Dodge Sponsors Contest

The Dodge division of Chrysler Corporation is sponsoring a nationwide marketing competition offering full-time graduate students an opportunity to share $10,000 in scholarships for promoting the 1985 Dodge Daytona.

"The Dodge National Collegiate Marketing Competition is designed to further higher education by bringing the classroom closer to the real world of marketing," said John Damoose, General Marketing Manager-Dodge.

The competition is open to full-time graduate students in participating accredited college or university graduate schools in the United States. The students need not be students of marketing.

Dodge has asked the schools to select teams of two to five students to submit proposals for marketing the 1985 Dodge Daytona, a front-wheel-drive sports car, to college and university students.

From among all the entries nation-wide, a panel of judges will select 20 finalist Project Teams who will be given up to $1,000 for expenses and the use of a Dodge Daytona to execute their sales promotion concept.

Judges will choose the 20 finalist Project Teams based on the (1) clarity of the proposal, (2) ability of the promotion to reach objectives, (3) originality, (4) ability to attract attention, (5) ease of execution, (6) efficient use of budget and (7) feasibility.

Following the execution of their promotion, the 20 finalist Project Teams must submit a general review and objective evaluation of their events.

From these evaluations and reports, a panel of America's top advertising and marketing professionals will choose the winning promotions.

The first place team will share $5,000 in scholarship monies; second place, $3,000, and third place, $2,000.

Every member of the 20 finalist teams will receive a Certificate of Merit from Dodge Marketing.

Shown above is the 1984 Glenville State College Choir. The choir will present a Christmas concert at 8:00 p.m. in the Auditorium on December 9.

GSC Choir Slates Concert

An early eighteenth-century setting of the traditional and historical Magnificat by Leonardo Leo will be highlighted in Sunday night's concert by the Glenville State College Choir. The Magnificat is Mary's song - "My soul doth magnify the Lord" from St. Luke chapter one. This text has long been an important part of the Catholic liturgy and has been set by many composers since the fourteenth century.

The Choir's concert will be presented in the College Auditorium on Sunday, December 9 at 8:00 p.m. and is to be an evening of Music for Christmas. The Gloria from Johann Hummel's "First Mass" is part of the program along with several carols from various countries. The carols include Benjamin Britten's setting of The Holly and the Ivy, a new arrangement of the old favorite, Away in a Manger by Paul Sjölund, I Saw Three Ships and a recent Christmas work by Friedell, Song of Mary.

The program will also include a group of carols recently arranged and published in Sweden.

The English texts were written by Norman Luboff. The Camerata Singers, a group of twelve singers, will sing three carols, one from Poland, one from England, and a Czech carol.

The accompanist for the choir is April Love from Ravenswood. The two flutists playing for the Magnificat are Betty Wagner, South Charleston, and Connie Adams, Salem. Dr. Raymond Jones is the Director of the Choir. The public is invited to this program of Music for Christmas

The final examinations will begin at 8:00 a.m. on Tuesday, December 18, 1984, and end at 12:10 p.m. on Friday, December 21, 1984.

The schedule given below will be followed. Students in courses having multiple sections must take the examinations at the time scheduled for the section in which they are enrolled.

Theater Being Organized

Language Division faculty and English majors are currently organizing a readers' theater group to read and discuss plans in an informal setting. Group members choose plays to be read and cast each other to read the various character parts, thus giving members to the college community the opportunity to read plays from various areas of literature. Readers' theater is performed as a group oral interpretation and to the audience without movement or any major aspect of a technical production.

At present, the group is meeting only to read through plays; however, a performance may be scheduled for next semester.

The readers' theater is open to all interested persons and no theatrical experience is necessary. The group will meet next Wednesday, December 5, at 6:00 to read Tennessee Williams', "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof."

Dec. 6 -- Woodmen Accident and Life Co. Representatives will interview prospective May and August graduates in all fields. You must be available for a half-hour interview and one hour of testing from 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Appointment and resume required.

For appointments and help with resume writing, see Janet Gainer, Room 202 (Career Counseling), Pioneer Center, or a member of the staff in the Placement Office.

As Finals Approach

Studiers Simply Studied

With finals approaching many students will be 'freakin out' and preparing for the end of the semester. Instead of discussing one single topic this week, I'd like to categorize the study habits that students have.

