Tour Europe This Spring

By Shelly Allen

In March, GSC students will have a chance to visit several European countries, including Germany, Switzerland, Luxembourg, and Iceland. Dr. Duke Talbott of Community Services and Continuing Education has been in charge of past trips and is currently planning an excellent itinerary for this year's students, the fields have been expanded to include social sciences and education. People in these fields will have the opportunity to enjoy a "tremendous learning experience." However, people outside of these fields can also participate by taking the trip as an elective—it's worth three credit hours.

A tentative schedule includes a tour of Keflavik/Rekjavik, Iceland; dinner in Basel, Switzerland; visits to a castle, university, and cathedral in Heidelberg, Germany; optional visits to Strasbourg, France, Baden Baden or Freudenstadt in the Black Forest; and many miles by rail. Even though all this sounds like a typical tourist vacation, Dr. Talbott guarantees that it will also be an educational experience.

In the past, business students have been assigned to do such things as compare prices and marketing techniques in chain stores in London, Paris, and Amsterdam. This year, he has planned a seminar with the Swiss National Tourist Board. This can be practically applied to West Virginia's own growing tourist industry. The trip will be an enjoyable learning experience.

When compared to past trips, this one seems more rural. On earlier excursions, students visited large cities like London and Paris. This trip will cover more small towns and country settings. The Swiss Alps are a possibility, if the weather cooperates. Rhineland, Heidelberg, and Luzern are much smaller than London. Dr. Talbott feels this will present a different view than in the past.

For anyone interested, the $1,639 price includes all airfare, intercity transportation, lodging, breakfasts, and suppers. A $450 deposit is due by December 1. The balance of this is due by January 4, while everyone is still on Christmas break. Anyone wishing to go should sign up as soon as possible as there are only 16 seats available. For more information, Dr. Talbott is available in the Division of Business. Stop by or call 462-7361, ext. 142.

Movement Theatre

What do ironing boards, cardboard ladies, family barbecues, space shuttles, corn flakes, TV monitors, toy robots, high-powered jets and hair dryers have in common?

They are all part of the dreamlike logic of AUTOBAHN, the internationally acclaimed performance work, conceived and directed by Tony Brown and Kari Margolis and performed by the Adaptors Movement Theatre; presented at Glenville State College on Wednesday, November 9 at 8:00 p.m. in the College auditorium. The public is invited.

In the lightning-paced AUTOBAHN the "Adaptors" conducts a nonstop tour of our past, present and future through a breathtaking blur of impressions that whiz by like images on the speedway.

Clive Barnes of The New York Post wrote: "AUTOBAHN gets its energy from an antic craziness that could not be repeated. It is a theatrical statement about chaos and technology, the way we live and the way we sell. It is an extraordinary experience."

Laced with movement, video, sound and song the images of AUTOBAHN create associations without telling a story. Using their bodies like finely tuned instruments the Company moves through an extraordinary range of skills.

Anna Kisselgoff of The New York Times proclaimed: "It is not what the 'Adaptors' do but how they do it that renders their commentary both fresh and mordant."

Artistic Directors Tony Brown and Kari Margolis are recent winners of the prestigious "Bessie" Choreography/Creator Award. They first joined forces twelve years ago in Paris at the school of Etienne Decroux. After performing internationally for seven years they established themselves in New York City and founded the Adaptors Movement Theatre and School in 1982. They have since collaborated on the writing and directing of four major

Breathalyzer Tests Conducted

By Teresa Wayman

On Oct. 20, members of Collegiate 4-H conducted breathalyzer tests for resident students in conjunction with National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week, Oct. 16-22. The purpose of this testing was to show the students just what kind of shape they were in. Participants were asked how many drinks they consumed; if they thought that they could safely operate a motor vehicle; and then they were to breathe into the breathalyzer. The breathalyzer had three readings: slightly, fairly, and very intoxicated.

77 students participated. The average amount consumed was 6 - 8 drinks each (20 stated that they had lost count of their number of drinks). All but one student who registered in the fairly or very intoxicated range felt that they could not operate a vehicle safely, which proves that at least one person will

GSC Nurses Are Elected

Two GSC nursing students were voted officers of the West Virginia Student Nurses Association (WVSNA) at its convention held October 14 and 15 in Morgantown.

Sophomore Melissa Burdette will serve as Vice-President of WVSNA. Her duties in this position include planning next year's convention, arranging for speakers and place to gather. She will also be working to make the public more aware of nursing. She is currently historian for Pioneers in Nursing.

Annette Childress, also a sophomore, was elected treasurer. Along with bookkeeping duties the treasurer is expected to plan fund-raising activities, such as raffles, door prizes, and an auction held at the conference this year.

Both officers begin their one-year terms in May 89. Pioneers in Nursing President Stephanie Beverly and nursing student Vicki Spilki also attended the convention.

Glenville nurses now have a strong voice in this Association.

