Ford Donates Book Collection To Library

E. George Ford, industrialist and 1956 graduate of Glenville State College, has donated a collection of books written by Melville Davisson Post to the Robert F. Kidd Library. Among those books donated by Ford are THE REVOLT OF THE BIRDS, THE STRANGE SCHEMES OF RANDOLPH MASON, and a collection of his classic detective stories, UNCLE ABNER, and MASTER OF MYSTERIES. Ford donated nine books, including Post's biography by Charles A. Norton, which brings the collection in the library to a total of 15.

Melville Davisson Post was a noted West Virginia lawyer and author, ranking in popularity with Agatha Christie. He was born and raised at Lost Creek, WV, in Harrison County. He attended West Virginia University to study law and formed with a law partnership with John A. Howard at Wheeling, WV. In 1892, he served as Presidential Elector and Secretary of the Electoral College. He was Chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee for West Virginia in 1898. He was also a member of the Board of Regents of the State Normal Schools, the Advisory Committee of the National Economy League, and the War and Treasury Departments during the First World War.

Post's first book, THE STRANGE SCHEMES OF RANDOLPH MASON, was published in 1896. It is a series of detective stories in which the criminal is often successful against the minions of the law. This theme brought criticism to his work but his books became popular nonetheless. Post's popularity continued to grow, and today he has become one of the most famous writers of West Virginia.

Other books donated by Ford are as follows: THE GARDEN IN ASIA, THE CORRECTOR OR DESTINIES, MONSIEUR JONQUELLE, THE SILENT WITNESS, and WALKER OR THE SECRET SERVICE.

Cara Keenan (Josephine Paris) and Tim Mace (James Dyke) are pictured during rehearsal for THE VALIANT which will be performed Friday, October 21 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium.

Reps To Attend WVASPA

Representatives from GSC will spend this coming weekend at Pipestem State Park attending the West Virginia Association of Student Personnel Administrators annual fall conference.

The meeting is designed to give participants a forum to voice their views on problems that face them on campus. This year's theme is "Creative Management," which will emphasize the positive aspects of campus life. The meeting will be attended by 36 students from seven colleges. The Student Congress officers Penny Clutter, Steve Keenan, Karen Scott, Shelly Morris and Pam Brown along with administrators and staff members Diane Bach, Bob Dinkler, Marvin Taylor, Bill Stackman and Shirley Williams will attend from GSC.

The WVASPA involves participation by representatives from both public and private schools which gives the panel a complete view of campus activities.

All 1983 yearbooks must be picked up by November 1, 1983. No yearbooks will be given out after this date. Yearbooks may be picked up in room 306 AB from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. Monday-Friday.

Language Post Filled

Dr. David M. Gillespie, director of the Robert F. Kidd Library, has been appointed as Coordinator of the Language Division, replacing Virginia West, who will be retiring in December. Gillespie will assume his role as coordinator beginning with the spring 1984 semester. His duties will include those normally exercised by the division chairman such as scheduling, budget preparation, and submission of reports. Dr. Gillespie will also be in charge of directing the search procedure to select a new division chairman as his position as coordinator is only temporary.

Tourney To Be Held

The GSC forensics team will be hosting the West Virginia Speech and Communication Association's Novice Tournament this weekend in Glenville.

Participants from area high schools will compete for trophies in their respective fields.

Student directors for the tournament are Joe Stephens and Mark Kozlowski.

The WVSCA, under the guidance of President-Elect Bobbie Nicholson, is an organization for speech teachers in West Virginia.

Dr. Alfred T. Bilips, Jr., Vice-President of Student Services, reminds students that many ID's remain to be picked up.

Forensic Team Places Sixth

The GSC Forensic team competed at the Clarion University Invitational Tournament in Pennsylvania last weekend.

GSC finished sixth overall out of twelve teams competing. All of Glenville's participants who competed, scored sweepstakes points.

Raeleen McMillion, Tammy Stalnaker and Danny Bayer qualified for the national competition which will be held at Georgia Southern College - soon-to-be-University.

Those students competing were Kelly Davis, Lou

Davidson, Randy Harper, Joe Stephens, Tammy Stalnaker, Raeleen McMillion, and Danny Bayer.

Tammy Stalnaker placed sixth out of 27 participants in informative speaking. Raeleen McMillion and Danny Bayer placed sixth out of 21 in dramatic duo. To qualify for national competition, participants must place sixth or better.

According to Coach Bobbi Nicholson, "The best thing that came from this competition is that the GSC team beat all of the other state teams."

