Dr. Espy Miller

William Watson

Distinguished Pioneer Awards Announced

Two longtime friends of Glenville State College will be recognized with the Distinguished Pioneer Award at the 114th Commencement exercises at 11:00 a.m., Saturday, May 14. To be recognized are Dr. Espy W. Miller, retired GSC English Professor, and William E. Watson, Wellsburg attorney and former president of the West Virginia Board of Regents.

The Distinguished Pioneer Award is the highest honor given by the college and is designated for individuals who have distinguished themselves in service to education, advancement of the profession, and betterment of the State of West Virginia.

Espy Wallace Miller is a native West Virginian, born at Mill Creek in Randolph County. After graduating from Concord College with an A.B. degree in English and Social Studies in 1937, he taught in Randolph County until 1942. During that time, he completed an M.A. from Northwestern University and married an Elkins native named Rosalee Poling.

World War II saw Dr. Miller serving 4 years in the Pacific theatre as a Naval Communications Officer afloat.

In 1946, Miller took up residency in Glenville as a professor of English at GSC. In 1954 until his retirement in 1976, he served as chairman of the Language Division.

During the 30 years Miller taught at GSC, he helped organize the WV Association of College English Teachers (WVACET, 1951). He was the first president of the GSC AAUP affiliate, and served as president of WVACET.

Miller is the founder and served as the advisor of the GSC Literary Society. He was the faculty advisor for the school newspaper, The Glenville Mercury, from 1946-49.

The Miller selection was made before Dr. William K. Simmons, then president of Glenville State College, left to assume responsibilities as Chancellor of the WV Board of Regents. Of the Miller selection, Simmons said, "This is an excellent choice. Dr. Espy Miller epitomizes the good teaching Glenville State has offered over its 114 year history."

William E. Watson is a native of Jane Lew in Lewis County, WV. He has a 1958 undergraduate degree from Wesleyan College and the Law Degree with honors from George Washington College of Law in 1961.

Last week in the Mercury, Michael Rohaley submitted a letter expressing his feelings on the GSC Week Spring Carnival. Some of the issues Mike spoke of need some clarifications.

To start off with, Mike felt that the "competition was meant to be for fun." Well Mike, your right here; but your actions speak louder than your words. Your team was not the only team that was "justly disqualified." Drew Taylor's team was also disqualified and he ask if his team could continue to compete since it was "just for fun anyway," and not count the scores. Mike Rohaley's team, after being "justly disqualified" left the field and did not compete again until the Firetruck Ball.

The second point we would like to make is that your team was not disqualified because "Jody Hopkins and Nicole Ritchie had to go out of town for an emergency." Your team was "justly disqualified" because you, serving as team captain, failed to report your new substitutions to the chairpersons of Spring Carnival when ask to do so. An announcement was made at 3:45 and 3:55 for all substitutions to be reported. You failed to show up with your substitutions. Therefore, your team was "justly disqualified."

Third, you wrote that "Half way through the competition we were in first place, only to be told we were disqualified for an unavoidable situation." We don't know where your information came from, but your team was NEVER in first place from the moment the Carnival started at 4:00 up until the time your team was "justly disqualified" for a very "avoidable" situation, in which all you had to do was report the substitutions.

Fourth, not all the judges, which were faculty, staff, and administrators (not just faculty), did not consider your "situation" an exception.

Fifth, your remarks about Ms. Bach are entirely between Diane and yourself, but the "final word," as you call it, did not come down from Diane. As co-chairpersons for GSC Spring Carnival, we disqualified 2 teams, one of which was yours for failure to comply with the rules. If you feel your opinions will help to make Spring Carnival better, then maybe you would like to help in the planning process of GSC Week next January. We're sure your comments will be appreciated there.

In closing, we would like to express our thanks for the work the judges put in to make the competition at Spring Carnival more fair and to Mike Rohaley and his team, "You're welcome for a Wonderful GSC Spring Carnival"

It has been two years of silence on our behalf, and as the sun is setting on the Reagan Administration and on our time left here at Glenville, we would like to share with you some parting observations on world affairs. The presidential election is proving to be the laugh that the Democrats feared. How can anyone be expected to vote for a guy named Dukakis, get real. Jesse Jackson isn't much better though; come on, this guy courts people like Yassir Arafat and Daniel Ortega. If he's elected it would be no time until he's hugging Castro and Gorbachev and America is communist. Because we believe in our Constitution and since Reagan can't be re-elected we hope that he is running the White House again as the V.P. behind Bush. It's the only way that patriotic, God-fearing citizens like Ollie North can be protected. Journalists should get off his back, if we had more men

The Spring '88 Semester is drawing to a close, finals are a week away, and this will be the last issue of the Mercury until next fall. This paper is also my last as editor, and I would like to put aside the editorial we inherent to this type of writing to address some personal comments.

