

The Glenville Mercury

Number 7

Glenville State College, Glenville, West Virginia

Wednesday, October 12, 1983

'Strange Road To Open

The first of the one-act plays by the Speech 331 class will be presented Friday night at 8 p.m. in GSC auditorium. STRANGE ROAD by John M. Houston, is being directed by Kent Woofter, a senior art/oral communications major from Glenville. Kent is a member of the Ohnimgohow Players, Alpha Psi Omega, Lambda Chi Alpha and is cartoonist for the MERCURY.

The STRANGE ROAD cast is as follows: Cheryl L. Keenan, a GSC senior from Gauley Bridge majoring in English liberal arts, with a journalism minor, plays Mrs. Talbot, Alan's mother. Kelly Boggess, a freshman from Parkersburg majoring in English/oral communications, portrays Mrs. Kadan, mother of Annie. The role of Annie is filled by freshman Lisa McHenry Stuchell, from Arthurdale, majoring in oral communications and history. Tim Brown portrays Alan, son of Mrs. Talbot. Tim is a senior from Birch River and is majoring in business administration.

The play is set in a New England fishing village in the early 1900's. Annie's mother objects to the pending marriage of Alan and Annie because Alan is 'different.' He sees things from the future. The play deals with the supernatural and the results of Alan's "gift."

Harper Wins Award

George Harper, assistant professor of art, has just won his second Merit Award, in as many years, from the Upper Ohio Valley Art Show. The exhibition is held at the Stifel Fine Arts Center in Wheeling, WV, and is sponsored by the Oglebay Institute. His acrylic painting, entitled "Rural Geometry VIII," won the award and represents the second merit award for Mr. Harper in the past two years of this art show. Also, it is the second such award for this particular painting, the other coming in the Mountain State Arts and Craft Fair's annual exhibition in 1982. Mr. Harper also had another painting accepted in the Ohio Valley show. It is entitled "Glenville Geometry V" and is an acrylic on canvas. The Stifel show is actually a tri-state exhibition which takes in all of West Virginia and an eighty-mile radius of Wheeling, involving artists of eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania, including Pittsburgh. Over 175 works were entered and only 75 were accepted. The show runs from October 9 through November 9, 1983.

Auditions for act three of Neil Simon's CALIFORNIA SUITE, entitled "Visitors from London," will be held on October 17 and 18 at 8 p.m. in the Little Theatre, Ad Building. Come and join GSC Theatre.

On November 15 representatives from several West Virginia school systems will be on campus for the purpose of interviewing prospective December education graduates. Any prospective graduate who wishes to participate should register with the Placement Office by Friday of this week.

Enrollment Up

The West Virginia Board of Regents has announced the enrollment figures for the fall of 1983. Glenville State College shows a 1.2% increase over last fall: from 1,785 to 1,807.

The total head count for all public colleges and universities is 72,034, a 0.2% increase over the fall 1982 total of 71,903. Those institutions showing major increases include Shepherd College, 11.7% and West Virginia State College, 7.2%. Those having a decrease included Fairmont State College, 7.1%; Bluefield State College, 4.2% and West Virginia University, 3.3%.

Lab Opened

In March, 1983, work began on a new microcomputer/word processing lab for students at Glenville State College. Finally, in September, work was completed on this facility, and it is now open for daily use by students in computer science and all other areas of instruction at GSC.

The job was completed with the help of the following people in the maintenance department: Bruce Hathaway, Robert Carpenter, James Frye, Hill James, Chester Jones, Wilma Myers, James Stalnaker, Leamon Turner, Joe Wilmoth, Harry Clemons, Mary Moyers, James Boggs, Jr., Edsel DeWees, John Hayner, Layne Jenkins, Donald Jones, Betty Rohr, James Tatman, Kenneth Waggy, Roy Clemons, and Duffy Bush.

The Division of Business thanks all of those involved in completing the new facility.

There will be a DJ dance, sponsored by the Delta Zeta Sorority, on Thursday, October 13 in the ballroom from 8 p.m.-11 p.m. Music will be provided by Pete Somerville. Food and kegs of refreshments will be available. ID is required.

Simmons Assumes Reins

Dr. William K. Simmons, president of Glenville State College, began his duties Monday as Acting Chancellor of the West Virginia Board of Regents. Dr. Simmons, who has been GSC's president since 1977, will be the first college president to serve as Acting Chancellor of the Board of Regents.

When asked about the duties of his new position, Simmons stated, "I will be the chief administrative staff person for the Board of Regents. I will maintain the responsibility of all policies and procedures carried out in the state system."

