

Be Recognized

By Mary Clark

What do Tom Brokaw, NBC Network News Anchor; Bart Starr, former quarterback for the Green Bay Packers; the Reverend Jesse L. Jackson; Elizabeth Dole, Secretary of the Department of Transportation; and John Thompson, head basketball coach for Georgetown University have in common?

What do these people have in common with a select group of former and present GSC students?

"What," you may ask, but don't. Ask who. Who's Who; that's what.

Who's Who is a national program which honors students for their academic excellence and for their contributions and services to their school and community.

Students are nominated for Who's Who by a committee which usually consists of members representing the administration, faculty, and student body.

Nominees of Who's Who are notified in writing by the Who's Who organization.

Who's Who honorees receive a number of benefits: they are presented with a personal certificate from Who's Who; they have a brief biography printed in an edition of Who's Who Among Students In American Universities and Colleges, and they are entitled to life time use of the Who's Who reference service, which is a service that supplies biographical data or a reference to a prospective employer or graduate school on behalf of an honoree.

To be an eligible nominee for Who's Who, one must be junior or senior in a four-year program or a graduate student of one of the more than 1400 institutions of higher education which participate in the 55 year old honor program.

Fine Arts Update

By Paul Biser

Noise outside the dorm windows, no place to park and mud to wade through are a few of the discomforts we will experience over the next year and a half while the new Fine Arts Building is being erected.

There were some difficulties experienced when digging began. The ground was found to be too soft for the building's weight. All of the dirt had to be removed and the hole was filled with layers of rock and dirt to make a solid foundation for the structure. This is going to cost several thousand dollars more.

According to Bruce Hathaway, Head of Maintenance, the building will be finished in January 1990. This is due to the fact that many of the structural parts are prefabricated and are quick and easy to assemble.

The building will consist of two floors. The bottom floor, basement level is where the stage area is located. There will be a scene shop, a costume room, and dressing rooms. These rooms will be for the Drama Department. For the Music Department there will be a bandroom, percussion room, storage rooms, practice rooms, and a recital room that will extend to the ground floor.

Upon entering the building there will be a spacious lobby on the ground floor. On the left there will be an art gallery for students to exhibit their art work. There will also be a painting & drawing room and a print making room. On the right there will be band offices, piano practice rooms, piano labs, a multipurpose practice room, and a Music Education classroom.

According to Dr. Gary Gillespie, this is what the

Tutoring Available

Are you having trouble in a class? Do you wish you could get some help from another student? If you answered "yes" to either of these questions, this article is for you. GSC has a new Tutorial Service available to students.

The Tutorial Service is being offered through the cooperation of Academic Affairs and Student Services. Tina Cunningham is serving as the coordinator of this service. The office is located in 202 Pioneer Center, which is just off the Pioneer Center lobby. The office may be reached by telephone at extension 225.

To request a tutor, a student needs to stop by the office between 12:00 - 3:00 Monday-Friday to complete a request form. If Tina is not available, a request form can be secured in the Placement Office. After receiving a completed tutor request

GSC's Band Large

By Shelly Allen

"Sometimes be sharp, never be flat, and always be natural." This pretty much sums up the attitude and playing style of this year's GSC Marching Band. After a soggy halftime Homecoming show that impressed everyone, the band plans "to continue playing entertaining music and play it well." Those are the words of director John McKinney. Mr. McKinney is really excited about this year's band. He has taught at GSC for six years and says that "this is the strongest band we've had since I've been here. He feels that "this is due to the experience of the older members and the strength of the freshman class."

There is no doubt that this year's band is a strong one. With 91 members, it is the third largest band in the state. Only WVU and Marshall out number us. Mr. McKinney, who did his undergraduate work here and graduate work at WVU, feels that "person for person, we're equal to WVU."

Mr. Harry Rich, who assists

Mr. McKinney, feels that the eight-member sousaphone section adds a lot to the band.

Eight sousaphones is an uncommonly large section for a 91-member band. Mr. Rich has nothing but good things to say. He feels that we have "as fine a playing small college band as I've heard." He also says "It's been a highlight."

