Visiting Nurses Share Experiences

"What do you do when you have a man hanging half-way out of the window?"

Students in the sophomore nursing class learned the answer to this and other questions as six visiting registered nurses recently visited their classroom and shared some of their more practical experiences.

Allison Witte, instructor of the Issues in Nursing class, invited the guests to speak about the various roles of nursing. From the Weston State Hospital came Teresa Messenger, Loretta Rhodes, and Dawn Schick. Bill Czako and Janice Miller both work at Stonewall Jackson Memorial Hospital and Barbara Ward works at Glenville Americare.

Ms. Schick warned that there is a "difference between the ideal and the real." When faced with the responsibility of making difficult or quick decisions, she tries to choose "the safe thing to do."

Janice Miller, though still quite young, spoke of her varied experience, from working with AIDS patients in Washington, D. C., to heart transplant patients and collective bargaining in Oregon.

Bill, a nursing supervisor and quality assurance coordinator who prefers to be called a "nurse" rather than a "male nurse," admits that being a male in nursing now has its advantages.

From DRGs to QIDs, the discussion focused on the advantages and disadvantages of both males and females in nursing, salaries, governmental control, unions and other professional organizations, and ethics.

Ms. Rhoades discussed the challenge of working in forensic care, and Ms. Messenger advised the students to "go on to school after your bachelor's (degree)...."

Students were also advised, "Don't lower your standards." "Don't stop believing in what

Freshmen Counselors Needed

Approximately 40 upper-classmen are needed to serve as Freshman Counselors for the freshmen in the Fall of 1989. These Freshman Counselors will work to help alleviate the confusion and stress associated with becoming a college freshman. Freshman Counselors will return to campus on Sunday, August 20, 1989. There will be a training period beginning Sunday, August 20 and ending Tuesday, August 22. The freshmen will arrive on Wednesday, August 23, 1989 to begin orientation.

Freshman Orientation will end on Friday, August 25, 1989. Freshman Counselors must be able to meet the time commitment of training and orientation. Although Freshman Counseling is strictly volunteer, many have found it to be a valuable learning experience.

Officers Installed

Glenville State College Student Congress will be installing new officers March 8, 1989 at 5:00 p.m. The occasion will be observed by a banquet to be held in the Verona Maple Room of the Pioneer Center. All Student Congress members and their guests are invited to attend.

As well as installing new officers, this occasion is intended to honor all members of our Student Congress who are the only ones in all of West Virginia's Schools serving without salaries. According to Dr. Billips, our congress voted to forfeit their salaries so that money could be used for the student affairs budget.

A thank you to those members is in order, and congratulations to those newly elected officers.

Alumni Office: What do they do?

by Paul Biser

The Alumni Office here at Glenville State College is a common sight to everyone; however, many people are not aware of the duties and the responsibilities of the office. The news releases that are sent to the local and hometown news papers come from this office. If anyone were wondering how his picture was printed in his hometown paper, now he knows. There can be as many as 400 releases a year sent by this office to 28 newspapers and numerous television and radio stations.

Since the Alumni Office has a limited advertising budget, Public Relations is used to promote the school. This is why Mrs. McKown is Alumni Director and works with public relations. There are also responsibilities that must be directed toward the college's Alumni. A newsletter is sent out three times a year. Hospitality is provided at the WVIAC tournament. An Alumni Day Banquet every spring usually draws approximately 250 alumni. The Alumni Office also keeps up the campus activity boards. Mrs. McKown says, "We are responsible for the image of Glenville State College." These are some of the more important duties that are taken care of by the Alumni Office.

The Alumni are not the only people who benefit from the office; the students here also benefit from the Alumni Office. News releases are sent out on students, caps and gowns are provided for students and a miniature diploma is given to each graduating senior. Honor students stoles are also provided. Assuranceships are given to groups for travel, picnics, and similar events.

The Alumni House was purchased two years ago for $80,000. All but $38,000 has been paid. The money has been provided by alumni and businesses. The floor has been refinished and more recently blinds

Delta Zeta

The Theta Xi Chapter of the Delta Zeta Sorority held their formal weekly meeting, Monday, February 27th at 9:30 p.m. We discussed the salad luncheon we're going to have which will be March 15 & 16 from 11-1 and the cost is $2.50. Everyone come and enjoy!!

Also next week March 13-17 the sorority will be having a food drive and will be collecting can food for the needy.

This coming weekend on Saturday and Sunday March 11 & 12, there will be a power lifting tournament held up in the gym. Sponsored by Tim Gardner and I.L. Morris. The DZ's will be helping.

We'd like to let both basketball teams and our cheerleaders know that we're proud of them!!

Happy Birthday to Alice, Traci and Vicki S.!

We Love You!!

