Finals Scheduled

Now is the time of year when the sky fills with dark clouds, snowflakes begin to fall, the songs of Christmas boost our holiday spirits, and the end of yet another semester comes upon us. The end also means final exams. Although this may put a damper on most, if not all, spirits, it has to be done. The following is a schedule of when each of your classes is scheduled for your final exams. For those of your who have a night class, your final exam will be on the last scheduled night of the class.

In case of a conflict in the schedule, the instructor concerned should see his Division Chairman or the Dean of Teacher Education, and the Vice President for Academic Affairs about special arrangements.

Each examination will be held in the room where the class has been meeting. Final examinations are to be given in all classes unless waived by the Division Chairman and the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

Classes meeting at:

8:00 MWF
8:00 TTh
9:00 MWF

Financial Aid Available

College students who anticipate the need for financial assistance next fall should begin the application process in the near future, according to the West Virginia Board of Regents. Interested students should obtain a Financial Aid Form (FAF), the primary needs analysis document used by West Virginia colleges and universities.

Approximately 65,000 FAF's have been distributed to West Virginia high schools and colleges.

According to Robert E. Long, Grant Program Coordinator for the Board of Regents, the FAF is the only needs analysis form many students will be required to complete to apply for state, federal, and institutional student aid programs.

However, some institutions and student aid agencies may require separate applications for specific forms of scholarship and loan programs.

The Financial Aid Form is also used by the West Virginia Higher Education Grant Program as a basis of awarding grants. The Grant Program administered by the Board of Regents, also

A Note From the Editor

Well everyone this is the last paper for this semester, finals are almost here and Christmas is upon us. This should be a happy time of the year, but before eight o'clock Monday morning I was shocked to hear of the death of a friend and fellow student and her entire family in an auto accident caused by a drunk driver.

The girl, Susan Schoolcraft, and her husband and 3 children all died when the truck that hit them exploded and engulfed their vehicle in flames. Susan was a math education major and was due to graduate next fall. The details of this accident were sketchy at press time. Our prayers and sympathy go out to the family.

Susan seemed to be a very happy person; full of enthusiasm and energy and was always glad to try and help anyone who needed it.

I feel that the laws concerning drunk drivers should be stiffer, especially where there is a death involved. If you drink and drive then you are stupid and if you drink and drive and cause an accident and someone dies, especially a child, then they should bring the death penalty back for you.

It makes me angry when someone goes and gets drunk and goes out and kills someone else, but they survive. Let's use a little common sense, if you want to drink, fine that's your business, but don't drive that way.

Well enough said, enjoy your Christmas and come back safe.

ORGANIZATIONAL NEWS

Delta Zeta

The Theta Xi Chapter of the Delta Zeta Sorority held a formal meeting on Monday December 5th.

We had a program to make us more aware of the importance of giving blood and would like to encourage all students to give blood the next time the blood mobile comes around.

Remember sisters our Christmas Party is Sunday Dec. 18th at 9:30 and Christmas Caroling is at 8:30.

Congratulations to Lori Messenger for getting her heart Sis - Lisa Walker.

This week's pig pen went to Brenda Simmons and Anita Hess and clean room went to Vicki Myers.

We would like to thank the pledges for our great actives Party, sorry about the tears!!! The big Sis' are proud of their little Sis'!

Kappa Delta Pi

Kappa Delta Pi members will be selling Christmas cards for 10¢ each. Members please pick up the PGM and their Associates held their regular meeting Wed. Dec. 7 at 3 p.m. in room 335 of the LBH offices.

PGM's next program will be "Black Awareness Month" during February. Possible speakers and activities were discussed. PGM decided to invite members of UBA, United Brothers Association, to a meeting in January to help plan the activities.

Dr. Gary Arbogast suggested that PGM plan an activity to honor Martin Luther King in Jan.

Initiation fee for the national honorary is $25.00. Requirements for the honorary association are 60 hrs. with 20 of these credits in the Social Science Area.

Members present at the meeting were LaDonna Childers, Dolores Mysliwiec, Dr. Arbogast, Alan Brock and Carmen Wager.

The next meeting was scheduled for Tues. Nov. 13 at 12:30.

Pioneers in Nursing

Nursing students helped at the Red Cross blood drive on Tuesday December 6. This was the first time Glenville nursing students were actively involved with a blood drive on campus.