Mr. McKinney feels that the band's only weakness is the number of people out sick. Following two wet, cold shows, many members have come down with colds. He is sure everyone will recover in time for the next show. The band is very enthusiastic. Mr. McKinney feels that one of their most distinguishing factors is their energy level before a show. They get very psyched up, they love to entertain. This was evident during the recent halftime show that included such 50s hits as "Rockin Robin," "Chantilly Lace," and "Johnny Be Good." Under their Field Commander Lisa Skeens, the band made it worthwhile for all those who braved the rain. In Mr.

Commuter News

We will be meeting on the following dates: Monday Oct. 10 at 4:00 p.m. in the Snack Bar; and Thursday, Oct. 14 at 12:45 p.m. in the Snack Bar. The items to be discussed are: a Commuter Constitution, parking, and other areas of concern. You need to show up and voice your opinions in order to get results. If you have any questions, please contact Richard Bowers, Pioneer Center Director, or call ext. 112.

With the launch of the Discovery last Thursday the U.S. again entered the space race. If you were around to watch or listen to the lift off you could feel the tension build as Discovery reached the point where Challenger exploded two and one-half years ago. After Discovery finally went into orbit you could then feel relief in the air and it seemed as though everyone let out a sigh. With fifty launches scheduled within the next three years let's hope and pray that NASA doesn't let down their guard and let safety go just to be able to meet their deadlines. Let us watch with pride as our country makes advances in space exploration and be proud of the men and women who are brave enough to take these leaps into space.

ORGANIZATIONAL NEWS

Delta Zeta

The Delta Zeta Sorority held an informal meeting Monday Sept. 26. We would like to congratulate our two new pledges Lisa Skeens and Renee Snider. We would like to thank all the girls that came to our video party. Congratulations to Teresa on your engagement.

Kappa Delta Pi

Kappa Delta Pi held this year's first regular monthly meeting on Thursday, Sept. 22, 1988 in Room 001, Clark Hall. Attending were: President Tena Church, Vice-President Charles Vest, Secretary Becky Baldwin, Treasurer Barbara Vest, Historian Marinda Taylor, Charlina Adams, Teresa Gayle Adams, Michele Conant, Sherri Hardman, Virginia Moore, Priscilla Rose and Sharon S. Smith. Our new advisor, Mrs. McCoy, introduced herself to members. She is replacing Mrs. Annette Roberts as advisor. President Tena Church welcomed everyone and those attending discussed and voted to change the regular meeting time to the second Tuesday of each month at 12:30 p.m. in Room 001, Clark Hall. This change was made because the original meeting time conflicted with class schedules. Members agreed that the practice of donating $5 per semester by members to the local organization be retained. Members also decided to order sweatshirts with Greek letters on them at $18.07 each. Members desiring a shirt should give their money, along with their shirt size to Treasurer Barbara Vest soon.

The question of fall initiation was discussed. Members decided Kappa Delta Pi will have fall inductees, but will have the banquet in the spring only.

Vice-President Charles Vest suggested that Kappa Delta Pi encourage students to register to vote in the election in November. Those attending agreed to make and display posters and also make available absentee voting forms. A committee to oversee this activity was created, consisting of Charles Vest, Barbara Vest, Becky Baldwin, Marinda Taylor and Sherry Hardman.

Dr. Mark Keefe, guest speaker, talked to members about literacy volunteering. The Education Department is forming a program known as TEAMS (Tutoring and Enrichment Assistant Models) for students who need tutoring, such as those not passing the PPST, foreign exchange students, or just any student wanting tutoring. Dr. Keefe asked members of Kappa Delta Pi interested in tutoring to submit schedules to him. Meeting was dismissed. Kappa Delta Pi urges everyone to register to vote by October 11, and vote in the election on November 8!

An Issue of Rape

By Barbara Harris

No woman wants or asks to be raped, no matter what her reputation is, or how heavily she is influenced by drugs and alcohol, yet an article in NEWSWEEK reports that a rape occurs every seven minutes in the United States. It is estimated; however, that only 10 to 20% of all rapes are reported to proper authorities, and many victims often do not press charges as a result of harassment, a lack of support by friends and family, or the fear that they will appear to be guilty, in some way, for the assault.

Many people believe the myths that "Rape doesn't happen at schools like our university," (college) or "It will not/cannot happen to me" but it occurs more often than we would like to admit. In fact, in a recent survey of over 6,000 students from 32 colleges across the country, one out of every six female students reported being a victim of rape or attempted rape during the preceding year, and one out of every fifteen male students admitted to having raped or attempting to commit rape in the same time period.

