Monongahela Supports GSC

David L. Rigglesman of Gassaway, manager of Monongahela Power's Southern Division, visited the Glenville State College campus on October 5 to present GSC Acting President James L. Peterson with a $350.00 check. The monies are to be used toward general scholarship programs.

Monongahela Power is a pioneer in the Partners in Business program which sees the economic future of West Virginia depending upon the cooperative action between education and business.

Glenville State College and Monongahela Power have a long history of working together to promote education and economic development in central West Virginia. President Peterson thanked Mr. Rigglesman for Monongahela Power's continued support of GSC's service to the area.

Madrigal Dinner

Glenville State College's music department will celebrate the holiday season by presenting a Madrigal Dinner on December 9 at 6:00 p.m. in the College Ballroom.

The public is invited. Tickets will go on sale the first of November.

What is a madrigal dinner? Imagine a candlelit 16th century banquet hall, draped with colorful heraldic banners and filled with the aroma of pine boughs. An English court jester beckons the diners to join the festivities; trumpet fanfares announce the courses of the royal Christmas feast. The music of the Court Singers fills the hall; wandering minstrels entertain at the diner's tables.

The historic period is the late 16th Century Renaissance of Queen Elizabeth I's England. There will be nearly authentic recreation of costumes, food, music, and other entertainments. There will be actors playing leading characters. Musical groups, instruments, and

Ohningohow

Hello Everyone!

Twelfth Night is over! Whew! We made it! Memorable quotes that we'll always hold in a special part of our heart when we remember Twelfth Night are: "Say what!?" "Did anybody know about this?" "He's coming to get you!" "Come on Sir, - let's go." ... do not think I am very smart." "Now he's figurin' it out!" and "We'll have him in the end!"

Friday after the show we had a fun cast party at the Wemm residence - great

The editorial this week is concerning the parking situation again. I did not receive any "Letters to the Editor" from any of you about recommendations on this, so it seems as though no one is concerned about it. We need student input on this to present to the appropriate people, so how about it, send us a letter.

Since we last brought this up, there has been a committee formed to look into and make recommendations on the parking situation. Well, I was recommended to serve on this committee as a student representative, along with one faculty member and three staff members. We held our first meeting last Thursday and discussed the following items, which will be brought up and discussed before the respective organizations on campus.

1) It was brought up that there were vehicles parking on campus lots that do not have parking stickers on them. It was recommended that all vehicles that are parked in campus lots and satellite lots be required to have a parking sticker.

2) It was also brought to food, great company, and a few good jokes. Thanks Dennis and Nancy.

There is an Ohningohow meeting Wednesday at 5:30 to discuss fundraising and the D.C. trip.

Thanks to everyone who came to see Twelfth Night! We love you!

Phi Beta Lambda

Phi Beta Lambda meeting will be held on Thursday, October 13, 1988 in AB302 at 12:30. Any new members or regular members are encouraged to attend.

PBL is still selling $5.00 donations on a Curly Maple muzzle loader, $15.00 of merchandise from Ames, $10.00 merchandise from Foodland, and $10.00 merchandise from Kroger. Anyone interested in purchasing a ticket should see any PBL member before the drawing on October 24.

See you all Thursday at the meeting!

Who's Who applications can be picked up in the Mercury Office, and must be completed/returned by Oct. 14.

attention of the committee that the following lots are not being fully utilized by students for parking. The Linn Street Lot, the Johnson Street Lot, and the Connector Lot below the Administration Building.

3) There was considerable discussion as to whether we have a parking problem or not. There was a recommendation made to request that the Business Dept. conduct a survey to determine the adequacy of parking at various times during the day.

4) A recommendation to investigate the impact of the crowded Mon-Wed-Fri morning schedules with the concept that scheduling of classes differently can help alleviate much of the problem. The afternoon are less congested and offer the opportunity to help with the problem.

5) A recommendation to restrict resident parking to the Linn Street Lot, Connector Lot, Pickens Hall Lot, and Johnson Street Lots. In conjunction with this recommendation, procure additional parking space in convenient off campus lots.

The beneficiaries of this will be the commuter students. 6) To investigate the possibility of paving the lawn beside the President's house for parking.

7) To consider providing Faculty and Staff with a reserved parking space if they have a minimum of 4 people in their vehicle. In many cases this will free up 2 or 3 spaces for each reserved space.