Play Cast Announced

Auditions for act two scene three of California Suite by Neil Simon were held last week and the play's cast has been announced by director Joe Stephens.

Tim Mace, a sophomore English major from Spencer, WV, will play Mort Hollander. Beth Hollander will be played by Tammi Igo, a senior oral communications major from Clay, WV. Playing the part of Stu Franklin is Tim Pittman, a junior computer science major from Moundsville, WV. Mitzi Whited, a sophomore art major from Parkersburg, WV, completes the cast as Gert Franklin.

Valiant To Be Performed

THE VALIANT, a drama written by Holworthy Hall and Robert Middlemass, will be performed on Friday, October 21 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium.

Directed by Tammi Igo, a senior English/oral communications major from Clay, WV, the play deals with a young man who is in jail for murder, and the struggle of the warden and the chaplain to discover his identity.

The cast consists of Tim Mace, a sophomore English oral communications major from Spencer, WV, as James Dyke. Warden Holt will be portrayed by Joe Stephens, a junior English/oral communications major from Parkersburg. Playing the role of Father Daly will be Mitchell Barron Moore, a sophomore English major from Vienna, WV. Cara Keenan, a junior special education major from Gauley Bridge, WV, will play the role of Josephine Paris. The attendant, Paula Brown, is a sophomore business major from Lodi, OH, and rounding out the cast is Steve Keenan, a senior English/journalism major from Gauley Bridge, WV.

The play promises to provide an enjoyable evening, so everyone is urged to attend.

OEC Members Participate

Last weekend at Jackson's Mill, twenty-two members of the Organization for Exceptional Children did an outstanding job of providing child care for ten normal children from ages five months to 10 years of age, and for eight autistic, one epileptic, and two multiply handicapped children ranging in age from six to twenty-five years. The child care is a service provided by the OEC each year for the West Virginia Society for Autistic Children. Those students who participated were: Paula Jones, Diana Tomlin, Tina Hunt, Lori Euler, David Anderson, Mary McKinney, Nila Golden, Jennie Phillips, Susan Harshberger, Betty Taylor, Barbara Drake, Kim Maynard, Steve Burke, Rodney Leggett, Tricia Farris, Greta Frame, Veta Frame, Sherry Milliser, Cara Keenan and Maria Lothes from GSC. Two students, Sally Wamsley and Kay Spiker also participated and were from PCC.

Escort Service Initiated

The GSC Student Congress has initiated a service to benefit females walking to Pickens Hall or downtown after dark. The service will make available a list of men willing to volunteer their time to escort females to their homes after night classes from Monday through Thursday.

A list of volunteers is available in the office of both dormitories on campus. Females interested in using the escort service should consult these lists and contact one of the men whose names are listed.

Anyone with questions or suggestions concerning this service should contact Eddie Mazzella in Pickens Hall.

Organizational News

Fine Arts Complex Debated

Two weeks ago, a legislative sub-committee on higher education visited the Glenville State College campus for a series of meetings with faculty, staff, and students. In the student meeting with the committee, students were asked to voice concerns which they considered relevant. Shelly Morris, as a representative of the GSC Student Congress, presented to the committee a list of concerns to be discussed. One of the proposals was the building of a fine arts complex. Several students from both the music and drama departments were present to voice their concern over lack of space available to them.

Members of both the music and drama departments have been working in severely limited space over the past to produce recitals, plays, concerts, etc. Problems with storage space, scheduling rehearsal time for the auditorium, and finding a place to build sets have constantly plagued both students and instructors in these departments. The students stated their problems and arranged a tour of the facilities for the legislators. The legislators seemed sympathetic to the plight of the students and promised to look into the problem and search for a possible conclusion.

According to Linda McKown, Faculty Advisory Committee representative, when the college's budget proposal was sent to Charleston to the Board of Regents, the top request for funds was a $4.4 million package for a fine arts complex. When the BOR's budget proposals were sent to the Legislature, however, GSC's total allotment of funds was $237,000--definitely not enough to build a new building.

The prospect of a new fine arts complex at GSC is not dead, however, as the Legislature has the final say on the budget for the year. If the Legislature perceives the need pertinent enough, funds can still be allotted for the construction.

More information will be printed in next week's MERCURY concerning the present status of the proposals and what may be done by interested persons to further insure the support of the Legislature.

From The Wesley Foundation

A reminder that this week's movie is the special edition of "Close Encounters of the Third Kind." The movie will be shown in the main room of the Wesley Foundation and will begin at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 20. Admission is .75 and free refreshments will be served.

