Nicholson Selected By Gov. Caperton

By Sally Robinson

When Governor Gaston Caperton is expected to announce his selection of Dr. Barbara Nicholson as Speech Writer and Communications Co-ordinator momentarily. Dr. Nicholson had previously assisted the governor with speechwriting and preparation for the gubernatorial debate during the 1988 campaign. Nicholson, originally from Weston, taught in Gilmer Co. High School for five years and has been teaching at Glenville State College since 1979. Her background includes an A.B. in education from Glenville State College, 1973; Speech Communication degree from West Virginia University; and a Ph.D. in Organizational Communication, Rhetoric and Public Address from Ohio University, 1987. She is affiliated with West Virginia Speech Association, National Speech and Communication Association, Eastern Communication Association, and by invitation with International Platform Association and Pi Kappa Delta, both honorary organizations. She has been listed in Who's Who in Colleges and Universities and was Outstanding Young Woman in 1983.

Dr. Nicholson, referring to her new position in the governor's office, said she "enjoys the new challenge and being busy, but finds the pace more intense than teaching, though not more intellectually challenging." She is "looking forward to informing the public about the governor's policies and positions on the issues." Her responsibilities will include arranging for video tapings and press conferences for Governor Caperton.

Dr. Nicholson and her husband, Gregory, also a 1973 graduate of Glenville State College and current Vice-President of the GSC Alumni Association, are continuing their residence in Glenville until "this summer, when in fairness to the Administration and the Language Arts Department" she will decide whether she will return to teaching at Glenville State.

Staff Changes

The faculty and administrative changes for this Fall semester include the following:

Mrs. Nancy Wemm is currently taking over Mrs. Barbara Nicholson's classes due to a temporary leave of absence.

Mr. Gerald Hough is teaching part time in the Business Department and is temporarily assigned as the Director of Administrative Services.

Cheryl McKinney, who was last year's temporary Dean of Records and Admissions is now back to full time teacher in the Business Department.

Karen Lay who was in the Placement Office is now the Administrative Assistant in the Financial Aid office.

