GSC Sponsors Historical Meet

Glenville State College hosted the 24th Annual Meeting of the West Virginia Historical Association this past weekend. Eleven different colleges and universities were represented by the 26 professors in attendance.

The opening session on Friday evening began with registration and dinner followed by the guest lecturer, United States Ambassador, Christopher Van Hollen. Dr. Van Hollen has had over 25 years of government relations experience. He served formerly as the American Ambassador and Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Near Eastern and South Asian Affairs. Presently Van Hollen is a senior associate at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and Chairman of the Islam Centennial Fourteen.

Dr. Van Hollen's topic was "Americans in the Persian Gulf: the Carter Doctrine and the Reagan Corollary." He divided his talks into four parts: 'What was the situation that involved America in the Persian Gulf area,' 'How have the American responded to the situation,' 'What are some contemporary issues in the area,' and 'What are some answers or goals for America's future involvement.'

New KDP Initiates Honored at Banquet

April 21, at six o'clock Kappa Delta Pi held its annual spring initiation banquet. The theme for this year's banquet was "World of the Child." President Cindy Stewart welcomed and recognized the initiates. They include: June Allison Skaggs, Guy Boggs, Shirley Mason, Pam Minigh, Carolyn Riffle, William Wilkes, Dan Braud, Donna Hardman, Tak Sun Won, Sylvia K. Lambert, Jeanetta Mick, Ranay Hibbs, Jim Scritchfield, and Janine Howley.

A group invocation - "A Prayer for the Children" - composed by Kappa members preceded dinner. The program for the evening included entertainment by Pam Perry singing, "We Celebrate The Child," and a KDP message from President-elect George Stansberry with a backdrop of children's art from Paden City Middle School. Other officers for the 83-84 term include Vice-President Sabrena Watson, Secretary/Treasurer Tammy Crane and Historian Carl Watson.

Annual Art Exhibit Now In Progress

The Art Department would like to announce its Sixth Annual Scholastic Art Exhibition for high school students now going on in the Ballroom. Hours are 9 to 3 daily and Wednesday evening 5 to 8 p.m. Friday, April 29 is the closing of the exhibition and all participating high schools are invited to attend for awards presentation at 1 p.m. Also, the Art Department would like to announce its annual Faculty Show held in conjunction with the high school show. The Art Faculty Show is in the Vandalia Room, with hours 11 to 2 Monday-Thursday, and 9 to 3 on Friday, April 29. You are invited to come and look at the fine work of some of the talented high school students in our state.

Concert Planned for May 1

Two works will comprise the annual Spring Concert of the Glenville State College Choir on Sunday evening, May 1. The program will be presented in the College Auditorium at 8 p.m.

The two works are THE HUNDREDTH PSALM by Ralph Vaughan Williams and Gabriel Faure's REQUIEM. The Vaughan Williams work is a sectionalized work with typical Vaughan Williams melodies and his straightforward harmonization. It is one of his early choir festival works written in 1929. Faure wrote his REQUIEM in 1886-87 in memory of his father. It was premiered in Paris the following year. Blom calls it touchingly lovely. The work is scored for choir with soprano and baritone solos. It has been further characterized as being restrained with harmonic subtleties, expressive variety, and sheer beauty.

Soloists for Sunday night's performance will be Pamela Perry, soprano from Cutler, OH, and Scott Kitchen, baritone from Marietta, OH. Leesa Holder of Belpre, OH will be the accompanist. Dr. Raymond Jones will conduct the performance.

GSC Represented at Confab.

Five professors from Glenville State College attended the Conference on the Role of Business and Industry in American Life, co-sponsored by The Humanities Foundation of West Virginia and West Virginia University: James Hinter, Lawrence Stahlberg, Owen Stanley, I.D. Talbott, and Barbara W. Tedford. Held in Charleston April 21-22, the conference stressed the theme "Business and the humanities working together for the future."

Major speakers included David Belle-Isle, Director of Organization Development for the Martin-Marietta Corporation; Michael Novak, internationally known scholar and author of "The Spirit of Democratic Capitalism;" and Rene Zentner, Associate Dean of the Law Center at the University of Houston.

Conference participants could attend eight sessions on the following topics: "Business and the Cultural Life of a Community," "Enrichment Programs for Employees," "Exploring Markets and Foreign Investment," "Selecting and Developing Tomorrow's Managers and Employees," "Employees Responding to Change," "Deregulation: A Step Forward or Backward?" "Reaganomics and Corporate Philanthropy," and "The Basic Question of Business Ethics."

