Homecoming Underway

This year's Homecoming at GSC, which will see Coach Frank Vincent's Pioneers pitted against the West Liberty Hilltoppers, is set for Saturday, October 1. This year's theme is "GSC Goes Video."

GSC Student Congress has already set the wheels in motion and a week of activities and spirit-raisers is in the making. All campus organizations need to be thinking of possible candidates for Homecoming queen and court, float entries, banners, etc.

Watch the MERCURY for information concerning our Homecoming throughout the next few weeks. If anyone is interested in working with Homecoming, please get in touch with any SC member.

Attention students! Copies of the 1983 Trillium may be obtained in the Language Division on the third floor of the Administration Building.

Faculty, Staff Greeted

Glenville State College begins the new 1983-84 academic year with five new faculty and three staff members. The division of Business announced the appointments of Cheryl McKinney and Tim Loudin. McKinney received her undergraduate degree from West Virginia University where she is presently completing her master's degree in professional accountancy. Loudin will be teaching computer science and replaces Gloria Koribanic. Loudin is a recent Glenville State College graduate and is presently pursuing graduate work at West Virginia University.

Dr. Beverly DeBord is the new Associate Professor of English in the Language

Division who is replacing Dr. Larry Stahlberg. Dr. DeBord completed her undergraduate degree at Morris Harvey College, and master and doctorate degrees from West Virginia University. She has taught in the public school system and at Wheeling College and West Virginia University.

In the Health and Physical Education Department, Joe Beckett will be the athletic trainer and replaces Bill Ford who is pursuing graduate study at West Virginia University. Beckett is a native of Bluefield, W. Va., and has a bachelor's degree from Wittenberg University and a master's degree from Marshall University.

Are You Ready For GSC?

For the freshly-scrubbed "I miss my Mommy and Daddy" greenhorn, it is a time for change, a time to be independent. For the returning student, it is time to leave the beach, or your bed, or your job, and get back into the world of late-night studying (or no studying at all). For the summer school student, it means relief at seeing normal college students after spending the summer with the over 60 - under 18 gang. Finally, for the teacher, it is the time to break out the chalk and red pens again.

In case you haven't figured it out yet, "it" is the beginning of a new school term at Glenville State College. And, believe it or not, a new fall term has arrived. Now is the time to make new friends, establish good study habits, and above all, to participate. College life can be fun and rewarding, but one must participate to make it so. So, welcome to Glenville State College. Good luck to one and all in the upcoming school year.

Clutter Welcomes GSC Students

Welcome to Glenville State College! I am glad that each of you has decided to spend the next few years in and around the GSC campus. Obviously the campus can never substitute for your real home, but you will find that it does, at its best and worst, become your home away from home, so it's up to you to make the best of it. The year looms ahead with all kinds of possibilities and excitement. The prospect of meeting new people, participating in new activities, exchanging and learning new information, and growing as a person are things that each of us should be looking forward to with great anticipation. Being our own person and living for ourselves with respect for others is something we should all strive for. It means diligent work, honesty and integrity. With those thoughts and ideals in mind, Welcome to Glenville State College!

Penny Clutter
Student Congress President

President Simmons Extends Greetings

Welcome to Glenville ...

To all new freshman and all returning students I wish to extend a welcome to the community of Glenville and to Glenville State College. You will find Glenville's reputation as the "Friendly Campus" well deserved.

All indications are that Glenville State College will have a record enrollment in the Fall Semester 1983. Over the years the College has endeavored to provide a quality, progressive educational experience at the most reasonable cost to the student. The record of success of the graduates of Glenville State College affirms the commitment to quality and sound planning found at the College. You have selected a small college that is friendly, sound, respected, and unique.

With the excellent support of our students, faculty, administration, the community, the Board of Regents, and the Legislature, Glenville will continue to grow, progress and maintain its reputation as an excellent small college.

Welcome to Glenville and thank you for choosing Glenville State College.

William K. Simmons
President

Organizational News

Sigma Sigma Sigma

The weekly meeting of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority sisters was conducted Monday evening. Committee chairmen were appointed and elections for Homecoming Court candidates were held. Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority will sponsor Linda Blair as freshman princess, Pam McVey as sophomore princess, Pam Perry as junior princess, Lisa Huffman as senior princess, and Beth White as homecoming queen. Beth Carpenter was chosen both sis of the week and stinker of the week. Chuck Riddle was chosen sweetheart of the week. We want to welcome everyone back to GSC. Good luck to the football team on their upcoming game.

Lambda Chi Alpha

The Brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha held their second meeting of the semester and made plans for several upcoming events. Some of the events coming up are: car wash, September 9 from 1-7 p.m. at Foodland; Rent-a-Chi begins September 6, and plans were finalized for a Softball Tournament, September 16, 17, and 18. Trophies will be given to first and second place finishers with individual trophies for first and second and also an MVP trophy will be awarded. Entry fees will be $50 plus two Red Dot softballs.