Pioneers in Nursing will donate Christmas gifts to Americare Glenville Nursing Home clients who do not have families to give them presents.

Congratulations to our new fraters Tim "Tweety" Furr and Tim "Teeney" Meadows. They join fraters Kevin Davisson, Mark King, Gary Layne, Don Mercer, Mark Romano and Mike Tierney.

These men have successfully completed the four weeks of pledging and are now ready to recruit new members next semester.

Facts on Mental Illness

Approximately one out of every ten individuals is at least partially disabled by chronic mental illness. Many such illnesses, such as eating disorders, phobias, depression, reactive disorders, and various stress syndromes can be successfully treated however. For some individuals, more extensive treatment must be obtained, such as psychotherapy, psychoanalysis, prescribed drugs, or physical treatment. Most of these treatments are available from psychiatric clinics, psychiatric hospitals, or from psychiatrists in private practice.

Although there is still a need for extensive research in the area of mental illness, we are better able to understand the illness by knowing some of its causes. Some mental illnesses result from actual physical damage to the nervous system and brain by accident or age. Others occur through birth defects or genetic factors, while many are the result of exaggerated anticipation which the individual cannot bear to face or a series of incidents they could not escape. Another cause, now being researched, is chemical imbalance, which is the result of a lack of nutrients to the brain.

Individuals suffering from mental illness often display certain unusual characteristics. These characteristics may include a high vulnerability to stress, difficulty in managing their daily life, extreme dependency on family or social institutions, and/or a lack of ability in maintaining close, mutually satisfying relationships with others.

A stigma surrounds most mentally ill people, which perpetuates the myths and misperceptions society holds. It is often believed that people with mental illness do not recover, that they either live in hospitals, or on the streets, that they are unemployed, and also that they are dangerous.

These beliefs, although wrong, usually intensify the feeling of shame, anger, fear, desperation, and guilt felt by many patients and their families. The intensity of these feelings often discourages them from seeking or receiving assistance from the government, professional, and even from relatives and friends.

For many years the mentally ill were routinely placed in institutions, so society maintained an out-of-sight, out-of-mind attitude. This attitude, combined with ineffective treatments, made returning to a community practically impossible for most individuals. Only those whose symptoms entirely disappeared were permitted back into a community to make an attempt at leading a "normal" life within society.

Negative views of persons afflicted with mental illness dissipate as we learn and understand more about this disease.

ATTENTION: LATE RISERS

The Continental Breakfast, as stated in the November 16 issue of the Mercury is a service to those wishing to eat after regular breakfast hours. However, there has seemingly been some confusion concerning the menu.

The breakfast will be observed from 8:15 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. and will include cereal, fruit, pastries, beverages, and any regular breakfast items remaining. These remaining items will be served on a "first come, first serve" basis.

This service is provided for you, and you will be the one to make it a success.

To GSC Faculty, Students and Staff:

As we approach the Holiday Season, I want to express best wishes to each of you in the true spirit of Christmas. I hope that each one will share in the sense of anticipation that is uniquely associated with Christmas.

Glenville State College has long been known as the friendly campus. During this Festive Season the normal pleasant greetings which are heard across campus are more cheerful than usual. I am glad that each of you has chosen to be a part of the Glenville State College family. The family image of GSC is particularly important in this season since Christmas is a time for family and friends. As you see the signs and symbols of Christmas appear across the campus, remember that you are a part of the Glenville State College family in celebrations of Christmas.

On a college campus the anticipation of Christmas is accentuated by the ending of the semester. The ending of one semester brings with it the opportunity for a fresh start and a new beginning. This is much like the new hope symbolized in Christmas. I trust this has been a good semester for each of you, and as I offer congratulations to you for successfully completing this semester, I also offer Season's Greetings to you.

Have a very Merry Christmas!