TEAMS

The tutors of the TEAMS organization have completed one full month in the program. In a one month period we have tutored a total of 30 GSC students. The comments from the students have been favorable to our program. We have several tutors in our "help" areas: Math - Vicki Fulks and Mike Hanlin; Science - Holly Estrum, Charles Wilson, and Berry Phillips; Social Sciences - Sherri Hardman, Kelly Marshall; English - Charlina Adams and Cheryl DePue; Computers - Mike Minney, (in computer lab in AB). We would like to extend a formal thank you to Priscilla Rose for her enthusiasm and help in the creation of our program.

Well the big day is almost upon us. That's election day in case you didn't know. As the big day approaches, the players in this extravaganza really get into calling each other liars.

Governor Moore says that Caperton is lying about this and Caperton says that Arch is lying about that. Moore tells us what he has done for education and Caperton tells us what his insurance company has done for West Virginia.

Caperton tells us about his new plans for economic development, but never says what they are or how he is going to do them. Moore tells that unemployment is down, but doesn't say that these counts don't reflect those whose unemployment has run out or those that have left the state for jobs in other states.

In the national scene, Dukakis tells us what Bush has done and Bush tells us what Dukakis has done. Who is the best man to vote for? Good Question. Maybe we should just write in someone. How about Alf for President and Snoopy for Governor? Makes a lot of sense right? Anyway, go out and vote on November 8th.

SEA

The Student Education Association held a meeting October 3, in Clark Hall, Room 101. The following were elected as officers, President: Mike Hanlin, Vice-President: Debbie Smith, Secretary: Robin Miller, and Treasurer: Berry Phillips. Debbie Smith represented SEA at the WVEA-SEA Advisor/President's meeting in Charleston, October 7.

Two student teachers, Debbie Wills and Anita Hess, shared their experiences with the group about student teaching. They are both doing their student teaching at Sand Fork Elementary. In mid-October another meeting was held. Debbie Smith discussed her meeting at Charleston. A membership drive was also discussed. Plans are in the works to set up a table in the Pioneer Center Lobby to inform students of SEA. Fund raising was also another topic discussed. Our next meeting will be November 7, 1988, in Clark Hall, Room 101 at 4:30 p.m. All Education majors are invited and urged to come out and see what SEA is all about.

PIONEERS TACKLE GOLDEN BEARS

by John Buser

Heading into Saturday's contest with West Virginia Tech, both Glenville and the Golden Bears found themselves in the cellar of the WV Conference with identical 1-5 records. The loser of this gridiron clash would own last place by themselves. However, the winner would gain a possible building block for the remainder of the season.

The Pioneers began in convincing fashion by winning the toss and stopping Tech on three plays, forcing them to punt. However, the Glenville return was bobbled and eventually lost to a Golden Bear defender.

After the recovery at the Pioneer thirty-four yard line, Tech drove twenty yards to the fourteen yard line. On fourth down, Steve Adams' thirty-one yard field goal attempt failed, allowing GSC to take over.

Glenville's three possessions in the first quarter yielded but two first downs, with two series ending in punts and the other drive stopped by a fumble. The Golden Bears' two other possessions in the first quarter showcased an aggressive Pioneer defense, which limited the Bears to just one first down in the two series.

Following a first quarter in which neither team could establish much offense, Tech opened the second from their own twenty-four yard line. Behind the running and passing of quarterback Lee Holder, the Golden Bears drove to the twenty-eight yard line of Glenville. Adams' second field goal attempt of the day was again off the mark, as the game remained scoreless.

With over ten minutes remaining in the first half, Coach Nocida's offense began from their twenty-eight yard line. Elusive running by Gordon Stevens and Arthur Drake, together with timely passing from newly named starting quarterback Rick Lewis, helped the Pioneers drive to the two yard line. On third and goal, Stevens powered his way up the middle for the score. Marc Ferris added the extra point, which saw Glenville open a 7-0 lead with just over five minutes remaining in the half.

The ensuing kickoff was fumbled by Tech, and recovered by Glenville just thirty-eight yards from the goal line. Once again it was Drake and Stevens who got the call, running for two first downs to the fifteen yard line. On second and long, Lewis' scrambled free, but his pass was intercepted.

Starting from their own twenty-five yard line, Tech gained a first down before fumbling. Glenville recovered, but time expired shortly after as the Pioneers took a 7-0 lead into the locker room.

The second half was much like the first, because Glenville continued to go to its ground game for the most

Receiving strong performances from all runners, the GSC men and women's cross country squads dominated Davis and Elkins College in a dual meet held at Cedar Creek State Park on Tuesday (Oct. 25).

Pacing the men were co-captains Bubby Dent and Andy Jarrell who crossed the finish line at the same time to tie for first (26:38). Next for the Pioneers were freshmen Ed Lamp and Tony Taylor who tied for third (27:06).

Completing the sweep of first six places were Mickey Grass (27:27) and John Fitzpatrick (27:28) who claimed fifth and sixth, respectively. With the 15-45 victory, the men upped their record to 27-5 overall and 12-0 in the WV Conference.

For the women harriers, all six Glenville runners finished the course at the same time for a sweep of the race. Lori Barker, Dawn Farley, Stacy McKown, Mindi Pickens, Katrina Riggleman, and Tracy White all finished with identical 22:38 times enabling the Lady Pioneers to capture a solid 15-45 victory. The lady runners ended the regular season with an 18-7 mark, including a perfect 9-0 in the conference.