Some events later on in the semester will be a $100 raffle, Haunted House and a Spaghetti Dinner. So watch The Mercury for further details.

Lee Loy was elected as the new President and Randy Atkinson was elected vice-president. Congratulations to both Lee and Randy and best of luck in the semester.

The Brothers would also like to thank Mike Phillips for the fine job he did as president. The Brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha extend a hearty welcome to all the freshmen and to all of the rest of the students at GSC, welcome back and the best of luck to you all in the upcoming year.

Phi Beta Lambda

Phi Beta Lambda Organization would like to take this opportunity to welcome everyone back to school. Our first organizational meeting will be held Thursday, September 1 at 12:45 in the Little Theatre.

We would like to invite all freshman and others who wish to join to come to the meeting.

Ohningohow Players

The Ohningohow Players would like to welcome all new and returning students to GSC. We hope your semester is an enjoyable and profitable one.

New officers were selected by the Players for the 1983-84 school year. They are as follows: President - Bill Anderson; Vice-President - Joe Stephens; Corresponding Secretary - Cheryl Keenan; Recording Secretary/Treasurer - Dan Langford; and Pledge Mistress - Tammi Igo. Congratulations to these officers and a special thank you to the outgoing officers for their guidance through the past school year.

The Players also discussed the upcoming theatre season. Anyone interested in helping with the theatre season and earning points toward membership in the organization should contact any Ohningohow Player. A story in this issue of The Mercury briefly outlines the season. Also, watch future issues of The Mercury for more information.

We would like to congratulate our nominees for Homecoming Court. They are: freshman princess - Beth Krantz; sophomore princess - Vicki Butcher; junior princess - Cara Keenan; senior Princess - Lou Davidson; and queen - Kelly Davis. Best of luck ladies!

Officers are reminded of the Executive Board meeting on Tuesday, September 6 at 12:30 and all members are reminded of the next regularly scheduled meeting to be held on Tuesday, September 13 at 6 p.m. in the Underground.

'Strange Road' To Be Cast

If you like the old world mystique of New England and things associated with the supernatural intrigue you, then you're going to love STRANGE ROAD. STRANGE ROAD, by John M. Houston, will be performed on the GSC stage October 14.

The play revolves around Alan, a young Irish boy who has the power of foretelling events and dreams of things uncommon to fisherfolk of the village. The cast also includes three women: Alan's mother, Annie - his sweetheart, and Annie's mother.

Anyone interested in auditioning for the play should come to the Little Theatre (in the Administration Building) September 6 and 7 at 8 p.m. Also, those individuals interested in heading crews for set, costumes, props, and publicity are asked to attend.

"The GSC Housing Corporation has two mobile homes available for rent to married students (husband or wife must be full-time student). The 2-bedroom mobile homes are completely furnished including range, refrigerator, washer and dryer, and forced air heating and air-conditioning. For more information contact Patty Dugger, 462-7361, ext. 180 or come by the Social Sciences Division, L.B.H.

The GSC Housing Corporation has three mobile home lots for rent. The lots rent for $55.00 per month. Contact Patty Dugger, Social Sciences Division, L.B.H., at 462, ext. 180 for more information on rental.

Drivers Risk Fine Of $10

A piece of legislation passed on March 12, 1983 as House Bill 1546 authorized the West Virginia Board of Regents "to construct, maintain and operate automobile parking facilities or areas upon; any premises owned or leased at any college or university"; and, to issue a citation to the offender of regulations to appear (in case of Glenville State College) before the Director of Fiscal Affairs or his designated official at the Business Office in the Administration Building within five (5) days excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays; and, upon no contest pay a civil penalty of ten dollars ($10.00).

If the student, faculty or staff member does not appear within the five days, or upon a pleading of not guilty, he/she will be referred to the judge of the municipal court (for the city of Glenville) who will issue a summons for a hearing. If the guilt to the offense is upheld, the person is subject to court costs of $15.00 plus a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than twenty dollars for each offense.

Commuters, residents, and staff will have to register their automobiles and park between the yellow lines in a legal parking place to avoid a citation and fine. Residence hall students must remember to park only in the R-Zoned areas near their residence hall illustrated on the parking maps issued to each student and staff member upon registration. Commuters must avoid "Faculty Only" areas.

