Professor Clark Dies at Age 95

Humbolt Y. Clark, for whom GSC's Hall was named in 1968, died on August 12, 1985 at the age of 95. Clark was a native of Randolph County and lived in Parkersburg at the time of his death.

Clark began teaching at Glenville Normal School in 1927 and retired in 1955 after 28 years of service to the college and its students. He was a member of the faculty of the Division of Education and taught elementary education and supervised student teachers. During the years of World War II, he also taught English, social studies, and West Virginia history. Clark, a World War I veteran, received his A.B. from West Virginia Wesleyan and his M.A. from Columbia University. Clark pursued additional study at George Peabody College, WVU, and he made a special study of the educational system in England. In 1968, 13 years after his retirement from GSC, the building which had previously housed the Robert F. Kidd Library was converted to house the education and journalism departments and the building was renamed Clark Hall in honor of the outstanding educator.

New Faces Appear at Glenville State College

A new term always brings new faces to a college campus and this fall is no exception as Glenville State College welcomes 14 new members to its faculty.

Dr. Nasir H. Assar has joined the faculty as assistant professor of economics. Assar, a native of Tehran, Iran, holds a B.A. from the Iranian Banking College, an M.B.A. from Marshall University, and an M.A. and Ph.D. from West Virginia University. Dr. Assar and his wife, Roya, have one son, Ramin.

The new face in the music department is Mr. Harry S. Rich. Rich, an associate professor of music, is originally from Glen Falls, NY. He received his B.M.E. from the University of Kentucky and his M.M. from Western Michigan University. He and his wife, Judy, have two children.

The visiting instructor in Art is Mr. David Webster, a native of Liverpool, England. Webster is teaching at GSC as part of the Fulbright Teacher Exchange. Webster, who holds a B.A., a certificate of education in art and design, and a certificate of advanced studies, taught at Southport College of Art and Technology.

There are two new instructors in the Division of Business. Mrs. Linda L. Foster, an instructor of business, hails from Buckhannon, WV. She obtained her B.A. from Glenville State College and her M.A. from Marshall University. She and her husband, Darrell, have three children, Tonya, Travis, and Todd. Mr. Stephen F. Gandee, also a native of Buckhannon, WV is a visiting instructor in business. Gandee earned his B.A. from GSC and his M.B.A. from WVU.

Mrs. Charlotte H. Minehart and Ms. Lucille D. Phillips are the two new additions to the Dept. of Education. Mrs. Minehart, originally from Philipsburg Pa., is an associate professor of education. She holds a B.S. from Waynesburg College and an M.S. and an Ed.D from WVU. She and her husband, William, have four children. Ms. Phillips, an instructor in education is a native of Tioga, WV. Formerly an instructor at the Washington Technological Institute, she earned her B.S. from GSC and her M.A. from WVU.

Mr. N. Arthur Lilly and Mr. Coy Douglas Whittaker will be teaching in the Department of Physical Education. Lilly, an instructor of physical education and athletic training, has a B.A. and an M.S. from Marshall University. He is originally from Beckley, WV. Whittaker will serve as a lecturer in physical education and basketball coach. He earned a B.S. and an M.A. from WVU. Originally from Morgantown, WV, Whittaker has served as head coach at East Preston High School and as an assistant coach at Stafford, Va.

Mr. Paul Barnes, from Baltimore, MD, will work as a student recruiter and as an assistant football coach. He has a B.S. in phys. ed. and an M.E.D. in secondary education and has been a coach at James Madison University.

There are four new additions to the Language Division. Dr. Robert M. Como, an associate professor of English, is the new chairman of the Language Division. Originally from New Haven, CT, Como has a B.A. and an M.A. from the University of Hartford and a Ph.D. from the University of Toledo. Ms. Diana Grace Douglas, a visiting instructor in speech, is a native of North Hampton, MA. She has a B.A. from

Baptist Campus Ministry

We are a campus organization that is supported by the West Virginia Baptist Foundation and Glenville First Baptist. We provide an alternative fellowship on the Glenville campus. There are no fees or dues to join our organization. We are open to all Glenville College students.

We have planned activities this semester such as Bible Study each week, concert trips, State Weekend Retreats and cookouts.