Simmons realizes that he is accepting a job with many pressures, but he is ready to face them. One of his major responsibilities will be "to effectively and realistically communicate the needs of higher education to lawmakers," according to the 44-year-old native of Gilmer County. Among the issues that he will address are salary increases for employees and progress in areas such as science education, math, and computer science.

The appointment of Simmons to the post is a temporary one. The BOR will advertise the chancellor's job and take applications until December 15. Sometime after that, they will name a permanent chancellor. As of right now, Simmons indicated that he is not a candidate for the chancellor's job permanently. "The best job for me right now, as an individual, is at Glenville State College," he stated. "GSC is a first rate, good quality school."

While Dr. Simmons is in Charleston, the three vice-presidents, Dr. Bruce Flack, Dr. A.T. Billips, and Mr. Robert Gainer, will work together to keep the school running efficiently. Ultimately, Dr. Flack will act on Simmons' behalf. Simmons remarked concerning the arrangement, "I am pleased that we have the kind of student body, faculty and administrative staff that I can be absent and the college still progress. That shows a dedication to education. I'm very appreciative of that."

Smith Receives Promotion

Luanna Thompson Smith has received promotion to assistant to the president at Glenville State College in the realignment of administrative responsibilities due to the recent appointment of President William K. Simmons as Acting Chancellor to the West Virginia Board of Regents.

Mrs. Smith has served as administrative aide to the president of Glenville State College over an 11-year period beginning in 1972 to President D. Banks Wilburn, and continuing in this position upon the appointment of President William K. Simmons in 1977 to the present date.

Her service to the college and community includes membership in the Women's Club, United Methodist Church and Board of Directors of the Wesley Foundation, Glenville Alumnae Chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority, and Faculty Wives.

In commenting upon her promotion, Mrs. Smith said, "I am elated and thoroughly honored to receive this advancement in position and I pledge my full support to Glenville State College - its administrators, faculty, staff, and students."

Also a member of the faculty, her husband, Ernest H. Smith, is chairman of the Division of Business.

Is The Drinking Law Fair ?

On July 1, the West Virginia Legislature passed a new drinking law which set the legal drinking age in the state at 19. Fine, but officials ran into a problem, and in attempting to solve this problem, have created a big mess.

Feeling that their solution was the best possible one, legislators implemented it. As of October 1, any out-of-state student under 21 years of age or any in-state student under 21 without a valid operator's or chauffeur's license must purchase a non-operator's identification card in order to purchase beer, wine or liquor. To obtain the card, a person must fill out an application (available in the Office of Student Services) and return it, along with $10 and certificate of birth, to the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Here's where the problem lies. Cries of unconstitutionality and discrimination arose from many sectors. Translation of the law could have a 20-year-old West Virginia resident able to buy and consume beer without a hassle, while a 20-year-old from another state has to struggle through the afore-mentioned red tape (not to mention being $10 lighter in the wallet).

Something needs to be done to clear up this snafu. The program has yet to catch on with the students, and it probably won't. They'll find some way to get around paying the $10 (I don't blame them), and life will go on.

Perhaps federal government intervention in implementing an across-the-board standard for everyone would be best. Whatever the case, it must be made fair for everyone. Although this situation does not affect GSC as much as it does some of the schools nearer the state borders, it is something we need to be aware of.

Delta Zeta

The Theta Xi chapter of the Delta Zeta Sorority held an informal meeting on Monday at 4:30 at the house. The sorority wants to thank all those who contributed to the egg beg this Sunday. The money will be used toward Gaullede College for the Deaf. The sisters of Delta Zeta will be having a dance Thursday in the ballroom with music by Larry Somerville. Also, a Halloween dance will be held on Saturday, October 29 for the sorority and their guests. Costumes are required. We will be collecting cans of food for the Welfare Department on Monday, October 24.

Awards for this week are: Clean room-Becky, Tina, Karen, and Carolyn; Pig Pen-Brenda, Lisa, Kim, and Ann; Study Turtle-Tammy; and Wilted Rose-Nada.

Finally, a special congratulations to our pledges who are doing a great job. Keep up the good work, girls!

Ladies of the White Rose

The Ladies would like to give a big thank you to everyone who helped out with the dance Thursday. We'd like to congratulate all the new associates. Keep up the good work guys. A reminder goes out to all the Ladies to help the Chi's with the window washing, downtown today. Your help would be appreciated. Be sure to wear your Lambda Chi shirts. The big news for the day is about the Haunted House the guys are having. It will be going on all next week. Come out and join the Halloween festivities!