This Friday, both GSC squads will be hosting the WVIAC Finals at Cedar Creek State Park. The women's race will start at 3:00 and will be followed by the men's contest at 3:45. Come out and support GSC!

Netter Update

On Friday, the Glenville Women's Volleyball Team traveled to Fairmont to take on the Falcons. The Lady Pioneers found the opponent to be quite talented as the Falcons won all three games.

This Friday, the netters 3-14 overall and 3-13 in the conference, will conclude their season when they participate in the WVIAC tournament at West Liberty.

Buser's Briefs

While the major college football season is heating up, the race for the bowls is not the only interesting contest. The Heisman Trophy watch features several players who have attained superstar credentials.

Following the dazzling performance of sophomore Major Harris in front of a national tv audience on Saturday, suddenly the Mountaineer leader is receiving some much deserved attention.

However, a freshman or sophomore has never won the Heisman as the best college football player in the nation. Only seven times in history has a junior captured the award, including names such as Herschel Walker, Billy Sims, Archie Griffin, and Roger Staubach.

This year's frontrunners for the Heisman include quarterbacks Troy Aikman, Steve Walsh, and Rodney Peete, while tailback Barry Sanders is also a strong candidate. For WVU's Major, perhaps the honor is a year or two away, but he certainly is "something special" in the words of Coach Don Nehlen. I'm sure Major would give up the Heisman for a national championship, which the Mountaineers have a terrific chance to gain.

Columbia ended their long losing streak three weeks ago, but can you name the team who holds the longest losing streak in NFL history? The answer is the Tampa Bay Buccaneers who lost twenty-six in a row.

Here's a tough World Series question - of all the pitchers in baseball history, which one holds the record for winning the most World Series games? Answer is Whitey Ford who won ten World Series games between 1950 and 1964.

Sadettres Ltd. Players of the Week

In Saturday's 14-7 victory over WV Tech, Glenville received stand-out performances from several players. The play of Gordon Stevens and Brian Hill was particularly eye-catching; because of their efforts, these two young men have been named the Sadettres Ltd. players of the week. Stevens, a work-horse tailback, rushed for 141 yards and two touchdowns while carrying the ball thirty times. Hill, a massive nose guard, registered twelve tackles and an assist, in addition to recovering a fumble. This marks the second time this season that Stevens has won the award, while Hill has been honored on five occasions.

Free Services Offered

The annual Health Fair sponsored by GSC Pioneers in Nursing will be held in the Student Union November 12 from 8 a.m. till 12:30 p.m.

Free services offered by nursing students include compiling individual health history, blood pressure reading, recording present height and weight, urine screening, and teaching breast self-examination to women.

A new service this year will be instruction about testicular self-exam. Young men number among the highest risk group for testicular cancer. A model for this instruction has been donated to the nursing department by the American Cancer Society.

Originally a sophomore class project, the Health Fair is now organized by Pioneers in Nursing to give nursing students practical experience and as a service to the community. Non-nursing students are welcome to act as guides and helpers during the Fair. Volunteers should contact the nursing department.

Blood testing will be available during the same hours on the first floor of the Science Building. A $17.00 fee will provide a multi-phasic program of 35 separate blood tests for each participant. Persons planning to have blood tested should eat nothing and drink only water after midnight Friday before the test. A light breakfast will be provided at the Fair.

Learn to Dance

Would you like to learn how to waltz, cha cha, jitterbug, fox trot, and tango? The Glenville State College Office of Continuing Education has the class for you. BALLROOM DANCING will be taught on Thursday evenings, November 3 through December 15 from 7:00-8:30 p.m. in the Ballroom of the Pioneer Center. Mary Ann Yeager, who was formerly with the Frances Nestor School of Dance, will be the instructor. Enrollment is limited, so please call Arlene Briski at 462-7361, ext. 173 to reserve your spot.

part, while Tech went to the air attack much more.

With nearly four and a half minutes remaining in the third period, Mike Cox blocked a Tech punt and the Pioneers recovered. Gordon Stevens capped the forty-seven yard drive with a thirteen yard burst for the score. Ferris connected on the extra point enabling GSC to up its lead to 14-0.

Fourteen points is all Glenville would need, because the pesky Pioneer defense would only allow one Tech score, that coming on a seven yard pass from Holder with just two and a half minutes remaining in the contest.

This Saturday GSC hopes to build upon the 14-7 Tech victory when it hosts Kentucky State. Glenville enters the 1:30 affair at Pioneer Stadium with a 3-5 overall record, including a 2-5 mark in the WV Conference.

Tekes

On Thursday, November 1, Tekes will have their first voting session for the Fall 88 semester. Associate members will be expected to know what has been given to them from actives in their interview book. You will find out more after the regular meeting on Wednesday, at 7:00 p.m., there will be a pledge meeting.

Plans are being made for a Twenty-Fifth anniversary celebration in Charleston or Parkersburg on May 10, of this year.
