Trainer Works Hard

Although the Athletic Trainers are hard workers, they hardly ever get recognition. While interviewing Ms. Janet James, a first year Athletic Trainer at GSC, I found that her job is not only time consuming, but she must also stay alert during games. Ms. James deals with the prevention of athlete injuries. She also does immediate care of the athletes. This care ranges from taping ankles to having the right equipment ready in case of injury to a player. Ms. James also tries to get the injured player back in the game as soon as possible, but at no risk to the player. Other jobs that the Athletic Trainer does are setting up the field before a game, clearing the field after a game, and taking care of the visiting team's needs. These needs include such things as making sure the visitors have water to drink, therapy if a player may need it, and making sure the visiting team has adequate facilities.

Ms. James received her Masters Degree of Science with emphasis in Athletic Training from WVU. While attending WVU, Janet had the pleasure of working with the National Athletic Trainer of the Year (1983), Mr. John Spiker.

Ms. James had these comments to make. "I really like GSC and the students. I think the Athletic Program has set goals not only as a department, but also as individuals. The challenge is to work hard toward making positive things happen."

Athletic Trainers are very important to the Sports Department. The Athletic Trainers cannot make diagnoses; it's up to the player to decide when he thinks he is healed enough to get back into the game."

Ms. James also mentioned that Kim Hull and Scott Hall are two senior student Athletic Trainers. Ms. James had this to say about Kim and Scott. "Kim and Scott are dedicated and hard working student trainers. I believe they will be a complement to the GSC Athletic Training Program."

PGM STARTS AGAIN

The Glenville State College chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, the International Honor Society in the social sciences, is reactivating this semester. With the help of LaDonna Childers, Dolores Mysliwiec, and others, the organization hopes to become active in the local community as well as on campus. For those interested in joining, the requirements are as follows: you must be a junior or senior with at least twenty hours in one or more of the five core areas (history, political science, economics, sociology/anthropology, or international relations), you must be in the upper thirty-five percent of your class, and you must have at least a "B" average. If you can meet these requirements, you can become an active member and participate in the upcoming events. The first event planned is a "Stand Up to the Stigma" program on November 16.

Many former mental patients are denied jobs. Others are isolated from society. Friends and family feel uncomfortable around them. This makes living a normal life almost impossible for them. In an effort to combat the misconceptions surrounding mental illness, a program known as "Stand Up to the Stigma" has been created. The social science department, with the help of the Wesley Foundation and Pioneer Center, will present such a program at 6:30 in the Verona Maple room on Wednesday, November 16.

Carol Sharlip, an officer in the State Mental Health Association, will present an interesting lecture and video dealing with the problems of recovering mental health patients in today's society. Prior to her program, panel

Honors Program Rewards Students

by Chris Harper

The Glenville State College Honors Program recognizes and rewards students who have made significant academic accomplishments. It offers a unique course of study for able students who qualify for entry into the program.

"The program is in its first year and has eight students enrolled in the program," stated Dr. Nicholson. The program got a good start with a grant from Consolidated Gas Transportation Company. This grant was matched by the Alumni Foundation. This has helped to attract students.

In addition to the regular course work, Honors Program students are required to take at least 24 hours of honor classes. "We're trying to provide a broad range of educational opportunity," remarked Dr. Nicholson.

The rationale beneath curricula designed to meet the needs of the former is that all student should be permitted and encouraged to realize their full potential. That same rationale underlies the Honors Program.

Based on this premise, the objectives of the Glenville State Honors Program are to identify those students whose abilities surpass the challenges of the standard curriculum and to provide those students with academic offerings that encourage performance which reflects their potential. The benefits which can accompany such a program include the attraction of students with exceptional academic ability, the attraction and/or retention of outstanding faculty who are committed to quality education and for whom the reward of teaching gifted students provides increased job satisfaction, the enhancement of the college's public image as an institution which recognizes and promotes superior scholarship through its commitment to honors education, and the contribution to society of productive graduates who perform with distinction on the job or in graduate or professional school.

A "WAYOUT" LOOK AT: WILDLIFE PRACTICAL JOKES.

Well, by the time you read this it will be all over. We will have a new President and a new Governor. Whether we have made the right decisions or not, only time will tell.

