Taxes Squeeze More

By Marilouse McNemar

On October 22, 1986, President Ronald Reagan signed into law the legislation he called tax revolution. It is officially known as Tax Reform Act of 1986.

Students, be forewarned that on January 1, 1988, our scholarships, fellowships, and grants will be subjected to taxation.

Students and their parents will undoubtedly be / unhappy to find that the tax-free status of scholarships and fellowships has been eroded by the new law. Some scholarship income will still be exempt for students seeking degrees.

For students seeking degrees, the tax-free status of scholarships and fellowships still applied to amounts required for tuition and course required fees, books, supplies, and equipment (definition unknown at this time), but additional amount such as for room and board, or incidental expenses become subject to tax under the new law.

The new provisions apply only to scholarships and fellowships granted on or after August 17, 1986. These scholarships and fellowships generally won't start being taxed until tax year 1987. The old law applies for amounts received in 1986 that are attributable to expenses incurred in 1986.

The portion of the scholarship or fellowship income that is subject to taxes is considered other earned income, so students can use their standard deduction to help shield part of all of the income from tax. The first $3,000 in income will escape taxes in 1988 when the standard deduction for single individuals increases to $3,000.

Only students who are not eligible to be claimed as dependents on their parents' return will be able to use the personal exemption in addition to the standard deduction to help shield the scholarship income from tax.

The colleges will not be sending a 1099 form out to the students. A 1099 form is similar to the W-2 form that states your income for your taxes. The students will need to save all their receipts for books, and their invoices for the spring and fall of 1987, and if you attended summer school.

The student's tuition, fees, and their equipment will not be subjected to taxes. The rest of the awards (money) is subjected to taxes. However, student loans, have been relaxed so they are not subjected to taxes.

A holiday message to students:

As this year draws to a close, final exams will become history and you will be looking forward to the holidays and another new year of challenge and opportunity.

Christmas is a very special time. The excitement of childhood is rekindled in all of us as we share the spirit of the season with family and friends, As President of Glenville State College, I get too few opportunities to express my appreciation for the fine student body we have at Glenville. I am proud of you, and I do appreciate your positive attitude and the fine image you project for the College.

Have a safe journey home. I wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

OPINION

Flights of Fancy

As the Christmas holiday season approaches, most of us are wrapped up in finals preparation, with the attendant term paper deadlines and completion of projects due yesterday. The intensity of these last weeks of the semester creates frayed nerves, short tempers, and extremely low energy levels. It's hard to hum "Jingle Bells" under your breath, and feel Christmas in the good old-fashioned way, when the days don't have enough hours, and Santa may be leaving an "Incomplete" in your stocking.

When this madness is over, however, take a moment to think about some of the people who would trade places with you in a heartbeat.

Consider for a moment the young G.I. in Korea, standing over his mukluks in snow, hoping noone shoots at him tonight; the sailor patrolling the Persian Gulf waiting for a supersonic missile to hit the bulkhead beside his bunk. No one can describe the feeling of being six thousand miles from home and loved ones at Christmas. If you know of someone in that situation write a note or card saying "Hi, we're thinking of you." It helps.

Sadly, we must say good-bye to some of the Mercury staff. Some are entering student teaching, others going to different schools or the real world. To these friends we say good luck and remember us, as we will be thinking of you.

From the staff of the Mercury Merry Christmas and Happy Holidays to the campus community.

Pat Iwland

December 13-19, 1987 has been designated "Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week" in West Virginia and the nation. Commemoration of Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week began in 1982 as an effort to raise individual and community awareness of the problem of driving under the influence of alcohol and other drugs.

Because more drivers are on the highways and more social functions are attended, more motor vehicle accidents occur during the Christmas and New Year holiday period. This makes December 13-19 a particularly appropriate time to focus on this critical problem.

The theme for the 1987
Drunk and Drugged Driving
Awareness Week is "First A Friend... Then A Host"; the "designated driver" concept is encouraged as part of that theme. Under the designated driver concept, one person out of a group agrees to remain sober to drive others to their destination safely.

Super Dance A Success

The Pioneer Center Programming Board sponsored a Super Dance to raise money for Muscular Dystrophy this past weekend. Four couples danced to raise over $650 for the crippling disease.

The first place prize, a ski trip, was won by Michelle Garrison and Cheryl Rickman, who danced for 24 hours and raised the most money.