On Thursday, October 13, Literary Society will hold its next meeting in the Verona Mapel Room at 6:30 p.m. Discussed will be WAITING FOR GODOT by Samuel Beckett. The book is available in the college bookstore. All interested persons are welcome to attend.

The GSC Housing Corporation has three (3) mobile home lots for rent. The lots rent for $55.00 per month. Contact Patty Dugger, Social Sciences Division, LBH, at 462-7361, ext. 180.

A representative from Wendy's International will be interviewing senior Management students on October 20. Any student who is interested in interviewing should contact Janet Gainer (Career Counseling Office) immediately concerning credentials preparation and interview slot.

Lambda Chi Alpha

The brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha held their formal meeting Monday at the Wesley foundation.

The brothers will be washing windows downtown today. Everyone should meet at Pickens at 11:30. Everyone should also wear their shirts!

The Chi's will be having a haunted house Oct. 16-20. Everyone make plans to attend. This one promises to be even bigger and better than last year's. All brothers should be in the ballroom Sunday at noon to begin work. We will also be raffling off $100 starting this week. Contact any brother for tickets.

There will be a Rush Party Wed. at 9 p.m. in the ballroom. All interested men are welcome to attend.

Associate member meeting is at 7 p.m. this Wednesday. All brothers should attend!

We will be having a Halloween party Oct. 27 at the nursing home. All brothers and ladies are invited.

Thank you's go out to all brothers who played bingo at the Rest Care Center last week.

Pi Gamma Mu

All members and interested persons are reminded that our monthly business meeting will be held Wednesday, October 12 at 6 p.m. in the Wesley Foundation. It is strongly encouraged that all members be in attendance. Plans for our membership drive will be finalized and several other important topics will be discussed. Please come prepared to pay semester dues of $2. Again, attendance is vital.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Sigma Sigma Sigma sisters held a ceremonial meeting on Monday, October 10. Many items of business were discussed.

Greek Week activities were announced. These events are being planned for the week of October 31 to November 5 through co-operation of Panhellenic Council and IFC. All Panhellenic members were invited to attend a meeting in the Little Theatre Wednesday at 4 p.m. with Dr. A. T. Billips to discuss the food pantry collection.

The final party of concentrated open rush will be held on Wednesday evening. We hope to see all interested girls there.

Melissa Simpson and Beth White were chosen as Sisters of the Week for their work on our rush parties. Beth was also chosen the recipient of our "cultured pearl" award.

Ohningohow Players

All Players are reminded that one-act plays are in production and to fulfill requirements as an Ohningohow Player, one must complete a certain number of hours per week in technical work.

Everyone is reminded that the one-act drama, STRANGE ROAD, directed by Kent Woofter, will be performed on Friday, October 14 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium. Let's get out and support the production.

We would like to congratulate all those who worked on our float which captured third place in the Homecoming float competition.

Who's Who applications should be turned in by Friday.

Athlete's Addition

Athletic action is slowly working to a full tilt here on campus. Cross country, football, and now, volleyball are well into the movement of their respective seasons. Meanwhile, quietly and discreetly in the shadows, both the men's and women's basketball squads are about to begin practice sessions.

The Lady Pioneer volleyballers had a quadrangular match yesterday here at Glenville. I hope some of you made it up to the gymnasium to see them play. Volleyball is an exciting and enthusiastic sport. Momentum is an important part of victory. The volleyballers don't seem to be doing very well so far this season, but a fired-up audience backing them can certainly help. Anytime the ladies play at home, a person should find time to "mosey on up" to the gym and watch them play.

The harriers travel to Oak Hill to run against West Virginia Tech today. The runners should fare very well against the Golden Bears. The scheduled meet at West Virginia University has been cancelled for the Pioneers.

One irrelevant (?) point to close on: LET'S GO PHILS, BEAT THE ORIOLES!

Hitters Drop Triangular

In women's volleyball action last week, the Lady Pioneers of Glenville State travelled to Salem College for a triangular match with the Tigers and Concord College. Unfortunately, the hitters found themselves on the short end of the stick in both matches last Thursday evening.

Concord College took the spiker's first match, beating them 15-3 and 15-0. Approximately one half of an hour later, the Lady Pioneers suffered two more losses, 15-5 and a close 15-12 contest, to drop their other match.

Leading Glenville in the scoring department was junior co-captain Leah Marlowe with nine points. Next with four points was sophomore Pam Carson. Following with three points each were Kelly Smith and Gina Bailes as Kelly Cain scored one in play last week.

Yesterday afternoon, the netters hosted a quadrangular match here at Glenville with Concord, Fairmont, and West Virginia Tech. Friday will pit the Lady Pioneers against Fairmont again at Fairmont. The volleyballers' next home match is Tuesday, October 18. It is a triangular contest versus Alderson-Broadbush and Salem.