J. Lowell Peterson
Acting President

GSC is called The Friendly Campus across West Virginia. The college earned this reputation for many more reasons than just by the fact that everyone greets everyone else on campus. Another reason for our reputation is the spirit of cooperation that we find here every day. The Madrigal Feast was a great success last weekend because of the endless hours of work and the willingness of a great number of students and teachers who worked together, unselfishly placing the goals of the production beyond ego and personal recognition. The music and the drama students worked each evening, many times without having a bite of dinner themselves. They performed to the highest standards, a fact still being discussed by the many paying guests who attended. We saw Mr. Wemm, Mr. McKown, Mr. McKinney, Mr. Rich, and Mr. Drahnak organize their students and staff to perfection. Mr. O'Brien and his wife, Barbara, conceived the idea of the dinner, guided the entire affair, directed the music, built the sets and costumes, and contacted local citizens and merchants who participated. All this was accomplished with the help of dozens of willing students who remain anonymous as is usually the case on our campus. To all these students, teachers, and staff members, I say thank you sincerely for making GSC the greatest campus anywhere.

conference. On Saturday, the Pioneers drove to Athens to play Concord, the number three ranked pre-season team in the WVC. At the half, the Mountain Lions had established a narrow 43-39 lead. The second half was equally as close. With five seconds remaining in the game, freshman Chuck Scott sank both ends of a one-and-one free throw enabling Concord to nip Glenville 77-75.

Leading the Pioneer attack was David Hall who pumped in 27 points. Paul Grier posted 25 points, while Clinton Hinton tallied 13 for Glenville.

Lady cagers cont. from pg. 4 holding off Dyke for a 91-82 victory. Karen Wooters Holloway and Monique Johnson led the GSC charge with 21 points each. Tami Simons came off the bench to land 16 points and collect 11 rebounds, while Tammy Pence added 15 points and 12 boards.