Well students let's hear from you about this and if you have any recommendations other than these let us know.

An Issue Of Rape

By Barbara Harris

Rape is not "victim-precipitated." That is to say, women do not knowingly bring about an assault. It is possible; however, that men may interpret a woman's actions and/or attire as teasing when nothing could be further from her mind. According to Frederic M. M. Skanska, author of HOW TO SAY NO TO A RAPIST -- AND SURVIVE, "teasing, the beauty, is in the eye of the beholder." A woman can tease; however, "simply by being female" and therefore must assume that at some time, a man will perceive her actions to be teasing. There are many ways of broadcasting signals which aren't intended, but are viewed as a tease. It may be in the way you walk, the way you carry yourself, the way you sit or stand, or your air of confidence or shyness. Society has placed the responsibility of teasing on women, when it actually depends on the man's perception of a woman's behavior. Many people also believe the way a man dresses is an invitation to be raped. Whether she is dressed in a miniskirt, tight pants, a bikini, or a three-piece sweater suit, if the man views her as "sexy" he may feel there is a message in the clothing.

Apply Now

The Division of Social Sciences is currently accepting applications for the Herndon Legislative Fellows Program. The HLFP is an internship sponsored by the West Virginia Legislature, in cooperation with the state's institutions of higher education.

Applicants from GSC will compete with applicants from other colleges and universities for the opportunity to serve as interns to state legislators in the upcoming legislative session. The successful applicant will receive a stipend of $150 per week for the duration of the 16 week program. He or she will also qualify for a full semester's academic credit. Application forms are available from Dr. Wesley Melan, Louis Bennett Hall, Room 237. Completed applications must be turned in by Oct. 25.

"inviting" him to rape her. Women's attire has always been designed to impart sexual attraction, but it was never intended to be an excuse for men to sexually assault women.

It is a noted fact that 40% of rape cases are alcohol and/or drug related. Although alcohol and/or drugs are not a direct cause of rape, the mood-altering effect of these substances help to 'set the stage' by reducing men's inhibitions and helping them to excuse their abusive behavior. These substances also weaken a woman's ability to think rationally, assess dangerous situations, and also lessens her capacity to take effective steps to safeguard herself.

When a woman drinks or uses drugs this sometimes appears to others that she was an "accessory" or a "willing participant". Once again she is supposedly accountable, despite the fact that she probably was participating in the same drinking behavior as the man. A double standard is used when referring to the amount of alcohol consumed by a woman before the attack and the amount for the man. Men can drink with their friends and not worry about being victimized, but it is a constant possibility for women. An issue on self-defense will be contained in next week's paper.

Tour Europe

Once again the Glenville State College office of Community Services and Continuing Education is planning a travel/study Tour of Europe. The trip will occur March 17-28, 1989 and will tour Germany, Switzerland, Luxembourg and Iceland.

The $1,639 tuition includes all intercity transportation, lodging, breakfast and supper.

College credit is available in business, education and social studies. There is a possibility teachers can work out their county boards of education for certificate renewal credit.

A $450 deposit is due by December 1, 1988 and the balance by January 4, 1989. For details to register, contact Dr. Duke Talbott, Office of Community Services and Continuing Education, Glenville State College, Glenville, WV 26351 or telephone 462-7361.

Carr Presents Senior Recital

By Christopher Harper

We don't usually think of music as a mental activity. However, as one approaches the upper echelons of music, the mental "toughness" becomes increasingly important.

Kevin G. Carr, a senior Music Education major will put his mental toughness to the test as he presents his senior recital on October 16 at 3:00 p.m. in the College Auditorium. The public is invited at no charge. The senior student recital fulfills partial requirements for graduation. "I'm not doing this for only the requirement, stated Kevin, but I hope to give the audience some of what I have learned and in return I will receive pride in a job well done."

Kevin's musical career started in the Spencer High School band, where he played percussion.

It was through the encouragement of a good friend that he became interested in the flute. "It possessed an unmatched quality that I liked," said Kevin.

He was involved in the ensemble festival and was the first chair flute in the All State Orchestra. "The person who has played a big role in my life would have to be Rampel who I believed is the greatest living flutest," commented Kevin.

He has played an active role on campus in that he has been involved in Student Congress, Band, Choir, Jazz Band, Resident Assistant, Mercury Staff and Yearbook Staff.