The Fall semester of 1983 seems far away seen from this end of the telescope; but it certainly was intimidating to someone twice the age of the average freshman, especially if that someone had just completed 21 years in the Air Force.

Many of my friends in the military felt I was attempting too large a task for someone "my age." They were wrong.

I wish there could be some way to personally thank each individual who has shown me kindness, respect, and professional courtesy over the past five years.

Unfortunately, many faculty members and former students have moved on to new endeavors and are unreachable. Many, however, are still here and this is my chance to say thank you.

I've tried to think of a way to include all the divisions and departments I have sampled here at GSC, without taking up the whole page, but it is impossible. In the course of a liberal arts education, I have been involved in just about every division and have found something and/or someone to commend in each.

I especially wish to thank the language division for developing and guiding the Professional Writer's program and the other departments who interface with the program for understanding how foreign their daily work can be to an outsider.

Finally, to my friends in Journalism and in particular to Mrs. King, thank you all for teaching, assisting, supporting, and just caring. I had no idea I had an interest in this field until my first press night.

all know who you are and what you have done over the years.

Thank you. P-30-I like Ollie North and William Casey the world would be free of the "Red plague" that is now lapping at our borders.

In the last two years we've truly seen the emergence of another plague, AIDS. God always has the last say on perversity, doesn't he. Instead of the U.S. pumping more money into AIDS research why don't we use good old quarantine. It's cheaper and more effective. The national debt could be further relieved by eliminating Planned Parenthood. Jane Fonda is the only example we can think of for keeping it around, and

Alpha Rho Tau

How 'bout that meeting last week? We should have started doing that long ago.

Again, I congratulate the organization and each of its members. This has been an impressive comeback for an organization long dormant. Hurrah for us!

As Pattie said at that meeting, some individual congratulations are in order. I just repeat much of what she said and add anything else I can think of.

Congratulations (Ok, one more time) go to the entire organization and the work that it's done.

Congratulations to Kris and Janet on their upcoming nuptials.

Congratulations to John and Craig, both graduating in May in the Interdisciplinary Studies program.

Congratulations to all the Alpha Rho Tau folks who received awards at the theatre banquet.

Congratulations to Craig for the Whiting Art Award.

Congratulations to John for his acceptance into the grad program at Ohio U. and for the assistanceship that goes with it. It gives the rest of us some hope.

Congratulations to anyone that I've forgotten, but deserves some congratulating.

Last, and certainly not least, we'd like to extend our thanks to the Art Department here at GSC. They've put up with us patiently and tirelessly.

Here's to Alpha Rho Tau - may it thrive and prosper.

Wesley Foundation

The Wesley Foundation was the host of the Special Church Services that were held Tuesday, April 26, 1988. The theme of the week was "Rekindling the Flame," with Tuesday night's emphasis on "The Church." The student's, along with the Gilmer Parish, took an active involvement in the services.

A pizza party was held at 5:30 for those involved with the preparation. After the services ended at 8:30 with Rev. Ron Daugherty conducting, a reception was held. The students and pastors who contributed their time and effort to the success of the night's services were Becky Owens, Les Hall, Gini Moore, Mark Holcomb, Debbi Daniels, Kevin Carr, Susan Ball, Barbara Coltrill, Kim Robinson, Dean Brannon, David Weese, Debbie Moore, Helen Atkinson, Greg Minner, Connie Smith, Mike Hanlin, Beth Hanlin, Joshua Hanlin, Shelia Ware, LeRoy Clark, James Cooper, Darrin Jones, Walter Mullins, Fred Villinger and Karen Frank.

To all of those who helped and attended our services we extend a special Thank You. And for those who missed us, we hope to see you next time.