We meet every Wednesday evening at 9:00 in the First Baptist Church Annex (next to the Post Office). This study and discussion time is led by peer students. We discuss topics such as: How to Study, Prayer, Gifts and Talents, Why we have challenges and trials, God's Will, and Dating topics to name a few.

We also invite you to Glenville First Baptist Church. We have Sunday School at 9:45 a.m. and Church at 10:45.

One Sentence sermons; are you listening? Reach out and Touch someone.

Mark your calendar: Sept. 20-21-22 State Retreat. Sept. 7 - Cookout.

Moore Greets Students

Dear Editor,

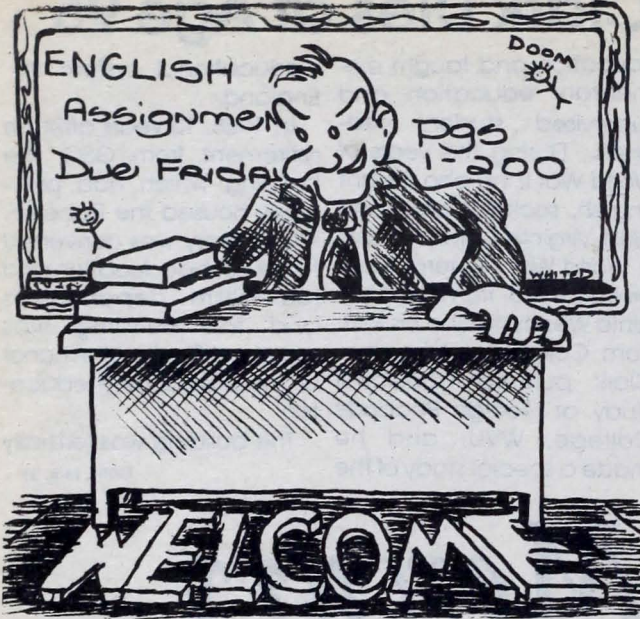

The members of Student Congress would like to welcome back returning upperclassmen, freshmen and the faculty and staff of GSC. The 1985-86 year should prove to be a year of growth for the college, as well as its students.

"Come Alive in '85" - the theme selected for this year's Homecoming represents our desire to become a positive force in the college and its people. We hope this attitude will encourage you to participate in our activities as well as other student oriented events. Also, if there is something we're doing wrong (or right!), please let us know. Only through positive, constructive input can this organization achieve any success. As a student, it's up to you.

Our advisors, Dr. Billips (Dean of Student Services) and Bill Stackman (Director, Pioneer Center) are also interested in your ideas on topics and suggestions for activities. They, as our advisors, have made themselves and their offices available to you, take advantage of it.

As a reminder, the Student Congress meetings will be held on Thursdays at 5:00 in our office in the Pioneer Center.

Mitchell B. Moore
President, Student Congress

Editor Extends Welcome

As the new semester begins, we want to take this opportunity to welcome all freshmen and upperclassmen. This year will take on it's own special meaning for each of you, whether it be your first step toward independence, as many freshmen are experiencing, or a final step in your college career, so make it the best you possibly can.

School starting always seems to bring a mix of emotions: anticipation, nervousness, dread. For those of you who worked hard all summer or attended summer school, we are sure that the latter term probably represents your feelings. If your summer was long and lazy, then the semester probably came in just the knick of time before boredom set in. Whichever represents you, we hope you can make things work to get settled in to the "college routine".

The GSC MERCURY is your paper, and welcomes all students ideas, suggestions, and Letters to the Editor. We want you to help the MERCURY achieve the highest status it can.

As one of our assistant professors says, as we grow older we realize life is measured not by time, but by achievements. May this be the year you realize your goals, and may they leave a lasting impression.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I would like to take this opportunity to recognize and thank the upperclassmen who served as Freshmen Counselors. The following people volunteered their time and energy to assist the incoming Freshmen during the Freshmen Orientation Activities. The volunteers were Larry Beall, Sandy Bleigh, Bill Brown, Debbie Bunner, Vickie Butcher, Eric Chico, Doug Casto, Ellen Compton, Donita Doll, Patty Edwards, Mindy Gutberlet, Lorie Jimison, Shawn Johnson, Becky Langford, Kay Miller, Mitch Moore, Sandy Moyers, Pam Nichols, Kenny Pack, Bryan Parsons, Dawn Parsons, Gary Petty, Vicky Phillips, Danny Ray, Barbara Rogers Vest, Peggy Spencer, Sandy Tucker, Dena Varner, Veronica Walker, Claude Weese, Debbie Wildman, Sandy Woods, and Twila Zinn.