If you didn't vote then you have no right to complain about how things are going. If you are not satisfied with the way things are going then let your representatives know about it.

If you watched the program on TV this past Sunday night, entitled "Is This Any Way To Elect A President", you may have noticed that there are a lot of people who are very dissatisfied with the way this campaign has been conducted. Well, it is finally over with for another four years. Let's just hope that the next election is cleaned up.

Another item you may have noticed in the news recently is on Computer Viruses. A virus is a computer program that plays havoc with a computer or network of computers.

The most recent one worked on the defense department's unclassified branch of their scientific network. The culprit it caught, could face a total of 20 years in prison and $250,000 in fines under the Computer Fraud and Abuse Act. If this had been our main defense computers it could leave us completely open to anything from anywhere.

The defense dept. and the F.B.I. suspect a 23 year old Cornell graduate student as the culprit. It's one thing to play around with computers and another to mess with the defense department's computers. We will see what happens. Look for stronger programs to detect viruses. Bill Church

LETTERS

Dear Editor:

We are the members of the Student Congress Committee to aid in the improvement of the food service of this college. We meet weekly with Joe Drahnak, the food service director. We are few in number and need a lot of input from you, the students who have to eat the food they serve. This letter is not meant to cut on the people who work in the cafeteria, but on the quality of the food and service that we receive.

We are also the students who eat in the cafeteria. We, as well as you, receive the raw eggs, uncooked pancakes, cold food, dirty utensils and long lines.

Several students, including those of us in the committee, saw the sign which was posted in the

Voice Major KING Holds Recital

Kirk Lewis King, a senior music education major at Glenville State College, will present his senior recital at 3:00 p.m., November 13, in the College auditorium. The public is invited at no charge. King is a voice student of Mr. Richard O'Brien.

The senior student recital fulfills partial requirements for graduation from the GSC curriculum.

King's program will include: "Come Again Sweet Love," John Dowland; "Lasciatemi morire (No Longer Let Me Languish)," Claudio Monteverdi; "Gloria il sole dal Gange (O'er Ganges Now Launches)," Alessandro Scarlatti; "Als Die Geliebte Sich Trennen Wollte (To The Faithless One)," Ludwig van Beethoven; "Das Erlkonig (The Erl King)," Franz Schubert.

"At The River," Charles Ives; "Two Little Flowers," Charles Ives; "Walking in the Woods," Peter Warlock; "The Impossible Dream," from "Man Of LaMancha"; "Dulcinea" from "Man Of LaMancha"; "I am I Don Quixote" from "Man Of LaMancha"; "I Believe/Ave Maria," by Bach and Gonoud.

King is a graduate of Warren Local High School. He will graduate from GSC in May with a K-12 Bachelor of Arts in Music Education. While at Glenville, he has been active with the Band, Choir, Chamber Singers and M.E.N.C. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Wilson. He is married to Betty W. King, a teacher at Charleston Catholic High School.

Typewriters Available

Are you having trouble finding a typewriter to type that paper for class? If so, here is the answer you have been searching for! There are ten typewriters available for students to use.

In the residence halls, two typewriters are available in each of the residence hall offices: The LBH Office, the Wagner Office and the Scott Office. Residents of the building may check out a typewriter by leaving their GSC ID Card in the Office. The typewriter can be used in the resident's room.

There are four typewriters available in the Pioneer Center Activity Director's Office. These typewriters may be checked out by leaving the student's GSC ID Card in the Office. The machines are for use in the Snack Bar Area.

The program has been designed to help students with the problem of not owning a typewriter. The typewriters are to be used in the building in which they are located. It is the responsibility of the student to provide typing paper and "wite-out" (the machines are not correctable.) The student checking out the typewriter is responsible for the machine while it is in their possession. This service is being provided by the Student Services Office.

Technology Students Visit GSC

Governor Arch Moore declared October "National Computer Learning Month and Technology Learning Month." This was "an effort to expand public awareness of the growing importance of computers and technology in each of our lives."

In accordance with that effort, the Glenville State College Business Department hosted the Principles of Technology students from the Calhoun/Gilmer Career Center for an October 27 visit to the GSC campus. Ms. Kelly Houchin of the GSC Computer Department coordinated this with Career Center instructor Mr.