The Foundation is looking for volunteers for the upcoming UNICEF drive. All interested persons should be at the Trinity United Methodist Church on Sunday, October 30 at 1:30 p.m. Volunteers are needed to supervise groups of school age youth who will be canvassing the area. All persons involved are invited to attend a party following the collection drive, at 3:30 p.m. at Trinity.

We would like to remind all students that the main room of the Wesley Foundation is open each evening for study and relaxation--come on over, enjoy a cup of coffee or tea, and a quiet place to study.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

The Iota Omega Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon held its weekly meeting on Sunday at 6:30 p.m. The associate members of the Order of Diana were voted on and we are proud to say that we have some fine girls. Good Luck.

Plans were discussed for a bread sale on October the 25th. All fraters should meet at the Wesley Foundation. There will also be an arrow raffle of a dozen hunting arrows. The tickets will cost $1 and the drawing will be held at the TKE dance on October 27 in the Pioneer ballroom. If you would like to purchase a ticket, contact any TKE frater or OD.

Practice will be held for the Commodore Bowl game sometime this week. Check with Everett Sparr or on the TKE board to find the times for practice.

Finally, good luck to all Pioneer sports teams this week.

Lambda Chi Alpha

The brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha held their weekly meeting in the Derrick Room Monday at 5 p.m.

The Chi's will be raffling off $100. The drawing will be Monday, October 31 in the Derrick lounge. Contact any brother for tickets.

All of the brothers are reminded to meet in room 213 Pickens Hall Friday at 5:20.

Plans are being finalized for our annual spaghetti dinner Wednesday, November 2.

All brothers are reminded that the Kappa meeting will be Wednesday at 10 p.m.

Awards for the week are: Pig-Steve Gregori; Wino-Mark "Tech" Phillips; AH-Boomer; and KCUF-Pudge and Chris.

Pi Gamma Mu

President Sarah Wood opened the second meeting of Pi Gamma Mu for the 83-84 academic year on Wednesday, October 12, 1983 at 6:30 in the Wesley Foundation with four faculty and six students in attendance. Dr. James Eaton gave a report on profits from both the concession stand and booksale fundraiser.

Agenda for the evening included discussion of this year's membership drive, a senior student project, MD Week involvement, possibilities for a field trip and finalization of plans for our reading group. The first reading group session will begin on Nov. 15 with the book Journey to Jerusalem and under the guidance of Professor John Hymes. Deloris Mysliwiec, Professor of Sociology, will provide an article for December discussion on the sociology of Santa Claus.

What comes after graduation? What do you need to do to prepare for graduate work? Why do it? These questions and more will be dealt with in the next presentation in Kappa Delta Pi's Topics In Education Series 1983. Mr. Joseph Hickman, GSC's placement officer will conduct a mini-seminar entitled: "The Graduate's Decision..." Wednesday, October 26, 1983 at 4 p.m., room 101 Clark Hall.

Delta Zeta

The Theta Xi Chapter of the Delta Zeta Sorority held a formal meeting on Monday, October 17 at 4 p.m. Plans were discussed concerning the visitation of shut-ins. Sisters are reminded to bring their canned food to the next meeting and that Founders Day is October 21. We would like to thank everyone who attended the dance Thursday and a reminder that the Halloween dance is October 29 in the ballroom by invitation only.

Awards this week are: Pig Pen-Lora; Clean Room-Vickie, Brenda, Leisa, Kim, and Ann; Study Turtle-Patty; and Wilted Rose-Kim.

Finally, congratulations to the football team for winning against Salem. Good luck this Saturday against Wesleyan.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

The sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority met Monday afternoon, October 17, for a school dress meeting. Our new pledges for this semester were welcomed. They are: Cyndi Crowder, Kassie Harsh, Jennifer Gaynor, Allison Johnson, Tammy Maynor, Jackie Mullens, and Camella Tenney. It's great to have you, girls!

In honor of our pledges, Big Sis-Little Sis week has been scheduled for next week. The "Sis" ceremony will be Sunday, October 30.

All sisters interested in helping with the UNICEF drive are to sign up in the lounge or see Anita. Sisters were reminded of the Panhellenic meeting Thursday.

Sisters of the Week were named. They are: the pledges, Tina Barnett, and Donna Baker. The "Cultured Pearl" Award goes to Debbie Tice.