I heard many comments of appreciation from incoming Freshmen and their parents. I appreciate these upperclassmen's willingness to assist me and hope next year's Freshmen Counselor program will be even bigger and better.

Sincerely,
Diane L. Bach
Director of Student Life

Library Profiled

One of the most valuable resources available to you is the collection of materials located in the Robert F. Kidd Library. The facilities of the Library are available to all students for study, research, viewing, or listening. In addition to traditional types of materials, the Library also houses the Media Center and its collection.

A variety of materials are available in the Library which may be utilized in the building or checked out for your personal use. These include books, newspapers, films, cassettes, records, videotapes, and a variety of many other items. To check out a circulating item merely present your I.D. card to the personnel at the Circulation Desk. If you need assistance in locating materials be sure to ask a member of the library staff.

During the regular term the Library is open Monday - Thursday, 8:00 a.m. - 10:00 p.m.; Friday, 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.; Saturday, 11:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.; and Sunday, 5:00 p.m. - 10:00 p.m. Media Center hours differ slightly from the Library's hours -- be sure to check the front door for the current schedule.

Dear Editor,

I would appreciate it very much if you could please print this letter in your newspaper to the editors column.

Speech Teacher Assumes New Duties

Glenville State College President, Dr. William K. Jimmons, has announced the appointment of Mrs. Linda McKown to the position of Public Relations and Alumni Director. Mrs. McKown assumed her new duties August 16, 1985. The appointment is for one year.

For the past six years, Mrs. McKown has been a member of the Glenville State College speech faculty. She has taught public address, theatre classes, and has directed the campus theatre program. She will continue a reduced class schedule of teaching with the theatre responsibilities being assumed by Mr. David Sindledecker.

After twenty years of producing theatrical events, Mrs. McKown commented that she sees the possibility in the new position as that of "...producing and directing on a larger scale." She sees the position as one in which she will be "...directing and promoting a variety of types of events on the Glenville campus."

Mrs. McKown is a 1962 graduate of Glenville State College. Her MA degree is from Marshall University with advanced work also from West Virginia University.

Counseling Gets Boost

The Glenville State College Career Counseling Office can now offer students an added dimension in career-related decision making with the ease, this past summer, of SIGI PLUS. SIGI PLUS is a computerized career guidance system that combines self-assessment with up-to-date occupational information. It has been developed to help anyone who is making career decisions, regardless of age or experience.

Students may stop by the career counseling office on the first floor of the Pioneer Center and make an appointment to work with SIGI PLUS. No prior computer knowledge is necessary. The computer session will be followed with sessions in career counseling.

opened on October 18, 1968 and the dedicatory speech was offered by the Governor of West Virginia, the Honorable Hulett C. Smith.

In 1982, Clark also established the H.Y. Clark Scholarship, awarded annually to the outstanding GSC journalism student.

Services for Mr. Clark were held on August 16 at the Trinity United Methodist Church in Glenville. The Rev. Patricia Jarvis and the Rev. D. Edward Bayer officiated and the eulogist was Dr. Epsy Miller.

While Mr. Clark will be sadly missed his memory will live on in the hearts of those whose lives he touched.

Those who knew him well will always recall his ready wit, his twinkling eyes, his small stature, and his ready smile. Perhaps he summed it all up himself when he visited his beloved Clark Hall last April, and commented, "If I had known I was going to live so long, I'd have taken better care of myself."

Library orientations will be provided to all freshmen students enrolled in English 101 classes. Students will be acquainted with basic information about the Library and practical application of some standard research tools. The instruction will be provided by members of the library staff.

Circulation policies are very liberal at the Robert F. Kidd Library. The library staff will issue a Recall Notice when an item is due. Students are given a specified period of time during which they may return these items without penalty. After the due date fines of $1 a day per item up to a maximum of $5 per item are levied. Lost items must be paid for by borrowers in addition to a processing fee of $10.

Every member of the library staff is interested in providing the best possible service to you. Your suggestion, comments, and support are appreciated. For more information be sure to stop in the Library and ask any staff member for assistance!

