

The Glenville Mercury

Number 1

Glenville State College, Glenville, West Virginia

Wednesday, September 5, 1984

Jackie Mullens, Editor of The Glenville Mercury, is shown interviewing President Simmons about his chancellorship and his feelings on returning to Glenville.

Dr. Simmons Returns To GSC

Glenville State College is a very unique college in the state of West Virginia, due to the fact that its president also served as the Interim Chancellor of the WV Board of Regents. Not many colleges have this distinction and not many have such a successful president as GSC's Dr. William K. Simmons.

President Simmons traveled between October, 1983 and June, 1984 to serve as the Interim Chancellor of the Board of Regents in Charleston and as GSC's president. President Simmons described his chancellorship as "an interesting experience." He went on to say that he "learned a great deal about higher education, budgets, and it was an invaluable experience." Tom D. Miller of The Herald-Dispatch, Huntington, in the Sunday, August 22, 1984 issue wrote in his article about President Simmons' chancellorship: "But Simmons moved into the role with ease and handled a difficult 1984 legislative session with distinction. It earned him high marks from legislative leaders and others involved in the deliberations of higher education issues."

Not only did President Simmons handle his job of chancellor successfully, he also helped

Homecoming Events Previewed

GSC Homecoming is set for September 22, when the Pioneer football team will play W.V. State. The entire week of September 17 through September 22 will be filled with various events.

On Monday, September 17, an ice-cream social is planned at 7 p.m. A Tug of War will take place with at least three women for every ten males. First place will be a pizza party for the winning team and second prize will be an ice cream social awarded to the runners-up. A volleyball match will also take place.

On Tuesday, September

18, a Gong Show is planned. A prize of $25 is offered to the person who wins first place. Bingo games will also be held and $200 worth of prizes will be given out.

On Wednesday, September 19, a Wiffle Ball Tournament will be held from 3-6 p.m. From 8 until 11 p.m. the Congress will sponsor a DJ Mix. Airbands may enter at the mix to win the first place prize of $25.

On Thursday, September 20, a campus picnic will be held. Comedian, Tom Parks, will also be on campus to perform.

On Friday, September 21,

WELCOME BACK!

Editor Says "Welcome"

Due to the fact that this is the first issue of the Glenville MERCURY and I am Editor, it is only appropriate to write about the beginning of the fall term and to welcome everyone back. So, without further delay I will proceed to do so.

Glenville State has pulled its students back to begin the fall term. Some came eagerly, mostly freshmen, and others not so eagerly. However, things are typical with the teachers, upperclassmen, and new faces of the freshmen filling the campus.

Glenville State is known as a small and friendly campus due to its students. My advice to the new freshmen is make friends and have a good time doing what college students are supposed to do: study and party! To upperclassmen, try to study some. To everyone, try to participate in as much as possible to make GSC fun and exciting. Again, welcome to GSC and I wish everyone a successful year.

Morris Welcomes Students

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome everyone to Glenville. The year ahead holds a great deal of promise for all of us. The Student Congress has planned several activities; now all that lacks is your participation. For that matter your participation is the key to the success of any activity, no matter who sponsors it. If you have any problem which you feel the Congress could help you with, I would like to invite you to the Student Congress meetings. Our meetings are held every Wednesday in Pioneer Center room 103 at 5:30 p.m. and are open to everyone. I would like to wish you all a very good year, and if I can be of assistance, please feel free to contact me.

Shelly Morris
Student Congress President

The 1983-84 Edition of the Trillium is now available in the Language Division. The Trillium is a student publication of prose, poetry, photography, and drawings.

Organizations should have their news in to the Mercury Office by Monday 12 noon. If the deadline cannot be met, please contact anyone at the Mercury Office, Ext. 290.

The Mercury has changed to newsprint! Please bear with us as we adapt to a new printer, new paper, new methods of page makeup, new computer. We hope you will like our new look as we strive for another first place this year.

Phi Beta Lambda

Ten members of Phi Beta Lambda representing Glenville State College attended the Phi Beta Lambda National Leadership Conference held July 5 - 8 in Atlanta, Georgia.

The students who attended had received first place honors at the state skills competition held April 13 at the University of Charleston.

Students travelling to Atlanta were Mike Bowe, Stumptown, WV, Accounting I; Damita Nutter, Summersville, WV, Business Communications; LeaAnn Sharp, Ripley, WV, Data Processing I; Crystal Loudin, French Creek, WV, Data Processing II; Stacy Scott, Ripley, WV, Ms. Future Business Teacher; Kelley Houchin, Grantsville, WV, Ms. Future Business Executive; Mike Allen, Spencer, WV, Mr. Future Business Executive; Steve Roberts, Glenville, WV, and Lisa Hudson, Spencer, WV, Information Management; and Janet Yeager, Coxs Mills, WV, Word Processing/Machine Transcription.

