LUNCHEON SPONSORED

The Wesley Foundation and the United Brothers Association sponsored a luncheon on Jan. 16th. to celebrate Martin Luther King Jr's birthday.

Thirty-eight people attended the luncheon which was held at the Wesley Foundation.

Loretta A. Young, the Associate Director of Council on Ministries, was the guest speaker. Her topic was "What happened To the Dream." She spoke about black rights, how Martin Luther affected her as a child, and his impact on the world.

Loretta also pointed out that it wasn't only the rights of the blacks but also of all the international students at GSC.

"There is a big cultural difference for these students.

The change from places as far away as North Carolina, South Carolina, Miami, and even Japan is often hard for some students to under go. We want these students to know they have someone to talk to." Karen Frank stated at the luncheon.

Karen also added that she was pleased that Loretta had the extra time to come up a day early to spend time with some of the members of the UBA.

"I was pleased with the turn out due to the day and time it was scheduled, and considering this was the first time anything of this nature has been attempted on this campus."

Karen would also like to thank everyone for the positive comments she has received.

DR. CLIFF YOUNG

TEACHER FEATURED

Mention Clark Hall, Room 101, and Pepsi at Glenville State, and most education majors would smile and respond, "Dr. Young". And it is very common to hear students say, "Wait until you have Dr. Young, you are going to love him."

My goal in a recent interview with this very popular teacher, was to give students an opportunity to know him better. Dr. Young began teaching at Glenville State after receiving his Ph.D. in Special Education from Peabody College at Vanderbilt University, Nashville. His previous Bachelor and Master Degrees in Psychology are from California State, San Francisco and Long Beach, respectively. Before he came to Glenville, Dr. Young taught pre-school and kindergarten, emotionally disturbed students in San Francisco, and in Nashville he taught severe emotionally disturbed adolescent students. The interview proceeded as follows:

Question: Tell me about your family.

Dr. Young: I am married and live in Buckhannon with my wife, Joyce, a daughter Juli, age 22 and daughter Layla, age 13. There is also a son Randall, age 21 in the Air Force in San Antonio, TX. My wife graduated second in her class with a degree in Language Arts Education from Glenville State and teaches middle school in Buckhannon.

Question: Will you always teach?

Dr. Young: Yes, I enjoy the summers off and the fact that it starts and stops twice a year. The transition is always kind of built-in. If you have a good semester, it's great, if you have a bad one you always have the next one to look forward to.

Question: What is the greatest challenge for you as a teacher?