Phi Beta Lambda

We have two organizations for the students who are majoring in business at GSC. These are Phi Beta Lambda and Student Accounting Society.

Phi Beta Lambda is a college and high school organization of the FBLA (Future Business Leaders of America). They have a meeting twice a month to discuss the purpose of FBLA, provide opportunity for business students, and mingle to learn about different professional areas.

Students Accounting is for the students who are interested in accounting. They have a meeting the first Thursday every month to discuss the purpose to promote the professional development of members, and to promote student awareness and interest in the accounting professional. Their activities are: Touring Big Eight Accounting Firm, Regional and Show Biz. They attended Student Night in Morgantown.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Students and Friends:

I just wanted to take a moment to thank you for your tremendous support over the last month. I'm only sorry that I am unable to thank each of you personally, as I have to accept employment elsewhere. I would have only been allowed to finish the semester at best.

The best thing to come from all of this is that you, the student body, recognize that your voice is (and should be) heard. For this, you need to be commended.

One day I'll be able to look back and laugh at this situation, however, for the present, I can only smile with gratitude and the pleasure of knowing a lot of fine people.

Sincerely,

All the month's events were attended, and special thanks go to the student body for excellent participation and response.

Plans are under way for initiation of new members and the Spring banquet, and will be announced when completed.

PICAS

On Thursday, February 23rd the Pioneers in Community Activities Society (PICAS) met in the Pioneer Center Ballroom at 1:00 p.m. with advisor, Dr. William Dean.

The PICA had their formal installation of officers with Dr. Billips, Dean of Student Services as guest speaker, and installed the officers.

The officers-elect were recognized and then given the oath.

From the Editor's Desk

Well, folks if the paper is late this week, it's because of high water. I went with a friend on Monday afternoon to see if we could get to Burnsville and pick up his wife who was stranded there. When we got to Sand Fork we found that the road from the Burnsville side of the bridge to where you start up the hill in Sand Fork was covered with water and fire department personnel were running boats evacuating people. We saw the water raise about three inches in five minutes. In a county where only four years ago was hit by flood waters, I'm sure that a lot of people were on edge.

Since we put the paper out on Monday nights we were concerned whether our staff could get the paper to Ravenswood to be printed. At the time this editorial was written, it looked as though all roads leading in and out of Glenville were blocked by water or mud slides.

We have had trouble the past few issues in getting the paper out on Wednesday. The printers say that they shipped it on time and U.P.S. says that they didn't receive it, but when it did finally arrive we got it out as soon as we could, so bear with us.

You might notice some things that look different this week. We are in the process of setting up a new computer system with a desktop publishing program. As soon as we learn to use it efficiently it will help speed up laying out the paper and give it an entirely new look. Look for it.

GSC VOICE MAJORS COMPETE AT WVU

By Donna Brady

On March 2nd, 3rd, and 4th three GSC voice majors went to Morgantown to compete in the Eastern Regional Competition sponsored by the National Association Of Teachers of Singing.

The eastern region includes West Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, and Quebec, Canada. Representatives from all the areas except Quebec were present and GSC did exceptionally well.

Each of the voice majors sang three songs. Mike Ludle sang "Ich Grolle Nicht" ("Why Blame Thee Now") by Robert Schuman, "Vittoria, mio zore" (Victorious, My Heart Is) by Corissim, and "Youth and Love" by Ralph Vaughan Williams.

Julie Harbert sang "Il mio belfoco" (My joyful order) by Morcello, "Robin's Cross" by Ned Rorem, and "The Beaming Eyes" by MacDowell.

Priscilla Rose sang "So Sweet is Thy Discourse" by Camion, "The Singer" by Michael Head, and "Coro mio ben" (Thou, all my bliss) by Giordani.

They also attended workshops on solo singing.

Winners of each division will go to the national competition where winners will be awarded prizes of up to $25,000. Unfortunately, no one from GSC gets to go to the national competition, but there's always next year.

Honored Dance Company to Perform

Theatre West Virginia's Touring Dance Company returns to the road after an outstanding premiere season. Company director Toneta Manning brings her travelling troupe of six professional dancers to Glenville State College on Wednesday, March 15, at 8:00 p.m., in the College auditorium. "The fantastic response we received from our first years were very rewarding," said Ms. Manning.

"Our dancers' versatility and training cover ballet, modern, jazz, and contemporary dance. We put all our energy into a great performance that people really enjoy."

The company's repertoire includes: Contemporary ballet to Chopin Nocturnes; "craze Quilts: A Textile Sandwich," a modern piece based on quilting; "Children's Favorites," a

Pioneers Go To Final Four, Finish Strong

Glenville 76
Shepherd 64

Having won 10 of their last 14 games, the Pioneers quest for the WVIAC Tournament Championship began on Wednesday (March 1), when they battled Shepherd at the Charleston Civic Center.