Order of Diana

The OD pledge class for the fall of 1983 consists of: Pam Carson, Kim Copley, Lisa Cottrell, Lori Euler, Barbara Fouchs, Jackie Myers, Loretta Newlon, and Carol Wilson. Congratulations! Don't forget to wear your ribbon and carry your board.

Any OD wanting to pick up a Little Brother should see Leah.

A reminder that we are still selling Sassi-Six. Turn in your money to Kim.

Our next meeting will be October 25 in the Student Union at 12:30.

Theta Xi

The Theta Girls met at the home of Donnetta Tallman on Sunday evening, October 9, 1983, at 9 p.m. President, Jennifer Gaynor directed the election of officers. Officers elected were as follows:

Vice-president-Donnetta Tallman; Secretary-Patty Parker; Treasurer-Ramona Smith.

Attending the meeting were: Jennifer, and Pledges-Donnetta, Patty, Karina Pugh, Robin Rhodes.

Other new pledges are: Ramona, Susan Carson, Debbie Kerns, Miriam Sisson, Twiline Stump, and Velga Lothes.

Following the election of officers, there was a discussion as to some activities to do in the coming year.

Possible activities were: to have a haunted house in conjunction with the guys; have a cake and craft sale; have a dance with an airband and dance contest; at Christmas time, make favors for nursing home and toys for kids in foster homes.

Dues are $5 per semester and are to be paid to Ramona.

Thanks to the new guys, and gals, who are pledging this semester.

4-H Club

The Collegiate 4-H Club held their second meeting October 11 at 12:45 in room 304 of the Administration Building. This meeting consisted of presenting a panel of new officers upon whom we will vote at the next meeting. We also discussed various other activities which we will do. On Thursday, October 27 at 7 p.m., we will meet in the parking lot between Pickens Hall and the Administration Building to go on a hayride. At the end of our ride, we will have a bonfire and council circle at the Recreation Center on Mineral Road. This is to create interest for those of you who were at one time involved with 4-H, but seem to have lost touch. Let's get that 4-H spirit renewed.

We would like to invite any interested person to come to our next meeting, which will be October 25 at 12:45 in room 304 of the Administration Building. Also, we would like to thank and welcome our new advisor, Mrs. Cheryl McKinney. She is sure going to be a big help. Glad to have you aboard Mrs. McKinney.

Athlete's Addition

If one looks at the fact that the college cross country team will run at Oak Hill again next Thursday and run against a somewhat weak team, West Virginia Tech, again, they may wonder why run on the same course or why beat up on Tech.

The answer is both easy and intelligent. The course at Oak Hill is the very same they will be running on in the conference championship meet a few weeks from now. As for running against hapless Tech, well, it just happens to be their home course.

When the runners encounter this course come conference time it will be the third experience for them. This should enable to give the harriers a decisive edge. Perhaps it is coaching and scheduling tactics such as these that have made GSC Cross-Country the conference power that it is.

Despite the slow start this season, the GSC football team does have a few impressive conference statistics. Entering last week's game, the Glenville defense was ranked second in both rushing and passing defense. The offense, meanwhile, was fifth in both categories and sixth overall. Byron Brooks is the second leading rusher in the WVAC, while Jeff Metheny is fourth in passing. Tight end John Trew is fourth in average pass receiving yards per game with Jim Bird sixth. Bird also has three touchdown receptions. Defensively, linebacker Terry Kendall has a defensive efficiency rating that places him sixth.

If the Pioneers win this weekend verses Wesleyan, it could turn things around considerably. Second place in the conference is in reach if the gridders win their remaining games.

One last note: With WVU playing Penn State this Saturday, I'm sure people will talk about how the Nittany Lions rooked the Tide two weeks ago. WRONG! The films prove conclusively that the referees not only blew the call in the endzone but also missed an illegal procedure versus 'Bama. Combining this Tide penalty and Penn's offsides penalty makes them offsetting. Thus the down should have been rightfully played over, as it was. Justice prevails in Beaver Stadium.

Boy, Ray Perkins should have kept his mouth shut a while longer. Somebody (a bunch of people actually) owe Joe Paterno an apology.

Jim Weidemoyer

Keenan, Taylor Lead Runners

Led by seniors Steve Keenan and Larry Taylor, the Glenville State College cross-country team literally ran away with first place defeating host West Virginia Tech by a score of 17-42.

Keenan and Taylor finished with identical 29:54 times for the five-mile course. Close behind the two winners was freshman Dave Antonik with a time of 30:29. All three of these Pioneers finished before the first Tech runner crossed the tape.