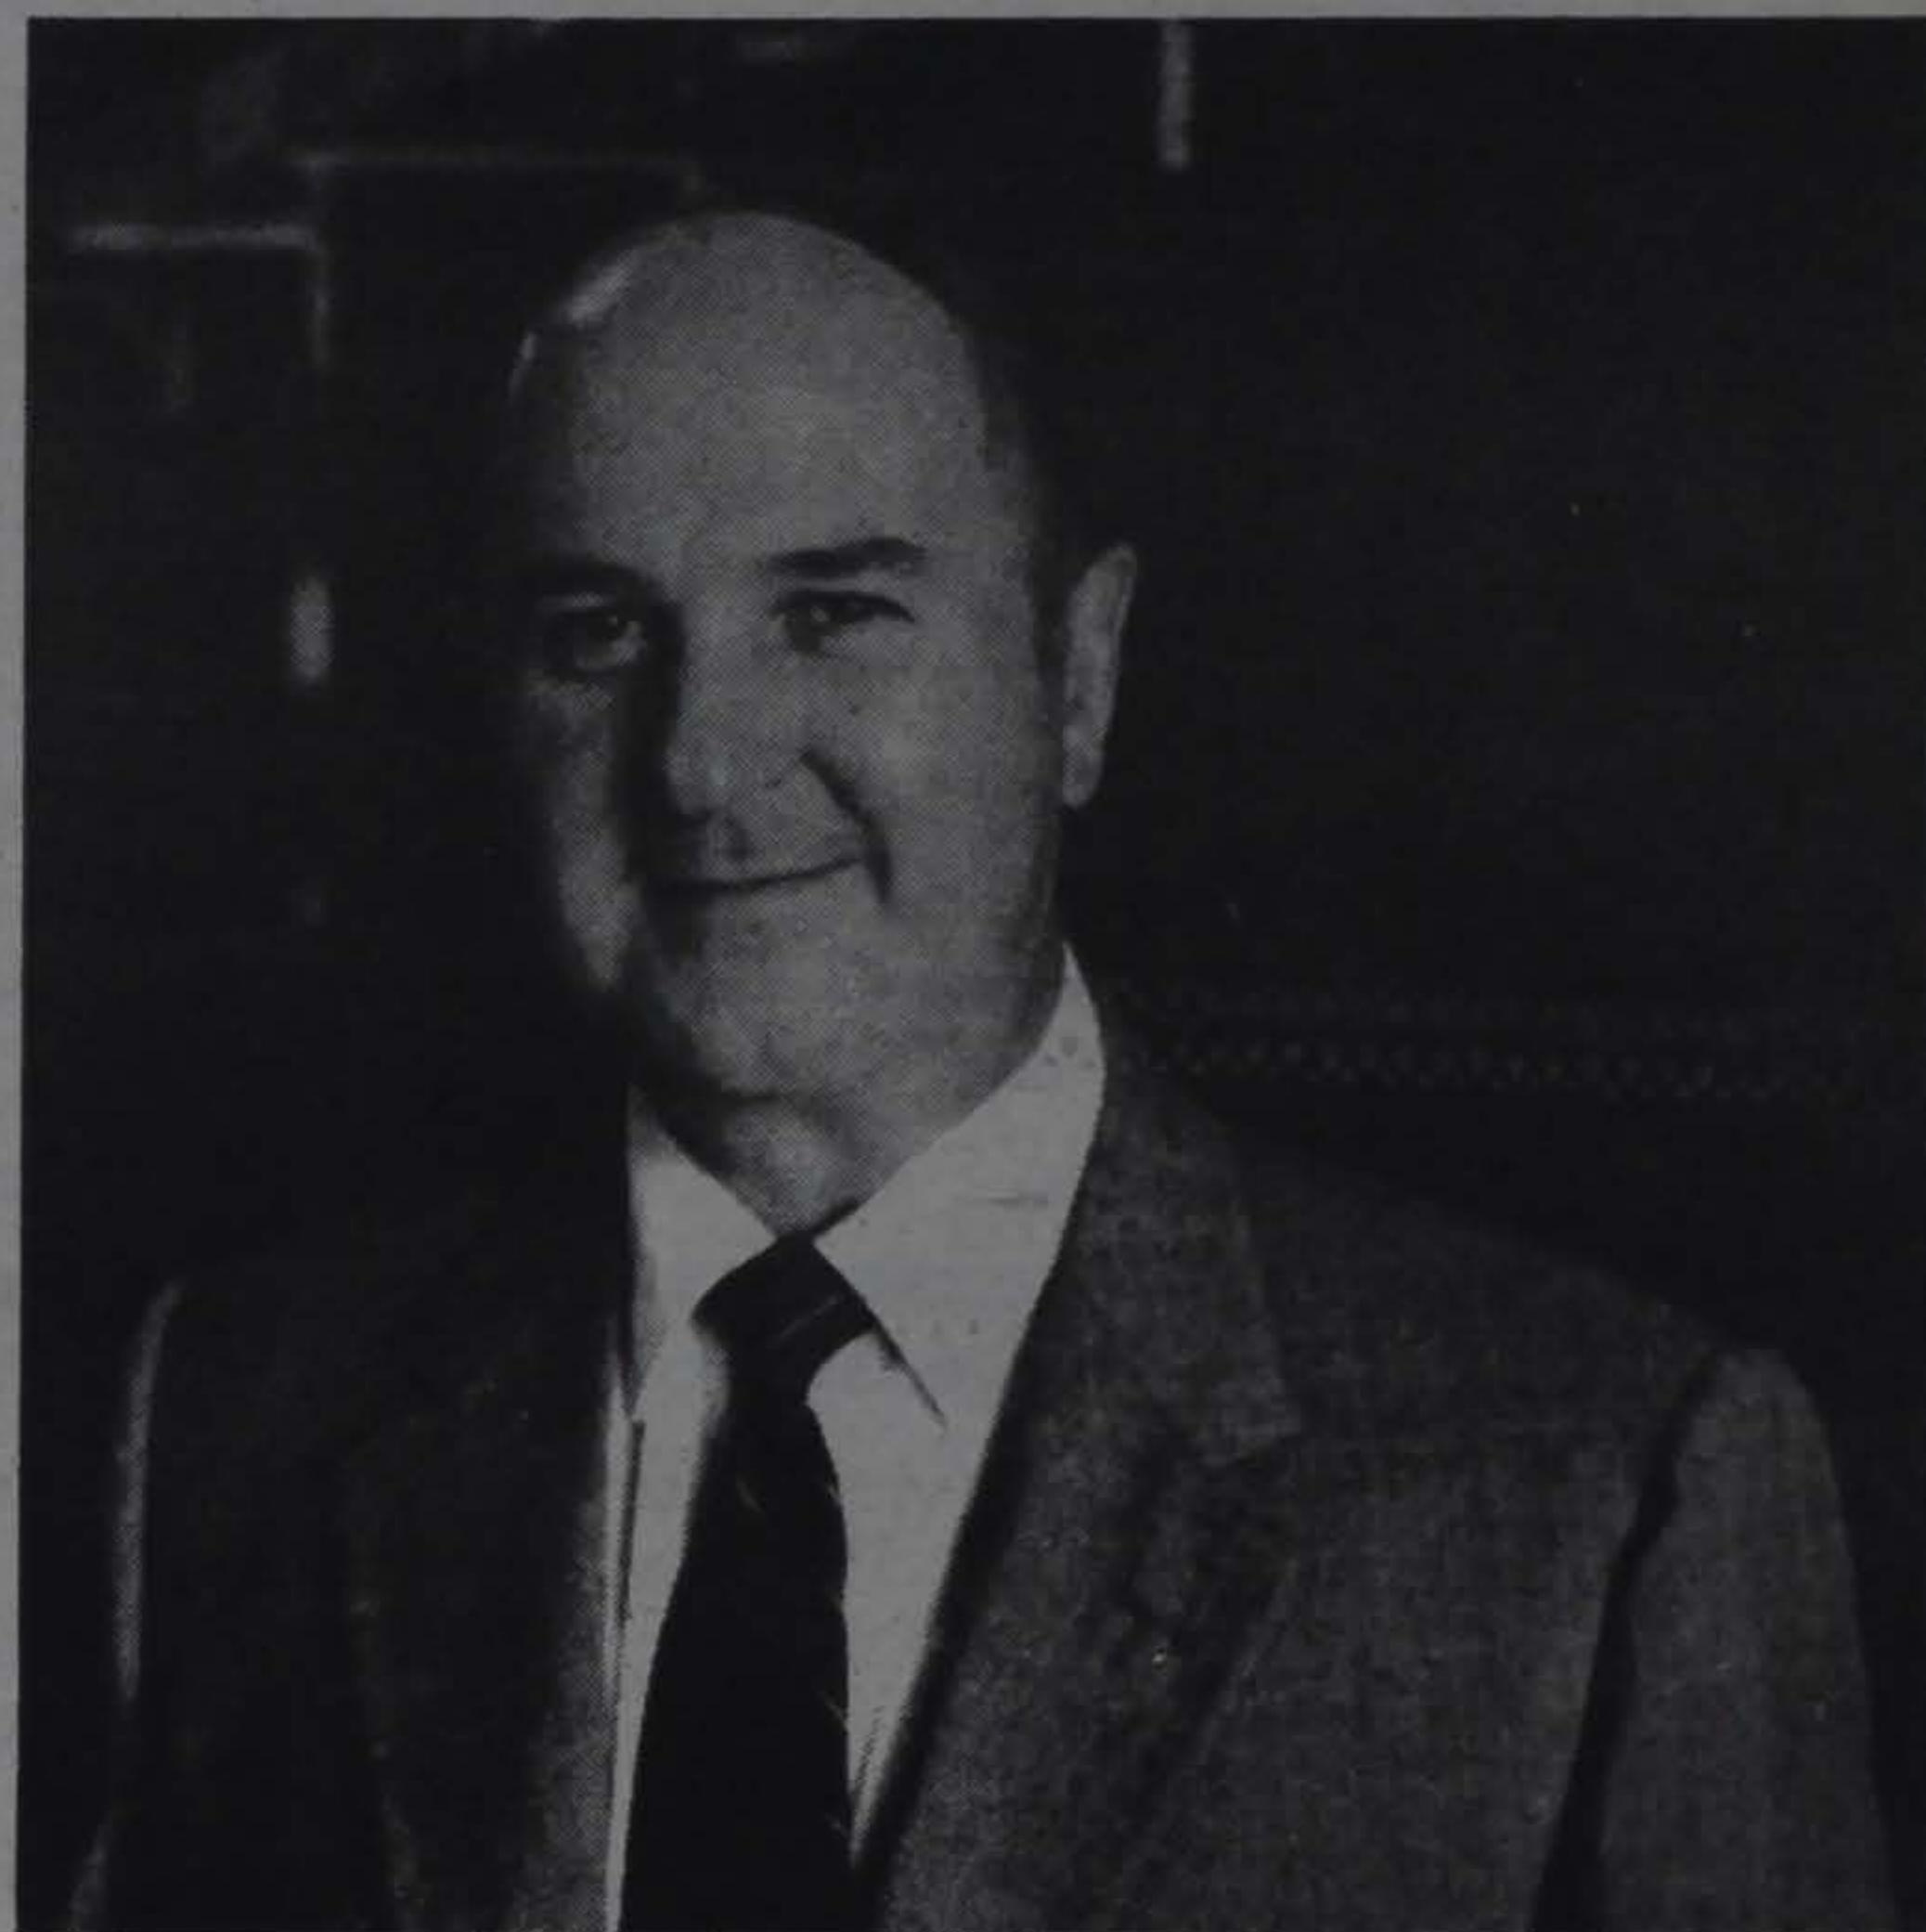

Mack Samples is back to the position as Dean of Records and Admissions while doubling as an Interim Vice-President for Academic Affairs.

Rolanna Coberly, who was Director of ITV courses and extensions is currently substituting for Mrs. Luanna Smith in the President's office.

Attention Education Majors

The West Virginia Board of Education requires all candidates who seek to be recommended for West Virginia teacher certification to take one or more Content Specialization Tests. These tests for 44 teaching and school personnel fields will be administered on Saturday, March 18, 1989 at six sites in West Virginia. The registration deadline for the March 18 administration is Saturday, February 11, 1989. The next test administration will be conducted on June 24, 1989.

Dr. Simmons Plans His Return to GSC

By Paul Biser

President William K. Simmons is returning as full time President of Glenville State College. At present he is Chancellor of the West Virginia Board of Regents. Dr. Simmons said he is returning because he prefers the college campus to the bureaucracy of the Board. Glenville is his home, and the activities which he enjoys, such as hunting, fishing, farming, and wood working, are in this area. Glenville State College is his Alma Mater; this also keeps his attention focused here.

Upon his return on July 1, 1989, there are several concerns on which he hopes to focus: increasing enrollment, strengthening teacher education, promoting Glenville State College as a four-year institution, Nicholas County Center, the new Fine Arts Building, and drilling a gas well on the college property.

As Chancellor of the Board of Regents, Simmons has accomplished many tasks while in office. He developed a resource and allocation model for money. Also, he revised and organized a process for legislative interaction from the Board on the institutional level to inform people on the college campuses. The Chancellor is reorganizing the Board's central offices, this involves a change in the line of reporting to help the Board operate more smoothly. Simmons has also been working on getting the Board of Regents reauthorized for another four years. At the January meeting he helped get $113,000 dollars to get the Building secured. Simmons feels the Building will be a fine and positive image for the school and the community.