There were some 200 participants from colleges, universities, businesses, and industries from across the country.

Any current freshman or sophomore seeking a major or minor in physical education, see Mr. Tim Carney, chairman of the division, before leaving campus.

All seniors graduating in May should pick up their cap and gown immediately in 102 Pioneer Center between 9 am and 3 pm. The last day to pick up caps and gowns is May 6.

There will be an honors recital at 3pm in the Aud. May 1.

Semester Drags To A Close

Three more weeks to graduation, the end of the semester! And it is evident by the attitudes on campus. Class attendance has dropped, students are late for turning in papers and the dates on the calendar are being X-ed in red. School's almost out! But what has the student body accomplished.

Editorials, class discussions and even the student get-togethers all have a familiar ring, "Student apathy is at an all-time high." In my four years at GSC, this has been the worst, participation-wise. It seems students are more content to sit in their rooms, doing nothing. About the only activity that catches students' interest is beer parties and dances.

Not that these parties are bad. But, these types of activities are not conducive to a higher education. It is sad that so many cultural activities go unattended. As it looks now, many really wonderful organizations and activities will be shelved because of lack of interest.

Please, get involved. This college is a STUDENT oriented school, not an advisor or administrative-oriented school. The more a person gets involved, the more leadership qualities, the more knowledge and the better adjusted you will become. College is more than "book learning," it's also learning to get along with people, learning about life. It's time more people took advantage of that, though there are no credit hours involved.

Letters To The Editor

Let it never be said that Glenville State College doesn't lend itself to proficient speakers. On Friday, April 22, in the Little Theater, there was an address heard that was at once eloquently stated, applicable to current geopolitics, and, in short, professionally prepared and delivered. Former diplomat, Ambassador Christopher Van Hollen, addressed a small audience on the subject - "The Persian Gulf: The Carter Doctrine; The Reagan Corollary."

I would like to thank Dr. John Hymes, professor of history at Glenville State College, and the West Virginia Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu for sponsoring this enlightening event. I look forward to more of the same in the future.

*Thanks again,
Stevan Ezratty*

It has been some time since Glenville State College formally sponsored a series of lectures. This year the Speakers Bureau was established with the objective of procuring nationally-known lecturers who would be willing to visit our campus.

On March 21, John Holt presented his views on home schooling and alternative methods of education. ABC news correspondent Irv Chapman related his wordly experiences to faculty and students during a visit on April 12. Both speakers' presentations evoked discussing among those in attendance.

A huge vote of thanks must be accorded to those who helped get the two speakers on campus. Without funding from the Cultural Affairs Committee, payment to these men would not have been possible. Divisional representatives and members of the student body served on the Bureau and grappled with the selection process. Linda McKown and Bobbi Nicholson were instrumental in providing lighting assistance and graciously cooperated with facility scheduling. Nasia Butcher expertly handled arrangements with the programming agency, provided transportation, and coordinated publicity efforts.

The Speakers Bureau was caught in a time crunch this year which prevented members from advance planning of lectures. Next year should offer a better opportunity for planning in relation to timing and facilities. For those who supported this year's program, I encourage your continued attendance next year.

*Sincerely,
Charles A. Julian, Chairman
SPEAKERS BUREAU*

From The Wesley Foundation

The Wesley Foundation Picnic HAS BEEN CHANGED TO MONDAY, May 2nd, from 4 p.m. - 7 p.m. at Cedar Creek Park.

A sign-up sheet is in the main room of the Foundation building for those who like to attend. Food and refreshments will be provided. We'll gather at 4 p.m. in the Wesley Foundation and go together. Everyone is welcome!!!

keenan's korner

Athletic teams at GSC are in the critical stages of their seasons right now. The baseball, golf and tennis squads will have their last regular season competition this week and will head into conference play at the beginning of next week. The men's and women's track teams will host the GSC Invitational this Saturday and will conclude their seasons by hosting the WVIAC meet next weekend.

Students will get a chance to view these teams this week, with the exception of the golf team. In the case of the baseball team and the tennis team, it is the final season of competition, so you better see them while you can.

Every one of the teams has the ability to do well in conference competition and, based on some of the results so far this season, some of the other conference schools could be in for a surprise.

So, check the schedule and get out and support the teams as much as possible this week. Good luck to all players and coaches.

Women Edge Wesleyan

Last Wednesday, the Lady Pioneers travelled to West Virginia Wesleyan for a track meet and came back victorious by a score of 66-64.