Job Interviews Discussed

Superintendent Ronald Welty of the Gilmer County school system was the first guest speaker of Kappa Delta Pi Educational Society. The topic for the program was "Job Interview." Mr. Welty stated that the first fifteen seconds of an interview is the most crucial part. During this brief interval the first impression should be positive. A firm handshake and good grooming are necessary. Other desirable characteristics interviewers consider are confidence, voice quality, good verbal skills and the desire to work.

Mr. Welty urged members and their guests to develop a personal philosophy of education. He also stated that potential teachers should be aware of current issues in education. Examples cited were Policy 5100 in the state of West Virginia and the recently published national survey entitled "Nation at Risk."

random thoughts

Hi! With Glenville and WVU idle last week I thought my thoughts would be limited. Some people think they're limited anyway. Anyhow, here are some limited thoughts. (Does that make sense?)

(1) Penn State should give the official, who called an Alabama player out of bounds on an apparent touch-down, a game ball. (2) This was the most boring weekend I have ever spent in Glenville. Glenville, WVU, and the Steelers all were idle (the Steelers till Monday). (3) This weekend was the first time in about sixteen years I resorted to a coloring book and crayons for entertainment. (4) West Virginia will be on TV again this week (Ho-hum). (5) Salem, whom Glenville plays this week, gave nationally-ranked Shepherd all they could handle last weekend. Although Salem is winless, the game may not be a cake walk as earlier expected. (6) From the "who cares" department, the Pittsburgh Penguins (hockey - for all you sport fans) are still looking for their first win in this season. (7) Due to my limited thinking ability, (along with every other day) this is my last random thought until next week.

Pioneers Prepare For Saturday

GSC's Pioneer football team is preparing for a game with winless conference foe Salem College. The Tigers of Salem are 0-5 in the win-loss column but are getting stronger, and the Pioneers are looking for a win to turn around this topsy-turvy season of theirs.

Salem has no wins to show thus far in their four conference games. The Tigers are last in the WVIAC in total defense allowing an average of almost 390 yards per game.

Perhaps this last statistic can prove helpful to the Pioneers' struggling offensive unit. Another note which could prove promising for Byron Brooks and his back-field mates is that Salem is last in the conference in rushing defense.

Don't let these facts mislead you into thinking that the Tigers are a push-over. Last Saturday they took their winless record against nationally-ranked No. 15 Shepherd and played the Rams a very close contest. The conference - leading Rams took a victory over them, 29-24.

We will not only mention the fact that the Tigers came off an impressive game last week, but the Pioneers could be in a jam due to injuries.

At this midway point through the season, the Pioneers could be without a total of twelve players this weekend. Looking back at what has happened between the season opener and now seems, somewhat grim. Four players, James Bailous, Joe McAllister, Greg Tracy, and Wayne Workman, have quit the squad for personal reasons. Two year starter Don Bell is on the redshirt list due to a fractured fibula suffered a few weeks ago. Sophomore tight end John Trew's status is questionable because of hyperextended ligaments in his ankle. Ron Gutshall and Steve Morgan are probable redshirt candidates due to knee injuries. Duane Farley of Pineville and John Hartman of Kingwood are out temporarily for suffering shoulder injuries.

Out for the season definitely are Dave Donovan and Dana Fredericks. Donovan has a serious knee injury and is coming off extensive surgery while Fredricks has a fractured bone in his hand.

As a result of this, head coach Frank Vincent is forced to utilize what he has. Due to the absence of McAllister and Gutshall from the offensive line, Vincent has switched defensive tackle John Adkins to the offensive tackle position. Other offensive maneuvers include freshman Forrest Hall starting at quarterback over Jeff Metheny again. Metheny will play the right halfback position. Another backfield change will put Greg Lambert at the starting full-back slot over Joe Mullan.

Vincent will take his squad to Salem Saturday afternoon in hopes of everything jelling together for the Pioneers' second conference victory. The 7:30 contest will pit the 22-year veteran coach Vincent against first year man Terry Bowden at the helm for Salem.

GSC To Host Art Workshop

On Saturday, October 15, the GSC department of art will be sponsoring Artist Workshop-13, a one-day instructional workshop for high school art teachers and their seriously involved high school art students. Artist Workshop-13, like previous workshops, is intended to encourage teachers and students in some areas of intensive studio work in which they excel or would like to obtain advanced techniques. Areas to be covered in the workshop are as follows: print-making, instructed by James W. Rogers; watercolor painting, instructed by George Harper; cartooning, instructed by Charles Erkman; pottery and raku, instructed by Paul Latos; and photography, instructed by Melanie Green.