Three PBL Members Win Nationals

Students from various colleges in West Virginia again this year participated in the Phi Beta Lambda National Leadership Conference in San Francisco, California from July 2 through 9. Phi Beta Lambda is the collegiate organization of Future Business Education Association. Students in colleges learn during system, in addition to having social gatherings of a professional nature. At the end of each school year, each school sends representatives to compete at the state level in the areas of Accounting, Stenography, Mr. and Miss Future Business Executive, Mr. and Miss Future Business Teacher, Computer Science I and II, Office Procedures, Business Law, Business Administration and various other areas. The state winners then compete at the national level among representatives from all states, the Virgin Islands and the Island of Samoa.

West Virginia returned the 9th day of July victoriously with five national winners. James Rumsey Vocational School won in the area of Typing, West Virginia State College won in the area of Who's Who, and from Glenville State College there were three national winners: Jo Ann Freshour in the area of Office Procedures, Dina Darby in the area of Miss Future Business Teacher and Tim Loudin in Computer Science II.

The State of West Virginia was proud of all the participants and pleased that we made this fine academic showing nationwide. Congratulations to all participants and winners.

Mr. Ernie Smith, Chairman of the Division of Business at Glenville State College, serves as the West Virginia State Advisor of Phi Beta Lambda, Miss Rolanna Coberly serves as an Advisor of the Local Chapter of Phi Beta Lambda at Glenville State College and Mrs. Nancy Raynes, West Virginia State Department of Education in Charleston, is State Chairperson for Future Business Leaders of America/Phi Beta Lambda.

Anyone who has not made an appointment to have their yearbook portrait taken may do so in the Mercury Office between 9 a.m.-3p.m. Mon.-Fri.

Top Honors Taken By Cheerleaders

During the week of August 15-19, the Glenville State College cheerleaders attended a Universal Cheerleading Association College Camp, which was held at Virginia Tech in Blacksburg, Virginia. The cheerleaders competed against eight other all-girl squads and were able to capture a first-place trophy in the fight-song category and a trophy for the best all-girl squad. The squad also brought home all blue ribbons, except for one red ribbon, and a spirit stick. While at the camp, the cheerleaders were able to learn various cheers, sidelines, and routines, as well as watch such schools as UCLA and Notre Dame compete. There was a total of 101 squads attending this camp.

Anyone interested in working on the staff of THE KANAWHACHEN may contact Cara Keenan in room 615 Scott of Pickens Hall or may call the Mercury office extension 290.

Continuing in a tradition initiated in last year's Mercury, the staff will again publish a column entitled "Freshman Thoughts". This year, however, any freshman may submit a column to the staff for consideration. Check for more information in next week's MERCURY.

Watch next week's Mercury for schedules and information concerning cross country and women's volleyball.

In order to alleviate the crowds in the Tuesday-Thursday lunch line, Joe Drahnak, GSC Food Service Director, advises students to eat between 11 and 12 p.m.

Disko Represents U.S. In Summer Delegation

Dr. Mildred Disko, Associate Professor of mathematics, was one of a 59-member delegation to represent the United States in a bilateral exchange program to the Peoples Republic of China this summer. They were hosted by the Chinese Association for Science and Technology.

The delegation met with faculty and administrators from comprehensive universities, research institutes and teachers colleges located in Beijing, Shanghai, Wuxi, Suzhou, and Guangzhou (Canton). The journey was concluded with a two-day visit to Hong Kong.

Dr. Disko found the Chinese people friendly; the scenery, lakes, gardens, and parks pleasing; and the food and accommodations enjoyable. Surprising was the density of bicycle traffic and the relative absence of private automobiles. The streets seemingly were filled with a steady procession of people at all hours. Early morning always brought a din generated by people of all ages exercising in the street, people greeting one another on the way to work, and others just talking and laughing.

The three-week exchange was sponsored by the People-to-People Citizen Ambassador Program of Spokane, Washington, which was founded by President Eisenhower in 1956 "to foster goodwill and understanding between Americans and citizens of other countries."

Athlete's Addition

Hello and welcome to what should prove to be an exciting year in sports for the Pioneers and their fans. Last years columnist, the honorable Stephen Keenan has moved up and on in the world (or has he?). He is the staff editor of THE MERCURY. So here I am to fill in. Bear with me please-this could get ugly.

Enough with the introductions, let's talk sports. Pioneer head football coach Frank Vincent should be in for a fairly impressive season. He has a number of returning letterman. Not to mention those brutes he has recruited as freshman. One man, perhaps he is my favorite, looms as a major contributor more than any other frosh. His name is Mark Szklennik; he will play the position of place kicker. I feel he is someone to watch.

"Watch." Now there is an interesting word. Now I know this is Labor Day Weekend and everybody wants to go home because the cafeteria food on weekends is a little tough to eat but let's hang around until 4:00 p.m. Saturday afternoon. Just look for me up in the press box. Go Get 'em Guys!

Gridmen Waiting For Opener

"We will take every game as it comes. . . as far as how well the team will do shall be decided by the players—whether they give 110 percent or not."

