Chinese Scholar Visits

Last week, Glenville State College was honored to receive a visit from Ding Shulin, a professor from the Foreign Language Department at the Beijing Normal University in the People's Republic of China. He was invited by Dr. Como, Division of Language, and Dr. Hilgenberg, Division of Social Science to tour the campus and to watch the performance of The Butterfly Dream. While he was here, Professor Ding also lectured in two English classes, Introduction to Literature and Western World Literature.

Upon graduating from Beijing Foreign Languages Institute in 1973, Professor Ding taught Chinese Language and Literature to foreigners at Beijing Languages Institute. In 1981, he graduated from China Academy of Social Sciences with degrees in both English and American Literature. Since then he has been a lecturer, an Associate Professor, and a member of the Literature Faculty at the Foreign Languages Department at the Beijing Normal University. Among the courses he taught were Literary Criticism, Classical and Contemporary Chinese Poetry, Chinese Language, Calligraphy, and the History of Chinese Drama.

Upon his arrival, the drama department honored him with a reception on Monday, January 25. On January 26, Professor Ding was invited to lecture in Dr. Tedford's English 202, and Dr. Orr's English 207 classes. His next appearance was to watch the practice session of The Butterfly Dream, of which there was a performance at 6:30 that night.

When asked how he felt about his visit he commented on the student's kindness, and that they were nice and friendly; however, he was displeased at some students who were not attentive during his lectures. He also commented on his appreciation for President Simmon's loaning his house for the reception, and that the Vice-President Dr. Flack was kind enough to show him how they handled the relation of educational theory and the teaching of the subject matter. But the problem is teaching it. His final comment was that Berolt has always been his influence of Chinese drama. Berolt, is the one who wrote Three Penny Opera which is going to be held on March 2-4 at 8:00 p.m.

Quintet to Perform

The Charleston Symphony Brass Quintet will perform in concert Monday, February 15, at 8:00 p.m. in the Glenville State College auditorium.

The Quintet was formed from the Charleston Symphony Orchestra to present to Charleston and the state of West Virginia another source of high quality musical entertainment, via chamber music, while in the process showcasing the quality musical talent that exists in Charleston. Another reason was to provide educational opportunities to public school students throughout the state by presenting school concerts and master classes.

The Quintet will be in concert in the evening. During the afternoon, however, clinics will be held on the GSC campus. Two 1½ hour clinics will be held. The first will be a group clinic. The second will be four sections, i.e. trumpet, trombone, etc. These clinics will be for public school as well as college musicians.

The Quintet is composed of the following performers: David Porter, first trumpet; Harry Rich, second trumpet; Marsha Palmer, french horn; John Mead, trombone; and Terry Roush, tuba.

Harry Rich is an Associate Professor of Music at Glenville State College. He is a graduate of the University of Kentucky and has a Masters from Western Michigan University. He has performed in the Western Michigan University Faculty Brass Quintet; Ball State University Faculty Brass Quintet; Kalamazoo Symphony Orchestra and the Muncie Symphony Orchestra. He has been with the CSO since 1978.

This program is being made possible through student activity fees and a grant from the Arts and Humanities Division, West Virginia Department of Culture and History.

OFFICIAL CARTOON OF THE 1988 UNITED STATES OLYMPIC TEAM

FLIGHTS OF FANCY

At a time when education may be the only real answer to the economic woes of the state of West Virginia, a substantial number of the legislators and administrators most closely involved in the future of education in the state are making a political football of the Board of Regents.

To someone involved in the education process as a consumer it would appear that the colleges and universities of the state are operating almost exclusively in their own self interest, while our elected officials are more concerned with media exposure to improve their reelection prospects.

Various strongly politically - oriented media sources keep up a steady drumbeat of propaganda concerning Regents activity which begins to lead the discerning observer to conclude that they are merely against the current state administration regardless of the merits of plans and programs.

The recent appointment of GSC President Dr. William K. Simmons has generated a new firestorm of publicity for self serving individuals and organizations, with State Senator Keith Burdette, chairman of the Senate Education committee, stating in The Chronicle of Higher Education Jan. 20, 1988 that "His involvement has touched quite a few nerves. It was carried off like a coup..."

It appears to those hoping to receive an education and qualify for a decent job in this state, that what is needed is a lot less jockeying for position and media exposure, and more teaching. Then again, West Virginia is not famous for politics and common sense having more than nodding acquaintance

LETTERS

Dear Dan the Fan:

It is somebody else's turn to be shocked and appalled! I am shocked and appalled that you did not enjoy the Doug Williams Show of Super Bowl XXIII. Well Dan the Fan, you obviously do not know what a great football team is all about. For that matter, neither do the Dallas Cowboys!

I think what you had to say about the Washington Redskins and Washington, D.C. was insulting and uncalled for. Being a former resident and a die-hard 'Skins fan, I took your crass remarks personally. You do not know enough about the Redskins or D.C. to say the things you did.