Renovations to Continue

Once again, Glenville students all facing another year of traversing an obstacle course on their way to classes. Mud, cement, brick will block passage for close to another year.

The renovations began over a year ago with the waterproofing of the Robert F. Kidd Library and the expansion of its parking lot. Although the area around the library appears to be completed, there are still drainage problems with the sidewalk in front. According to Bruce Hathaway, Director of Physical Plant, this should be remedied soon.

On June 18, removal of the amphitheatre began to correct a hydrostatic pressure problem which was the cause of the water damage to the library. This area will be recontoured and will be landscaped.

The new amphitheatre will have five rows of seating and a small stage surrounded by what Mr.

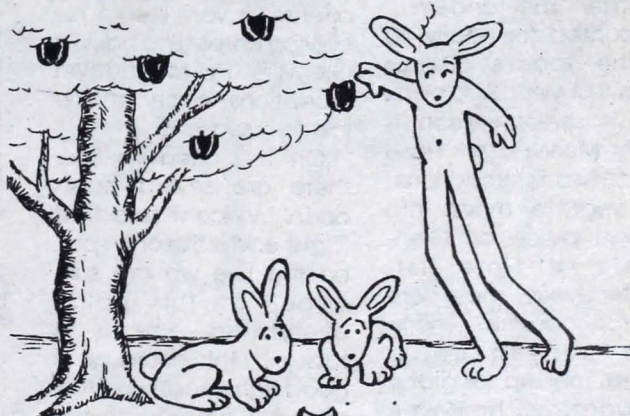

Hathaway described as "conversation areas". The area will feature brick paving and planting similar to those around the library. Mr. Hathaway expects a walkway through the area to be completed by October.

Not only are renovations occurring mid-campus, but at the facilities on Mineral Road as well. The tennis courts have been removed because of drainage problems and will be replaced. Drainage on the track has been improved and improved drainage in the infield is in the works.

Other campus renovation projects include more and better lighting all over campus and improved facilities for the handicapped in several of the buildings. Although the extensive construction projects at GSC are currently causing some inconvenience to students, the end results will be a more pleasant atmosphere for all concerned.

EVOLUTION LIVES

SPORTS

Pioneers After Third Straight Winning Season

The Pioneer Football Program posted a 12-5-1 record over the last two seasons. But now All-Americans Byron Brooks and Mike Payne are gone, and only four starters remain from last year's nationally ranked defense. As a result, sixth-year head coach Frank Vincent will be using a lot of new faces in an attempt to duplicate Glenville's recent success.

A quick glance at the Pioneer roster will show just how young the squad is, as 21 of the 48 players are freshmen. Vincent feels that this is a good crop of recruits, and that some will be making contributions to the fortunes of this year's team. He also went on to say that he has been pleased with the overall play of his veteran players in preseason practice.

Noseguard Mike Chadwick and Defensive Tackle Dave Darst will be two veterans relied on heavily by the coaching staff. There two seniors were big reasons why the Glenville defense finished nationally ranked in rushing defense, scoring defense, and total defense. The tandem accounted for nearly 30 of the team's 50-plus sacks last year. Also back for his senior season is safety Mark Hash. Hash needs two interceptions this year to move into second place on Glenville's all-time list.

Offensively, there are several question marks and consequently, several jobs up for grabs. Fortunately, however, quarterback is not one of the question marks as Forrest Hall and Alan Fiddler are back after fine 1984 campaigns. The rest of the backfield is uncertain at this point since fullback Larry Sutter is the only player with experience at the college level. Despite the inexperience, Vincent does feel that there is a great deal of talent among his young backs. The Pioneer boss stated "We have some good young backs, it's just a matter of getting them some experience."

Senior Tight Ends Ron Lane and John Trew along with Split End Jim Bird return to give the offense a very stable receiving corps. Bird has led Glenville in touchdown receptions each of the last two seasons.

On the offensive line, there are several spots open. Vincent said that "Tight end is the only spot on the line we are sure about at this point; everything else is a tossup." This could be a good sign since five of the offensive linemen on the Pioneer veteran roster have been starters at one time or another.

Glenville opens up this Saturday night with a road game at WV Wesleyan. Last year, the Pioneers trounced Wesleyan by a score of 38-12. Buckhannon is only an hour away, and isn't a bad drive for those students who may wish to make the trip. Kickoff is at 7:30 pm.