Placing at the National Conference were Damita Nutter, Business Communications, ninth place and Mike Bowe, Accounting I, fourth place. In addition to these individual honors, the local chapter received the Gold Seal Chapter Award of Merit and the Alumni Certificate of Recognition. The Gold Seal is awarded to the outstanding local chapters of which the Glenville chapter was one of two chapters in West Virginia which received this honor. The Alumni Certificate is awarded to the chapters who have recruited at least five new members for national alumni.

The Division of Education would like to announce the publication of an article by Mrs. Annette Hanson Roberts, "Incidental Teaching of Mentally Retarded Students Within a Token System," in the 1984, Vol. 89, American Journal of Mental Deficiency. The credits accompanying the article states that the author is a faculty member at Glenville State College.

Student Congress will hold a dance Thursday at 8:00 in the Ballroom.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

The sisters of the Delta Alpha chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority held their first meeting on Wednesday, Aug. 29. A covered dish dinner was discussed and will be held on Nov. 15 with our Grandma. Sisters will be selling candy starting today and to purchase candy just see any Sigma sister. Rush parties were also planned and homecoming candidates were chosen. Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority will sponsor Deidra Burrows as freshman princess, Allison Johnson as sophomore princess, Jackie Myers as junior princess, Kelli Jamison as senior princess, and Jackie Mullens as homecoming queen.

Sister of the week is Tina Barnett and the cultured pearl award goes to LeAnne Butler and Pam Perry. The sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority welcome everyone to GSC and hope everyone has a good semester.

Teacher Education majors who plan to student teach during next semester (Spring 1985), must apply by October 1, 1984. Application forms are available in Clark Hall 101. Plan to attend a meeting Monday, September 17, at 3 p.m. in Clark Hall 101. Your attendance at the meeting is required.

'84 Pioneers Have Something To Prove

With most of the members of last year's WVIAC runners-up returning for the 1984 campaign GSC football promises to be even more exciting than last year.

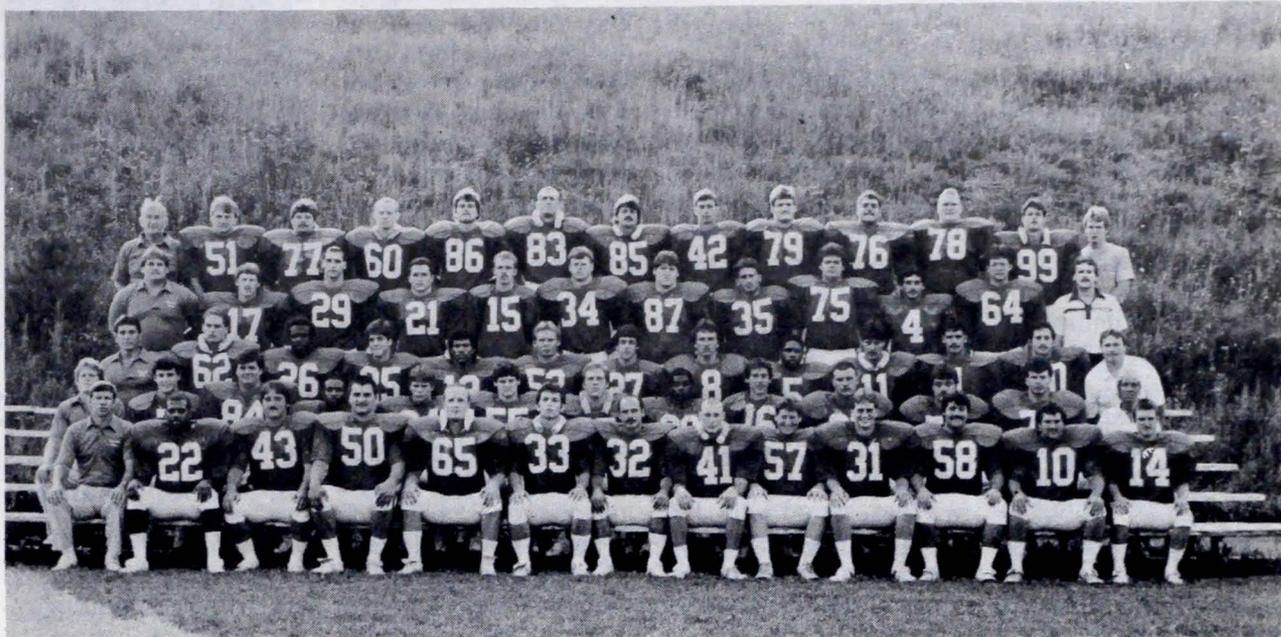

The Pioneers, ranked fifth in the conference in a pre-season coaches' poll, will be opening their season on September 8 at Waynesburg, Pa., under the leadership of acting head coach Randy Hunt.