Ken Townsend.

The day included a tour of the GSC computer facilities, a round table discussion of careers in computers with Mr. Nick Bassett of the GSC computer program, college admissions requirements were presented by the Dean of Records and Admissions Mr. Mack Samples and his assistant Ms. Cheryl McKinney.

Teams Gets New Addition

The TEAMS program has a new addition to the family. Mike Minney has joined our program to assist students with his knowledge of computers. Mike will be tutoring in the computer lab of the Administration Building on Tuesdays and Wednesdays during the hours of 4:30 to 6:00. In our recent training seminar, we discovered new techniques for communicating to our tutees. We want to be helpful in every way to our fellow students. Please join us Mondays 6:30 to 8:00 and Tuesdays 4:30 to 6:00 in Clark Hall for Science, Math, Social Studies, and English assistance. We would like to extend a warm thank you to Dr. Mark Keefe for his support and encouragement in our program.

Food Committee Meets

On November 4, 1988 at 11:30 a.m. the Food Committee held a meeting to discuss the following items: 1. The menu cycle will be reviewed to determine if any entree selections need to be added or deleted. 2. The policy of the Foodservice is that without a meal ticket or paying for the meal, students are not to be in the dining room. It has been reported that a few students are entering the cafeteria without paying for their meals and having friends to provide food for them. Proper action will be taken concerning individuals breaking the aforementioned policy. 3. The foodservice policy was discussed and the policy for serving items are: the student may eat as much as they want; the line servers at lunch serve two portions of the entree or you may have one of each of the two entrees; at dinner you may choose from one of the entrees, you may not have two entrees; you may return as many times as you like; all food is to be consumed in the dining room. 4. All students, including athletes, will need to show their ID's upon entering the dining room. If you have lost your ID, information will be given on how to obtain a new one.

The meeting was adjourned at 1:15 p.m. The next committee meeting will be held next Friday, Nov. 18 at 11:30.

Nutcracker Performed

On December 6, the traditional Christmas play, The Nutcracker, will be presented at WVU. This two-act ballet (Pittsburgh Ballet Theatre) will be accompanied by the 40-piece West Virginia Symphonette.

Through a special agreement with WVU, Glenville State students, faculty and staff can purchase tickets for $13, including transportation. The catch is that you must sign up for this event by November 14th at the latest. From November 15th the price will be $17. Please hurry to take advantage of this opportunity. Sign up in Pioneer Center Director's Office.

Buser's Briefs

Notre Dame, USC, and Oklahoma are all schools rich in football tradition. This season is no different as the Fighting Irish are ranked number one, the Trojans are number two, and the Sooners are number eight in major college football. Fifty years ago, all three of these universities were ranked in the top ten in the final AP poll. However, two of the schools ranked in the 1938 top ten no longer play on the Division 1-A level; Carnegie Tech and Holy Cross have dropped to lower divisions since that time. The remaining top ten fifty years ago included TCU, Tennessee, Duke, Pitt, and Minnesota.

Although many college football teams over the years have won twenty, thirty, or even forty consecutive games, no team in the National Football League has won more than eighteen consecutive games. The NFL record of eighteen straight wins is shared by the Miami Dolphins who did it in 1972-73, and the Chicago Bears who did it twice, 1933-34 and 1941-42.

Here's one of the greatest individual plays ever seen in football...It was by the immortal Jim Thorpe in a game between his Carlisle team and the University of Pittsburgh in 1911. Thorpe punted the ball seventy yards, then raced down field to tackle the receiver- but instead of just tackling him, Thorpe stripped the ball from the receiver, shook off five tacklers, and run for a touchdown! Thorpe had scored a touchdown on his own punt.

Sadettres Ltd. Players of the Week

In limiting Kentucky State to fourteen points on Saturday, the Glenville defense received stellar performances from several players. Once again this year, because of their dominating efforts, Brian Hill and Todd Layhew have been named as the Sadettres Ltd. Players of the Week. Hill collected fourteen tackles, seven assists, one sack, and a fumble recovery from his nose guard position. Layhew registered thirteen tackles and four assists from his linebacker post. This marks the sixth time this season that Hill has been honored, while Layhew has been named the co-player of the week on four occasions.