With both teams applying man-to-man defenses in the afternoon contest, Glenville raced to an 8-0 lead when Clinton Hinton hit a 12 foot jumper.

Behind Bernie Rees' 4 three point goals in a seven minute span, the Pioneers widened their lead to 28-15 at 7:31 and at the intermission were ahead 39-28.

Coach Gary Nottingham's club showed no signs of a letdown at the start of the second half. David Hall's double pump baseline jumper gave GSC its largest lead of the game, 48-32 four minutes into the final period.

However, the pesky Rams refused to quit as they reeled off seven straight points. Although Glenville rebuilt its lead to 10 or more points on several occasions over the next 12 minutes, Shepherd never surrendered. Bobby Chuey's three point goal with 1:31 to play brought the Rams to within four (61-57).

In the closing minute, the Pioneers struggled somewhat from the line (5-8), giving Shepherd an opportunity to win. Trailing 66-64, Shepherd grabbed a missed GSC free throw with 7 seconds left and drove inside their three point line. However, the Rams were whistled for traveling as the buzzer sounded, allowing Glenville to hold on for a 66-64 victory.

Bernie Rees and David Hall both notched 16 points to lead the winners, while Paul Grier added 12 markers.

Glenville 76
A-B 71

With the win over Shepherd, Glenville advanced to the quarterfinals to face third seeded Alderson-Broadus, a team the Pioneers had beaten 2-3 times earlier this season.

For the second day in a row, GSC opened an early lead, this time a 9-0 count behind 2 three point goals by Paul Grier and another from Bernie Rees.

The Battlers remained patient, however, and at 6:28 took their first lead of the game (22-20), when they were credited with a goal tending basket.

A-B either led or was tied the remainder of the half until Paul Grier hit his 5th three point goal of the period helping the blue and white gain a 35-34 lead, and 37-34 advantage at the half.

With Glenville holding a slim 65-62 lead at 5:48, the Pioneers worked more than two minutes off the clock, because the 45 second shot clock was reset twice (rebound and blocked shot). At 3:28 Paul Grier scored a rare 4 point play, which upped the GSC lead to 69-62.

Coach Gary Nottingham's squad went on to win 76-71 over A-B. Paul Grier posted a game high 34 points for Glenville, including 8 three point goals, while Bernie Rees added 13 points. Defensively, Clinton Hinton had a superb game in limiting WVC scoring leader Willie Davis to 17 points.

Concord 66
Glenville 65

Because of their two victories, Glenville moved into the Final Four and met number two seeded Concord on Friday.

The Mountain Lions sprinted to leads of 7-0, and 22-9 in the closely officiated first half, and at 4:49 of the opening period increased their lead to 30-13.

However, the Pioneers did not fold, but instead ran off 9 consecutive points to cut the deficit to eight (30-22) at 3:17, when Dwayne Williamson hit two free throws.

Following a halftime lead of 35-26, Concord forward Todd Lusk connected on 2 three point goals to widen the Mountain Lion lead to 41-26.

After a Glenville time-out, the Pioneers began to chip away at the deficit. Bernie Rees' three point goal at 11:01 brought GSC to within six (49-43).

William Jackson's free throw two and a half minutes later knotted the score at 54, marking the first tie in the game other than at zero.

With 20 seconds remaining, Glenville trailed 64-62, but the Mountain Lions were whistled for a five second violation. The Pioneers crossed mid-court and called time-out. After the huddle, Bernie Rees came off a screen and nailed a pressure three point goal from the top of the key with 9 seconds left, giving GSC their first lead of the game.

Concord quickly in-bounded the ball and forced it up the court, knowing that Glenville would have to be cautious of fouling. Freshman Chuck Scott hit a running lay-up with two seconds to play for a stunning 66-65 Mountain Lion victory.

The Pioneers placed four players in double figures in their memorable and well-played performance. David Hall pumped in 18 points, while Bernie Rees netted 15. Paul Grier and Dwayne Williamson added 12 and 11 points, respectively.

In the consolation game on Saturday, Glenville fell WV Tech 78-70. The difference in the game was the free throw line where the Golden Bears made 34-26 while the Pioneers made 26.

David Hall dumped in points and grabbed rebounds for Glenville, while Clinton Hinton added markers. GSC finished season with a 17-14 record including a very impressive effort in the tournament.

Ladies Advance

Monday night's playoff game between the Lady Pioneers and WV Tech will go down as a classic. For starters, the "Flood Game" was delayed for an hour and fifteen minutes because the officials had difficulty finding a passable route to Glenville.

Once the do-or-die contest got under way, the rowdy fans who braved the flooding waters were treated to a thrilling run and gun shoot-out.

GSC opened a quick 12-4 lead, but the Lady Golden Bears came roaring back to take a 16-15 advantage at 13:21.