Victims sometimes do not view themselves as having been raped because they think of rape as a sexual assault committed by a stranger. Such an assault is known as "stranger rape", yet the most common form of rape occurring on college campuses across the nation is "date rape" (synonymous with "acquaintance rape") which refers to a rape committed by a person known to the victim occurring at the end of a date or social engagement. In many ways, this form of rape is even more psychologically damaging than other sexual assaults. The feelings expressed by a rape survivor—shame, guilt, fear, disbelief, and lowered self-esteem—are often more intense in the case of "date rape".

Seduction vs. submission is a frequent issue which arises in most date rapes, with the ultimate question being whether the victim ceased resistance because it was dangerous or useless, or because she consented. One of the unanswered questions relating to the modern rape laws, is how much, if any, resistance must be attempted by the victim to convey a lack of consent.

"Gang rape" is another form of rape which appears to be a common occurrence for some fraternities in colleges and universities across the country. In "invitations" for some fraternity parties, the event is advertised as a "gang bang" or "pulling train" (referring to the men lining up like train cars, waiting for their turn). Rather than viewing this as rape, they consider it to be normal party behavior. Many men feel that gang rape is not rape, but is instead, engaging as group sex with a "willing" partner. Participants in gang rapes often feel that if a woman is intoxicated to the extent that she cannot give consent, then she has "asked for it".

Although some women give mixed messages, or are too intoxicated to resist, no man has the "right" or is "entitled" to force her to have sexual intercourse. The fact that he may be drunk, or under the influence of drugs, is no defense. He is still accountable for his actions. The question he must ask himself is, "Did she actually consent to having intercourse with me?" If she did not give her consent to have sexual intercourse, and it is forced on her, then it is rape.

Next week's issue will cover events which may possibly lead to rape and suggestions on self-defense.

There was an error in last week's paper on the Mercury contest. The correct dates for the contest are Oct. 5th thru Oct. 19th with all entries due by noon on Oct. 19th. The winner will be announced on Oct. 26th.

PLAY OPENS

by Carmen Wager

Final touches are being made on the scenery, the parts have all been memorized and after many weeks of preparation at 8 p.m. tonight the curtain will rise and GSC's theatre department will perform its rendition of Shakespeare's Twelfth Night.

Twelfth Night, a romantic comedy, precisely captures Shakespeare's well-loved style. It is the work of a master playwright at he height of his comic powers. This, combined with the GSC drama participants' fine acting abilities and authentic Renaissance costumes and scenery is a combination you don't want to miss.

Everyone involved with this production has put in long hours of hard work to make it a success. If you enjoy practical jokes and fine acting, come and watch GSC's theatre in action. Showtime is 8 p.m. Oct. 5, 6, and 7.

Japanese Style

By Monica Sainz-Hinton

Step into a Japanese home for a few minutes. Take your muddy shoes off and slip into your house slippers. Kneel down at a low table in a Japanese style living-room with a tatami (straw mat) on the floor and drink some green tea.

In front of you, you will see a corner where flowers are arranged in a beautiful manner: that's ikebana. Beside you is a little booth where Buddha is revered with incense.

In Japan, not everyone lives in a big house in the country. The millions of residents of Tokyo live in apartments for the most part. Space is very scarce. The streets of Tokyo are always crowded and noisy. Young people dressed in western suits or dresses mingle with older people in Japanese clothes.

Tokyo could remind one of New York City. It's big, crowded, there are lots of buildings and cars. But it's clean. People walk on the left, drive on the left. There is almost no crime. I don't recall hearing a police siren. The Japanese students at GSC gave me a simple reason for the low crime rate and the fact that there are no drugs:

"We have a very good standard of living. There are few poor people."

So what is it like growing up in Japan? School is very important and very demanding. Students attend classes Monday thru Saturday, most of them in uniforms. Girls are not allowed to wear makeup, jewelry or nail-polish at school.

To enter high-school they must take an entrance exam, if they fail they must wait until the next year to take the exam again. After three years of high-school, they must take another exam for college. Most people fail that difficult test and some attend a cramming school that will prepare them for the test next year. These students are called "ronin". So a lot of students come to the United States to further their education after passing the TOEFL english exam. They believe it will prepare them for the business world in Japan.