Hunt, who is filling in for head coach Frank Vincent, says that the team feels "they have something to prove," after having been dropped three places in the ratings.

Heading the list of returning starters is All-American Byron Brooks. Brooks ran for 944 yards last season, and is GSC's all-time rushing leader with 2,635 career yards.

All-WVIAC returnees are center Larry Loughner, defensive backs Mark Hash and Mike Payne, and second team all-conference nose guard Mike Chadwick.

The Pioneer's defense, ranked nationally in 1983,

The 1984 Glenville State College Pioneer Football Team.

will again be tough to break in '84. GSC was among the country's best last year in rushing defense, scoring defense, and total defense.

All in all, GSC's outlook for the new season should be very good. Look for the Pioneers to provide a great deal of excitement in 1984.

Harriers' New Boss Optimistic

A new coach and some "exciting" freshmen should give GSC cross-country fans something to cheer about this Fall.

The Pioneers are riding a string of three consecutive WVIAC titles under the reigns of former coach Jim Hilgenberg, and new mentor Butch Hays has set his sights for another crown.

The reason for the new coach's optimism is perhaps the team's combination of youth and experience. Returning from last year's squad are sophomores Dave Antonik from New Martinsville and Shawn Shockey from Parkersburg South. New members Barry Crutchfield and Jesse Skiles should also add a nice punch to the GSC lineup.

The old man of this year's team is Asenso Koufour of Ghana, Africa. Koufour was a Pioneer harrier a few years ago before transferring to Georgia State. He says he is very excited to be back in the blue and white.

Two incoming freshmen whom Coach Hays is very glad to have are Jay Dawkins and Jimmy Collins of Parkersburg South.

Dawkins earned All-State status last year by finishing fifth in the state cross-country meet in a time of 17:26. He also won the 3200 and finished fifth in the 1600 at last spring's state track meet.

"We've got a pretty competitive schedule and it should prepare us well for the conference meet," said Hays, citing State and Fairmont as the Pioneers' most dangerous potential spoilers. "We're young, but we'll come on. We'll be competitive at the end of the year."

President Simmons Expresses Views

GSC. The simple fact that President Simmons served as chancellor brings recognition, respect and acclaim to Glenville State. "I think my chancellorship speaks well of the school and brings forth respect," President Simmons commented. One way in which his chancellorship helped Glenville was in summer school. While chancellor, Simmons assumed the salary of chancellor and his salary as president of Glenville State College went into the summer school fund. According to Simmons, Glenville might not have had the first term of summer school without that money.

President Simmons has, no doubt, brought recognition to Glenville. He also helped Glenville in another way by serving as Chancellor. The Board of Regents recently chose a new logo which appears on all of their publications and Mr. Charles Scott, GSC faculty member, designed the logo. Simmons remarked, "I feel the logo is a direct and lasting contribution for Mr. Scott and Glenville."

While in Charleston, the faculty and administration of GSC filled in for the president. In regard to this, Simmons commented, "The vice presidents, faculty, Mrs. Smith and all of the staff did a tremendous job carrying my load." President Simmons will, however, serve the role of president of GSC full-time now.

When faced with the option of staying on with the Board of Regents, President Simmons chose to come back to Glenville. Referring again to Tom Miller's article, Miller comments, "Simmons found the enticing option of returning to the relative peaceful rural environment of Gilmer County where he is convinced he can be president as long as he wants far more appealing than a run for the permanent job as chancellor." Simmons commented, "I am pleased to be back and while away, I rediscovered Glenville."

Glenville is a special place to President Simmons due to the fact that he was once a student, his farm and family are here, and Glenville has qualities that are not found on other campuses.

To become reacquainted with the students of GSC, Simmons plans to attend football games, which he enjoys due to the enthusiasm of the band, students and team. He also plans to be open with the students and invites them in his office to talk or discuss issues, when he isn't busy. The president also plans to attend the Student Congress meetings when the opportunity arises.

Nevertheless, President Simmons is back to Glenville to fill his role as president. He will, however, serve as the chairman of the President's Council on the Board of Regents and will be involved in the legislative session on behalf of the board. President Simmons concluded by saying, "I am happy to be back, and I am looking forward to being on campus."