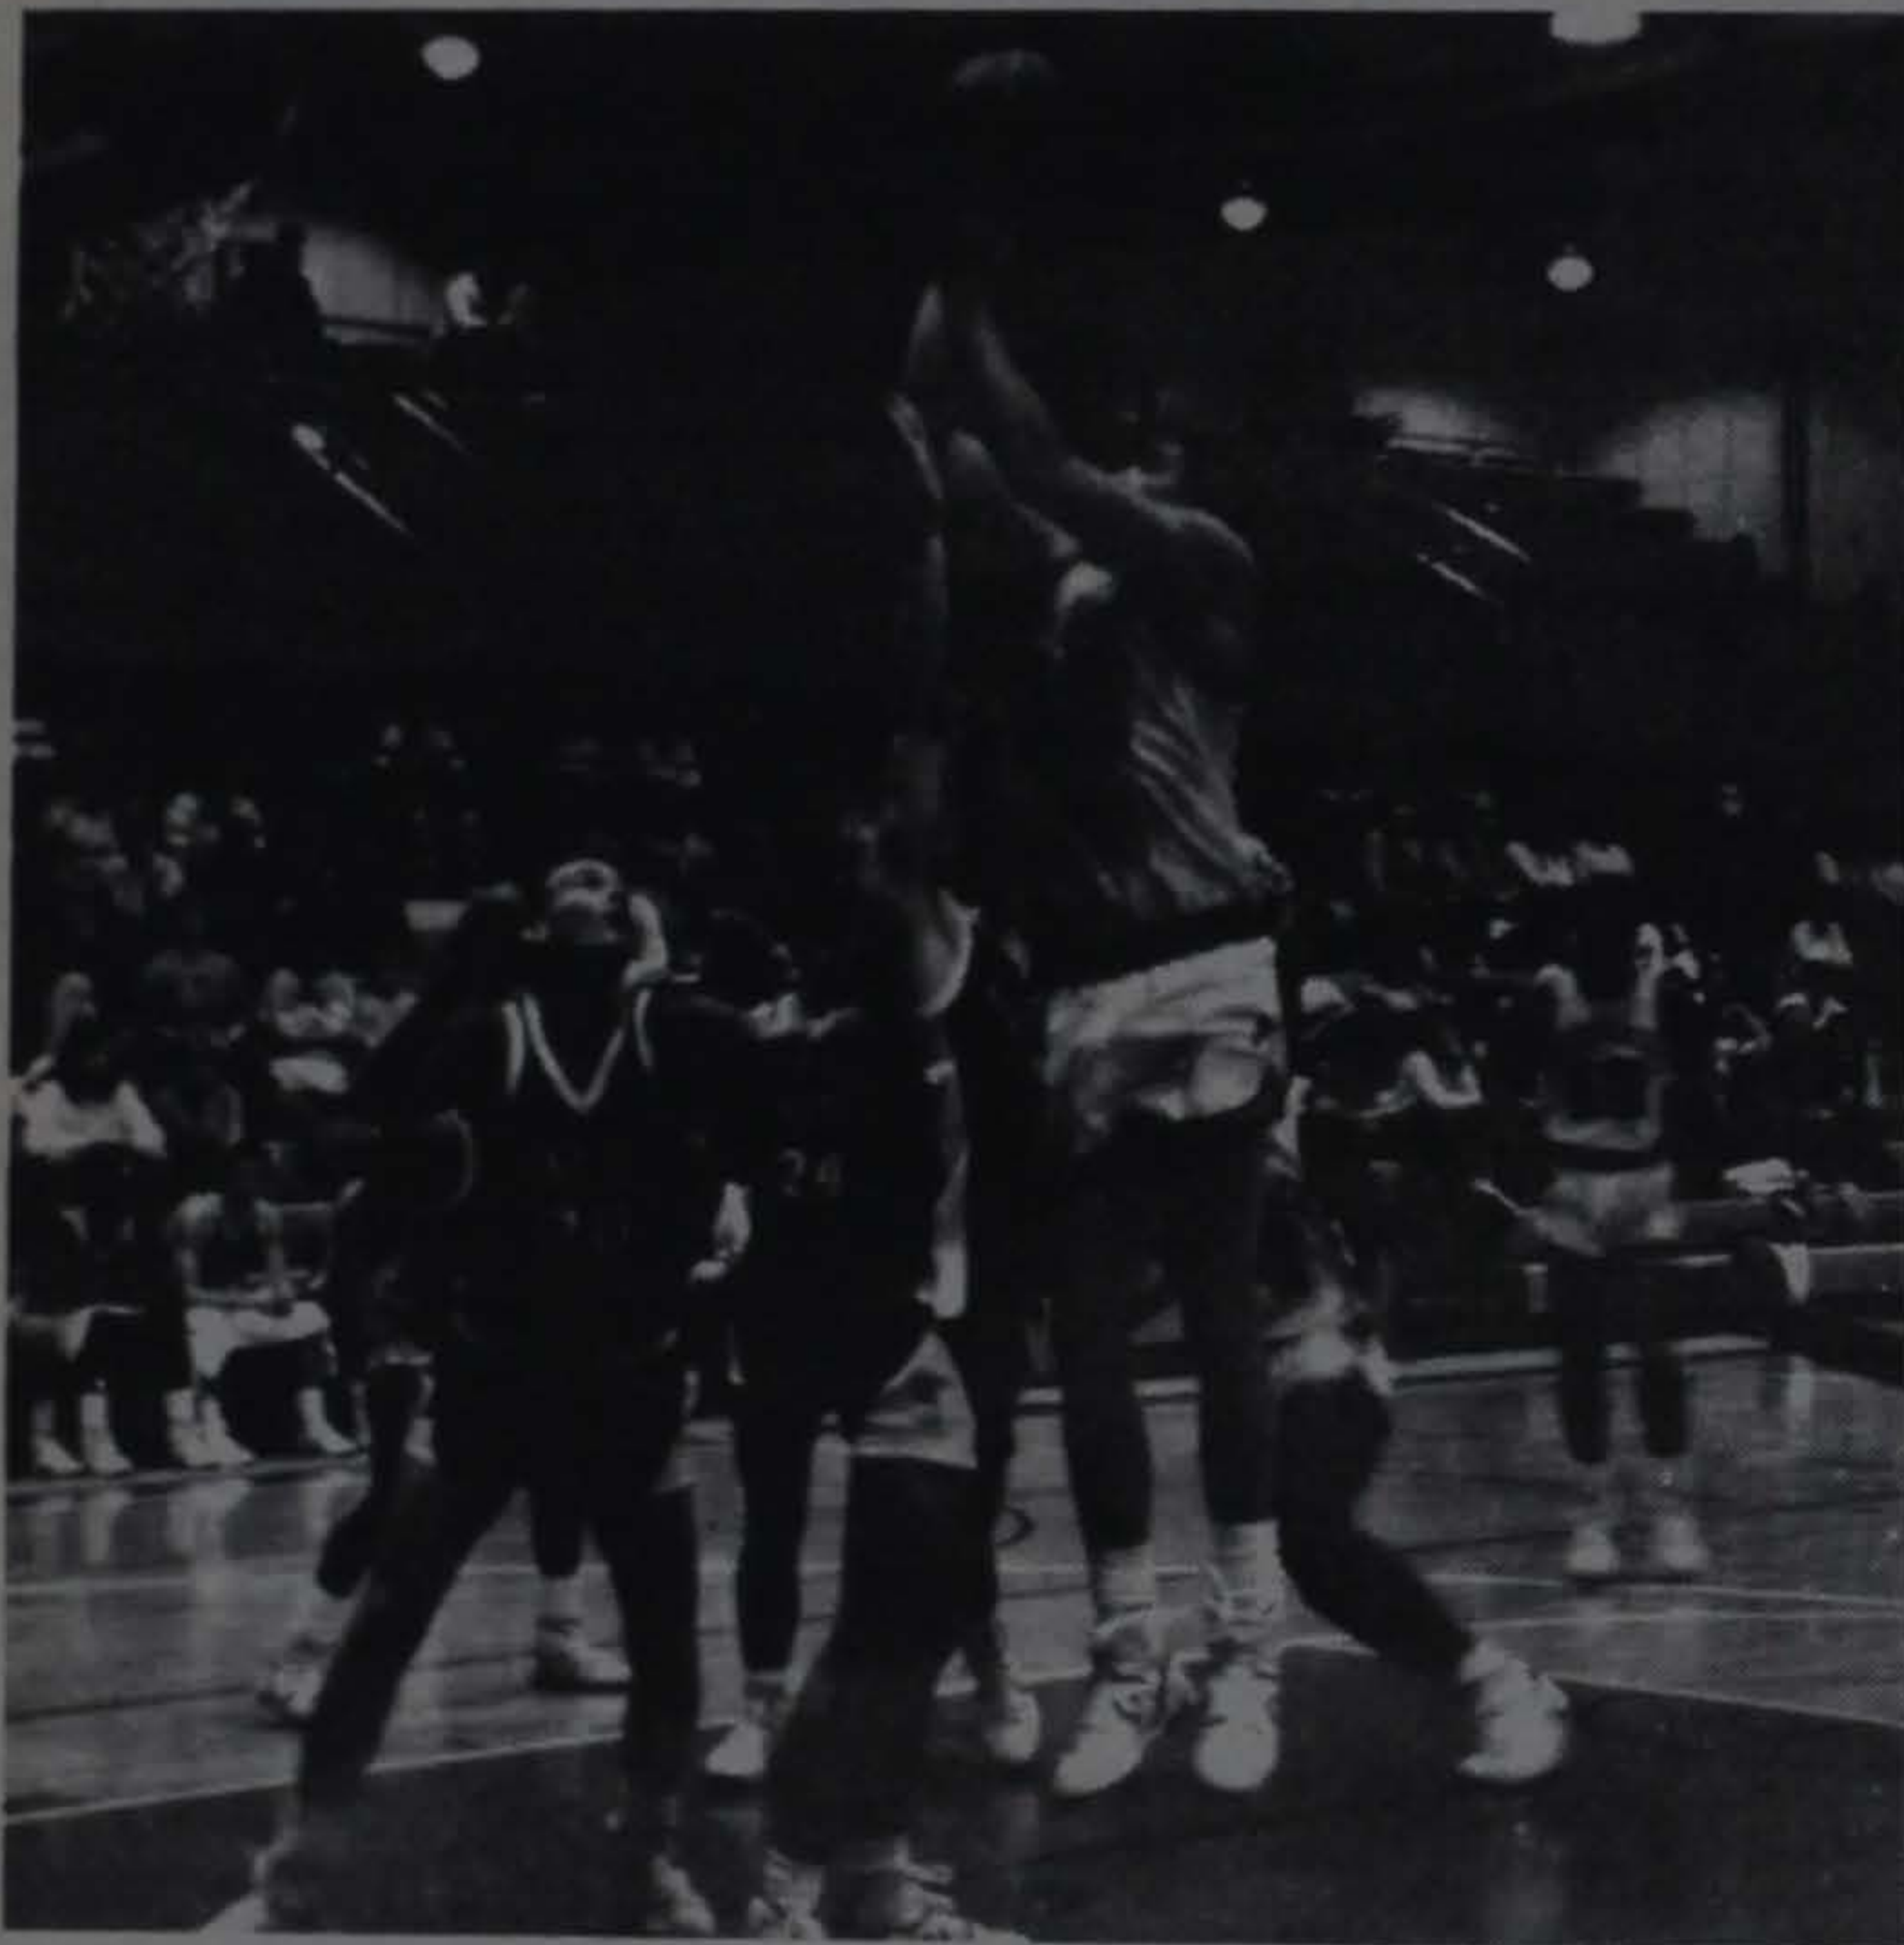

Because of their victory on Friday, Glenville played Shawnee State in the championship game. However, Coach Shepherd was still without the service of Kim Creel, and at the half found his club down 41-33.

Although Tami Simons, Marcie Moore, and Mary Jo Ellyson all contributed greatly, the Lady Pioneers were devastated by the losses of Tammy Pence, Niki Randolph, and Karen Wooters Holloway who all fouled out of the game. Consequently, GSC suffered its first setback by a 94-83 count.

Monique Johnson led all scorers with 24 points, while Tami Simons added 22 for Glenville. However, it was still not enough to overcome Shawnee State who is an amazing 32-36 from the foul line.

The Lady Pioneers, 7-1 overall and 4-0 in the conference, are off until January 12 when they play at Davis & Elkins.

Pioneers Split Games

by John Buser

Excitement was high on Wednesday (Dec. 7), when the Pioneers faced Davis & Elkins, giving students their first look this year at Coach Nottingham's squad. Behind the three point shooting of sophomore guard Bernie Rees, and the inside play by 6'6" David Hall, Glenville owned a slim 56-50 lead at the half.

However, it was evident that this year's D & E club was much improved from a year ago when it won only three games, and that the Pioneers were in for a fight. Glenville would have to find a way to slow high scoring senior guard David Reynolds who poured in 24 points in the opening half, if it was going to gain its first conference win.