Hard work is part of life in Japan. It brings financial success. Most men work six days a week and come home late, especially if they like to drink beer with their buddies and if they have to commute by train. If they come home around six dinner is at seven.

Dinner is the most important meal of the day. After a bowl of rice and soybean soup for breakfast, and a lunch box meal consisting of rice, pickled plum and sausage, and a

WEST LIBERTY

TOPS PIONEERS

by John Buser

Behind the passing of Doug Karas and the running of Eric Cyrus, the West Liberty Hilltoppers overcame a pesky Glenville defense en route to a 7-0 victory.

With just thirty-one seconds remaining in the first half, Karas dropped back to throw, only to find that all of his receivers were covered. The cagey veteran then scampered out of the pocket around the left end for a five yard touchdown burst. West Liberty completed the scoring when they added the extra point making it 7-0 at the half.

Following the low scoring first half, both teams hoped to find an explosive offensive outburst. This was not the case, however, because both defensive squads turned in solid performances. West Liberty penetrated deep into Glenville territory on several occasions, but the Pioneers prevented any further scoring by stopping the Hilltopper field goal kicker on all five of his attempts.

Leading the defensive charge for the Pioneers was nose tackle Brian Hill and defensive end Darren Tom, contributing eight tackles and seven assists, and four tackles and six assists, respectively. Freshman defensive back Keith Curtis was also busy as he collected nine tackles and two assists.

Offensively, the Pioneers were carried by tailback Gordon Stevens as he rushed for ninety-three yards on twenty-eight attempts. Alan Baughman completed one pass on the day, an eleven yard toss to Lonnie Hosby.

This Saturday the Pioneers take to the road once again as they square off against Salem College at 2:30 p.m. Glenville enters the contest with a 1-3 overall record, but is 0-3 in the WV Conference. The Tigers, 1-3 overall and 1-1 in the Conference, are coming off a 30-14 whipping by Shepherd.

Buser's Briefs

The recent conclusion of the 1988 Summer Olympics has brought about many memories. Naturally we could focus on the negative aspects of the games, such as Ben Johnson's alleged steroid use, or the disappointing loss of the U.S. men's basketball team. However, instead of being pessimistic, why not remember the U.S. men's volleyball team whipping the Soviets, or Vicky Bullett and the U.S. women's basketball team defeating Yugoslavia for the gold. The track performances of Jackie Joyner-Kersey and Florence Griffith-Joyner were outstanding. Because of these and other noteworthy efforts, the U.S. can eagerly await the 1992 Games.

Year after year in major college football, certain schools are always in the top twenty. It takes a special type of program to produce quality football on a consecutive basis. Three schools--Alabama, Penn State, and Nebraska, are all tied for the most consecutive winning seasons, an amazing 26 year streak. Alabama went from 1958 through 1983 under Head Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant without suffering a losing season. Penn State had winning seasons every year from 1939 through 1964. Currently, Nebraska is still adding to their mark. They have won more games than they have lost every year from 1962 through 1987.

Can you believe--Don Larsen, famous for being the only pitcher to throw a perfect game in a world series, was not even a .500 pitcher. He finished his career with an 81-91 win-loss record.

Now that's fast--If you think Nolan Ryan's fastball is fast, how would you like to be on the receiving end of a Bill Tilden serve? His serve has been clocked at 163.6 miles per hour.

Bubby Dent Having Banner Season

by John Buser

The 1988 Glenville men's cross country team has enjoyed a great deal of success midway through the season. Currently the squad is 18-5, including an undefeated mark in the West Virginia Conference. One reason for the team's immense success can be attributed to co-captain Bubby Dent.

Dent, a 1985 Dupont High School graduate, established a name for himself in high school. As a sophomore, he won the state title in the 800 meters with a time of 1:57.3. He repeated the championship his junior year by running a 1:54.2, a state record.

Bubby's accomplishments in his sophomore and junior seasons were only a preview of things to come. As a senior at Dupont, he won the 800 for the third consecutive year. He also claimed the 1600 meter event, just missing another state record, and finished third in the 400 (49.9). Finally, he anchored Dupont's state champion 4 x 800 meter unit, becoming the high point man in the state meet in the process. For his efforts that year, he was named West Virginia Track Athlete of the Year, and was also named to USA Today's All-American Team.