The first category is the 'Perfect-Studier' and this student is the 4.0 student. They study by themselves with their organized notes, highlighted texts, and florescent desk lamps. They are also asleep by 11:00 the night before their final and prepared to ace their exam.

The second category is the 'In-Between Studier' and this student is a little of both. They study while watching television with poor lighting and notes that have 'scribbles' in the margins. They take occasional breaks and usually sleep with their books, hoping the information will seep into their brains. They go to take their finals somewhat prepared and are usually 2.0 or 3.0 students.

The 'Party-Studier' is the third category of students. These students don't have a GPA and their motto is 'Go Party Always'. They usually study, if they do, with a six-pack of beer and they sometimes borrow the 'Perfect-Studiers' notes since they have none. These students have no sleep the entire week of finals and obviously go to take their finals unprepared.

Regardless of the category in which you belong - all of us will go through finals week. Good luck!!

Pioneers Win One, Drop Two In 1st Week Of Season

Kenneth Taylor goes to the hoop in heavy traffic in GSC's 75-74 loss to State.

The Pioneers dropped their first two games of the season, but bounced back in their third contest to go 1-2 in the first week of the 1984-85 campaign.

In the season opener against West Virginia State, GSC outscored its opponent 47-35 in the second half, but it wasn't enough as State pulled off a 75-74 victory.

Richard Moore, who missed a last-second desperation shot in heavy traffic in an attempt to win the game, led the Pioneers with 19 points. Steve Linville, Rudy Watts and Kenneth Taylor each added 13 points, while Matthew Bullett had nine, Ken Prettyman had four and Steve Morris had three.

Taylor led the team in rebounds, hauling in 13, while Linville and Watts pulled in 10 apiece.

Glenville was 25 of 61 from the floor for 41% and 24 of 40 from the line for 60% for the game.

In the preliminary round of the Battler Tournament at Alderson-Broadus College, all five GSC starters scored in double figures, but the Pioneers fell to undefeated Rio Grande (Ohio) 84-80.

Richard Moore tallied 23 points to again lead all Glenville scorers, while Steve Linville added 15, Rudy Watts 13, Matthew Bullett 12, and Kenneth Taylor 11. Steve Morris scored six points to round out the Pioneer scoring attack.

Linville and Watts each grabbed nine rebounds, while Moore and Morris had four steals apiece.

Rio Grande led 43-36 at the half, but GSC came back midway through the second period. Behind 55-44, Linville scored 13 of the next 15 Pioneer points, and later a basket by Moore put Glenville on top 74-73. The Redmen retaliated, however, and finished the game with eight free throws in the closing minutes to nail down the win.

For the game, the Pioneers shot 34 of 51 for 59% from the floor and 12 of 14 for 86% from the free throw line.

In Saturday night's consolation game, the Pioneers finally got into the win column with a 66-54 victory over Alderson-Broadus.

After holding a one-point, 30-29 lead at the half, GSC went on a 12-point scoring binge while keeping its opponent from hitting a single shot between the 18:00 and 13:00 marks in the second half. A-B then pulled within five, but good Glenville foul shooting sealed the win.

Rudy Watts led the Pioneers with 25 points, followed by Steve Linville with 13, Matthew Bullett with 12, and Rich Moore with 10. John Harris' four points and Steve Morris' two finished up the scoring. Linville also had 12 rebounds to his credit.

Head Coach Gary Nottingham stated he was fairly pleased with his team's effort for the week, noting that his starters are all scoring in double figures. In addition, his front line players are averaging eight to nine rebounds per game. The coach also noted that the teams which have beaten his squad have yet to lose a game.

"We played real good basketball against Rio Grande, and they're one of the toughest teams in the country," Nottingham commented. "It's a real credit to this team that they could get ready for a consolation game (vs. A-B). We needed that win, and they went out and got it. We're playing well as a team, and that's what we have to do...we're not going to win on individual talent with our schedule."

Vincent, Piercy Named To Posts

Frank Vincent, head football coach at Glenville State College, has been selected by the NAIA to serve as chairman of the District 28 All-American selection committee.

The committee will make District 28 All-American recommendations to the NAIA national All-American selection committee. The recommendations are based on nominations from West Virginia Conference football coaches.

Mrs. Sandy Piercy was elected Vice President for the College/University Division of the West Virginia Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance at the State Convention held in Morgantown this month.

She will direct program for the WVAHPERD State Convention next year.