Kevin would like to acknowledge his gratitude to

"My best friend; my mother; family; friends; the GSC Music faculty and to Mr. and Mrs. Ed McKown for their encouragement."

Carr's program will include: Mozart's "Andante in C Major" and "Rondo in D Major;" Poulenc's "Sonata for Flute and Piano;" Prokofieff's "Sonata in D major for Flute and Piano;" Kuhlau's "Trio for Two Flutes and Piano;" Handel's "Sonata IV;" Chaminade's "Concertio;" and Field's "Nocturne."

Kevin is a 1984 graduate of Spencer High School. He will graduate from GSC in May with a K-12 B.A. in Music Education.

"After graduation I plan to go to Zambia Africa for a year. Then return to the U.S.

to teach and attend graduate school in Maryland," stated Kevin.

Briefs

While the temperatures decline daily, it is beginning to feel more like hunting season than baseball playoff weather. Although the West Virginia squirrel season did open on Saturday, the American and National League championships are entering their peaks. Both series feature quality pitching and hitting and should be relatively even. The two teams who advance to the World Series will certainly be worthy of the honor, because they all have enjoyed banner seasons.

Heading into this year's World Series, the American League has captured the title forty-nine times, while the National League has won it thirty-five times. This statistic may come as good news to Boston and Oakland fans, but the Dodgers or Mets are hoping to make it number thirty-six for the National League.

Which National Football League team has moved their home stadium to two different states and yet never changed their team name? It is the New York Giants who moved their home field from Yankee Stadium, New York, to the Yale Bowl in New Haven, Connecticut, for the 1974 and 1975 seasons, and then moved to their current stadium in East Rutherford, New Jersey in 1976. Despite moving their homes to Connecticut and New Jersey, they have still remained the New York Giants.

Guess who? Lawrence Peter is the first name of what famous baseball catcher? These are the first names of retired Yankee great Yogi Berra.

Stephanie Hunt's aerobics class will start Thursday, October 13th at 4:45. This meeting will be to fill out enrollment cards and to pay fees. The first workout will be Monday, October 17th at 4:45.

PIONEERS NIP TIGERS

by John Buser

The GSC football team returned from Salem on Saturday with a thrilling 22-18 come from behind victory, after a shining performance.

Glenville, which entered the game with three consecutive losses, gave up the first points of the contest when JR McVicker connected on a thirty-four yard field goal with nearly four minutes remaining in the first quarter.

However, on this day, the Pioneer offense had come to play. Arthur Drake's one yard touchdown run four minutes into the second quarter gave Glenville a 6-3 advantage.

The Tigers wasted no time in answering the Pioneers' first score. Fred Houston, Salem's signal caller, scored from one yard out with four and a half minutes remaining in the first half.

Coach Nocida's troops found themselves down 10-6 with possibly just one drive left in the half. Glenville certainly made it a good one, though, because Alan Baughman hit Lonnie Hosby for a ten yard touchdown pass just before the half ended. The extra point was blocked, but GSC owned a 12-10 lead at the intermission, their first half-time lead in three games.

Following a hard fought third quarter in which neither team scored, the final period opened with Glenville continuing another drive. One minute into the quarter Mark Ferris scored his first points of the afternoon, a twenty-seven yard field goal, widening the Pioneer lead to 15-10.

Salem now needed a touchdown if they were going to win this one. Behind the strong running of its backs, the Tigers were able to move to Glenville's nineteen yard line. Fred Houston then fired a touchdown strike to Joe Starkey coming out of the backfield. The two point conversion was also successful as Salem had moved ahead 18-15 with only five minutes remaining to be played.

After the kickoff return, GSC had seventy yards to march for a score. With hard running from backs Gordon Stevens, Arthur Drake, and Frank Myers, in addition to two clutch completions by Baughman, the Pioneers found themselves one yard away from a possible victory. Baughman then culminated the drive when he gained the final yard himself for the touchdown. Ferris added the extra point, as Glenville had come from behind to post a 22-18 victory.

Offensively, the Pioneers gained 307 yards and seventeen first downs. Gordon Stevens gained eighty-nine yards rushing, while teammates Arthur Drake and Frank Myers accounted for seventy-six and sixty-four, respectively. Alan Baughman completed ten of sixteen attempts for one hundred yards and one touchdown.