After graduation, Dent took his running abilities to the University of Charleston and promptly made an impact. Bubby helped the Golden Eagles conquer the 1985 WVIAC cross country title while he earned all conference honors. That winter he finished thirteenth in the nation in the 800 meters at the NAIA Indoor Nationals. Bubby continued to excel in track as he captured WVIAC titles in the 800, 1500, and 5000 meter runs. His 3:53 time in the 1500 ranked him third in the nation, and his 1:56 800 was a conference record.

Fortunately for Pioneer fans, UC dropped its running programs, so Bubby opted to attend Glenville. Dent chose Glenville, because he liked the Pioneer team members in addition to Glenville's deluxe track. Former Pioneer Coach Geary also made numerous calls to Bubby and eventually convinced the standout runner to enroll.

Since he has been at Glenville, the humble Dent has established five school records - the 800, 1500, and 10,000 meter runs, 4 x 800 meter squad, and the 3,000 meter steeplechase. By finishing fifth in the nation in the 3,000 meter steeplechase this summer, Dent achieved All-American status.

Already this season, Dent has claimed cross country titles at the Glenville Invitational and the Davis and Elkins Forest Festival. At the California (U.P.A.) Inv., Dent finished second, only losing to a runner from the University of Pittsburgh.

Heading into the year, Dent had set two goals. The first was for Glenville to finish higher than last season's twenty-fifth place in the nation. Secondly, he hoped to achieve All-American honors in cross country. Keep your eyes open while Bubby and his teammates aim for these goals - I think they will do it!

Skiles Continues Post

By Amy Stewart

For the second year, GSC has acquired the talents of Jesse Skiles, a recent graduate from GSC (1987) with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Social Studies (7-9) and Language Arts (7-9). At the age of 24, Mr. Skiles is not only the Assistant Track Coach of the men's team and Head Coach of the Cross Country Team, but also the Sports Information Director. As Sports Information Director, Skiles is responsible for the publication of the GSC's sports in local and major newspapers, and the delivery of the current sports statistics to the Sports Commissioner at the Conference Office. His job as Sports Information Director makes it "ideal to work while working on my masters (in Higher Education Administration) at West Virginia University."

Sadettres Ltd.

Players of the Week

Despite losing 7-0 to West Liberty on Saturday, the play of Glenville players was quite impressive. Because of their performances, Gordon Stevens and Brian Hill have been named the Sadettres Ltd. players of the week. Stevens, a workhorse tailback, gained ninety-three yards on twenty-eight attempts. Hill, who has been the defensive player of the week three times now, collected eight tackles and added seven assists. Congratulations Gordon and Brian.

The Glenville women's volleyball season started last Tuesday as the Fairmont Falcons devastated the Lady Pioneers by a convincing 2-0 score. On Wednesday, the netters went up against both Charleston and Alderson-Broadus. The Golden Eagles and Battlers both dealt Glenville 2-0 losses. On Saturday the team traveled to Salem in search of the elusive first victory. After losing the first game 15-12, the Pioneers came back in the second, winning 15-12. Despite improved effort by Glenville, Salem took the third game by a 16-14 count. In addition to facing Salem on Saturday, Glenville met another WV conference team in Shepherd. Although the netters continued to improve, Shepherd won 15-5, 15-13.

Japanese youngsters love American music: George Michael, Michael Jackson, Bonjovi and Whitney Houston. Their Japanese rock star is "Kyoko". The older generation listens to oriental tunes called "enka".

Since World War II, more Japanese women further their education and wish to work. Of the little group I interviewed, only one wants to stay home and raise children. Even though a lot of young women work, they hold low positions and in some companies they don't get equal pay. The girls I talked to here say they will have an advantage because they know English.

Most Japanese pride themselves on a rich country, with high technology, better cars, pretty Buddhist temples and Shinto shrines, tasty food with low calories, and better television shows. They love baseball. Tennis and golf are popular but membership fees are excessive. Sumo is also a very popular Japanese sport.

The two problems that we talked about that are facing Japan are the imminent death of Emperor Hirohito who has been in power for sixty-three years. His son Prince Akihito will become the new emperor and it will be year one again.

The other problem we talked about was the high numbers of teen suicide. Worry, torment, peer pressure were some of the reasons mentioned.

Adams Speaks

On Wednesday, Sept. 28, Gail Galloway Adams gave a workshop and reading. Her new book on short stories, THE PURCHASE OF ORDER, is available for $14.95. 25 people attended the reading, included were Dr. Tedford and Dr. Etchison.