Although Reynolds was held in check for most of the second half, the Senators took a 70-68 lead with twelve and a half minutes remaining in the game. The rest of the contest was very tight as each possession became more important.

With 45 seconds left in the game and the Pioneers up 90-86, Mike Hughes powered his way to the hoop and appeared to be fouled. However, the referee signaled traveling. Berkeley Springs native Troy Newbraugh promptly sank a 10 foot baseline jumper to trim the Glenville lead to 90-88 with 37 seconds still to be played. That is as close as the Senators would come, because the Pioneers held on to win a thriller, 92-90.

David Hall paced GSC with 33 points and 12 rebounds. Paul Grier and Bernie Rees added 16 and 13 points, respectively.

Thanks to their victory over Davis & Elkins, Glenville evened its record at 4-4 overall and 1-1 in the

Buser's Briefs

With the conclusion of the major college football regular season, many individual awards are being announced. The Heisman, won this year by Oklahoma State tailback Barry Sanders, and the Outland Trophy, won by Auburn defensive tackle Tracy Rocker, were both recently presented. Many sports fans know that the Heisman is given to the best college player, usually an offensive selection, while the Outland is presented to college football's premier interior lineman. However, few athletic followers realize who these prestigious honors were named after. John Heisman and John Outland were both key players for the University of Pennsylvania and now have an award named in their honor. Sadly enough, no player from the University of Pennsylvania has ever won either trophy.

In addition to players' awards, the annual Paul "Bear" Bryant College Football Coach of the Year will be awarded today (Dec. 14). WVU's Don Nehlen is among the four finalists, and is joined by Notre Dame's Lou Holtz, Miami's Jimmy Johnson and USC's Larry Smith. The combined record of the four teams represented is an impressive 43-2. However, one does not always need a winning record to be "Coach of the Year." In 1936, despite Harvard's 3-4-1 record, head coach Dick Harlow was voted "Coach of the Year."

Which college football coach won the most bowl games in history? Answer is Paul "Bear" Bryant who won 15 bowl games during his career.

Lady Cagers Go 2-1

After jumping out to a 26-7 advantage at the nine minute mark in their game with WV Tech on Monday (Dec. 5), it appeared the Lady Pioneers were well on their way toward victory number six. However, the Lady Golden Bears came alive to take a 43-39 advantage into the locker room.