These are the words of Pioneer Head Football Coach Frank Vincent as he awaits the commencement of the season. This Saturday afternoon at Pioneer Stadium the Waynesburg Yellowjackets come in for a 1:30 game to open the season.

The Pioneers look strong although they are not a senior-oriented team, having only four seniors on the squad.

This year's recruiting panned out pretty well for the Pioneers. "We have gotten more quality freshman than before. They have a more positive attitude, are more experienced, and are physically stronger than any other incoming class," claims Vincent.

When asked about newcomer Joe Beckett as trainer, Vincent referred to him as, "the finest addition anyone can have."

Depth in all positions is something the Pioneers will lack but Vincent feels that this is a problem presented to every coach.

The feeling seems to be the teams to beat are Shepherd, last year's conference champion, and perennial powerhouses, Fairmont and Concord. The West Virginia Conference is becoming well balanced, though, so everyone is a threat. Let's hope the Pioneers stay on their toes.

Marshall Grad Fills Athletic Trainer Position

If you plan to watch Pioneer athletic action this year you may be in for a switch. Joe Beckett of Bluefield, W. Va. will be the man treating our injured athletes as a result of former GSC trainer Bill Ford's moving on to WVU.

25-year-old Beckett, received his undergraduate degree in Sports Medicine at Whittenburg College in Ohio where he also played the flanker back position on the football team. He then went to Marshall University for two years to earn his Masters degree.

The 1976 graduate of Bluefield High School selected GSC over his other options because of the interest in progressing the athletic training program here and the closeness of the people in this area. He also likes his closeness to home. He enjoys a good relationship with head coaches Frank Vincent and Gary Nottingham, varsity football and basketball respectively. Additionally, he has a relationship with our own Doctor James Kyle. As a matter of fact, Kyle was Beckett's high school chemistry teacher.

Intramurals Set To Go

Intramural action is ready to get underway for this hot and humid new college year.

This year's activities under Director Jesse Lilly will be much more intricate and will go by the book. Volleyball, both men's and women's will be the first sport. Whoever is on a volleyball team must remain on that team if they wish to play basketball and/or softball. This is so that at the end of the year total points may be tallied and the overall winner given an award.

Twelve people are allowed on each team; only six on the court at a time. Some form of matching uniforms must be worn. The winner will be decided by the best of two out of three games.

The length of the game will be eight minutes of actual playing time or the first to score 15 points. In either case, the winner must be leading by two points.

The season will follow a round robin schedule with a point system of ten points plus the number of participants for a victory, five points plus number of participants for a loss, and a deduction of 25 points for a forfeiture of a game. This point system is devised to hopefully increase participation.

Enrollment Hopes Are Encouraging

Although official college enrollment figures will not be officially known until next month, Glenville State College is predicting that Fall 1983 enrollment will remain steady or increase slightly.

Mack Samples, Dean of Admissions and Records, speculates that the overall enrollment will increase slightly over last year's 1785 figure.

"The freshman class is larger than last year," said Samples. "We tested more freshmen this summer than last summer, indicating an increase in the freshman class of about 30 students. But this still isn't as big as the freshman class two years ago when enrollment peaked at 2000."

Samples attributes a stable to slightly-increasing enrollment to the recruiting efforts of the admissions counselors and the faculty. Says Samples: "It's a fact that there are fewer high school students out there, and we're really lucky to be getting as many as we have."

President William K. Simmons sees the academic reputation of Glenville as a factor in enrollment trends. "We are an attractive academic institution where quality education can be obtained at a reasonable price. Coupled with an active recruiting program, strong academic programs are what attract students to Glenville," said Simmons. Additionally, Simmons cites the changing economic climate as a reason for a stable enrollment.

"The economy definitely has an effect on enrollment," said Simmons. "As the employment picture changes and jobs are not as readily available, students realize that college education could assist them in finding employment. There is a need for higher education, and that need is growing more acute every day."

Any faculty member or organization needing pictures taken for college use may contact Cheryl Keenan, Scott Kitchen, or Bill Meadows in the Mercury office by calling extension 290 for an appointment.

Get down to business faster. With the BA-35.

If there's one thing business students have always needed, this is it: an affordable, business-oriented calculator. The Texas Instruments BA-35, the Student Business Analyst.

Its built-in business formulas let you perform complicated finance, accounting and statistical functions – the ones that usually require a lot of time and a stack of reference books, like present and future value calculations, amortizations and balloon payments.

The BA-35 means you spend less time calculating, and more time learning. One keystroke takes the place of many.

The calculator is just part of the package. You also get a book that follows most business courses: the Business Analyst Guidebook. Business professors helped us write it, to help you get the most out of calculator and classroom.

A powerful combination.

Think business. With the BA-35 Student Business Analyst.