Karen Holloway, who hit 3 three point goals in the first five minutes of action, drilled 4 more bombs in the final 9 1/2 minutes of the half to help Glenville regain the lead at the intermission 40-38.

Inspired by a vocal student section, Coach Shepherd's club continued to play an up-tempo, exciting brand of basketball to start the final period.

Monique Johnson's running jumper at 13:04 widened the Lady Pioneer's lead to 62-50.

While Glenville continued to lead the remainder of the half, WV Tech geared up for one last run. With 1:21 to play, the Lady Golden Bears had cut the deficit to seven and had trapped Niki Randolph with the shot clock showing only four seconds. The senior playmaker dribbled away from a flock of defenders to miraculously bank a 30-foot jumper. Randolph's three point goal gave GSC an 84-74 lead and broke the Lady Golden Bears' back.

The Lady Pioneers went on to post a 91-80 victory over WV Tech, and therefore advance to the NAIA regional playoffs.

Glenville, which received 25 points from Karen Holloway and 16 points from Tammy Pence, will play St. Vincent at Latrobe, Pennsylvania on Wednesday (March 8). It marks the first ever appearance at the regional playoffs for the Lady Pioneer basketball team.

Tami Simons goes up strong two different times in this stretch, and never trailed by more than eight.

However, the Lady Bobcats found the range from three point land and opened an 87-72 advantage with under five minutes to play. GSC mounted a thrilling comeback in the final minute, but Wesleyan survived the attack to escape with a 93-88 victory.

Monique Johnson landed 29 points and collected 12 rebounds for the Lady Pioneers, while Tammy Pence pumped in 26 points and grabbed 11 boards.

Congratulations to Paul Grier and Monique Johnson who were named to the All Tournament team!

Wesleyan Edges Women

by John Buser

Thanks to their regular season WVC title, the Lady Pioneers earned the number one seed in the tournament, and therefore gained a first round bye. On Thursday, Glenville met nemesis WV Wesleyan in what many spectators considered the tournament championship.

The Lady Bobcats had the hot hand early and jumped out to a 10-2 lead, forcing Coach Shepherd to call a time-out. However, the Lady Pioneers showed their experience and did not panic. Monique Johnson's pair of baseline jumpers trimmed the deficit to 21-17 at 10:58.

Once again Wesleyan scored in bunches, this time in the form of an 18-10 spurt over a five minute span, which increased the Bobcat lead to 39-27.

Following a Monique Johnson three point goal at 4:58, the momentum shifted again. Glenville outscored their opponent 13-5 over a two and a half minute span to close to within four (47-43). At the end of the fast paced first half, Wesleyan remained on top by a slender 52-46 count.

The first eleven minutes of the second half showcased the Lady Pioneers crashing the offensive boards for follow-up hoops. Glenville cut the deficit to two points,

JOIN THE CRAZY LEGS CONTEST

Attention, guys now is your big chance. The Gilmer County Heart Association wants guys with legs, but not just any kind of legs, they want guys with crazy legs.

That's right, you read it correctly. The Heart Association is sponsoring a Crazy Legs Contest. All contestants will be photographed from the waist down and better yet, practically anything goes. The last year winner wore polka-dotted shorts and cowboy boots.

Nominations will continue throughout the rest of the week for a small fee of $5. If there is any organization, club, or individual who thinks they may have the "craziest legs" in the Gilmer County come on and enter. For those males who wish to participate contact Mrs. King in the Mercury office.

Voting will take place March 13 and 14 in the Pioneer Center for a penny a vote. The winner will be announced March 15 in the Student Union at 12 p.m. Mr. "Crazy Legs" will receive a trophy and a bouquet of flowers.

So, come on guys, we want to see what you're made of. Be creative and show us those legs. Not only will you have fun but you will also be helping out a great cause. All proceeds will go towards the Heart Association.

Music Dept. Recruits Heavily

"How does GSC attract so many students with musical talents?" This question is often asked by outsiders and those on tour or in our auditorium. The fact is that every effort is made to recruit talented musicians every year. The music faculty telephones students, visits high schools band and choir directors with strong music programs, and takes ensembles of our own students to high schools across the state. Whenever our students perform on tour for high school audiences, they demonstrate the quality of our music department, and they let everyone know what is happening in music at GSC. As a result, these ensemble tours get students interested enough to decide to study music at GSC.

Glenville State College is not the only college sending students on performance tours. Alderson-Broadus and West Virginia University tour extensively. They tour for the same reasons that we do: to establish better public relations around the state and to recruit talented music majors. In fact, the excellent ensembles from A-B and WVU are among our strongest competition. WVU has advantages of large budgets and enrollments, and A-B has heavy endowments and religious affiliations. However, G.S.C. has more undergraduate music education majors than either, and the Pioneer Marching Band is the largest marching band found in any of West