Netters Finish Strong

On Friday, the Glenville Women's Volleyball Team traveled to West Liberty to participate in the W.V.I.A.C. Tournament. The Lady Pioneers entered the tournament with only three conference wins, so they had to face the talented Lady Rams from Shepherd. As any sports fan knows, anything can happen in the "second season". Despite the long odds, Glenville's netters pulled off an upset by downing the favored Lady Rams.

Because of the win, the Lady Pioneers advanced to play the University of Charleston. Once again, the ladies from GSC pulled off a major surprise by dealing the Golden Eagles a loss.

Although Glenville eventually lost to Concord and WV Wesleyan, the team played very well in overcoming two quality teams on their way to a seventh place finish in the tournament.

Coach Tina Cunningham can now anticipate next year, because only Niki Randolph will be lost from this year's squad, which finished with a 5-16 overall record and a 5-15 conference mark.

RUNNERS DOMINATE W.V.C.

by John Buser

The Glenville State College cross-country teams ran away from their opponents in the WVIAC Championships held at Cedar Creek State Park on Friday.

Pacing the men to their third consecutive W.V.C. title were familiar co-captains Bubby Dent (25:36) and Andy Jarrell (26:16) who captured first and second place, respectively. John Reynolds from Fairmont was third (26:33), and was followed by a trio of Pioneers. Mickey Grass' solid race earned him a fourth place finish (27:06), while Ed Lamp (27:13), and John Fitzpatrick (27:17) were next for fifth and sixth place. Another Fairmont runner, Glen Tacy, finished seventh in the field (27:22). GSC's Tony Taylor narrowly missed an all conference selection by claiming eighth (27:38), just one place short of the chosen elite, which included five Glenville harriers.

By placing all six of its runners in the top eight, it is very obvious that this year's 'crush crew' is something special. Glenville dominated the race by easily defeating runner-up Davis & Elkins 18 points to 73 points. West Liberty (83) and West Virginia Tech (143) claimed third and fourth, respectively, while Fairmont and WV Wesleyan had incomplete teams.

Not wanting to be outdone by the men, the Lady Pioneers also overwhelmed the field in winning the conference title in this, their first year. Freshman Katrina Rigglesman added another victory to her list by running the 3.1 mile course in 19:58. Kim Mallis of West Liberty was second (20:26), and was followed by four Glenville runners.

Lori Barker (20:36) claimed third, while freshman Mindi Pickens (21:05) and Tracy White (21:45) finished fourth and fifth, respectively. Dawn Farley (22:19) came on strong to capture sixth place, and Stacy McKown (23:03) earned an eighth place finish.

While Rigglesman, Barker, Pickens, and White all were named to the all-conference team, Glenville ran to a convincing win. The Lady Pioneers scored 19 points to win, followed by West Liberty (56), Davis & Elkins (65), and Fairmont and WV Wesleyan who had incomplete teams with less than five runners.

Because of their victories, both GSC squads gained the privilege to advance to the N.A.I.A. National run-offs to take place at Kenosha, Wisconsin on November 19th. The 'crush crew' enters the event with an impressive 31-5 record including a perfect 16-0 conference mark. The Lady Pioneers head to the national finals owning a 20-7 overall record with a perfect 11-0 conference record.

Cagers Open Season

by John Buser

Although last season's men's basketball team finished with a disappointing 12-17 record, the excitement is already beginning to build in anticipation of the 1988 squad, which was picked fourth in the WV Conference in the pre-season poll. "The fourth place ranking is a nice compliment to our players, coaches, and students, but talking about rankings has never won a game," Coach Gary Nottingham is quick to point out. However, the fourth place pre-season ranking is as high as the Pioneers have been picked during the six years Coach Nottingham has served as head coach at Glenville.

Three reasons for GSC's optimistic future are seniors Paul Grier, David Hall, and Clinton Hinton. Grier (6'1), who has been moved from point guard to off guard, returns to give the Pioneers a proven scorer as well as a quality ball handler. Hall (6'6), and Hinton (6'7), join Grier to provide rebounding power and scoring also.