Next in line were junior Steve Meckfessel and Chris Kiester finishing fifth and sixth respectively. Placing seventh in last Wednesday's meet was Steve Roberts, while freshman newcomer Shawn Shockey finished eleventh overall covering the course in a time of 35:22.

First year man Shockey is a Parkersburg native. The Parkersburg South grad ran his first college meet last week. He was a middle distance runner at South. Coach Jim Hilgenberg feels he has the speed and with work he can become a promising runner.

The harriers' next meet is scheduled for next Thursday at Oak Hill again, this time for a triangular meet competing against both West Virginia State and Tech.

Brooks' Touchdown Drops Winless Salem, 14-10

Junior halfback Byron Brooks led the way with 141 yards rushing, including a run of 33 yards for the winning score, as the GSC Pioneers handed the Salem Tigers their sixth loss in as many games by edging them, 14-10.

Following the Pioneers' punt after the initial series, the Tigers' Joe Montouth dashed 67 yards for the score on their first play from scrimmage in the first quarter. This run gave Salem the lead, 7-0, with only 1:47 having churned off the clock.

Midway through the first quarter the Pioneers put together a short drive. The drive was concluded with 2:02 left in the quarter when Jeff Metheny hit split end Jim Bird for a seven-yard scoring pass.

As time ran out in the second quarter, Salem pulled ahead on a 20-yard field goal. This Doyle Gibbs kick put the Tigers in front 10-7, a lead that held until the final quarter.

Glenville did threaten early in the third quarter. Defensive back Mike Payne intercepted a pass deep in Tiger territory. Unfortunately, the scoring threat was halted when Glenville fumbled on the three-yard-line.

'Grudge Match' Set

The "Black and Blue Bowl" between the surveyors and the foresters will be played Thursday evening at the Gilmer County High School Football Field. This annual 'grudge match' gets underway at 6:30 p.m. There will be a get-together at the sawmill immediately following the game-losers buy the refreshments.

Early in the final quarter, the gridmen started driving on the Tigers. With 9:55 left in the game Brooks galloped 33 yards, evading one last tackler at the five-yard line for the decisive score.

Glenville State outrushed the Tigers 189-121 yards but were out gained 85-218 in the passing department. The two teams pulled even in first downs with 13 each. The yellow flags seemed to constantly be sailing in the air. Two hundred eighty-five yards in penalties were dealt out last Saturday night, 116 for Glenville and 169 yards worth to Salem.

Lady Spikers Break Even

GSC's womens' volleyball team broke even last week winning three matches and dropping three while playing in two quadrangular matches. Senior Gina Bailes paced the spikers with 38 points while the women won two of three at home on Tuesday and won one more on Friday at Fairmont.

In last Tuesday's home quadrangular the Lady Pioneers hung tough with Concord but dropped the match two games to one, including a 13-15 heart-breaker finale. The Ladies then preceded to thump West Virginia Tech 15-2 and 15-8. Fairmont State was their next victim as Glenville won by identical 15-10 scores. This put the spikers 2-1 over-all for the match.

Friday afternoon Glenville dropped their match versus Shepherd 8-15 and 6-15 at Fairmont. The hitters defeated the host team Falcons 15-10 and soundly 15-1 in the second game to win the match. Two hard-fought contests were dropped to the hands of Salem College 10-15 and 12-15. The one victory broke the spikers even at 3-3 for last week's action.

Behind Bailes in the scoring department last week were Valerie Reynolds and Kelly Cain each with 31 points. Sophomore Kelly Smith was next scoring 26 points with Leah Marlowe being the last Lady Pioneer in double figures with 15 points.

The spikers had a home triangular match on Tuesday October 18, and will play next this Friday at West Liberty. Monday will see the hitters travel to Alderson-Broaddus for a dual match.

Veteran Performer Praises 'Strange Road' Production

The GSC theatre production of the drama "Strange Road", written by John Houston, was held on Friday, October 14 in the auditorium. The play was directed by Kent Woofert, a senior art/communications major.

The theme of the play, although a bit unclear throughout the production, dealt with a boy possessed with the power of foretelling events.

Alan, adequately portrayed by Tim Brown, is looked upon with suspicion by the fisher folk of the village. Alan's love interest is Annie Kadan, portrayed by Lisa McHenry Stuchell who carried her part off with a believable innocence.

Cheryl Keenan as Alan's mother, Mrs. Talbott, depicted the loving motherly concern that her part called for.