Now about the game...The Best Team Won!! The Redskins has a lot to add to the record books after their fabulous performance: Doug Williams, the MVP, set two records, one for passing yards (340) and the other for TD passes in a quarter (that was 4!). He also tied the record for longest TD pass. Remember the 80 yarder to Ricky Sanders? Ricky Sanders broke Lynn Swann's receiving yards record with 193. Timmy Smith broke

Marcus Allen's rushing record with 204 yards. The 'Skins 35 second quarter points were records for points in a half and a quarter. They also scored six TD's surpassing six teams who scored five. Now, I am sorry that you are having a hard time dealing with these facts, but that is no reason to insult one of the finest cities in the nation!

One last comment: How about a Dan the Fan for hostages deal?!

Sincerely,
Monica A.C. Hanks

Lambda Chi Alpha

On Sunday February 7, the Beta Beta Chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha held their first meeting of the month of February. We discussed many vital fraternity issues, including the induction of new associate members. Our spring formal for 1988 will be on April 15 to get the following week, GSC week, off to a great start. All CHI's, Ladies, and their dates are welcome. Lambda Chi's on I.F.C. this semester are Rob Massey & John Simonson.

Awards for this week are as follows: W.O.F. - Rob Massey, A.H. - Matt "Bad News" Cornett, P.O.W. - Rob Massey, WINO - Drew "Pool Shark" Taylor, KCUF - Matt Cornett.

We hope to see you at the film festival Wednesday night.

P.E. Majors Club

There will be a meeting Thursday, February 18 at 12:30 in room 209 of the P.E. Building. The purpose of this meeting is to elect officers. All P.E. majors and those in athletic training are welcome. See Mrs. Piercy for further details.

Commuter
Plans Made

Recently you read a "Letter to the Editor" in which an organization for commuter students was being planned. Those of you who have expressed an interest in such an organization will be pleased to learn that the initial meeting has been scheduled for Thursday February 25 from 12:30 to 1:30 in the Verona Maple Room of the Pioneer Center.

For those of you who are not familiar with the location of this area, it is on the first floor directly across from the front entrance of the Pioneer Center.

Hopefully you will bring with you some of the problems you face as a commuter, and, also, your thoughts on possible solutions for these problems. Those who wish may also bring their lunches with them. Bill Stackman, Pioneer Center Director, will chair the meeting.

BINGO III

Bingo, every Monday beginning February 22 at 6:30 p.m. at the Senior Citizens Hall. Sponsored by the Gilmer Co. Vol. Fire Dept. The public is invited.

THINGS TO DO

This semester we would like to introduce you to the recreational areas of the campus and give a little information about the opportunities for recreation which they offer.

This week we wish to focus out attention on the college game room. It is open each night to students and to the public. Inside one finds a pool table, various game machines, and bowling alleys.

Each semester a student bowling league is formed, and even though there are no slots remaining on the league for this semester the members of this semester's student league would appreciate your encouragement when they bowl each Wednesday night.

The game room is located in the basement of the Pioneer Center immediately below the bookstore. Pioneer Center Director Bill Stackman wishes to inform the student body that the game room and bowling alleys are open for use by individuals from 5-11 Monday-Friday and 5-10 Saturday and Sunday.

Many students may not be aware that this facility can be used by the individual student outside of PE classes. This should clear up some of the misunderstandings about the facility's purpose, and induce GSC students to use it more frequently.

TRILLIUM DEADLINE

The Trillium staff reminds everyone to submit stories, poems, and art work by Monday, February 15 to the Language Division Office, 312 Administration Building. A few copies of the last year's issue are still available.

WOOTERS as in SHOOTER

"She is fundamentally a very solid player," says Tim Carney of Karen Wooters. What Karen does on the court and her major have one thing in common. Both are business. Karen was the squad's fourth leading scorer last year and ranks in the conference this year with a .412 field goal percentage.

Karen is a transfer student from the University of Cincinnati. "Playing basketball there, (Cincinnati), was more of a job, I enjoy myself more here." Karen feels that she will be well-prepared for the future coming from Glenville State College and learning to deal with people.

"This year's team is more balanced and has more depth than last year," says Karen, "By tournament time we should have ironed out our problems and be at our peak." She likes this year's team and the coach. "Coach Carney gets us ready to play. It doesn't matter if it is one day or seven days before we play a team, each day we work on how to beat that team."

This year Karen is one of the co-captains and says, "I feel that I'm a good leader on the floor, but I want to be better." When asked if she could change something about the Lady Pioneer's program, she said, "The crowd is a definite factor and we would do better if we were supported like the men's program."

When you talk to Karen Wooters about basketball you can see the sparkle in her eye. She says it best, "I love it. It has been really good for me."