While the senior tri-captains have nearly secured their starting positions, competition for the other two remaining spots, point guard and small forward, is very strong. Sophomore guards Bernie Rees (5'11), and Dwayne Williamson (6'1), return from a year ago, in addition to senior play-maker Kirk Zellous (6'1), who is back after a two year absence. Adding depth to the Pioneer backcourt are freshmen Eric Knight (6'0), from Charlotte, NC; Jeff Markovich (6'0), from Youngstown, Ohio; and sophomore newcomer Matt Dawson (6'1), who played at Wahama High School.

The backcourt is not the only area where Glenville has experience, because several forwards are back for Coach Nottingham. Sophomore Sam Stanford (6'4) and juniors Mike Hughes (6'5) and James Glover (6'2), who can also play guard, are fighting for the small forward position. Sophomore William Jackson (6'5), who transferred from Hagerstown J.C., is also a big asset at forward and center.

Following Friday's scrimmage with Rio Grande, Coach Nottingham was very pleased with his squad's defensive effort, but he was concerned about the poor execution on offense. On Saturday (Nov. 12th), when the Pioneers host St. Vincent in a scrimmage, the Glenville coach hopes to receive an improved shot selection, a reduction in turnovers, and a more continuous offense. If these corrections are made and a proper mental approach is maintained throughout the season, then the Pioneers might just live up to their lofty pre-season expectations!

Girls B-Ball Starts

Heading into his first season as head coach of the Lady Pioneers, Dr. Russ Shepherd has inherited a veteran basketball squad that went 18-6 a year ago, including a second place finish in the WV Conference during the regular season. Because all five starters return from last year, as well as several other key players, the 1988 Glenville squad has been voted as the pre-season co-number one team along with 1987 W.V.C. champion, Charleston.

Returning from last year's team include seniors Kim Creel, Niki Randolph, and Karen Wooters - Holloway. Three juniors that also figure to see plenty of action are Monique Johnson, Tammy Pence, and Tina Bullard. Sophomores Marcie Moore and Tami Simmons contributed much last year, and are joined by fellow sophomores Mary Jo Ellyson and Michelle Pursley. Freshmen Annette Caldwell of Spencer, WV, and Wendy Holcomb of White Sulphur Springs, WV, will be brought along slowly, as the transition from high school basketball to college is great. Coach Shepherd also hopes to have the services of veterans Kim Fox and Rhonda Felder in the second semester, when they

by John Buser

While the temperatures dropped and the clouds grew darker, the afternoon football clash between Glenville and Kentucky State was getting started on a very sloppy Pioneer field due to the previous night's rain. The wet surface played an important factor in the contest, because footing was a tremendous problem. So big a problem was footing, that neither team had gained a first down through the first twelve minutes of play. Glenville managed two first downs as the 1st quarter came to a close, before being forced to punt.

With nearly ten minutes to play in the second quarter, Philip Mungin returned Chuck Wharton's punt thirty-seven yards to the Pioneer eleven yard line. Two plays later, Thoroughbred quarterback Ken Martin scored from three yards out on a quarterback sneak. Following the extra point, Kentucky State had taken a 7-0 lead.

After Jeff Swisher returned the ensuing kickoff to the Glenville thirty-six yard line, it appeared as if the Pioneers had solved the slippery field dilemma. Quarterback Rick Lewis found tight end Ed Toman on second down for an eleven yard gain. However, GSC was stopped on the next three plays and was forced to punt.

Despite strong winds and a cold rain, Kentucky State went to work from their own twenty-seven yard line. With inside running from fullback Kevin Smith, in addition to a sixteen yard pass play from Martin to Smith, the Thoroughbreds drove to the Glenville forty-one yard line. On second down, Martin found Brian Atkins for a forty-one yard touchdown pass. The point after was good, enabling Kentucky State to open a 14-0 advantage at the half.

Following a scoreless third period, the remaining fans at Pioneer Stadium were treated to an exciting finish. With just under five minutes in the game, Rick Lewis connected with speedy wide-out Lonnie Hosby for a forty yard touchdown pass play. The two point conversion failed, but Glenville had cut the deficit to 14-6.

Thanks to a gutsy defensive stand by the big blue troops, the Thoroughbreds found themselves deep in their own territory. On fourth down, Kentucky State punter Lawrence Turner ran out of his own end zone for an intentional safety. It was suddenly 14-8 with a minute to go, but the Pioneers would receive the kick!