The department of art is hoping to have an even larger response to Artist Workshop-13 than for their previous workshops. Registration for the workshop is free and will begin at 8:30 a.m., Saturday.

Kyle Clinic Offers Medical Aid To Students

By Mike Barrick

GSC students have available to them, in the Kyle Clinic on Mineral Rd., medical and health services for most common illnesses, orthopedic injuries, preventive medicine, and medical advice.

The clinic opened in the 1981-82 school year. Its main goal is to provide the students with quality medical and health care. Dr. Kyle, however, sees their responsibilities as also informing students on preventive medicine, as well as making them consumers of medical services.

Each week, THE MERCURY will look at a specific health problem through the eyes of Dr. Kyle and his staff. This is done so that students may better choose when to treat themselves and when to seek the services of the clinic. This week we will discuss the causes and treatments of sore throats and colds, an especially important topic this time of the year.

To begin with, there are three facts concerning these illnesses which are essential to be aware of. First, most sore throats and colds are caused by a virus, not bacteria. This is important to know, as no medicine can get rid of a virus in your body; bacteria can be treated with an antibiotic. And finally, even if a sore throat is caused by bacteria (strep), physicians give antibiotics only to prevent the bacteria from spreading to your heart, kidney, lungs, and liver. The medicine is not to cure your sore throat.

In attempting to decide what illness affects you, the symptoms can be evaluated. If the following symptoms are present, you probably have a viral Upper Respiratory Tract Infection (URI): runny nose, fever of 99-100, muscle/joint aches and pains, fatigue, red throat and mouth. However, if the following symptoms are present, you probably have an allergy: sore throat in morning only, fever the same, dark circles under your eyes, runny eyes and nose, sneezing, clear mucus, and symptoms worsen when you are outside. And finally, if these symptoms are present, you probably have a bacterial URI: headache, high fever, no runny nose, and white patches in the throat.

Despite the diversity of symptoms, the following steps should be taken: 1) triple your fluid intake, 2) take aspirin or Tylenol every four hours for fever, pain, and to reduce the inflammation in your throat, 3) get plenty of rest, 4) use cold drinks, salt water gargle, or a drugstore product to relieve your sore throat, 5) consider yourself contagious until fever, cough, sneezing, and congestion are gone, 6) take an antihistamine/decongestant if needed to relieve congestion, and 7) take cough syrup, if needed, to relieve uncontrollable coughing.

Being aware of all this is still not enough, though, so the following guide lines are provided so that you know when to call the doctor. You do so if: 1) you have a fever of 103 or more, 2) have a fever which does not go below 101 even when taking aspirin or Tylenol, 3) have ear pain, 4) blow your nose or cough up mucus which is pearly yellow or green, 5) have a long term or chronic health problem that makes you susceptible to complications, and 6) have white or yellow pustules in your throat.

When deciding whether to see Dr. Kyle for this or any other reason, you MUST make an appointment. This allows for the most efficient treatment of patients according to Dr. Kyle and also prevents a need for excuses to miss class because of a need to see the doctor, as a convenient time for the clinic and student is usually agreed upon which does not interfere with class time. Dr. Kyle points out that colds and sore throats account for over 50% of lost class time; he feels this enough on its own without exacerbating the problem.

Dr. Kyle received his undergraduate degree from Concord College and his post-graduate study and practice at WVU. His wife is an RN with master's level experience from WVU.

Student Congress News

The Student Congress held its weekly meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 4 in room 103 of the Pioneer Center. Up until now the Congress has concentrated on the Homecoming activities, but they are now ready to turn their attention to issues that face the college and its students.

The escort service has been successful in signing volunteers and is being organized by Eddie Mazella. Any interested male should contact him for details and a meeting time.

Penny Clutter, Student Congress president, urges student input to help solve the problems that concern them. Topics that will be discussed in the future are: intervisitation, the absence policy, the state parking fine policy, the new Drinking Law and Bill 301, which charges a student fee to pay directly into teacher pay raise, and the teacher evaluation system.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I am inquiring in reference to the degrading of the R-zone parking lot. The degrading is formulated by unworthy vagrants dispensing their empty beverage bottles in a manner in which the bottle burst from impact upon reaching the pavement. Obviously these barbarous students do not own a vehicle, or if they do, they are under their parents' wing. No one would partake in such savage acts if they had to pay all maintenance that is required by a vehicle. Let us hope that these so-called humans will at least think before throwing their next vessel on the pavement.

Sincerely,
Timothy A. Ingram