The second place team of Danny Ray and Brenda Duelley also danced 24 hours, and received a Panasonic Computer for their effort.

The third place couple consisted of Crystal Kitzmiller and Sharon Rose. They danced for 13 hours and won disc cameras. And, the fourth place dancers were Michelle Whiting and Tim Bond, who danced for 9 hours and won instant cameras.

Throughout the 24 hours other prizes were awarded. These prizes included movie passes, cassette tapes, cassette cases, Bonanza dinners, Heart tickets, free portrait and setting, and pizza at Muriels.

PCBC was thankful for all the businesses who donated items to help the dancers make it through 24 hours. These businesses included McDonalds, Kentucky Fried Chicken, Mister Doughnut, Pizza Hut, Krogers, Domino's, Hecks, Kanawha Union Bank, and Ruby's Beauty Salon.

SC Urges Registration

Have you registered to vote? Well, if you've always thought that it was too much of a hassle to go and take care of, then the Student Congress is going to make it easy for you. During registration and fee payments for next semester on Jan. 13th, the Student Congres will have a booth set up in the ballroom where you can fill out a mail-in voter registration form. It will only take a couple of minutes to complete. A notary public will be on hand and the forms will even be mailed for you. So, please, if you haven't registered to vote take advantage of this opportuni-

There is a statewide push among the colleges and universities to get students to register. We are often neglected by legislators since we simply, as students, fail to register and vote. If we could only get half of the state's students registered we would number around 25,000 and comprise one of the largest special interest groups in the state. With more concern shown by students, our legislators will become more prone to deal with our concerns. With some effort on our part to be informed about the candidates and actually get out to the polls and vote we could greatly benefit education in our state. So, with elections coming up next year, it's important that you register

Commuter's Concerns Discussed

Commuting students make up the general population at Glenville State College, with some travelling 45 minutes one way, and others travelling 90 minutes one way, either twice a week, or three days a week. These commuter students make up about 30% of the student population on the GSC campus.

The commuter students are keenly aware of the current parking problem. This parking problem is present everywhere on the GSC campus. Dr. A.T. Billips, Vice President of Student Services commented that parking space is allotted by the Board of Regents (BOR). They have considered this parking situation a low priority on a list which included instructors' pay and building structural maintenance. The BOR did hear about the parking problem on their last visit on campus from students. The BOR will consider this problem when plans are made for the new building.

(63-73) PIONEERS FALL TO BEARS

by Marcus Alcindor

The Pioneers jumped to a 21:10 lead with 8:30 left to play in the first half against W.V. Techlast Tuesday at the Pioneer gym, but were unable to restrain the Bears for the whole 40 minutes. The Pioneers usually have a slow start to their season and this year is no exception as they drop to 1-5.

A sizeable crowd turned out to test the new bleachers, and watch the home opener. Crowd support was a major factor in the explosive 21:10 start. The Pioneers cooled off rapidly, though, and the Golden Bears were able to claw their way past an 11 point deficit at one stage to a 4 point lead at the half.

Although the Pioneers led the Bears in almost every department their main problem was the lack of depth in their offense. Three players - Paul Grier, John Harris and David Hall combined for 57 of 63 of the Pioneer's total offensive production. The whole team looked solid on defense, led by Dave Hall's 8 rebounds out of a Pioneer total of 43. Glenville had 7 steals, led by Grier's 5, compared to only 2 by Tech.

Senior center John Harris was lead man for Glenville with 25 points. Paul Grier, who currently leads the team in scoring, played an impressive game chalking up 22 pts. together with 5 steals and 4 assists. David Hall continued to turn out consistent performances with solid inside play for 10 points. Guards James Glover, Bernie Rees and Dwayne Wiliamson all showed signs of potential which Coach Nottingham can draw from in the not too distant future.

Lady Pioneers on a Roll

By Marcus Alcindor

Glenville State's Lady Pioneers took on the Lady Yellowjackets last Tuesday at home in the Pioneer gym. The Yellowjackets were outclassed in every aspect of the game and by the end of the first half Coach Carney's squad was ahead 45-34.

Coach Carney's starting five all hit double figures with center Kim Creel getting 17 points on 70% field goal shooting. Back-up center Tami Simons was particularly impressive coming off the bench for 11 points and 15 rebounds. Freshman forward Marcie Moore ran the court well for 9 points and 7 rebounds. The whole team saw playing time and Coach Carney can definitely feel seture with the depth of his program.