Mrs. Piercy has been an active member of WVAHPERD, presenting programs all over the state, on elementary and secondary physical education. She has been Dance Chairperson of the Elementary Section, for WVAHPERD, Vice President Health and Safety, and Chairperson of the Elementary Section, for WVAHPERD.

This year she is also Physical Education Public Information Coordinator, and on the state Physical Fitness Committee.

Ladies Go 1-1 In Tourney

The Lady Pioneers opened their season last weekend in the Pitt-Johnstown Invitational Tournament, and came away with a 1-1 record to start the year.

In Friday night's first-round action, the Ladies fell to Allegheny College of Pennsylvania 85-79 in overtime.

Allegheny outscored GSC 41-23 in the second half to counter the Lady Pioneers' 50-32 halftime lead. A missed GSC free throw in the closing moments of regulation time sent the game into overtime with the score tied at 73.

In the overtime period, Kim Ignace scored six of her team's 12 points to provide Allegheny's winning margin. Glenville co-captains Maria Lothes and Kim Maynard were sidelined during overtime as both fouled out during regulation.

Tina Burkhamer scored 18 points to pace the Ladies, followed by Janice Hensley with 16, Lothes with 15, and Maynard with 10. Rounding out the scoring, Cathy Starcher and Rhonda Hicks each had nine points, while Kathy Knapp hit one field goal for two points.

For the game, GSC was 31 of 53 from the floor for a 58% shooting average, while hauling in 34 rebounds. Allegheny shot 45% from the floor and had 57 rebounds.

In Saturday night's consolation game, the Lady Pioneers evened their record at 1-1 by defeating St. Francis (PA) 72-58.

Maria Lothes was nine of 14 from the floor and nine of 11 from the line in pouring in 27 points to lead the Ladies. Lothes also grabbed 10 rebounds and earned a spot on the all-tournament team with a total of 42 points in the two nights of action.

Tina Burkhamer added 23 points to help the GSC cause, while gathering eight rebounds and two assists. Kim Maynard scored eight points, Janice Hensley and Rhonda Hicks each had six, and Cathy Starcher sank two free throws for two points to round out the scoring.

Head Coach Tim Carney commented that he felt good about his team's first two games. "We rebounded and shot our free throws real well in the second game," Carney said. "When our inexperienced veterans - our juniors and seniors who haven't seen much playing time until now - get some experience, we'll get better."

Keating Assumes Post

Following the national election, the political winners were packing their bags and planning for their move to Washington, D.C. These elected officials will be looking forward to the opportunities in their new positions. Yet another person is planning to tote her suitcase to this breathtaking city. Although not an elected official, Martha Hopkins Keating is also embarking on a new career in Washington, D.C. Ms. Keating, an assistant professor of English at GSC, has been hired by the Federal Research Division of the Library of Congress. Her position will be that of Technical Publications editor. Her job description will be to edit and rewrite reports on foreign countries which have previously been translated by language experts. The final reports must be in suitable form for publication.

Ms. Keating's qualifications stem from her studies at the College of William and Mary where she received her BA in English and the University of Virginia where she acquired her masters. She also attended a Radcliffe Publishing Procedures course at Harvard University. Ms. Keating worked as an editor before joining the staff at Glenville in the fall of 1978. Her teaching duties at GSC include: technical writing, Shakespeare, Creative Writing, Introduction to Literature, and Freshman English. She will remain for the duration of the semester.

Although she will miss Glenville, her students and colleagues, Ms. Keating views her January move as a chance for new experiences and a great opportunity for development in a new profession.

Party!! Wed., Dec. 5 at 8:00 - 11:00 in the Ballroom. There will be kegs of refreshments. Proceeds go to Special Olympics. Sponsored by Order of Diana and OEC. $2.00 and ID required.

The Lady Pioneers will host WV Tech on December 6 at 7 p.m. in the gymnasium. Admission is free and students are urged to attend.

Harper To Hold Art 308 Display

Mr. George Harper, instructor of Art 308 (Watercolor), would like to invite the campus to view his students' latest work which is displayed in the show cases in front of the auditorium. Class members displaying their work are Mitzi Whited, Dwayne Duffield, Cleo Morgan, Shelley Hull, Kimbelene Kemper, Brad Keskey, Alan King, Chris Minney, Colleen Rousher, Jesse Stephenson, and Rudy Watts.

The display represents various techniques of watercolor painting and will be shown from Dec. 4-14.