Defensively, GSC limited the Tigers to only 220 yards. Glenville also held the Salem quarterback to two completions in sixteen attempts, four of which were intercepted.

The Pioneers, 2-3 overall and 1-3 in the conference, return home this Saturday to face the Fairmont Falcons at 1:30 p.m. at Pioneer Stadium.

Sadettres Ltd. Players of the Week

With impressive performances against Salem on Saturday, Darren Tom and Arthur Drake have been selected as the Sadettres, Ltd. players of the week. Tom, a 6'0 defensive end junior from McKeesport, PA, led the way with five tackles, six assists and one quarterback sack. Offensively, Arthur Drake ran the ball 17 times for a total of 76 yards including one touchdown. Good job Darren and Arthur keep up the good work.

Golfers Fourth

by John Buser

Glenville State's golf team continued its successful Fall season on October 3rd and 4th by finishing fourth in the eleven-team Ferrum Invitational. Greensboro College won the event, while Francis-Marion and Mount Olive Colleges followed closely behind. Fairmont and West Virginia Wesleyan, the only other WV Conference schools to participate in the tournament, placed sixth and tenth respectively, several strokes back of the Pioneers. Leading the way for GSC was Mike Sowards, who fired two rounds of 78 for a 156 total over the par 72 Old Mill Golf Course. Mike's brother Bob, posted two rounds of 80 (160), while Andy Batten shot an 80 and 87 (167). Rounding out the scoring for the Pioneers was Jason Sutton 83-87 (170), Ben Moore 85-86 (171), and Scott Wymer 86-86 (172).

This week the Linksters will conclude their fall schedule as they have two tournaments. On Sunday and Monday they played in the Rhododendron classic, and on Friday and Saturday they will travel to Canton, Ohio to play in the Malone Invitational.

Audubon Quartet To Perform at GSC

On Monday, October 17 the Audubon Quartet will perform in the Glenville State College auditorium. Performance time is 8:00 p.m. There is a small admission fee for off-campus adults.

The Quartet is in residence at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University. The Audubon Quartet, founded in 1974, received international recognition when they won three major competitions within the first three years of their collaboration - the Portsmouth International String Competition with Yehudi Menuhin heading the jury, the International String Quartet Competition at the Festival Villa-Lobos, and the International String Competition in Evian, France.

Hailed by the NEW YORK TIMES for their "...Individual virtuosity and the ensemble polish," the AUBUBON STRING QUARTET has been acclaimed for their performances throughout the United States, Europe, South America and China.

Each season the quartet tours throughout Europe and the United States, appearing on the most prestigious chamber music series, including Today's Artists Series in San Francisco, Friends of Chamber Music in Vancouver, the Frick Collection in New York, and the Distinguished Artists Series in Philadelphia. In summer, they are in residence at the summer festivals of Mount Gretna in Pennsylvania and Chautauqua in New York. They were the first American quartet to tour the People's Republic of China, have played at the renowned Academy of Santa Cecilia in Rome, and at Wigmore Hall in London. In the spring of 1988 they returned to South America for a highly successful tour.

The Audubon Quartet has been privileged to perform many world premiers including Peter Schickele's AMERICAN DREAM and Ezra Laderman's QUARTET NO. 6 "THE AUDUBON". Their first recording for RCA, scheduled for release soon, includes these two commissions. They have also recorded on the Orion and Opus One Labels. They have collaborated in concert with jazz violinist Joe Kennedy, pianist Leon Bates and flutist Harold Jones.

Members of the quartet are David Ehrlich, violin; David Salness, violin; Doris Lederer, viola; and Thomas Shaw, 'cello. As individual instrumentalists, they trained as such prestigious schools as the Curtis Institute Tel-Aviv University, the Israeli Conservatory, and with some of the world's finest teachers including, among others, David Cerone, Michael Tree, Shmuel Ashkenasi, Ilona Feher, and Aldo Parisot.

Although distinguished soloists in their own right, as chamber musicians they have joined together to form a quartet of remarkable virtuosity. Of a performance in New York, the NEW YORK TIMES music critic commented, "...the Audubon seems completely free of technical constraints. They listen to one another and adjust instinctively to produce a sound of a strikingly beautiful luminescent quality that invariably serves the music with grace, sophistication and vibrancy...a brilliant performance."

This program is being assisted by grants from the West Virginia Department of Culture and History and from the Mid Atlantic Arts Foundation.