Other key contributors for Glenville were Karen Wooters (12 points, 9 assists) Niki Randolph (10 points, 7 assists), Monique Johnson (10 points, 7 rebounds), Tammy Pence (8 points, 3 rebounds) and Lisa Dolan (8 points, 3 assists).

When the final buzzer went, the Lady Pioneers had thoroughly trounced the Lady Yellowjackets 98-68. The Pioneer's pressure defense had kept the Yellowjackets to 33% field goal percentage while Glenville shot an even 50% from the field.

The Glenville State women's basketball team extended their record to 3-1 this Saturday against Bluefield, VA in the Pioneer gym. The Lady Pioneers looked much quicker and more aggressive than the ladies from Bluefield in a 87-47 victory. The Pioneers got a number of fast break opportunities and registered a total of 20 steals.

The whole team got into the act and everybody registered points on the scoreboard. Tammy Pence turned in a fine performance with 22 points, 4 assists and 3 steals. Kim Creel gave yet another consistent performance with 20 points and 10

Coach Jesse Skiles

By Marcus Alcindor

First year cross-country coach Jesse Skiles was voted Coach of the Year by the WVIAC body of coaches. Coach Skiles captured the WVIAC crown from a field of 7 conference coaches. Coach Skiles' team had a 40-5 record this season and was unbeaten in the WVIAC. His Glenville State cross-country team finished 25th in the nation at the national meet in Kenosha, Wisconsin over the Thanksgiving break - the highest ever finish by a W.V.

Piercy Elected President WVAHPERD

This month during the State Convention, held at the Holiday Inn-Gateway, Barboursville, WV. Mrs. Sandra Piercy, Assistant Professor of Physical Education was elected President-Elect of the West Virginia Association For Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance.

She will bring honors to Glenville State College when she becomes President of the Association, November 1988, since this will be the first time in history of the association that a president reigns from Glenville State.

Mrs. Piercy has been active in the State Association, presenting numerous workshops, panel discussions, and talks throughout the state, in dance, elementary physical education, movement education. swimnastics, aerobics; physical fitness; snow skiing; learning strategies approach to teaching; ect.

She has held the following offices in the WVAHPERD:

governs the fee and tuition of all students in the state. If there were no activity fee, there would be no sports or cultural events. There must be alternatives to consider for the 30% of the student population who does not live near and attend these activities. The commuter student doesn't return to campus for the activities that the $60 activity fee provides. Generally, there is an attendance problem at most of the activities, and students feel that these events should be surveyed with a keen look at what the public really likes. Since the activity fee is such a small amount in some people's decision, why not eliminate the $60/semester activity fee and let students pay admission to events and pay for publication, like this newspaper?

The commuter students can run into conflict with the attendance policy, especially when a class is cancelled and the student isn't aware of it until they come on campus.

If the student is making the grade, most instructors are aware and supportive of the commuter's desire for an education. It is assumed that attending class is important for the instruction and information, but if there is a weather warning about hazardous road conditions, the commuter can get the lesson from another student. The commuter student comes on campus for the education, a service that should be available without hidden cost.

The Angel Tree

As you walked from the Pioneer Center to the Administration Building you have probably noticed a tree with paper angels dangling from the branches. On these angels are various ages of boys and girls who are underpriviledged. The Angel Tree program is underprivileged. The Angel Tree program is sponsored by the IFC and Panhellenic.

So far, there have been about 27 gifts brought to Bill Stackman's office in the Pioneer Center. There are plenty of angels left, so if you are interested in participating in the Angel Tree Program, pick one from the tree and bring the gift to Bill Stackman's office by Tuesday, December 15.

Art Exhibited Slated

George Harper would like to announce our annual watercolor exhibition representing the work of two classes. Paintings being shown are mostly landscape with some figure works, covering a variety of themes and techniques. Students participating in this year's exhibition are: Judie Duelley, Theresa McClure. Kristen Rogers, Pam Stevens, John Strickland, Tanya

Thompson. Barbara Vest. Diana Weese, and Janet

Come by and take a look in the show cases on second floor of Ad. Building next to the Art Dept. Many of the paintings are reasonably priced for sale. They make great Christmas gifts for those art connoiseurs on your list. Show will run now through next Tuesday morning Dec. 15.