In both the discus and shot put events, Poncho Richards captured first place as Marilyn Carpenter took second. Richards also placed third in the javelin competition. In the two mile run, Mary Davis won first place while Glenda Taylor placed second.

The 440-yard relay team, consisting of Carol Wilson, Laura Dabney, Mary Davis, and Pam Carson, took first place. Sharon Hayes took first place with Mary Davis placing third in the 880-yard run. Hayes also took first place in the 440-yard running event with June Casto capturing third place.

Pam Carson took first place honors in the 100-yard dash and second place in the 220-yard run.

Lady Pioneers Top Intramural Stars

In a game sponsored by the GSC Classified Staff last Tuesday, the GSC Lady Pioneers edged the women's intramural all-stars by a 60-55 score.

The Lady Pioneers, led by ten points each by Kim Maynard and Bunny Taylor, built up a 39-26 lead at half and fought off a second-half rally by the intramural stars.

Taylor finished with 14 points, and Maynard scored 12. Also, Robin Phipps and Maria Lothes had eight each, Sonja Bailey had six, Cathy Starcher and Janice Hensley had five each, and Tina Burkhamer had two.

Pam Minigh poured in 27 points to pace the intramural stars. Judy Niday added six, Clarita Evans and Sherry Poland had five each, Shelly Sharp and Angie Mitchell had four each, and Sue Ann Reed and Addie Holcomb scored two each. Also participating for the intramural squad were Lisa Pleasants, Tammy O'Dell, Jill Burkhammer and April Powell.

Golfers Place Fifth

With the season winding down, the GSC golf squad participated in three matches last week. At presstime only the results of two of the matches were available.

At the California State (PA) Invitational on Monday, the Glenville linksters were eighth of 14 teams with a team total of 419 strokes. Gannon won with 383 strokes.

Gordie Delaat had a good day for Glenville. His round of 76 tied him for third place in the tourney. Also, Rick Moore shot 83, John Forrest 85, Charlie Moss 86, and Tom Davisson and Norman Craig 89.

Later in the week, Tim

Anyone interested in helping with the GSC Invitational track meet Saturday, April 30 should contact Jerry Milliken by Thursday.

Netters Beat D&E

The GSC tennis team won its final match before the WVC tournament by defeating Davis and Elkins, 7-2, on Monday at Glenville. For GSC, all six singles players won their matches against Davis and Elkins, as did the number one doubles team.

Also, last week, Gary Nottingham's squad competed in several other matches. West Virginia State defeated GSC, 7-2, and West Virginia Tech was victorious over the Pioneers, 5-4. Finally, Wheeling beat GSC, 7-2.

Top performers for the Pioneers throughout the matches were Pat Mollohan, John Waldeck and Bill Welch.

This Thursday, April 28, the Pioneers will begin competition in the WVIAC tournament.

Swim Meet Held

The first Women's Intramural Swim meet was held April 20, 1983. Participants included Sherry Miliser, taking first place; LouEllen Wentz, second. Arnie Headley, third; Hope Freibert; Judy Chisler; Terry Mullooly; and Kim Miller. Events included Frog Crawl, Wheel Chair, Freestyle, Backstroke, Butterfly, Diving, and three-women relay teams.

Special thanks goes to Mrs. Chico, Dr. Hymes, Craig Williams and Melisa Lowther for all their help.

Spring Drills Conclude

If spring football drills are a good indicator, GSC will have a good football team next year. The annual, 15-day practice period concluded Saturday with an intra-squad scrimmage game, won by the defense.

Frank Vincent, entering his fourth year as head coach of the Pioneers, remarked, "We were pleased with our overall performance, especially considering the bad weather. Everyone displayed a good, positive attitude. We found out who wanted to play."

A total of 54 players participated in this year's spring drills.

For those seniors who did not order Commencement announcements, there are extras in the Bookstore. First come, first served--37 cents each!

Male Thinclads Nip Bobcats

The GSC Pioneer men's track team squeaked by West Virginia Wesleyan, 71-70, in a dual meet at Buckhannon last Wednesday. The Pioneers totalled ten first-place finishes in the meet, which wasn't decided until the final event, the pole vault, was completed. GSC gained first and third place in that deciding event.

Winning events for GSC were: Trent King - pole vault and high jump; Ed Iseli - mile and three-mile; Gary Brissey - 110 high hurdles and 440 intermediate hurdles; Dave Darst - shot put; Mark Price - 880-yard run; Lloyd Willis - long jump; and the mile relay team.