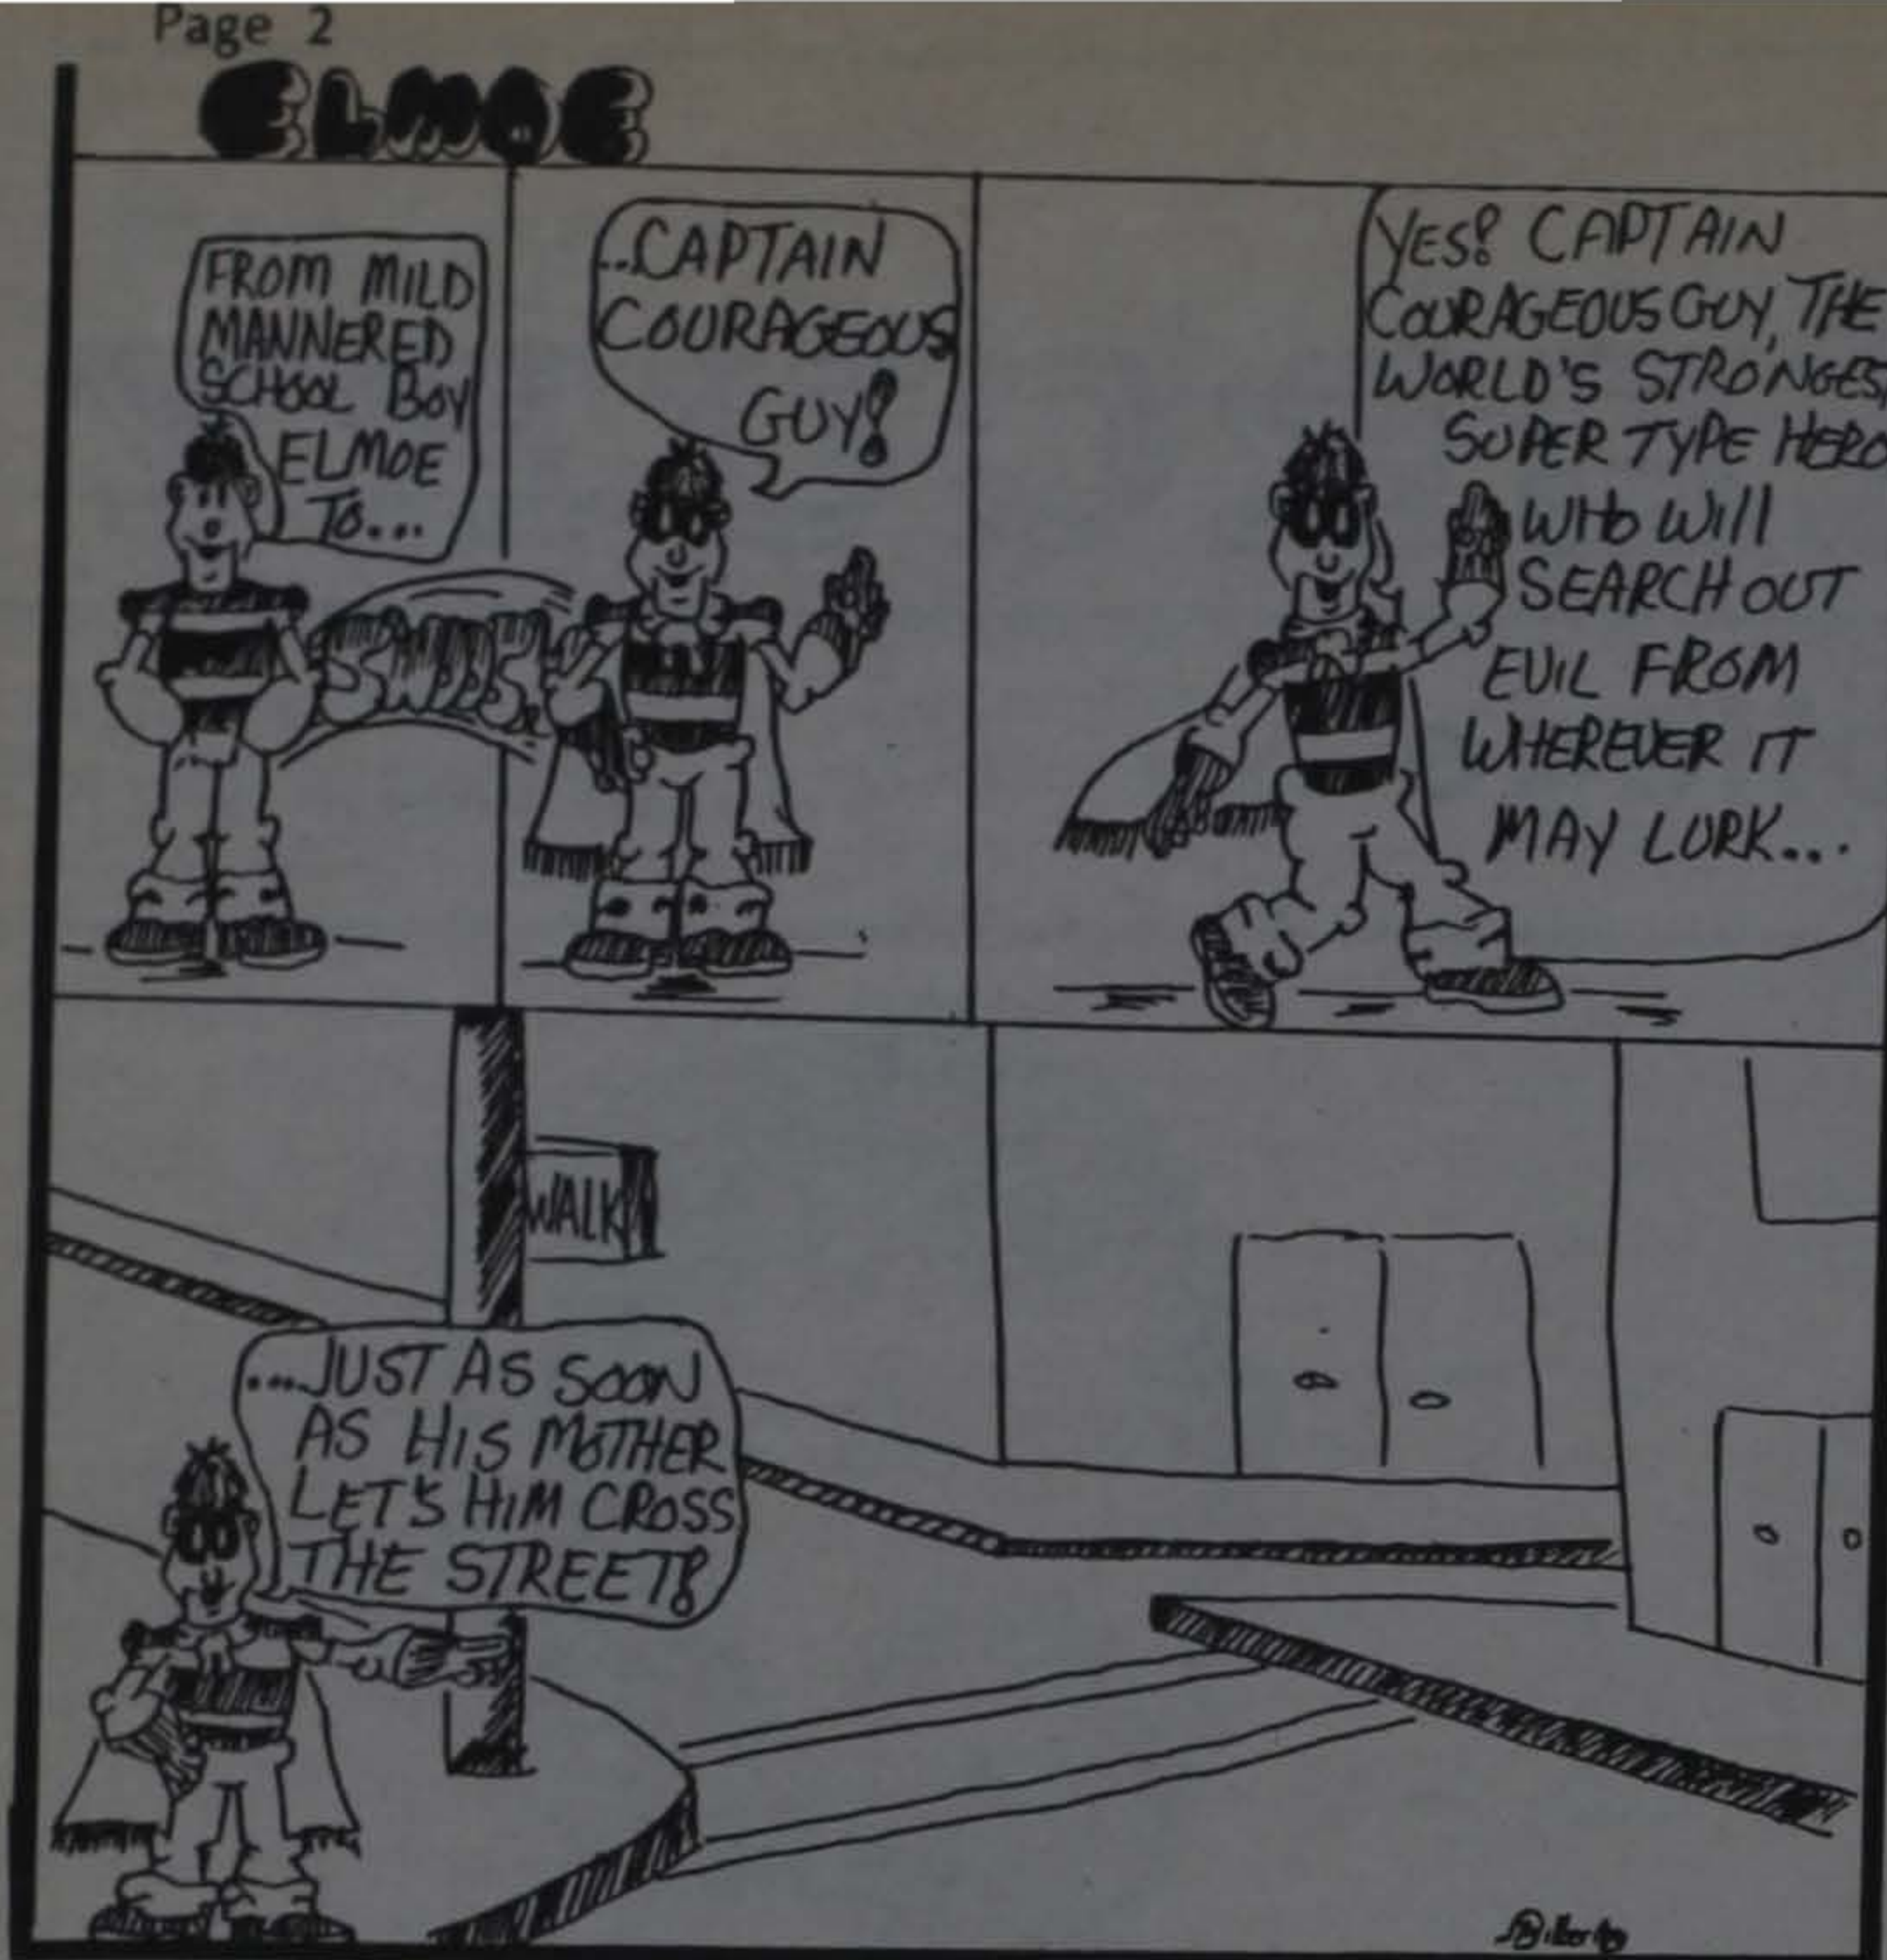

Dr. Young: Staying current with trends and changes. It's real easy to get locked in to going to the text book and not looking to outside sources.

Question: What do you like most about teaching at GSC?

Dr. Young: The academic freedom and the lack of

From the Editor's Desk

Once again in this busy, busy life, I pause—shocked by the tragic killing of five children and the wounding of 30 other adults and youth in a California school. As a student teacher who will be entering the school system, as a future parent, as a human being—this terrible violence deeply concerns me.

Since Purdy killed himself after his rampage, it seems we must find someone else to carry the blame. In the search one naturally thinks of gun control officials. The buying of a semiautomatic weapon like Purdy obtained requires filling out a federal form. Purdy filled out this form, but he used an assumed name. If a background check would have been done on Purdy, it would have exposed his long rap sheet (which indicated that he was a drug abuser). But since this crucial investigation was not performed, the gun was easily purchased.

Who else can take part of the responsibility?? Did Purdy have any friends who may have noticed his so called unusual obsession with the military, any strange behavior or possible cries for help? Should the security have been stronger at the school? Is society in general condoning violence (for example, in T.V. shows)?