Dr. Simmons is looking forward to returning and would like to commend everyone on the fine job they have done.

LETTERS

This Friday will mark the end of my 5 1/2 year stay here in Glenville, and it is a day that I'm not really looking forward to. I'm not sure how I'm going to stand being away from the town and the people that I love so very much. I have accepted a position at Marshall University and financially, it is a move that I had to make.

I just want to take this one last chance to thank some folks. Above all, I thank my runners for making my stay at this job so enjoyable. Their hard work, league titles, and high national finishes have made our program the fear of the league, and has produced a widespread reputation. Thanks to Jesse Lilly for giving me a chance to coach on this level, Dr. Russell Shepherd for having faith in me and my squads, and my sister Cindy for being our biggest fan.

I want the very best for my kids and I'm going to worry about them a great deal until a new coach is named. We have something very special going...We have a "dynasty" going.

I want to do my very best now to help Marshall reach the top of the Southern Conference. However, I will continue to have a strong affection for GSC. You would be hard-pressed to find someone who loves this place and these people as much as I do. It is true that I will now be wearing Green and White, but my heart shall solidly remain Blue and White.

Glenville, I Love You, and I shall miss you dearly.

Yours in Pioneer Pride,
Jesse Skiles

P.S. "And on the eighth day, the Lord created Glenville Distance Runners...a breed apart."

The Ross family would like to take this opportunity to express our heartfelt appreciation to Glenville State College, its faculty, students and staff, who helped during the recent deaths of our five family members, the Dennis Schoolcrafts. Especially do we thank those who knew Susan as a college student and sent flowers, cards, called, or visited. Thank you for your prayers and sympathies. Please know that Susan loved GSC and its "family."

From the Editor's Desk

Well everyone, welcome back. I hope everyone had a great break. If you haven't already noticed it, the library hours have changed for this semester. On the weekends the library won't be open on Saturday at all and won't open on Sunday until 5 p.m. This is going to hurt the students who stay here on weekends to get things from the library.

It will also hurt any student teachers who need to use it and have basically only the weekends to use it.

We also would like to wish Jesse Skiles a heart felt good-bye and wish him congratulations on his new job at Marshall University. We will miss you, but realize that you are working toward a larger goal. Don't forget about us- here at G.S.C.

CPA Review Course to be Offered

Glenville State College has announced that it will offer the nationally acclaimed Chaykin CPA Review Course on full-color videotape on its campus beginning Thursday, February 14, 1989 for CPA candidates who will take the May 1989 CPA Exam.

Chaykin CPA Review is a forty year old New York City based live CPA Review Course which is the longest-running Course in the United States and the largest Course in New York City. During the last four decades Chaykin CPA Review has prepared more than 45,000 CPA candidates, including 15,000 in the last six exams. Over the years almost all the "Big 8" national accounting firms have selected the Chaykin CPA Review Course for in-house staff training in New York City.

The full-color videotape Chaykin CPA Review Course is currently offered at more than 100 colleges and universities from coast to coast. It is the identical comprehensive Course offered live in New York City, taught by the same college professors who are renowned for their expertise and success in preparing CPA candidates. It was taped before a live CPA candidate audience. All enrolled CPA candidates receive the highly acclaimed Chaykin CPA Review textbooks and can also talk with the Chaykin faculty as often as they wish on a toll-free 800 number to discuss any questions they have.

The college has announced that it will offer all CPA candidates enrolled in the Chaykin CPA Review Course an unconditional free repeat privilege if they do not pass for any reason.

CPA candidates who plan to sit for the May 1989 CPA exam may obtain a free Chaykin CPA Review brochure by calling (304) 462-7361, ext. 173 or by writing to Glenville State College, Office of Continuing Education, Glenville, West Virginia 26351.

Aid Available

Record $26 billion dollars in scholarships and financial aid will be available to students in the next 12 months! Yet, every year, millions of eligible students miss out on their share of these dollars from state and federal student aid programs either because they don't apply, or they do not know how to complete the state and federal student aid applications in a manner that will insure the best chance of receiving an award.