Cheerleaders Take Top Honors At Camp

On Aug. 13 through Aug. 17 the Glenville State College Cheerleaders participated in the UCA Cheerleading camp at Va. Tech in Blacksburg, Virginia. Over one hundred squads attended the camp, such as Delaware, North Carolina, and Ohio University. The Pioneer Cheerleaders won first place in the fight song, and cheer categories, as well as a spirit stick. The squad was also chosen as the best all-around girls squad at the camp.

This year's cheerleaders are as follows: Sandy Post, a junior returning veteran on the squad will be head cheerleader; Belinda Nichols, a junior also returning from last year; Jackie Mullens, a senior returning veteran; Jenny Wilson, a sophomore, and Deidra Burrows, a freshman who cheered at Parkersburg, South. Dinah Dotson, alternate, is also a veteran cheerleader and she is a sophomore.

Homecoming (cont. from p. 1) a thuse or pep meeting is being planned. However, plans are incomplete at this time.

On Saturday, September 22, the day will be filled with the parade, Queen's coronation, the football game, and finally the homecoming dance.

Jeff Metheny is the house director of Pickens Hall and backfield coach for the GSC football team.

J. Metheny Named P.H. House Director

Jeff Metheny, a 1984 GSC graduate, has become the new house director of Pickens Hall. Jeff, who has a degree in Physical Education and Safety, will also be the backfield coach for the Pioneer football team, along with his other duties.

A native of Mason-town, Jeff was starting quarterback for the Pioneers for three years, so his experience will be an asset to the coaching staff. His duties as house director are to make sure the dorm staff and occupants are always running smoothly. Jeff says that he is very happy to be back at Glenville State College.

'The Odd Couple' Readings Slated

Auditions for the fall theatre production of 'The Odd Couple' will be held Sept. 4-5 at 6:30 in the auditorium.

The three-act comedy written by Neil Simon has a cast of six men and two women. The show opened on Broadway in 1965 and starred Walter Matthau and Art Carney. Later it was made into a movie in which Jack Lemon replaced Carney. The television show which starred Tony Randall and Jack Klugman popularized the theme of two divorced men who try to live together and battle their differences.

The show will run October 11-12 at 8:00. Anyone interested in auditioning for the show or signing up for crew work is encouraged to attend.

President Elected By Freshman Class

Andy Pfefferkorn will be this year's freshman class president. Andy is from Manassas, Virginia and a member of the GSC football team.

Elected by his classmates, Andy plans to major in Physical Education with a minor in Sports Management.

His first goal as class president is to recruit help for the homecoming float.

"I'm looking forward to my freshman year and serving the freshman class to the best of my ability," Pfefferkorn commented.

Andy Pfefferkorn

Conference Attended

Dr. Mary Jo Pribble, Professor of Chemistry, at Glenville State College, attended the Eighth Biennial Conference on Chemical Education held at the University of Connecticut, Storrs, Connecticut, August 5-10, 1984.

Dr. Pribble presented a paper "A Course in Intermediate Inorganic Chemistry" as a part of a Symposium on Teaching Inorganic Chemistry. Other symposia presented during the meeting included Teaching Organic Chemistry, Teaching Physical Chemistry, Teaching Analytical Chemistry, Computer Literacy, Forensic Chemistry, Educational Approaches to Safety and Health in Chemistry, Chemical Toxicology and Health Hazards, and International Chemical Education.

Mrs. Johnson

Steve Keenan was chosen as the "Outstanding Student" for the 1983-84 school year.

Keenan Wins Award

Steve Keenan was named "Outstanding Student" for the 1983-84 school year at the graduation ceremony held in May.

He held offices at Louis Bennet Hall as Secretary and President; Vice-President of Student Congress; member of the track team and cross-country team; and Sports Editor and Editor of the MERCURY. He also was a member of the Ohningohow Players and Alpha Psi Omega theatre organizations.

He graduated with an English Liberal Arts degree with Journalism and Political Science minors.

The award goes to the student with outstanding service to the college.

Mr. Kafer Leads Financial Aid

August Kafer has become one of the newest members of the Glenville State College staff in taking over the position as Director of Financial Aid.

Mr. Kafer came to GSC this fall from Potomac State College where he was financial aid coordinator. He is a 1979 Business Administration graduate from GSC.

The job of Director of Financial Aid entails awarding and accounting all state and federal monies. Mr. Kafer will help to see that those eligible for aid will receive it. The GSC financial aid office assists 600-700 students per year handling many types of grants and loans including the Pell Grant, the WV Grand and National Direct Student Loan.

Mr. Kafer and his wife Debra, who is also a GSC graduate, are residing in Glenville. Both are glad to be back at GSC, feeling that Glenville is like being home.