There are too many questions. Placing blame is senseless (as well as impossible). The fact remains that this disturbing act of violence occurred. There is no way of knowing what triggered Purdy's unexplainable actions. This has been a distressing event which saw the cry of society echo across the United States.

We must do all we can as individuals, teachers, and parents to create a more peaceful world. I extend my prayers and deep felt sympathy to the Stockton community.

conflict between faculty and who is going to teach what courses. There is no pressure for teachers to outperform one another.

Question: Which is your favorite class to teach?

Dr. Young: Intro to Teacher Education because it allows the most leeway for stories and examples. It allows me to give the students an idea of what teaching may be like.

Question: What do you like least about teaching?

Dr. Young: The fact that most of what we do is not applied. We talk about what teaching is about rather than showing students what it is like. I believe that students should have a one year internship with supervision before they graduate. They should have a 5 year degree.

Question: What would you do if you won the lottery?

Dr. Young: I would quit teaching and buy about 100 acres of farm land and pasture land somewhere in the south. I'd pasture horses and open up an educational consulting service.

Question: Suppose Mr. Rich Nice Guy gave you a fantasy vacation. Money and time unlimited?

Dr. Young: I would buy a plane and spend 6 months travelling the U.S. I'd camp, play with friends, or in motels, whatever was convenient, and just see the country.

Question: Do you have any free time, and if so what do you do?

Dr. Young: I make free time. I enjoy making furniture in my workshop. I like to start from scratch, make my own plans. If I can figure out how to make something, then I will make it. I like to draw my plans to fit whatever space is available and whatever we need to use that space for. Cherry is my favorite wood, I like the grain and the color, and the way it feels.

Question: Do you have a favorite type of music?

Dr. Young: Jazz, Blues and Rock n Roll.

Question: What do you do for exercise?

Dr. Young: Walk up and down the stairs of Clark Hall fourteen or so times every day.

Question: Can you recall an amusing or embarrassing incident in the classroom?

Dr. Young: Once when I was teaching at Peabody where smoking was allowed, I set the trash can on fire. I ignored it to see what the students would do. They noticed it but said nothing. Finally, it flamed and I had to put it out with my coffee.

After the interview I went out on the campus and asked several students for comments and feelings about Dr. Young. Here is a sample of their responses.

"He's easy, makes learning fun and easy."

"Laid back-no pressure."

"Adorable-I love him."

"He always has time for me."

"The man is terrific."

"Believe it or not, I actually saw him at the library the other day."

Buser's Briefs

Now that San Francisco has captured Super Bowl XXIII, the 49ers will be labeled the team of the '80's. Sure they did win three titles in this decade, but to call them the dominating team in this period might be somewhat strong. Washington, Chicago, Cleveland, and Denver also won quite a few games during this span.

Joe Montana started in his third Super Bowl on Sunday, but can you name the two quarterbacks who started in four Super Bowls? Terry Bradshaw and Roger Staubach share this record.

Congratulations to Greg Alfred who won the Mercury's Super Bowl contest by predicting San Francisco to win 21-14.

At Saturday's game with Salem, a relatively nice crowd came out to support the Pioneers. However, the majority of those in attendance were non-students. Coach Nottingham, Coach Shepherd, and GSC's players would be encouraged by your support. Currently the men are on a four game win streak, while the women own a 10-2 record. The men play tonight (Jan. 25) at 7:30 p.m., while the women play Thursday (Jan. 26) at 7:00 p.m.

Here are some basketball stats through Jan. 14th: Tammy Pence is second in scoring in the WVC. (20 ppg) Niki Randolph leads the nation in assists. (9.78 pg) Kim Creel leads the conference in field goal percentage. (61%) Bernie Rees leads the WVC in three point field goal percentage (52%), while Paul Grier is fifth. (47%) Glenville's men's team defense leads the conference giving up just 69 points a game. The Lady Pioneers lead the conference in scoring, averaging 86.9 points a contest.