To assist families in determining exactly how much money they are eligible for in the form of state, federal, and special campus-based student aid programs, the M&M College Tuition Assistance is now offering a sophisticated computer service that analyzes a student's individual family circumstances and prepares a computerized step-by-step outline illustrating what action the student needs to take to be assured of qualifying for his share of available financial aid.

According to M&M College Tuition Assistance personnel, students complete a short background questionnaire that asks about their income, expenses, academic abilities, and a list of the schools they are considering attending. This information is entered into a computer that analyzes each student's particular circumstances and prepares a 40-page report guiding the student through the steps they need to take to complete state and federal student aid applications in a manner that will insure the best chance of receiving an award. Included in the report is a complete print out of the special campus-based student aid programs available at each school the student chooses and the steps necessary to apply for each of these programs. In addition to providing information on the above programs, we also provide students with all sources of private scholarship programs for which they are eligible.

Harper's Work Exhibited

Sunday December 4 marked the opening of a new art exhibit in Paine Gallery of Bluefield Arts and Crafts Center honoring George Harper showing recent works in watercolor, acrylic and pottery.

An associate professor at Glenville State College, Harper has been educated in all aspects of art. He holds a M.F.A. in painting from Ohio University, and a BA in art education from Glenville State College. He possesses a strong background in two dimensional art, especially painting and drawing; however, in recent years, his unusual landscape pottery has gained international recognition.

Harper's ceramics result from the combination of his painting and pottery throwing skills. Each pot is hand-built or wheel-thrown, then decorated with colored oxides, slips and underglazes. Harper's approach to decorating grew from his fascination with pottery of the late 1800's. Each piece is signed and dated, and no two are alike.

Harper's works deal mainly with colors and shapes and man-made structures. His paintings, currently on display in the Paine Gallery, come from photographs or his imagination.

"I'm fascinated with light and dark patterns in their natural surroundings," Harper said. "The light and dark patterns are something you find. The colors are what I bring to it."

Harper is a member of the WV Artists and Craftsmen Guild and allied artists. His paintings and pottery are represented in many public and private collections in the US, Europe and the Far East. He has exhibited in several regional shows and won many awards. His work will be on exhibit until Jan. 29th.

Glamour Magazine Contest

Have you ever been looking at a magazine and fantasized about being one of those models? If you have, now is your chance to make that dream come true.

Glenville State College Juniors are invited to participate in GLAMOUR magazine's 1989 All New Top Ten College Women Competition. Young women from colleges and universities across the U.S. will compete in GLAMOUR'S 23rd annual search for ten outstanding students. The winners will be chosen by a panel of GLAMOUR editors on the basis of achievement in academic studies and/or extra-curricular activities on campus or in the community.

One outstanding young woman will be selected from each of the following categories: Creative Arts, Communications, Science and Technology, Health, Public Service, Government and Politics, International Relations, Business and Economics, Entrepreneurship, and Sports.

The 1989 Top Ten College Women will each win a $2500 cash award and will be featured in GLAMOUR'S October issue.

For more information you may contact the Mercury office at ext. 290.

WVCDAC

The West Virginia Collegiate Drug and Alcohol Consortium (WVCDAC) has been formed by a group of interested higher education professionals. There are 40 some members and membership is open to persons at colleges, institutions, students, counseling centers, professional services of all types.

The consortium was formed four years ago to:

1. Provide a forum for sharing drug and alcohol abuse prevention programs and ideas among all institutions of higher education.
2. Stimulate research and programs in drug and alcohol education in West Virginia.
3. Develop and maintain a network of resources to reduce the incidence of drug and alcohol abuse among students, faculty and staff in West Virginia colleges and universities.
4. Encourage among West Virginia drug and alcohol abuse prevention professionals a sense of professional identity, and to assist these professionals in communicating this identity to other members of the college or university community as well as the larger community.