Also, Donnie Howell and

Dave Husk were second and third in the discus; King was second in the javelin; Chuck McKnight was second in the 440-yard run; Willis was third in the 100 and 220 dashes; Price was second in the mile; Mike Long was third in the 440 intermediate hurdles; John Henline was third in the pole vault; and Chris Keister was third in the 880-yard run.

The Pioneer squad will compete in its last two meets at the GSC track. This Saturday, April 30, the GSC Invitational will be held, beginning at 10 a.m. Then, on Saturday and Sunday, May 7 and 8, Glenville will host the WVIAC championships.

Baseballers Drop 3 of 4

Losing three of four games last week dropped the baseball team's record to 7-10 with only four games left on the schedule.

Starting on Tuesday, the Pioneers dropped a conference double-header to West Virginia State. They lost the first game 15-12 despite consecutive homeruns by Randy Edge, Jay Fiber, and Kenny Golden. Edge finished the game with three hits, two homers and seven runs batted in. Junior southpaw, Mike Lilly, picked up the loss.

The second game went eight innings with Golden picking up the loss. At the plate, Golden collected three hits - a single, double, and homerun. Jeff Metheny scored two runs and hit a homerun, and Fiber knocked in three RBI's.

Marietta, a non-conference foe, was next as the baseballers lost again 12-6. Edge had a homerun and three RBI's, and Metheny collected two hits in the losing effort.

At home last Saturday, Golden held West Liberty to three hits as he struck out eight batters in leading the Pioneers to victory, 4-3. The game was won in the final inning with a three-run rally. Bill Del Prince tripled in two runs and Metheny singled him in for the game-winner.

The baseballers close out their schedule with a game at Shepherd today, and another at home with Davis and Elkins College on Saturday. At the present time they are fifth in the conference and need to be in fourth place to qualify for playoff action.

Clinic Discusses Emotional Difficulties

According to Dr. James Kyle of Kyle Clinic, 40% of the illnesses seen in a doctor's office are not physical but due to emotional difficulties. An example, pain complaints are much worse because of a psychological overlay, which is when the patient interprets pain being very severe. Dr. Kyle described healthiness as a triangle, or a balance between physical, emotional, and mental health. When this triangle is broken many feel that there is a physical problem, when it could be an emotional or mental problem.

Dr. Kyle stated that a less percentage of students need psychological tuning, which is an objective evaluation by one's peers of professionals. However, some students get their psychological tuning while at home and others do not.

At Kyle Clinic, there is a Summit Center for Human Development. This center helps people cope with their problems in living through a full range of education, prevention and treatment services. Students of GSC can use this center if they're having problems of adjusting to changes. According to Dr. Kyle, "Suicide is the second cause of death in the college age group—accidents are the first."

The Center is staffed with director, Don Voytish; psychologist, Holly Maynard; count case worker; Mary Exline; and secretary, Lucy Ann West. Records are strictly confidential at the Center. As of May 1, Dr. Kyle will be the staff physician. Summit Center is located at the lower floor of Kyle Clinic and this service is available by appointment only. Financial fees can be given by calling the Center. Office hours are Monday through Friday from 8:30 am to 4:30 pm. The Center also provides an emergency hotline for people in need of help at 1-800-352-3869. Dr. Kyle commented, "The Summit Center has valuable services that have not been utilized."

DORM ELECTIONS HELD

Last week, elections for new residence hall officers took place at Louis Bennett Hall. Each member of the dorm voted by secret ballot last Wednesday afternoon.

Steve Keenan, a junior English major from Gauley Bridge, W.V., was elected as president. Walt Marria was elected vice-president and he is a senior Forestry major from Charleston. Sophomore Business Administration major, Jeff Propps, will be the treasurer. Tim Brown, a junior Business Administration major from Birch River, W.V., will be the corresponding secretary while Ron Lane, a Business major from Manassas, VA, will serve as recording secretary.

Tedford Presents Paper

"Eudora Welty—An Appalachian Writer?" is the title of a paper presented by Dr. Barbara W. Tedford, Associate Professor of English, at the fourteenth annual meeting of the College English Association, held in Asheville, North Carolina, April 14-16.

Dr. Tedford pointed out that, although Welty's native state of Mississippi provides the setting for most of her fiction, it is evident that her mother's home state of West Virginia made a significant impression upon her and found its way into some of her fiction. Welty's grandfather, Ed Andrews, was a lawyer in the small county seat of Clay Court House before the turn of the century, and her family was prominent in public affairs in Clay and Kanawha Counties.