Pioneers Win 4th Straight

by John Buser

Heading into its game with WV State at Institute on Wednesday (Jan 18), Glenville had failed to capture a conference victory on the road in three attempts. However, the Pioneers wanted to prove that they could win away from home. Following a close first half, Glenville had established a 33-29 lead over the Yellowjackets.

The second half was equally as close as the first, when both teams picked up the tempo. In the end, the Pioneers had gained their first conference road win in the fashion of an 83-75 downing of WV State.

Paul Grier fired in 25 points, grabbed 8 rebounds, and dished out 7 assists to lead Glenville, which shot 65% from the field. William Jackson added 19 points and 8 boards, while David Hall contributed 17 points, and Bernie Rees netted 14.

With their season and conference records squared at 8-8 and 4-4 respectively, the Pioneers hosted Salem on Saturday. The Tigers, who nipped Glenville 63-62 early in the season, were playing a team that had won three in a row.

After a William Jackson slam gave Glenville a 10-8 lead at the 16:00 minute mark, the Pioneers led the remainder of the opening half. At the close of the well played first twenty minutes of action, Glenville was ahead 35-31.

The first eight minutes of the second half featured Pioneer sharp shooting guard Bernie Rees displaying his talents from three point range. The Ravenswood native nailed five three-pointers in this span to help Glenville pull away from Salem. With 11:48 left in the game, Rees hit his sixth three point goal of the night to give GSC a 60-46 advantage.

Thanks to Rees' exploits, the Pioneer crowd awakened to enjoy an exciting second half of basketball. With 1:24 to play, the Tigers had trimmed the deficit to 75-69, but that is as close as they would come. William Jackson's break away slam at the buzzer gave Glenville an 83-74 victory for the Pioneers fourth consecutive win.

Bernie Rees finished with a career high 18 points, six assists, and six rebounds to lead GSC, 9-8 overall and 5-4 in the WVC. David Hall landed 18 points as well, while William Jackson added 14 markers, and Paul Grier posted 11 points.

Glenville will try to win its fifth straight contest tonight (Jan. 25), when it hosts WV Tech at 7:30 p.m. On Monday (Jan. 30), the Pioneers host Fairmont at 7:30 p.m.

Lady Pioneers #1 in Conference

by John Buser

For the Lady Pioneers basketball team last week, business was as usual in conference games - two opponents and two victories. On Tuesday (Jan. 17), Glenville defeated West Liberty 91-85, and on Thursday the Ladies in Blue dealt Salem a 101-76 loss.

Although West Liberty came into Tuesday's contest at Glenville with a mediocre 6-6 record, the Lady Hilltoppers hoped to catch the hosts by surprise and steal a big conference victory. From the start, it was clear that West Liberty was ready for battle as they opened in a full-court press. Despite gaining a 24-18 lead with eight and a half minutes to go in the first half, Glenville trailed at the intermission 45-40.

While the opening period was filled with spurts, the second half proved to be a seesaw affair. After several lead changes, the Lady Hilltoppers led 79-75 with four minutes left to be played. However, Coach Shepherd's finely trained unit went into its own full-court pressure defense. Glenville capitalized on West Liberty's costly turnovers against the press, to outscore their guests 16-6 over the last four minutes for a 91-85 victory.

Tammy Pence poured in 32 points and grabbed 18 rebounds to lead the Lady Pioneers, who were an amazing 21-22 from the foul line. Tami Simons added 13 points, while Kim Creel chipped in with 12 points and 10 boards.

On Thursday (Jan. 19), it was the Lady Tigers of Salem who came to Glenville upset-minded. After jumping out to a 17-12 lead seven and a half minutes into the game it appeared the Lady Pioneers might have been preparing for a blow-out. However, the Lady Tigers hung tough, trailing just 43-39 at the half.