5. Provide continuing drug and alcohol education opportunities for student, faculty and staff.

Officers for the organization are president Jim Cook, Planner for the WV Department of Health; president elect Barbara Forinash, Director of Career Planning and Placement at Glenville State College; secretary Diane Bach, Associate Dean of Student Services at Glenville State College; treasurer Carla Lapelle, Counselor/Coordinator, Health Education Programs at Marshall University.

The WVCDAC 4th Annual Conference will be held April 23-26, 1989 at Canaan Valley Resort. For additional information, contact Barbara Forinash at Glenville State College, 462-7361, ext. 120.

Membership information can be obtained from Carla Lapelle at Marshall University, 696-4800.

Glenville Nips Concord

by John Buser

On Saturday (Jan. 14), the Pioneers hosted Concord, a team that nipped Glenville 77-75 on Dec. 10th. However, 6'6 David Hall, who pumped in 27 points for GSC that night, was still suffering from a back injury which had caused him to miss four of the last five games. His only recent appearance was a brief five minutes in the Bluefield contest and his status was questionable for the Concord outing.

Despite limited playing time for the Glenville power forward, Coach Nottingham's squad proved from the onset that they had many other weapons in addition to Hall. With five minutes left in the opening half, Clinton Hinton muscled inside for a five footer giving Glenville a 20-15 lead. At the half, the score was knotted at 25.

To spark the Pioneer offense in the second half, Coach Nottingham inserted reserve guard Matt Dawson into the lineup. Dawson, who played the final two minutes of the first half, promptly made his presence felt when he pick-pocketed Concord's point guard and drove the length of the court for the lay-up giving Glenville a 29-28 advantage.

After four lead changes during the next fifteen minutes, Glenville found itself down 59-57 with just over two minutes to play. Patiently, the Pioneers looked for a good shot until the 45-second shot clock showed two seconds. Bernie Rees then passed inside to Hinton who hit a crucial five footer, although the shot clock had mistakenly been reset.

With only 33 seconds left in the game, William Jackson tipped in a missed Glenville shot for a 63-59 lead. Following two free throws by Concord, Paul Grier sealed the victory when he sank two free throws of his own with two seconds left for a 65-61 thriller.

Glenville, 7-8 overall and 3-4 in the conference, received 19 points and 11 boards from Hinton, while Grier netted 17, and Jackson landed 12 markers. The Pioneers return to action today (Jan. 18) when they play at WV State. On Saturday they host Salem at 7:30 p.m.

Buser's Briefs

1988 was quite a season for the WVU gridiron squad! In his ninth year as head coach of the Mountaineers, Don Nehlen led the veteran team to a school first 11-0 regular season. Although the national-championship showdown in Tempe with Notre Dame was not much of a fiesta for West Virginians, winding up fifth best in the nation and the "beast of the east" will not be soon forgotten.

What awaits the blue and gold next year? A tougher schedule despite the loss of 17 starters. Offensively, only two regulars return, but a potent two they are in Heisman hopeful quarter back Major Harris, and his favorite target, burner Reggie Rembert. Eugene Napoleon will finally get ample playing time in the backfield, but kicker Charlie Baumann and punter Lance Carion will be missed.

While the offense might struggle somewhat, the defense, which returns five starters, will have to carry WVU early. Look for the Mounties to handle their three new opponents in Ball State, South Carolina, and Louisville, but be forewarned that the Gamecocks and Cardinals should offer quite a challenge. Of course Pitt, Penn State, and Syracuse will once again be the biggest obstacles - the "beast of the east" in 1989 is up for grabs!

Did you know that teams from the American Football Conference have won only one of the last seven Super Bowls... The only AFC team to win the NFL Championship in the last seven seasons were the Raiders in 1984.

Skiles to MU

by John Buser

Jesse Skiles, GSC's Sports Information Director, head cross country coach, and assistant track coach has announced his resignation. The knowledgeable sportsman has accepted the graduate assistant coaching position for track and cross country at Marshall University. In addition to coaching, he will continue to pursue his Masters degree by taking nine hours of graduate courses.