DAN THE FAN

Mercury Sports Editor: Danny Ray

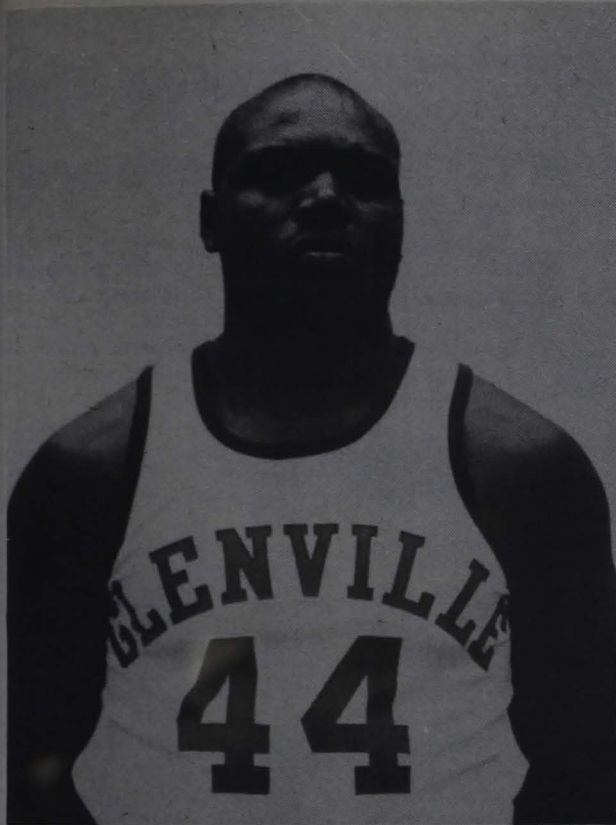

The post "Super Bowl Sunday" Sunday is always a sad one for me. The realization that I will have to wait six months for another football season is depressing. The NBA all-star game and the pro-bowl didn't seem to lift my spirits. Both were about as exciting as the Iowa caucuses. I did enjoy the slam dunk and the long distance shooting contests. Michael Jordan and Larry Bird again showed why they are among the best-ever to play the game. Instead of spending my Sunday afternoons as the football loving couch - potato, I will either sleep or watch the ever exciting "Big - 3 Bowling."

A wise man once said, "I've heard of skeletons in the closet, but this is ridiculous." I ate another cough drop.

THE BREAD TRUCK COMETH

If you said that Clinton Hinton was "the big man on campus" it could be taken literally. The 6'7" transfer student has already established himself as a quality player. His freshman year was spent at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte where he was named the Sun Belt Conference "Rookie of the Year." Last year he played at Oral Roberts University, averaging 11.5 points and 6.5 rebounds a game. "They call me the 'Bread Truck' because I deliver," says Hinton.

Clinton likes Glenville State, but smiles and says "There's nothing to do but hunt, fish and study." Fishing does seem to be in his future. When asked what he wants to do ten years from now, Clinton says, "I want to buy some real estate, kick-back, fish, and make money." He sounds easy-going until you talk about basketball. "When I take the court, everyone that is not wearing a Glenville uniform is my enemy!"

"He has had to make an adjustment to this league," says coach Gary

"WHEN I TAKE THE COURT,
EVERYONE THAT IS NOT
WEARING A GLENVILLE
UNIFORM IS MY ENEMY!"
CLINTON HINTON

Nottingham, "He came here out of shape and it hurt him early in the season." Clinton has lost 25 pounds and now only weighs 252 pounds. When comparing the leagues he has played in Clinton says, "Guys are smaller and run faster here, it makes me work harder and it is easier to get fouls." Coach Nottingham says, "Clinton has good offensive skills, but needs to make a greater effort on defense. With his size and talent, he should dominate on both ends of the floor. He has improved dramatically over the past two weeks and has worked hard in practice. He has kept a positive attitude through tough times." Clinton does have a positive attitude. When asked if he wanted to say anything to let people know more about Clinton Hinton, he said, "Tell everybody to have a nice year and to study hard."

PIONEER'S LOSE TWO IN A ROW

Glenville vs. Fairmont

The Pioneers slipped to 8-11 overall and 7-4 in the conference with a defeat at the hands of the Fairmont State Falcons 66-61 at the Feaster Center in Fairmont. ### Glenville vs. A-B

The A-B Battlers rolled into town and rolled away with a victory, beating the Pioneers 71-63. After two ties, the Battlers jumped to an early first half six point lead. With 4:29 left in the first half, Glenville caught A-B 20-20, but fell behind 28-20 for halftime. Glenville fought back to within two points on two occasions in the second half but failed to take the lead and fell to 8-12 overall and 7-5 in the conference.

Journalism Grads find Careers

One wonders sometimes when struggling through those major or minor fields of study we choose to pin our futures on just how much of a chance we stand to succeed in that area. Recently, some of the Mercury staff were talking about just this subject when it became apparent that many of the journalism department's graduates were now working in the newspaper field.

These include Lisa McHenry, Parkersburg News; Mahala Strauss and Steve Keenen, Beckley Post-Herald; Cheryl Keenan, Montgomery Herald and Fayette Tribune; Don Cuppett, formerly of the Bluefield Daily News and now he works for a Maryland newspaper; Harriet Whipkey, Glenville Democrat; Becky Whipkey Nichols and Newlon Nichols, Grantsville Democrat.

Also several other graduates who have gone on to other areas of work, but who worked for newspapers in the past are Michele Bruce Mills, Wirt Journal; Becky Potasnik and Ken Davis, Parkersburg News; Steve Boilon, Parkersburg Sentinel and The Glenville Democrat; Ron Gregory, Gilmer Guardian, Glenville Democrat and the Clay Messenger.