The second half was close throughout and with fifteen seconds remaining in the contest, the score was knotted at 80, but Glenville had the ball. Kim Creel found an open Marcie Moore who made the layup for an 82-80 victory. Tammy Pence led all scorers with 28 points, in addition to grabbing 18 rebounds. Kim Creel added 26 points and 11 boards, helping GSC win its fourth conference game without a loss.

On Friday (Dec. 9) the undefeated Lady Pioneers traveled to Portsmouth, Ohio to participate in the Shawnee State Tournament. With eight minutes left in the opening half, Glenville found itself down 38-20 to Dyke College. Instead of folding, the experienced GSC team pulled together for a 25-2 run to lead by five at the intermission. Niki Randolph's three point field goal from near mid-court at the buzzer sent a fired up GSC squad into the locker room with a 45-40 edge.

Although Glenville played the second half without Kim Creel who reinjured an ankle, the Lady Pioneers remained perfect by Lady cagers cont. on pg. 3

A-B Nips Netters

by John Buser

Playing in their last game before the Christmas break, the Pioneer cagers host the Alderson-Broadbent on Monday (Dec. 12). Glenville, who defeated the Battlers in their first game of the season, was playing without starting forward David Hall who had a back injury.

Despite the loss of Hall's 20 points and 8 rebounds per game averages, Glenville stayed right with the tall A-B squad, whose starters' average height was over 6'6". Thanks to Bernie Rees' three three pointers before the half, GSC pulled to within three points at the intermission trailing 43-40.

After a Sam Stanford dunk three and a half minutes into the second half, Glenville went ahead 50-45. However, Willie Davis, who finished with a game high 28 points, led a Battler comeback. With fifteen seconds left in the game, A-B inbounded the ball and worked it to Davis. Ten seconds later the 6'7 forward sank a ten foot bank shot giving A-B a 74-72 win.

Glenville, 4-6 overall and 1-3 in the conference, was led by Clinton Hinton who registered 25 points and 10 rebounds. Paul Grier added 15 points, while Bernie Rees netted 12.

The Pioneers return to action on Jan. 2nd and 3rd when they participate in the Indiana (Pa.) Tournament. On Jan. 7th the squad plays at Wheeling, and on the 11th it hosts Bluefield.

Students Supervise Christmas Program

"Joyful Noise", an after school program for children in kindergarten through the 6th grade, directed by Rebecca Willitt, has provided GSC students in psychology and human development classes with a very rewarding experience.

GSC students volunteered during this past semester with planning activities for the children.

The "Christmas Carol" will be presented on Sunday, Dec. 18th at 7:00 p.m. at Trinity United Methodist Church in Glenville, and Thursday, Dec. 22 at 4:00 p.m. at the Americare Nursing and Rehabilitation Center.

We would like to express our gratitude for the cooperation between the Glenville State College students, the junior and high school students, and the elementary students for their cooperation in this effort. Also, Anna Jean Rogucki's art students from GCHS for making the stage props, including the Frosty, pictured above.

Late night study hours will be available in the Pioneer Center, December 18, 19, 20.

You will be able to study until 2 a.m. in the Verona Maple Room.

Refreshments will be provided on Monday and Tuesday nights.

The Robert F. Kidd Library joined the statewide celebration of the GREAT WEST VIRGINIA READ OUT again this November. The joint project of the State Department of Education and the West Virginia Library Commission is held annually to promote reading at school and home. READ OUT buttons were distributed, posters displayed, and favorite books of students, faculty, and staff were displayed. The display was done by Lynn Wass, student assistant.

Leading the favorite book list was Gone With the Wind (3 votes).

The Glenville State Jazz Band will present a concert Wednesday, December 14, at 8:00 p.m. in the Auditorium. The concert is free of charge. Selections featured are "Back Bacon Blues," Huey Lewis's Top 10 hit, "Doin' it all For my Baby," plus many more Jazz and Christmas tunes. Come out and share in the Holiday Spirit with the GSC Jazz Band!

Successful Tradition Begun

Yvonne King threatened to cut off her workers' fingers with a meat cleaver! Dennis Wemm scratched his assaulting acrobatic fleas at the dinner table!! Ed Mckown was caught in a monk's cassock!!! Is nothing sacred any more? Not to fear; it was all part of the Madrigal Feast merriment, and a merry occasion it was, too.