During the two years that Skiles served as the men's cross country coach, his "crush crew" compiled a very impressive 71-10 record. Besides the success which his men enjoyed, Coach Skiles is also credited with starting a women's cross country team this past season. They proved to be quite talented as well as going 20-7.

Before the Dupont alumnus became a coach and SID at Glenville, he was a member of GSC's cross country team and served as sports editor of the Mercury until he graduated in 1987.

Thanks, Jesse for all of the statistics, stories, and help you have given me this past year. I certainly will miss you, but I wish you the very best at MU.

The Mercury is sponsoring its fourth annual Super Bowl contest. To enter one must predict the outcome of the Superbowl, team, and score.

Submit your entries to The Mercury Office or John Buser. A cash prize of 10 dollars will go to the person who picks the Super Bowl Champion and comes closest to the actual game score. All entries must be in before January 21st. Good Luck!

Lady Pioneers

Throttle D&E

Over a one month lay-off was not enough to hinder the Lady Netters of Glenville on Thursday (Jan. 12), when they played at Davis & Elkins.

Despite not playing since December 10th, Glenville controlled the game from the start. The Lady Pioneers built a 49-32 advantage at the half, and settled for a convincing 93-72 victory over the host Senators.

Tammy Pence and Monique Johnson poured in 23 points each as Glenville upped its record to 8-1, including a 5-0 mark in the conference. Tami Simons added 14 points, and Kim Creel added 10 points and 11 rebounds.

Glenville opened a three game home stretch yesterday against West Liberty, but the results were unknown by press time. On Thursday (Jan. 19), the Lady Pioneers host Salem and on Saturday they entertain Shawnee State, the only team to defeat Glenville this year. Game time on Thursday is 7:00 p.m. and on Saturday it is 2:00 p.m.

Cagers Go 2-2

by John Buser

While most college students were celebrating the beginning of a new year, the Glenville men's basketball team was participating in the Indiana University (Pa.) Tournament on January 2nd and 3rd. In the opening round, Glenville faced Longwood, which entered with a credible 8-2 record.

After a close first half ended with the Pioneers holding a slim 25-22 advantage, Glenville pulled away in the final period to take a 59-49 victory over the Lancers. Paul Grier led all scorers by notching 17 points, Clinton Hinton added 16 points and 6 rebounds, and Bernie Rees landed nine markers.

Thanks to their win against Longwood, GSC faced host Indiana (Pa.) in the championship. Although the Pioneers led 26-24 at the intermission, the Indians grabbed a missed Glenville free throw with 15 seconds remaining in the game and scored to tie the contest at 47. In the overtime period, Indiana (Pa.) outscored their guests 8-6 to take a 55-53 squeaker over Glenville. Paul Grier was the game's high scorer with 26 points, including 4 three point goals. Clinton Hinton chipped in with 13 points and 8 caroms.

On January 7th, Glenville, which entered with a 5-7 overall record, returned to conference play when it traveled to Wheeling to meet the undefeated Cardinals. Wheeling jumped out to a quick 9-0 lead before the Pioneers had even attempted a shot. At the half GSC had pulled to within five, trailing 32-27. However, the Cardinals remained perfect as they went on to capture a 63-55 victory. William Jackson and Clinton Hinton both posted 15 points for Glenville, while Bernie Rees added 11, and Paul Grier collected 10.

Returning to Glenville after a three game road trip, the Pioneers hosted conference foe Bluefield State on January 11th. After opening an 8-2 advantage, Glenville widened its lead to 36-25 at the half. The second half was much the same as the first twenty minutes of play as the Pioneers led throughout the contest, never allowing the Big Blues to cut the deficit to less than eight points. Clinton Hinton paced Glenville to its 72-63 victory by pouring in 18 points and snatching 9 boards. Paul Grier fired in 16 points, and William Jackson continued to improve, registering 13 points and 7 rebounds.
