winning the West Virginia Conference Championship on Nov. 5.

On Wednesday, Oct. 13 the Pioneers ran in a dual meet with West Virginia Tech at Oak Hill. Then, on Saturday, Oct. 16 GSC competed in a triangular meet with Morehead State and Marshall University at Huntington.

Glenville trounced Tech by a 16-47 score to raise its WVC mark to 13-3 on the season. The 5-mile race, contested on the course that the WVC Championship will be run on, was run under extremely muddy conditions.

Larry Taylor continued to finish as GSC's top man, running 28:04 to lead the Pioneers to the top four places and seven of the top eight.

Billy Belcher, the team's captain, was second in 30:32. Ed Iseli placed third in 31:22. Fourth with a time of 31:39 was Steve Keenan. Fifth for GSC and sixth overall was Mark Price in 32:26. Pat Godfrey and Chris Keister both finished in 33:00 to tie for seventh place.

The Pioneers were up against much stiffer competition on Saturday but fared well despite the fact that Ed Iseli couldn't finish the race due to a case of shin splints.

GSC scored 53 points, second to Marshall's 21 and ahead of Morehead's 56.

Again, Taylor paced the Pioneers' effort. The St. Marys junior recorded a time of 25:27 for the flat, fast 5-mile course. He was second overall.

Belcher, a senior, held on to GSC's No. 2 spot with a time of 26:58, good enough for tenth overall.

Keenan placed 11th in 27:36, Keister was 13th in 28:07, and Godfrey was 17th in 28:50. Glenville's two non-scoring runners, Mark Price and Steve Roberts, finished in 30:10 and 31:00, respectively.

The Pioneers will not see any action until Oct. 26, when they compete against West Virginia State and West Virginia Tech in a triangular meet, the final one before the WVC meet on Nov. 5.

GSC Netters Compete

GSC's women's volleyball team competed in a triangular match and a dual match last weekend.

The triangular match, a home outing for GSC, involved Glenville, Salem, and Alderson-Broaddus. A-B beat the Lady Pioneers, 3-15 and 5-15, while Salem downed GSC, 9-15 and 8-15.

Pam Minigh and Jewell Rankin both scored six points for GSC. Gina Bailes added five, and Wendy Healy and Laura Dabney scored four each.

In the dual match with West Virginia Tech, a three-out-of-five series, the Lady Pioneers of Coach Kay Chico captured three straight games to emerge victorious. The scores were 15-3, 15-6, and 15-5.

The women will play in a triangular with A-B and West Liberty today and in another triangular match on Oct. 22 with Fairmont and Shepherd. Then, on Oct. 26, GSC will host a quadrangular match beginning at 1 p.m. in the gym.

From The Wesley Foundation

The Coffee House for Oct. 21, will feature Ms. Susan DeBremaecker speaking concerning the church's role in the nuclear arms race. Ms. DeBremaecker graduated from Rice University, Houston, Texas. She received her Masters of Divinity at Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley, California. She is involved in a statewide effort to foster public awareness of and sensitivity to the complex nature of the arms race as it affects our society at all levels.

The regular Sunday Evening Worship Service will meet at 8 p.m. in the chapel. Everyone is urged to attend.

We still need volunteers to help with the Community Help Project. Please donate some time to a good cause. The pay is great -- self-satisfaction!!

Did you know that there were five campus ministries in the State? Besides Glenville, there are facilities at Fairmont State, West Liberty State College, Marshall, and WVU. All are actively involved in the life of the campus. Each minister fulfills the following functions: 1) Priestly Duties: weddings, funerals, worship services. 2) Pastoral Duties: counseling and pastoral conversations and visitation. 3) Prophetic: assistance and advocacy for students, faculty or minorities. 4) Administrative: maintaining facilities, making reports and helping committees.

There will be an important yearbook meeting, Wednesday evening at 6:30 pm, in the Mercury Office. All interested students are welcome.

Work on layout and design, theme preparation and the cover will be done.

Church Makes Donation To GSC

The Roanoke United Methodist Church of Lewis County has made a $20,000 donation for scholarships to aid and assist United Methodist Students at Glenville State College from Lewis County. A preference will be given to those students who attend rural churches.

The donation will provide approximately three to five tuition scholarships yearly. The awards will be made from the $20,000 on the interest accrued. Selection will be based on committee selected by the President of Glenville State College consisting of two staff or faculty members and one member of the United Methodist Church in Lewis County.

The $20,000 donation was presented by R.M. Martin of Walkersville, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the church. Martin said that, "The donation was given because so many students from Lewis County attend Glenville State College."

The Roanoke United Methodist Church is being dissolved due to the Stonewall Jackson Dam project and dispersing donations to various churches. Glenville State College is the only college to receive a donation from the Roanoke United Methodist Church.

Freshman Thoughts

As a freshman I have been through some very different experiences during my first eight weeks as a Glenville State College student. But, I think I am about to go through an experience that will make me an official college student. Mid-terms are the experience and they are coming up. I am panic-stricken and scared half out of my mind.

From high school to college it is an enormous change and along with it comes the enormous change of studying habits and exams. I am used to studying about an hour or two for a chapter test or a fill-in-the-blank test. At college, I am adjusting myself to studying about four to eight hours for a test covering about four or five chapters or an essay exam that requires more than a fill-in-the-blank answer. Hard adjustments to make.

However, I have to spend four years here and that means that I will have to go through mid-terms eight times. And let us not forget finals. Eight times with finals too!! I'm not going to make it. Let's look on the positive side, if I do make it through mid-terms and I think that maybe I will, I will be scared and panic-stricken again about finals.

As a freshman, I have to go through this for the first time and I am experienced! I will make it and when I make it through these (mid-term and finals) I will be an official college student. Afterall, everyone goes through it, only it is my first time and once I go through it, I won't have to be frightened or scared to death. I will just be a little shakey when those mean mid-terms and furious finals roll around the next time.