The conference drew professors of English from colleges and universities across the United States and featured sessions on Thomas Wolfe (whose hometown was Asheville), women writers, Scott and Zelda Fitzgerald, Appalachian dialects, the teaching of writing and literature, and other topics.

Department Recalls Costumes

The Drama Department of Glenville State College would like for any person who has borrowed a costume or anything from the Drama Department to return it as soon as possible. Many of the costumes, etc., have been loaned to various persons and they have not returned them. If you know of anyone with a costume, please inform them to return it as soon as they can.

Ballroom--9 p.m.
Auditorium--8 p.m.

Retractions Listed

Elderhostel plans call for a study of Appalachian Folk Culture during the Folk Festival Week (June 12-18).

June 26 will begin the 'Roots' study (Searching for your Family), the Detective Story and instruction for doubles play in tennis.

July 10-16, golf skills will be accented, English and Scottish ballads will be studied and various music styles will be explored.

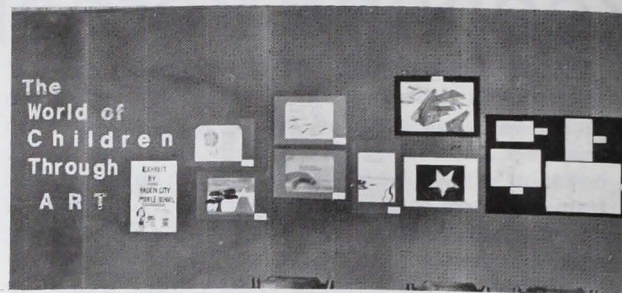

Scholarships are still available for parents or grandparents over 60 of GSC students. $150 of the $180 registration fee will be provided for those who win the scholarships. Students should contact either Diane Bach or Dr. Irvin Talbott if interested.

Johnnie Brooks (not Johnnie Books) won the Willa Brand English award. (Suggestive though, huh Johnnie?)

Governing Board Visits Personal Care Center

This past Thursday evening several residents visited the Glenville Personal Care Center. The outing was sponsored by Pickens Hall Governing Board. Snacks and various juices were served. We toured the facility and socialized with the residents there. Those who participated found the evening very rewarding.

Election of officers for the 1983-84 term will be this week. Everyone is encouraged to vote. The ballot appears as follows: President—Andrea Pletcher; Vice-President—Melanie Brown; Corresponding Secretary—Louella Thomas; Recording Secretary—Todd Hall, Damita Nutter, Cathy Starcher; Treasurer—Dan Durbin, Jackie Mullens. According to the constitution of Pickens Hall, no write-in candidates will be accepted. Several people were nominated for each office but some prospective candidates declined—thus, three people are running unopposed. Residents may vote in Scott Wing Office between 10:00 a.m. and 10:00 p.m. The date of the election will be posted.

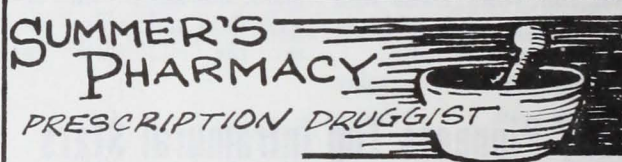

"The World of the Child Through Art" exhibit sponsored by Kappa Delta Pi.

Kappa Delta Hosts Exhibit

Kappa Delta Pi, Honor Society in Education, sponsored an exhibit of children's art - "The World of the Child Through Art" - in conjunction with their annual spring banquet. The art exhibit came to us from Paden City Middle School under the guidance of teacher, Nadia Clark. Students participating in the exhibit include: sixth graders - Amy Gregory, Bill Longwell, Joe Wade, Steve Postlethwaite, John Wilcox, Danny Wayt, Shannon Plum, and Dawn Burrows; seventh graders - Jamie Crona, Matt Harlan, Troy Cooper, Troy Cline, Scott Hayes, John Mayfield, Kathy Slider, Mary Marn, Melissa Haught, Carrie Cecil, and Karen Brougham; eighth graders - Tim Brown, Cary Sine, John Mayfield, Brad Fletcher, Ronnie Glendennung, Chris Staats, Jamie Crona, Scott Glover, Ernie Ferrebee, Mark Rexroad, Chad Chaplin, David Hildreth, Marcie Krolher, Scott Cooper, Darla Richards, and Chris Reynolds.

A guest register was provided which will be given to the art students in gratitude. Thanks to all faculty and students who came and enjoyed and especially thanks to the children who made it all possible.