Contestants Named

The Kanawhachen staff will be holding their "Miss Kanawhachen" contest by penny-a-vote in the Pioneer Center today and December 6. The winner will be announced at the Christmas dance and will receive a dozen roses, a crown, and a page of the yearbook dedicated to her.

The contestants and

Thumbs Up

To the cleaning staff in Louis Bennett Hall.

To President William K. Simmons for agreeing to be part of regular campus-wide press conference to begin in January.

To Mike Payne of the GSC football team for being selected as defensive player of the year in the WVIAC Conference.

To Charles Scott and his wife for the successful trip to New York and Canada for the Art students.

Thumbs Down

To pay phone servicing in Louis Bennett Hall.

To the money hungry candy machines in Louis Bennett Halls' Lounge.

To four televisions in Pickens Hall being on the same network at the same time when other people would like to be on a different network.

To the cafeteria food this past weekend.

To the campus police for refusing to acknowledge the parking problem at GSC, and for not issuing tickets to those violators who park illegally and block others while in class.

To whomever is responsible for the track not getting repaired properly.

To whoever types up the menus that we haven't seen in weeks.

Ill-Advised Diet Plan Hazardous to Health

With Christmas just around the corner, many people seem to be on diets to get themselves in shape for the holidays. Diets can be successful if properly supervised. Occasionally, a dieter will tend to use a fad diet to shed those extra pounds, which can lead to more serious problems. One of which is Anorexia Nervosa.

Anorexia Nervosa is a psychosomatic disorder typified by self starvation. It reaches 1% of the female population and 10% of all college women across the nation are at a risk. The word anorexia is the medical term for loss of appetite and the word nervosa implies a psychological problem. Anorexia is ten times more frequent in females than males and occurs in the adolescent population and age groups in the twenties and thirties.

There is no single cause of the disease and each victim of this disorder experiences it for different reasons. The main reasons are usually leaving home, either for college or getting married, mental depression, peer and social pressure and drug usage. The effects are usually a stop in menstruation, yellowy, scaly skin, self starvation, life threatening exhaustion, bulimia (gorging then vomiting), insomnia, perfectionism, physically over active, denial feeling and low body temperature. The treatment of anorexia nervosa is very difficult. Once the physical symptoms are in control, the psychological treatment is a battle hard to defeat. The best treatment though is early identification of the disorder.

Anorexia nervosa is a disease which can occur in any of our friends, our family or even ourself. If you know or suspect anyone of having anorexia nervosa, you should urge them immediately to seek professional help. The most important thing is to remember to like yourself just as you are!

Computerized Classics Aid Selection of Songs

"Where can I find 'Grand Canyon Suite' by Grofe -- do you only have one copy? And Beethoven's Fifth Symphony -- where can I find that?" Media Center personnel are asked this kind of question frequently. Until this semester, the answers were as obscure to us as to our patrons.

Thanks to the patience, guidance, and instruction of the Computer Center--especially to Neal Benson, Ed Messenger and Angela Fittro, Media Center entry personnel, were able to enter the titles and composers of the Media Center's classical collection into the computer. Now when you want Tchaikovsky, Beethoven, Brahms, Strauss, or Sousa, just check the computer printout

All Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority actives are reminded to attend the Fall Formal on Dec. 7 from 10-2 at the Recreation Center.

Stalnaker's Speech Presented in Contest

Through forensics, Tammy Stalnaker has brought notoriety to Glenville State College. Miss Stalnaker represented GSC in Lincoln, Nebraska, at the Interstate Oratorical Contest.

The first U.S. oratory intercollegiate contest was held in 1874. At this competition, the Interstate Oratorical Association was established. Like other organizations, structural changes have occurred through the years. Today there is a single division with each state to be represented by the top two orators selected at various state contests. This association has great influence on public speaking throughout the nation.

Tammy's speech was titled "Elevation to the Beautiful Life," and dealt with the issue of the importance of art in school curriculums. Miss Stalnaker's subject was derived from her interest in the scholastic field and her major of study. Tammy's speech won third place at the State forensics meet last year and was published by the reputable Interstate Oratorical Association.

The GSC Housing Corporation will have some housing available to married students during the Spring 1985, Summer 1985, or Fall 1985 semester. Anyone wishing additional information should contact Patty Dugger in Clark Hall - Room 102 or by phone at 462-7361, ext. 294.