TKE

On May 14, 1988 the Iota Omega Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon will take a step into modern Greek life. On this date we will comply with our International Headquarters, the National Interfraternal Council, and Panhellenic by disbanding our long-standing auxiliary, the Order of Diana. One must wonder why we are taking such a step? This is a move to promote a better and more pure Greek environment on the GSC campus.

The Greek life is one that is not always parties, hell-raising, and trouble making (i.e. The "Animal House" mentality). Life in a fraternity or a sorority is a very meaningful learning experience. It is a time which one makes life-long friends and learns responsibilities which become useful after graduation. Just ask any Teke, Lambda Chi, DZ, or Tri-Sig and they will relate to you the brother or sisterhood that is felt between people who are totally different, they will tell you of the tears of watching your brother or sister graduate, and of course they won't forget about the parties and the numerous amount of goodtimes.

In closing, I feel I speak for all four of the Greek Organizations, when I urge the students to choose a fraternity or sorority that suits your individual needs and then take the Greek Challenge.

Sincerely,
Kevin Davison
President
Iota Omega Chapter

unfortunately it's a little too late for her.

Now that our four years are up we now have our "liberal education," a little more "liberal" than we like. One has to question the so-called intelligence of instructors who would choose funding for social programs over military spending. These are usually the same people who own foreign cars and drink imported beer too, your "real Americans." Maybe that's what real education is though, learning to deal with left-wing thinking.

While we'll be leaving Glenville soon we hope that we have given you some real food for thought. Stick to your guns (literally), resist evil (liberal thought) and always remember that you can never go wrong if you are on...

DAN THE FAN

Mercury Sports Editor: Danny Ray

There is always the last play of the game, the shot before the buzzer, the final inning and an end to the season. All good things come to an end and so it is with "Dan the Fan." Being Sports Editor has afforded me many opportunities. I have made new friends and have met many people through this article. I won't mention the enemies. I have poked fun at, analyzed, and exposed the light side of sporting events, sports figures, and sports in the most general of terms. Above all, I have had fun. I have never been taken seriously before. I met stiff opposition with my dislike of the Washington Redskins, baseball and love of professional wrestling, but only obtained one black eye during the many brow beatings that I have received. I think that's tough enough. To be perfectly honest, I secretly enjoy baseball, do not follow pro-wrestling and have a love-hate relationship with the Redskins. I love it when they lose and hate it when they win.

I would like to thank Mrs. King for the chance, Pat Ireland for not applying the proverbial editorial axe too much, Steve Keenan for the wise-man idea and Jesse Skiles for everything. I will be leaving Glenville State after graduation. I might find bigger things but never anything better. A wise man once said, "Punt." So I did. Then I ate another cookie. Goodnight Bill wherever you are.

The first two evenings will concentrate on CPR certification, basic life support techniques. The third and fourth evenings will emphasize life threatening emergencies, wound and injury management. Textbooks will be used and are included in the price of the class. Upon completion of the class you will receive a CPR card from the American Heart Association. The CPR Instructor's Course will be offered on two consecutive days, May 20 and 21 from 9:30-12:00 and 1:00-5:00. You must have a current CPR card to enroll in this class. Science Department Receives Block Grant

During the academic year 1986-87, Glenville State College was the recipient of the Title II Block Grant totaling $25,000. This money was designated for the improvement of science teaching in the public schools.

A significant portion of the funds was used to assist K-6 teachers in the development of inquiry teaching techniques necessary for the implementation of the state mandated learner outcomes in science. Teachers in Webster, Nicholas, Jackson, and Roane counties participated. They met for six 2-hour meetings in the spring semester and then delivered a three-hour workshop to the other K-6 teachers in their buildings in the fall. As a follow-up to these initial efforts, twelve of these same K-6 teachers participated in a week-long graduate course offered on the GSC campus during the summer of 1987. The summer class focused on the utilization of science activities as a means of obtaining the learner outcomes in science. The culminating project was the development and exhibition of a science fair project by each participant. To encourage the teachers to utilize this approach in their teaching, GSC promised to host an invitational K-6 science fair during the 1988 spring semester.

Those schools participating were H.E. White Elementary and Ivydale Elementary in Clay County; Diana Elementary and Hacker Valley Elementary in Webster County; New Hope Elementary in Nicholas County; Roanoke Elementary in Lewis County; Glenville Elementary in Gilmer County; Brooksville Elementary in Calhoun County; and Sutton Elementary in Braxton County.