Harriers Have Young Talent

Glenville's cross country team fell to sixth place in the conference last year after capturing three straight conference crowns. With a fine recruiting class on hand, the runners of Coach Butch Hays appear to be much stronger this season.

There are only three veteran runners on the Pioneer's roster. They are senior Berry Crutchfield, junior Jesse Skiles, and sophomore Jay Dawkins. After a spectacular high school career, Dawkins stepped in to be Glenville's number one runner last season. He finished 10th at the conference meet, and is an all-conference candidate this season.

Andy Jarrell of Braxton Co. and Chris Shockey of Parkersburg South were Hays' two top recruits in the off-season. Jarrell finished 5th in the 3200-meter race at the state track meet. Shockey was the number two man on South's state champion cross country team.

Another welcome addition to the squad is freshman Phillip Anderson of Kingston, Jamaica. Anderson has shown good speed in the team's early workouts and could be one of the better runners in the conference once he gets some mileage under him. Rounding out the freshmen class is Bill Ramsey from Clarksburg-Liberty High School. Ramsey was primarily an 800-meter man in high school, but should help the team out once he adjusts to the terrain and distance of the cross country running.

Hays' squad will open up Saturday morning at the Marshall Invitational. There will be several big schools there and the meet should to be a valuable experience for the young squad.

Jesse's Place

Well, here I am writing for a paper for the first time in four years and here I am the fourth consecutive MERCURY sports editor with strong ties to the Glenville cross country team. So perhaps a few thoughts are in store concerning impartiality.

First off, it's true that I am a member of the Pioneer harriers, but I am also a good friend of head football coach Frank Vincent. And this will be the third straight year that I have kept statistics for Coach Vincent and his staff. It will also be the third straight year that I will be releasing my weekly paper entitled "Glenville Grid Stats", which I deliver to various faculty and community personnel that support GSC athletics. So you see, I love the Pioneer football team almost as much as I love my own squad.

Speaking of statistics, you are going to see a great deal of them on the MERCURY sports page this year. It seems that almost all sports fans are interested in the numbers aspect of the games. It is always helpful to see how many yards rushing someone has or how many rebounds someone is averaging. I also plan to keep readers abreast of new records being set by Pioneers this year. But I guess plans are merely plans; it's all just a matter of getting reacclimated with sports writing. To me, there's really no better job than a job involving sports. So let's all have a good time, and support the Pioneers.

Intramural News

The G.S.C. Intramural sports season begins Tuesday September 10th. Any currently enrolled G.S.C. student with 7 or more hours or faculty and staff member is eligible. The teams shall not exceed 15 players in both male and female divisions for all sports. Teams will remain the same for all sports (Volleyball, Basketball, Softball) during the school year. All team members must wear matching uniforms (shirts) with number (these can be obtained at the Campus CO-OP).

Points will be awarded for each team contest and individual event to determine the over-all I.M. champions. Individual trophies will be awarded to each member of the champion team of each sport to the winners of individual events and to the over-all I.M. champions.

Team captains must turn in their rosters by 4:00 pm September 5th along with a $5 forfeiture fee to the I.M. office. For further information please contact Jimmie Dean and Janice Loughner or Mr. Lilly, Intramural Director.

Golfers Finish 9th In Nation

Three weeks after the GSC students departed last spring, Coach Tim Carney and his West Virginia Conference-champion golf team ventured to Arizona and placed ninth at the NAIA national golf tournament.

They were led by senior John Forrest, who earned All-American honors.

There were 33 schools in the national tournament field. To put it in a broader perspective, consider that the Pioneer golfers were ninth out of over 270 NAIA schools that have golf programs.

Senior Scott Carney finished 35th in the tournament. Carney missed All-American status by a mere eight strokes. He was named, however, to the NAIA Academic All-American golf team two weeks after the tournament. Sophomore Mike Dynda finished just behind Carney in 40th place. Senior John Oplinger and freshman Danny Wassick were the other two team members who made the trip. They had fine tournaments as well.

This was Coach Carney's seventh conference title in 17 years as the Pioneer golf coach. He has also coached eight teams to second place finishes. This was, however, the best showing nationally by the Pioneer golfers ever.