Supervised by Rick and Barbara O'Brien, planning for the feast began last spring, and the cooperation of students and faculty (music, drama, and business), food services, P.R. personnel, and local citizens and merchants gave us a festival of music, costumes, colors, delicious food, strolling players and singers, dancers, witty speeches, lights, and laughter. The Madrigal Feast was a visit back in time to the season of Christmastide in jolly old Elizabethan England at Lord Espy and Lady Rosalea Miller's feasting hall in their manor house where, under the glowing candle lights, the entertainment, comedy, and food delighted their guests.

The GSC Chamber Singers directed by Lord Richard O'Brien and a Renaissance recorder consort and brass ensemble conducted by Brother Edward McKown performed "Divers Ditties." Numerous period dances and songs entertained the audience between the four courses of the elaborate dinner. The peasants working on Lord Espy's estate came in from the fields and barns to offer their interpretations of St. George and the Dragon which somehow involved a nasty Turk, an Egyptian tart, and a greedy quack. This performance of mummers (an old traditional Christmas theatrical presentation characterized by empty, spectacular pretense) deserves a comment. When a last minute substitute in the feast became necessary, Jester Dennis Wemm called on Paul Biser, Janet and Kris Rogers, Bill Shreve, Dana Spade, and Freeman Wiant, peasants all, to fill an empty spot. Their bombast and sword swinging kept guests ducking for safety, and we thank them for this

Mental Illness Symposium Presented

On Nov. 16 at 7 p.m. approximately 90 GSC students listened to an informative program about mental illness entitled "Stand Up to Stigma" presented in the PC Ballroom. The presentation was planned by Pi Gamma Mu, in corroboration with the Wesley Foundation and the Pioneer Center.

Guest speaker for the program was Carol Sharlip, Director for the WV Dept. of State Mental Health.

Members of the audience had a chance to participate in a question and answer session held with a panel of outstanding community leaders in the area of social science. An introduction of panel members was given by Dr. Jim Hilgenberg, GSC History Professor. Panel members from the GSC Social Science Department were Dolores Mysliwiec, Dr. Bill Dean, Dr. Wesley Phelan, and Dr. Gary Arboqast. Other panel members included Don Voytish, Director of the Summit Center in Glenville; Bill Cutlip, the local Vocational Rehabilitation Director; Delores Phillips, Area Administrator of Calhoun & Gilmer Co. for the WV Dept. of Human Services; John Hager, Director of the Calhoun/Gilmer Career Center; Karen Frank, Director of the Wesley Foundation, and Carol Sharlip, guest speaker for the program.

Pi Gamma Mu Advisor, LaDonna Childers stated that she was "extremely pleased with the outstanding response of students who showed an interest in the topic of discussion."

Already the guests are asking if this feast will be served again next Christmas. That question is indicative of great success. (Did you see TV 12's coverage of the Friday evening performance?). With Lord Espy's gentle permission, Lord Richard's and Brother Edward's musicians, Jester Dennis' mirth, and the generous help of dozens more (Dennis Davis, Bob and Jenny Morris, Joe Drahnak, Linda McKown, Thelma Samples, Patty Chambers, John McKinney, Yvonne King, and many others), we have begun a tradition, and YES the feast will be served again next Christmas. Tutors

The tutoring program has just completed another month. From the start of our program we have tutored a total of 62 GSC students. We would like to remind you that we will be tutoring the week of finals at our regular times—Monday 6:30-8:00 and Tuesdays 4:30-6:00 and in the computer lab Wednesday 4:30-6:00. We wish a fare well to two senior tutors Charles Wilson and Cheryl DePue. "We will that this program has given us insight on one to one help that will enhance our abilities as we enter into the world of student teaching," said our senior members. We are calling our first semester of TEAMS a great success. We invite you all to join us again next semester. From TEAMS "Merry Christmas!"

Wednesday, December 14, 1988

On Thurs. Dec. 15 a Christmas Dance will be held in the Pioneer Center Ballroom from 8-10 p.m.

The following campus organizations are sponsoring the event: Governing Board, PCPB, Student Congress, Ladies of the White Rose, Lambda Chi Alpha, TKE, Collegiate 4-H and Sigma Sigma Sigma.

Admission is $1.00 with all proceeds going to raise money for needy children and their families.

Come join in the fun, enjoy some delicious refreshments and help to make someone's Christmas a little brighter!