Annie's mother, Mrs. Kadan, was played very convincingly by Kelly Boggess, who could easily find herself stereotyped to this kind of role.

As a whole, the play could be defined as a success. The set projected the artistic flair that I expected and the replacement of the broken bowl was done with very effective lighting.

The cast and director are to be commended for a job well done. They have succeeded in setting the stage for the other six one-act plays coming up soon, and have assured us that quality theatre is alive and well at GSC.

Gary Ross

A senior music recital will be held on Sunday, Oct. 23 at 3 p.m. in the auditorium.

Ronnie Hall will perform on the trumpet, and soprano Robin Crist will sing.

Kyle Clinic

By 1985, every high school in West Virginia having collision sports must have certification in sports medicine. In light of this fact, in addition to it being football season, this week's article from the Kyle Clinic will deal with the role of the team physician and trainer in health care of the athlete. In a related future article, THE MERCURY will examine the specifics of the new rules concerning sports medicine and the related curriculum to be developed; for now, we will look at specific duties of those with training in sports medicine.

One of the most important responsibilities of the sports medicine specialist is to insure that a properly conducted pre-competition complete physical exam is performed with the aid of appropriate health professional personnel. Each athlete should complete a standard, pre-competition medical history prior to reporting for this examination.

The team physician's and trainer's involvement in the examination can be broken down into five areas: the gathering of pertinent history, the taking of vital signs, a general physical exam, a skeletal and extremity exam, and a laboratory test.

Also of importance is injury prevention. This goal is obtained through conditioning which includes weight training, flexibility testing, and cardiovascular conditioning. Fluid replacement and taping are also methods of injury prevention.

All participants in the MD Super Dance should meet at 6 p.m. in the Wesley Foundation today (Wednesday, October 19). Bring $2 each so you can receive your packets to start getting donations. If you are unable to attend, contact Debbie Judy or LouEllen Wentz.

David Gillespie

Paul Peck

Instructors Are Mayors

It is not unusual for political scientists and the like to be involved in politics. Here at GSC, though, Dr. David M. Gillespie, librarian, and Mr. Paul Peck, math instructor, have both chosen to act upon their political beliefs. Dr. Gillespie serves as the mayor of Glenville while Mr. Peck is the mayor of Burnsville.

Dr. Gillespie is currently serving the first year of his third term. His desire to fill the position is based on at least two beliefs. First, he simply enjoys working with people. Also, he has goals for Glenville which he feels he can accomplish. These goals include city improvement such as an improved water system and sidewalk renovation as well as city beautification.

While he believes that his record indicates that a conflict of interest does not exist between his position here at GSC and his responsibilities as mayor, he does admit to often having to compromise his beliefs. While this creates delays, he feels confident that people, events, and money situations often change with time so that goals may be eventually realized.

His desire to work with people is evident when he speaks of community input. He is interested in hearing every comment or complaint no matter how trivial it may appear, for it could be a concern of many people, and his position allows him to collect them together.

As for students interested in politics, he suggests that they get involved in a campaign, go to meetings, or go to a legislative session. He also suggests taking speech and communications courses, learning to speak in public, and studying other speaking styles such as those found in THE CONGRESSIONAL RECORD.

Mr. Peck is also serving a third term. His goals are similar to Dr. Gillespie's and appear to be related to small-town goals anywhere in West Virginia.

The Burnsville Dam has also been important but has had its negative effects as well. While providing employment and revenue for some citizens, the geological impact has affected the entire town. An increase in water flow has eroded banks and exposed sewer lines. A recent grant will cover the cost to repair this, though.

Mr. Peck has had an interest in local politics since the early 1970's and decided to participate in government at that time. He would suggest to any other person that has an interest in politics to do the same and run for elected office at least once. While, he points out, that seeking and holding office has its costs, he feels the education is well worth it.

NCATE Meeting Announced

Dr. Pam Brown, dean of Teacher Education, has announced the upcoming meeting of the National Council Advisors of Teacher Education here next week. The NCATE, headed by Dr. Everette L. Wither- spoon, will meet from Oct. 23 to 26 along with the other six members and invited guests to discuss various aspects of the Teacher Education program. Each member is a specialist in a different area of education ranging from Secondary teaching, Instructional resources to Early Childhood/Elementary Teaching.

Letter to the Editor

The Pioneer Football team would like to send out a special thanks to all the loyal fans who followed the team to Salem and cheered them on to a very important win. A special thanks should go to the Tri Sigma and Delta Zeta Sororities for their special efforts that helped to cheer the team on.