Mrs. Adams is originally from Texas. Her father was in the army while she was growing up and, therefore, she has traveled a lot. She now resides with her husband and small son. Gail teaches night classes at WVU.

She decided to write seriously when her son was small. She baby sits and writes for a maximum of three hours a day. One day is set aside for doing chores.

After dropping her son off at school, she thinks of ideas about which she shall write. She writes a tall tale, a true story transferred into fiction with a different ending. Gail believes her favorite story is the one she is presently working on.

She uses a system from a book called GETTING STARTED, which explains the use of file folders that contain ideas that may be used for stories later. The stories are first written in long hand and after many revisions are sent to her agent, who gives a deadline for completion.

McKinney's words, they "went out to entertain, ignored the weather, and had fun."

Mr. McKinney says he's really proud of the band and their hard work and dedication. He says he's looking forward to the rest of the year. When asked to sum up his feelings about the band in one word, he smiles broadly and says "Grrrrreat!"

For the 1989 edition of Who's Who, GSC is allowed a quota of 41 student nominees. The quota is based upon attendance at GSC.

GSC nominations for Who's Who students must be received in the Mercury Office no later than Oct. 14, 1988. Application blanks are available in the Mercury Office.

building will help: GSC has the largest Music Education department enrollment of all four year colleges in WV. Yet it has the smallest amount of space; it has largest band of all four year colleges while we cannot fit in our bandroom, we lose money on damages because we have no proper place to store instruments, Sheet music, uniforms, or Robes. Our teachers have training to teach subjects for which we have no proper classrooms to house the subjects they could be offering our students. This building is the first major construction on campus in over a quarter of a century. This project is a morale booster for the whole college; the Art Department has never had a gallery for senior shows or exhibitions; by freeing up space in the Administration Building the Art Department can expand into rooms designated for sculpture, photography, a modern darkroom, and Art Education. Some art will remain in these rooms in the Administration Building; we will be able to attract and recruit students with the new facility; and much potential for growth.

form, Tina will have a tutor contact the interested student. If the student has not been contacted by a tutor within 36 hours, he/she needs to contact Tina. Obviously, in order to provide this option, the Tutorial Service must have tutors. If anyone is interested in being a tutor, he or she should stop by the office to complete an application. If Tina is not available, an application can be secured in the placement office. If students have any questions about becoming a tutor or about retutor, please tutor or about requesting a tutor, please stop by the office or call.

Photographs for the 1988-89 GSC yearbook, the Kanawhachen are to be taken during the week of October 24.

Carmen Wager, editor of the Kanawhachen, said that each organization would receive a letter informing them that photographs are to be taken during this time.

Pictures will be taken by Yearbook Associates, professional photographers. Any organization or individual who fails to have a photograph taken will not appear in the 1988-89 yearbook.

Miss Wager said that the schedule for individual photographs will probably be arranged on one day of the week prior to the 24th. Students may go to the Pioneer Center to schedule a day and time.

Watch for further details.

reached a turning point. The old still practice Buddhism or Shintoism. The young put on their kimonos on August 15th to remember the dead, for New Year's Day, Weddings, and on Jan. 15th on Adults Day (20 year old girls). Most of them believe in God, the creator of life, and one of them explained her belief in the everlasting life of the soul after death. The body is burnt but the soul lives on.

If you decide to visit Japan, don't fail to take the Shinkansen (bullet train) to Kyoto to see the marvelous temples and shrines. In Nara, look at the gigantic statue of Buddha. In the island of Hokkaido, you will see many lakes and mountains. And down South in Okinawa, you can go to some beautiful beaches. SAYONARA.

Thank you to Yumi MIYAMA, Rie AOKI, Chika FUNABASHI, Chikako KABURA, Katsuko NAKTA and Takako NAKA-MURA.

(Cont. from page 1) newcomers who showed an interest in the field of Sports Medicine. The meeting was opened with suggestions for the 1988 Homecoming Banner contest. Old and new business was discussed, with the highlight of the meeting being ended with the viewing of a Sports Medicine video tape. Refreshments were provided by our new advisor Janet James. We would like to congratulate Cynthia Bion on her winning 1988-89 Homecoming Queen! Our next meeting will be announced in the Mercury, so be looking for it. All are welcome to come and see what we are all about.