Behind the strength of a complete team effort, the Lady Pioneers lit up the scoreboard in the second half for a whopping 58 points, to gain a 101-76 thrashing over Salem. Glenville, which went over the century mark for the first time this year on Karen Holloway's three point goal, placed five players in double figures. Tammy Pence led all scorers with 25 points, Monique Johnson landed 18, Karen Holloway and Tami Simons both had 16 markers, and Kim Creel had 12 points and 14 caroms. The Lady Pioneers, who ran their league leading conference record to 7-0, received 13 assists from Niki Randolph.

SSU Nips Ladies

by John Buser

Anticipation was high on Saturday (Jan. 21st), when the Lady Pioneers hosted non-conference foe Shawnee State University, the only team to defeat Glenville this year. On December 10th, the Lady Bears dealt Coach Shepherd's ball club a 94-83 loss. However, Kim Creel, Glenville's powerful center who sat out in the first clash between the two teams because of an ankle injury, was healthy and eager to play.

With the sunlight glaring on the court in the afternoon contest, both teams started with full-court pressure defenses. The fast pace of the opening minutes resulted in easy baskets by both squads. While the clock showed 12:20 remaining in the first half, Niki Randolph intercepted a pass and went coast to coast for the lay-up giving Glenville a 20-15 advantage. Two and a half minutes later, Randolph's outlet pass to Monique Johnson yielded another lay-up for a 26-17 lead. The Lady Pioneers led the remainder of the half, although the Ohio based team had closed to within two points, trailing 43-41 at the intermission.

Picking up where they left off in the closing minutes of the first half, SSU erupted for 10 points in the first 1:15 of the final period to take a 51-47 lead. At the sixteen minute mark, the Lady Bears had widened their advantage to 57-47. Trailing 68-60 with just under nine minutes to play, Glenville's Karen Holloway scored a rare four point play, and 45 seconds later added another three point goal, to trim the deficit to 71-67.

After an exchange of a series of baskets, Shawnee State led 79-75 and had a player at the foul line with five seconds to play. However, it was not over yet because the Lady Bears had called their sixth time-out of the game, which resulted in a technical. The Shawnee State player missed her free throw, and Karen Holloway made one of the technical shots. Tami Simons' three point goal attempt at the buzzer fell short, which Tammy Pence put in, allowing SSU to escape with a 79-78 victory.

Season

On Saturday, the Glenville men and women's track teams opened their indoor season when they participated in the WVU All-Comers Meet. (Open to high schools, colleges, and graduates) Saturday's indoor event, which served as a tune-up for the outdoor season in the spring, was a non-scoring meet, but athletes from WVU, Hagerstown Junior College, Georgetown, and area high school students and recent graduates joined with Glenville for the meet. Both Coach Dr. Hunt and Coach Janet James were pleased with their respective teams' performances. "We ran well for it to be this early in the season. Bubby Dent and Jay Dawkins turned in very good performances," said Coach Dr. Hunt. Both Glenville squads were running on only one week's practice, with some of the athletes recovering from illness. At present time, the next indoor meet will be on February 11th at the "Hardees Indoor Classic" at WVU.

Salvador Dali Dies

by Kris Rogers

tional term surrealism is a distortion of reality and in a sense attempts to reveal a new and higher reality of daily life, hence the name-surrealism. Dali predominantly used the interpretations of dreams; and through the use of quite recognizable subject matter simply placed out of context or presented in a somewhat distorted distraction, he can be credited for the personification of the surrealist movement. Two of his most famous paintings are The Sacrament of the Last Supper and St. John of the Cross. Appearing in many of his paintings, and often depicted as the Madonna, was his wife, Gala, who died just 5 years before Salvador. So weep a silent tear for the man whose contributions and dedication will remain a "persistence of memory" to art lovers around the world.