Entering freshmen are eligible for admission to the GSC Honors Program on the basis of their ACT or SAT English scores and their high school grade point average at the time of their application to GSC. Admission can be earned with either an ACT composite or English score of 25 to 29 and a high school GPA of 3.5, with an ACT composite or English score of 30 or higher and high school GPA of 3.3, or with an SAT combined score of 1100 or SAT verbal score of 550 or better and a high school GPA of 3.5. A student who is a National Merit Semifinalist and has a high school GPA of 3.5 is also eligible to apply. Students who are enrolled in GSC or who are transferring to GSC at the beginning of their sophomore year may also apply to participate in the Honors Program. They must make formal application and include a transcript of their freshman grades. A minimum GPA of 3.75 in freshman courses plus approval of the Honors Committee will be required for admittance to the Honors Program.

Students accepted into the GSC Honors Program must meet the following requirements: enroll in at least three hours but not more than six hours of honors courses each semester; maintain a GPA as follows: 0-27 hours - cumulative 3.5 GPA, 28-42 hours - cumulative 3.5 GPA, 43-57 hours - cumulative 3.5 GPA, 58 hours - cumulative 3.5 GPA; maintain a minimum 12 hour course load each semester; and complete a minimum of 24 semester hours of designated honors courses. Honors credit hours will not be in addition to the hours normally required for graduation; they will be part of the total requirement.

When asked what the outlook was for the Honors Program, the advisor, Dr. Bobbi Nicholson, replied, "Real good. With support from the President and the Academic Dean, the students are enjoying it; and we have already received applications for next year."

members are invited to a reception.

Panel members will include several health and mental health professionals from the local community.

Following the program, Pi Gamma Mu will conduct a small induction ceremony for its new members. LaDonna Childers feels that PGM's role in the community is one of "sympathetic intervention." She feels it "meets a unique need within the college community by emphasizing programs benefitting the community and serving as a support system for local agencies." She feels it is a community service organization as well as a campus organization. Anyone interested in either joining Pi Gamma Mu or attending the program on November 16 is encouraged to contact Ms. Childers in 333 Louis Bennett, or call her at 462-7361, ext.136.

been participating in during the month of October. The activities were as follows.

On October 12th Cindy Baker, Beth Oppe, Randy Hawkins, Denise Stinn, and Sandra Bugby attended the WV Association of CPA's central chapter meeting in Morgantown. The evening was Student's Night and the members from GSC were accompanying students from WVU, Fairmont, and Salem.

October 16th was our first luncheon for the year, the featured speaker was Mr. Louis Costanzo, CPA and President of the WV Board of Regents. Mr. Costanzo spoke on AICPA Professional Regulations, starting a business, running a CPA firm, and Accounting Education.

October 28th marked this year's WV Accounting Recruiting Fair. Those who sat for interviews were: Michelle Garrison, Sandra Bugby, Stacy Hall, Kevin Davisson, Beth Oppe, and Cindy Baker. We would like to thank Mrs. McKinney, CPA (our fine advisor, teacher, whip-cracker and part-time mother) and Barbara Fornish for all of their help and inspiration for making that day a success.

Also, SAS will be selling chances for a $25 gift certificate from Ames of Weston. The drawing will be December 6, 1988.

cafeteria this weekend that stated to the effect that if you had complaints about the service, then you should leave. We don't know who posted this sign but this committee and the food service director are here to tell you that complaints and suggestions are welcomed. We were informed by the student director and the foodservice director that complaints and suggestions can only improve the service because they do not see where things are going wrong.

So, in closing, we would like to inform you that if you want better food service we need your input! Please contact Joe Drahnak, one of the members of the student Committee Improving Food Service, or voice your thoughts by writing a Letter to the Editor.

Remember, We need your help also!

Glenville fielded the shanked punt at the Kentucky State forty-five yard line. After three plays, the Pioneers faced a crucial fourth down, needing three yards for the first. The Thoroughbreds, however, stopped the motivated Pioneers and ran out the clock for a narrow 14-8 victory.

Glenville, 3-6 overall and 2-5 in the conference concludes its season on Saturday when it travels to Buckhannon to face WV Wesleyan. The Bobcats own a 5-4 record and are coming off a 12-7 loss at the hands of West Liberty.
